Why must this Letter be written?

When you receive a letter signed by a certain acquaintance, you open it and read it, and then you realize that it is genuinely or not. The same it happens with the present Letter: if you do not open it, you do not know its content and if you do not know its content then you are not able to confirm its authenticity.

At its first reading, the Book can be structured in letters of knowledge (of recommendation), by which the Author appears in the being of God's Son dialoguing with the man by the Holy Spirit's interceding, keeping the wholeness of the Holy Trinity.

The Church Calendar (in Romania) up to 1924 was the same as that of Nicaea, based on severe apostolic canons, but in 1924, the Scripture of the prophet Daniel was fulfilled: «the people made bold to even change the times», when the primate metropolitan - of that time, Miron Cristea, (Primate metropolitan = (in the past) a title given to the first metropolitan of a country; today it would be equal to that of a patriarch) introduced the Gregorian Calendar (Catholic) as result of a „pan-Orthodox” congress that took place in 1923, in Constantinople. At that congress, the patriarch of that time, Meletie, proposed the acceptance of the „revised” Julian Calendar, (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Revised\_Julian\_calendar) which was in accord with the Catholic one for a period up to the year 2800 and „it was allowing that all the feasts to be celebrated at the same time with those of other confessions”. «... and he shall wear out the saints of the Most High and he shall think to change the times and the law...» (Daniel 7/25), r.n.

Then there are letters of intention, through which God makes His plan known.

Other kinds of letters are those by which God signals to the man certain omissions from the right law. It is worth reading!

Then there are those letters by which we come to know about an obedient people, a new people, the people of the New Jerusalem, by which we see that God's commandments and His teachings are not impossible to follow. It is worth knowing these!

Another kind of letters, which deserve paying attention to, present God's pain (The Shepherd) for the priests (the shepherds), who have turned aside from the law of truth becoming «blind guides» for the lost flocks, wolves in sheep's clothing, who kill the sheep rather than tend them.

Between God and the Romanian people there is a mysterious connection, the land of Romania being the first land to come out of the waters at Creation, the first land to come out from under the waters after the flood. The Romanian land, more precisely the garden of the word from Pucioasa, is the land out of which God made Adam. Also, the Romanian land is the first piece of land, which will be renewed at this end of age. It is worth reading it!

Therefore, we find out that the Romanian has never been alone and that from the beginning of the communism, God has accompanied him in all his sufferings exhorting him to submit materially and be free spiritually. Through this word, it is announced Ceaușescu's death, the fall of the communism at a precise date. It is worth reading!

A special place is held by king Michael of Romania, whom God announced his coming back home, and which has already happened. It is worth reading!

The bishop Irineu Pop, of Bistrița, the patriarch invested by God, is a sharp chapter, an argument with a major issue. He is the one through whom God brings the calendar back to its place and the Christian-Orthodox law of Romania's holiness and reconciliation to God. Very important to know!

Many times the Word comes back to the first love, of the man's creation, at the true image of the man created by God. We find this restored image in the image of the Lord's Mother, but also in that of all the saints, out of which the holy Virginia shines, the sixth apocalyptic trumpet, by which God started this work of Word fifty years ago. A thing, which may be worth taken into consideration! A thing, which cannot be overlooked!

The tone of the theological speech is gentle and humble, but not lacking that paternal and royal brightness by which God is coming back to take over His kingdom. This intimacy with the man, which the Word accomplishes through the purifying weeping of the Father on the shoulder of the "prodigal son", is a Ballad, which cannot leave anyone cold.

The contemporary man does not see God's face, and God does not see anything but the man's back. This truth has to terrify us and to make us ponder on it. It is worth thinking of this thing, reading the pages of Life. Each man looks into the mirror and there he sees himself as he is, good or evil, false or loving of God, beautiful or ugly, thin or fat, having bright or shabby clothing. Even more, the present Book is a mirror of the truth in which we especially see our ugliness or nakedness. It is worth reading it in order to see our true face!

Reading the pages of this book, the honest reader recognizes God; the patient reader finds the mysteries of life; the reluctant reader touches the spring of life and one good day, he will become aware of the incomparable taste of the water of which he has drunk inconsiderately; the revolted and rebel reader will be like Goliath, who fell under the blow that left David's sling. Every reader will benefit.

The one, who does not read the Book, remains a blind, lost in a cold world, but he does not have any claim against the Word of God.

The mysterious kingdom of God

Two thousand years of spiritual drift

Once there were more saints on the earth, and the holy books were less. Our ancestors browsed them with shaking hands of awe saying: “One thousand and another thousand and it is over; the end is coming”. And it has remained so, just a word, because the daring man has interfered within the Scriptures of our times and now he writes “thousands of years”. Still, the tension, which the year of 2000 had inspired, has passed. The days apparently pass away normally although they are much shorter, as a split of a second. We go into a crisis of time, caught up within the reality that we see and hear, and when we still lay hold of it, we look into the sky to see how beautiful it is or to see how the weather forecast is. Absorbed by worries, we forget about the enduring reality in which we move and breathe; the reality through which our being exists and which we will instantaneously face up one day. Maybe we wait for something more spectacular: trumpets, the cross in the sky... and behold the signs of the end come and pass by us naturally, and we run the risk of taking after the old lady’s daughter, who did not know the good fairy, who was to do her good and to be able to receive the good reward.

For many, at His first coming, Christ has remained just one person as well. For those who believed, then it was the end of the world and the beginning of God’s kingdom, and they signed it up with their living in the first year. But we live the very end and we do not know to see it, to feel it, as we also do not feel the vitiated air, which we have got used to and we do not feel the danger. When the beauty of our Edenic image has perished and when we have forgot our purpose, when we have forgot the Creator’s voice Who built us and when our inner calling of our eternal dimension has been brought to silence, what kind of end are we supposed to wait for? We put an end to our febrile curiosity with fleeting news, forgetting of the last hour news: the Lord is coming! Two thousand years ago, the disciples were looking with longing into the sky for their Lord and Teacher to appear to them, and we, who are meant to live the glorious time of the end of the salvation work, are anaesthetized by the coldness of faith.

The One, Who has always accompanied His people by a prophesying word, has embraced the Romanians within the greatest work of all ages: His word, without end, springing like a river out of the throne of life and watering the earth, as it is written in the pages of Revelation (See Revelation 22/1).

“I am the Word of God and I have come to prepare My way for the second coming, as it is written into My book”, the Lord was speaking in the year of 1955 through the holy Virginia, the chosen vessel, through which He had exhorted a people for 25 years. Since then, His voice from heaven has no longer had rest, facing victoriously the oppositions of the man’s time. In the beginning it was trickling through as a little thread of living water through the rocks; today, it has become a flood of teaching, comfort and power, which cleanses and sanctifies, clears up and whitens, baptizes and renews. And as for us, we can give one answer to His liking: the will of the new creation of our being.

«... And His name is called the Word of God...» (Revelation, 19/13)

But how and what the Lord testifies about Himself and about His coming?

“...I am the Lord, Jesus Christ. I am not in the body, but it is not long and I will come in the body and in the body I will separate the ages: the earthly one from the spiritual one. I will make a new age, which will never change and will never be troubled”.

(Excerpt from the Word of God, from 06.01.1975. - O.S. / 19.01.1975. - N.S.)

“... I am the heavenly Bridegroom. I have come to clothe My bride within a heavenly garment and to give her the crown of this time of glory.

... Behold that time when the man must come back into the Garden of Eden, from where he fell, in the angelic state, in the sinless state, in the spirit and grace state”.

(Excerpt from the Word of God, from 23.04.1991 - O.S. / 06.05.1991 - N.S.)

“... I have written in the book one thousand and still another thousand until My coming, but the man of the church from the world has written a long road, whose end is not known. He has written “thousands of years”, and he has added to this number and he has taken My coming out of it. And if they, who have taken out My number and My way, if they have been careless, the same way is with their flock”.

(Excerpt from the Word of God, from 02.02.1995 - O.S. / 15.02.1995 - N.S.)

“... I am the He Who was, and I am He Who is. The Father is My word in everything I do. When I was in a visible body on earth, I have given the word to those who asked Me: «Lord, when will Your coming and that day be?»

I told them this «Of that day no one knows, not even the angels of heaven, but My Father only. That is why you should watch». If I had not told them this way, I would have also not been able to tell them: «Watch therefore, for you do not know in what hour the Son of Man comes».

I have said that only the Father knows. Oh, if only the Father knows, am I not coming anymore? What does the man want to say, who is hiding of My coming, saying that only the Father knows? Oh, My Father, what does the man really want to say?

Oh, My Father Sabaoth, I am Your word, and You are My word, but the people separate Me from You in their heart and they say that it is only You that know, and I do not know. The old man is an old wineskin and the new wine has no room in the old wineskin. My new teaching is for new people, who are ready for My coming all the time, for I am all the time and I come all the time and I come like a thief, when no one expects Me to come. Amen.

Father Sabaoth, I become bridge for You. Father, get up in the word for Your Son. I did not speak from Myself when I said: «Neither the angels or the Son knows, but only the Father knows about the coming of that day». You are God, the Father, and I am God the Word, Your Son, Your Word, Father. Amen, amen, amen.

— Oh, Son, Emmanuel, You are My Son, the only One born of Me before the ages, true God of the true God, by Whom everything was done. Oh, dear Son, I have done nothing with-out You. And those that are and those that are not yet, I have made through You, for You are My word and everything is fulfilled through You. Amen, amen, amen. It is not through Me but through You, Son, for You are My Son, and I have told the people to listen to You. This is what I told them: «This is My beloved Son; you should listen to Him!»

The people do not listen to You in everything, but here is what they have found to listen to You, Son who suffered. Those, who do not love and do not want Your coming, have found this word of Yours and become faithful against Your coming. But I am the Father and I always know Your coming on earth. You spoke this word, Son: «The Son does not know, but only the Father». Why the man also speaks it? Why the man speaks it? To give Me more greatness than to You? Oh, how many living words You have said, Son, My Word! Why the man really does not speak those? But who did You speak that word to? You were speaking with Your disciples so that Your speaking might remain over the people, as You have also spoken today, speaking with the sons of My word, and You are My word, Son. Amen.

Oh, sons of the people, I am the Father Sabaoth. The Scriptures of My Son are not to be read on this way. Let him who reads, understand! Amen, amen, amen. Let him who reads not misinterpret but rather understand the word of My Son. The disciples of My Son asked Him, and they were filled with the longing of the coming of My Son's day, but you do not have this longing for this coming.

Oh, sons of the people and you, ministers of the people's church, My Son said that He did not know of His coming but only the Father knew it. Behold, I take this Scriptures into My hands and read it to you and I find in it that My Son told you all the mystery of this day so that you may know it, and He said: «Behold, I told you ahead of time. Learn this parable from the fig tree when the summer comes». My Son said that no one knew but the Father, and it will be as in the time of Noah, when the faithful ones were drinking and eating, marrying and being given in marriage until the day when Noah entered the ark, and they did not know that My word spoken over Noah was true until the flood came, and taking them all, they knew that it was true. However, God came ahead of time and no one received Him but Noah. Oh, sons of the people, the same will be with the coming of My Son. His coming will take place in the time when the people do not watch. God came to Noah and was working with him for his salvation, but for the other people God did not come. The wise and faithful servant is put by God over His servants to give them the heavenly food in due time, and My Son finds that one doing so, and he is not taken by surprise, but he is ready for the coming of His master instead. However, if that servant, being evil, will say in his heart: «My Master is slow in coming», not only that he does not give them good food any more, but also he begins to beat his fellow-servants forcing them to eat and drink with the drunken and immoral. And then, the Master will come in the day when he does not know or expect and will cut him to pieces because of his hypocrisy.

When the thief comes, he breaks into the house, because he is a thief, and the master of the house does not know the time of the thief, but the thief knows it. The devil has stolen this word of My Son and if he stole it, he made the man say this: «The Son does not know, but only the Father». But the wise servant gives food in due time to the servants and he does not say: «The master is slow in coming», for he is with his Master all the time.

Oh, Son, Immanuel, oh, oh, Son that are cast out! I, the Father Sabaoth, speak this way: I did not hide within Me that day Your disciples of that time asked You about. It was not I, but You Who hid it into Me, to strengthen the watch, the faith and the patience of Your disciples; and You did this before Your death and resurrection, dear Son. Then You were speaking on earth and for those on earth, and now You are speaking from heaven for those that are from heaven on earth, who were in their body in Your day, Your coming as word of eternal life for those who are faithful, who watch before You, Son, My day of rest. I rest in You, I am well pleased with You and I work in You and from You I speak over the entire human kind: the Father and the Son are one. Amen. No one knows that day, but the Father. No one knows the Son but the Father, and the one, whom the Son wants to reveal it. Amen, amen, amen."

(Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1998. - O.S. / 28.08.1998. - N.S.)

"Oh, who else is to understand My word if the haughty man stands against their truth? This word of Mine: "I go so that I may come", should fill the earth with voices that have to cry out from then and until now: "Lord, come!"

"Man, seek to understand My coming and to believe that I have come after you to teach you My coming, with the hope in My coming, for behold, the man does no longer has any hope that I come, but I come, for it is written into the Scriptures that I come. Amen. My coming is a wedding for those who come towards it, and as for those who flee from it, it is a day of pitch dark, it is a day of judgment, for he who does not listen to these words, that one is judged by them and he remains in the darkness of this age. Amen.

Oh, country of My coming back! Oh, sweet country, I sweeten Myself within you with the word of My coming and I make you sweet for heaven, and even for those on earth. Oh, My beautiful country, I have come back to your beginning. You are My holy beginning in you. Your people do not know their origin, but I come to let them know and to make the man again from the place where I made the first created man. Behold the manger of My word, which I start with, to make the world again, and the man too, as in the beginning. In the beginning I started from here, and in the end, I started from here as well, and I have joined the beginning with the end, to make out the Scripture of the new birth of the world.

Let the Romanian come and receive from Me in order to learn what it means for a Romanian to be Romanian. Let every Romanian come and receive his new birth of My word. Let him come! Amen. And he comes and he will come, and he will keep on coming. Amen”.

The re-edition of a victory: The little white Book

And behold, now, this flood of word is coming together, it is calming down and is being written down into a new book. Why is this book written now, when there have appeared many “spiritual” books, more or less, or even no books at all, in the patterns of the Holy Orthodox Tradition? Why this book now? Because this is what God has wanted it to be. This book is not the fruit of a human mind or of more persons, but it is the Word of God instead.

Ten years ago, the Holy Virginia Foundation edited the book “The Word of God”, marking out the turning of forty years since the descent of the heavenly word on the Romanian land, at Pucioasa. Now, at the turning of fifty years, we have the work given by God for the re-edition of this book, printed in the year of 1995, reviewing it and adding to its existence the word of God during the period of April 3, 1995 – June 19, 2005, and, again, adding to it the word descending from heaven until the date of its republication. During these ten years (and even longer), the word of God had been given to the people in the form of a newspaper and by the agency of the site: www.noul-ierusalim.ro. However now, this period of word will be added to the re-edited book, for the marking of the feast of Pentecost (Whitsuntide) of the Word of God in Romania. Each year at Pucioasa, the days of Pentecost have brought about the Feast of the Romanian Christianity, and then the word of God had been trying to get in through the moments of an artistic program, specific to some Christian festival, calling the dead, but especially calling the living to resurrection. We hope that the launch of this new edition of the book “The Word of God”, will be the most favorable way to celebrate this jubilee feast.

These fifty years of word also means the history of the Christian people, as a witness of this work, which has always been written by those that have remained faithful. For some, the word of God, which has been descending on earth by the thread of this prophecy, has remained written today too, only in pages; for others, an uncomfortable truth, perceived by them as a shaking untruth; and for others still, it has remained written on the «tablets of flesh of their hearts» (2 Cor. 3/3). However, to confirm this truth, we have also added to the existence of this book the word addressed especially to some Christians or to some groups of Christians. Many, who have made a step into the Lord’s people, or, who were born within this work, have come now to produce devastation, both within their own moral behavior, and in others’ behavior, turning back completely from the truth which they believed, denigrating and striking into it and into those who remained on its side.

The spirit of the world has always been a sieve, which has sifted out the Christians. The few, the whole, the faithful have remained. However, many have chosen to turn back to go on with their lives in «the outer darkness». (Matt. 22/13). The one who came to Him, God has not cast out, but however, the weak ones have withdrawn alone, led by lusts, by soul weaknesses and because of envy or sorcery.

Few know this truth about the hardship in which this work of heavenly word was born on earth. There has been thrown into it with stones not only from outside, but even more powerfully from the inside. We believe that nowadays there is no simple coincidence in the disclosure of the “glorious” past of some outstanding persons from R.O.C. (Romanian Orthodox Church), by the disclosure of the communist security files, once with the bringing into the light of those who had been striking into God during these fifty years. Although many of these, after they had been biting from the hand that had given them bread and wine from heaven, they have been hiding under the dust of the road of the world, but in any case they cannot hide from God.

No one has been ever forced to believe. On the contrary, many have believed in God only for their welfare and for the pursuit their personal interest. Then, smashing against the earthiness from them, they were betraying Him, speaking evil of Him to others, and especially to the communist authorities, which had always been taking strict measures against those who remained faithful.

It had been reached to be spoken here and there mockingly, as though only those under a monastic robe would be the “product of the New Jerusalem” and that is all, and so they had been discrediting the standing of this work by their decadent, moral and spiritual state. We see ourselves obliged to specify the product of the New Jerusalem is nothing else, but only those that by their living give proof of their authentic and respectable Christian behavior, full of heavenly delicacy, after they have chosen their model, that is Jesus Christ. «You will know them by their fruits», says the Scriptures, for it is in this way and not otherwise that are recognized those who are called the Lord’s people by truth and not by their declaration.

If some words were spoken by God, being forced by those that happened “into His name”, many times being words with a direct reference to some persons, this does not mean a preferential involvement, but it has rather been a chance of life teaching for all. Involuntarily, those who have done evil things to God have also done a potential good, for out of his own experience, each one can learn, if he wants, and not to do the same thing.

The Word of God makes it obvious to those that are hidden within themselves and brings into the light everything that was supposed to be darkness. If the man recently managed to make a hologram, in which the Scripture is comprised within an A4 page, now a book is being brought into the light, which contains within it the heaven and the earth, being «written inside and outside» (Revelation 5/1), for it is the Word, which contains its pages and not the pages contains the Word.

To those who will enter the realm of this kingdom, we give the condition, first to go through some theological articles of the father Nicodemus, which is composed by an introductory study, meant to give an authorized certification to the content of this book.

“The event from Pucioasa is not a heresy”

The article published in the newspaper “The event of the day”<sup>4</sup> (January 18, 1993), before the meeting of the Synod of the Romanian Orthodox Church (R.O.C.).

The Saint Apostle Paul said: «If it is the Spirit of God, you are not to put it out!» I have been studying the event from Pucioasa for eight years and I cannot take it for a heresy. If God breathes there His Spirit, I cannot tell to the Lord: “Be silent!” I would be glad if the members of the Holy Synod searched out this event as I have also been doing it, carefully, with wisdom and with a sincere zeal to find out the real truth.

There are visions and visions. There were visions and prophecies and there will always be to the end of the history, into the midst of which the Holy Spirit works, Who blows where it wants to, as the Holy Gospel says.

Through the message from Pucioasa we are taught to live at the level of the evangelical requirement, to be totally consistent with the truth of the revealed faith. The New Jerusalem from Romania has neither been a danger for the church, as I have realized by now, nor for the Romanian nation, which is so beautifully glorified in messages. On the contrary, if the event is true, then it will be a source of refreshment and renewal for the ancestral church for our nation, which is called blessed and chosen by God. I do not know why the bishop Basil of Târgoviște wants to “finish once with Pucioasa”, in order to increase its gravity and to provoke the civil authorities. Heresy means misinterpretation of a dogmatic truth. However, no dogma was impinged upon and no canon was injured or violated. That there have been warnings and messages from other world, persons by whom they are passed on, it is completely something else, but it is not about heresy. One cannot prove that there are divergences from the doctrinaire line of the Eastern Church. In our church there have really been many heresies and that is why all are cautious. We have a canonical order. They are afraid so that we may not get lost, out of their too great care for the canonical and dogmatic unity of the Orthodox Church, but an event cannot be qualified as being sectarian within two or three days. This asks for time and good faith.

Everyone has taken into consideration the slandering, which has been brought upon me, but they do not believe me, I, who am a bishop. I have been carefully searching out the event for eight years. I have been a careful theologian in research and I cannot qualify the even as coming from the evil one. I stand firm no matter what the decision of the Holy Synod may be, as My conscience does not tell me that I have to deny and I am not convinced that I am deceived, even if I take the event into consideration with care and holy fear until it may be made known visible to the whole word as a manifestation with a divine power.

If measures are taken against me, I will receive everything gladly, even the extreme sanction of defrocking (excommunication, r.n.). I will draw back with my heart at ease, in a place of meditation; I will pray and I will wait for everyone, including me, to see the true work of God. I will not murmur and I will not criticize anyone. I will understand everyone who does not understand. I do not require them to believe as I do. They have not seen what I have been seeing in eight years. However, how is one supposed to take measures, if the event has not been so profoundly studied and analyzed and I have not been listened to?

The majority have formed their own opinions on the basis of what it has appeared until now in newspapers about Pucioasa. Their interest was that I should give up Pucioasa, to say that: “I was deceived”, and so that they may not truly see what is at Pucioasa. I have to take into consideration what I believe and that they may not take me for a simpleton, or as one who has not got any good judgment. At least let them ask themselves: “What is it with this man who believes in what is happening at Pucioasa and does not give up? Perhaps he may not be so mindless!”

It has been requested hard that I may give up Pucioasa. But for the sake of the throne from Cluj or some other positions, I prefer to bear the shame. If the event from Pucioasa is proved out to be a heresy then I repent. Christ did come into the world for the sinful people, who confess their trespasses. If I gave up now, it would not be because this is the way I feel, but I would do it out of cowardice, to shut up the evil mouths, to get rid of the accusations and to keep on sitting on the throne from Cluj. I do not do it, because I do not want to be a Judas or a traitor. However, if God is truly there at Pucioasa, then I would prove myself to be a man who defies the Holy Spirit. But the Saint Apostle Paul said: «You should not quench the Spirit and not despise the prophecies». (1 Thessalonians 5/19-20).

I prefer to be denigrated now, so that God may help us to see in time what really is there at Pucioasa!

INTRODUCTORY STUDY

The New Jerusalem Holy Citadel

“Lift up to Me the cross of the holy faith, the Gospel of the kingdom, which is preached to all the nations, so that it may come the end that I prophesied and for My coming and My kingdom to come for the righteous”.

The image of the eternity of the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel

The human history, recorded through divine accomplishments, which overwhelm the human ambitions, stays under the sign of prophesying, that work of God's faithfulness in respect to His holy dignity, by which He lets the man know on all the future things so that the man may not justify himself by ignorance when he sins. Thousands of written pages stand as a testimony: The Old Testament, for the preparation of the coming of Jesus Christ into the world; the New Testament, for His saving activity and of the apostolic church; the writings of the saints, for the two millenniums of Christianity, in which they have been flowing like a river.

In the prophetic book, the Revelation, it is prophesied about the profound restoration, from the inside, of the life of Christ's Church and about its reaching to the apostolic holiness. It is called the Holy Citadel of the New Jerusalem (see Revelation, 3/12; 21/10).

The prophet Isaiah reveals the image of eternity of the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel and the order, which God establishes over its inhabitants: «I have set watchmen on your walls, Jerusalem, and they shall never hold their peace, day and night! You who remind the Lord of His promises take no rest! And give Him no rest until He establishes Jerusalem again to make it a praise of the earth». (Isaiah 62/6-7)

The saint Nile, the Athonite, locates precisely in time the moment of the transfiguration of the church, in a context of a depressing Christian life: “Around 1900, towards the half of the eighth millennium from the creation of the world, this will be changed and it will be unrecognizable. [...] The shepherds of the Christians, the bishops and the priests, will be people with an empty glory, with the exception of a few people, completely not knowing the right way from the left way. [...] Then the customs and the traditions of the Christians and of the Church will be changed. The cleanness will perish from the people and the iniquity will rule”. Exposing the work of the antichrist into the world, the saint Nile, the Athonite, specifies the moment in which “the recreation of the first state” will be, that is the regaining of the holiness of the Church, in the year of 1992: “Woe, woe, oh, you parents! I weep and groan for the recreation of the first condition of this mountain. Because after 1913, passing the age of 79 years, all the transgressions about the coming of the antichrist will be done; 7500 years since the creation of the world.”

The saint Niphon of Constantiana also prophesies about this year, 1992 (7500 from the creation of the world): “The beginning of the seventh age means the end of the ages. [...] Its end is full of the stench of the sin, of the human things, which all are false and dirty: envy, hatred, lying, blasphemy, enmity, revelries, drunkenness, debaucheries, murders, abortions, greed, love of silver, keeping the evil in mind. But, it is enough! I will cut it into half! Let the rule of sin cease! And, saying these words of anger, the Lord gave the signal for judgment to the archangel Michael.”

The saint Calinic from Cernica is carried in his body onto the island of the monastery Cernica by the saint hierarch Nicholas and by the great saint martyr, Gheorghe, who shows him the Holy Trinity as in a painted icon, and beneath this, a parchment, written with large letters: “7500 is the generation from Adam”. The saints, who were supporting him by his arm, said to him: “Do you see that the end of the world is not in 1848? Have you not read about the eighth day, the half of this century and about the half of the coming century and that the end of the visible world will be when the 7500 years from Adam will be fulfilled?” Therefore, the end of the absolute power of the devil into the world, for as long as he was released, was prophesied to be the year of 1992 after Christ: «And then the lawless one will appear, whom the Lord, Jesus Christ will kill by the breath of His mouth and He will destroy him with the brightness of His coming». (2 Thessalonians 2/8). The fulfilling of this Scripture is the descent of the word of God, for it is «the breath of His mouth», which destroys the lawlessness by the Lord's coming, the word on the earth. However, as with the other prophecies, the main condition of its fulfillment is the confidence, the faith of some clean people that they need to be involved through their personal sacrifice to its fulfillment.

The biblical history has recorded similar fulfillments. The flood could not bring about the salvation of the faith by its decadence without Noah's faith, who had build an ark on a top of a mountain in decades, being mocked by his fellow men and who imposed upon his family a particular behavior: holiness (see Genesis, 6/9).

The birth of the Savior, Jesus Christ, the Redeemer of the creature, would have not been translated into life, from the archangel Gabriel's prophecy in the cave of Bethlehem, without the Virgin's humility and obedience: «Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it to me according to your word», (Luke 1/28), and without the sacrificing protection of the righteous Joseph.

The same way, the descent of the kingdom of the heavens on the earth by the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel would have not come true without the insistent faith of some Christians who fulfilled the prophecies of the saint Nile, of saint Niphon, of saint Calinic, and, at their times, of the saint Virginia, the apocalyptic trumpet of the Lord. But first, there was the preparation: the day by day experiencing in their lives of all the Christian teachings, kept within the ancestral church, but which, in the worldly church, have been brought to formalism, superficiality and sometimes even to indifference. Then, with an ardent love of God, they received God's speaking with the man, for they heard God's voice, about which there was also prophesied into the Scriptures: «A voice! A voice of tumult in the citadel! A voice from the temple! A voice of the Lord that renders recompense to His enemies». (Isaiah 66/6). «Most assuredly I tell you, the hour comes, and now is, when the dead will hear the voice of the Son of God; and those who will hear will live». (John 5/25). The voice of the Lord is that which called them, first by the saint prophet Virginia and then in a wonderful and direct way, so that they may raise the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel from its foundation, as a dwelling of rest of the Lord's holiness, in which the heaven comes down on earth, and as a point of reference for God's people, the one gathered with hard work by the holy Virginia, starting with the year of 1955, so that it might be known that «There the Lord is». (Ezekiel 48/35).

Beginning with this year, 1955, the word of God was heard and known by many Christians, but not all of them have kept the gift of the faith and, thus, the power of testifying to the end. In the communist time, the persecution was devilish, especially upon those that fulfilled the word. Only after the year of 1989, the changes in the world have allowed the emancipation including the precise fulfillments of the prophecies, and precisely the beginning of «new heaven and new earth» (Isaiah 65/17), in the holy gardens of the Lord and into the hearts of the believers.

The kingdom of the heavens on the earth

The Christians of the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel, led step by step by the Word of God, fulfill His holy law; the kingdom of the heavens on the earth. Those who really believe are those that are clean, and this is the experience of those who believe. Having precisely fulfilled the prophecies over the ages, they have built in only three months the New Jerusalem Church, in the church year of 1992, fulfilling all the canonical orders necessary for its sanctification as a place of Christian Orthodox worship. This church has come into prominence as a single example of promotion of absolute purity in Christian living and awareness, of precise observation of the canons of the ancestral Church and exclusion of any compromises of the everyday life of its members.

The Lord Himself calls it “a foundation stone of the Church of the resurrection of God’s creature,” “a holy mountain,” in this way suggesting the spiritual death of those who deceive themselves with a pseudo-Christian experience, serving simultaneously both God and Mammon.

The New Jerusalem Church is also called by God: “Ark” (being interpreted as its likeness with the ark of salvation, built by Noah); “Stone” (the little white stone of the prophet – Revelation 2/17); “The mount of blessings” (which overlooks the other lofty mountains – the works of the humans’ haughtiness). «But in the latter days, it will happen that the mountain of the Lord’s temple will be established on the top of the mountains and it will be exalted above the hills and peoples will stream to it. Many nations will go and say, “Come and let us go up to the mountain of the Lord, and to the house of the God of Jacob, and He will teach us of His ways, and we will walk in His paths, for out of Zion will go forth the law and the word of the Lord from Jerusalem!» (Micah 4/1-2).

By the prophecies declared by the word of God, the New Jerusalem Church has been surrounded by a “necklace of pearls” (other Christian buildings, which accomplish the requirements of the monastery life for those who, by calling, have been added to the Lord’s people, in accordance with God’s will and with His plan for the salvation of the Christian people):

- the house in the hill;
- the house of meeting;
- the garden of meeting, with an amphitheatre of Christian cultural festivities;
- the tent of meeting;
- ten fountains, under the Lord’s protection, of the Lord’s Mother, of the saint Virginia, of the saint Andrew, of the saint Elijah, of the saint Pantelimon, of the saint Mary, the Samaritan, of the saint Ekaterina, of the saint Nicholas and of the saints archangels Michael and Gabriel.

The foundation stone of the New Jerusalem Church was laid on July 22, 1991, and the sanctification of the Church was done on December 12, of the same year, through the zeal of the bishop Irineu Pop of Bistrița.

This holy establishment was built according to the commandment of the plan sent by God by the word of the monastery dwellers, servants and carriers of God, together with other Christian lovers of Christ. The church has thirty-three canopies, symbolizing the earthly years of the Lord, Jesus Christ, and it has twelve doors, which symbolize the fulfillment of the prophecy of the coming back to God of the twelve tribes of Israel (see Revelation 21/12).

The house in the hill, built during 1998-1999, is an establishment with a monastic living for male Christians and who have had a calling to the completeness of the Lord’s people.

The house of meeting, built during 2000-2001, consists of an exhibition hall and a creation workshop for Christian art works.

The garden of the meeting, mended in the period of 2000-2001, consists of an artistic space covered by a white tent, the tent of meeting, sustained by a metallic structure with an amphitheatre and a stage under it. Here, the Romanian Christianity Feasts are held, dedicated biannually to the feasts of the Holy Spirit and to the Lord’s Mother descent, meetings by which the work of the preaching of God’s Word is given to all people.

The public activity of the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel unfolds through the Holy Virginia Foundation, founded in 1995. Also this year, the Foundation has finished the first edition of the book “The Word of God,” which comprises selections from the Lord’s speaking, in the period of 1955-1995.

Subsequently, the Foundation has published monthly in the form of the newspaper, freely distributed, the Word of God, heard by the inhabitants of the New Jerusalem monastery.

Other activities of the Foundation Holy Virginia from Pucioasa consist of:

- sculptural and pictorial exhibitions with a religious specific, accomplished in the Orthodox Christian creation workshop of the Foundation;

- exhibitions of rural establishments with an ancestral peasant interior, of coming back to the ancestral springs of the Romanian culture and tradition, of Romanian apparel and fabrics;
- artistic activities made by feasts, among which there are: music, and Christian poetry and theatre;

The Charter - The word of testimony

At the entrance into the monastery, which shelters the church, carved in stone, the text of the Charter is found, which shows the conditions of moral behavior and Christian living of those that were to pass beyond the gates:

This holy monastery was built in the year of salvation 1991, according to the commandment of the plan sent by the Lord through His servants, the prophets, by the spring of His Word, which flows into Romania and from which all the nations will be watered. The holy place was erected now by God's power for His faithful ones and it will be a testimony tower, a strong pillar and a resurrection stone for the every God's creature. By this new beginning, all the prophecies are fulfilled from the Book of Truth, as though Romania will be chosen and blessed for the peoples; it will be a new Canaan, a new Eden and a new Jerusalem, as the Scripture of John reads in the book of Revelation: «And I saw the Holy Citadel, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God. And He Who sits on the throne said: "Behold, I am making all things new". And the wall of the citadel had twelve gates, and at the gates twelve angels, and names written on them, which are the names of the twelve tribes of the children of Israel. And the wall of the citadel had twelve foundation stones and on them twelve names of the twelve Apostles of the Lamb. And the citadel lies foursquare. Its length, breadth, and height are equal. And the nations will walk in its light. And nothing profane will enter into it or one who causes an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written into the Lamb's book of life.»

The threefold country wake, which this temple has: "The Lord's resurrection and His second appearance," "The descent of the Holy Spirit" and "The memorial of the great holy prophet, Virginia, the Lord's trumpet," will be with a threefold power of resurrection over God's entire creature.

Because the heavenly Father Himself, the Word, wants to dwell within this heavenly dwelling, He has ordered a holy living and anyone, who will want to bring a spiritual sacrifice in himself, of doxology, adoration and praying, has to keep the following order:

- to keep and guard his bodily cleanness together with the purity of his feelings;
- to keep from any kind of food with meat, except fish, and from any kind of alcoholic drink with the exception of wine from the vine grapes and from drugs of any kind;
- to preserve the conduct of Christian clothing according to the order of the Holy Scripture;
- to keep the order of the three days of fasting in a week (Monday, Wednesday and Friday), except the periods established by the church without oil and wine, with the exception of the days for which there is remission;
- to respect the churchly canonical law in the Romanian and ancestral Orthodox style;
- to receive the holy communion as frequent as possible, according to the proper preparation;

In order that the holy temple to be overshadowed by the heavenly brightness and for the Lord to show the power of His perfection, I, the bishop Irineu, out of God's mercy, a witness of this work of salvation, bind under a curse anyone that might dare to step on this holy place without keeping a strict order shown in this new covenant, descended from God for this end of darkness. And he, who will come into this holy dwelling with decent fear and strong faith, keeping those that have been ordered, will be protected and blessed by our Father, Who is in heavens.

The servants and bearers of God had contributed to the erection of this holy dwelling, together with other lovers of Christ, with the world of their hands, and God's anointed, Michael I, of Romania, founded with his name.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, it was laid down the foundation of this Church in the year of 7499 from the creation of the world, and from the birth of God according to the flesh, the Word, the year of 1991, the 22nd day of July, amen.

This "word of testimony" was buried under the foundation stone, and from the consecration of the Church, the feast of the Saint Andrew, the year 1991, was buried under a holy table as well.

† Irineu Pop of Bistrița

This is the new covenant and also, the word of testimony of the beginning of the genuine Christian life, having been led directly by God.

The catholicity of the New Jerusalem Church – a pneumatological dimension

"The true church on the earth means sons of God, gathered together around the Lamb of God, Who is broken as food for the forgiveness of the sins, committed and forgiven by repentance."

(Excerpt from the Word of God, from 07.01.1997 - O.S. / 20.01.1997 - N.S.)

From the unity of the Holy Spirit in the unity of peace, to the Catholic-synodal schism

The visible foundation of the Church at Pentecost (see Acts, chapter 2) meant the expression of the unity of the Holy Spirit of the first Christians as member of the body of Christ in its wholeness, as it was prefigured in the Eucharistic community of the Lord's Supper.

Even from the beginning, these attributes of perfection in fulfilling and wholeness in covering for the church were expressed by the Greek term "katholiki" (catholic). This term was, in its original meaning, very far from the "universal" meaning, which is used today, denoting instead "eschatological unity of everyone in Christ" in a real local church.

Subsequently, the conceptual transformation to the "catholicity" in the sense of "universality" had taken effect not only in the western church, growing to the ambition of a worldwide territorial and administrative expansion, but also in the Orthodox Church. In the Russian theology of the 19th century the term "sobornost" comes into being, deriving from "sobornaia," a word that translates "catholicity" into the Slavonic Creed. Unfortunately in both churches the initial significance of the "catholic" or "synodal" attribute, ascribed to each local church, had been darkened. From one eschatological reality, understood as the work and communion of the local church, which makes the body of Christ objective through Eucharist, it has been drifted in interpretation to the idea of division between local and universal.

It has been installed into the world the betrayal of the catholic perspective (in which Christ was present wholly in each Eucharistic community) by the embracing of an exterior administrative structure required by force with an authority that had the inclination to absorb or even annihilate, by its universality, all the subordinate local churches. Once with the generalization of the metropolises in the church - based on the structures of old Roman provinces and then of the Byzantine one - and subsequently of the patriarchies, the center of gravity of the local church has moved to wider territories incorporating the dioceses of a province under the authority of one bishop, the metropolitan one. The metropolitan system represented a modality of circumstance in the localization of the church. Subsequently, the modern doctrine of the nation and of the independent state forced the generalization of another principle, the autocephalous one, which emphasized the theological confusion from the Orthodoxy, calling "local churches" all the autocephalous churches. Thus it was created the possibility that the Episcopal dioceses to be absorbed and replaced either by a permanent synod, or by the bishop who is chosen "lifelong" as the first standing one of the autocephalous church, without these really representing all the dioceses or parishes, which are and remain the authentic local churches of the territory which he theoretically controls it. That is why no metropolitan church, archdiocese or patriarchy can bear the proper title of a church, but it can only be called so by generalization, by the simple motive that it incorporates many local churches. These are the only organisms, which can be called churches, because of their nature, revealed and understood in Episcopal Eucharist, but also in the virtue of the apostolic exhortation of church founding in the cities: «I left you in Crete for this reason, that you would set in order the things that were lacking, and appoint elders in every city, as I directed you». (Titus 1/5). However, were the churches established by the saint apostle Titus really independent? The principle of the autocephaly extended to the level of a diocese is officially instituted in the church history only on the 3rd Ecumenical Synod (431), and only as a riposte, as an imperious local necessity of the diocese from Cyprus to counteract the greed of the bishop from Antioch, who was aspiring to extend his jurisdiction upon the island of Cyprus as well. As a matter of fact, the calling to the judgment of the churches of the seven cities, led by their bishops (see Revelation, chapter 2), is illustrative, and symbolically at the same time. The number seven symbolizes the fullness of the judicial act, and the responsibility of the judged is preeminently local. The nationalistic and territorial ambitions had theoretically conferred increased responsibilities to the ruler of the autocephalous church, to the same extent in which they were dramatically diminished on the practical level. The scandalously uncanonical institution of the vicar bishop was generalized by a forbidden easiness, in satisfying of the taste to copy some innovations of the western church. It is an additional motive for the churches, which consider themselves “universal” to review all the conceptions that promote the idea of derived ministry and to accept that the Eucharistic structure of the Church has priority over the institutional ones: in the Holy Communion, each local Church reveals the entire Church, the whole Christ, passing from the position of institution to the one of the “way of being,” as an earnest of the eternal life.

«Do this in memory of Me». (Luke 22/19)

The way in which the first church approached this problem is really the only one that is correct. At the Lord’s Supper, spent together with His disciples, the Savior, Christ, was not only making a prophecy concerning His memorial over the ages, but also a living illustration of His Kingdom. The old church has regained in the holy Eucharist the true image and structure of the Kingdom of the heavens (see Acts 2/42, 1 Cor. 10/16-17), in which God’s people consists of one Church. The ministry of the Church, in various manners, reflects and fulfills Christ’s own ministry, becoming a living projection of Christ’s presence into the world: «... and behold, I am with you always, even to the end of the age. Amen» (Matthew 28/20), and Christ has been present into the world even beginning with His incarnation, (Luke 4/13), but always by His presence and by the work of the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Spirit works wherever, however and whenever He wants («The wind blows where it wants to, and you hear its sound, but don’t know where it comes from and where it is going. So is everyone who is born of the Spirit.» (John. 3/8).) And wherever He is present, the Christians are called to come into communion with each other and with Christ at the same time, in a churchly manner, continuing steadfastly in the apostles’ teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of the bread and prayer: «And they continued steadfastly in the apostles’ teaching and fellowship, in the breaking of the bread and prayer». (Acts 2/42) The external world is not ignorant as well, but it is invited to repentance, to baptism and to the receiving of the gift of the Holy Spirit: «...be baptized, everyone of you, in the name of Jesus Christ for the forgiveness of sins, and you will receive the gift of the Holy Spirit». (Acts 2/38).

The ministry in the church, therefore, becomes a gift of the Holy Spirit, Who proceeds from the God Father. This gift is essentially relating to promises prepared by the God of His creation for the last days: «It will happen afterward, that I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh; and your sons and your daughters will prophesy. Your old men will dream dreams, and your young men will see visions. And also on the servants and on the handmaids in those days, I will pour out My Spirit». (Joel 3/28-29) As “the mission” involves the apostolic sending and work to all the nations, “eshata” involves the calling of the nations evangelized into one single people, of those who are worthy to be called God’s sons, (See John 1/12), and to meet Him on His second coming (See 1 Thess. 4/17).

The Saint Ignatius of Antioch perceives the apostolic and synodal permanence in a conception of continuity, based not only on the apostolic succession from man to man, which is implicit, but also on the systematic assembly of the whole Church in one place of judgment; therefore, in a close connection with the Eucharistic community (See Saint Ignatius, Magn. 6,1). In this case, the apostolic succession is consecutive to the continuity of churches and is harmonized with the teaching of the Holy Scriptures, which calls the Church to systematically consume the Eucharist Supper in the same place, the place where eternal life is imparted from the Kingdom of God (see Revelation, 4/5).

Therefore, it is about one single Church invited to supper, in a prepared wedding hall. As a matter of fact, it cannot subsist in the world but one single true Church. Any other alternative demonstration is obligatory based on a sophism. However, the idea of uniqueness of the Church does not confer it this right to be constituted into one pyramidal structure and to be placed above the local churches. On the contrary, any ministering structure or work of the universal churchly community has to start from one foundation, which is the local Church. It is what God imposes through His Holy Spirit, Who introduces the realities of eschaton in history. «And also on the servants and on the handmaids in those days, I will pour out My Spirit». (Joel 2/29; Acts 2/17-21) Thus, the Holy Spirit works in the last days not by the visible head of the Church, or by its administrative and synodal structures, but by its most humble and cleaner servants, of which many – to emphasize that they are not even part of the clergy – will be female.

We are contemporaneous with these exceptional events.

A people of sons, a remnant: the daughter of Zion.

On the day of Passover of the year 1955, the Holy Spirit released the spiritual springs of the heaven, releasing God’s word to be poured out abundantly for the washing of the eyes and ears of those who were following to come together in a spirit of Church and to born again: “Peace to you! Christ is risen! Christ is risen! Christ is risen! I am the Lord, Jesus Christ. I am not in a body, but I am in Spirit. I have come down on earth in My Spirit to gather a people together and to speak to it the mysteries for this time. I am the Word of God and I have come to speak on earth, and to prepare the way of My second coming, as it is written into My Book.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, 17.04.1995. – O.S. / 30.04.1995. – N.S.);

“Do not doubt of My voice and do believe into My word through this helpless mouth, for I want to give you birth again, of the Spirit, [...] to raise a new people for Me, a new Israel into the Romanian people, for the people chosen by Me in the past has completely gone bad.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, 01.06.1955. – O.S. / 14.04.1955. – N.S.).

What motivates this supernatural intervention? Nothing else but the visible inefficiency of those almost two thousand years of preaching of the world churches to the world, interval in which the world has been degraded exponentially, until “it has completely become corrupted.” That is why God, in His great love for the people, personally comes to repair now what the man “has completely spoiled.”

When the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on the earth?

The fact that God decided after such a long time to choose a people of sons, a remnant, that He may proclaim it the daughter of Zion, suggests two complementary hypotheses:

1. The traditional churches with claims of universality (the “Catholic” one and the “synodal” one) have exhausted their chapter of credit, and God’s long endurance towards their implacable decline has come to an end.

The Catholic Church has squandered away its energy in the territorial conquest. Having practiced an aggressive missionarism, it has fulfilled the word of the Scriptures in letter but not necessarily in Spirit: «Go and make disciples of all nations [...]» (Matt. 28/19). In fact and in substance, the nations evangelized by it have remained equally unfaithful and careless to their salvation as before, engaging themselves into a visibly annoying dichotomy:

- a secular world engaged within a fierce struggle to get wealthy;
- a caste of the clerics who have extended over the ages a feeble struggle in preaching Christ efficiently.

The Orthodox Church, a little bit more pragmatic, or perhaps more comfortable, has not got tired to practice the missionarism at any price, pretending that it puts its own house in order, but the so called convenience has soon proved to actually be a state of self-complacency, which suggested its right to put on a gloss of empty glory from top to bottom. The effect was similar: once with the passing of the ages, the faith has grown cold and diminished in formalism, glamour and conservatism, two worlds detaching from her, which have developed in parallel:

- the vulgus, to a formal Orthodoxy, almost atheist, destitute of any authentic spiritual living, being satisfied to cross the threshold of the church “once in a while,” or perhaps at the main events of life (baptism, marriage or burial);

- the church institution, against the blatant glamour, basilical, scornful, but deprived of any charismatic efficiency, often proving unprincipled obedience to the atheist authorities and to the political police and even collaborationism, arrogant and irresponsible with these.

With some punctual exceptions of whose merits go to the local saints, the churches have gradually been deprived of charismata and have not known the living assistance of the Holy Spirit, Who works in a supernatural manner that is, He is not separated from miracles. In this manner, of a painful actuality, the thinking of the Scripture has become: «When the Son of Man comes will He really find faith on the earth?» (Luke 18/8).

The servants of the churches have felt attracted by the “joys of life” and gradually they have come to catch up with them little by little from the world, proclaiming them “the man’s rights.” It is known, for example, the debate among the western clerics concerning the renunciation to the “yoke” of celibacy. Thus renouncing the idea of bodily cleanness, they are very close to generalize the mixture of the churches with the world, forgetting the warning of the Holy Scripture: «Friendship with the world is enmity to God». (James 4/4). In this way, the Churches head inexorably for secularization, putting off its power and formal right to spiritually control the Christians. These, in their turn, take advantage in justifying their actions, including their stealthily turning back and without any remorse to paganism. Shallow “official” resistance of the churches is regarded with amusement by the secular social structures, which blatantly push the people towards an immoral living, impregnated with a gross materialism, which completely separates man from God.

2. The time has come short (see 1 Cor. 7/29) and the day of the Lord has come near (see 2 Thess. 2/3), for the denial of faith has come true and “God’s adversary, the man, who had been hiding under a church robe and clothed with empty glory, setting himself up as God” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 06.08.1997. – O.S. / 19.08.1997. – O.S.), «was brought into the open». (2 Thess. 2/4).

«Behold! The bridegroom is coming! Come out to meet Him!» (Matt. 25/6)

The calling, which God has been doing tirelessly from 1955 on, is the fulfilling of the parable of the virgins (see Matt. 25/1-13). The ten virgins are the Churches. Therefore, it is about the local churches, Eucharistic, and not about the two church institutes, each one of them considering to be “universal,” even though one calls itself “Catholic” and the other “synodal” with the desire to hide under the word, so that their nakedness and their weirdness of pomposity may not be brought into the open. Thus, the local churches are the virgins (those who managed to hold on to their virgin, apostolic purity) and have the candles in their hands (those who keep unspoiled the treasure of faith entrusted by the apostles). The fact that the parable divides them into wise and unwise virgins shows us the impartiality of the One Who calls them: He offers them all equal chances with the condition that in the time of calling, the one who is received to have the wedding garment, the oil burning in the candle and the fruit of the entrusted talents. However, can the churches of today come to meet Him as the wise virgins did, as Christ’s brides? The parable is challenging. It suggests that at least half of the local churches could have got the spirit of discretion and the zeal of preparation. Unfortunately, the oil has been poured out in time and out of the vessels of those who had prepared once. The parable is equally prophetic. If all the girls fell asleep, then this is the state of things in which all the churches were found upon the calling: «Behold! The Bridegroom is coming! ...» (Matt. 25/6).

One single local church – the Romanian one, born Christian and grown through martyr sacrifices – was somewhat complying with. However, she had to be woken up, shaken, washed, combed out, brushed and adorned, and then undressed of her unfitted garment of the red times in which she had fell asleep and then dressed in the whiteness of righteousness: “Oh, country, country! The red time had got into you and you had not known its face. You had not known that red is the chlamys of shame. Have you forgotten what it happened to Me under the cover of the red chlamys? The time of Edom had come upon you.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 08.11.1995. - O.S. / 21.11.1995. - N.S.).

However, the church does not wake up but it rather stays in lethargy: “Your priests serve the pleasures and their spirit and name and they have no power to impart resurrection over you” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 08.11.1995. - O.S. / 21.11.1995. - N.S.). Then God makes His word come down over Romania and reveals the mystery for it is the country of brightness (see Daniel 11/41-45), prophesying again and strengthening the prophecy made for it from eternity: “It will be that this chosen people will come to life little by little.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 04.01.1992. - O.S. / 17.01.1992. - N.S.).

How did the churchly institution of Romania, once woken up from its sleep, respond? Obviously having been troubled by the fact that its state of self-complacency and sweet lethargy were disturbed, it did not hurry to light its candle and to come out to meet the Bridegroom. Even more, it struck God’s hand and did not want to put on the white garment and thus to enter the glory of the New Jerusalem, prophesied in the Scriptures. Because it did not receive the renewal in the spirit, its “synodal character” has lost the Spirit’s assistance, for the Spirit works wherever He wants and how He wants. (John 3/8). Therefore, will the Synod of the Church be able to declaim “For it seemed good to the Holy Spirit and to us...” (Acts 15/28), when it turned its back at the Spirit’s calling? For the Bridegroom has actually come with His calling, to this church. As «In the beginning was the Word» (John 1/1) the same in the end, the Word of God has come down on earth, fulfilling the commandment of the Scripture, which proves it to be the new name of Jesus Christ: «... and His name is called “The Word of God”». (Rev. 19/13).

For though your people, Israel, are like the sand of the sea, only a remnant of them will be saved (Is. 10/20)

The Lord has kept for Himself a faithful remnant to which He came down in counsel of word and which received Him with joy. In this counsel that joins the heaven with the earth it is the synodal character in Spirit of the Church of the New Jerusalem. «She is made ready like a bride adorned for her husband» (Rev. 21/2), for it lighted its lamp and had kept it burning from the moment of the calling of the daughter of its people, the holy Virginia, the sixth apocalyptic trumpet, an incarnated angel, who had brought a voice from heaven on earth: «And sixth angel sounded. And I heard a voice from the horns of the golden altar which is before God». (Revelation 9/13).

But the people from the world did not repent even when they heard that God spoke to them from heaven, but rather they became stiff-necked: «And they did not repent of their murders or of their sexual immorality and nor of their thefts». (Rev. 9/21).

«Woe to you, scribes and Pharisees, hypocrites!» (Matt. 23/13-29)

The rejection of Christ, the Word, by the church institute from the world has had similar overtones with the rejection of Messiah by the scribes and Pharisees. The work of togetherness of the local churches from the world, which has brought the body of Christ as a sacrifice through Eucharist, has gone dark by the quenching of the Holy Spirit and by the despising of the prophecies, despite the warning made by the Saint apostle Paul: «Don't quench the Spirit. Don't despise prophecies». (1 Thess. 5/19-20). The church of the world loses its universal character choosing between God and the world to remain alone with the world and tragically forgetting that ministering in a church is a gift of the Holy Spirit.

Referring to the Pharisees and scribes, who speak in an academic language, but totally lost their faith and keeping silent tacitly when the word of God brings their shameful works into the open, the Saint Theodore, the Studite, says: “Then when the Ark is in danger, the Lord's commandment is not to keep silent. If it is about faith, no one has the right to say: “But who am I? Am I really a priest? I have nothing to do with these. Or, am I a ruler? This does not want to have any kind of interference either. Or, a poor man, who hardly is able to earn one's living? [...] I have no right or any interest in this matter.” «If you keep silent and remain reckless, then the stones will cry out». (Epistle II, 81). Unfortunately, the priests of the official church, in case they do not preach openly against God's word and against the New Jerusalem, they keep a guilty and infamous silence, which they have learned well at the Faculty of Theology, as a typical strategy of “academic theology”: “No sword cuts off a bowed head.”

The Lord has chosen the poor to put to shame those that are strong

Because those who were invited, priests and bishops, did not come to supper, (Luke 14/18-24), the New Jerusalem Church remains the only wise bride that shows the Bridegroom the light of her lamp: faith and love, obedience and submission. As a remnant, chosen by grace, she stays in the bathroom of her birth from above and does not go dry from the flowing of the spring of word. She gives birth to a people of saints, brothers in Christ, who have got caught up into the work of the word; they give themselves over to the work of disciples and apostles and spread the seed of the word over those who want to meet Christ. They live within a spirit of church, a true synodal church, in which it is not the man that works but the Holy Spirit, as He wills, giving to the Church of Christ the pneumatological dimension, which the worldly church has knowingly denied as many times as it has ignored the canons of the Holy Fathers, which should have remained steadfast, and, again, when it has ignored this word of God. They faithfully sit at the Lord's word table and clothe themselves with this word and with the Holy Spirit, and they will receive the reward of disciples. They become a living parable for every Romanian people, for every Christian people, in such a way that he might turn back to God with his whole body, soul and spirit, and so that God may call him New Israel and to sanctify him, forgiving its wrongdoings, in such a way that the Son of God may visibly come down on earth, fulfilling the promises made over the ages: “Our Father Who are in heaven, make Israel holy and may Your name be hallowed in Israel by forgiving his trespasses, Father. Father, make a living kingdom from You over Your people and teach him to give himself over to Your will, to the will of Your word, Father, so that it may also be in Israel as in heavens, Father.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, the speaking of the Lord's mother, from 08.09.1996. - O.S. / 21.09.1996 - N.S.).

The Christian man, son of the true Church, whose head is Jesus Christ: The New Jerusalem Church

“Oh, Jerusalem of today, tell to the man what it means to be a Christian and a son of the church, whose head is Jesus Christ.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 17.02.2003. - O.S. / 02.03.2003. - N.S.).

«And behold, I am with you always, even to the end of the age». (Matt. 28/20)

The Gospel of Matthew ends with an unequivocal invitation, addressed to the disciples by the Savior, Jesus Christ, to preach the word of God by word of mouth and by deed. (Matt. 28/19). And as He promised that He would be with them in all their days (see Matt. 28/20), if they would do everything He asked them to do, they soon put on the name of Christ and called themselves Christians (see Acts 11/26). These realities, the Christians and the church, were and will be inseparable forever, developing simultaneously and following precisely the sinuosities of the man's progress throughout history, seen in the light of God's special creation.

However, at the moment there are many churches and at least as many families (communities) of Christians. What dramatically separates them is the guide, seen both fundamentally by the head (leader), and complementarily by teaching, guide and catechism. It is evident that all or almost all will pretend that they have Christ as their head in an invisible way, and in a visible way, an approved vicar of This One. Also, as far as the teaching concerns, all the churches pretend that they hold the monopoly of truth and that they promote it with maximum responsibility. However, this thing is impossible.

How many churches are true?

Mathematically speaking, one at the most (or none!) of the churches can hold the absolute truth, and regarding the consequence of the living of the Christian teaching, the things are really dramatic. Also, it is not “the body” which chooses its “head,” but “the head” chooses its “body” and the way it walks on. It is easy to affirm: “We have Christ as our head.” Many do this thing because they have the certainty that their affirmation is unverifiable. However later on, when they are confronted with evidence that confirms that Christ Himself, the Word of God, will choose His people alone to grow and tend it like a flock to the pasture, which gives life, their reaction is scandalous: they have the courage “to fight against God” in order to defend their stand on which they so defiantly have climbed up and from where they chant slogans just because they actually do not believe in God, and this leads them to the belief that He cannot and must not speak. Otherwise, having been known themselves as impostors, they suspect all others of imposture and thus the vicious circle closes up.

However, let us come back to that uplifting promise of our Savior: «And behold, I am with you all the days to the end of the ages». (Matt. 28/20) Who are these «you» of all the days? In the beginning there were the disciples and then the apostles and then the bishops and the priests established through the cities. But how about later on? And how about today? Having arrived here, it is proper to call into memory again an essential thing, which, unfortunately is off-handedly ignored or even maliciously hidden. God promised the constant presence of the prophets among or upon those that He elected to be His successors: «Therefore, behold, I send to you prophets, wise men, and scribes; and some of them you will scourge in your synagogues, and persecute from city to city». (Matt. 23/24);

«God has set some in the assembly: first apostles, second prophets». (1 Cor. 12/28);

«And the spirits of the prophets are subject to the prophets». (1 Cor. 14/32);

«If any man thinks himself to be a prophet, or spiritual, let him recognize the things which I write to you, that they are the commandments of the Lord». (1 Cor. 14/37);

«It will be in the last days, says God, I will pour out My Spirit on all flesh, and your sons and your daughters will prophesy». (Acts 2/17);

«Earnestly desire spiritual gifts, but especially that you may prophesy». (1 Cor. 14/1);

«Do not despise prophecies». (1 Thess. 5/20). However, unfortunately, it is just exactly here where one has come. All the prophecies, instead of being carefully and with an increased attention searched out in order to avoid any error of fabrication, are despised and classified in block, as being the modern form of deceiving invented by the devil. “The prophecies came to an end once with the Savior, Jesus Christ,” declaim the modern theologians with inflated conviction. Or: “Once with the death of the last apostle, the cycle of the divine revelation came to an end.” (Priest Tache Sterea: “Guide,” Ed. 1997, page 22); “No one can add to the revelation brought by the Savior.” (Ibid. page 94).

Beyond the fact that these shallow affirmations, almost contradictory and completely groundless, annihilate just the concept of the “Holy Tradition” what actually constitutes a severe heresy, the reality itself invalidates these suppositions. There were prophets after our Savior: Agabus, together with some other prophets, who were working through the Holy Spirit (see Acts 11/27-28; 21/10); Barnabas and Simeon who was called Niger, Lucius of Cyrene, Manaen and Saul, who were prophesying in the church of Antioch (see Acts 13/1); Judas called Barsabbas and Silas (see Acts 15/22); the four virgin daughters, the daughters of Philip, the deacon (see Acts 21/9). The Savior Himself reveals today by His word the hidden mysteries from ages, showing the incessant continuity of the prophecies, but also the tragic state of separation from Christ, brought about by the forced cephalization of the worldly churches: “The world wanted to be left by its own and the world has no head at all and its worldly church is not from heaven but is uncovered before God and this is how it pray to God, but it cannot be this way, for it is written: «Every woman praying to God with her head unveiled dishonors her head, and her head is her husband». Any church that prays to God with its head unveiled dishonors its head and the head of the church has to be Christ, for Christ is the husband of the church, the Bridegroom of the church, if the church is bride, and if it is not bride it is not Christ’s church, but it is rather from the world and it is not Christian. Christ’s church has a Christian living and a Christian feast, but behold, the Romanian church wanted to be left on its own and it has spoiled its feasts and it changed the holy times from their places and it is not a church any more, for it is a church without saints, since it distorted the holy days and they are no longer at their place<sup>5</sup> and in line with their saints, for every moment has its own blessing and each day confesses its saints.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 12.12.1997. - O.S. / 25.12.1997. - N.S.).

Flaws in “the apostolic succession”

It has often been speaking about the so-called “apostolic succession.” Has it got an infallible continuity? Definitely, since 2000 there have been flaws in the chain of succession. This is the only one hypothesis, which explains the real state of fact, the one of dissemination of some “Christian” elites that have not even been parallel for a long time, but rather substantially divergent in their dogmatic evolution. Otherwise, only the absolute sincerity has the power of renewal, similar to the one offered to the penitent through the mystery of confession. The “technique” of covering some mistakes or inaccuracies, even precise, has been proved to be unsuccessful, severely eroding away the trust of the external observer or even of their own eparchy members.

The Word of God, analyzed at this time as a source of additional revelation, but offering exceptional potential valences, clearly affirms that the flaws appeared in the so-called “apostolic” succession are a bitter reality. Indeed, referring to the anointment above nature of the bishop Irineu, the Lord says in His word: “I have anointed him because there was no one else to anoint him, since for such a long time the thread of the anointed was broken. I have anointed and it was not those who say that they are those who anoint.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 21.11.1992. - O.S. / 04.12.1992. - N.S.). In addition, He reproaches the established churchmen for distorting the apostolic orders, illegally simplifying some services, giving up valid canons and changing traditional or canonical orders: “The Holy Trinity looks to the priests and scribes of this age and It looks to what they have done, for they have abolished the order of the Son of God, the one given onto the Church, onto the first Church after His incarnation. As the Church was gathering together and the word of God was in its midst, for I have given prophets and I said that the Church should be this way and not otherwise; this way, wholly and not having deficiencies in its body.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 09.07.1992 - O.S. / 22.07.1992. - N.S.).

From eternity to temporariness

Ultimately, the church has gradually been turning aside from Christ, abandoning the prophets and replacing the Christ centric guidance with an anthropocentric one and respectively, the eternity with temporariness. The man has replaced Christ and has called himself “vicar” or “deputy” or “antichrist” (at this time one has taken into consideration the Greek etymology for “antichrist” – in Christ’s place, and not the Latin one – against Christ); then he dressed within a bishop, sit on the seat from above and replaced the washing of the feet, what was done to the disciples together with the kissing, required of his disciples, of the right hand and of the Episcopal miter.

“And here is what the Church ended up to be, but who is to open its eyes to see that it is not like Me?” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 09.07.1992 - O.S. / 22.07.1992. - N.S.). Vis-à-vis this sentence imputed so severely to the church, the modern theologians have an absolute guilt, who politicize (frequently using communist patterns that they have learned since childhood) the liturgical sacramental act, inventing theologumena, which harmonize with the time requests and with the whims of the more and more secularized world. However, God has still revealed this thing: “Woe to the people who say to themselves that they are with the law of the Church and who wrote books over books about My name and My laws, for those books are not and those are earth, and in the earth they return for the spirit of those books is not alive because of those without life they have made on them, and these works stand against them.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 21.11.1992. - O.S. / 04.12.1992. - N.S.). Therefore, the explanation appears as well: those who write books at the order of their hierarchs or of pure mercantile interest do not have any Christian personal life, but rather they are only some Pharisees. They teach others what they do not even believe in a dream. It is the most condemnable discrepancy between their word and deed, for the theology authors take care to cover themselves with high blessings and with pseudo-academic authorizations, deceiving with anticipation the vigilance of the customary populace.

One of the most severe evidence of imposture is, therefore, the affirmation, direct or implicit, formulated by the professional religious leaders, as though we “have Christ as our head,” and “our church is apostolic,” this being against the reality marked by the profound separation from the word of God.

It is absurd at least, when God speaks directly, fulfilling His promise, which says: «Behold, I am with you always» (Matt. 28/20), and those are concerned are only then to wince and cry out: “It is not God that spoke, but rather someone else did it into His name!”, or “This is not God!” The one who said, «The fool has said in his heart, “There is no God». (Psalms 14/1), said it right, but that is exactly those, who speak out loud this thing, think that they are the wise people of the earth. And partly they are right, for they cannot be the wise people of the heaven, too.

The Christian man: child-son of God

Then, what describes the Christian man, a son of the true Church?

- he has got the humility of being led by God without being afraid that God would let him be drawn into an errancy, for he loves God as a child-son and this way he believes in Him, as a child who believes in his fleshly father;

- he has love for his brothers, as it has never been seen since the apostolic time, brothers sacrificing for others, for sacrifice is the proof of love;

- he has replaced the unprofitable mercifulness, preached obstinately within Christian scholasticism (and forgetting that it is not the bellyful who enters the kingdom of the heavens, but the soul of the righteous), with God's mercy, Who still suffers today, now, and for all the wrongdoings of the humanity reached its climax;

- he truly believes in Jesus God and into His promises, connected to His second coming into the world as a King;

- he waits for Him and prepares his wedding garment for this meeting, for it will be a cosmic wedding between the Bridegroom, Christ, and His Church, the only one (not many!) synodal (not lead by occasional "heads"), and apostolic (not updated with cosmeticizing teachings);

- he has been praying incessantly for the whole human kind from Adam on, replacing the classical egoistic preoccupation for personal salvation with the loving work for the man's restoration through the Church, whose foundation is the Savior's sacrifice and whose walls are the prayers of the saints;

- he has seriously taken the exhortation, «Be holy as your Father is holy in heavens», (1 Peter 1/16), and the calling "Let us be attentive, the Holies [are given] to the saints!" (The holy Liturgy of the St. John Chrysostom), and is built itself as a living brick in the wall of the Holy Citadel of New Jerusalem: «And I saw the holy citadel, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven from God, made ready like a bride adorned for her husband». (Revelation 21/2).

The Holy Citadel New Jerusalem – the radiography of a demiurgic option

„Oh, what do the people want the church to mean? On what kind of Babylon do the people want to write “Christ's Church”? The church is only one. It cannot have another way of living but Mine. I am the head of the Church.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 29.09. 1997. – O.S. / 12.10.1997. – N.S.)

The church – a space dedicated to holiness

If we sincerely observe the present state of things of the Orthodox Church, we found out that the believers' preoccupation to consecrate the ecclesiastical space has long disappeared, that is to divide the church into the Holy and the Holy of Holies, and then, to rigorously observe the keeping of this division. When Moses was called to dialogue by God in the Mount Horeb, he was told to take off his shoes for the place he was standing on was a holy place (See Exodus 3/5). This place was not known as having a prior consecration, but it became holy by God's election itself, first as a space of dialogue and then as a space of worship. (See Exodus 3/12).

The church, taken as a place of worship, however, is destined par excellence to be a place of communication between man and God. That is way it has to be a holy place even from the phase in which the people make a mental projection of the necessity of permanentizing of collective service.

Once, the interior spaces of the church rigorously confined those that were consecrated, who were administering the altar with much propriety; and then the elect who were step on the platform only for the holy Eucharist; and then the believers who populated the nave (the men) and the pro-nave (the women); and then those that were called, who were temporarily occupying the pro-nave, but at the right time ("How many of you are called, come out!") these were coming out into the church porch. As far as the penitents concern, they have been deprived of the right to occupy various areas of the interior of the church, according to the condition of uncleanness in which they have fallen.

Unfortunately today, these customs are a pale memorial. The doorkeepers have disappeared and the church has been slowly turned into a passing space, a wide hall to the sole area, which suggests certain holiness: the iconostasis with its doors and curtains and obviously everything they hide. The hiding has remained the only form to suggest the mystery, instead that this may flourish and overflow over the ecclesiastical space. The priest was tempted to take over the ritual covering, the mystery, as an invitation for his hiding from the people. That is why he hides behind the doors and curtains his own lack own holiness replaced with the adoration of the Caesar's image, (The money) who silently took over the Holy of Holies. In their turn, the believers (mixed with the unbelievers in a proportion impossible to evaluate) do no longer take off their shoes for a long time, literally and figuratively, when they enter to pray. Do they really realize that it is no longer the case, as long as the ecclesiastical space is not holy anymore? It is possible, even if we take into consideration this sign, which God asked once from Moses, only for a metaphor.

The sinners overcome the church of the saints

The holiness in the church remains, therefore, a potential state, for it is no longer brought up-to-date by an authentic Christian living, the one, which is asked thorough catechism, eulogies, homilies and preaching. All the preaching made up by clericals remains but mere acts of rhetorical virtuositities as long as they are not translated through a firm preoccupation of holiness (literally, not figuratively!) of the parishioners' life. Furthermore, for centuries we have witnessed a dangerous deviation of direction concerning the church consecration: the majority of the believers and a considerable part of clericals have arrogantly assumed the right to proclaim that the church is no longer of the saints, but of the sinners.

This bold affirmation, and which probably hides the intention of a legitimization, unfortunately starts from a sad acknowledgement: truly the control was lost and the devil has managed to sneak into the church through the wide-open forgotten doors. No one chooses the trenchant attitude, dictated by the Elijah's spirit or the lashing word of John, the Baptizer: «Offspring of vipers!» (Luke 3/7). In return, you hear with stupor, even with the priests, lamentable affirmations such as: "We all are sinners," and which reveal the level of theological subculture, cultivated within priests nurseries, sprung up within the last years like mushrooms after the rain, in tens of towns and fair markets. And this, when God urges the people authoritatively: «Be holy for I am holy too!» (Exodus 22/31; Leviticus 11/45; 1 Peter 1/16).

Poor church, turned into the host of the world circus!

Therefore, holiness has also remained for the most people a stale biblical option, proper and specific only to the antiquity. The modern people can afford from now on, what our ancestors would have not even dared to think: to misinterpret God's will, to maculate the martyrs' sacrifices and to transform the praying sanctuaries into places of cheap ritualistic incantation in which the conformist cabotinage is mixed with the vulgarism of some occasional "Christian male and female," who rather came only to rakishly expose their indecent toilets with the occasion of a wedding or baptism. Frequently the service of the wedding is deliberately transformed by the priest into a comedy of triviality hard to bear. Beyond the fact that the Holy Communion is no longer given to the young people, being replaced with crackers (!!!) dipped in so-called “the common glass” (a grotesque parody of the holy bowl), the occasion is speculated by the priest to snatch ripples of laughter from his audience. After a repeated game of “fooling” the bride, a game in which the cracker is withdrawn to left her open-mouthed, the priest acts suddenly with a subtlety, which betrays his routine and thrusts the cracker into the throat of the bride until it chokes her and makes her cry. Here it is not only a severe premeditation of the priest to cabotinage, but also a subliminal message by which he suggests the audience a prospective insatiety of the bride to behavioral deviationism and immorality. The poor church has come to be the host of the world circus! In giggles of accordion and impertinent flashings, the circus of clowns, dressed in tuxedos of funerals and cellophane combination suits, withdraws leaving behind the trails of the mundane dirt: stalagmites of paraffin on the carpets, confections, rice, trampled chewing gum and fancy cakes, cheap scraps of their hopes, as they have understood them before God: «the lust of the flesh, the lust of the eye, and the pride of life». (1 John 2/16)

Let us also mention here the fact that the service itself was officially amputated, being deprived today of the essential passage in which the priest asks the wedding pair about their option, if it is by their consent and not forced by anyone, and then he urges them to publicly acknowledge their decision, firm, free and final, to get married and then to solemnly declare them husband and wife. Probably this passage of the service (which is still kept within the homonym services from other autocephalous Orthodox churches) was given as a gift to the state by the rulers of the church in 1864, when they accepted to hand over to the mayor’s office the ancestral right of the administrative-spiritual assistance upon the birth, marriage and burial of the parishioners, for we find it almost unchanged in the ceremony of “the civil marriage.” Do the people really not realize that two marriages of the same couple, one called “civil” and the other “religious,” reciprocally annul the valences, turning the marriage into nonsense?

The ridicule is not sanctioned by the priest even when this finds out that at the baptism (only now!?) the godparents do not know a iota of the Christian creed, a reason which should be considered a canonical impediment, sure enough for the service to be stopped, out of necessity, and temporarily suspended. But the priest, being rather a paid public servant, partly reads himself the Creed in their place, giving his approval that Christ may be humiliated again than to work with the spirit and power of Elijah. And so, to save the surface of solemnity, the priests’ services are like a worthless theatre in which the curtain falls exposing the sad reality towards the day of Epiphany. Then, no matter how many precautions he may take, no matter how many anticipated invitations to Christian order and patience he may make, his “service” finishes systematically with a disaster: jostled people, torn clothes, bad language, thefts of wallets, even beatings, holly water, spread abundantly on the ground and then callously trodden under foot. It is clear that assisting year by year to such a spectacle being turned into a habit, the priest does no longer have his heart in rebuking at least verbally the other smaller “offences” such as adornments, makes-up, indecent clothing and so on.

Can God impassibly assist to such a wretchedness of Christianity? He cannot be fooled around with cheap and triumphalist speeches, (which counts how many places of worship have been built in the last year, declaimed from the pulpit of the patriarchal cathedral), not with adulatory articles, which describe work visits or swelling anniversaries, periodically ordered and printed, which emphatically are entitled: “The Voice of the Church,” or “The Harbinger of Orthodoxy.”

The official reality remains sad, but few have the courage to take its radiography. Unfortunately, the Orthodoxy does no longer live, but it declaims itself instead. For many, its holiness has remained a strange option, anchored somewhere in history, perhaps once with the martyrdom of Brâncoveanu or with the passing into eternity of the Saint Calinic from Cernica.

However, God is a God of the living and not a God of the dead. (Matt. 22/32). This state of things could not long forever. God speaks about the age that we live in now, (the 7th millennium from the creation of the world), with authority through a prophecy of the St. Nifon of Constantia: “Enough! I will cut it into half! Let the dominion of sin come to an end!”

The turning year: 7500 from the creation of the world

Therefore, the year 7500 should be the year of the major changes from the church. This year was prophesied exactly by the St. Nilus of Mt. Athos, (1612-1692 AD) and by the St. Hierarch Calinic of Cernica, (1787-1868 AD), by the St. Moisi (Moses), the Black, (the 4th century) (The prophecy about the monks of the last people), by the St. Hierarch Niphon of Constantiana (4th century) (in “A vision about the dreadful Judgment”), by the prophecies of the devout Andrew, the fool for Christ (in the years of 882), by the prophecies of the St. Nilus of Mt. Athos, (1612-1692 AD), by the St. Cosmas of Aetolia (1714-1779) and by the prophecy of a saint who was found in the Monastery of Decapolis, with feast of the Saint Benedict in the year of 1775. From these prophecies by this time we can draw a first conclusion: the end of the world will be at the half of the eighth century that is in 7500 from Adam and/or in 1992 from Jesus Christ. And still, since the year 7500 from the creation of the world means the year 1992 after Christ, and the visible state of things from the church in the world has not been improved at all, it might seem that the mentioned prophecies have not literally been fulfilled yet. That is why some newer editors of the St. Calinic’s biography, probably out of the infantile desire to “protect” his image, have eliminated the passages, which have reminded of this prophecy so real. However, the reality, which they have not known yet, is totally different.

These prophecies have been fulfilled with great accuracy. In the churchly year 1992, in the life of the Orthodox Christians an essential change took place. God, seeing the man’s weakness to lift up the church from its spiritual downfall, became Himself the founder of His own church and He called it as it was prophesied (See Revelation 21/2): «The New Jerusalem Holy Citadel», and He gave it to those who love holiness: «And there will in no way enter into it anything profane, or one who causes an abomination or a lie, but only those who are written in the Lamb’s book of life». (Revelation 21/27)

What princes, rulers, journeymen or richer townsfolk have failed, that is to devote themselves to God and then to build Him real holy places, not in name only, God accomplished with an easiness, which confirms His omnipotence. Within three months only (September – November, 1991), as in a breath, a bunch of Orthodox Christians, who understood what self-denial and devotion for bearing Christ’s cross really mean, erected from foundation this stone of testimony, which from now on is called the Church of the righteous and of the watchful people, the place of the rest of God, the Word: The New Jerusalem Church.

Restoration of holiness in the church: the law of holiness will be only one law

As God has step by step lead Moses’ holy work of the holy Tabernacle, (See Exodus, chapter 36), Solomon with the work of the Temple (See 1 Kings 5/5) and Zerubbabel with the reconstruction of the Temple (See Ezra chapter 5), likewise the work of building of the New Jerusalem Holy Citadel was advised step by step by the living and working word. This work, coming down from heaven, has been sealed by law of holiness to establish a pattern of holy living for the whole Christianity:

- the cleanness of the body and of the feelings;
- abstinence from meat, alcoholic drinks and drugs;
- observance of Christian tradition referring to clothing;
- observance of the ancestral Orthodox canonical laws;
- carefulness for adequate receiving of the holy Mysteries;

The Christians who understood to observe these rules strictly, as all other exhortations of the Holy Spirit delivered through the work of word, have made up a living Church, a people that fulfills the work of the preparation of the second coming of the Savior, Jesus Christ, on earth. They serve the Almighty One incessantly, in cleanliness and wakefulness, and that is why they are called the Church of the righteous and wakeful. This is the New Jerusalem Church.

The Lord teaches His people the perfection in holiness: “The Lord is coming again and He is coming down with the law of His holiness [...], because there will no longer be another law except the law of holiness. Those that are old pass away and vanish and a new heaven and a new earth lay down to take their places, and nothing unclean, nothing old, nothing humane will remain among the new ones. And there will be angelic food as it was in the beginning and the end comes closer to the first beginning.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993 - O.S. / 28.08.1993 - N.S.).

As we have seen, in the church from the world the holiness has partly got lost once with the mixture of the church with the world, but it has been scattered completely once with the moment of the violent and open resistance to the word of God. Then «the abomination of desolation», (Daniel 11/31, Bible, 1994 Edition), will stand in the holy place, as Daniel prophesied, and the word of God has been confirming it in our days: “Behold, the bishops and the priests have not opened to Me to see who is knocking and they have said that it is not I and rather that I am a demon. They have said now as they said before, for they could not say otherwise, since they do not love My ways and the law of holiness in which a servant of the holy heaven should stay. The hard time has come when the abomination of desolation has sat on the seat meant to be holy.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993 - O.S. / 28.08.1993 - N.S.). However, the people, which knows his God will remain steadfast and will follow Him (See Daniel 11/32) and will be filled with a heavenly living. Then, God’s mystery will be understood by all the nations: “I will be glorified before the nations on earth and My creature will understand the New Jerusalem mystery, which is coming down from heaven on earth, which is coming down little by little and which is made up at God’s word.” (Excerpt from the Word of God from 15.08.1993 - O.S. / 28.08.1993 - N.S.).

Watch and pray!

In addition to the auto-corrective pattern offered to the church from the world, the New Jerusalem Church suggests a prophetic pattern. It is known the fact that all religious events, described by the Orthodox catechism belong to the past, or, at the most, to the present continuous. There is just one exception projected to the future: the second coming of the Lord with its consequences. That is why, for those who ignore the importance and especially the proximity of the meeting again with Christ at sight, the Bible and its teachings, do not present such a great interest either, not being harmonized with their day-to-day coarse and materialistic ideals. Few are those who still give substance to the words spoken through the Christian creed: “and He will come again to judge the living and the dead,” and which many other repeat them mechanically and with insincerity. Even priests from the church in the world, seemingly tired of so much waiting for the imminent coming of the Lord, have gained courage to doubt openly: “Who says that He is coming? Well! It’s a long way!”, struggling to demonstrate that there are many signs of the end, which have not been fulfilled yet.

But what kind of exhortations does the Holy Scripture give for these times? «If the master of the house had known in what watch of the night the thief was coming, he would have watched [...]. Therefore, be also ready and pray for you do not know that time». (Matt. 24/42-44; Mark 13/33-37). It is true that no one knows the day or the hour, but these voluntary impulses of the prophets to the distant future, have the “gift” to weaken the vigilance towards sin. Therefore, the church from the world gives the impression that it deals with this subject with fear or disinterest. No other text from the book of Revelation, not even one, has been officially read among the exemplary texts, chosen, which are repeated in churches every Sunday to the extent of becoming insipid and boring. Is the book of Revelation not for Christians? Who is preaching it? Who is interpreting it? Or, is it really non-canonical? Then why is it among the canon of the Holy Scripture? Why has it been completely ignored? There have been so many revealed things in it, whose clarification would help the responsible man to correct his attitude towards the aggressions of the modern world. How many have really heard of the antichrist seal, (who looks out for them), in order to avoid it? Is this thing so unimportant to be dealt with ignorance? What does the number 666 mean? Has the official church from the world given an answer to it? Has it offered a recommendation to its members?

Conversely, the New Jerusalem Church is proposing an assiduous and solid preparation of the Christian to meet Christ again, for this has remained the only one fundamental prophecy whose fulfillment belongs to the future. Thus its serious approach and dealing still offer chances for possible corrections.

Maybe that is why it is not by chance that one of the feasts of the New Jerusalem Church – chosen, as a matter of fact, by the direct assistance of the Holy Spirit, is: “The Lord’s resurrection and His second coming.” This shows the close connection among these events, as from the Resurrection there have already passed two cosmic days and we entered the third, that one day is for the Lord as a thousand years, and a thousand years as one day. (See 2 Peter 3/8) Therefore, we infer that as the Lord’s Resurrection took place on the third day, the same will be with the resurrection of the creature: on the third cosmic day, at the hour in which the watch will be fully asleep and the King of the world will accomplish the last promises.

Here it appears the principal motivation of the election of this people of the New Jerusalem and of its preparation for holiness. As any king, Christ prepares His right and the joy of His honor in the way when He will be welcomed and hailed by His subjects. For this, He needs to have subjects who wait for Him and receive Him with joy, dressed in wedding garments on His second coming.

The New Jerusalem Church – a church of the saints

“Shake up the cold walls of the church from the world, which try to hide You within them, for You do not dwell in houses made by people! You dwell in Your temple, in the faithful man, Lord, for the heaven is Your throne and the earth is Your footstool. What kind of a house shall the man build to You? Wake up the one who sleeps to teach the people what church is and what Orthodoxy is, Lord! (Excerpt from the Word of God, the speaking of the St. John, the Baptizer, from 07.01.1997 - O.S. / 20.01.1997 - N.S.).

Has God been really understood by man?

In all times God has been manifesting in an antinomy manner, often even paradoxically in appearance and that is why the man, with a few exceptions, has never understood Him; and because He has not understood Him, He has always stood against Him. His works are both simultaneous and simple (worked out economically and ergonomically), and complex (the laws of universal interactions, the organizational similarity between macro-cosmos and micro-cosmos, the interpenetration between the visible and the invisible world, and the mysterious connections between them: the wave-corpuscle, the matter-energy-photon, magnetism-electricity, etc.). His teachings are easy and hard; easy because they promote the natural of love, of morality, of healthy and simple living; and hard because they press on the haughty and individualistic consciences of the people. His laws are simultaneously immutable, but also in an ongoing improvement (fulfillment); they are not changed because they are built on fundamental truths, but they are perfectible because they have been gradually revealed, each time in a form adjusted to the man's power of assimilation and understanding (this being itself in slow positive evolution).

God is never absent and His representatives (angels on earth and in heaven) do not have absolute liberties. He did not die as Nietzsche believed, He does not sleep and He does not get tired but rather He rests in man, if this offers Him a loving dwelling place in his heart. He always works: «My Father is still working, and I am working, too». (John 5/17). God has enemies:

- the devil and his servants;
- the indifferent and scornful man;
- the man who replaces Him (antichrist) on earth;

God promises finality to this state of things in which the good and evil coexist, as the man wanted at the beginning. The realization of this started immediately after the man's fall and has been unfolded by-stages:

- the promise (See Genesis 3/15);
- the election of a people of the promise, which was given to Abraham (See Genesis 22/17);
- the bringing of the Law down on earth (See Exodus 20/1-17);
- the prophets who were to keep on the living flame of pure faith;
- Messiah and His sacrifice, Who brings the objective salvation into the world and empties the hell of the souls of the righteous, who had been waiting for ages for Christ's coming; the old serpent, which is the devil and satan, was bound for one thousand years (See Revelation 20/2);
- The Holy Spirit and the Church foundation at Pentecost;
- the ascension into heaven and the Son's standing at the right hand of the Father: the assumption of the second coming within a royal glory;
- one thousand years of confession of those who had been martyred, «beheaded for the testimony of Jesus and for the Word of God, and who did not worship the beast nor his image». (Revelation 20/4). During this time, there have been so many tragic events interlinked, and remained recorded in history: the Calvary of the early church, the persecutions, the martyrdoms; as well as the victories of the Christ's Church through those 7 Ecumenical Synods (between 325-787, the Christian era);
- the year of 1054, when the great schism took place within the Church, then when the devil was unleashed for a while (See Revelation 20/3);
- the kingdom of one thousand years of the saints: «and they lived and reigned with Christ for a thousand years», (Revelation 20/4), but also one thousand years of darkness for the world, as a consequence of the schism in 1054; the Protestantism, the offensive of Islam, the Inquisition, the guillotine, the Enlightenment, the proletarian dictatorship, the fascism, the masonry, the New-Protestantism, the demonic streams, the world wars, the holocausts, the genocides, etc.;
- the end of those one thousand years of the kingdom of the saints, when satan «will come out to deceive the nations [...] and to surround the camp of the saints, and the beloved citadel. But fire came down out of heaven from God, and devoured them». (Revelation 20/8,9);
- the second coming of the Lord (see Matt. 24/30), (See Revelation 22/12), which brings on earth the reward for everyone according to his own deed, but which also brings the salvation of the righteous;
- the resurrection of the dead (See Revelation 20/12, 13);
- welcoming Him by a clean people («Blessed are they that wash their robes,...» - Revelation 22/14);
- the calling of Him by those who are faithful («The Spirit and the bride say: "Come!"» - Revelation 22/17);
- «and the books were opened [...] and the dead were judged [...] according to their works». (Revelation 20/12,13);
- «and His servants will serve Him». (Revelation 22/3).

That is why the man should examine himself to see if he is prepared to meet Christ. Every responsible individual has to answer himself honestly regarding some fundamental questions:

1. Who am I?
2. Where am I (location in space but also in time)?
3. To which church do I belong (if I really belong to one)?
4. What do I know (and what do I not know)?
5. What do I do (and what do I not do)?
6. How do I live (and if I still live)?
7. What will I be (and where and with whom will I be)?
8. Will I be?

The questions can be followed by negative or positive questions. The negative ones invite not only to a profound meditation but also to action. For example, an answer of this kind "Do I belong to the Orthodox Church?" to question no. 3 is only a necessary assumption but not sufficient for salvation, as long as the answer to question no. 8 remains unsure. Only the answer to question no. 6 demonstrates that if "I live according to God's will," I have the assurance of salvation. Another example: the answer, "I do good and shun evil," to question no. 5, does not mandatorily put the good in the sphere of the necessary. The good is useful only if it is done in the name of Christ and for Christ, even if it is applicable – to the creation apparently.

As a result of the self-examination, it follows, therefore, the action, which presupposes a substantial quality change: "I cannot remain like that; I have to do something." He who is not within a church spirit, has to come in and to stay within a church spirit, because the church has the Spirit of God, for the church belongs to the saints, which the Lord says about: "The saints have the Spirit of God and all live in Me and are like Me and wait for Me to come with you, the little ones, to reach My day and theirs, the day of the fullness of time, the day of the Lord." (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 20.07.2001 - O.S. / 02.08.2001 - N.S.). And if the church does no longer have the Spirit of God, it must be investigated what really casts out the Spirit. He who does not live within God's will, but rather in his own will, then he has to work out for the modeling of his will; he who has two kings (God and mammon – the spirit of this world), has to renounce the one who brings about death, for he cannot serve two masters (of whom one brings death) and to remain alive. Therefore:

- he will choose the exclusive service for God;
- he will call on His name («Come, Lord Jesus!» – Revelation 22/17);
- the clean one (who has been waiting for God), will see the Lord's people, to take as a model.

But what does it mean to be a clean people? How can he be recognized among all who call themselves Christians?

The clean people already lives for and within God's kingdom, for His Christians carry it into their hearts:

- live like the angels in heavens, who do not marry and are not given in marriage (See 1 Cor. 7/29);
- "flee" from the world and its temptations, for friendship with the world is enmity with God, and the prince of this world is the devil (See John 14/30, 16/8);
- They fulfill God's will concerning food (See Genesis 1/29), their every day dressing (1 Corinthians 11/6) and behavior (See 1 Corinthians 5/9-11).

But who teaches these Christians this way? Firstly, the Holy Scripture, as I have shown above through the mentioned grounds and then the Word of God, through its care for those who receive it with faith and love.

The sleep of reason gives birth to sin

Even since 1834, assigning themselves the title of “saints of the last days” (although for free due to their stray teachings), the Mormons have felt an imperative request: holiness, which was missing in the Christian churches of the time, called by them “apostate.” Here it is not only about a label, given to shy wisdom, being concerned not to give reasons for punishment, but about that cleanliness of body, soul and spirit, to make a luminous house for the Holy Spirit in man. The idea of holiness, as old as humankind, although it was illustrating the only way of reconciliation to God, went out of use as soon as the churches of the world started to coquette with the opinion that sin is a natural and inevitable manifestation of life, against which the battle is being fought on and on, each victory meaning the beginning of a new defeat. The inefficiency of this battle fought reluctantly by churches, and more on their own account, sometimes deliberately ignoring the possible contribution of the heavenly hosts, has overcome the enthusiasm of the few who tasted the sweetness of the kingdom of the heavens, causing in return negligence, disappointment and repression. Soon, the Christian theologians started to reason rhetorically: “Is there really someone without sin?”, bringing arguments in this respect from the Holy Scripture (See 1 John 1/8-10; James 4/17), and immediately offering for tasting the poisoned apple of defeatism: «Did really Christ come for the righteous or for the sinners to call to repentance?» (See Matt. 9/13). So, they came to a conclusion, the church is not formed only of saints, but by all means, of sinners as well. Unfortunately, the life realities seemed to fully confirm the reasoning, although they were not revealing them at the same time, and which were their part of guilt: superficiality, negligence, self-complacency and especially their own inclination to sin, which brings about the departure from God and the darkening of mind. Alternatively, this haze was giving birth to a vicious reasoning in which the sin seemed to be an inevitable and eternal attribute for humankind.

In reality, the sin does not have an inevitable character, until the coming into the world of the Son of God, the One without sin, «Who gave Himself for our sins and was risen for our justification» (Romans 5/12), making the «grace reign through righteousness». (Romans 5/21). The man has to bow down before this sacrifice and decide: «Shall we really continue in sin, that grace may abound?» (Romans 6/1). The saint apostle Paul answers promptly, marking out the option of the net detachment from sin as being both possible and irreversible: «May it never be! We who died to sin, how could we live in it any longer?» (Romans 6/2).

The St. Cyril of Alexandria shows that “only by assuming Christ’s state of sacrifice can we have access to the Father. [...] Christ is a burnt offering that is wholly and not partially, offering Himself as a sweet-smelling fragrance to God and Father. Through this it truly is the Saint of the Saints. But we have also been sanctified in Him.” (Glaphyra. P.G., 69, col. 545-552).

The church becomes not only an objective of sanctification, which is being poured out of heaven from God, but also the place where the Christians can cultivate their virtues: “Our sacrifice, as renunciation of sins – diverse forms of egoism, takes the forms of virtues. That is why the Church is also a place in which virtues are cultivated, with loving openings to God, after Christ’s likeness, Who is the “being of the virtues.”” (Pr. D. Stăniloae, “The Orthodox Dogmatic Theology,” Ed. I.B.M. of B.O.R., Bucharest, 1978, vol. II, page 221).

On this background, the apologists of the shared experiences (both with the world and with God; and, in other words, both with sin and with the ongoing aspiration, but inefficient, to holiness), those who preach a church of “lukewarm people,” forgetting the bitter reward of this (See Revelation 3/15-16), will argue that the church is a seminary of “aspirants for holiness,” of “sick people that need a doctor,” and they will ask: “Does one really need to create a church, separated from the world, a church of «saints»?” Who has appointed us judges over the others as to classify the people in saints and sinners? Do those who think of themselves «saints» not really fall automatically from holiness, by their own opinion, in fact an obvious option, into the sin of haughtiness, in which, having been fallen, they have been self-proclaiming «elected?»

It is true that Christ came for the sinners, so that they may no longer remain sinners, but to be worthy of the new birth baptism, which makes them sons, and as sons, they can partake in the Eucharist Supper, that is they are alive in the church. He who does not take the Lord’s Body and Blood because of unworthiness is dead in the church (See John 6/53-58). He who takes the Lord's Body and Blood in an unworthy manner does it to his judgment and death (See 1 Cor. 11/27-30). Christ preached His word to everyone, but He gave the supper only to His disciples, and Judas, the Iscariot, having the sin of greed, took the morsel to his death. And again, all received the word by which they were washed, but not all of them were clean (See John 13/11). Paradoxically, even the "Our Father" prayer, so well known that the pickpockets invoke it before "sorting out" their victims, is a prayer destined only to Jesus Christ's disciples. Only those who are truly disciples reach out to the height of their Teacher and thus receive the quality of sons, and only then within this quality, and only so, they have the right to utter the "Our Father" prayer.

The Church, the body of Christ

The church is the Christ's Body as long as it receives His Body and Blood with cleanliness through the Holy Communion. But if it receives the Holy Mysteries like Judas, it will inevitably have his destiny: then its members are dry branches, which are cut and thrown into the fire (See John 15/5-6).

However, God has always set a Church apart, made of branches, which have remained in the vine, for He promised that He will remain with the saints to the end of the ages (See Matt. 28/20).

Holiness is, therefore, not an exaggerated and impossible claim. It is a necessity formulated by God even from the beginning of the visible world: «Adam was put into the Garden of Eden to keep it and to dress it». (Genesis 2/15). But from whom was he to protect it since there were not enemies? He had to keep it and to dress it from his fall from holiness, from the stain of the sin of disobedience.

Sanctify yourselves and you will be holy!

Then, on the receiving of the Law, Moses renewed the exhortation of God to holiness: «You shall be holy men to Me!» (Exodus 22/31); «Sanctify yourselves therefore, and be holy, for I, your Lord God, am holy». (Leviticus 11/44; 1 Peter 1/16).

But how is holiness being done? It is done by the word of God: «Sanctify them in Your truth; Your word is truth; [...] For their sakes I sanctify Myself, that they themselves also may be sanctified in truth». (John 17/17-19). Thus holiness is not an option of an elite, and by no means is it a privilege reserved to the caste of priests. All the people receive the word of God and all are called to holiness: «If anyone therefore purges himself from these, he will be a vessel for honor, sanctified, and suitable for the master's use, prepared for every good work». (2 Tim. 2/21)

The sanctification of the man is fulfilling God's will: «For this is the will of God; your sanctification, that you abstain from sexual immorality, that each one of you knows to possess himself of his own vessel in sanctification and honor. [...] For God called us nor for uncleanness, but in sanctification». (1 Thess. 4/3, 4, 7)

Therefore, because the saints do not belong to another world, they do not have to be detached from our life, for in this case, there may be the temptation of a shallow honor, which by all means will be manifested from the distance, a distance, which will separate for eternity the visible world from the invisible one. They are a living reality and they are with us and among us, with the condition that we may have the cleanliness of our feelings and life, to be able to discover, and especially not to cast them away from us. The church of the saints becomes a reality if we preserve for us the sanctifying work of God: «May the God of peace sanctify you completely. May your whole spirit, soul and body be preserved blameless at the coming of our Lord, Jesus Christ». (1 Thess. 5/23). Therefore, sanctification is not lacking motivation, orientation and finality: the perspective of sanctification is meeting Christ at His second coming. The church of the saints is, therefore, the bride, who prepares herself with sanctified oil in candle and with righteous garments to go out to meet the Bridegroom. (See Matt. chapter 25).

At the same time, holiness is a work pertaining to the Holy Spirit. The man is called only to prepare his field, to make it the recipient and warm for the seed of the word of God: “The time of the Scripture comes, which says that all will be then full of the knowledge of the Holy Spirit and they shall teach no more every man his neighbor, saying, “What did God say or answer?”, for all body will be full of the knowledge of the Holy Spirit and all the hidden things will be seen then.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 10.07.1991 – O.S. /23.07.1991. – N.S.), (Jeremiah 31/34); for the word of God is for the spiritual, not for the careless and natural: “The words of the Holy Spirit are for those who are spiritual, who have in them the Holy Spirit, descending from God; who stay wrapped up with the Holy Spirit and work out His mysteries in the middle of the people.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 24.05.1993 – O.S. / 06.06.1993. – N.S.).

An existential dilemma: between sin and holiness

How has the worldly church received the calling of the Spirit to holiness? I have already seen how some have been considering separation from sin as being impossible. “If the robber on the cross, who did so many sins, was saved, how much more we, who have not killed anyone, for great is God’s mercy!” – will they try to encourage one another. It is right that God is merciful, but it is also right that He will judge according to justice. The robber on the cross repented and he had also done no more sins, as he remained crucified on the cross. Or, the sinners, the self-indulgent, do not want to remain on the cross and to be crucified from their sins. Zacchaeus, the tax collector, was forgiven, but he sinned no more. The same was with Mary of Magdala. The condition of forgiveness is, therefore, death to sin. Others had tried to show that they could make reconciliation between sin and holiness, as though the light could be kept untroubled, putting it together with the darkness under a bushel. Others are more Pharisee, claiming demagogically that they belong to a church called “one, holy, synodal and apostolic,” and which sanctifies them automatically. They deliberately forget that:

- The church is not one for a long time, but there are many instead, even if they (incorrectly!) caress each other by the appellation “sisters;”
- The holy church on earth was conquered by the order of sinners, who took it over and cast the saints away right in the Church from heaven, to their places (as they say), “which they deserve;”
- The apostolicity was also moved, once with the apostles and prophets, into the invisible world;
- The catholicity is still only occasional, and anyhow, it was stolen from the Christ’s local churches and assumed by the institutionalized churches, phantom-organisms, which, after having conquered the world and totally being mixed with it, became “universal,” that is of the world.

The calling to the Lord’s Supper

However, God does not let Himself be mocked endlessly (See Galatians 6/7). On the fullness of the time and of the prophets, He blew His apocalyptic trumpets to wake up the world from confusion and carelessness. His Word is heard now to the margins of the world and it calls to the supper of the King’s Son all those who are scattered into the highways; it calls them to put on the holiness and the wedding garment and to come to supper: “Oh, children of Jerusalem, coming down with Me by this work! Here I am with you by the word. [...] Behold, I have called and gathered you from your places to sit and dine with you. I am the Bridegroom and you are My true bride, the one with the burning candle, the wise one, who knows from Me how to watch, how to dress and who is to dress her.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.). The calling, therefore, finds an echo only in the chosen one, the Christ's bride, the New Jerusalem Church that lives the faith that it preaches, and that is why it itself is the true church, which keeps burning the candle of love, which is taught and teaches to watch (to wait for Christ), how to clothe with the Lord, Jesus Christ (See Romans 14/14) (taking the helmet of salvation and the breastplate of righteousness), and who is to put it on (the priesthood newly established by grace). In return, the carelessness of the priests from the churches in the world has alienated the people from holiness and truth: “And I started to cry and to look around and see the poor coming, the lame, the deaf, the stragglers and the lepers, but they did not know how to come; they did no longer know the way if those who were teaching them were not watching with God and did not know that the Bridegroom had to come.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.). Indeed, some of the pastors from the churches in the world preach an attitude of indifference to the moment of meeting with Christ, which «no one knows, but the Father», as they say, quoting correctly from the Scriptures, but interpreting tendentiously, for the Scriptures also say: «I and the Father are one». (John 10/30). Their motivation could be totally different: not only to scrupulously observing the word of the Scripture, especially its letter, but also the fear of not being taken by surprise in a guilty state of not being prepared for the second coming of the Lord. It might be believed that the attitude of alienation has been influenced by some hazardous prophecies made by some sects, which in the course of history, have successively “predicted” new “precise data” concerning the “end of the world,” and which have never been fulfilled. There is here a tragic consequence of the churchman's separation from God to the point of not recognizing Him when He is coming and personally introducing Himself. How much distance from the immediate and total availability of Abraham: «My Lord, if now I have found favor in Your sight, please do not go away from Your servant». (Genesis 18/3); of Moses: «Here I am, Lord!» (Exodus 3/4); or that of David, overwhelmed by humility, «Who am I, Lord, and what is my house, that You have brought me this far?» (2 Sam. 7/18); of Jeremiah: «O, Lord, God, behold, I do not know how to speak; for I am a child». (Jeremiah 1/6); or of Saul from Tarsus: «Lord, what do You want me to do?» (Acts 9/6); or of holy Virginia: “Lord, behold, I give You an eye, come back to take it.” (Excerpt from the Life of the Saint Virginia). The carelessness of the priests has encouraged to carelessness even those that already are used to exhort one another with the saying: “eat and drink well, because no one knows the day of tomorrow!”

As in the time of Noah, the people of today are eating and drinking, they are marrying and given in marriage, and are regardless of Christ's coming back, now, as the Judge of the world. The work, hostile to God, strikes into the preparation of the heavenly victory on earth by antichrist's servants, who bring deception on earth and encourage the man to defilement: “The antichrist does not like holiness; he does not like it because the holiness does not let him live in lusts, in aggrandizements and pleasures.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.). The antichrist, dressed in a church robe and disguised as God's servant, has accomplished the fulfilling of the prophecies concerning the sin of the faith denial, “willing to fulfill himself the Scriptures of New Jerusalem between heaven and earth. But he is blind and mindless and does not know that the Scriptures are for those that are holy, not for him, and that the curses of the Scriptures are for him.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 28.09.1998. – O.S. / 11.10.1998. – N.S.). Carelessness casts away holiness.

The servants from the churches in the world have grown out of the habit to execute the lack of holiness. Formerly, even those who were called, catechumen (who, anyway, followed a “detoxification cure” of sins), were taken out of services when the solemn moments were coming close, of great holiness: “Those, who are called, come out! All of you that are called, come out, so that no one of those who are called may remain! (Of the Holy Liturgy of St. John Chrysostom), and there remained only the faithful, that is the saints. For they, it was prepared the calling, “Let us be attentive, the Holies are given to the saints!” what meant that the holy Eucharist was given to the saints, not to the sinners. That is why, at present, the climax of distortion in the priestly responsibility is reached by carelessness and superficiality, which the Holy Communion was shared with, that is, undifferentiated, without a minimum of self-examination, to the flock of Christians ritualistic-conformists, who have been used to cross the threshold of the church once in a while. Carelessness has lead to the territorial conquer that the uncleanness of the world has made into the interior of the church by the priests' incompetence established over Christ's flock: "...they have allowed Caesar to get over all the things of the Lord, until he has destroyed the cleanness and holiness in the church, until he has replaced everything that was well established by the fathers, and the servants of the church allow themselves be bought by those from the earth, and then they allowed to be swallowed by everything that is at work today, and by so doing, they have deceived the Lord." (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.).

There is here, in God's word, a disclosure of a gradual decadence of the servants of the church, first in the tasting of temptations, so called "not guilty," of the world, then in the compromises with the world, and finally, in the Christ's betrayal, they betraying Him as Judas did. The degradation of the mystery of confession (which came to be the most sold mystery in every possible aspect), the enlistment into the atheist communist political police, buying church dignitaries with money, or even selling church services – which were supposed to be free, even if the priest remains in his parishioners' care, are some of the forms, which the treachery put on.

However, the Lord chose a holy people for Himself, the new Israel, to be His tool with which He "will sow again as in the beginning, and the new Eden, holy, clean and incorruptible, will appear again." The people of the New Jerusalem is a people with a heavenly seal, a people called to come into the "ship of holiness of spirit and body," called to wisdom, to the work of the Kingdom of God. The holiness of this people is a state, which has to be carefully protected: "Be wise and do not dirty your eyes, your hearing, your mind or your food, and get your little hand to work and do your job and get used to separate from the enemies of the Holy Spirit." (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.).

A church of the saints

Holiness brings about likeness to God: "Seek to take after Me and then you will see whom you resemble and you will be glad." (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.). The holiness works in the Christian according to God's word: by smashing his idols, by smashing the lust and lawlessness. Holiness is not egoistic, but rather it is worked out in a council of revival within all Christian community. The Christian does no longer eat or drink at the world table, into the highways and on every corner, doing satan's will. He does no longer take from the hand of the people without God; he does no longer receive carrion as food and does no longer take intoxicating liquors to drink. He shuns any dirt as he would shun fire; he flees from the teaching of the world, taken on the road and mixed with foreign languages by God; he flees from antichrist's science, which alienates him from God's word understanding and which springs from heaven; he flees from the teaching of the people with a hidden face, for they are the servants of the hell. The Christian works with his own hands those that he needs and does not love luxury, wealth and the lusts of this age. He keeps the children away from the teaching, which comes through the window of antichrist (television – monitor) and through worldliness, so that he may give them clean to God. The Christian gets ready for the hard times when Caesar will try to subdue any man by the power of his money. The wise Christian lets himself be worked out by God's word, which opens his mind and wisdom and his heavenly eyes to see the dangers around him and around his house. He does not get tired with worldliness, but rather he gets together on the road and sets himself to watching and praying, fulfilling God's exhortation with joy: "... stay in your house, and work out holiness upon you, as there is no time to get out and pass through the dead [...] and you will be established on a new earth and in a new heaven, as the Lord has promised you." (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.; Revelation 20/11, 2 Peter 3/10). The Lord seals with a holy seal these promises made to His people that He loves: “... you are a blessed people. [...] Let there be peace between you and God and this is how you are to live forever. [...] Peace and holy patience, holy peace upon you, sons! [...] May the chrism of the Holy Spirit flow upon you and may you be filled by the power, which comes from the work of holiness. [...] Peace and New Jerusalem upon you, people of glory, which comes from Me! Jerusalem, be worthy of your new name, which is coming from heaven, for My glory will accompany you, and the nations will know My blessed people.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 15.08.1993. – O.S. / 28.08.1993. – N.S.).

All the churches in the world have got Christ, because they confess Him by the word of mouth, but they honor Him and show Him to the world, as they have Him from their works: a dead Christ, crucified on the cross and seated this way before the chair from above, in the Holy Altar, body and blood, Who is forever silent, nailed to the cross and with His face turned away from people. This is how they have Him, this is how they honor Him and this is how they give Him as communion to their parishioners.

The New Jerusalem Church has Christ living and working by His word, and this is how it receives Him and this is how it confesses Him before the people: the right Judge sitting alive on the throne of the cross and always speaking and preparing them with Body, Blood and living Word, for His second coming.

God, by His blessings and prophecies, makes the New Jerusalem Church into a new Church, a living Church, which is and will be a Church of the saints.

Who was speaking through the Holy Virginia?

“Israel, My people, do not change your faith! A clean and spotless faith is the Orthodox faith and the Orthodox religion. Amen” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 21.05.1974. – O.S. / 03.06.1974. – N.S.)

The voice of the objectors

An objection, carefully argued against the authenticity of the spirit of prophecy, found with holy Virginia, speculates just the unusual manner of communication, which God used to speak through His chosen “vessel,” the holy prophet Virginia: she always was prophesying in a deep sleep. Let us first reproduce, the detailed arguments, brought by a professor from the Faculty of Theology, objector of holy Virginia:

“In Orthodoxy nothing closes the man’s freedom. The sleep in which Virginia was falling infringes the free will of the man. The work of salvation assumes the synergy of God’s will and man’s. The Virgin Mary, when received the Savior in her, was perfectly aware and she freely expressed her consent by the words: «Behold, the handmaid of the Lord». Virginia seems to be possessed by a spirit, which violates her free will and thought as it happens with the demon-possessed. They do not know what they do and what they say either, and when the devil makes them loose, they do not remember what happened with them. Only this sign, and it would be sufficient not to give credit to the words of this woman, no matter what they may be. This is what is said in Patericon about a monk, whom the devil was waking up at night for prayer to the point of making him exhausted. Only then did he tell the confessor that an “angel” did not let him sleep sufficiently.

In conclusion, if this work had been from God, Virginia’s free will and conscience would not have been altered.”

God is not official

The Holy Scripture offers various examples out of which it results that the manner of communication between God and man has never been stereotyped and conventional, and the free will of man has never been violated. The paternal warmth itself, which the heavenly Father speaks with, eliminates any suspicion of this kind: “Moses was faithful in the house of My Father, in the work of My Father, but he was not official. I, again, was the same in the house of My Father, which is not on earth. My apostles were sought by all from that time to be destroyed because they were not written among those with rights according to the law. And behold, these little ones of them, who are written into the book that they will be in this time, because this work is written into the prophets, and those from heaven cannot be understood by the officials of the times, the heavenly ones are not promoted by those from earth, for the Holy Spirit blows where It wants to and the Lord cannot be limited by those from the earth.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 03.07.1992. – O.S. / 16.07.1992. – N.S.).

In the course of the revelations that he was receiving from God in the isle of Patmos, Saint John, the Evangelist, said about himself that:

1. He writes what he has received through the angels (See Revelation 1/1), from the seven spirits of God (See Revelation 1/4) and from the Lord, Jesus Christ (See Revelation 1/5). Therefore, the writing, as a physical act, is subsequent to the revelation and not concomitant with it. Although in the time of revelation imperative exhortations appear: «Write!» (Revelation 19/9; 21/6), these have rather the purpose to confirm the responsibility of John, the prophet, and the engagement to write precisely and immediately after the revelation finishes. So, John was not writing concomitantly with the receiving of the revelation, but after that, in order to be freed, during the revelation, from the risk of conscious and active participation of his body through his fragile and limited senses.

2. He affirms that «He was in the spirit» (see Revelation 1/10). So, he was not «in his body». This special state replaces the gates of the body senses with others, corresponding, of the spirit. John «sees» but not with his eyes (see Revelation 1/12); he «hears» but not with his ears (Revelation 1/10).

3. Seeing God, he falls at His feet like a dead man (see Revelation 1/17 – underlined). An additional confirmation of the detachment from the body and of special and extrasensory perception, the «writing» remains a subsequent obligation.

4. He is called into heaven and he responds to the calling, however not in body but in spirit. (See Revelation 4/1-2). Where does his body remain? Without any doubt, it remains on earth, in a state resembling the one, which the holy Virginia was passing through, while receiving God's word.

5. He wept a lot (see Revelation 5/4) but in his spirit, for he was in heaven in the spirit.

6. He saw and heard (see Revelation 5/11; 6/1; 7/4; 8/2; 10/1), but he was in the spirit, as well.

7. He spoke with the angels (see Revelation 10/9).

8. «He ate» a book, using his mouth and his belly (although he was in the spirit!). This vision is purely symbolic, showing the gift of his special prophecy, which he received (see Revelation 10/10-11).

9. He received the reed (see Revelation 11/1) to measure God's Church from heaven (see Revelation 11/19). After all these, a radical change appears temporarily, the spirit of John being taken into a future, precisely chosen by the angel.

10. He looked from heaven to the development of the plagues brought about upon the earth by seven angels of wrath (see Revelation 16).

11. He fell face down at the angel's feet to worship him, but he was stopped twice (see Revelation 19/10; 22/9).

12. He was taken up in the spirit on a high and big mountain, from where the Citadel of the New Jerusalem was shown to him (see Revelation 21/10), coming down from God in heaven.

13. He was taken (walked) in the spirit on the streets of the citadel (see Revelation 22/1-2) and he was shown its brightness.

14. He was urged not to seal the words of the prophecy of the book of Revelation, being shown to him that the prophecies remain open (see Revelation 22/10).

Therefore, it was no indication of the so-called “aware consciousness” of the prophet, who becomes a vessel of the prophecy. Instead, everything happened in ecstasy, in trance, in a temporary dissociation, however profound, between body and spirit. Did John feel with his body something of the material world during the revelation? Of course not. We have seen that his transfigured senses were operating in a transcendental world, the invisible one, some plans being temporary placed into more than two thousand years in the distance.

Alteration, even being in part, of the sensory faculties in the presence of the divine Being, is met with some other occasions.

The voice coming from heaven

Saul, on his way to Damascus, heard a voice coming from heaven, but he did not see anyone. (See Acts 9/8); the same happened with the other people who were going with him. This state of temporary blindness was further present with Saul, but not with the others.

Peter, praying in the city of Joppa, had the vision «in ecstasy» (these words show a special state, different from the common and daily lucidity) (see Acts 11/5), receiving exhortations, which, at first sight, aroused opposition.

Paul receives a vision in a dream: a man of Macedonia begging him to pass into Macedonia to help them, (see Acts 16/9) and he understands with his heart that the Lord is speaking with him (although he has no other rational criterion of discernment to be sure that the message is coming from God and not from the devil).

Peter is taken out of the prison by an angel, in a state, which could be called “hypnotic” – «He did not know that what it was done to him through the angel was really true, or it seemed to him that he saw a vision». (Acts 12/9). Only after his release, Peter, “coming to his senses” (Acts 12/11), truly understands that the Lord had sent His angel to take him out of Herod’s hand. The situation was so incredible that it was also extended on his meeting with the disciples, who rather thought that it was «his angel». (See Acts 12/15).

There is a typical case in which the self-consciousness of God’s chosen passes into the background. He automatically executes all the angel’s orders without questioning a possible “deception” from the hostile spirits. What would have happened to him if he had doubted or if he had opposed?

Speaking with humility about himself, without revealing his identity, the Saint Apostle Paul affirms in his second epistle to the Corinthians that he was taken up into the third heaven fourteen years ago, but he did not know if he was taken up in body or without a body (See 2 Cor. 12/2-4). Such a flagrant inconsistency between the importance of revelations (Of which is said that «the man is not allowed to speak of») and the state of uncertainty of the proper spiritual faculties is not justified but in one single way: God has radically modified Paul’s awareness in such a way that his extrasensory perceptions might be assimilated without any shocks, without violating the gates of senses, which have been used to work within normal biological parameters, within formal limitations. That is why he affirms that he «heard» words, which cannot be uttered! Even the intensity of the auditive or visual messages had to be modeled so that it might not physically destroy the biological receptors. When one did not proceed this way, out of special grounds, the effects were spectacular: Saul of Tarsus went blind (temporarily) when God intentionally wanted to do it in order to shake him out of his spiritual state of blindness (see Acts 9/8); the watchmen of Jesus’ grave, seeing the angel, were thrilled with fear and fell down like dead men (see Matt. 28/4); on the Transfiguration, the disciples, hearing a voice coming down from heaven, «fell on their faces and were very afraid». (Matt. 17/6).

Ezekiel is taken in his spirit into the middle of a field full of human bones and is carried around them. They were «very many on the face of the earth». (See Ezekiel 37/2). He prophesies, at the Lord's urging, and the bones come and bind together becoming bodies (see Ezekiel 37/8). Then he prophesies and calls the Spirit from the four winds and the bodies come to life (see Ezekiel 37/10). Is this scenario imaginary or Ezekiel lives (in the spirit) a living reality? Is this a general repetition or, somehow, a step in time? What can be said with certainty is that "the coming out of the body" shows that the Ezekiel's senses were dormant or temporarily suspended. Otherwise, Ezekiel would have not been able to perceive in full force of his spirit the living reality of the vision and its message.

Night dreams and their interpretation

A usual modality by which God communicates His will to the man and which we see recorded both in the Old Testament and in the New Testament is the dream. Abraham receives the word of God in a dream: «...the word of the Lord came to Abram in a vision, at night, saying: "Don't be afraid, Abram, for I am your shield, your exceedingly great reward."» (Genesis 15/1). «And Abram believed in the Lord; and he reckoned it to him for righteousness». (Genesis 15/6). And this also happens in a vision, in a deep sleep, with terror and great darkness, that Abram receives from God a prophecy about his descendants.

Jacob dreams of a stairway set up on the earth with its top reaching the heaven. The Lord Himself, standing above it, blesses him and his descendants and through these all the nations of the earth (see Genesis 28/12-15). Jacob believes it. He does not question to legitimize the One Who is blessing him and thus avoiding a possible deception. Further, Jacob also dreams of an angel who urges him to get up and leave the land in which he is living and to go on to his native land (see Genesis 31/11-13). Jacob believes again. He unconditionally obeys the angel.

Samuel is called on his name in a night vision by the Lord's voice (see 1 Kings 3/4), but Samuel «did not know then the Lord's voice and the Lord's word had not been revealed to him yet». (1 Kings 3/7). With all these, for Samuel this "lack of knowledge" did not represent an impediment. He believed that God spoke to him and told the vision in detail to the prophet Eli. (See 1 Kings 3/18).

Saul, tenaciously opposing to God, got into great trouble, greatly fearing and terrifying in his heart (see 1 Samuel 28/5). Only then did he decide to ask of the Lord, «but the Lord did not answer him, neither by dreams, nor by Urim, nor by prophets». (1 Samuel 28/6).

The old Joseph receives the angel of the Lord in a vision, who appears to him and asks him to flee into Egypt with Mary and his Son (see Matt. 1/2-25). And again the angel appeared to him in a vision urging him to come back to the land of Israel. (See Matt. 2/19-21). It is easy to assume what would have happened if Joseph doubted that the angels spoke to him in a vision in God's name. Joseph's faith was above any doubt that it could be a deception from the devil.

We see a particular situation, when the visions, which come from God, have persons as a particular destination, which are not prophets and do not even have any contact with holiness. Are these visions less credible?

Joseph interprets two dreams received concomitantly from the chief baker and the chief cupbearer, chief officers of the Pharaoh of Egypt, showing them indirectly, by their interpretation, that they represent messages from God: «Don't interpretations belong to God? Please then, tell me your visions!» (Genesis 40/8).

Pharaoh has a vision that Joseph interprets for him, showing that it is from God: «It isn't in me, but God will give Pharaoh an answer of peace». (Genesis 41/16).

The prophet Daniel, with the exception of his own dreams (see Daniel chapter 7), also interprets two dreams of Nebuchadnezzar (see Daniel chapter 2 and 4) as some genuine prophecies coming from God.

Gideon is urged by the Lord to listen to the dialogue between two soldiers on watch in the camp, by which one tells his vision and the other interprets it for him: «Hearing the telling of the dream, and the interpretation of it, Gideon worshipped the Lord». (Judges 7/15).

Solomon receives God in his dream, from Whom he asks as a gift «an understanding heart to obey and judge the people and to discern between good and evil». (2 Kings 3/9), and God gives him as reward not only heavenly wisdom, but also wealth, glory and long life, as a reward for his humility (2 Kings 3/12-14).

The demon of doubt promotes the devilish deception

Dreams, therefore, are a current modality of communication between God and man. Naturally, one might ask two questions:

1. Which dreams are from God and which are not?
2. Is it violated the free and aware conscience of the man by this modality of communication?

At the first question it has already been answered partially, when it was shown how Abram, Jacob, Samuel and Joseph's faith was far above their doubt, regarding the potential deception from the devil. It might also be added that, speaking about a divine work, God definitely adds the gift of faith to the natural faith of the man and the power not to doubt. Otherwise, the man would never be able to relate correctly to the Truth by his own powers and natural faith. On the contrary, God opens the mind of those who receive the prophecies and increase their gift of faith. Thus, of the prophet Daniel it has been told that, as a result of his earnest prayers, he is welcomed by the angel Gabriel, who spoke to him saying, «I am now coming forth to give you wisdom and understanding». (Daniel 9/22).

The second question is concerned about the formulated arguments by unbelievers for the strengthening of the objections regarding “the violating of the free will of the holy Virginia,” “the synergy of God's will and the man's” and the assumed “good advice that the devil would give.” If we would accept these hypotheses, we will have to accept that all our dreams presented above are selected from the Holy Scripture, are patterns of flagrant violation of the man's free will by God, and, eventually, of demonic deception. Appealing to the man's oneiric state and using it, God lets Himself be accused, consciously, of a dictatorial attitude and of perjury. Within these circumstances, the man seems to be maneuvered like a marionette, which follows to blindly execute some exhortation received in a hypnotic state and which cannot be opposed. At the same time, it would appear that God deliberately chooses this way, when the man is fallen asleep in order to impose His will without reply. Those who take freedom for libertinism, would rhetorically ask themselves: “Where is God's will and man's anymore?” without first asking themselves whether they received their dignity to directly cooperate with God, for «God, resists the proud, but gives grace to the humble». (1 Peter 5/5).

If they are afraid, they can be reassured.

First, God has also got other methods of communication in which the man's free will cannot be doubted. On the contrary, God is inexpressibly cooperative and concessive with the righteous. Abraham, as an example, manages to get from God, by dialogue, a tenacious and consistent decrease in number of the righteous men through which the city of Sodom could have been saved conditionally: from 50 to 45, then to 40, then to 30, then to 20 and finally to 10. However, unfortunately, there could not be found ten righteous man at least, through which the city of Sodom could be saved. (See Genesis 18/23-33).

Then, God proposes not imposes. Those who received the dreams could very well believe in them or not. The same it is as far as it concerns the communications received by the people through the holy Virginia: no one imposes by force that they might be believed. However, if we still pretend that the holy Scripture is from God and if, reading it we find that God communicates to man through his state of sleep as well, not only through his watchful state, we will have to admit that the arguments of the kind: “The sleep in which Virginia used to fall infringes the man's free will,” are infantile, tendentious and in the end, false.

The denigrators of the holy Virginia have especially attacked her state of active lack of participation to the Lord's communication, calling it "possession" and affirming that it is unnatural for God to put to sleep the prophet's conscience – being it even temporarily. The demon of doubt does not hesitate to accuse the holy Virginia that she promotes, even indirectly, "the devilish deception."

However, the Holy Scripture records completely similar examples. The holy prophet Ezekiel affirms about himself, that being fallen face down and hearing a voice (from someone unknown!), a spirit entered him (Ezekiel 2/2; 3/24), which made him stand up and warned him to listen and not to be willful. Then, the spirit obliged him to eat a sheet of paper (see Ezekiel 3/3), lifted him up (see Ezekiel 3/12), took him and brought him to Tel-Aviv (see Ezekiel 3/14), where he remained seven days in ecstasy. And was this a "possessing" from that spirit?

Philip is carried in his body by the Spirit of the Lord and moved from the face of the Ethiopian eunuch to Azotus (see Acts 8/39-40). Is there any other "possessing?" Was Philip asked to give his consent for this "move?"

Also the Holy Scripture shows us that various alterations of the senses and, especially, the lost of self-consciousness are natural physiological states, which appear and accompany surreal external events, such as the physical approach to God, the sight of His brightness or the mere hearing of His voice.

The prophet Daniel testifies (see Daniel 10/8) how a divine vision makes him lose power. Also, Daniel, recounting a vision with an angel, describes his powerful emotion, which accompanies his own feelings this way: «And now as he was speaking with me, I fell into a deep sleep with my face toward the ground». (Daniel 8/18, Bible, 1998 Edition);

«And as he was speaking with me, I was lying appalled with my face toward the ground». (Daniel 8/18, Bible, 1944 Edition);

«And as he was speaking with me, I fell in lethargy, with my face toward the ground». (Daniel, 8/18, T.O.B. Bible, LE CERF Edition, 1992);

«And as he was speaking with me, I was in a deep sleep, on my face toward the ground». (Daniel, 8/18, Holy Bible, 1901 Edition);

«And as he was speaking with me, I was lying amazed on my face toward the ground». (Daniel 8/18, Biblia, IL CERCHIO, Edition, 1990).

All the versions above, although present substantial differences of nuances, suggest that the prophet was entering an unusual detachment, which passes, in translator's interpretation, from the minor register (amazement) to the total availability (deep sleep, lethargy). The prophet straightly becomes a simple "vessel," which offers to be filled with spiritual food, which will be given to the people afterwards. Then can his state of passive participation be imputed, with tendentious terms, as "the free will violation" or, simply as "possessing?" Eventually, the real prophets were expressing their free will through a total anticipated availability, the expression of their dedication and love for God. This unique gesture became the expression of the perennial acceptance, even definitive, to be obedient servants to God completely. To ask them more means to boldly propose their interference with the word of God and, as a consequence, its alteration. This alternative is, however, totally unacceptable, for the prophet, which could afford something like this, would automatically be fallen from rights in the category of the false prophets. Then what kind of "free will" can we speak about when it comes to announce a prophecy to the people? Both it and the above mentioned "synergy of the will" remains simple juxtapositions of words, which express cheap rhetoric, speculative and high-sounding, of those who have the courage to wage war with God Himself.

The responsibility of message receiving by the prophets is so great that sometimes it leaves deep traces in the nature state of the receiver's equilibrium: «And I, Daniel, fainted and was sick certain days». (Daniel 8/27). These weaknesses are, therefore, inner, intrinsic to the human nature. They do not come from outside but are made up like a reflexive form of defense against the deep impression, produced by the greatness of the divine Person Who brings the message. On the contrary, just this person is the One Who strengthens and rehabilitates psychically and physically the affected one. God works upon His prophets wiping out their weaknesses and meeting powerfully their bodily failures.

As an example, a typical case of aphasia met with Daniel («And while he was speaking with me according to these words, I set my face toward the ground, and was mute».), is healed immediately by the angel: «Behold, one in the likeness of the Sons of Men touched my lips: then I opened my mouth, and spoke and said to Him [...] Then there He touched me again [...] and He strengthened me». (Daniel 10/15-19).

The prophet Isaiah thinks that he is lost because he saw with his own eyes the Lord Sabaoth, but he receives the cleansing of his sins in the temple and is strengthened by one of the seraphim, which touched his lips with a live coal taken with the tongs from off the altar. (See Isaiah 6/7)

The priest Zachariah remains mute as a direct consequence of his own weaknesses: fear (See Luke 1/12) and his lack of faith (See Luke 1/18). However, he continues to prophesy by making signs (See Luke 1/22), and only after he writes the name of his son, John, on the tablet, «his mouth was opened immediately, and his tongue freed, and he spoke blessing God». (Luke 1/63). The Holy Scripture shows through the words: «They all marveled». (Luke 1/63) and «fear came on all who lived around them», (Luke 1/65), because the particular state of losing Zachariah's psychic integrity (aphasia, healed afterwards from outside by the Lord's will) was constituted itself in a heavenly message of warning, which illustrates not only God's power and the punishment that He allows in case of unbelief, but especially the fragility of the "vessel" chosen by God, that is of the prophecies through which God communicates His will. It is not through priestly dignity of the recipient that the messages sent are legitimized by God and nor through the prophet's eloquence of speech, who announces God's word to the people, but by God's power itself, which is made obvious over against His prophet vessel's weaknesses and awkwardness. In this case, the dumbing and the prolonged silence inflicted on the priest Zachariah, as a natural consequence of his own doubts, is more convincing than any other shouting for joy or amazement.

Moses, who was slow of speech, was speaking to the people through the mouth of his brother, Aaron, as the Lord decided: «He will be your spokesman to the people; and it will happen, that he will be to you a mouth, and you will be to him as God». (Exodus 4/16)

The prophet Jeremiah, still a young man, was trying to flee from the prophecy calling: «Oh, Lord, God, I do not know to speak; for I am a child». (Jeremiah 1/6). However, the Lord strengthens him giving him the gift of prophecy: «I am with you to deliver you, says the Lord. [...] And the Lord put forth His hand and touched my mouth and He said to me: "Behold, I have put My words in your mouth». (Jeremiah 1/8-9)

About what kind of "conscious participation" can one speak any longer, even being awake, when the prophet is given his food from heaven into his mouth, the word of the Lord? He only needs to receive it and to share it, fresh and hot, to the people.

As in the dream state, the personal contribution of the prophet found awake (leaving aside his anticipated dedication, total and without reserve of soul doubt) is irrelevant.

Has the devil ever given any good advice?

There was brought here as an argument, in the event of admission (as a possible hypothesis) of possessing by the devil of those who are not awake, that the devil could "give good advice, apparently, until he has made the man to trust him." Then, to illustrate the deceiving character of this circumstance behavior, one has spoken of a story from Patericon, which sustains this thesis.

Let us notice, therefore, that if we accept this paradigm, then the dissimulation from the devil's behavior will obligatorily be a temporary maneuver. Eventually, to reap the fruit of his labor, the devil "will show his true colors." Sooner or later, he will exploit visibly and ruthlessly the fruit of his deception. For example, the devil of the pride breaks out heinously against those seven sons of the chief priest Sceva, who were wandering about the world and who were trying without being sent to take out demons in the name of the Lord: «And the man in whom the evil spirit was leaped on them, and overpowered them, and prevailed against them, so that they fled out of that house naked and wounded». (Acts 19/13-16).

If it was otherwise, that is, if the devil confined himself to giving good advice continually, then he would be turned unwillingly into the most long-lasting and relentless apostle of Christ. However, this thing is unacceptable: «If satan casts out satan, he is divided against himself; how then will his kingdom stand?» (Matt. 12/26). However, in case of the prophecy from Pucioasa, (in those fifty years of incessant preaching of God's word – 1955-2005 – through which there had been promoted the fruit of repentance and humility, self-denial, the holy Mysteries, the spirit of church, the honoring of the Lord's Mother, the honoring of the saints, of the holy cross and of the holy icons, the respect of priesthood, the love of God and of one's neighbor, the kingdom of the heavens and the second coming of Christ), it does not even appear the least reverberant accent, not even an inflexion in the immovable line on which the work of tenacious preaching of the fundamental Christian truths goes, in their genuine version, by the authentic Christian living of those who fulfill the word of God: «You will know them after their fruit». (Matt. 7/16).

Shall we wait for some more years? The detractor claim that it is not needed, affirming without any evidence that the devil's deception is as obvious as possible. With what kind of covetous eyes did they see this thing? Here it is rather revealed the weakness of those who feel abandoned by God because of their sins. They do not admit that the Spirit of God blows wherever He wants, choosing clean and decorated temples, holy people in whom He may dwell. For them a saying goes like this: “If the grapes are beyond fox's reach she says that they are sour.”

How long shall we wait, therefore, until the presupposed deception of the devil will expose its fruit concretely, so that we may finally agree with those who slander today the word of God and holy Virginia for free?

The prophets will receive the reward of a prophet

Certainly, the prophets of all time have been always misunderstood, marginalized, persecuted but they have remained, at the same time, unstoppable, for they have not been working alone, but the Holy Spirit has been working upon them and through them instead: «The word of the Lord became a reproach to me, and a derision, all the day [...], but behold, there is in my heart as it were a burning fire shut up in my bones, and I am weary with forbearing and I can't contain». (Jeremiah 20/9);

“Behold, My vessel (the holy prophet Virginia – r.n.) will travel to the doctor today. Now she will get up and will bitterly weep from the pain she has been suffering because of the beatings she received in the train. She was fisted in her head, slapped in her mouth, struck in her lungs, her ribs are almost broken, for she was dragged on the ground and they put her in an emergency room, and now they are taking her to the doctors. But she will be fortunated because she will have a great reward into My kingdom, for she will be among My prophets.” (Excerpt from the Word of God, from 21.04.1958. – O.S. / 04.05.1958. – N.S.).

But the prophets will receive the reward of a prophet: «He who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet will receive a prophet's reward: and he who receives a righteous man in the name of a righteous man will receive a righteous man's reward». (Matt. 10:41)

Of the examples given before, it appears abundantly that God allows that His chosen, the prophets, to pass through special circumstances, super natural or even unnatural, if any case, to transform them from fragile vessels into enduring vessels, invulnerable, capable of fulfilling exactly and fully the mission of the preaching of the word of God.

As far as holy Virginia regards, taking into consideration the historical and political circumstances in which she had dedicated herself to the Lord as a prophetic vessel, it was necessary that a distinction might be made between the spirit of the man and the Spirit of God. Even so, many doubtful people were departing shaking their heads. If the prophecies delivered through the holy Virginia were made wakefully, God's vessel would be broken into pieces in a revolutionary anger. But in this way, curiosity, mistrust and mystery had appeased the executioners, who chose the way of experiment. Here they had excelled in malefic ingenuity getting holy Virginia under painful and humiliating tests; but God strengthened her vessel during these trials even by its detachment in the extrasensory. It was the unique solution to keep holy Virginia alive then and there where the devilish imagination of the communist security executioners was evolving freely, unleashed.

Therefore, the uniqueness of the solution imposed an unusual way to reach her: the vessel chosen for prophecy was completely taken out of the world morass, so that it might shine like sun afterwards. Although, "a vessel of honor," chosen from the belly of her mother, it gave the total honor to the "Potter," keeping nothing to itself. However, nothing prevents us from appreciating her sacrifice and the fruit of her prophetic work. Moreover, we should honor her without reserve, as we do with other prophets mentioned in the above argumentation.

The truth, mathematically demonstrated

1. Whenever the Lord had prophesied through holy Virginia, she had her sensory capacity protected by heavenly providence receiving a deep sleep, resembling the one Adam received when God made Eve out of him. As a human being, holy Virginia was detached in a sensory manner from the material world. That is why:

It was not the man that spoke through holy Virginia!

2. The devil could not lay hold of the fruit of holy Virginia's prophecy speaking, because this speaking was carrying in itself the divinity attributes:

a. The heavenly teaching (deep, consistent, coherent and canonical): «The Kingdom of Heaven is like a man who sowed good seed in his field». (Matt. 13/24);

"My loved little children, I share with you words from the Holy Spirit with holy love, and teachings for the use of the salvation of your souls." (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

b. The paternal love (gentle, warm, full of the longing for the man's salvation): «I am the good Shepherd. The good Shepherd lays down his life for the sheep». (John 10/11);

"The Lord has loved you exceedingly, for it has never been such a love as His for His little ones." (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

c. The prophetic spirit (inspiring, transcendental, and eschatological): «Watch therefore, for you don't know the day nor the hour in which the Son of Man is coming». (Matt. 25/13);

"Turn to the Lord's will and to holiness, so that He may clothe you with power from above and so that He may fulfill His plan with you." (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

d. The surreal economy (precise, wise and well balanced): «Who then is the faithful and wise steward, whom his lord will set him over his household, to give them their portion of food at the right times? Blessed is that servant whom his lord will find doing so when he comes». (Luke 12/42-43);

"Let no one of you seek his own, but each one his neighbor's good, so that you may have a share in your labor." (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

e. The angelic wisdom (cautious, sweet, diaphane): «Take heed: beware of the yeast of the Pharisees». (Mark 8/15);

“And as for you, good child, who are careful and have fear before the Lord, why do you not help your brother who is careless?” (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

f. The sacrificial consecration (altruistic, universal): «For the bread of God is that which comes down of heaven, and gives life to the many». (John 6/33);

“All that you do, do it as for the Lord, not as for the people, for you will receive your reward from the Lord.” (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

g. The timeless novelty (original, constructive): «I did not come to destroy the law or the prophets. I did not come to destroy, but to fulfill». (Matt. 5/17);

“Life is short on earth. Do not lose the other one, eternal, for this one. You alone can prepare your place in heaven, as beautiful you want it to be for you.” (Excerpt from the Testament of Holy Virginia, from 19.05.1980. – O.S. / 01.06.1980. – N.S.).

If by absurd, we had assumed that the devil had been feeding the Christianity for fifty years with so many heavenly teachings his kingdom would have been falling apart for a long time. That is why:

Through holy Virginia the devil did not spoke!

3. However, only the holy man and God have been taking advantage of the holy Virginia's prophecies. The clean man has received a new confirmation of God's existence and of His unspeakable love that He has towards His creation. God has called by the word, has received and then He has sealed a new people with the gift of the faith, of faithful sons, that He has called the New Israel. By this, He has built His bride-Church, the New Jerusalem, which has been assiduously preparing herself through obedience and holy cleanness, to meet in glory the King Christ, at His second coming on earth: “And He will come again in glory to judge the living and the dead, and His Kingdom will not come to an end.” (Fragment of the Christians creed). That is why:

It was God Who spoke through holy Virginia!

The word of God, therefore, belongs to God, and is from God, and is God, and God is the Word: «I am the Alpha and the Omega, the beginning and the end, the One Who was and Who is and Who is to come». (Revelation 1/8).

«O Come, Lord Jesus!» (Revelation 22/20).

BEFORE THE WORD

(Preface of the book edited in 1995)

The tradition of the Orthodox faith and its saving and soul reassuring works are too beautiful that this may not be lived, that it may not be tasted fully to the comforting of the poor soul of the man of this age and to the saving work in Christ. And God's calling is too beautiful, too heavenly and too high, descending on the Romanian land by His word, which had been coming down from heaven for forty years (1955-1995) in such a wonderful way, more beautiful than anytime, for in the history of the Romanian people, the descending of the word of God from heaven has already been written starting with the year of 1955 and until today. The word of God, and not the word about God.

There was and is in Romania a people taken out of it, which God spoke and speaks from heaven with. We have not discovered an untruth or some delusions or some speculations of the history of this time in which we live, but we are witnesses of the Truth descending from heaven and which is called: The Word of God in Romania.

We are not theologians and we do not speak out of the knowledge of speculative theology and of its philosophic and modern terms. We speak though being helped by the words of the heavenly theology and behold, we give to the people. We are determined to understand that theology means the word of God through the two parts of the word: Theos and Logos; it means the word spoken by God in any time. We are also determined to understand that God has spoken, as in any times, in our time as well. God has the time under His control and has been speaking all the time and He has been speaking from heaven all the time. If the Son of God, Who is the Word of God, came down and became flesh two thousand years ago and if Luke, the evangelist, wrote the history of the Word, Jesus Christ, to the almighty Theophilus, we give today the Word of God of this time to the people.

At the beginning, the people of God was taken out of the Egypt's slavery and for forty years it had been carried through the wilderness to the Canaan country. At the end it was the same. There is a people chosen out of Romania, a people lead by the light and by the pillar of the Word of God, a people that turns forty years on the Sunday of the resurrection this year. In the first chapter of the book, "Holy Virginia, God's Trumpet," one can take over from the beginning the good sense of the word of God and its course up to this day. The word of God, a great deal of it, could have been written by the sons of this people. In the first years after 1955, the word was more difficult to select. There have been periods of persecution of the communist dictatorship and the word was being written more difficultly and it was very hard to be preserved. The officials had been following the Lord's people and they had been looking everywhere confiscating the written word. However, after God has slapped the persecutors from the village of God's word (the village Maluri), it could be then written and kept more word and then the majority of the pages were gathered at one place and this history exists, and thousands of pages exist.

We were meant by God to be part of His people, of His work. Now we are taken back to the work of the renewal, in the name of the Word. Perhaps this was just our calling and mission: bringing the word of God into the light. We have taken of the word selected in the time of the holy Virginia (1955-1980). We have also taken of the word coming down from heaven when God worked likewise through Virginia's sister (1980-1994). The word, chosen and selected by Christians, has their simplicity in it and it is beautiful in articulation, simple and beautiful, for God spoke according to level of their understanding. And then we took excerpts and very many entire messages of the word of God in the period of 1990-1995. We took these from the New Jerusalem Monastery from Pucioasa, where the word is descending above the holy settlement and where the watchful people write the word before God's voice.

At the last descending of the word through the holy Virginia, on 3rd September 1989, God was speaking this way: "Sons, the time will come, and it is coming, when I will always stay before you with holy words." This kind of witnesses of heavenly voice, of God's voice, of the saints' voice, are many in the tradition of our Orthodox faith, but the word of God of this time means a greater testimony than in any time by now. God brings the punishment and the judgment of the sin through the word, the announcement and the preparation of the earth for His coming back, the receiving of the word of life and the recovering of the man to a life of Eden.

I have spoken with very many Christians who are embraced by this heavenly spring on earth. I have gathered the testimonies of some of them. It could be done more, because all wanted to testify about the word of God and of God's trumpet, holy Virginia. However, the feast of forty years (The Passover, 1995) is coming close and we have to give this book to the Romanian people. The word has come down and says to bring this book out.

Many words taken from the political security of the time are found today in circulation under another identity. Why would you not do it when you have the material? Behold, we do the same, but we speak to the people from the root of the prophetic spring of the New Jerusalem in Romania. We have found the tree from which these fruits are taken.

We consider that it is necessary to testify that the Father is speaking, that the Son is speaking through the Holy Spirit. The Lord, Jesus Christ makes way to the word of His Most honored Mother, Mother of God, together with His word; it makes way to the word of the Holy Virginia together with His word; it makes way to the word of the saints together with His word. The Word of God, the most recently sent is already read in the middle of the multitudes, which surround the witnessing people of the word.

For this book we have taken of the Lord's messages to the priests and bishops who believe in the descending of the word, not specifying any other name, so that I may not bring the danger of defrocking on them. We took of the messages to the cultivated people, to the people of the time from different areas, as the word of God has sent. There are enclosed in the book messages and excerpts from the word of God to our king, Michael I of Romania, who founded with his name the monastic settlement from Pucioasa. There are messages and excerpts from God's word to the witnessing bishop and founder with his name of the holy settlement from Pucioasa. The people and especially the Romanians, will decide themselves what this word is; they will decide if there is God or not through the word descending from heaven; they will decide to believe or not into the word of God given by us to the Romanian people that has been carrying, written in it, this wonderful leaf of heavenly history on earth for forty years.

We will be on duty if necessary and will work as much as we can, to the request of those who want to understand the perplexities that would be. We say so because there are three years since the media people have been written unknowingly about this heavenly message of the time and about the place of the garden of the word. The Lord's people and the little ones from Pucioasa do nothing but listen and work everything the word of God brings, which renews everything and makes everything clean. Few of the people of the press have taken of the true things, and many of them have used even the lie, even the wickedness, even the envy, but even so it has been not that bad; but on the contrary, the people have been helped to ask themselves: "What is there, at Pucioasa?", and the truth has been better emphasized. Preaching a truth out of an envy spirit, does nothing but emphasizing it by two lines and bold letters, for the truth fights for itself.

We also thank both those with a clean heart and those who are irritated, who wrote about God's word and about its place of descending and even about us, the word bearers of this heavenly message. These had been advertising and we thank them, for the people finally understood that some have thwarted the kindness of the Romanian Orthodox Church Synod and, by working on the sides, we had been left aside. All these were to the liking of the bishop from Târgoviște, (Vasile Costin), who had put to work all his opposition through the people of the press who had the task of denigrating the bishop Irineu of Bistrița, the one who was given from God to know the work of the word ahead of time and to consciously study it, as a theologian, then to believe it and then to fulfill it as it was coming from heaven for the fulfillment. The priests of the eparchy of Târgoviște, and especially those who are in the neighborhood of the New Jerusalem Monastery, have been working out various lying testimonies, as though they have been gathered from the world, but the world had no knowledge of this truth, for the truth had been kept hidden by God. Those who had been fighting to put a veil on this heavenly fountain may also be fighting from now on, but this book will stand face to face with them.

We dare not comment upon this word. We are afraid. The Word of God does not need commentaries. And because the word of the time of nowadays has been marked on earth by the erection of the Holy of Holies of the Romanian Church (the New Jerusalem Monastery), as it was prophesied from heaven on June 17, 1977: "The time is coming to build houses of worship," and because it is so hard to understand this truth about this place of the garden of the word, we add up the bishop's word from the service of the consecration of this foundation stone of God's chosen place and a part of the bishop's sermon from the consecration of the holy place:

Reporter: — "Father Irineu, we all are under the impression of this mystery, which represents the consecration of this place. I have followed the service, which you held here, and some of those who are here, have been chained for a long time under this mystery. Would you confess to us now, (as everything it happens here is a testimony), why this place? What happened and what is actually happening in this place? What are the mysteries of this place, known for the time being, and of the people who are living in it?"

His Eminence Irineu: — "Yes. God has always worked miraculously when He had been preparing great mysteries for His people. This is a place behind which a great mystery has been hidden, now by few and partially understood, but when the time of the great accomplishments will come, then all will understand the mystery and they will hardly believe how God reveals Himself within so much simplicity and humility. This is the place where this day we have put the foundation stone for a temple: God's temple, the temple in which God will reveal His glory and majesty to the tangible and visible, a temple in which He will come down with the whole heaven."

— "How was this place chosen? Because, apparently, only apparently I say, it is, let's say, a common place. Its mysteries and virtues are totally different, and they, as you probably say, will be shown even more, and today they have already appeared, when this stone of foundation could be laid down."

— "Listening to such a question of yours, I think of the citadel of Nazareth, about which its inhabitants of those times, when Christ appeared in Nazareth, were saying: «Can something good come out of Nazareth?» God has here a spring of living water. Perhaps it is just that river from the book of the Revelation, which flows from the throne of the Holy Trinity, the river of life, which now few drink of, and we believe that in a near future many will drink of it. And because here it is the source of the divine spring, it does not matter how simple and unknown this geographic space is. Here God wants to reveal His glory as sometime He did in that common and disregarded Nazareth."

— "I would like you to explain another miraculous thing. I know that the people who live in these places hear the Lord's voice. And you know it, too. How did this thing happen and how does it happen? For it seems that this miracle is happening continually."

— "This thing took place even in the epoch of the old covenant, when the time of grace did not come yet and when God had prepared the coming of His Son into the world through His chosen ones and spoke through their mouth. The word was put into their mouth, in fact the word of God. From the time when the Holy Spirit came down on the hill of Zion, after the Son of God, incarnated and crucified, was resurrected from the dead and ascended to the Father, He sent Him from heaven then; God has been working even more wonderfully through the Holy Spirit. Christ said: «It is to your advantage that I go away, for if I don't go away, the Counselor won't come to you». (John 16/7) Christ was seated on the right hand of God and He sent the Holy Spirit into the history and since then He has been speaking and working wonderfully through the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the One Who brings the word into the mouth of some chosen people. And from the book of the saint apostle Paul, addressed to the Corinthians, we know that some of the baptized Christians receive certain charismata, other receive others, other charismata or special gifts and among these charismata one is that of foreseeing, one is that of prophecy, about one can speak in this place. The Holy Spirit is the One Who blows where He wants to, and when He blows, the words, which the chosen vessel speaks, are wonderful and are not from him; they are put into his mouth by God.

— "And what was prophesied in this place?"

— "In this place the Spirit prophesied that the history is coming near to that moment of reaping, that Christ's saving workmanship has to come to its fullness, that the times have to be crowned. And this crowning of all times will start in Romania, which God, here, through a chosen vessel and within the frame of this miraculous spring, calls it the blessed one, the chosen one, a land of great spiritual promises, a land of brightness, on which God wants to establish the diadem of his glory. And in the time when God puts this glorious halo on the head of Romania, from Romania there will go out the blessings of the crowing of the times over the whole world. Then Romania will be the land of the regeneration of the world; then out of Romania, according to the word of the Lord spoken here, out of Romania a new song will come out, a song of peace and a hymn of eternal glory over the nations of the Terra."

— “It is wonderful what you say if the things will come true so quickly, because I have understood that the term which God gave to the building of this dwelling is very short, only three months.”

— “Yes, the time has come near indeed, and when God works in history, and He does it miraculously, as in the present case, then the laws of the time and space are suspended, and what it can be done in one day, it cannot be done by normal people in ten years or in a century. We believe that the time has come near; we do not establish prognoses because it is not for us to know this, but of what is being said, of what we feel, we believe that the time is very near, that the fullness of time is at the door, and we are glad because we live the times which our ancestors and forefathers had wanted to live in; we live the times in which what they had sown and prepared by sufferance, by tears and sweating, we can taste. According to the word of the Scripture, they had labored and we enter into their crop field.

— “So, we can only believe in the power of miracles, because, definitely, they will have the power to replace faith with faith, history with history and true life with true life.”

— “Yes, indeed, when those times of glory and fullness will be installed on the Romanian lands, all the structures of our society will be remade. Then culture, art, science, literature and everything useful to a peaceful and prosperous living will have the true brightness, because the dross of sin will be put aside from this crust, which covers the true face of Romanian reality and spirituality, and everything will shine and everything will be revealed within the primordial beauty, as it was in the Edenic paradise when the man did not know what sin was and when both fauna and flora, and also the primordial pair was in a clean state. Then everything revealed divine splendors; and God spoke through everything; both through little birds and flowers as well as through the people; and we believe that this will be the face of the New Jerusalem, inaugurated on the Romanian land: a restoration of the Edenic paradise.”

— “We thank you, father Irineu, we thank you because through everything you do, you strengthen this thought that God has not turned His face away from us, but on the contrary, He is permanently with us within our thoughts and works.

I would like to ask you to introduce those people near you, who are only a part of the people of this place.”

— “The two on the right and the brother on my left are apostles and servants of Christ, who belong to this temple and who are chosen and anointed by God providentially and exceptionally, beyond natural laws. The others are all good Christians, who have been in touch with his holy work and who, we could say that, are the spiritual stones of the New Jerusalem.”

July 22, 1991

... If we want to take the human logic into consideration or to judge according to the rational criteria or even according to some canonical stipulations, we can argue and find a stumbling block. However, within the faith area there are always things, which go beyond us, and the revelation did not close once with the closing of the cycle of evangelical writings (The bible was written during 98-101: The Gospel of John and the Revelation). The revelation has remained open. In the moment the Holy Spirit came down on the hill of Zion, in the chambers upstairs, on Whitsuntide, the heavens have remained loose, open, and they have never been closed. As long as the historical time has not come to a stop of its circuit, the Holy Spirit has been working in history and overflows with effluvia of grace; it depends on the human receptivity to receive the richness of glory and of uncreated energy from heavens. Thus we can always, always expect to have surprises; formidable and admirable surprises, because Christ said: «It is to your advantage to go, for if I don't go, the Spirit will not come to you, and if I go to the Father, I will send you another Comforter, Who will be with you forever». (John 16/7, 8)

If the world was created by God, it was also redeemed by the Son of God; it is taken to perfection to the apex of holiness by the Holy Spirit. So, the third person of the Holy Trinity is at work now into the world: the Holy Spirit. Alternatively, the Holy Spirit can bring revelations and some surprises, which we do not expect. Therefore, we do not have any reason to say: I stumble and I do it. One good day we will see an outbreak of divine energies, miracles and charismata on this land that we may be able to say that we are no longer on earth; that the earth became a universal Tabor or cosmic Pentecost or Whitsuntide, and this is the final state of humankind. Thus if we believe that God chose Romania to be the land of brightness and “My queen,” “My bride,” as He is calling her into the work, then He will totally reveal Himself and in a completely mysterious way, and many things of the past will be suspended and unspeakable surprises will unwind before our very eyes, for we are engaged now in a triumphant march to the final sate of history, when Christ’s workmanship has to be crowned and the history ripe. That is, everything Christ gave to the world through His incarnation, through His death, through His bloody passions, through Joseph of Arimathea’s grave, given to Him for three days, through the Mount of Olives, from where He ascended to the Father or through the event on Zion, which was the climax, when the Holy Spirit came down upon the humanity to make of it the entry of eternity, all these were given to the world, but many were given in power, virtually. And because of the sins, because of the onset, in which the agents of the hell and the powers of the darkness are tirelessly engaged, and because the biological lusts, which swarm within human being and within the life of the world, Christ’s workmanship cannot show its flower; it is bleared, it is blocked because of so many things. But one good day, here on earth, (not only into the kingdom of the heavens, beyond the clouds), all these have to come into being, and the world to rejoice and to wait for Christ with acclamations and ovations, as at the entrance into Jerusalem, as the Lord, Savior, Sovereign, and as the Almighty King of the Universe, and we believe that these times have come very near, and if they have come near, it is natural for surprises to take place. Then the nations of the world, which will have not known Christ yet (and unfortunately there are very many people who do not know Christ), will be converted (and also Hebrews, Hindus and Muslims), and they will accept Christ, because Christ, even if they do not accept Him, is Lord and Savior of the whole humanity and of the entire universe and cosmos. However, they, unfortunately, due to their refusal to respond to the call of the incarnated Love on Terra in the second person of the Holy Trinity descended in Bethlehem, are not partakers to the fruit of the redeeming workmanship, but the blood of Christ was shed for them as well. They do not want to benefit from this, but one good day they will say: “Yes,” and they will say: “Yes” on earth, not beyond the barriers of the grave. And then, the churches will come together because Christ does not like that His church, symbolized two thousand years by His shirt for which they cast lots on the hill of Golgotha, that it may be torn. And then they will come together and there will be one flock and one Shepherd, and all the nations of the world, converted; and only then the great glory will break out and it will be on earth and this epoch has to be prepared. And within the context of this great preparation for the superb crowning of the ages, it is natural for Him to choose places as He chose them for His first coming, to mark certain points on earth, where to work intensively and in a completely supernatural way. Therefore, and we say this with humility, why there should it not be in Romania with as, as well. However, if within bygone ages, the old monks from Athos spoke about Romania that it is “The Garden of the Lord’s Mother” and then many others along the passing years, and here, in an exceptionally special way with an aura of paschal or Pentecostal brightness is happening now, we believe that this Romania is marked out. And if we were to analyze well the historical course, let us say two times millennially of this people, we would see that it is a people of exception; it is a people of a rare nobility, even if now, after fifty years of atheist and communist oppression, we have been perverted and behaved like gypsy people. But in our nature, in our being, we have some unique qualities, we are a chosen people, a blessed people and with divine valences and virtues, angelic, but they could not be released due to the hardships we have been passing through and because of the floods of migrations, persecutions and injustices. However, this people, if we study its history, has never oppressed anyone and it has never waged any invading wars; it has always been defending, poor of it, and it has been pulling its chariot of history to the end of the second millennium; behold, we cross the threshold of the third one and, as the poet said: “I defend my poverty, my want and my people;” and so much blood and so many tears, and so much sweating which have been flowing from the body of Romania, born and not made Christian, as the Lord said in this paper, that “This people is Orthodox from its birth,” and that “The Church is as old as the Son,” (he is speaking about the Son of God as the Man, as the Nazarene, as the Man of the Nazareth of Galilee); so, it was born once with His Son, the only One born. What a beauty! Can the Serbians, Croatians, Bulgarians, Czechs, Russians, Hungarians say this? They all received the Christianity around the years of 800, 900, 1000, from the Christian missionaries, who came on to these East-European lands, while our people was born a Christian. The Saint Andrew preached the Gospel on our lands and then the Greek merchants, the disciples of the Saint apostle Paul, who preached the Gospel in the Balkan Peninsula, came and completed what Andrew sown, the fisherman from the Bethsaida of Galilee, the first called to be apostle; and then the Roman colonists came, when Trajan conquered Dacia and turned it into a Roman province. Then very many colonists, for the colonization of this Dacia, brought others, who were Christians, and in this it was accomplished, and we may say that from the very beginning we had had a strong and exceptional Christianity, and further, through the third and fourth centuries, when the edict of freedom was issued by Constantine the Great for the universal Christianity, and when it took place the Council of Nicaea in Asia Minor in the year of 325, among the 318 bishops, participants in the Synod, where the Creed was formulated and the symbol of faith was signed (I believe in One God...), the bishop Theophilus of Dacia took part as well. Who else can be proud of something like that? So, no matter how humble we may be, but still with a more profound humility, have to declare out loud that this nation is an exceptional people. And because we have never been sharing happiness, but only tears and pains, God will prepare us for these times and He will give us now, as the apostle of the Gentiles says: «I cannot equate the pains of this age with the joys God has prepared for those who love Him». (1 Cor. 2/9)

Therefore, I believe that surprises are waiting for us and it seems that they are at the door; we can already use the term: “The time will come and it has already come,” and we have to be prepared for it. If we do not work for the fulfilling of God’s plan with the world and with the history of this blessed nation, at least we should not hold it back through our sins. But God wants us to be His fellow workers, as He says in the paper: “You are My hands and My feet, you are My mouth,” for God has been using us, the weak ones, but we are His tools, because Christ, from the moment of His ascension, does no longer walk visibly in His body on our realms, as He used to walk on the streets of Jerusalem or on the shores of Tiberias or through the crop fields of Galilee. He is beyond this world. He is within a fully pneumatized plan (I express myself theologically in order to be correct), or transparent, spiritualized, because His body is a body, but it is a body which can pass through locked doors, as He passed through in the day of His Resurrection, for He is working as efficiently now as He did then; He is as contemporaneous with us now as He was with His disciples and with the people chosen in the time of His living in His body on earth. But it is even more, for then He was in the flesh and He comforted and cuddled them and answered to their needs, but now, being ascended to the Father and within a fully spiritualized plan, His body is full of the Holy Spirit and the Holy Spirit was sent over the creation, over the history in His body and now, Christ can make Himself known to us in our inner being, that is Christ can now enter into us through the Holy Spirit, in such a way that we do no longer know where we are and where the Holy Spirit is, as in the case of the miraculous work which is happening here, or of the chosen vessels, when God has been speaking over the ages here and there. And then, was the apostle Paul said: «It is no longer I that live, but Christ living in me», or the Spirit cries out from you: «Abba!» that is «Father!». Who is the one who calls the Father, Abba? Christ! Therefore, Christ is in you through His Holy Spirit. The Spirit in you, Christ, cries: «Abba! Father!». So, it is not you anymore. You can have Christ’s nature.

Therefore, we, in our Orthodox theology, speak about man’s deification, that is the man can become god through grace. Now we are weak but here the time is coming near. These will be the heavenly bodies because Christ is the Man at the end of the history. Christ did not come into the world only to make a spectacle of Himself, to show what He can do. He took upon Himself all man's fallen condition and human nature with its weaknesses, with its pains, and with its bitterness, and brought it to a maximum of perfection and He said: "Here is where you are to come, man; you have all the opportunity; if you believe in Me, you will do greater things than I did."

This is the way, this is the trajectory, and that is why the risen Christ is called the first fruit or the beginning of the resurrection of those who are asleep. This is the way of the man. Christ did everything the man, who wants to live in Christ, will be able to do. He, who does not, expels himself from the kingdom. And in the end we all will have transparent bodies, all will be able to pass through locked doors and walls and we will still be humans; we will not lose our identity of beings of God's images, with beauty and wisdom and a holy feeling, but we will spiritualize the matter in us. This is the way. It is a natural way. It seems difficult for us now, because we judge as humans and as earthly beings, but this is the man's destiny: eternal citizenship, transparency, a beauty of disthene, pneumatization and spiritual thinness. Therefore, let us not wonder if we see here some work in which one speaks of totally unusual things. They are not out of the common; they are in the line of the Holy Scripture and in the line of the holy Fathers, but the man, thickened by matter, the man, who instead of spiritualizing the matter within him and becoming transparent, as some saints did, who were walking in the air and who knew the thoughts of the people, who were healing (saints: and in the past century, the saint Seraphim of Sarov), the man can reach to a point where he can spiritualize even his own spirit. This is the devilish materialism, which the modern epoch and secularism are experimenting; as the saint Andrew of Crete, was saying: "I have completely turned my mind into dust." The mind is the expression of the Spirit, but rather than having your matter spiritualized in you through your spirit and this flesh inclined to evil, you reached exactly to the reverse process, to materialize and to turn your soul into dust and then you swell and do no longer feel it. And if so many people are dust today, it is natural that they turn you into dust and smoke and they laugh when you tell them mysterious things, fine things, high, things of surreal destiny of humankind, things that belong to our heavenly citizenship – for we all have it – and which belong to our status of candidates for immortality; they laugh because they like it, they cannot understand or you embarrass them, and you do not let them live their life to its fullness as they feel it, at the epidermal pleasure level and of worldly passions, and you embarrass them, and they say: "But do you want me to become a saint? What do you want with me?" And many times even the clerics of the church, priests or hierarchs say so, and this is a level of the degraded world, of the wild world from the end of the second millennium.

Therefore, let us enjoy for it is not for us to lose, we, who believe the work. We have only to win. This work does not hinder us at all and it does not avoid us from our purposes and debts of good citizens, of good people, of social beings. It is right that some things are somewhat harsh, and it is somewhat hard, but as we believe that the fulfillment is close, we have to submit to this severe asceticism. If the king comes home ... there is no old age in spiritual terms, the soul is not getting old. If this fragile body or earthen package, the flesh still wrinkles, the spirit is beyond it and the spirit comes first, and when we will be spiritual people in the world or Eon or the new age, then all these weaknesses disappear; then there is no old age and no death, all these are the remnant of the Adamic sin. So, if the king comes, God can fill it with grace and increase his wisdom that he has and the godliness that he has and the physical beauty that he has. So, let God make the turn and God knows then how to lead this people, but He needs a man, he needs that man who, after the expression of the work as well, to make a humble step under the scepter of the Emperor or the King of Kings, and God will make ten steps. But as long as you do not bow, God cannot work to bring this people to the light. How are these freethinkers to be brought to the light if they do not accept Him? Even if all possible human efforts are to be made, this country cannot enjoy the light and peace and the souls of its citizens to be filled with joy and natural happiness, because we were created on earth not to be in exile, especially from the moment Christ has redeemed us. Therefore, it is not possible, as long as they lead and do not accept Christ; any effort they might do, it cannot be good. So, it is only in communion with the heaven that the man on the earth may find his fulfillment.

Anyhow, we have hope, and the hope is the dream of those that are awake. We are neither naïve, as some consider us, not fanatics, as other may think of us, but still I believe that we have that virtue which is called "the drunkenness of those who are awake" (as the Philokalia fathers call it), or that foolishness absolutely necessary and qualified as virtue for the citizen of the kingdom of Christ. You need that sacred foolishness, which makes you detach from this natural, which means virtue in the eyes of the world, but in the eyes of God means foolishness, this way, in its literal sense.

December 12, 1991 † Irineu of Bistrița

I have inserted fragments here from the speeches of the bishop Irineu, for the man to know how to perceive this descending of word from heaven, of whose history is written on earth in our time.

God is speaking from heaven in the Romanian language. The testimonies of many Christians can confirm this. It would be a great joy if the people of the church, the scholars and the philosophers of Romania would use this beautiful language.

God is speaking in the Romanian language.

The Life Of Saint Virginia

It was on the 27th of May 1923, the feast day of all saints. On that morning Virginia's mother was getting ready to go to church, but she couldn't go because she had to give birth to the little baby girl Virginia.

It was the last year of the ancient church, of the ancient feasts, because the communism epoch removed the Christian feasts as the scripture foresaw. The Christians of that time were mourning the removal of the saints' feasts, seeing in that the scriptures fulfilment: "even the times they will dare to change" The parents of Virginia, Nicolae and Andreiana, were poor Christians and they raised their two children very hard, Virginia being the smallest one. In 1924, when Virginia was one year old, she fell sick of a very strange illness that was eating her stomach from inside. But by this suffering, of the little child Virginia, The Lord wanted to show that she was a chosen vessel. Her parents were crying and praying to God for the child's healing. Her suffering in that year meant a big secret, because later, God was going to announce through her, the wound suffered by the church at that time. Her poor parents were praying masses for her healing in church, because their only hope was God. They kept near the house a goat for milk and, because Virginia fell sick, they used the milk of the goat only for her, because they did not have anything else.

The days of fasting were holy for the entire family, but on the other days, Virginia was fed with the milk from the goat. The sickness of the child was very advanced; the parents were weeping looking at the child whose skin and nails turned blue, and they lost the hope that the child would live.

Besides this hard pain, she had another one, because a big dog of the city doctor killed the goat whose milk Virginia was fed from. Virginia's father went and wept at the Doctor's door. The Doctor was filled with kindness for these poor Christians and went to see the child who was about to die, and then he brought medicine for her healing.

God searched the pain and sorrow of this house and He held out His hand to heal and create a new womb for Virginia, so she was brought to life again. Gradually, the child was healed. The heavens suffered in her body, it suffered for the church of Jesus Christ, because God had planned to work through His Word and bring through Virginia, healing for the church's wound. Virginia was then going to show that she is a church blessed of God, in which the lamb of God lived and talked with the Christian people who were born through this work of the Holly Spirit.

When Virginia was four, her father died and the life of this family became very hard. The mother and the two children left their only hope and help to God. They went on all the holidays to the Holly Church, their only comfort. Virginia was now nine years old. Her elder sister, Maria, was doing her daily work in the house, and Virginia thought to go in the village to pray at the doors so she can gather the cows to graze them, to earn some food. Her mother Andreiana was lying in bed suffering of pellagra. Some open hearted people, gave to the child Virginia their cows to graze them, and in the evening after she received some food as payment for her work, she would come home to give the food she received to her mother and to her sister. Virginia had only one little dress and she was very careful when she was running after the cows, not to hang her dress in the thorns of the bushes around. On the working days she used to wear the dress inside out, and in the evening before each holiday, she washed her dress to wear it the second day at church. Everyday she went with the cows to graze, and very often she cried. The kids of the village always made fun of her and laughed at her and treated her as a poor and stupid child, and they threw rocks at her. Every day she waited for the evening to come so she can go and give the food earned to her mother. In the glade she went with the cows, there was an apple tree, but his fruit were sour and no one ate them. Virginia ate the apples from that tree, and in the evening she would take them home, but her mother and sister couldn't eat them because to them the apples were very sour. She was amazed, but sad, and she didn't understand why the apples were sweet for her. She was happy that she had the apples to eat because this way she could keep all the food earned for her mother and sister.

The whole day she would cry and say: «Mother of God, who are in heaven, make my mother healthy again, because we are little and we do not have a father. Please don't let us remain without my mother».

One day, she saw a big white light, and the mother of God holding the little baby Jesus in her arms, and she said: «Look! There is the mother of God with the little baby Jesus, just like she is in our icon at home! » Then she heard: «Virginia, I am the mother of God and your mother, too. Don't cry any more because my son Jesus Christ will make your mother healthy again so she can take care of you. » Virginia started to cry. To cry for the joy and hope she had for her mother's healing. In the evening when she went home, she told everything to her mother, who understood that the child had a heavenly vision.

The second day, she went again with the cows, and in the evening she saw the heavenly light again and a beam of light from heaven to earth through which came down a saint with a beard, surrounded by beams of light, and holding in his hand a bright cross. He called her by her name:

«Virginia, I am the Son of the mother of God and I have come to heal your mother. Don't cry! I'm always going to come in your path from now on and I will never leave you, but look, I ask you for something for your mother's healing. Give me your hair to have from you. » But Virginia, knowing that it's a big sin to cut her hair, responded to God:

«God, my mother told me that it's a big sin to cut my hair, ask me for something else, maybe I can give it to you. »

«Give me a hand so I can have it from you. »

«God, if I am left with only one hand, I can not brush my hair by myself, I can not dress by myself, I can not wash, I can not work, ask me for something else. »

«Then give me a leg to have it from you. »

«Oh God, ask me again, maybe there is something else that I can give you, because I can't run after the cows with only one leg, and I will do pain to other people having to carry me around. Ask me something else, don't leave! I want you to heal my mother. »

«Oh, what can I ask from you? I will ask for an eye so it can be My help through you, so I can look with My eye through your eye, because I want you to be for Me a tent on earth. »

Virginia was comforted because it didn't seem too hard with one eye, and putting her hand on her left eye, to see how she sees with one eye, she turned happily to tell God that He could take one eye from her for her mother's healing, but when she looked to the place where the light appeared, God had already started going up to heaven, and so she shouted:

«God, look, I'll give you an eye! Come back to take it» And then God spoke from the clouds:

«Be good Virginia. I always will come to you. When you will be 14 years old, then I will take your eye. Go home now, because your mother has got out of bed .From now on, I will always be with you. »

Virginia, filled with happiness, didn't stay any longer with the cows and went with them to the houses from which she took them in the morning and while she was walking home with the food earned, she sees her mother coming to her. Virginia shouted:

«Mother, are you healthy again? »

«I have been made healthy, for a young saint with a bright cross in his hand, appeared near the bed and told me to get up and be cured for your weeping. He helped me to get up, and I came to meet you. » Virginia told her mother about her meeting with the Lord Jesus Christ in the glade where she was with the cows. Her mother started to understand that the child was filled with the gift of the Holly Spirit. A heavenly happiness came over their poor house. Virginia was growing and the Lord Jesus Christ made from her a ship of the Holly Spirit so afterwards to start through her a big heavenly Christian Work for the preparation of Christian people who were going to listen and obey the Lord's commandment. When she was 14 years old, the Lord fulfilled His word and took the sight of Virginia's left eye, and later this eye was covered by whiteness. Her talks with the Lord Jesus Christ, with the Mother of God, with the saints and archangels of the heavens, became a continuous heavenly work on earth that she spread to all that heard and came to the village where this blessed work arose.

When she was 32 years old, in the spring of 1955, before the beginning of the Great Lent, Virginia received heavenly word to start fasting for forty days, time in which she could only receive Holly Bread and Holly Water, but she responded:

«God, I will not be able to fast so long.»

«You will be able to Virginia, because The Holy Spirit will shine over you, so after this I can bring over you a big heavenly gift, a heavenly work like it has never been on earth and about which is written in that Book descended from heaven, because I want to prepare my pathway to the second coming, and to illuminate a nation, and to distinguish it from other nations, and to clean it of all the temptations of the body and of the spirit, so it can work holiness on earth by fear of God.»

Virginia had a spirit full of humility for those who came from heaven, and she, in her simplicity, imagined that God will give her a gift to save themselves from poorness, and she said:

«God, help me with the holy heaven, help me to obey you and help me to accomplish the time of fasting». In this time, she had near her a Christian sister with the name of Elena from the village of Valea Lungă, who, although she was married, she lived a pure life with her husband, because she had the gift of prophecy. This Christian virgin stood all the time of fasting near Virginia, and talked with the Christians that came. Virginia went through this fasting time with a lot of difficulty, because, sometimes those that were around her and her mother Andreiana, had very little hope that she will survive until the end of the forty days of lent, but no one had the courage to disobey God's word and give her to eat. Their only hope was in the Word of God, who came to bring this news of preparation for Virginia.

She went through the time of fasting very hard, and the Saturday morning before the Resurrection of the Lord was approaching. Virginia's face brightened in that day, and she started to speak with the Christians, and when the church bells started to ring, announcing the Resurrection of the Lord, Virginia got up and started talking to those near her, telling them that the Three Hierarchs, Saint Basil, Saint Gregory and Saint John, dressed in white clothes of archangels and all three touched their crosses on her forehead, and she got up and received from them The Holly Communion; the Three Hierarchs were seen exactly the same by sister Elena, the one that watched over Virginia. A heavenly peace came over Virginia, who fell asleep in a sleep full of peace. Suddenly, those who were around her heard her voice through which God was speaking:

" – Peace to you! Christ is risen, Christ is risen, Christ is risen! I am The Lord Jesus Christ, I am not in body, but in Spirit. I have descended on earth in Spirit to choose a people and to tell them the secrets of these times. I am The Word of God, and I have come to talk on earth, to prepare My way for the Second Coming, as it is written in My Book. I am not this body, this body is a trumpet from which I blow for these times, to announce you of everything it will be in the days to come".

From that moment, Virginia showed that she was a ship who carries heavenly word, word that flows through her mouth like a lively spring until God raised her into heaven. She didn't feel anything when God spoke, and when she would wake up, she would ask the people around her if God spoke and what he spoke.

That is how on the Easter of 1955, started the work of prophecy of the Holly Spirit through Virginia. A lot of Christians stood and listened to the words of God, and many returned to the church to fulfil the commandment of God. She was sent by God everywhere. The priest from the village, seeing the scope of this heavenly work and being afraid that he will have to give account to the church leaders and to the authorities, tried to stop this heavenly work, using the reason that Virginia is sick. The communist authorities took Virginia to Psychiatric hospitals where the unchristian people tormented and ill-treated her, because the word of God continued to flow. While she was talking they pricked her, they burned her with a lighted cigarette, they put unclean things in her mouth, they put balls of burning iron under her arms, and they didn't care that she was sick. After she was kept a while and tortured, they would let her go home, and the Christian people who were eating from this heavenly work (they were hidden) suffered along this work of the Holly Spirit, which they tried to choke by all means.

But God found a way to cover her from her persecutors and Archangel Michael announced the heavenly decision. He was her companion during heavenly visions, showing her God's plan to protect her from the persecutors. He took Virginia and went along with her on a green field and, reaching a water with a bridge on it, having passed the bridge, a much more younger man than her appeared. In that moment the Archangel Michael said:

«Verginica, do you see this young man? Soon God will bring him before you and he will be a protection for you before the unbelievers.» Saint Virginia saddened and didn't understand these words thinking that this was about marriage, and thinking of her virginity told Saint Michael with tears in her eyes

«Holy Michael do you want to leave me? »

«„Don't be sad, Verginico, don't fear, I will never leave you, because Lord gave me the mission to be your companion all the time, but the young man will be a veil upon that God makes it through you. A lot of your body suffering, this man will take and he will support you as old Joseph protected Jesus Christ's Holy Mother. Lord will enclose with the Holy Spirit fire, because your body is God's throne and manger in which His Spirit descends and He is speaking to the people of Israel from the end of times.» This vision has soon fulfilled, because God had sent her in Manesti Commune (Dambovita District), and that apparition the young man Stoica Nicolae happened to be there, who then, joined to this salvation work. Then, with spiritual love he loved and cared for the vessel through whom the Holy Spirit Word unction had been flowing, because all the messages were joined with pleasant fragrance which made many people to walk on God's ways.

This is the way God had prepared this young man's heart and in the summer of 1960 in Manesti church was done the wedding followed by a Christian wedding party in which God made His Work of speaking. Since that moment he had become the support of the house, responding instead of her in front of the authorities who were coming to get her and to torture her ruthlessly.

The prisons in which Saint Virginia stayed between 1956-1960 at Jilava, at Sibiu, and forced interments in which she suffered pitiless tortures, had brought Virginia to great body sickness, but after the wedding with the young man, even she didn't have been home, she had been ill all the time. Until 1967-when treason and persecution had started, Saint Virginia sheltered under this young man protection, then, together with other Christians he was taken to prison. Saint Virginia remained in Christian's care and in the two children's care, whom she had adopted after the wedding from her sister who had six children.

After getting out from the prison, the young man took care further on of God's vessel and of the all house cares, walking along God's Work everywhere he was sent to.

In 1973, after medical finding of the Plataresti Hospital from which Virginia's virginity was certified, under K.G.B.'s threatens which wanted to arrest them again, he was forced to separate from her, and, believing that he would make her free, left her. Loosing the connection with the Work of God, with the God's stimulus, he got weak spiritually and remarried a worldly woman with whom he made two children, making himself a family, but he left no separation book between him and Verginia. Left in God's care, suffering all the time, Saint Virginia bore God-The Word in His Work until her passing to eternal life on the 14-th of December 1980. The people born from this heavenly Work calls for her in all necessities and she works from the saint's group and helps every soul who cries for help. Saint Virginia is called by God 'heavenly trumpet', she was called the 'Good Shepherd's little whistle' and 'heavenly vessel' on earth.

Many times she had to suffer in the KGB prisons and mental hospitals where she had to suffer cruel persecution. All of this was making her body very weak. But God took care of His vessel, and even though she was suffering all the time, Virginia carried God-The Word in His work until she died on December 14th, 1980. The people born out of this heavenly work calls upon her in all their needs and she now works from heaven together with tens of thousands of saints who are witnessing this work of God. Virginia helps now from Heaven every soul who asks her for help. She was called by God, heavenly trumpet, the whistle of the Good Shepherd and heavenly vessel on earth.

There are thousands and thousands of witnessing pages, which were written while she received The Word of God, and which were food for all God loving Christian people. Many believing sons of these people of God witnessed the healings and the blessings and the powers which worked through this chosen vessel, and we will put here and in the future issues of The Word of God some of them:

The one who is with Me, even if he dies forever he will be alive because the mother Verginica has never abandoned her people and she still is the shepherd of the flock she was gifted with by God. This is what God said through her voice three months before he went to heaven: «Israel, the people loved by God, her I speak the raising of My ship from you, but I will speak to you through your branches, I will speak till the end. I prophesize that when I take this vessel with Me, you will divide in two parts: you the people with holy name some of you will become fat sheep who will give birth to lambs, some other will become traitors, but don't be afraid you little Israel, because I will speak to you and I will never let you down because this work of Holy Spirit will never end. I will pass through death this ship, and I will give it strength and I will send to prepare My way to you and your way to Me. You Christian people, the Romanian people, so I speak: This is the work I am willing to. »

The Word of God

... Peace be with you! Christ is risen! Christ is risen! Christ is risen! I am The Lord Jesus Christ. I am not body, but spirit. I have descended with The Holy Spirit on Earth to choose a nation and to tell them about the mysteries for this time. I am God's Word and I have come to speak on Earth, to prepare Myself the way for the second coming. Here, I have come, as it is written in My book. This body (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) is not Me. This is a trumpet from which I sound in this time to announce you all that will be in the days that come.

The Word of God

... Oh, My chicks, I ascended to My Father after My passion, and now I have descended on earth, unseen by anyone, to prepare this vessel (through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) chosen by Me, but helpless, and through him to prepare a holy people which are to prepare My way to come for judgment. My fearful chicks, do not doubt My words through this weak mouth, for I want to give you new birth from the Spirit. Do not be afraid. I will protect you and I will bring you up with milk for you are small. I will take you under My wings, as the hen takes her chicks to protect them against the hawk, for you will have many enemies.

Well My little chicks, My mission from the Father is to bring up a new people, a new Israel in the Romanian people, for the people chosen by Me in the past had totally defiled. For this I came into the world; I came to choose from the world some meek and obedient lambs, so that I may feed them with heavenly food.

The Word of God

... Oh, My children, the little ones, there is today a great feast on earth and a holy celebration in heaven. All the heavenly powers worship My Mother; all revere her as a queen of heaven. Only

The Church Calendar (in Romania) up to 1924 was the same as that of Nicaea, based on severe apostolic canons, but in 1924, the Scripture of the prophet Daniel was fulfilled: «the people made bold to even change the times», when the primate metropolitan - of that time, Miron Cristea, (Primate metropolitan = (in the past) a title given to the first metropolitan of a country; today it would be equal to that of a patriarch) introduced the Gregorian Calendar (Catholic) as result of a „pan-Orthodox” congress that took place in 1923, in Constantinople. At that congress, the patriarch of that time, Meletie, proposed the acceptance of the „revised” Julian Calendar, (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Revised\_Julian\_calendar) which was in accord with the Catholic one for a period up to the year 2800 and „it was allowing that all the feasts to be celebrated at the same time with those of other confessions”. «... and he shall wear out the saints of the Most High and he shall think to change the times and the law...» (Daniel 7/25), r.n.

the ones on earth, impelled by Satan, dishonor and hoot her. The sects have increased, My little people, the sects that hoot My Mother. Oh, how can I bear with those Antichrists who throw arrows into My Mother? They call Me "Lord Jesus," they make Me Lord, but they scorn My Mother. Oh, sons, I confess to you that these will not have forgiveness for ever.

Sons, I give you a holy command: the same way you honor your mother who bore and raised you, you should honor My Mother beyond it. My Mother is the link between clean Christians and Me. I listen to My Mother as an obedient son, and if My Mother was not to pray for this earth, the world would have been punished long ago. Three hundred Adventists have come today and sit at the gate of heaven but I do not receive them, I do not know them.

The Word of God

... Oh, My people, I was born two thousand years in a poor manger in an oxen stable to grow up as a man so that Satan might not know that I came to save the human. Herod became angry and came to kill Me and in his blindness he killed fourteen thousand infants. Oh, how was he to take My days away when I was the Lord of the days and nights, when I was the Lord of life? Oh, My children, My flowers, today I am much more sought after by other Herods than then. The Caesar, the head of the Herods, (The dictator Ceaușescu, r.n.) is looking for Me through his antichrist servants to take My life, but what is hurting Me most is that I have many Herods in My church, among the servants at My holy altar, and these are looking for Me. (The priests with commitment to the Security, secret police service, during the communist dictatorship, r.n.) The one in the past did not find Me, for My Father covered Me, but these who stand in My church, they constantly stab Me with their deeds and they are enough and serve the Caesar. They will remain ashamed, for I, what I have to fulfill I will fulfill even if I remain without the altar servants.

... Behold My flowers, the holy prudes, holy martyrs, armies of angels, holy martyr virgins now come and sing to you. Well children, well children with your heart full of joy, oh, well My flowers! I am glad for you and for your joy as well, for in this night of plagues and debaucheries it is only you that pleased Me. Oh, I sit and cry, as the earth is full of grave sins which have been done this night, debaucheries worse than in Sodom and Gomorrah; drunkenness, murders, abortions. I cannot look down on My earth. I cannot look because of the transgressions horror. The body laid hold of the soul, for a lustful and bloated body is a dead soul. Oh beloved, food and self-indulgence brought the man Adam out of Eden. Food and disobedience and immorality will fill the hell.

... Oh, My children do not forget that the sign of the holy cross is the symbol of victory. The cross is not the wood of humiliation as the sectarians say. The cross is a fearsome weapon against the devil. Do not take after the sectarians to mock the cross, but rather worship it, for My blood made it holy. My sacrifice on this cross brought you soul salvation. See, My craftsmen, My carriers that the holy cross which you put today at its place made you not be seen by your enemies and mine. (When those from Security came to look for them, r.n.) It will protect you the same way for you to be unseen on your way back.

... Oh, My children I wanted to renew the wedding in Cana of Galilee and to show you the mystery of the Christian wedding. The Christian wedding is a great mystery of My church. Therefore I say to you: if you are not clean and dressed with the garment of the bride, you will not be able to sit at My table on the day of My wedding, on the day of My coming. The wedding dress shows your clean life. You need to be righteous as lambs so that you may take part at the great wedding. Oh, sons, to not worry of what you are to put on the table for so many Christians. Have trust the same way My Mother had two thousand years ago when we were invited at My disciple wedding, for I multiplied the wine and I did not put their godfather to shame.

Here, My bride of today has not seen the man but only looked at his feet for he has not lifted his head from the ground. I have come to this wedding with five prophets and they will remain as a testimony, for it was not something like this and it will never be. I brought a little angel with a little hammer and he smashed all the light bulbs at the chandelier and put candles of clean wax. Be careful, My children, for you do not give to the bridegroom and bride, for it is the Lord's Mother who collects all of your gifts. Keep your wedding clean so that may I take you at the table of My wedding.

Oh, My beloved and tired children! Do you like these fields? Do you like these mountains? Oh, they look like the Sion mountains! Oh, little but beautiful country, oppressed country. My Mother has chosen you to be Her garden, and that is why I will remove all your dandruff from you. Oh, Romania, Romania, which are full of wealth, I will shake you and I will clean you up, because I have many relics of saints in your hearth.

... Oh, My children, I have to come to an end, so that you may rest and to be able to take part at the holy Liturgy. Scrape along not to miss this mystery. ### The Word of God

Blessed is the country and blessed is the people and all the immortals who live through the Romanian people, as they will all benefit from the mercy of God for the Romanian people, whom good God wanted to choose among the nations, the most humiliated people, who bitterly suffered because of the powerful ones, who was exploited, threatened, invaded, tortured, sold and bought in every war,<sup>7</sup> and still, a good example of a hospitable people whom almost every nation could join and live,<sup>8</sup> showing a pleasant greatness and being made to be an example of universal fusion into one nation, with a straight and holy belief, being the highest nation in the world in order to offer accomodation to all the nations around the world.

... Like the Saviour chose His beloved apostles from Galateea, the most important province at the time with the firmest belief that is still shining today, so He has chosen The Romanian country and the Romanian people to be the shrine of exemplary life, at everyone's salvation service.

The Word of God

... Oh, wake up! Peace be with you! Behold, I have descended to you, My children, but I have not descended into body, as in the past, I have descended into Spirit. I have not come to you to seek for yours, I have come to seek for souls. I have descended into stake to speak to My people. Behold, I have come to speak to you, in order not to take the grief that is waiting for you. Strengthen yourselves into faith, children; into faith, not into rich clothes. Blessed are the eyes which do not see and believe, and woe unto those who see, hear and do not believe!

Oh, world, now you do not know Me, but the day will come when you know everything, because here it is what Father has done to speak into a handful of dust! I have come again on Earth to heal a palsied man, lying on a bed. Behold, children, this body is in front of you. (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) He was dead and I rose him from the dead; he was sick and I healed him. I healed him not with earthly medicine, but with heavenly ones. Seek, My children, as long as there is time left. Do not seek for the pot, but for The Spirit.

... Oh, brothers, you have forgotten the way of the church. Oh, brothers, why are doing something like this, My children? Here, the churches are empty and the taverns are full. Open your hearts! Give glory to God! Sing, give glory with all your members!

... Oh, brothers, if even My words are from the devil, then your faith where does it come from? Oh, I have not come to lead you astray but I come to suffer the thorns, I have come after the strayed sheep.

... Oh, there is no more love among you; it has all perished. Why, sons have you wondered away? Do you not know that love covers everything?

... Do not put new wine into old vessels. Confess again. Here, your deeds have come above. Do not be as the logs of wood you put on fire.

... I have come and I found the earth full of abortions and cursing. Oh, this I have found. Oh, something perishes, a child dies; a life dies. Oh, well My brothers, what a sorrow in heaven because of these bad deeds which you are doing. You curse Me and you curse the holy things. Oh, brothers multiply the good deeds. I have not found good deeds by you. Where is My image (face)? Satan made himself master over it. The earth is filled with wickedness. Here, I have announced that the fire is coming, and what are you saying, that is not coming?

... I came in a body and you crucified Me. I come in Spirit to show you and to call and tell you to believe in Me.

... Here is what I tell you: get out of this world, of its trespasses, that is: pride, drunkenness, fornication, lying. Come out of the Babylon of this world. Oh, here, a little angel threw a stone into the sea and the same way is leaving the same way this chaos (hullabaloo) will be thrown into the fire.

<sup>7</sup> See the history of Romania, a country formed (like the Holy Trinity) of three small Romanian countries, occupied at turns by the big empires of the time, succeeding the unification (still incomplete) only in 1918, r.n.

<sup>8</sup> It is the only country in the world which granted each minority a place in the Parliament, today, 18 minorities, r.n.

... The bodies of the saints are on the Romanian hearth, otherwise Romania would have been divided long ago, but because their bodies are on the Romanian hearth, My Mother asked Me to protect you, because, if she hadn't asked, I would have left you alone long ago.

... My Father dressed himself in Son, in a filthy and ugly coat and he went to a rich man asking for mercy, and that one told him: "Go to work and work! Why are you lazy?" And here is what God did: He dressed Himself in a luxurious coat and He went to the rich man again. When he saw Him, he invited Him at his table. Whom did this rich man receive? Oh, if there weren't poor men on Earth, there would be no one in heaven.

... — Oh, sons this is what I ask you: do you believe in feasting, in church, in prayer, in the Holy Sacraments, in the cross? Do you believe?

— Yes, Lord!

— Then, why do you not use them? Oh, My children use them!

This is what I ask you: do you believe in tavern, in chants, in witchcraft, in licentiousness and other wicked things of Satan? Do you believe?

— No, Lord!

— Then, why are you doing them? Why are you taking after them?

Here is what I say to you: "I went to a dance hall and I found a sleeping demon; he had no work to do with anyone as all were his. I went into a church and from the door to the altar there were many demons with all kinds of evils; enmity, pride, libation, debauchery thoughts, tobacco. I found the priest smoking at the altar. But you, children do not judge, that there is someone to judge them.

Oh, well My children, I have not come to destroy and tell you lies. I have come to tell you to love one another. Oh, your Father looks at you and does not find pleasant souls among you to accomplish the place in heaven. Here, the places are waiting for you and there is none to occupy them. Look, a Christian says that he cannot but eat meat.

... Behold, brothers, I have come to throw fire on earth. Two will rise against three. Pray so that you may have wisdom. Father is rising against son, mother-in-law against daughter-in-law, mother against daughter. The evil spirit, the spirit of Satan, wherever it goes there is no more love, there is no more God, and the evil one spreads hatred, sorrow and strife.

Here children, there in your midst the Lord, Jesus Christ has come and He is looking to His left and to His right and He has not come alone but with His twelve apostles. He is looking at the wheat, for tares and thistles have grown up as well. And one apostle says: "Shall we pluck the tares Lord?" But the Lord says, "Let it grow tall so that when you pluck the tares you may not pluck the wheat too. Leave it for the harvest, for then the wheat will be put into the barns and the tares will be put into the fire." Oh, well children, a quarter is wheat and three quarters is cockle. In the fallow soil there was good sowing and the devil sown tares too. In the soil there were good springs and they turned into bitter springs, which is the fallow soil. The good spring is the church and the bad spring is the pub, and the tares are bad people. Who made these springs bitter? The devil.

You do not know what is being prepared. You have eyes and do not see, you have ears and do not hear what is being prepared for you. I am not afraid, for I am Spirit and I fly over above, but I take pity on My vessel.

... My Mother is crying for you are praying with your head uncovered. Woe to the woman who cuts her hair! For the devil made a nest into it! Why do you dishonor your head? For the woman with her head uncovered will be dishonored before God. Let her shave her hair so that she may be ashamed if she wants to walk like this.

... Do not be thorns which bite. Here I came down in a bush, not in an expensive vessel, beautiful and bright, but in a rotten vessel of sufferance, in a trash vessel, not valued by the learned one, or by the rich one, but I came down to a straw. Why do you still judge it? I am still healing the sick, the blind and the lame. Do not value My vessel, children, but rather the gift. You value marble vessels, not the earthen ones. Who loves God loves My vessel too, but you hate My vessel. Father loves His Son, and the Son loves the Father, for both the vessel and the Spirit come from the Holy Trinity.

... Oh, there a famine is coming when you cannot live without God. There a drought and a famine of the word of God are coming. (The greatest persecution of the Christians under the communist dictatorship, r.n.)

... Here, the one who wants to marry do not stop him. The one who does not want do not force him so that you may not be judged, for marriage will go to trial until the end.

The Word of God

... A thread is coming off from heaven to earth, but it is not a thread, rather a flash from the east. Behold a little angel sits with a leg on the sea and the other on dry land and is ready to let it go. Behold he is standing and tells not to put the seal.

... Four little angels are turned loose. They were bound for a while. Here it rises, little children, from the west it rises a cloud, a great darkness, and the hailstorm will come, but it will not be hail. Do you understand? Alas, alas, the table is set! Behold, the little angel is crying at the table. Blessed is he who overcomes, the one, will prevail as in the heaven. Oh, well, My children, for whom is coming this one that has been prepared? For Jerusalem who is in bondage. Jerusalem, Jerusalem, free yourself, as you have fallen under the sword! Brothers I do not prepare you for a foreign yoke, as the light has not fellowship with darkness. Oh, I gave you gold and you said that I gave you brass. If My gold is not brass, then My children, why do you not forgive? Oh, how many times you say, „Forgive us our trespasses as we forgive our debtors?”

... Children, be strong, as the stones are against you too, there are only demons around you, only Antichrists everywhere, that it is harder for you than it was of the saints who had lived here ahead of you. There are only demons which deceived you. Be strong and wide awake as the Father is waiting for you. He does not let the little angel to pour out the bowl; My Father is still waiting.

Oh, well My children! You know that among you are wolves dressed in sheepskins? (Informers for the communist dictatorship „Security” r.n.) Here is how they throw the pearls which they have received; (Body and Blood of our Lord in Holy Communion, r.n.) they show no pity. Here is how they throw them and mock at them. Do not grieve! Not all, not everyone will enter My Kingdom in a hurry. How was with the Flood, so it is now when the fire comes, and you will not burn, you who put your trust in the Father. Fight to fulfill and keep what I gave you. I cover you and others will come to you to escape, but in vain will come, as they will say, “Christians, save us!” but you cannot be of any help to them, with anything, but will cry bitterly instead.

... Do not abandon the prayer in the middle of the night, as it will escape you the wrath that is to come.

... Son, tell your brothers not to worship My vessel; let them worship only God and the holy icons. Well, children do not put your hope in doctors more than in God. Doctors are allowed by Me, but healings come from Me. You have put too much trust in doctors but forgot God, you have pushed Him aside. Brothers, feasting and prayer, this is the cure, and do not say that feasting kills people. Feasting has not killed anyone; on the contrary it has healed. Do not see that the earthly doctors give you a diet and you listen to them and they make you sound? But the heavenly Doctor, how will He not heal you bodily and spiritually.

... Here My children, the discovering of the dead! Behold, they rise two by two, or three and blessed are those who have risen from death to life! Here is how they get out of the death grave and sing the holy song. You know that all will rise from the dead, but not all at the same time. Here, do you know children that the dead too here these holy words? These words which you hear, the dead hear too and wonder how you have had spiritual gift so great, for if they were hearing these holy words, they would have ended repented.

The Word of God

... Why do you listen to your friends? You listen to everything those around you say and you despise Me. Here, I came down. Open your heart so that My words may come in and talk to you. I have come and I am hurt and afflicted, as from heaven to earth I am hurt by all your deeds.

Behold, My kingdom is a pharmacy with everything, with all that you need: wisdom, peace, faith, hope, love, health, power to stand against any storm, for I give only to your request. Look how many they are but ask. The pharmacy is locked for you do not ask through earnest and fervent prayer; you do not ask with faith. Oh, you have lost the love which covers everything. You are left only with envy and malice.

... Oh, My children, I have come the third time. First time I came and I made man and all that is seen and I gave him a command to be kept so that it might be well with him and all his descendants but they failed. The second time I came in the flesh. I was born with a body from the Virgin. I lived on earth and taught you what to do to inherit the kingdom of heaven; I healed you of all your sufferings you had, you who believed and came to Me. Under the eyes of your ancestors I performed miracles to entrust them with all the hope that was needed for them to have and you as well. Here, I have come the third time. Now I am in the Spirit and I have come down in many places to urge you to life and clean and holy living, for everything is ready to come to an end and death will catch you the way you are, on the broad road, with all your wickedness: unbelief, strife, hate, anger, pride, lust, fornication, the worst one as at the pagans.

Oh, children quit tobacco, for tobacco is from the devil. Well children, I have sown wheat but the devil has sown tobacco. Here, he surpassed Me for many would give bread for tobacco. Mind yourself for you will not get out of the hell if you get into it with all these that you are doing, for there will be no one to save you.

... Your Father is crying, the One who created the earth and all that can be seen on it for man, and now there is no fruit, there is no folk dance, there is no contentment and joy, there is no hope; all are sad. Do you know why there is no fruit? There are only dead children instead of fruit. The land and waters have been defiled because of so many things done on it. They have become worse than those who have no law that is the heathens.

... I have come down to the wheat field with the twelve apostles and I found a part of wheat and three parts of tare. Here is what the devil has done: he has sown tare and left. Who is it to be blamed: the sower or the keeper? Oh, brothers, the keeper. Stay away of all that is after satan's will and take care one another! Be on vigil!

... My children do not worship My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) for the vessel is the same like you. I did this to show you the way. My children, I did this for you forgot the church; you forgot the cross; you forgot the feasting; you forgot the prayer; you forgot mercy, humility; you have no more faith; you have no more love; you have no more hope; there is no more mercy. I do not want to throw you into the hell and it is because of this that I give you pains, sufferings, troubles so that I may keep you as close as possible. Whomever Father loves, he reprimands, and the children born of fornication he does not reprimand but let them free.

... Father built a prayer house and the devil a dance hall. Father made a vine and wine; the devil made a brandy boiler, and brandy made him, for many put the grapes into it and turn into brandy. My Father has sent prophets to proclaim the seasons, and the devil has made the radio and speakers. Look, who says that brandy is not from the devil will not see God's face.

Get ready, be born again. Who is not born again will not come to Me. Oh, do you believe that there is a heaven and a hell. Here, My vessel has seen that so many times I have taken her and shown everything. Souls cry at the gate of heaven; your parents cry, your children for you led them to the grave and knew nothing more. Oh, the souls look through the lattice into the court of heaven for there so many souls that you cannot count; they look and see the seats and the beauties, they see the crowns and seats that are free and cry: "Lord, Lord, look how the seats stand free and we do not have what to sit on, for we have grown tired of such a long way from earth to heaven!" The Lord Jesus is coming to the gate and sees them crying: "Open so that we may come in!" And the Lord says: "It was not I that I closed it, but you with your deeds which you did while you were on earth in the flesh. Where is your prayer which you should have done? With it you should open the gates of heaven, for the saints opened the prisons on earth and quenched the flame of fire. You did not pray and therefore you could not open the gates of heaven at My kingdom."

...Oh, well My children do not sell My Spirit for it will be a bitter sin than Judas'. Here, those that I gave much, they despised me.

... The day comes when for a meal you stay out of the garden, for Adam was driven out of the garden for a meal. See about the food on forbidden days. Why do you eat fish on forbidden days? Why do you say that not what enters a body defiles a man, but that what comes out of his mouth defiles it? Oh, how you will cry bitterly! But there will be late!

Here is what I say to you: cursed is the one who works on Saturday, from sundown until Monday morning, at sunrise.

The Word of God

... Well children, there are many children who wait at the gate of the garden; they look and pray to Me to open the gate for them, for there is a lot of room inside, many seats, lights, and the seats shine. I told them: "It was not I who closed them, but you with your deeds, for you persecuted the believers who were trying to follow My Word; you cursed the sun, the moon, the saints and instead of prayers you blasphemed and persecuted. You did not pray and had no faith. You had malice, for it was with faith and prayer, feasting and good deed that you could open the gates of heaven." Here My children, I came down to you to urge you, to tell you where you fell down from, what deeds you closed the gates of the city with.

Oh, when I go to My Father in heaven, He asks Me what the children on earth are doing. "Well," but I cry and I am very upset with all that you do. Oh, how many times I have spoken to you and urged you to all that pleases My Father! You say that you are angry that I do not speak to you, but I too go so many times angry from you. I am coming down from the glory and I am going back distressed for I find unbelief, strife and coldness and so many others which should not be among Christians. Look, if you have faith and love among you, I will come down to you again.

... Here is what kind of faith is among you: only critics and you judge one another. Satan has laid all kinds of traps to catch you into his snares with lie, slander, malice, pride, greed, arrogance and all sorts of these. You have cleansed yourselves of some of these but you still have so many. Clean yourselves of all. Fight for life and death for the time is short.

The Word of God

... Oh, My children, the devil rose very angrily to destroy you My people. Therefore I call and teach you to read the holy book, for it is because of this that I left it with you, to show you all the work of the evil one. But I call you out easily; I cannot cry loudly for My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) is destroyed. When the tailor has something broken at his machine, he works with care and mercy. I have mercy on you because you wait and because you are so long way away, but look, My vessel is in front of you: It's all destroyed but because I have mercy on you, I do not let you leave empty handed.

... My sheep, My people, I call you out as My vineyard is full of thorns and I do not have cleaners. I have been calling and looking: at daybreak, at the second hour, at the third our, at the sixth hour, at the ninth hour and all the time.

My people be humble so that you may not miss the Lord, for here those who are haughty, they rebel! Humble yourselves much, for the devil is on the earth; he is the Antichrist and has the courage up to heaven to destroy everything he finds on his way, but those who are humble he cannot move from their way.

Oh, well children do not look after the sun so that the day it might look longer to you and so to seem that you still have time for repentance, for you do not know the day or the hour when you will be called. Repent children for your reward is so great! Oh, if your eyes could see all, you would not eat or drink and you would fight for life and death for the highest seats in the house of the Father and to which the Father was waiting for each one of you; but you should know that you are few, few.

My little sheep, I speak to you more in parables. It is only I who knows why I speak to you this way. Do not look back as the plowman does to his furrow. Look straight ahead.

My sheep look at the crown I wore for you, My children, for the whole world, for those who sing to Me as for those who curse Me as well. But everyone would get their reward as they worked. My scythe is broken and I have nothing to mow with. My fishing rod is broken and I have nothing to catch fish with; you understand what kind of fish. My children I came down from heaven on earth to catch fish; I came down to multiply fish but look the serpents multiply. The Antichrist fights with Me; he wants to put out the light, My light on earth. Do you not see him? You will see him when the church perishes and when the priesthood perishes and many will call themselves wise people.

The hour is coming, son, when you cannot buy or sell without a stamp, ("The Seal" on the cards that the communist regime divided for bread, oil, sugar, and so on, the ones that were given with portion only to those who received them, r.n.) but you, My children, do not give up, for I do not forsake you too. Have hope and faith for in no way will you die with hunger.

My sons, when you receive pain and have no comfort, fall on your face and ask, for I, the Lord, will give you peace and calm the storm. Ask and I shall give to you. Behold, I mostly run after the lost sheep and you need to know that you will be greatly comforted by the holy heaven because a sinful man hardly enters the holy heaven. I came down for the whole earth, for believers and unbelievers as well, but many consider My words crazy. You have had at your hand all the teaching through the Holy Scripture, through the holy church, through the lives of the saints. You have had all the Christian ordinances, but you, instead of fulfilling it, have forsaken all ordinances of salvation considering them crazy. The world takes Me as a fool now when I am calling you to Me. The world says that I am a fool, but tomorrow I will say: "Go away from Me to where you prepared your place!" What will the world say then? I comforted, I healed and you said that I was a fool. Be also a fool for Me and for My words?

... Who cares more about children, wife, mother, father, cornfields than about Me can-not be worthy of Me. These cannot take you into the kingdom of heaven. If you did evil deeds you would go in hell with them. You can have thousands of children, brothers, sisters, mother, father; these cannot save you. Only I, God, can save you. Ask from Me power and faith.

... My children, a train is a snake with an iron beak which carries thousands of people on its back, in all parts of the world, full of all kinds of sins: pride, wickedness and debauchery; it carries the work of Antichrist. Behold, that it is being fulfilled all that the prophet said, that the earth is filled with birds with iron beak, snakes with an iron beak, turtles with an iron beak.

Here, today I have come down to this vessel in the Doicești train station and I have spoken with a thunder voice and people of all sort were running to see and hear and they were crying and saying that they have not seen and heard something like this before. There were people of Antichrist in the train. I wanted to destroy the train, but I thought of so many thousands of people that were on the train and I said, "It is better for My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) to suffer for God." She was trampled under feet. There were scented people, well dressed and when they heard, they watered their shirts crying. Oh, how many people are who do not know God! What a great discourse these people of Antichrist have done! (The Security Service of the Communist regime, r.n.) And they took actions to send My vessel into the mental hospital. But what do you say? Great is the pain of My vessel, but I will comfort her when the prophecy ceases. Now it is for you to comfort her.

You will be forbidden to pasture the grass which you know. (The Word of God, r.n.) Do you understand? I told you that I speak in parables. You will be forbidden to bear the faith, to attend the church too and the famine and drought will come this year and there will be only trouble for you. There will be fruit: prunes, wheat, corn; there will be enough of these, but My Word will be no more for you will be forbidden. I tell you more: give up the desires of the body. Marriage is not forbidden but who has love and determination to get to the saints, they are to stop. Make up your mind with no doubt. We are not talking any more about the Advent, or Lent, or about the feast of the holy apostles and Virgin Mary. In a word, refrain yourselves.

— Lord what are we to eat in the days of feasting? With what kind of food?

— Sons, if you want you can; here is your food: a little piece of bread and water, at the sundown. Here is another way: you will eat food without grease and all at sundown for the day is long and so is your will."

— Lord, what are we to do with the Holy Communion?

— Ask for Holy Communion to be given to you every three weeks and two weeks for they will not give you more than that. I would give you each day. I have called in churches to the servants. The time has come to stop you with the hand, to stop you from praising God. Rejoice for the day has come near! It has stopped you from praising God but it has not stopped you from praying. Pray when you go to the water, when you go to work, when you go to your field, when you go to the woods. Praise God! Here, the priests, instead of finishing the service at twelve o'clock they hurry to finish it earlier. Many overlook the words of the service but do not judge rather obey. If they slap you in the right face, turn the left one too.

... You love to meet many of you but now it is not possible for the time is evil.

... Children, when you are judged do not be troubled for everything comes from above, from the Holy Spirit. Here is what the persecutor said to Verginica: "If this being suffers for God, what am I going to do with my wicked deeds which I have done and I am doing all the time?" Who made him gently? He was gentle with My prophet but the commander (From Security, r.n.) was very harsh. When My vessel was speaking, she was beaten and persecuted and the judged came and saw My vessel, Verginica, where she was locked and said sobbing: "It would have been better for you not to be born. But I do not want to be wrong here is what I say to you: you will escape keep your courage for you will be released."

... Here My vessel is about to travel today to see the doctor. Now she will rise and cry bitterly with the pain she is suffering due to the blows she received in the train. She was punched in her head, slapped over the mouth, over the lungs; her ribs were almost broken as she was dragged away and taken in a room in the train station and now they are taking her to the doctors. But blessed is she for great will be her reward into My kingdom when she comes, for she will be among My prophets. I prepared a place for her, unspeakable, and I am preparing and is being prepared for all those who suffer for My word and for My trumpet, Verginica.

...Oh, tough days will come! Oh, how much foolish you are! The sunrise is fighting with the sundown, the dark is fighting with light; two kings are fighting, hell is fighting with heaven. Do you understand? The King of kings and the Lord of lords, all follow him for He is coming to wage war. And the vineyard will be reaped and all the grapes will be gathered together and be put in a wine press and the wine will flow, and the vineyard will be put into the fire and the grapes will be crushed.

Oh, the dungeons groan, but all are there for theft, murders, for dirty things. Rarely do you find someone there for the word of God.

The Word of God

... Children, do not be frightened, for the fearful will not enter the kingdom of God. My Spirit, who is doing the work, has been on guard so that you may not be fearful. I was not fearful. The saints have not been fearful. Put on the garment of faith. Did you understand? Oh, if I put My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) into the fire, and I will not let you until I show you, until I give you light, for the light will perish and you will be light, My people. I tell you do not pray reluctantly. It is the time of the Antichrist. The Antichrist is working invisibly; he has servants who are running from man to man and tell him to leave God, the Creator of heaven and earth. Oh, My people, do not forsake Me, and I will not forsake you as well.

Oh, My children, be strong, for now I have told you who you fight with. Behold, take the sword into your hand, for those without the sword are not strong, for look, the king had the commandment not to touch the oil, (Faith and God's love, r.n.) but he broke the commandment; he touched. Do you understand?

Oh, My children, who still keep My commandments, beware so that the stamp may not be put on your hand or on your forehead (The stamp on the membership card of the Romanian Communist Party, r.n.) for look, My little church is empty, and those who come, one percent, is good; the rest are dirty and filthy. But the entertainment lounges are full.

Oh, where is the world for which I was crucified; the world for which I am carrying the cross, for which I am carrying the crown of thorns? Where are the sons for whom I cried on the cross? The devil is boasting with them that they are doing his will. He was not crucified, he did not suffer. He does evil to all and they still love him and do his dirty will.

I suffer pain from this earth which is full of aborted and thrown away children! All creatures and animals, which live on earth, are wiser than mothers, wiser than the parents who do these dirty, filthy and outrageous things. The family of doctors has turned into butchers. Women are sitting in a row as for bread waiting for their turn. How can I further look at this earth, filthy with innocent blood? Behold, the devil is a butcher and urges the world, and the world listens; thousands and millions of souls are butchered in an hour.

Here is another sin: man has given up bread and feeds on fire. I turned into a dove and I met a man on the road who said to another: "Give me a fire, for I have not eaten bread since yesterday, but I cannot give up tobacco."

I cannot come down to make a guess; I did not come to guess. Sons, many comes with icons and with pictures at the head of My vessel and say to tell them too, if they marry or are given in marriage, but I did not come to marry or to be given in marriage. Let these pictures at the head of My vessel disappear, for I will put fire on those who carry these.

I came with a body too. Now I have come with the Spirit to urge to suffer in your body, to suffer all that I say to you; abstinence, stopping from doing wrong, from drunkenness, from fornication, from greed, from arrogance and pride; in a word, from everything that is evil.

The kingdom of God is taken by force. No one can take it otherwise but by force; the same way the saints of God have been taking it. Sons, I want you to be holy; they go to God and say: "How long God, until we meet your chosen ones?" Sons, get ready for the meeting.

My children, the church is being locked, all the books are being gathered and burned. My children, this king gathers everything. (The Communist regime, r.n.)

Oh, well children, the devil has never planted any of good fruit tree, but rather bad fruit trees. The devil comes and enters the church, but you, now, are not seeing him, but you will see him too, him and all of his bad work and dirty filth. The women go to church muttering, not praying, rather chanting and spellbinding, to cheat and lead astray from the truth. Here, the devil has herds of sheep, cattle, goats, pigs, heifers, geese and ducks. Where did he get them from? From the world, sons. What will you say, man? That all these you gave to the devil? They were theirs and you used them. Untie them by praying. It is sin to eat and drink from what you gave to the devil. It is sin to use the things given to the evil one. Untie them by confession.

I have come down to purify the gold. I have come to separate gold from the metal. Why sons, the gold has mixed with the metal? Oh, I have come down only in the mountains with snow. The wind is blowing and throwing the snow over Me.

... Son, you have come with the trug at the spring. Let you leave with it full; leave with your heart filled.

... Children, the gates of heaven are opened to the hinges. Behold, the thief on the cross has received the heaven. The thief repented but the man does not want. Oh, your deeds cause you to be deprived from all the gifts lowered from above, from the Father of the lights. Sons, learn the Scriptures by heart, for all the books will be gathered and you will remain with what you have learned. (Under the communist regime it was forbidding to own the Bible, r.n.)

I need righteous young people, and you, men, leave your desires, for you cannot get above with all things of the world, fleshly and worldly. You preachers keep to the cleanness; if you can live in cleanness. Oh, soul, why have you got angry? I did not oblige you, but who can, he does well. Do not get upset. The man is free to do whatever he wants, but who wants to fulfill the cleanness, that one will see the place what he has been prepared. As for the grumblers, here is what I say: from Saturday evening until Monday morning do not touch sin. It is great sin to defile the day of joy and celebration. Buy yourselves a little coat. Oh, that you do not want to be holy! At the church and at prayer you should leave your crop fields, plough lands, chores and you will see that you will gather much. Behold, I have not given rain because of the sins of the world, and the ground has remained dry. Your fruit trees do not yield fruits because of your sins. My mother prayed and is praying to Me to give rain so that the cattle and birds may not die, for they are without sin, but concerning man it would not be even a drop of water on earth, and what would you do, man, you who say that you are everything and can do everything?

Here, children, there is a high water and on it a woman is ridding and she has a cup in her hand and from the cup all the kings of the earth will drink; the one past and those to come.

... Sons, the priest Ioan from Vladimirești (The monastery which was closed by the communist regime) is only skin and bones into the cell in Aiud. (One of the most terrible prisons of the communist regime in Romania, r.n.) He has nothing but little flesh on him and the other wonder at him. He is there in the prison and feeds the souls with food. He has two hundred and seventy souls who are praying for him. Oh, how hard work he endured! Not even thieves or murderers have undergone so many labors that a Christian has, but to those who suffer for me I give numbness so that they may not feel the pains, burns and blows. Look at Verginica, my vessel, how many she suffered: how many burns, stings and blows! But I gave her power to be successful, for it was a commander (From Security, r.n.) who was crying to her that it horrified her.

Sons, children, when you see the desolate city, I knock at your door. Which is the desolate city? Oh, it is faith, children. When the faith will grow cold, the evil one comes, is ready.

Sons, on the whole world it is only smoke. Children, I have sown wheat and there on earth it is more tobacco. Where does this seed come from? It is from Satan; he has sown it. See that this taste may not come over you. See that you do not poison yourselves. Well children, do not care more about your bodies than to your souls.

The Word of God

... I have come down from heaven to earth but if you want Me to talk to you, tame your hearts. I look and see that your hearts have been hardened. There is no fiddler to play to you; it is none. If you have come for something like this, it is not, and if you do not believe that I am, once you will see, that the same way I descended once in a body to heal the bodies, the same way I have descended now in Spirit to heal the souls. Sons, I have not come to strike with the rod, rather to heal the sick souls. Today I am speaking gently to you, in the Spirit, but tomorrow I will come and speak to you with thunders and thunderbolts so that the earth will be shaken.

... Behold My children, I detest coming down in a vessel, that this I found cleansed and washed, and at My word it will be cleansed. I became gentle after the man's will. I pour out water with a bucket to the flowers with the crowd.

... Here are the last days. Sons, come to Me, for I have where to take you; the gates are open to the hinges. Come to Me, for I have what to feed you on. Come all of you, for I have every kind of relishes.

Oh, I see in your midst some infants. Well, come to Me, children! Sons, those fourteen thousands of infants who were sacrificed for Me, all have bugles and praise My name. See why it is so great joy on that day of Christmas; therefore I make bagels which are shared. The same way you rejoice, likewise those in heaven rejoice.

... I am not scented as you use to be. I am not speaking of you all; I only speak about some of you. Leave luxury and pride, for they are greatly abhorred by Me.

... I have come to seek the lost sheep. Here, you lose the sheep, the cow or the goat, are seeking it and say: "May the wolves eat you!" if you do not find it anymore. Oh, how about if I did the same to you and say: "Only if I find you no more!"...

... Son, you got upset because you did not have a job, but I had not coat, no money, no crop fields, no fortune and I lived too. Oh, of you have faith, you would have gold to sit on it, and you would have all you need to live with, the way I like, not as the world does, with pride and with rich food that spoil.

... I have a Lamb which was sacrificed. Who is this? Jesus Christ was sacrificed for the whole breath and for the whole human kind, but few come to Him, few believe in his sacrifice without blood.

The Word of God

... Oh, My people, you who have the cross on My way do no swerve from My way. Carry the cross to the end for you are not alone; we all are one, we all are brothers. You do not believe but we all are brothers, and we have one Spirit from our heavenly Father.

Oh, My sheep, we still have a second to pass and we meet in the heavenly homeland.

Sons, many have asked for their share and left for the world. Here, the Satan comes in front of the Father and the world says that it serves him through defilement and without christened children, who need to be cleansed and sanctified, for they serve Satan. You know that many serve both God and Satan and go to the church and worship and then they go to the church and get drunk and swear and talk dirty and filthy words. Many pass by My cross and worship and then go forward and swear.

I will judge first the Antichrist.

Oh, Romania, Romania, I have done much holy thing in you!

... The body cannot put on the little coat of soul and neither can the soul put on the little coat of the body. Which one of them is more expensive, the coat of the body or the coat of the soul? Who gave the coat of the body? It is given by the godfather. And who gave the coat of the soul? It is given by the Holy Spirit. Therefore, the body cannot take on the coat of the soul and neither the soul can take on the coat of the body. Consecrate yourselves now when you are in your bodies for the Father needs you for heaven. If only you want and the heaven is yours.

The Antichrist is fighting against the Christians. The Antichrist is working in the way of God and enters the church in the altar, (Priests with a commitment to cooperate with the Security, the political police of the communist regime, r.n.), but you hold on tight. I asked the Father to let Me manifest in the body so that you may not fall again.

Children, the voice that you hear now, that one will judge you.

There will be great, great, famine, but I keep talking to you; I continue to come down to talk to you. I will come down and I will give you wheat seed (The Word of God, r.n.) so that you may sow, My people, but do not throw it on any soil. Choose the soil so that the good soil may produce fruit. Out of one seed it will grow a wheat ear; of a wheat ear it will grow into a kilogram; of one kilogram it will grow much and it will be multiplied and you will make bread and feed the world. And I will come down to give you more seed. Do you know what kind of seed? Vineyard seed. And the vineyard will yield a sprout and the vine branch will grow grape clusters and grapes as heavy as a kilogram and there will come out much wine. My people, you should sow it in a good soil to give fruit, for it will bear much fruit, but there will be no one to drink it. Son, do you understand what this mystery means?

Oh, My people, you are in the fourth grade; hold on tight so that your prize may not be taken by another. Believe, learn and fight the good fight so that you may get the crown. Son, do not lose or forget any of the words, for you will be asked of all. Oh, sons, you know that the doctors learn many things until they catch the learning to heal the sick people and to give them medicine, needed to their sickness. Here, you too need great and strong faith, for the dead will be resurrected and you will heal the sicknesses.

... My people, do you know the signs of the Antichrist? Here they are: falling away from the faith, denial of the Holy Trinity, Father, Son and Holy Spirit, and the denial of the holy work. Oh, there is another sign, there is something more. The first sign is falling away from the faith; the second is removing of the icons and of prayers from school, and the third sign is the desolation of the house of God. Here the cornerstone, and in its midst is the wickedness.

Sons, there was made a bakery for many people and this plant does not make bread from clean wheat; it makes bread from much mixed flour. It is so with the faith; there has been made much medley and the world does not know what to believe. Son, son, woe to those through whom the madness comes!

... At Vladimirești (Monastery, r.n.) the angels perform the liturgy and services, and the Father wants it to be kept that way until it will be opened again. (Closed by the Security Service of the Communist regime, r.n.) Oh, fire shall be shown on earth as lightning and the wicked ones and unbelievers will repent, but it will be too late.

Sons, the cross has disappeared from the table of the judge and the icons from schools and the prayer from schools. Sons, why did I not learn in school? Sons who learns much, learns also many ugly deeds and he denies the faith, for it creeps the spirit of pride and of self love into the hearts. There have been many, many schools, but there have come out also very many dirty deeds so that you may not think about God and for man to do them as long as he lives.

... Pray children, and if you want, pray with bowing down to the ground (prostrations <sup>9</sup>), the same way waivodes and angels do. If they pray like this, how are you to pray? But I tell you, pray with prostration and let not prostration be missed from your prayer in the morning and in the evening and do not go to sleep without praying. The same way you take care of the food, which is fleeting, likewise take care of the praying, for it remains to be seen once. The prayer will be the power by which you will escape. By prayer you get away here on earth, from many troubles, and likewise in heaven, you will get there by prayer.

... Only then, when My image disappears from the icons, from the cross, shall you cut your beards. Father wants it like this; He wants to see His image on the face of the people, for the world has now been led astray from the image, from clothing and living and Christian talking. No one wants to know that everything has a limit.

The Word of God

... Peace to you, children! I have come from heaven in Spirit as I cannot come in a body. I was once in a body. I was born of the Virgin; I healed, I cured and repaired; I taught all that Father wanted; I saturated five thousand people with bread and fish, I raised the dead, and as a reward they crucified and buried Me. This is what the humankind wants; after benefactions, revenge. This is how the humankind rewards.

Oh, well children, I healed without a reward. I left the glorious throne, beautifully decorated, I left Father and My mother, I left the hosts of angels, waivodes, cherubim, seraphim and I came to the fig tree and I found no fruit in it. And what shall I do now? I was once and what did I do? Oh, here I come again now at the fig tree, distressful, and what else shall I do? Here I came Myself, I did not sent My servants anymore as those I sent did not come back; they killed them all. Oh, I came Myself in a body, and likewise I did not come back the same way I came; I changed. You change yourselves too, children.

Here, I did not come down in a glorious vessel in the body, a vessel from a great family so that you may not come to him and talk with him. I have descended in a poor manger, as then in the sheep pen. I have descended in the manger, weak and sick, in a handful of dust. I have come down to the children who keep My words, of the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, of the holy Church and the ordinances of the holy fathers.

Children, God wants you and the angels and the saints want you as well and wait for you and ask Me: "When shall we meet those on earth?" Children, do the works worthy of being able to meet the saints and the angels in heaven. You will not be asked what you cannot fulfill. You will be asked faith, humility, feast, prayer, so that you may have part on the heaven mercy. Children, if you have what to eat and clothe with, a little, humble and simple thing, be content with it. Children, the pain is coming and going but you will not pass. The heaven and earth will pass away but My words will not pass. Heaven and earth will not pass away until My words are fulfilled. Weep here in the valley of weeping to be able to rejoice in the heavenly ones, with the righteous.

Children, many will come in front of My face and say: "Did we not heal or cure or teach in your name when we lived on earth?" But I will say them plainly: "I do not know you as you practiced lawlessness."

<sup>9</sup> A bending on ones knees until the forehead touches the ground and then the body comes back on ones feet, during which a prayer is being said "Oh, Lord Jesus Christ, Son of God, have mercy on me, the sinner", so that only in the exact moment of touching the ground with the forehead one say "me, the sinner" r.n.

Oh, sons, I want to choose you as gold is chosen here on earth. The way gold is chosen and tried by fire, the same way you too, will pass through the fire and will be hardened so as good may be separated evil.

Here the devil is fighting against the Father, and the heaven is separating from the earth. The Caesar is taking what is his and the Lord is taking what is His.

Who wants to marry is free to do so. Who wants to go into marriage let him or her do so. You are not forbidden, but who wants to remain as he is, he does what is good, for it is what Father wants, for My Father's will is that you may be holy as I am. Be wise for the wind blows harshly and strongly, from all sides, to put you down. Do you believe? Be holy? But you cannot be holy if you steal, if you lie, if you slander, if you swear, if you curse, if you judge another and do not keep what the church teaches you and the learning of the saints. Children, separate the weeds from the wheat for no saint will come to teach you. Sanctify yourselves as the saints do not come anymore, for it is the time of the Antichrist. Work and you shall be rewarded.

My children, on earth are only evil spirits. You will have no place anywhere you go; for wherever you go you will be watched.

Mothers, establish your children in faith for you are responsible for them. You are their school, for look, in school there is no more God. Mother, mother, build in them the faith, for you will be asked of everything your child is doing.

Oh, your hand will be put at your mouth so that you cannot be My witnesses, sons! (The Security, the political police of the communist regime, r.n.) Here that I cannot be stopped. My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) will be killed, but I will speak through the trees, stones and through all that you see with your own eyes. If you do not want to be doers, I will speak through all that is on earth to show My power.

Mothers, you who cursed, who committed fornication, who aborted, who sinned, who slept in the church, you, who talked loudly, who came to the church dressed with bare hands and feet and heads, who come into the church scented and powdered, you who drive the men mad, get rid of all these for you will have no place in heaven. Mother, mother who aborted, if you only hear your child crying and screaming! Oh, that you will take his place when you go there. Mother who committed adultery, repent and get undressed of your dirty deeds for your hour is coming to be asked of all. Mother, you who have the custom to give the devil your child or your spouse, actually, it is you that give yourself to the devil for to him you will go. Mothers! For I call out all you who are mothers, for if I speak with everyone separately I will not finish My calling.

... Adam and Eve, for food were cast out, but the world of nowadays, with all that it does, how will it appear before the judgment when it is called out as Adam? Here children, the children come from other villages to listen, to talk with the Spirit of God, Who is speaking through this vessel of Mine, who I found clean and humbled. I have come to urge you to keep God's commandments which are written in the Holy Scriptures and to keep them as I gave them to the holy fathers, through the holy churches, not as some are reading now, a passage or a chapter, and that is all. No, children, fulfill all and you will rejoice.

Here My vessel, (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) they took her and did all kinds of tests with her. They had drawn all her blood and injected her with old serum to lose it, (The agents from the Security, the political police of the communist regime, r.n.) but the hand of the Father was with her; and it will not be long until I take her from the earth. Then you will see who this vessel was, and the village Maluri, I will lose out with My fire, as Sodom and Gomorrah, for none of them in this village wanted to believe, rather slandered and despised My word. (Later, under the leadership of Ceaușescu, the village was demolished, wiped off the earth, to make place for the "socialist agriculture", r.n.)

The Word of God

... Peace to you, My children; peace and quietness. Why are you so downcast, so sad? Why are you crying, My children? I have come down to you this time. Oh, if you see My journey, where I travel! Sons, you wait for Me to come to you but you do not know how I come on earth; you do not know on what path, for I do not have a home, I do not have a table any more to come to you, I do not have a home anymore to come to you, Christians, for the house, which the people made to Me, is full of spiders. Oh, world, world, I do not have any place in you! Oh, My little children, the Lord came into your midst. I have come not in a body but in the Spirit. Hold on to My lap for the enemies came and took My little house and My little coat. Keep in mind, sons, do not take the spirit out of the swaddle of baptism. Do not remove the cross I baptized you with. Oh, My children, My Spirit came so that it may be fulfilled what I said when I was in the body. My flowers, I gave you grace after grace, for I do not have a home on earth. I am full of sores; I do not have even a shadow on earth.

My children, the table is set for you and the garment is ready for you. Do not look back, for you will turn into a salty rock. Do not think that you do not have board and house anymore, but look ahead to see God's coming to you, for Elijah comes after Me, and he is not body but spirit. Leave your burdens down. Arm yourselves with the power of Christ. Straighten the ear to Me.

Oh, My roses with thorns on the stalk; for I wanted to break one to smell it, but I hurt My finger. Here the blood is running. I grabbed with the whole hand to break it; I thought that it did not have any thorns. Oh, My flowers, what a big storm is on the earth! (The communism, r.n.) Say, who woke you up and told that the time came near? Sons, the Lord made a house and came down to you on earth; not now, but in a while, not in a day. My flowers, be on watch, so that you may enter it.

... My children, the Spirit is speaking. My children, you do not have any thorns on your head, not even a nail on your body, but I am full of nails.

Sons, many prophets will be born on earth, but keep in mind at their sowings. Great darkness will come on earth, but you will light the world, My child. Those that I tell you about are not brought now and were written since I was in the body on earth. Know Me, little sheep, for I am into your midst. Know Me for the mercy, know Me after the fruit. My child, the one without the cross is not from God. Everyone who is without a priest is not from God.

... My children wake up, for I am not alone. I have taken with Me My friends who accompanied Me when I left. Oh, fleeting flower, oh, you sold yourselves for nothing, My people on earth! Oh, if you see how precious your redemption is! For if I gave you only a nail from My palm, you had nothing to buy it with; only a thorn on My head, you had no money to buy it with. Oh, why do you not redeem the one under the sin? Why? For fear did not seize you? Fear made a covering over you.

Children of heaven let the dead bury their dead; you take the cross and follow Me. Although it is fallen down, raise it to your shoulders and go with it towards the palace.

Here what an unspeakable joy is to come and drink, sons! What do you drink with? With your little mouth or with your little hand? Drink water sons, drink, for Father brought you the little cup. Drink water from My spring. My child, fill up the knapsacks well, for you can, with God's help. Do you want to listen, to write? Then let the wind not blow something from your burden.

... My flowers, I repeat to you, many false prophets were born on earth. Sons, you know the prophets, for not all of them are from Me. The one who carries My cross, that one you should believe. Many have put themselves to be sheep shepherds, (Church priests and pastors, r.n.) but when the wolf has come they left them. Sons, not all the winds (Teachings, r.n.) which blow are from Me. Take good heed, the one who bears My cross, confessing God in body and in Spirit, that one is from Me, for the cross is sufferings and deeds. Who confesses God and drinks bad drinks except wine, is not from Me.

... My little sheep, if you saw that you are near the little gate, you would not run away from sufferance. Oh, the waves of the water are flooding Me, for I am working, and here the devil is working too. The devil has many tools and few servants have I got on earth. Where shall I meet the devil? He does things to spite Me and says that he has taken My kingdom. Oh, children, he cannot take My kingdom; beyond this point he cannot go further. Despite all his power, I will destroy him, and many will weep when they see whom they served. Oh, world, come back to Me! Throw away his coat of gold and purple and precious stones and dress, world, with a coat of a bagger and ask from Me salvation.

Oh, My children let your fleshly food not surpass the one of your soul. I tell you that whoever follows Me has a heavy cross and let him not ask help from man, but rather from God.

I decided sons to lose the devil on earth and wherever his tool is, be it a city, or a house, or a church, I will destroy them if I find his tool in it.

You pillars, the new Canaan is being prepared for you. Your power is not in the body, but in the Spirit. Do not be discouraged for you cannot, for the power is in Spirit. God has given you grace and gift. On this earth My stonemasons work.

... Sons tell the other little sheep to graze the little grass known to them, for on earth many thorns have been spread, and let them not bring you wounds in the spirit. Tell your brothers, to your parents and to the children who are not here, but not to the ones from the sea (From the world, r.n.), but rather to those in My house.

My children, why have I come to you? Well, children, Father sent Me to you; I did not come by My will. Sons, I keep the keys and I unlock the door of good and evil. I know that no one will enter the evil one and all will throng to the gate of the good, but if I find someone without the little coat, I will throw him outside. My mother came crying for you in front of My Father and told Him that you are full of sores. I have searched the whole body of those who believe in Me and found no wounds on the body, but I have severe wounds instead. I look at My children, and see that no one has a grieving heart. You are with the death behind you and you are not humbled; you go to and fro only joking. My mother came crying that you have a heavy cross. Where is your heavy cross? For I have not seen you crying. I have seen you laughing. My children do not go with your cross on other roads. I leave you, My child, if you do so. Do not enter the saloon with the cross (Today, disco rooms, r.n.); do not enter the cinema or the tavern with the cross. Listen My flower, that I anointed you with ointment from the heavenly home; do not enter other roads with My cross, for I leave you.

Here what My way is. The first little gate is to deny your body that is, not to commit adultery any more, not lie any more, not steal or murder anymore, to feast and pray instead. The second little gate, My child, is the cross I gave you, the crucifying cross. Look at it to see your face if it is good or bad. The third one is the chalice (From the communion, r.n.) which is full; drink it, My child, to receive power from God, for it is given to you, not for those with a defiled heart. You, children, listen to Me, for you entered those two little gates, but you did not get to the third one, which I told you to take each day. My little children, you still have a threshold to pass. Here you still have the love for your neighbor, for the little church, for those who have sacrificed themselves in front of the holy altar, as God sent Me into the vineyard to take grapes from it; My Father sent Me to pick flowers, but there were neither grapes nor flowers, for I had nothing to take from. Oh, sons, with what are you to pay My labor, of My Spirit, of My nest, of My vessel? (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) Oh, sons, I do not ask your payment, I ask from you mercy; I do not ask a calf or an ox, rather I ask as a sacrifice the mercy of your spirit.

... Do not look back for you will turn into a pillar of salt. Do not look back anymore for you do not have room and board any longer, but rather look that the Lord is coming. After Me comes Elijah, and he is not a body but a spirit.

... Here, children, I have a people in the east that I raised from the dark grave; I have a people in the west that I raised from the dark grave; I have a people in the south that I raised from the dark grave; I have a people in the north that I raised from the dark grave. In the east the stone speaks by the spirit and at the judgment, the stone would say that you heard it through the man and did not believe. Do not judge so that you will not be part of the judgment. In the west it was spoken through the trees and a group of men rose and here that they fought against the king who wanted to destroy their little church. These people fight against the evil king. In war there is a terrible fight, as not even the little church is standing, but the cross is carried by My children on their arms. In the north I have raised the people through the fishes from the pond. The fishes get on the banks and cry out: "Repent!" In the south I have raised the people through the swallows which cry out: "Repent, for the kingdom of heaven has come near!" But you that have a voice of a human, how it is that you do not believe? Do not be frightened that you have severe sufferance. Today miracles are not done in the flesh any more, but rather they are done in the spirit. Today the devil is performing the miracles. I put the stars on the sky and he put the stars on the earth (The communist star, r.n.).

... The city of Bucharest, city of Bucharest, Sodom and Gomorrah are you! There have been found some swallows in one of your margins which are looking for their nest.

Oh, My flowers, oh My people, Canaan is coming to you! Oh, sons, you do not see the thorns you are going through. Blessed is the open door today that I can come with all of My work. I have come to help you in sufferance. I know how to carry it. I have come to make your way smooth too, for My mother is crying that you have only hills on it.

... Do not say that the church is torn down for God will forsake you. No, son. If you serve God, not to the flesh, rather in spirit, God will not forsake you. Carry My cross, for I carry your burden too. Sons, My mother is praying to pass the later time, to pass the sufferance from you, but it cannot pass anything. Heaven and earth will pass away but My words will never pass away. I tell you, get ready in the spirit for the time has come to present yourselves in front of God. There is no human that will not pass in front of God. That time has come. It is not Noah and it is not Lot, but the Spirit of Christ.

Peace to you, My children. Amen

The Word of God

... Verginica, get up from your bed for I will give you work to do. Verginica, prepare a notebook and a feather, waiting for the Lord to come.

I, when I was waiting, saw over my head a big crown, two times enlarged, as large as the wheel of a wagon. It was such a beauty... with thousands of colors! The colors were wide in the form of a ribbon and followed one after another. And in the middle of the halo, down to the shoulders, it appeared the face of the Lord, Jesus Christ, with his hair as a brook of water, which was flowing on His right and left shoulder, a hair like the light of a lamp, a blonde face and blue eyes. He looked so gentle that only his look was comforting me. He looked at me so gently but did not say anything. And like a lightning the gentle face of the Lord disappeared and changed into another: the old face of the heavenly Father. It was only the face which could be seen; the rest was covered. The shoulders, the beard were all only a white wool, whiter than snow. His eyes were also blue, only the hair was white, but the face was red and young; the eyes were lively. He looked at me and called me out:

— Verginica, what are you doing? Verginica, do you know who I am?

— Yes. Lord, I know you. You are the heavenly Father.

— I am. You never forget Me! Write to My children this way, as for thousands of years the Lord has been talking to them. God made man specially, after His image, from the very beginning. I gave him soul from my Spirit, I gave him from My speech, and all others are given to him from what is Mine and many say that all that they have are made by them. Write, Verginica, My pearls, and give them to My children to read them, as for thousands of years the Lord has been speaking with the Christians as well as with the pagans, and they have not been producing fruits worthy of repentance.

... Lying, blasphemy, murder and adultery have been multiplied. I set limits over limits to their transgressions. Write Verginica, that the Lord will come for judgment for them and He will be quick to anger for all who do not receive My words, for those who do not do My will. Speak Verginica that I have written to them through the prophets, to repent and they have not repented. I have threatened all man with severe winters, with thunders and rains without measure; I have made great wars against their lives, I have raised a people against another to horrify them; I have made many signs so that they might see My wrath on their iniquities. I have taken the fruit of their fruit trees and of the grains and of the field so that they know that they swerved from My truth and My will.

Tell, Verginica, to the sons of Israel who call themselves Christians, for if the Lord came and found them in unbelief and disobedience, envy and hatred, terrified of what he would find, he would cry with anger: “Woe to you, the wicked! Why have I fed you? I have given you much bread, and all the goodies, have I given you. I have satiated you to the full but you have stuffed and do not listen to Me.”

... Write, Verginica, that God does not hate man but rather sin, and commands all the sons of Israel to keep away from sin and hate sin which makes God upset.

... Write, Verginica, to My sons, not to be like those from Gomorrah and Sodom, for those who were falling within the range of the bullets and bombs, were contended to lose everything only to escape with their lives, and now they do not want to heal their wounds. For these wicked deeds their estates and vineyards were taken away; (By the communist regime, r.n.) for they were having and were not hearing the cries of the orphans and of the widows and to the poor ones they were not giving.

... Write Verginica, My sighing, the one from the heart, for deep would have I gotten, that the last day is coming; for the time has come, but My day has not come, to call the Christian into account for the income of his work. I will not call the Christian into account for money, clothes, luxury, houses, furniture, abundant meals, but I will call him into account if he has given food to the poor one, that is the hungry one, or if he has clothed the naked ones, or if he has sought the sick ones or if he has comforted the afflicted ones.

... Write, Verginica, to My people, do not let you enchanted after the wicked people, for cursed is the Christian who forsakes the Law of God and is making himself one with the heathens, for hard it will be for him to escape the heathens, for heathens have their own god, the devil, and they make written evidence for the one who gets into their hands.

... Woe to those who enter into the middle of My people with deceptive words and stealing one of the Christians, dragging him into the world, for to him who enters the sheepfold and steals a sheep, I will ask him, on the judgment day, out of his hand to give Me, the soul of that sheep. Woe to him who advise the Christians to do evil! Woe to the world because of its madness that it does!

... Be submitted to God's commandments and to His Law, and not to the man's who brought you only madness, and not to the eye, and not to the hand, nor to the leg, and not to any of the members, but only to God submit yourself, son.

... The man of nowadays says that only the rich ones in the old times did evil things, that they were living on the poor. But what is the nowadays man doing? He has spoiled everything. The poor have been taken the house and meal. Oh, woe, woe, these and those are the same, but the people from those times are more forgiven, for they believed in God; but these do not believe and corrupt those who believe and those who serve Me.

... The Christians ones from the beginning were giving everything for the service of God, but the Christians of nowadays do not give anything. The Christians from the beginning were building houses in heaven for the poor, but the Christians of nowadays do not even know how to do it for themselves. All the work and all the things of the Christians are piled up on earth, where they are being spoiled all the time, and in heaven have nothing.

... Write, Verginica, to My people, that some of the children of the people walk disorderly, working nothing; they get tired doing useless things and advise others to trample My commandments. I give commandments to My people, to take care of these sons of them, to lead them to work and to honestly earn their food. Make them understand the law, for who does not work and who does not want to work, must not even eat, for the law is showing us that the laziness is the sin death of the Christian. Out of laziness come many sins. I command My sons to work faithfully for they will get payment from God.

You, My people, bring to the good way the people who commit sins, for you are the light of the world and the salt of the earth. Let the sun not set over you who are at feud with someone. You, Christians, who commune with the pearls which come from the middle of the heavenly throne, with My words and of My Father; this is My commandment: let not be among you neither hatred nor bad words nor shameful jokes, for they do not correspond to the Christian. Do not be pushing, neither covetous nor adulterers, neither drunkards nor wicked, neither greedy nor envious, neither lazy nor blasphemers or boastful, for Christians like these do not inherit the kingdom prepared by God.

You, My children, keep Sunday holy so that you may not fall into the curse of God's law, for God made this day for the rest of the body and strengthening of the soul. If you work on Sunday, you will not be successful all your life and there will come on you damages and heavy afflictions and all your work in all the time will be plundered, for God is against the one who works on Sundays.

I command you Christians, do not leave the church. The light of the Lord will be with you as long as the church is still in service. The time is coming for you to be put out of the church. (By servants of communist dictatorship, r.n.) You, all that time and on that time, do not lose your courage and more, encourage one another and all of you know My coming, for the Lord is not coming on good weather but in the rain and storm. I speak in parables. You, Christians, respect your priests, no matter how harsh they are on you, so that you may not fall into the curse of the God's law.

I command you, Christians, to be pleasant with words, so that your word always may be pleasant and seasoned with salt in order to give great gift to those who listen. Take heed of all the words you speak so that you may not be the people who sow the seed into the wind, for bad words spoil the good words as well.

... I tell you, Christian women, to wear decent clothing with shyness with a sound mind, not as the women of Gomorrah and Sodom did, not with golden braided hair, not with flowers in their hair, not with earrings, not with beads, not with rings, not with bracelets, not making a tinkling with their feet, not with the purses into their hands, not with fancy clothes, but with good deeds as it is proper for the Christian and God-fearing women. The Christian who dresses his woman in luxury shows good quality merchandise to Satan and lately will lose her.

Christian man and women, and you too Christian children, listen to the Lord. I tell you, parents, bring your children up into the teaching of God's law. You Christian old women, I tell you as to some prude mothers, be decent in your appearance; do not be enslaved by worldly words, but be teachers of the good so that you make obedient the younger ones.

... Christian sons, follow what I say by this talking. Well sons, be Christian doers. Cast away the things of the darkness and put on the things of the light for the day has come near and God does not let Himself to be deceived, for I speak truly, Christians, that on the judgment day, you would reap what you sowed in your life. I better tell you, Christians, for the time has come short; be reconciled to God to taste those what your eye saw not, what your ear heard not, did and enter into the heart of man, for God prepared a wonderful place to those who love Him.

If now, after you hear what I have written by the hand of My vessel, (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) if you do not get better, I will send great darkness on earth and the beasts will come out of their dens and will come over the people to feed on them. And I will command them to jump over you too, to be caught, for you did not listen to Me when I was with you. I will command the clouds to pour out rain on earth to wash the earth and I will open the gates of heaven and will send fire on earth so that you may burn as wood.

... Christians, Christians, get better. Take to your heart My advice and My exhortations. Listen, sons, to Me, for I will threaten with heavy sicknesses and you will call the death to take you to escape the sicknesses which will fall down on you, and the death will not come, rather will flee away from you.

... Come, come, Christians, to God! So the Lord is calling you; for you are My friends, and I am your friend. If you do My will, I will not call you My servants, for the servant does not know what his master is doing, and I will call you sons and I will make you known all My things, for those who were from the beginning did not have your gifts.

This is how I urge you, sons, Christians. I do not know what kind of name to call you on, for the Christians from the beginning were not like you. Those Christians from the beginning were not hypocrites as the nowadays Christians are. The Christians from the beginning had, as prophets, people and were listening to them greatly; they cherished and valued them much and the command they gave, that is what they were doing. They did not overlook the commandments which were given through the prophets; they were shunning not spoil the words of the prophets. But you, Christians of today, you have the Holy Trinity Who is prophesying to you and many things have been wrought out with you and many miracles have been performed with you. With what courage, do you, Christians, spoil the things, which the prophecy of the Holy Trinity is doing? The Christians from the beginning did not commit adultery, and they lived their lives with great cleanness. The Christians from the beginning were not led by the Law, but to you, well sons, God has been coming down and is leading you in all things. Why do you not listen to the advice of the prophecy of today? For there are three Powers: Father, Son and Holy Spirit.

... Let it be known to you, Christians, for the one who hides his transgressions and do not confess them to his confessor, that one cannot be forgiven. The Christian who confesses his iniquity to his confessor and does not do the iniquity anymore, that one is washing his heart and is giving it light with the light of the Holy Spirit; the Holy Spirit enters it and masters it.

...I am the Alpha and Omega. I prophesied these words. Who fulfills them will be blessed and who tramples them under his feet will be in great dangers as the sons of Gomorrah. I end here.

Peace to My people, and let it be blessed! Amen

The Word of God

Great shame will be when you go to the mountains to fall on you to escape My wrath. Great shame will be on you, being Christians, to go with the wicked to the graves and call out the dead to get out of their graves so that you may take their places alive. Then the mountains and the dead will prophecy your shamefulness, for you had the Lord as a Prophet, Who called you out and taught you many things and had mercy on you, and you, as some bad Christians, did not want to listen, for the ones who were at the beginning did not have your gifts, but to you, God had come down to lead all His things.

The Word of God

... Peace to you! Peace I give to you! Amen. Learn the symbol of peace. I want nothing without peace. I bring peace from the holy heaven. I have built the peace. If I had not come with peace, it would have been hard. Peace from Me, you blessed sheep! Peace to you, My people! Peace between you and your Father! I give you a command: love one another as I have loved you and let the peace be strong and holy among you. Value one another! It is better for you to die than not have peace among you. I conquered the world through peace, for the world did not conquer and remained at one point. The world prepared for Me a lot, but I overcame through peace. Christian, you buy to build a house, but you do not build peace. It is useless to lay brick upon brick if you do not have a good heart. Beware of strife, for the first word I said when I came down from heaven was "Peace!" It is not like what the man says, "Cheers!" Oh, all the time when I open the gates of heaven, quarrel it is heard. Oh, how the Christian will condemn himself because of this quarrel.

Come to your senses, children, for we will climb the mountain, up there, with many sheep, but I do not know if all of them will reach the mountain, for they are getting sick walking on the way. We will stay many moments on the mountain and afterwards we will come down again to the sheep pen, and when I start whistling My trumpet, all the sheep will come to Me, My child.

Wake up! Do not be drunk in this time. Oh, you drunkard man of this time, who cast your own eyes and make them dirty! It is better for you to get them out than to remain in the world, for this is a crazy time.

I tell you once more that we will go up the mountain with many sheep and we will hear what we have never heard, and will see what we have never seen, and Christians will be as many as the stars, there where we will be.

I have come down on earth to build a house and to enrich you, for this work that I do with you is great. Sons, pray so that you may not lose it, for many come to Me empty and ask Me to give to them.

My child, do not look at the bad man, for this is a heavy sickness. Unbelief and disobedience of man is the most contagious sickness.

... I came to the remnant of Israel, of the ancestors, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. I called you on your name, and I knew you by your face that you belong to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Do not be against God, for it is not only I who will judge you, but your ancestor and your forefather will judge you as well. Oh, no one will go down to the bottom of the water if there is obedience.

My children leave as the fishermen left their nets and came to Me. Leave as the shepherds left their sheep and came to Me. Leave as the carpenters left their work and came to Me. Do not be with empty hearts. My child no one can buy a dry nut; not even a penny will you receive on it. Sons, I want you to be a model. Do you not want to be a model? Oh, not go to the fair market on holiday and not buy anything.

... Someone always says: "I do not want to conceive more children; I have four children." But why he does not say this way: "I will sleep in another bed?" Behold, no matter how I put it, it is still not good for you, Christian. Intercourse between man and woman was for sons bearing and not for lust. Oh, the beasts have taken it ahead of man. If, at least, My teaching was valued by the Christians, for I cannot say this thing to the pagans. Brother and sister, God forbid that the children may be conceived in your belly out of the lust that you have. Do not be upset with what I tell you; this child will be sick all the time, will be mischievous and someone may ask: "Why is this child sick or evil?" Oh, you have not thought at the Lord, Jesus Christ, but rather you thought how to do you lust. If the death came at that hour, it would be hard for you. I am ashamed of this sin. Be frightened of this thing. I gave a command to ease the arms of the women and they said that it was him that could not do it. Brothers, he who is a Christian, let him work according to My command. Who is not a Christian, let him work according to his own will.

Oh, sons, strengthen My vessel (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) so that he may receive nothing of these things from the Christians, for these things are so hard when they come to Me! Be good and clean yourselves of these words. Sons, I do not praise you now; praise is left for the end. Prepare yourselves, for behold, the evil spirit has prepared to swallow the Christians. Unless you become like infants, you will not get into My kingdom.

The Word of God

Sons, what does this work call itself? It is called the house of God's mercy. I brought it to you and it is a God's heavenly meal. Sons, at the beginning I worked many miracles but today I am in the Spirit and keep in My hand this end. Keep well, Christian, into your hands the life without the death, for I will ask your life from you. This work is called the house of the God's royal feast. Behold, when you come, Christian, at this meal, you eat God's feast, and this is what you are to say: "Thank you Father for you made me, the unworthy, worthy to come into your house and eat this spiritual meal." Oh, sons, you leave this place for your home and forgive everything. You come the second time, the third time, and it is not known that you have eaten from My feast. My children, if you do this way, you will be taken out of this place, and the blind, that do not see, will come and I will make My feast with them. This work is called the God's altar, which is put between two stones. This work will shine as the sun. This will be a ship on the sea and it will last until the end, and God will say: "Come, you and your house, into the ark, but take off your shoes."

Sons, all from the monasteries do not bow down to this heavenly work. It is hard to make small someone who is great.

Sons, it will be no more death, and many of you will pass on foot this life, but keep away from this kind of sleep, as it is not for garbage that I build you; I did not built you, so that you put on weight, on this earth.

... Christian who is to pray for this world? When the world sees that are your mocked by the world, no one will give you a share too.

Christian, come back to God, for the day of Passover is coming, so that we may have the Lord's Passover. This work is called the immortal flower, and if it is listened to, it will grow into a big flower.

Son, I dressed again in the Spirit to tell those who are left, on the last day, these big words. You, Christian, will be blessed, that at the end age, it will be put on you the seal of the Holy Spirit.

Here, what My mother is teaching you: "Son, when you get up from your bed, get up on your knees! Bow down to the earth three times and then say this way: "I thank you, Lord, that you woke me up and gave me to see the light of the day. I thank you that you sent your angel to protect me this night." Son, make after this the morning prayer!"

The Word of God

Sons, you are not from an earthly mother, but rather you are born of a spiritual mother. Your eyes did not see when God sent bread into your house. Keep well into your mind, for there is not freedom that it was once. There are locks put on the little churches. (Locked by the communist regime, r.n.) At each little gate there is still a little pathway. Oh, how the doors were open once and you were entering and were not frightened!

Oh, children of Jerusalem, oh, children of the city which is coming! It was told spiritually that the time will come when we are free again. Oh, do not seek without this work, for I want to unlock with you. You are a lump of salt that will salt this whole earth. You are the key of this age at the end. The Lord is keeping it. But to whom did I give this key? See that you do not know if you do not read the Law? For it is written on the big calendar which I left.

Come to your senses as this work is not seen well, but the time will come when it is seen greatly and well for this is the house of Zacchaeus, and know that some of you will enter and others will not enter, for the Lord prepared a place which will not be as those on earth, for the last time is coming. If you do not believe, know that you will not inherit this earth.

... Son, undress of the old clothes and put on the new ones, for the Lord will come to you and will lift you up on the clouds of the sky. If you are into the house, get out from the house on hearing these words. If you are in the field, let the field on hearing this whisper. Get up and follow Me. If you are up on the house, do not come down and do not take anything from your house. Come! On My whispers, get up! Son, hurry up and come after Me! If you are in My services, this is what I allow you; to ask from Me blessing for your journey, for at My whispers all the hell is groaning, and at My words all the hell is afraid for at My calling all the hell will rise. But be careful, Christian, on how you are to leave, for your relatives will get into your way and will stop you. Say to them nothing of My whispers. You come after Me. You know on how that time will be, as even the most beloved friend will keep you so that you may be late. Do not be a slacker for I will call you the son after My own heart and I will love you as I have never loved anyone else. I will name you above the day of the resurrection. I will name you above the day of your birth. I will name you above the birth of the first man. Come to Me, the one in the plan, the man from the symbol, you man from the nowadays time, who did not forget all that has been worked out, who did not forget your Father, whose name is God, and followed Me with all that you had and nothing broke you from the holy truth. Come to Me, for you will feel so good when I call you!

... I have fed you seventy times seven with milk and not with earthly milk, but with spiritual milk, for I have fed you more than your son who sat next to Me. I have fed you so much and I put a bracelet on your hand, so that this world may know you. Keep well Christian, for you have food at Me, for you have drink at Me. Remember My feast which I celebrate, for My feast has not been in any time such as now, as now the cattle (The churches, r.n.) are barren but when they calve they will give us so much milk.

... My people, I have given you bread, but do not say that I have not given you. My people, I have given you water, but do not say that I have not given you. My people I have given you life; receive life from Me. My people enter My ship and do not say that it is not the time. My people for what sin did you fall into the sword of Pharaoh? (By the communist regime sword, r.n.)

... My son, for what did God come to you? Was it that your sin and your iniquity may be allowed? What is the marriage for? This graft is from the foundation of the Most High, and I told you and I am telling you: give birth to sons in the spirit and not in the body, for otherwise, I will not call you the Christian according to My law, rather I will call you Christian against Me. We cannot reconcile on this word; I cannot be reconciled with you having no restraint.

Son, if you succeed in My work, you will see the secret of the son; you will see all the things placed and will see all the secrets into My things.

... I have remained with the people of Israel, but with its remnant, not with those that I took out from the bondage of Pharaoh, but with the sons of the sons of their nation, so that they may inherit the country of Canaan. Oh, My people, we do not have so much time, and that is why the work is short. My word in front of the people is like the rod of Aaron.

... Oh, come closer to Me, Romanian country, because if you do not listen to Me, a sign from Me will remain into you as it had remained as a memory from the emperors' monasteries. Approach Me, Romanian army, as the children who are coming are not from Me, they are not with Me, because God will break down the earthly school and will rise church if there is obedience. God will spoil conception of the infants, if there is obedience among the Romanian army, as I have taken grafting for you and I put grafting from the beginning, so that the unborn remain risen. If I succeed in it, it will be all right, as it is written in the prayer «on earth as it is in heaven», without sin. Keep your faith, as a lot of it is spoiled. The world believes in God, but sins a lot.

Be close to the work of today. Let no one carry out his plan according to his will, but rather all may carry out their plan according to God's will. A Christian should not live with his wife at his will, but rather let him live only according to God's will. It is written in the law about the one who spoils the word of God. That one God names his enemy. Be very careful, Israel, as it was for you that the law came down from the Mount of Sinai.

If I succeed in doing this with you, I will make this land a heaven for you; the eternal life will be on it; you will be the sons of heavenly Eden. Subject yourselves to the heavenly will, My sons. Oh, hear Me, you, New Jerusalem! What say you, will you go without sin? Make no mistakes, My son, in order to be able to succeed with you, to give you the Orthodox-Christian country in use.

Oh, I have spoken this way because of My love for you. Christian, when I am with you, you walk with Me. When I am with you do not fail. Restrain yourself son, and restrain your members, for I am always with you. Restrain son, for the enemy is coming over you if you do not do as I do. Listen to Me, for I am the one who stand against your enemy. Let the news spread to all My people. And be careful so that the dogs of the heathen may not bark at you.

Sons, the time for the new covenant has come, for someone among the Christians say that God has come to get married. I have come with righteousness and I have not found a virgin boy or a virgin girl that do not want to get married bodily, but I have come out of the God's law.

Oh, today nobody is called Romanian, except the Christian one. He may be a German, an Indian, but if he is a Christian, he is a Romanian. Peace to the Romanian people! Peace to you, My people!

... Oh, Verginica, if you look into the Holy Scripture, you will find how David and Matthew, the evangelist, prophesied and how it was worked out and how it is worked out today through the Holy Spirit. Oh, My daughter, many prophecies have been discovered and still people do not understand. Verginica, this vessel which you see, has been since the beginning of the law until now. This vessel is put in front of the Christians, in front of the priests, but in a hidden way, and is being discovered only in parables. Blessed is he who has known the plan of God and who has used his skill, for who washed his life into this vessel, that one became worthy and entered the kingdom of God, and today it has been discovered to the children of Israel this holy vessel, and who is washing into this vessel, will become worthy to enter the tabernacle of God in the Church of the New Jerusalem. This is what the Holy Spirit is speaking, for this tabernacle is also called the church of the Christians, the church of the New Jerusalem, and this vessel is called the vessel of washing of the tabernacle, of the church of the Christians, so that anyone who wants to come to this vessel to worship by himself to God, he should wash first, as the Christian is not allowed to have friendship with unbelievers, for the Lord speaks, «I will not sit with unbelievers».

... Tell, Verginica, to the Christians, that God says so: whoever wants to enter this tent, let him wash his sins first. Verginica, Verginica, as the non-baptized Christians could not enter into the heavenly kingdom long ago, today the man who is not penitent cannot enter this tent too, the tent which is the church of The New Jerusalem.

... Keep well, Verginica, all that you have, for My work is upright.

... Verginica, you tell, My daughter, to this people to whom I have spoken, that the Lord put them a question: why do you not listen to My advice? I called them the sons of the New Jerusalem, the daughters of the New Jerusalem, the people of the holy tabernacle, the people of the New Jerusalem, but they are full of dirt even now, after such a long time of prophesying. I, the Lord, have been working great mysteries with people but not for the benefit of the body, rather for the benefit of the Holy Spirit, as the body is dust and clay but the spirit is immortal. If I am to take it from the man's building until now, there have been only God's mysteries, but in this time the things have not been discovered.

Today I have taken grafts from all the works that have been worked from the beginning, to unite them together, that is the beginning with the end, but it is difficult to Me to bind them together as the end has been estranged from the beginning.

... Oh, Verginica, say, you beloved, to the Christians how do you see Me, the Lord, working only mysteries and only heavenly works, and crowds upon crowds of peoples have estranged from the truth, listening to the deceiving spirits. Verginica, in My vessel that you have seen, are all the mysteries of God and all the symbols, all the parables and all the works that I have been worked out, and the talks with the prophets, from the beginning of the world until this day.

... Verginica, remind the people of the present marriage, that the men of nowadays, compared to the ones then, have a strange life. This sin is a great burden to My journey now. We still have a graft which I have not worked out and through this graft you will be known among the sons of men that you are My disciples, and by this graft all the nations will confess your true faith and many nations will come to faith and, together with My people, they will inherit the eternal kingdom, forever and ever.

... Oh, well you Romanian people, Romanian people, the Lord has come for you from the holy heaven to do with you what has been left to be worked. Why, My people, you are still slow to believe? Why are you slow to repent? Is it not My coming written now? Are you not written in the law about this holy work? Why are you still slow to believe? Why are you slow in coming to Me? I say to you, Romanian people, that the foreigners will come from afar, but you, a palm of land, you are slow to come. Do you not reckon that other Christians from abroad, have left the rest and their courtyards, their women and their sons, and have travelled in a foreign country seeking the Lord, Jesus Christ? But you do not want to leave anything. Behold, I left the heaven and I have come to your villages, where it is written, but expensive will be the price of My coming to you. What other work should I do beside this work of coming back to the man for his sin? What work is to be beside this? Who has not heard and not wonder? And who did not hear and not wonder? Who does not take into account and not be frightened? The Lord has come again on earth; he has come into the Holy Spirit. How is the fear not to seize you? Heart of stone, how are you staying in numbness? Even the dead groan in their graves because of horror.

Romanian people, wake up! Why are you staying any longer? It is daytime, not night. Why are you sleeping? The hour is late. Come, Romanian people, why are you slow in coming? Are you really not in my plan?

... For this I bow down to this little daughter, (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) to make you sons and daughters of the New Jerusalem. Is this not really a mystery?

... Verginica, I put an end to this speech and I bless with a holy blessing this letter, which gives a share from My works to all, and give it in front of the people. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God

I, the Lord Jesus Christ, have come down in the Spirit among you and I have searched the lives of many of you. I have searched all your work, spiritually and earthly. I have searched your busy time and free time. I have searched your gained time and your lost time. I have searched all your Christian walk life. I tell you sons that many of you have wondered away from the Christian walk. Many of you do not feast anymore; many of you do not pray anymore; many of you do not go to the holy church; many of you do not confess to your confessor, your sins that you make every hour and minute and do not share the Body and Blood of our Lord in holiness and cleanness. Sons, sons, many of you work on Sundays and on holidays, not only in the factories and enterprises, but even in your houses and in your fields and your courtyards; you do all kinds of work. Many of you have become lazy and drones; many of you have become treacherous; many of you have become blasphemers; many of you have become drunkards and fornicators. Sons, many of you have become liars; many of you have become arrogant; many of you have become proud and boastful; many of you have become greedy; many of you have become lovers of foreign women; many of you have become lovers of money and wealth; many of you have become gamblers; many of you have become soccer players; many of you have become dancers; many of you have been after fortune tellers; many of you have turned into enemies and evil people; many of you have become unfaithful and rebellious; many of you have become slumberous; many of you have spoiled the holy law.

Sons, why do I tell your deeds? Here, you need to know why I, the Lord, searching your life and the places where you walk and the things that you do, I have spoken to you in an earthly way and spiritually of the busy time and of the free time. I have told you about the gained time and about the free time. Sons, sons, be careful of those searched by the Lord and written here. Know that I have told by this word that many of you, in your free time, are sleeping deeply without prayer. Many of you, in your free time, do not go to the little church and to the service, rather you go to the taverns, to drinking, you go to competitions and parties. I have found many of you on Sundays and on holiday days committing fornication. Instead of being at the service or in praying, you commit adultery.

I ask you, these, I do not tell you the names, but you need to know your sins: why are you no more Christians and have strayed from the Christian life and have gone to the pagan life? Sons, why you do not feast anymore? Why, sons, do you not go to the little church? Why do you not confess your sins and why you do not partake of the holy sacraments? Why, sons, you do not observe the Sundays and holidays in holiness and cleanness? Why, sons, do you work on Sundays and holidays? Why sons, have you become sluggish and lazy? Do you not work anything for your eternal life? Why sons, have you become rebellious, instead of going ahead on My way? You keep on backing away? Why, sons, have you become treacherous, and betrayed your life to Satan? Now Satan laughs at your life and at your faith through your sins. Why sons, do I, the Lord, hear when the world blasphemes your spiritual and faithful life? Why sons, do you commit adultery with other women, abandoning your women? Why, sons, do you go to taverns using alcoholic drinks until you get drunk as the ones in the world? Why sons, go you play cards? Why sons, do you go to the competitions and to the ball? Why sons, do you go to the saloons with satanic dances? Yes, if it were a holy dance as in the time of David, and I, the Lord, would come to your dance and round dance, but now everything is impure; it is nothing holy and pure.

Sons, sons, you have been lead astray. What will you answer for your going astray? Why sons, do you commit gross and evil sins? Why sons, you do not pray so that Satan may flee from you?

Sons, sons, what have you got involved in? What trouble will come on your head! Sons, flee away from the Satan's way! Sons, sons flee away from the Satan's places! Flee away from the Satan's work! Run, run, for the death is catching you! Get out of the taverns, get out quickly! Come back to Me until you do not perish!

Sons, why do you no longer pray to the good God? For the prayer made with much faith gets you out of the wandering away. The prayer turns to repentance the sinful one. Prayer is the latch of sin. Sons, make prayer in faith to the too good God, for prayer is the wing of faith and the fruit of hope. Sons, make prayer with much love, for prayer is the mirror of the Christian life and of love. Sons, sons, I tell you to make prayer, for prayer is the seal of the Christian life. Sons, prayer is a wellspring of holiness and of Christian living together with the Lord, Jesus Christ. Sons, make prayer, for prayer is the shield which protects you from the stings of the devil's temptations. Sons, the prayer is the key with what you open the gates of heaven.

You sons who do not make prayer, I, the Lord, have come down you to urge you to make prayer. Sons, do not spend any longer your days without prayer, for through prayer the grace of God comes upon you. Sons, make prayer, for the prayer lifts you up from the downfall and encourages you to good deeds and to a happy life. Sons, make prayer, for the prayer comforts and protects you from troubles and sorrows. The prayer, sons, raises you in all the travelling of Christian life. Sons, make prayer, for praying turns you to repentance and strengthens the weak one in the faith. Prayer, sons, humbles you and fulfills you and tames you, those full of pride and envy. Sons, make prayer, for prayer takes you to a good and pleasant life to God and urges you to do good deeds and feast. Sons, make prayer, for the prayer protects you from troubles, sorrows and sicknesses and from sudden death and prisons. Sons, the prayer brings to you peace and love into your homes. The prayer gives you health and strength. Sons, make prayer, for the prayer gives you the daily bread to feed on it. Sons, sons, may prayer and ask from Me by praying the things you are in need of, for it is only by prayer that you will receive. Sons, sons, take heed to My words that I tell you here! Sons, do not give up praying. Sons, let no one of you be stopped from praying, no matter how hard and wicked the time is. All of you have the right to enjoy the fruits of prayer. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, neither here, nor in the time past, have I prevented or prevent you from praying. That one, you need to know and get to know him, for he is the Antichrist. Only the Antichrist, since he appeared on earth, has led astray from Me, the faithful man, filling the minds of the believers with evil lies, leading them astray from faith to unbelief. Sons, flee away from the Antichrist and from all his demons.

You sons, the ones to whom I have discovered all My good ways, why have you wondered away? Do you not know that you are not allowed to? Sons, why have you wondered away? Have I not discovered to you My mysteries? Is it not with you that I have spent whole years? Sons, what harm stands to you in the world, working with the world's deeds! Sons, how bad it comes to you in the worldly clothes! Sons, how bad it is for you to behave in a worldly manner, you, who bore a spiritual image! Sons, how bad it is for you in taverns, you who took part at the holy assemblies of God! Sons, how bad it is for you singing worldly songs, you, who sang spiritual songs! Sons, how bad it is for you partying and committing adultery with foreign women, from the world, you, who have a vow with God at your marriage that you made! Sons, how bad it is for you being into the gambling parlors, you, who were in My little church! Sons, how bad it is for you playing cards and taking part in competitions, you, who had My blessing! Sons, how bad it is for you pinching women's breasts and cheeks, you, who had My holy law! Sons, how bad it is for you talking with your mouth jokes and words of blasphemy and disgrace, you, who told Me "Lord, Lord!" Sons, how bad it is for you sitting at a table with chosen food and drinks, you, who have as a guide the Law of God and the laws of the holy apostles!

Sons, sons, why have you wandered away from Me, the Lord? Are you not afraid, sons, of My wrath which is about to come on the head of the sinners? You sons, who have wondered away from Me, because of the futile deeds of the sinners, you have to know that you will perish at the same time with the sinners. Sons, have you heard and seen what heavy plagues God has poured out over the sinners? For thousands of sinners perished and those left have not yet repented. God has sent heavy and long rains upon the sinners, making the waters coming out of the riverbeds in order to drown them, so that no one may be left alive. God has loosed earthquakes and high winds, killing thousands and thousands of sinners, and those that remained alive have not repented yet and have not turned their hearts to God, and I tell you that none will escape alive. God has ordained heavy wars making the sinners to kill each other with weapons of war and a great multitude of sinners have perished, and those left alive have not yet repented of their deeds, but God will destroy them all. The Lord has sent, sons, over the sinners, pestilence, cholera, and some other nine kinds of illnesses to destroy them all from the earth. And also, God has sent great famine over the sinners and nine other plagues are still to come over the whole world, which is destined to death because of the sins which it does. Sons, I tell you once again: you have to know that all sinners will perish each one according to his own sin.

Sons, sons, wake up, for the death is coming over to you as well, you who have wondered away from Me, the Lord, and you will perish too, together with the sinners, for your sins will not be forgiven, as the selling out and betrayal of Judas is not forgiven, because you have mocked the holy blessing, with which God blessed you ancestor Abraham, for the Lord wanted to fulfill with you his miracles which are written to be fulfilled at the end of this age. And if you return from your swerving from Me, you will be partakers to these great miracles, which follow to be fulfilled by the Lord. But I tell you: put away from you the sleep and laziness. Give up on alcoholic drinks. Give up your lusts after other women. Give up from you chosen food from canteens, (Restaurants, r.n.) with which I, the Lord, see that you feed on. My miracles are done through feasting and praying and holy faith and through all kinds of good deeds. Sons, turned back from laziness and slumber and from all sorts of bad things which you are doing without fear of God. Sons, make prayers by faith in God so that you may lose all the passions with which the Antichrist has endowed you, as serious and heavy sins master over you, for if death is not catching you into these deeds, it will go ill with you, as the Lord will not spare you, for I, the Lord, have come among you as in the former time in Israel. And now, as then, many from the blessed ones by God have swerved from the right way. So it is now, as then; no one believes, no one listens to Me.

Sons, you have to pray with power and faith, seeking all the blessings arisen from through prayer. Sons, pray for one another to heal yourselves of many kinds of evil and serious illnesses in which you have fell down. Sons, pray for your peace and for the whole people. Sons, pray for your liberty. Sons, pray for the freedom of your faith and for the freedom of your religion. (Strongly restricted under the communist regime, r.n.) Amen. Pray, sons, as the priests pray too for the peace to the world. Sons, be useful to Me and not to the world. Sons, be very careful and very attentive to My advice, which I write here through Verginica. Sons, you have to pray, as for this thing the good God has been preparing you. But you do not want to pray. Sons, I urge you: do not stay without prayer, for it is great sin.

Sons, you have dealt all your life time with jobs and many other earthly works. Sons, you have been busy with your jobs in the time of prayer without thinking to leave free place for prayer too. Sons, work the good. Do not stay in the taverns; do not sit at counsel with the world. Sons, do not go on the same way with the world, rather sanctify yourselves, as the death is catching you, with the world in your way. Sons, do not lust after the foreign women to Me, the Lord. Leave the foreign women, for those women are deceitful and lead you into the eternal fire.

Sons, know that I, the Lord, have searched you and I have found many of you in the most serious sins, but I tell you not to deny saying that it is not true, as you will be bitterly tormented. Sons, I, the Lord, have tired My vessel, (Virginia, through whom He speaks, r.n.) for your sins.

Sons, turn back to Me, the Lord, for I announce you that next year at this time, we might not be as we are now, rather we will be changed. Sons, be fully aware and do not say that I did not let you know. Sons, come together and seek counseling for correction so that you may not perish with the sinful ones, for this is what is written, that all the sinners will perish and they will be no more. Sons, make peace with God by confessing your sins and by partaking with the holy Sacraments and forsake the ways of perdition. Run, sons, from the way of Satan!

Sons, I did not write your names here, of the ones fallen into heavy sins, but rather, you alone know yourselves that are guilty you of whom, I, the Lord speak very angrily.

Sons, I, the Lord, Jesus Christ close this pain to you, who have swerved from me, the Lord, and ask that this letter to be read by my people, so that all the guilty may hear their sins and each one to know them well. And to Daniel I tell, to keep this writing with much care, to a confessing in front of the future Judge, for there have been and passed many judges, but as This Judge there has never been one ever since, The One Who will show Himself in from of all humankind.

Peace to you, for the correction on the good and eternal way of God! Amen, amen, amen.

... Sons, once you decided to ask for a gift from the Lord, renew your request as often as possible in front of the Lord. Present yourselves with great humility, with much faith and with much friendship and without any kind of wickedness in your heart. And if, praying for a while, you have not yet received what you have been asking for, do not be discouraged, for the Lord is testing you, for as many times, sons, you consider some things that are not good and ask them from God as good ones, to be good for you to damage or to death. Then God, to your benefit, is not giving you. Or, it is better to tell you that many times the Lord is testing you and is expecting from you steadfastness in prayer. Sons, I tell you: be steadfast in prayer, renewing your prayers many times a day, for as the doctor gives a medicine many times a day, he gives the same medicine, with abstaining from food and drink, so do I, the Heavenly Doctor, give to renew your prayer, abstaining yourselves from any evil deed, as the good God does not neglect your prayer, and will never forget them. The Lord Jesus Christ is giving you all that you ask from Him, at the best time. Perhaps you, sons, have asked from Me a thing, and I, the Lord, have given you another, for better use. Sons, persevere in praying all the time, for the perseverance in praying is very useful.

... My sons, I, the Lord, tell you that it is not allowed to speak in the holy church, not even in whispering. Do not make noise, do not throw papers or candles on the floor and do not walk in front of the altar during the Liturgy.

... I say to you, My sons, I ask you in tears: do you not miss Me? Do you not miss My teachings which I gave you once? Do you not miss My fragrances that I was pouring over your candles and over to you? Do you not want to see the eternal happiness? Do you not want to live a life without death? Do you not miss it anymore? Do you no longer want another life than this where you are now? Oh, how the world has cheated you with its noisy and full of pleasures life! How they have robbed your tastes from My face! How you have clung to the worldly pleasures! You do not care about spiritual things as I have been telling you all this time, in each work.

... Sons, you have to know from Me that the lack of humility is such a big gap in your heart! And that gap is because of many evils. Sons, why are you so mischievous and always ready for revenge, impatient and stubborn? Why do you receive the opinions and advice of others, who are outside of Me, the Lord? Oh, how easy it comes to you to judge others, while you do not suffer a reprimand; what about a judgment!

... On the journey of you live, sons, many times you have been powerless. I, the Lord, have given you strength, and in time, you have not even thought of Me, son, all the more troubling you to ask power from Me; because many of you say that the strength which you catch through drinks and sports which you are accustomed to! Sons, sons, I am present in all your journeys. You have been many times to the sick; I, the Lord, have given you health. You have been many times saddened and upset; I, the Lord, have given you comfort and joy. And you, at that time, did not even think of Me. How many things have you not lost, sons, and I, the Lord, have given them to you on sight and you have never thought that the Lord gave them to you. Oh, My sons, when do you come to be grateful and satisfied towards all the gifts given from the good God? Do you not know, sons, that your holy saints were receiving only through prayer the gifts from God, whether food or clothing or footwear, even the health and peace and joy? Everything they needed, they received only through prayer, but you are more to foreign towards Me, the Lord, and towards your parents. You do not want to know about them and about Me, the Lord. You think as the world does, but I tell you: get out of the world with everything: with word and thought, with behavior and food and drink and hearing. Get out of the world with everything, for the world will perish in an instant. You will look and see it no more and neither will you see the place where it dwelt, rather everything will turn into a large desert. Sons, how many times you are told to get out of the world! Sons, do you not hear what I, the Lord, tell you? Sons, do you not believe what I tell you? Sons, sons, if beat you, you would listen to Me out of fear, but I do not beat you, rather I tell you: sons, listen to Me, do not be late any longer. I, the Lord, am going to wage a great war on earth against the world and not a seed from this world will remain.

Sons, I conclude. I know that it will not frighten you so that you may come back to Me. Pity on you sons, that you have the opportunity to be happy but you do not want! Pity on My work which has been done for you! Pity on the grace and My words that have run over to you, for you despised and trampled them under your feet as nothings.

I tell you, sons, the faithful and obedient ones: remain in the peace of the Lord. May the Lord be always with you! Amen. Peace from God, the Father! Amen, amen, amen.

I am coming soon. Amen.

The Word of God

... My people, Sodom and Gomorrah passed through fire. The creature passed through the water and only four families left. People of Mine, today as that time, God is upset on the evil spirit that has filled the earth with his work and has filled his kingdom with the creatures that I made. People of Mine, you will be happy thousand times to be called My people.

... My people, I will come with great anger and I will destroy all the evil spirits and all wicked world. My people, if you have an evil spirit in you, take it out for your heart will be destroyed.

... My people get ready for God. God is forgiving you as he forgave the prodigal son, but cut the connection with the devil. My people, today you have the pleasure to be with the evil spirit, but you will have the destiny to fight with him as it was fought in 1916 and 1947. Sword by sword will you fight with him. You will say: "Deceiver, why did you deceive me?" People, you deceived yourselves as Judas: you sold the heavenly treasure for an earthly lust. My people only if you saw the treasure that you sold of a lust! If you saw it, you would not even want any water. Look, it is written to mourn, to lament, but instead of this, you feast away and revel. That beautiful woman who passes by your gate, naked, is the tool of the evil one that the evil spirit brought to destroy the tribe of God.

Well children, because of the sin that is today with you, God enjoys only if no child is born, as only the hell enjoys of such births and God laments and cries. Oh, beloved people, to whom God gave his image and his voice! A Jesus is not coming to you to get you out anymore, and the sin you are in, in it you will perish. The prophets are not coming either, for you lost your faith. Do you know what is coming now? The slaughter is coming.

... Călărași, Călărași, (A Town in Romania, r.n.), I passed through you and I had dinner in you. I slept by you as in the Garden of Gethsemane. I prayed and you slept. Why this way? Călărași, Călărași, I passed through you as I passed through Jerusalem, or as Lukas and Tomas passed through foreign countries. All were asking: "Who is this?" But they did not want to tell them who he was, for that was My work; for if today I were in the body, I would have been crucified again. Sons, the time is coming to work once again for the last time, and then I will say: who commits sins will die instantly.

... I made them all known to you. If you were to die, you would not lust. If you were to die, you would not commit adultery. If you were to die, you would not commit sins. If someone tells you that he makes you king, do not receive it.

... Sons, the time is not told, but keep in mind these words. You, who commit sins, that brings you death. Son, come back. Do not go, son, to death. My people do not be proud that you are My people. My people, why am I saying to you "My people" and you are a sinner? Tell, why am I saying like this? I say, "My people" because you come from My people, and I said "My people" for you to feel. My mother does not let Me, for I would lose you when I see you drinking and committing adultery. My mother does not let Me, but I would have destroyed you. I do not say "My people" because you deserve it.

My people, the evil spirit laughs at you and says: "Listen, you stupid man, God is calling you: do not drink anymore. You too are as I am."

Oh, what a war will be among you! One will be taken and ten will leave.

... Oh, My people go now, at this very moment, and look into the tavern and count thousands and hundreds. Go to the little church as well, for it is empty; for what it was in the morning, now it is in the tavern. Nothing gives life to the unclean spirit, only the drinking of today and then fornication and the rest after them.

Sons, who have wives, be as those who have none, but do not let the love between you go out. Let all the evil from among you perish, for God will search your heart to dwell into it. Many hearts will give birth to unclean spirits, will take spirit and fly on earth. Kill the evil spirit from your hearts, for the evil spirit, when is coming back where it was born, will say: "I was born here, here I had lived out."

... Know that the Lord will tell you: if you, today, and for how long you will be, serve the way it is written in My law and if you fall away from My law, know that up to a thousand generation all fail, for you preached and prophesied, and after that you mowed and put it on the fire. Keep yourselves, for the devil wants to overthrow you, to redeem you. When you go to bed to sleep, anoint yourselves with myrrh; incense your bed, as even in your dream the devil is deceiving you, and know that if someone commits sins in his sleep, is not allowed to enter the church unclean.

... If someone says: "Why is he not going to tell everybody?" Why am I not going, it concerns Me. I have come to you, Christian. Let us condemn your forefather and ancestor. We do not condemn Abraham, as he had only one child, and brought him as a sacrifice. I bless him and listen to him and I stay into his way and into the way of his people. See how many stars are in the sky; as much sand is in the sea and it cannot be counted, this much has Abraham and he still is to born. Son, is God guilty that he put at your body all the members? He is not guilty, for he put them rightly.

... Your sheep got into the clover, and when you go, you see them swollen. Whose fault it is that they died; the shepherds' or the sheep's? It is the sheep's because they work secretly evil things, and when you tell them, they get angry with you. Who is guilty? It is the devil. Let us all get him out; do not get the one, with the devil in him, off scot-free.

Save yourselves, for the salvation has come, but you do not want to fulfill it. Sons, sons, I said on the cross: "Father, forgive them for what they are doing!" Christians, Christians, My little children, I became Father for you, I took the death upon Me, and still it is not well with you, you are not happy yet. I repeat once more: know that you lose happiness, for drunkards, fornicators, smokers, and all kind of unlawful people dwell in your midst, and you will lose, for I do not stay together with the evil spirit.

... "What if I drank a brandy? Am I going to die? Or, if I drank liquor, am I going to die?" Little children, "I am going home to drink and eat", this is what you have in your heart.

... Sons, the first war which will be waged is against fornication, and the second one, is against drunkenness. Wherever a harlot or a fornicator is, it will be shot at. And wherever a drunkard or alcohol factory is, it will be shot at.

... You son, Daniel, find some perfect people, with zeal and without sin, and let them work at My house. And let the builders be without dirty things; let you be spiritual builders.

The Word of God

... Many gods made themselves masters so that you may serve them in your life. Keep in mind son, that no one is master over himself. Do not believe the one that said that he is his master, for he is a liar. Your master is the Lord, Jesus Christ, who gave himself to be crucified, to be beaten, to be blasphemed, to be mocked for your redemption. Many emperors made themselves gods over man, but all the breath deceived itself, Christian. Look at the animals, for if they had your voice, they would speak out that God is God. You find more wisdom to an animal, for it knows which its fold is, who its God is. Well Christian, trust yourself well and be faithful to Jesus Christ, for the Lord grew tired much when He made man to show the truth. Israel, do not deceive yourself. You are asked by the father Abraham to follow the way to the end of the road.

... Israel let your name not get lost. Israel, utterly believe that even if you are buried into the ground you will be unburied, as the one who was cut into pieces and buried in the garden and the martyr Mina gave him life. Likewise, you will be unburied from where you were buried, for God does not let his children to be buried into this ground.

... Israel My people, do not change your faith. A clean and undefiled faith is the Orthodox faith and the Orthodox religion. Amen. Religion has been abolished, (Under the communist regime, r.n.) but there is still faith. And this they want to abolish too, but before the door of the church is closed, one minute earlier, the Lord comes.

... Many say that there is sufferance in faith and seek to leave and they go exactly to sufferance. Be careful, for God, whom He prepares for Himself, passes him through many sorrows and through many trials, the same way as My vessel passed. (Virginia, through whom He speaks, r.n.)

... Israel son, My building, where is your spirit? It stays away; it does not come down into the body. Here Israel, where is the spirit from Me. When I built you, I built you to be brighter than the sun.

... My children, the faith has reached to be despised, but do not leave it, for your fathers and ancestors were despised as well.

... Oh, My little children who have children killed by the world in all forms! It is said to you: pray for them, as the sin is not only theirs, for you did not keep them as the hen under its wings, for the hawk, Satan, came and did not let them live.

... Israel, holy people, for whom I wanted well to say this holy word! Be the heir of the life; do not swerve from the right line. Be worker of holy and true things, for nothing will be left on earth, but what is holy. All the unrighteousness will be shaken.

... Israel, keep in mind that today the lie is light, and know it so that you may not use the lie, for God stands against it. There will be great darkness, (Spiritual, r.n.); there will be no sun, but it will not be for more than one hour or two or nine, or for a day or two or nine. There will be many years, so that the liars will not be put to shame, (The communists with the socialism, r.n.) for they will put a light that does not stand. My children, when the Light rises, the dead will be on earth as leaf. Many will die of horror, by itself; others will seek death. You will know the one who was with you, dead, and you will say, "Why did he die?" It was discovered!

Know that when you see darkness in front of you, do not look for death, for there is no one to take you to the grave and to mourn you and to raise you to life. Be faithful and fighters for righteousness. Be as the saints, as the angels, as the torches and let no one put out your life. Be perfect for many are fighting against you, but the fight will be turned back, for whoever lifts a sword, by the sword will be killed.

... Romania, Romania, God will rise. Against you and there nothing shall be left on your hearth. Romania, Romania, why did you receive this image and this forbidden behavior on your home? (The Communism, r.n.) Romania, holy hearth through the disciples who are witnesses! Romania, Romania, there is a Dimitrie, there is a Gheorghe, there is a John! Come to your senses Christians, for I am on the eve to finish, for I have no place to stay in the land of this country.

... Where are those who were saying: "Yes, Lord, it is true that you are God!"? Where are those whom I anointed and blessed? If these had known the name of the angels, and of those in heaven, they would have been sold too, those would have been brought down from heaven too.

... The time is coming the drunkard to be punished, and the smoker, and the fornicator, for God can no longer endure the deceit.

... You do not serve Me if feasting or praying, but it is for you, son, for on the gate of heaven, not a bad hair will enter My kingdom.

... I did not come to take the dust or the tree from the earth, but I came to you, Christian, for your fathers and forefathers made prayer and sent Me to you, for this is written in the Scripture. Did God really lie?

... My little children, do not get on well with the world any longer, sons! My little children, you live in the world, but I speak to you spiritually. Do not put off faith and blessing, but stay as your fathers and forefathers were, for there comes another fashion, you will see it. Let the devilish things. Young men and women that you have them, be very careful that the bare feet are burnt by the fire; they will catch fire as the gas fire is flashing.

... Know from Me, that there is a little time and the punishment is coming, starting with adultery. Woe to the woman who left her husband and woe to the husband who left her wife without adultery reasons! Woe to the drunkards, woe to the blasphemers, woe to the thieves, woe to the woe that no one expects! Woe to the one who locked the door of the church! Woe to the one who locked the door of the believers! (The Security Service of the communist dictatorship, r.n.)

... Israel, what does this word mean, "Israel"? It means that you can be Hungarian, you can be Jew, you can be American, you can be Russian, you can be anything; this is anointed. (Chosen, r.n.) Your anointment with My anointment is not only Mine, of the heavenly Spirit, but you are anointed in the Father, the Son and the Spirit. And what does "Amen" mean? The sealing.

... My beloved little children know from Me, I speak the truth, for when the baptism came into the world it is not a sin to take a bride from the world, for she is baptized, but she is from the world. The world is emptiness. The baby is Christianized, but after the baptism, the Christian law was not kept by the fathers, and it was not kept by the forefathers. The baptism was trampled since it was a baby.

... The heavens wonder why in the present times the disciples are no longer made, for they constantly die. He comes as a shadow to Me; stays a year, two or three, and then he goes back where he came from. Blessed over blessed, greater as any other is a disciple from the present times. In the present times, thousands and hundreds die, but to turn into the saints, they do not do it.

I said: "Follow My footsteps, and where you cannot, ask Me for strength." Come, Christian, come to Me! Do not get angry, do not get upset with your fate, do not get angry with Me, do not get angry with your faith as the disciple Job, poor man, until you get to the gate of God. Do you believe? Do not turn back, My son, from the way of God, for the return is hard. Go always forward even if an executioner is in front of you. Go always forward! Forward, forward, not back, rather on the holy road, on which thousands and thousands of children went.

From whose seed are you, Christian? From the one of Abraham's,<sup>10</sup> and so you went from generation to generation, and know that you have great blessing through your ancestor. Do you believe? If you do not commit sins, you go to Abraham's bosom. "Make holy deeds, come to your senses; do not wonder away", the St. John is urging Me to tell you. St. John was conceived by commandment, and for the lost. The priest was crying in his church that he had no Christians. Who was that? He was a Zechariah. Today who is crying for you Christian any longer, for the lost one? It is a great thing what I do for you. It is great thing what God did with Zechariah. It is great thing what God did with Mary the Virgin. It is great joy, My little children, for those who are searching this work.

<sup>10</sup> "Know therefore that they that are of faith, the same are sons of Abraham." (Gal. 3:7)

It is a human being and priceless and anguished, through whom God is doing his work. She is a body, (Virginia, through whom God speaks, r.n.) is the daughter of Andreiana, who was hated and silly and unnoticed by the world, and she is to put to shame those of great family. Come, Christian, to My silly one! Come to Me, Christian, for it is good, it is very good, for this silly one is the holy mirror, and you will look through it into My kingdom too.

... Oh, Daniel, I have had thousands of children, son. Where is the flock from Ocnîța? Where is the flock from Provița? Where is the flock from Ibrianu? Where is the flock from Călărași? Where is the flock from the Long Valley? Where is the flock from Bucharest? Where is the flock from Moroieni? How can I not be sad? I leave once and I keep silent. Come to your senses; search your life well with Me. Daniel, it is shameful for a Christian who does not lay his hands on the Scriptures. (Daniel, the shepherd of the community of the believers in the Word of God, r.n.)

... There is less and comes an unknown people, who did not worship Baal, it did not become communist, and after that there will be a big thing, which is not being discovered now.

... I have sent all the holy heaven, all the host of heaven I have sent against the informers, so that they may not come to search you. (The Informers of the former Security of the Communist dictatorship, r.n.)

The Word of God

... Israel, well Israel, sons, I want to make you My disciples. I want to make you soldiers of war, but not with iron weapon, rather with invisible weapons. I want to make you My little angels. I want to make you My apostles. I want to make you My prophets. I want to make you My disciples so that no one of you may be left without holy work.

... Israel, son, the Christian of today does not resemble the Christian in the past. The nowadays Christian is like a little stalk, cut with a saw, that is God cut off the old flesh in order that a new body may spring, but instead of springing the new body, there started to spring branches of the old flesh, all that was in the past.

... Sons, find the holy little coat, find the right little coat. You find it in the Scripture not in the shops, not at the people of today. If you go to an earthly man and ask him about life, he does not know for he is blind. My little children, who sought the life at a man, he got lost. Who sought the life in the Scripture, he found it.

... Who does not want to be with Me, no one binds him and no one forces him to, but you are bound not to hold the breath of the trumpet. It will be seen later all that God has done thorough the Holy Spirit on earth, for it is a building, invisible by the earthly eye, and when you see it, you will come to look for Me, but your unbelief and crazy deeds will prevent you.

... Oh, Christian, I need you as a man needs a bricklayer at your house, or of a craftsman to work something in his work, or as a man needs a servant in his courtyard. I need you and no one will be without work.

... God requires of his people not to look where it came from, not to care about his body anymore, as this is what the devil urges him, to look on the table to see what he eats, to look that he has got no more cattle and to look that he has got no more wealth. Your fathers and forefathers sold the wealth and went into the wilderness and clothed with poverty, but because today there is not more place into the wilderness, as it got under the possession of the emperor of today (The Communist Dictatorship, r.n.) and the cave, and the hollow, and the wilderness, and the plain, and the hill, everything is in his possession, learn well so that you live here too.

... My little child, truly believe for there is not coming any other Christ to you, there is not coming any other mercy to you. Come to your senses, sons. Listen well to the word from Me. Do not take the bodies to the garbage pit, and unite the bodies with the spirits, for the body taken with sins, cannot rise again into the heavenly kingdom. Have you heard?

... Christians, there came from earth a big lie, (The communism, r.n.) which everybody listens to; the infants and the old people as well. By this lying all breath perishes. Do not believe sons the lie. By lying you killed your spirit from God. Arius lied and God punished him. Every liar is punished forever. God punished all who took out other gods for you, as the Lord told you and wrote into the book, for in heaven there was a big stubbornness at Lucifer, and God threw him down from heaven. The same is with lying today which always knocks into the gate of God so that it may lose all of God's things. In the beginning was the Word, and now the Word is too. Daniel, in the beginning was the word. Have you heard something like this? There was the Spirit too. Do not think, man, that you will fight with Me, for God made by his word everything and you cannot rise against it, no matter how strong you believe you are. Come to your senses My believers. Learn the faith. Do not be poor and weak in faith anymore, for it is not as the world says.

... Christian, you will see the destruction of the world, and you will see the flight of the world and you will see the crying of the world. If you are with Me, Christian, and if you are with the light into the hand, to the thousandth generation will you escape your people. You will say: "Lord, here is my mother, here is my son", and God will fulfill your word and will tell you: "Chose your people and you will redeem it, but by prayer."

... Do not covet the worldly meals. Your fathers and forefathers were separated from the world. Many did not want to look a womanly face.

... Romania, Romania, Romania! Do not give up, Romania! I have built a wall in you and it is not finished. Romania, do you really not know the commandments and the wonders? Romania, Romania, how you are trampled! (By the communism, r.n.) Why has this country gone weak in the spirit? Why Christians, My little children, why all wish to visit this country? Why all want to become friends with this country? Of all the countries that visited, all got frightened that in Romania is harshness for prayer. Romania was the cleanest and the most beautiful country.

... My treasures, how I will gather the little patches from the earth and the little flowers and how I will take the fruits from earth and take My fruit tree, which today God is building! After this time, the time is changing, is changing sons. If you were perfect, I would pour out all My mysteries in front of you, but as I saw the treachery in the past, I cannot son, tell anymore.

... My flowers, you are not alone, you are accompanied. And you, woman, and you, man, you are accompanied by heavenly persons. Do not commit any more sins thinking that no one sees you. You are never to be alone on earth. I willed the holy angels and My Mother and even the cherubim and seraphim to accompany you and know that if you get separated from the companions it will be hard of your head.

... A nation Israel has ascended into heaven and a nation Israel went down into the grave and from the grave into the hell for disobedience. A nation Israel is feeding today on God's word, and a nation Israel is feeding on the evil spirit's word against God. Here, you are Christian, but you despise My blessing.

... The food which is brought to you is from that one which God divided to the crowd and from the two fishes and five loaves of bread.

Israel, son, there is not much and your eyes will see My face and your mouth will speak with My mouth and My mouth will speak to you: "Come after, you good and faithful servant!"

... I have sent messengers to prevent you from dying and you did not stop. Israel, God takes care of His people, and the evil spirit takes care of the wicked people too and leads it to drink, to eat, up to one point and afterwards it leaves and forsakes it; and that people laments that God is not forgiving and merciful.

It is an outrageous sin! I told you once to restrain from fornication and this is just the thing that is not accomplishing. I told that after a woman gives birth to a child, a man is not allowed to go to her for three years, and the man went to the woman. Son, you will receive great punishment, for your body takes you to the hell. How should I say “My people” when the people is turned to evil? I would like you to be clean, to be holy, to be an angel, so that in the last day to finish the age with you. Can I stay into the midst of My people?

... Oh, My people, you labor much, you toil much, but if a thing of all is not according to My will, all will wither away.

... Be careful, this word is a beginning of judgment. Let the man love his wife, but with a spiritual love, and let the woman love her husband, but without defilement. Let the woman honor her husband, and let the husband honor his wife with a holy honor.

... The Lord makes no distinction by the creatures, but by deeds. Discern the sin, as through sin God distinguished the sons of Noah when he cursed the one who laughed at his father’s nakedness. What God did, he did it, but you are not allowed to distinguish someone after his appearance, rather only by sin.

... My little children help the church. Be Christians, be sons of light, be of the church. Adorn the church; adorn it with its treasures. Go to the church and the ones who talk in the church, teach them not to talk anymore. The church is the spring of the sick’s healing. Ask for food from the church, (The Holy Communion, r.n.) but who wants to partake, let him prepare (Through the confession of sins, r.n.) and let him partake this way. Prepare your stomach to receive the Body and the Blood of the Lord (By feasting on the day before, r.n.). The Lord is crying that it remains in the chalice. What is the Lamb sacrificing for if no one takes it for strengthening? Teach them well from Me, for many take the holy bread from the dish and it is dropped down on the floor. If your fathers and forefathers were dropping a crumble on the floor, they were licking it, (Being sanctified, r.n.), but today this sin is not taken into account so that it may not be done.

... My beloved people, the Lord Jesus asked the Father for a people to come from elsewhere to unite with you, for the Lord has no one by whom to increase His people, for He has no more sons and daughters to match.

The Word of God

... Christians come to your senses, for you will hear My trumpet sounding and do not be frightened to flee to the mountains. Come to your senses, so that at My coming not to melt away like wax.

... Come to your senses, Christians, for we still have a step and a work to accomplish and a judgment that is being made. Wake up so that you may not enter into judgment with the Lord, Jesus Christ. You can have all heaven and earth as a witness, but unless you have the blessing from Me, you will not escape.

... The Lord said: “You are the ones with whom I will put an end to the age.” But you do not want Christian. I will go and seek and I will have with whom to close the age.

... My people, My people, I am sent by the Father to accomplish the last prophecy which remained since eternity.

My people hold tight! Hold on! Once again, hold tight! For many Christians climbed steps, walked a long way, put their hand on the gate and at the gate they fell down, they fell down at the gate; they could no longer set their foot on the step, for they were guilty of punishment, they were guilty of curses, they were guilty of life; they could no longer withstand.

Oh, My people, once again the Lord, Jesus Christ came from the holy heaven to support you. You have as aid the hosts of the martyrs. You have as aid the hosts of the saints. You have as aid the prophecy of the prophets. You have as aid the services of the priests, not of those of nowadays, but of those from the old times, who became worthy to come to Me. You have as aid the prayers of the martyrs. You have as aid the prayers of the monks and of the votaries, of the patriarchs, of the deacons. You have aid from here and up to heaven; only services and only services. You have as aid the prayers of the nuns. You have as aid the prayer of My Mother, who comforts any kind of pain. You have helpers. Only if you see what helpers stand in front of you! It is painful to fall down.

... Hear My people, as you will be asked by God why you did not love your neighbor, for in that one there was God, in that one there was My Spirit. Hear my people, as I am not coming anymore, for there is no more time. The gates are closing and you will not have where to come into. My people come to Me! Why are you not coming? Why are you late?

Hear Christian, for I have called you to come close to Me. My people My people, why have I called you to come close to Me? Why have I said: "Come close to Me!"? Not that you may be upset, but to be My brother. Oh, how you do not believe My word! How you do not want to be My friend! How you do not want to give Me any honor! It has been done a slide on earth. The Lord, Jesus tells you, not the man over there. It has been done a slide. You can no longer go. You are going to slip away and fall down, and when you fall, you will turn into dust. You will seek the doctor to mend you, but there is no doctor for something like this. Do you believe it? Hear Christian, there is no doctor. Do you not see? The ones who fell, no doctors of these could heal. Hear Christian! My people turn well with your face toward Me.

Why children are you upset? Look over there across the street, where the former harlot stayed, there is a legion of demons. It will turn these houses to dust; it will cause so that there may be strife between you, war, hatred, and even judgment and condemnation, sons. Why this way? Why did you not remain in your land? Why did you come close to the holy temple if you knew that you are wicked and you do not submit and not tolerate one another? Why sons, you grew tired so many human hands? So that you may be in hell? What for? For the wicked spirits?

Keep in mind that the things are prepared to lose you; and keep in mind; not a single hair of your head will perish.

... Make good peace, you little shepherds, for you are few, and let you have a close relationship from now on, and what one does not know, let him learn from the other, so that both may have the same wisdom and both may have the same good mood.

... Be careful to the prayer in the middle of the night. The Bridegroom is near to come and let Him not find you asleep. Do not cover with a blanket someone at prayer. Be awake every midnight! Only the one who is sick is forgiven. Learn the prayers by heart; let you walk on the way and make prayers. Go to the fields and do not say jokes, rather make prayers.

The Word of God

... Come closer to Me, Christian, for the bad time will come when you no longer have work, when no one comforts you and when you need My comfort. Come closer to Me, Christian, for the time will come when you need My food and no one will be found having this food to give to you. Know that there will be all kinds of fruits on this earth and they will be of no use to you. But the food from My hand, which the Lord Jesus will give to you, will fill your heart, will fill your belly and you will be healthy. Do not crave for the earthly food. While I was traveling in the air, I have not heard that the man is contended with the food that the Lord is giving him so that the man may seek the Lord. Oh, My little children!

My little children, My little lambs, My little sheep among whom I walk and advise well to be with Me, I have not heard any step walking towards the Lord seeking him. I have not heard any sigh of a Christian seeking the Lord crying. I have not heard any child seeking his spiritual father and mother, but know, do not forget, for this that I told you knocks at your doors. The time will come when you will cry in order to become good, but no one will pay you any longer, for when you were paid, you were wondering astray with people not entrusted by God. You will be the most quiet of all beings that will be here on earth, but no one will look at you any more for the Lord will leave with all His work. Hear today Christian, as there is no lie, for the Lord has never come down with a tiny bit of lie. My people, God calls you, God wants you to fulfill His plan with you now, as He accomplished it with your fathers and forefathers, as it was fulfilled with the little lambs which God gave birth by the old prophecy.

... Where is still the prophecy of Daniel? Where is still the prophecy of Ezekiel? Where is still the prophecy of Immanuel when He grew up. Where is still the prophecy of old? Why do you not read the book? For all have been fulfilled; and what happened with those that did not believe, and what happened with those that believed.

... Do not be like the world, not even as a grain of mustard. If you saw something at you and the world has it too, throw it. Son, let it not be seen that that tiny thing stops you on the way to heaven. You will look to your left and to your right and there will be no one to take your side, for that tiny thing is a considerable sin, for you do not know when the trumpet sounds and It will be told through His trumpet and you will not see anything and the little angel will come and tell you: „Come up here, for the earth will be only fire.” Be faithful, for I speak only what it is in the book, but you do not know where I speak from, for you do not read. I do not speak from the middle of it or from the beginning, but I speak from the last leaf in the book. And get yourself clean, Christian, so that you may be also lifted up.

... Be good and learn to read the Scripture, for you are Christians who know the Scripture, but there are people not of ours and throw with a stone at you and hit you. (The protestant and new-protestants sects, r.n.) But I say to you: learn the Scripture as well, so that your teaching may not be overthrown, as the most Virgin Mary is with you, and the holy cross with the sacrifice on it is with you, and the apostleship is with you; but the apostleship is not with them, and they wear short dress and their lips and nails made, and they wait for the Lord into their gates. But instead of the Lord, there will come punishment.

... Christian, repair the robbery from you, for there are two more minutes and you will be terrified by what you will see. You will have no place to hide to escape the heavy pain. The more comfort has been with you, the worse will you get beaten by God.

... It is written in the Holy Scripture that in the last time God will pour out from His Holy Spirit over your sons and your daughters and happy will be the one who heard and worked and turned a sinful man into a faithful man.

Hold on tight Christian, as the Lord is not coming to you as there is someone to come to you. But it is written in the Holy Scripture, that the mouth will be covered and it will not be said anything.

Daniel son, the man has bought the demon. Keep in mind! Daniel, the man has bought the demon and is going to be a merchant of demons. Even if you have nothing to eat, do not buy the demon for you will be tormented. The maggots will eat you up: they will eat all your flesh up, to the bones and to the marrow; they will make a house into the stone of man. Listen to the Lord, Daniel, and prophesy this prophecy, as the demons got out of the hell and serve the world. They bring to them lot of money on the table, they bring to them much bread, they bring to them everything they need to feed the body, but they do not bring to them the coat of spirit and the Spirit of the Lord runs away and cries. And keep in mind Daniel, for when the demon gets into the clean and swept house, know that the end has come. The demons sell a gram of alcohol and a kilogram of water and put their enchanting over it. The man drinks, drinks, drinks, and does not know where his house is, he does not know of his work, he does not know of his children, and he does not know of his woman. But keep the prophecy firmly to your house. Even if there is no water on any part, do not drink of this drinking, as if you drink it, you will estrange yourself.

Oh, what grace God gave you! He gave you a coat of king. What a beautiful coat the Christian is wearing today! But if he drinks, the little coat is not his anymore, and the demon that undressed the Lord at Golgotha gets him undressed too and divides his little coat as he divided the coat of the Lord, to mock My work.

Keep in mind, son; Ceaușescu dies, and the communists die. Keep this whisper hidden. Until it happens do not say anything. After he dies you can speak. And there is no need to know how he dies. (Executed at the Revolution in 25.12.1989, r.n.) No one will escape. You do not know; you are littlish, tiny.

... Cry on the way, for this will come to you: “My God, my God do not forsake us and come as soon as possible, for your people want You to come into Your house, to talk about the spiritual ones.”

The Word of God

... Sons, this time that I spend in the midst of My people is being rewarded.

... The Lord Jesus came from the Father and went to the Father. Why did I come? Because I still have something to fulfill. What? I still have to fulfill and no matter how bad and heavy weather, the Lord fulfills what He has to fulfill.

My little children, love and unite in the Lord and do not separate one another, but rather be inseparable, brothers in spirit, for brothers in spirit live together, and brothers in the body split even after one minute. And know, My little children, that the body without having the Spirit cannot inherit the earth. Little children the earth is full of bad people; it is full of sins and it is full of bodies without spirits; and you should know that this is in the end. Know well and search these times by the fig branch, for the fig tree will be cut and thrown into the fire. The fig tree is the priests and you are the branches which have to grow and produce fruit.

... A friend standing in front is not a good friend. He is a friend up to the grave and he lets you there. Your good friend is the one who advises you to go into heaven. That one you should be looking for. But you will not find him anymore, because he perished killed by the Antichrist's weapon.

My little and tiny children, the whole heaven is crying and waiting for you, but you are slow. If you knew, you would not be slow in coming. Sons, sons, humble, unite, love and consecrate yourself and do not stay indifferent, for the Lord has prepared the boat of Elijah, of Enoch, of Noah and John and of all on the earth who were lifted up to heaven. You do not know how you get there; in the body or in the spirit. But I say to you: be prepared with everything.

... My little children learn the parable of Moses, for he was slow in speech and I made him speak the way he had to speak and for how long he had to speak. This was his measure for his voice. I sent him and gave him courage to go to Pharaoh to tell him My commandments. I did with Moses a great work, extremely great. It is written and is read at the judgment.

... Know that the dead will be on earth and there will be no one to bury them for the graveyards do not receive them. The priest is doing his job, but he is doing it as the shoemaker. The last priest that loved God died last year: the patriarch Justinian. (The Patriarch of the Romanian Orthodox Church, r.n.) After him there is no one for heaven. The one of today entered into the flock of goats. Hay and what he works! But you should know that God does not let him, but he destroys him by this devilish work that he does, for all the bricklayers got together before God, they who worked out the churches on earth and ask for the destruction of those who spoiled or spoil the churches; they ask for the destruction of those who defiled them. (The servants of the communist regime, r.n.)

... The priest eats in the altar where he is not allowed to take nothing but My Supper; not to put any other food into his mouth. My little children, I did not tell you to leave the little church. They are responsible for them and for the people. Do you believe?

... God has spoken through many things: through stone, woods and birds as well God has spoken My little children, and He also speaks by thunderbolts, waters and floods and earthquakes. And the world says: „There was a great flood.” It was not a flood rather it was a great work.

The Word of God

... Sons My little children, why have I spent time with you if you have not learned what I gave you? I passed from house to house; I ate at the table with you. What do you say sons, when the dust will be shaken off the Lord Jesus' feet and you feel a great lack? Not a lack of clothes, water, bread or house; not of the earthly things but of Me.

... When I live your house, the sign will remain and you will wear this sign as Isaac Lachedem, who did not receive Me when I went on Golgotha and that man will come short of all My things. Oh, My people, here is the desolation. This thing is written in the holy book: «And when the desolation of abomination comes in the holy place and swallows many of My disciples, then the end is coming.» You know this sign through the dead who die and through the sick people from hospitals.

... Oh, My beloved people that I wanted to have a future for in heaven, to make out of you holy disciples and martyrs, and what God did through John and His people from the beginning! It is written in the book that when the desolation comes into the holy place you know that the kingdom of God has already come. And the kingdom of God does not come through drunkards; it does not come through fornicators; it does not come through blasphemers or traitors; rather it comes through Christians and good deeds. You will see it with your own eyes before you and if you are worthy, you will enter for the door will open and will stand aside and you will hear a fatherly voice: «Come you good servant so that I may serve you!».

... Many stand by Me with the body of empty clay and the spirit arrived in heaven for a long time. It left son, and the spirit said: “I do not come back in the body that I left anymore, as too much I was disgusted and too much I was distressed as in a cell full of devils.”

The kingdom of God is coming. Remain steadfast My child for you will be sorry when you see God and when He tells you: «Go away from Me, you cunning servant, for you deceived your spirit and he cried at your bosom.» God gave you a beautiful future. There will be a beautiful kingdom, but you should know that the mourning will be also dreadful. Know this Christian and do not lift your face from the ground; rather look to the heavenly things and not to the earthly ones.

Sons, all that you asked from Me I gave you. I did not want to reject you, but why God gave you all that you asked for? Only that you may cast God out? Or, that you may not stop from your way?

... My little children, the wealth of the antichrist is from east to west and from south to north.

He gave it to the communists to do with it as they pleased, and they did. They laid a hand on you and your infants. They laid a hand on the graveyards and on holy dwellings. They took hold of the servants of God who were doing their service. You see a servant getting drunk; you see him carousing; you see him committing adultery; you see him getting mad. Many saw and blasphemed the holy thing. Many left the holy dwelling when they saw it and do not want to sit at My table anymore. Do not take the things that were spoiled for the things that are present today as not all of them have been spoiled.

My little children, in the time of your ancestors and forefathers, the miracles were done even by the hand of the disciples. Why do you not do this? Look at the disciple Haralambie (Saint Charalambos, r.n.) who made the mouth of the one who spat him be at his back head. He did not curse him but cried to God to see his enemy. My little children that one who spat Haralambie became a disciple.

... Where is your grace? Look, you do not know the day or the hour when you get into My kingdom. I would tell you but I have nowhere to turn around as you are not on My side for when you got upset you vomited, you sold out and turned traitor.

When the Lord, Jesus Christ chose this pipe, (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) he spoke much but now it is rare because of the people not listening. By My work My trumpet will get healed but by your work it got sick.

... Look, I gave a severe sickness to Justin, the patriarch, (The patriarch of the Romanian Orthodox Church, r.n.), because he foreordained the destruction of the monasteries and abolishing of many priests. The good priests will be abolished and the bad ones will remain.

Many believers are on earth but they do not believe in the holy things and believe in the dead things instead. All breath believes but I speak truly that the faith of this world is not clean as the God's law requires. Believe in the one who took all breath to a funeral. You will see and believe the word that I speak. Even if the hour came for you to leave, by your faith and by the power of the Lord, you will not leave and remain until His coming instead.

... All say that there is no coming anymore; for it is the man and not the Lord. Do not be deceived for the world died when the Antichrist came. The spirit took them and only their body remained, and the Antichrist makes with the body palaces and wonderful and desired things that the body can never forget. Yes, the Antichrist took a wonderful image that the man worships him. The beautiful has come, son, to a high scale, but you should know that the beautiful will be ugly. And it will be ugly, wry, raddled and with an unusual image, which the angels run away from, as a bird flies away from the fox. (Ceaușescu, r.n.). The angels say: "Oh, Jesus, that beautiful deceived the one on earth." The Antichrist set himself as a God and set in front of the public on high. No one knows what great height he has. Oh, world, world how you have deceived yourself! This beautiful which is in you, when revealed, (See, The Revolution in Romania, in 1989, r.n.), you will run away and will not know where to hide, as even the rock will be crashed so that you may not enter it; and the earth will break open so that you may not hide into it. World, world, put off the beautiful and break the connection with the Antichrist and with this nature that the Antichrist made. Son, a day is coming when you will smear your face so that you may no longer be beautiful and leave the beautiful little coat, but know son, that everything you did on earthly with pleasure will be written down in the book.

When the Lord, Jesus Christ was crucified, all that were with Him were crying of His inflictions.

... Oh, Christians, when once you were going and ask for a service of health or peace, you were giving little money and your service was done clean and truly and was fulfilling and dearly you were getting rich in the spiritual things. But now your petition is no longer fulfilled at your prayer and you give thousands of money. Why? Because the Antichrist deceived them too, (The priests, r.n.), with all of his things. Once the priestess was not painting her face and she was humble and humbly dressed instead, but now the priest is looking for the beautiful; a beautiful woman, rouged on her face. Oh, My child, God is asking you to know the evil spirit and break the connection with him and depart from him. The evil spirit is intruding in everything: in the teacher and in mistress as well, in school and city halls and into the water. And when you drink water say: „Lord, bless this water”, as even by the water he enters you.

... The devil has now taken power to deceive My elected ones. My little sheep asks from God blessing at every step and in every work, in every desire and behavior. My child, I saw the evil spirit measuring the women's legs when naked and was whispering: „Your dress is too long”, and she was ashamed and was lifting it a bit higher, and higher, until her dress got to her bottom. Hardly can this be repaired and the woman with a short dress will never be forgiven. Woe to the woman and man who pass away without being mended in their lives! My little children, the man is responsible of his wife and the woman is responsible of his man.

The Lord Jesus came and He has already arrived and is waiting for you to wake up, but know that He is not waiting for a long time. My little children, you do not bear to leave your house or what you earned, but I left the heaven and My Father and all that is in heaven and I came down after you in the deepest place. Do you not know son that you have to ascend above? Why did you go so low? My child you have deceived yourself. Who you are running after? Get up Christian, as from all that have been given to you, by which you have consecrated yourself, you could fly like a bird. Is it not a sin to go that deep? Where are your wings? Where are your haloes? (Like those of the saints in the church, r.n.). You could have wings and haloes as well. Why do you lack them? The saints and the Lord's Mother braided you a crown of roses to give it to you when you will come to Me and I will lift you up from this place.

My child rise from the dead, as this word will sound when the dead arise.

Oh, for how long I have sounded this word and you do not get out of your pit anymore! Elijah ascended to heaven by a fire chariot and fire horses. He made this carriage for himself by his living and his deeds. His deed and life brought God. Why do you not want this? Why have you deceived yourself? Why do you not care about your life? Why do you kill your life? Why do you not love it?

Many cry and are tormented in hell.

My little children do not be wicked like Jews. Do not be wicked like pagans.

My child, the flower in the garden God planted out as he did with you so that you may give your scent out to your Gardener, as each flower has its special scent.

Do not run after the madmen and after the deceived ones. You will be terrified when you see them.

... Where are, Christian, the things of old when the woman was weaving your little dress and shirt? Oh, son, now you pay hundreds of money for a little dress, which you could live long on? Oh, sons, where is the humility of your forefathers and ancestors? Where is it?

... The youth of today fool their parents saying that they have not known how to live? How Lazarus will judge the rich one! For God will give His judgment to the poor to judge the deeds of the rich ones. The beggar will judge and convict you on the judgment day.

... My little sheep, you little flock, little in everything, be wise to what the Lord, Jesus Christ is telling you. I will do with you, son, wonderful things if you mend your life. God is your Father and your Shepherd. The Lord, Jesus Christ turned into a prophet; He did not send another prophet. He became a prophet in the Spirit; for if I were in the body, they would make bigger My cross and would condemn Me more dreadfully. If someone says: „What? Did you see Christ? When I see Him I will repent then.”

When I left for My Father I told you not to die and be forever alive and work, as in My place the Comforter would come, Who would no longer leave. I did not establish a mark for the place where the apostles and disciples should stop, and I said: «Work until My coming!». And here, son, that the Lord has come in the spirit and is speaking to you, the latter born.

... Even if you are a king do not depart from Me and especially work for God. Do not be proud and do not call yourself „Lord”, for it is only One Lord, the Lord, Jesus Christ; as the lords will fall down. Do not receive praise; do not receive this thing before you, for look, the king of today climbed to the highest height and he will soon fall down and will be crushed to pieces because he made an image of icon for himself and the world worships it. (The placards and slogans with which the people get out for demonstrations and bring eulogies and honor to Ceaușescu and to the Communism, r.n.). You will see where the death of this king is, (In Târgoviște, near the „New Jerusalem” monastery, convicted and executed on the Lord’s birthday, at Christmas, 25.12.1989, r.n.), and how they will mourn, that cry for him to live long and flourish.

... I will do with you wonderful things on the last moments and God will reveal His wonders through His latter children. Do not be afraid of death and of those who want to kill you, for the Lord does not want to lose any one of you, for many of you are written so that you may not have death.

Pray sons for you have dead relatives who agonize in hell. Make charity and numbers of masses for the dead to save the dead ones.

... Peace to you, My last people! Take the peace that I give you and share with those that are not here. Son, when you enter a house give peace and if there is no peace doer in that house, the peace will come back to you and remain in you.

... He who knows that is defiled let him not touch this bed. Not all the time but only then. It is about a woman with a man, for it brings much sorrow and pain to My trumpet.

... After Justinian (The Patriarch, r.n.), another patriarch will come to the divine throne, a man of great value, who will love his sheep, monks and monasteries.

The Word of God

... Happy for thousand and thousand times is that Christian who believes and who listens to these words, as wherever he goes and wherever he travels the Lord is with him. Do not look with the body to see the spirit for the body has no power to see the spirit, but only when it is fulfilled what the Revelations says.

... Come to your senses for all are at the end. Nothing more is added. All have come to an end. Be ready for the Lord, Jesus Christ is knocking at the door. The Lord is speaking spiritually. It is not the beginning but the ending, for many will be worked out for this time being and many will be seen. Happy for thousand times he who did not see and believed, for the time has come for him to be paid for his spiritual faith; the time has come for him to be paid for his spiritual behavior; the time has come for each one to take his work from own things.

... I would say to My people: stop getting married! The marriage of this day is no longer spiritual. Let him who wants take heed to these words. Who does not want is free to marry. Who does not want to listen to these words is asked not to confuse what the Lord speaks.

... Behold that some mountains have been formed instead of small houses, (Tower blocks, r.n.), and in the middle of these mountains there are millions of people who live. And you will look and cry: „Mother, father, brother-in-law, or cousin!” And they will no longer answer and you will no longer see these mountains as dust from dust still remains, but out of these mountains nothing will remain and you will wonder and say: „Where is the creature from these mountains with many frames, with many towers?” and you will see nothing. You are asked not to curse, nor to cry. Here is what the man that you took in your arms and yelled to live is doing. (Ceausescu, r.n.). Behold, he lived and destroyed all breath.

... The judgment is given into the hands of the saints and of the Judge. How do you think the judgment is? Every prophet, every martyr or disciple, everyone with his own grouping, everyone in his own part.

... I have stayed with you until the last moment and taught you only the good and the saints asks Me why do I love and protect you so much. And I said: „They are My little children.” But you should know that sin is forgiven only to seven years. Those are the little ones.

... My little sheep, hard times are coming; there were hard and there are coming even harder. There will be a hunting; not of rabbits, nor of foxes or bears but of Christians. All earth will be controlled, but you should know to speak for who knows to speak will not be deceived and will not perish for the Lord will be on His right side. You better pray so that it may be finished sooner with these dirty hunters. (The communist dictatorship security, r.n.).

... My little children, I did not bind you up as others did; and who wants to remain with Me let him stay boundless and not oppressed. My little children, the Lord has never bound anyone that He may not leave him, but the unclean spirit bound whoever he caught so that he may not leave.

The saints and martyrs ask themselves: „Why do we not see the earth and what it is on it, and why those on earth do not see us, the ones from heaven?” If you have more faith you will see the same way.

My little loved children, you are rewarded with much sufferance and many tears! Sons, you have been paid for, since you were born and until the end. The Lord, Jesus, paid for you with His sufferance, from then until the end. Christians, the unclean spirits gave nothing for you and won you over with worthless things and filled the hell. They gained you with lies. You will sob when you see what he won you over with and pray as the rich man was praying to Lazarus.

... Be careful, because as much as I speak, many holy words escape not getting into your hearts, God's building. As the Father said to John, the Baptizer: «This is My beloved Son, that I am well pleased with», the same way it is said now: „This is the work of God, that He was pleased to give it to His people so that it may prepare itself for the heavenly kingdom”, as not all the faith is holy and known; not every faith leads you to God. The holy faith is only that which is sanctified by the Holy Spirit and by the holy cross. (See the selection topic: „About the graven image and the sign of the cross”, r.n.)

... Sons, look what the Lord is saying before you: when you know that you need to work or to leave somewhere, keep the praying time. By this hour, from four o'clock to five o'clock, (P.M., r.n.) you can gain as the bride gains the furniture, but the prayer and what you buy with it is more expensive. Take your time, either before or afterwards, that at four o'clock to make your vespers, chapels, prayers and unsettled. And at the twelve o'clock midnight when the heavenly bells call, be there in connection with the heavenly ones. Did you hear?

... Be careful that it was spread into the world that you do not buy bread. The Lord will punish the one who spread this news into the world. If you feel tired battering bread, do not tell this divine command to the world.

... It is nothing, nothing healthy, from fingertips to tiptoes, in this body that I use. (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) The kidneys, the brains of the head and the stomach and everything standing in water are putrid. It is like a sponge that you wipe the dust off your shoes with; likewise all are swallowed on it. And it is not far away, and this life will die away as it is distressed and struck down everywhere.

... Many of you will not see death, and many, during that time, when the Lord will show with His glory, will be on their back, asleep in the house. And then it will be called out: «Hosanna, the Son of God!».

... I repeat you sons: many from the Christians are in enterprises and in enterprises there are dogs and lambs clothed in wolf skins. (Treacherous from Security, r.n.). Do not sit at the table with unclean spirits; do not drink water of the same vessel with unclean spirits. Let your food and behavior be distinguished! I would say, if possible, take the service at your home, and if not possible, I ask you: can you carry two bags? That is one for Gog (The Communists, r.n.) and one for God?

... I ask the Christian women to be prude. When you get out of your bed in the morning, wash your eyes and make a canon, an unsettled, pray and sing and only afterwards put your hand on those you need in your courtyard and in the house. Do not value the sleep more than the Lord. Do not value your bodies more than your spirits. Teach your children not to ask you for food before worshiping and washing. Give the babies in diapers wafer and holy water.

... You did not sing until now for you did not have time, but the time is coming when you want to sing and will no longer be able to. (Because of the communists, r.n.). I have asked and want to have buglers and the Christians do not hear Me. I want to have players by harp and many other holy objects.

... Let no one be upset that I spoke about the service. I did not put a limit so that you may not go to your job, but first take care of your spiritual life.

... Be spiritual at every step and every moment. This is Our house, of the heaven and earth, the spiritual one. Let no one dare to say: „This is my room”, for there will come from Jerusalem (heavenly Jerusalem, r.n.) and from on high to stay and if you say „This is my room”, it will be torn down. You are asked to know well this thing that was done, for many places that were made were not kept; rather they were torn down. Even Solomon's temple was destroyed if not preserved.

... Son, here, they of today have plotted to leave only one church of a hundred; to leave only one monastery of a hundred. And they will take the holy relics and put into a museum and all their life on a cover, but they will not be able to do it. I say: let him who dare do this thing be cursed. It is a little more time and the friendship of the countries will be over. (The Communist countries from „The Socialist International”, r.n.). It is a great bustle, sons, on all earth. Not even ants bustle as this world bustles, and it is not in costumes; rather it is naked.

... I brought you to this place not that you may get rich, nor that only you to make use of it, but to look, son, for someone else's benefit. This is the land of the promise. I brought you close to Me. Be as the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit ask, as the Lord did not bring you here in order to get mad. Be clean, for today I say to you to do My will not for fear as I let the will of man free. Arm yourselves well with faith and be good literate, for the Adventists passed before you. David was a child when Goliath came with the thought to destroy the faith of the Lord's people and he mocked God. And I brought David; I took him from his father's sheep and brought him in front of the pagan's armies and in front of Goliath; however David did not kill Goliath with a little stone; rather by the word and power of faith.

... Well, here is the woman (The church, r.n.) My people who was sitting on the beast. The beast got on the woman (The communist dictatorship, r.n.); and now their time has come to be judged, and the woman and the beast to be destroyed, the beast and those who nourished it. In the twinkling of an eye I will do this and everything will change, even the sea. (The work was accomplished at the Revolution in 1989, r.n.). My child, you will wonder and say: „Is this really so? Or, is it only an illusion?” The time has come, My little children, for God to bring the liberty; He will bring justice and there will be no one to oppress you anymore. You will leave your thing on the road and it will be hard for a thief to live among the believers, for the Spirit of God will uncover Him; and it will be hard for the wicked man, for He will be punished by the law.

You will dig a well in your garden, like Jacob's well, and we will meet at the well. Because of the great joy that will be, the baby will no longer suck his mother's breast and the bridegroom will no longer come closer to his bride. I give you power to tread on serpents and dragons and you will not be harmed of anything that is coming upon you. Do not be frightened. I am with you. Wherever you go I am with you.

Did you see son how sick My trumpet (Through which the Lord speaks, r.n.) was that it could not breathe?

Well, look how well I speak through her speech. I will bring the time of wonders again and anything bad that may happen will be repaired; the deaf will hear and the lame will walk.

Do not wear your garment inside out. Do not be ashamed to wear you garment openly because I was not ashamed either to carry the cross for you; I was not ashamed to be dressed in the mocking robe for you; I was not ashamed when they were crying: „The King of the Jews!” I could destroy them in one breath, but I let it to be fulfilled, so that I may take all human kind out of the heavy curse. I suffered to take Adam and Eve out of hell. Do not take the side of the dead; do not do what this world does, as the Lord prepares you just for the dead to receive life and resurrection through your hand.

Observe the feasts of the saints for they are of great benefit for you. There are many saints every day who sacrificed themselves for the holy faith and for truth and decorated the arch of the church. There is no sand in the sea; there is no leaf in the trees; there are not stars in the sky as how many saints God has, and I counted in this multitude those in heaven and those on earth as well.

The Word of God

... Oh, My people, the counting of God's age, the counting from the end! When do you join the counting from the beginning which has been done by the Holy Spirit? Where is the counting from the end? What do you know about it? In the beginning, when God built this earth, He counted Adam as the first man. Blessed is he who will be counted in the end.

... Get clean so that you may come in the place that I prepared for you, but here, the word that I spoke with you face to face sanctified you, for I do not leave you if your faith is the same like My faith.

... I will come to you in your gate and you will get Me out in the street. Why? Because you did not read what God's plan was. As from beginning to end, nothing of God It was given.

... Oh, My loved one, you will come son, and will face a bad weather and say: „Let me stay under Your eaves!” And I will say to you: „Not under the eaves but in the house as you too let Me in your house.” I said that I will make a house. But here, a rodent turned up in the silk linen. Do not damage it; do not do this for My silk is expensive and is not from earth; you cannot mend it because it is expensive.

... Who knows God will be asked when he will have gathered everything that is on earth; he will be asked: „It is not so that there is no Christ?” But you should say: „It is not so; rather there is the Lord, Jesus Christ. We all have seen Him; not only I but also my forefather.” You Christian, God will write what you speak. If you say that there is God, any of your sins will be forgiven, no matter how heavy they may be, for this is the point, here is scale.

... My little flower, do not make My cry. Suffice it that I cried enough. It is enough! And let Me enjoy with you and not only with you, but you do not receive the ones that I want to bring to Me. Where shall I take them, as the earth belongs to Gog, (Of the communist dictatorship which „nationalized” everything, r.n.), but up to one point and everything will be devastated.

... I brought someone beside Me (Petre Neacșu, r.n.) and helped him to erect a house for himself. And now you owe Me to accomplish what I ask you. I ask you to receive My little sheep under your covering so that God may fulfill His number. I did not bring these Christians to you to be reprimanded, scolded or unappreciated by you. I would have left them into their village, but I brought them to you Christian, for you are My friend.

... Christian, you followed in the steps of Adam and Eve and that is why you dare commit plagues, but Adam had salvation. There will not be another salvation for you.

... You sons, little sheep, the time is coming for the priests to hate you. They will take you by your hand and throw you out of the church from Me, but you should not hate them.

The Word of God

... Israel, My people, God is waiting for you but you do not believe and not love My waiting and do not believe what God prepared for you. Israel, son, come to eat at My table. I am waiting for you. Look in the Holy Scriptures for you will find where it is written that «I am going to My Father and prepare room for you». Come! I have been waiting for you with the gates open since I raised you but no one has come. The day of ascension has come but no one came. You do not see what is coming behind. A great brook of blood is coming, but only if you are with Me will you escape. (The Christians' oppression under the communist dictatorship, r.n.)

My people your weapon is My cross. My people your glory is the faith in My work.

... You little shepherds, pray as the prophet Zachariah prayed so that God may bring someone from heaven with a greater power to wake the people up from disbelief. That was how he prayed to Me when he saw that the people did not listen to him anymore. This way you should pray too.

... Oh, My beloved, let you be like a clean wax candle from My beehive.

My little children do not scatter what I have been giving you for twenty-five years, for the day and hour is coming and, as I showed Myself to Cleopas and Lucas, the same way I will show Myself to you and no one of you will be deprived of seeing this body that was crucified.

Oh, sons, what a great day was yesterday! Oh, My loved people, for which I was well pleased to make Myself known! I have taught whole peoples and here is what I took: four spikes and a crown of thorns and I also took a spear into My rib. Blessed is he who drinks of this spring. (Of word, r.n.).

Oh, My people, God wants that hatred, enmity, jealousy, pride, stubbornness, covetousness may disappear from among you, as persons will come from east and west and want to stay close to My work. Who shall make them a house, as they have no land to build on; Gog took it all. (The communist dictatorship which „nationalized” everything, r.n.). Give them from what is under your roof and you will have a hundredfold more and you will no longer lament that you have no room in your house. What use is it to Me that I brought children into this place and there is enmity among you? My little children, if you were with Me, you would open the door for the first time and said: „Come in brother as you do not come to me but to the Lord.” And give glory to God that Christians have come beside you! But how many of you have a house; I have not heard any one of you saying: „I want, Lord, to receive Your servant under my roof too.” No, Christians, you look for a rich wealth. If you gave money, so would I. If you give as a gift, you will receive as a gift.

Have one another as brothers and angels; not like the rebellious angels. Children, stand aside from the world. Sons, set apart from the world in everything. Do not be like the world. Do not take after the world in anything, for who is like the world will not be known by the Father.

... What is more useful to you? To go with the Lord in heaven or to stay down where the beasts eat your little labor and the rust your silver? Many have come in heaven and have nothing to pay the customs (Air customs - Aerial Toll-Houses, r.n.) with for they left their treasure to S.L.B.H. (The Savings and Loan Bank House, the bank of dictatorship, r.n.)

... The church is neither a dining room, nor a restaurant and I have already said that in the holy church it is served nothing but only the Holy Communion and holy bread. What is eaten more than this is a curse.

Oh, sons, we are going through a great slaughter, (See the murders from the communist dictatorship prisons, r.n.), and if you are with the Lord that slaughter will not touch you and this is for the one who banished God from his heart, for that one who is fighting against Me.

... What damaged you to hit her? (Virginia, the Lord's trumpet – the sixth one, r.n.). What did she do to you to make her angry? Oh, sons, only then when you put her in the grave you will see in what state she left you. And you will cry: „My mummy, forgive me!” But is an angel who stands by the head and feet; one is on the left and one is on the right and he will persecute and separate you and then you will see that you were evil and unfaithful.

The Word of God

... If you have no pity of a mite how could I have pity of you? If it is a poisonous mite which destroys your work, that one you may kill. You shall kill the spider wherever you find it, as it stood up against My Mother saying that its web is better than My Mother's. You have a great reward if you kill it. Its web is good for nothing. All labor of those far away from God is like a spider web. As you destroy the spider web the same way God will destroy the labor of those without God.

... Oh, oh, note that the obedience of each one softens God up when the election comes. You who have brothers, sisters and parents, if you listen now to God and then you cry to Me for their salvation, I will also have compassion at your crying. If you have compassion now at My crying and fulfill it and have taken God's crying into your heart, I will also take your crying into My heart and save your dear ones. They will not be together with you but they will not be into the hands of satan.

... When each young man, each old man, each child, departs from the world and embraces God, the God of heaven takes the nails out of His hands, from the cross, and embraces him. Such a love and joy has God! Sons, it is no time to live carelessly for your soul. It is no time to run after the future. It is the time to run after the light. It is the time to run after your salvation, after happiness, the same way as God is running from place to place and from little house to little house after each one of you. Do not run away from God! Get into God's arm to be happy and safe from what is coming.

... If you are lovers of God, you are like brothers of the same mother. How many in the world have the same mother and judge themselves worse than enemies! They judge, beat and kill each other; the courthouses are full of trials and of people on trial; the asylums are full of children and old people. To be a parent, to grow up a drove of children and to be taken to the asylum by your own children so that village may keep you; how can God stand such a thing? And how many, many other things? How many malformed children get out of their mothers and mothers do not like them and take them there? Woe to them! Why? Because nobody observes any feast. It is the great debauchery. One no longer observes a fasting; one no longer observes a holy day; one no longer observes anything. The heavy sin brings all kinds of children malformed in their faces. Who shall stop the heavy sin? The world? Satan, who is leading the world?

The Word of God

... There will be a cleansing in Romania as it is done in everyone's house. How was Romania in the past ages that all lived after God's will? Romania was a house with pleasant hearts to God, but look, now Romania is the same as you would give a house to some tenants (During the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and they would defile it. Let all little eyes and all little hearts take heed that all who work against God will no longer step on this land. Romania was after God's will in the past and now I want to bring it again after My will. The other little countries which join

Romania and help her, they will receive help from God as well. If some of the countries show hate towards Romania, they too will come into blood and cleansing.

God wants to come to light with His leadership. God wants that His work may be known on all earth. God wants a single heart and a single thought, a single road and a single light on this earth. Who wants God, that one shall live. Who stands against Him, will no longer be able to live. All are struggling in eager rivalry to be at leadership, (After the removal of the dictatorship at the Revolution in December 1989, r.n.), but they will not be able to do anything until that one to lead to the light will come.

... Now God has a little work to prepare His own ones in order to conquer the enemy, and this is being done with pains. I want to come to light with a divine leadership so that the work of God may be known on the whole earth. Until the coming of the leader, who is to lead in order to please God, the country will have no rest.

None of the priests who serve the little churches for their belly and for money will remain. 30-01-1990 – O.S. /12-02-1990 – N.S<sup>11</sup>.

... God wants a clean life in Romania. God is cleansing the land of the Romanian country. God, with His little clean people, will succeed. Oh, I will have no rest until I bring Romania after My will and pleasure. I will have no rest until I bring its leader to be after God's will so that He may take My Romanian people out to light and salvation. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, with My little flock, will be victorious and all eyes will see it.

The Word of God: Prophecy about Romania and its place in glory

A strong voice is heard, which calls: „Who will speak for Me?“

Behold, I blow a spirit of awakening over the nations, to awake the spirit of discovery over the wisemen of the earth, to let them know that I am God. I come to smooth the paths, I come to clean the earth and to water it afterwards, for a new and rich grass to rise across it and to feed the crowds once more. I am coming soon, and My reward is with Me. For I fulfill nothing without revealing My secret to the prophets.

Jerusalem, you who kill prophets and exterminate the ones I have sent! Behold, I am coming to perfect Myself. Let the nations and all the languages hear that I am coming with the Jerusalem from above to settle it on the earth and to put in the middle of it the ones which are written in the Book. I am coming to choose the Jerusalem again.

Behold the voice of Lord on earth! Write and tell the others what God speaks. The spirits of God blow across the earth, and who dares to disturb My plans? Let him come to fight Me, let him judge between Me and My vineyard.

Woe the ones who call the light darkness and the darkness light, who call the bitter sweet and the sweet bitter! The Lord is coming and the mountains are shaking and He annihilates the Babylon.

Oh, how you have fallen from the sky, you who said that you will settle your home in My holy mountain! Behold, I have thrown you to the ground like a priceless branch. Behold, a king is coming after you with My justice, and the eyes of the ones who see will not be closed any more.

You, the weak at heart, strengthen yourselves and fear no more! I shall walk in front of My chosen One and I shall smash the iron locks, as I am calling a man (King Mihai, r.n.) from a far away land to fulfill My plan.

Rise, My Romania! Stand up, My love! Get rid of your yoke and come towards greatness, o, the citadel of My love! Do not cry any longer, My love, for the hardships will go away; there is only one hour left. Behold, a new sun is rising and the flowers are blossoming and I am coming to make you a bride, I am coming to love you and to put you into glory, and all your friends will see you and will walk into your brightness, My love, for it is so written about you, that the kings will walk into your greatness. The Lord is coming to rest upon you, for behold, I am willing into you.

Your poets sang about you, your pagans sang about you, and they did not know what they sang about, My love. My Spirits used to blow over you every morning and they woke your love song, and you sang, beloved citadel, you sang your love song and you were beautiful and you sang.

Clouds and fog passed across you and they changed your beauty and your laughter ceased then, but I did not let any temptation to cross over your power. My Spirit, like an alphorn, used to wake early in the morning and to blow sadly and I rose from you My brave men and I girded their waist and set you free from your burden and then, you smiled again, My love, for I have loved you since your birth and I destined you to be Mine.

But when the (spiritual, r.n.) winter came upon you, a heavy snowfall came upon you and it covered you up, My love, and you almost died. And you struggled into your own blood seventy years (1921 - birth of the Romanian Communist Party - 1991 - one year after the Revolution, r.n.) and the snow became almost red with your blood. (The blood of Christians killed in the prisons of the communist dictatorship, r.n.) And I passed by you, and you were naked, My love, and I took off My coat and I dressed you up, because I remembered your youth, when you were beautiful and white. Oh, the strangers have enslaved you and dishonoured you and they forced you to circumcise, but God will humble themselves and they will bow to your feet to know that I loved you, My love, that you were poor and under the cross, but you guarded My patience. And now, behold, I wake you up from your sleep, to clean the dirt from you and to dress you with new ornaments. Rise and come towards greatness, as this is your fate from God.

Oh, My Romania, the day of transfiguration is coming closer and I am coming to settle down into you, as you are the throne of My greatness, you are the Jerusalem of My glory, for My splendour will come upon you and you will shine like the sun, o, citadel of shinings, and all the nations will come to see you, that your gates will be open night and day, but the night will not come upon you any longer, My love. I shall put on your heights a trumpet sound and a festive voice, and your sons will sing your love song, and then, the ground will give you back the dead ones beneath, for they will rise and you will change in a moment hearing My trumpet. And you shall be a queen, My love, as Lord is The King of love and He is your King.

Behold, I am coming to reward the patience, for I will protect you from the temptation time. Be strong, My love, in order to have Me with you, for no people under the sun shall have your victory and your glory, for you shall be a temple of greatness for Me and you will be called the New Jerusalem, for I give you a new name, My love, My beloved citadel. Wake up your hearing to hear My voice, for you will be My throne and My glorious song will be heard inside you: «Saint, Saint, Saint is God Sabaoth, The One who were, is and will be». And I shall reveal the sin of the ones who stepped over you and I shall make them to be ashamed, and I shall reprimand them harshly to come to repentance, and if they hear our voice and will open their gates, we shall enter, My love, and we shall have dinner with them and they will have dinner with us.

And I will rise a man who will be worthy to take on the glory, the blessing and the power (King Mihai, r.n.) and I will call him from Egypt (from exile, r.n.), because the ones who estranged him and wanted his life (Communists, r.n.), will no longer be then, for I will lay My hand and I shall take from you the food and I shall take you back to your sold and banished son, and he will cry and he will love you and he will come with the entire wealth of Samaria and he will serve you, because he comes from Me, and who will dare to rise against My plans from the eternity? And you will be named then “the one with the man“, for he will triumph and he will be great through My power and My sword will be ruthless in preparing his arrival. And he shall come, My love, and your love song will be heard again then, and the voice of joy of the stabbed ones will be heard too, for they foreseen My time and your greatness, that I am coming to woo you.

And in that day I will take My revenge on the emperors and nobles, on the rich and powerful ones, on the slaves and the free ones, as I will search into you with alight torches, beloved citadel, and My eye will look into caves and over the rocks for those who hid themselves from My anger. But in that day I shall note My name and yours on the foreheads of all your people who have guarded My patience and cleaned up their clothes, and your sons will be priests of The One Who sits on the throne and they will serve day and night in front of Me and they will bring Me incense odour, love odour, My love, and they will be thirsty no more, and they will be hungry no more, for I will give them the sources of life and they will wash their tears in them and the one who will wash his life into them will add to you, beloved citadel.

Oh, I shall lay My tent over you to protect you afterwards, as My angels will unleash pain and sorrow over the ones who do not have the sign of The Living One. And I shall unleash a thunder sound, as it is written and the mystery of God will be announced again to all the nations and languages on earth and to all the powerful ones and I shall cry out: «Oh, how many times I have wanted to bring you under My wing and protect you! But you did not want to, and you sinned far from Me and you lay into ignorance and you did not want My Truth and you did not love life, as you ended your fall with deed, to be worthy of your fall. And now, behold, I am devastating you, and I spill anger over the peoples, and you shall not meet Me until it will be heard again: “Blessed is The One Who comes again in the name of Lord!». And you, My Romania, the citadel of My love, you will see the ones who used to come to curse you, for they will take the path of Valaam, because you are blessed and great with Me, My love, for Lord shall rule and He shall reward His slaves, His prophets and His saints and the ones who are afraid of God. And a new song will be sung into you, and nothing impure shall enter.

Oh, My beloved Romania, get out of Babylon, run away from fornication and sanctify yourself with Me, not to taste from the punishment of Babylon, for the smoke of the fire in which Babylon burns will rise, Babylon, the citadel dressed in gold, and the apostles and prophets will rejoice, for Lord is coming with His justice to redeem their blood; for the angel of the churches will sound and will spread the Word of God and the times will settle down at their place<sup>12</sup> and The Church of the Living God will be glorified and power will be given to the ones on the thrones to judge and to redeem the blood of those who were tortured for the testimony of God, the ones who did not stain themselves with the Babylon's wine. And the tears and death will perish and the sky and the earth will become new, as the old ones pass with crash.

I am Alpha and Omega, the beginning and the end. I am the new beginning, and you, beloved citadel, will be dressed in glory and the ones written in My Book will come to you and a river of life will rise from you and I will put in your middle the tree of life. Blessed are those who wash the coat of life to enter at God. Blessed are those who listen to the Spirits of God. The flower

The Church Calendar (in Romania) up to 1924 was the same as that of Nicaea, based on severe apostolic canons, but in 1924, the Scripture of the prophet Daniel was fulfilled: «the people made bold to even change the times», when the primate metropolitan - of that time, Miron Cristea, (Primate metropolitan = (in the past) a title given to the first metropolitan of a country; today it would be equal to that of a patriarch) introduced the Gregorian Calendar (Catholic) as result of a „pan-Orthodox” congress that took place in 1923, in Constantinople. At that congress, the patriarch of that time, Meletie, proposed the acceptance of the „revised” Julian Calendar, (http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Revised\_Julian\_calendar) which was in accord with the Catholic one for a period up to the year 2800 and „it was allowing that all the feasts to be celebrated at the same time with those of other confessions”. «... and he shall wear out the saints of the Most High and he shall think to change the times and the law...» (Daniel 7/25), r.n.

and the grass wither, but the Word of God lies into eternity. I am The One Who gives hope. I am The One Who speaks.

God is blowing an awakening spirit over the wisemen of the earth: love the fear of God, love the belief in God, but love God's love. Let My love and My wisdom come down over the wise men of this century and let no one stumble. The wisdom in God is fear of God; this is the beginning of wisdom and the one who has not got this one, that one is not wise.

Love My ways, for God is coming down over the weak ones to make the powerful ones to be ashamed, for God has hidden His secrets from the wisemen of the earth and revealed them to the children of Israel. Get rid of the slavery's yoke, for the one who is slave to the sin, that one has no wisdom, that one changes the lie with the truth and fills with the lying spirit the one who is almost dead, for the lie seeds death and straying from the path of the truth. Look for Me with a humble heart and think about Me with justice, as the Spirit of God does not live with crime and stands away from temptation. Get your back straight and take My yoke, as My yoke is light and My burden is good. The one who is not like Me, is not with Me, and behold, the fog is coming over the nations, is coming to catch the wrongdoing ones.

Love justice, love the way of God and walk on it, for the word of wisdom is life; and, finally, love life. I am the way, the truth and the life, and the one who walks on My ways is alive. The one who knows My ways and does not walk on them, that one is not allowed to talk about God. The one who loves his life, shall lose it. Strengthen your hearts, you wise men, strengthen your knees, make right ways, for the kingdom of glory is coming and the God of Heavens wants to give you the kingdom. Love humbleness, oh, wisemen of the earth, for God does not reveal Himself and does not enter into a vicious soul. Clean yourselves up for, behold, I am coming with My reward. Run away in the front of death and reconcile with God, for God is coming to rest into His, He is coming to announce His kingdom.

My Romania, your sons are walking into wrong ways; your wisemen are sleeping and stumbling; the right one dies and no one cares, and God is strange at your place. The teachers of the law are stumbling on daylight and have no power to share life from Me. From the small one to the big one, everyone love the way of fall and no one has Me inside him. Behold, I am coming with great fire, I am coming to get the evil out of you. I am coming to clean you up and to renew you, I am coming to make your land a new one, I am coming to make a new earth and sky. I am coming to you, My Romania, for God is willing and He glorifies. Behold, I am blowing My trumpet.

Rise, My love, shake the dust from you! Wash yourself, My Romania, for God is uniting with you. Behold, I am coming to unlock your sources, to reveal your fountains, to open your gates, for the one who will love you, will rightfully love you, My love.

Oh, I am coming to judge My shepherds and to gather the remains and to feed My flock. Shouldn't have My shepherds fed My flock? Oh, My flock has spread, got lost and no one is looking for it, as My shepherds did not look after it, and they fed themselves, but I am coming to make justice for My flock, to ask My sheep from them and they will not tear them apart, they will not stab them any more. I am coming to look for them and to study them as the shepherd studies the flock when he is in its middle; I am coming to feed them, to water them, to make justice and to judge between sheep and sheep.

I am coming to clear the waters and to take My flock to good pasture and, do not be afraid, small flock, there is only one hour left and I shall shepherd you after justice and I shall increase you and I shall put shepherds over you who will shepherd you with justice, and you will increase and multiply, and I shall rise a great people, a chosen people, a holy priesthood and I shall overflow the spirit of caress and of greatness over the sons of submission.

My Romania, the Jerusalem of My greatness, you will be My glory, My love, and a new song will be heard from you above all the peoples, a peace song across the nations, My love, and a hymn of eternal glory. Rejoice, New Jerusalem, rejoice, My Romania! For behold, Lord is coming to you. Enlarge your tent and look, your sons are coming to you. All those who hated you will call you the Citadel of God, because abandoned and tortured as you were, I shall make you the pride of the centuries. For I, The Lord, have decided this.

Come on, beloved people, rejoice and get up, the citadel of My love! Sing your love song in order that the other nations can hear it and rejoice. Put on a festive dress and a wedding necklace, for Lord is coming to you.

Rise, My love, and let Me hear your voice! Light up the candela and come out on the threshold and watch, My love, for I am coming soon. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to the Patriarch Teoctist<sup>13</sup>

God is speaking on earth. Let the word of God be heard and His plans fulfilled! Who is this who thwarts My plans? Let him come to judge between Me and My vineyard.

The Spirits of the Lord speak to the churches. Take heed, ruler of the church, stand up and take heed! Behold, I am coming to make a new thing, a new people, a new and eternal church. I come to establish Jerusalem and to even the paths. Take heed that I establish you once again to sit on My church in order to know to fulfill My plan. I come with those written in the book; I come to sanctify Myself; I come to cleanse the church from idols and to take the desolation of abomination out of My most holy place, for My plans are not like your plans, and who is this who stands against. Let him come to fight against Me, for woe to those who thwarts the plans of the Lord. Woe to those who make plans without Me!

Take heed for look, I make My plan known to you. Get up and speak to the church; speak to the teachers of the law and to the shepherds of My flock: here, My sheep are wondering astray like sheep without a shepherd; My sheep are scattered through all mountains and hills. Their shepherds have shepherded themselves and have not been walking in My law anymore. Here, I come to ask from them My sheep so that they may no longer be a pray to tear. I come to graze My flock; I come to do it justice and to place it in the cowshed; I come to make a fence around it so that My sheep may no longer be torn by wolves and wild beast. And I also come to fulfill.

Take heed and get up to do My will, for you will sit in the midst of the teachers of the law, in the midst of the shepherds of My flock, and the Lord will make His councils come down so that those prophesied may be fulfilled, as I will establish the seventh anointed one and he will sit and fulfill My plan to establish the times and holy days back to their places. And I will come down among My servants, the prophets, and I will come towards him and command him to do My will. That one is from Me, and let no one seek to thwart My plan, for I am God and not man. I will let My Spirit come down on him and clothe him with power from above and put him on the throne of David and we will make a living and incorruptible church. We will water the thirsty wilderness and make straight paths and a clean and holy way that the saved ones will walk on. Even those without understanding will walk on it. Then the deaf will hear and open the eyes of the blind and the poor shall rejoice with the Lord and see the work of My hand in their midst, and those astray in their spirit will receive understanding.

Behold, I come to the shepherds to call them into account for the shepherds of My flock do not want to listen to the Lord's law and I will ask the blood of the prophets and seers from their hands, for they despised their word and told them: „Do not prophesy!” Behold, I will come and give them as food the bread of affliction and anxiety, and you, the people of Zion, do no cry anymore, for those who teach you will no longer hide and their ears will hear the words: „Behold the way!” I will let the good rain come down and a new and rich grass (Spiritual grass, r.n.) will grow again on earth and rivers and wells will be on all mountains and the towers will fall down because of the terror that is coming; and I will bind your wound, Zion, and the sun will shine then seven times more.

Oh, woe to the ones who make covenants without My Spirit that transgression may be multiplied! Woe to those who defile the place of My glory! Behold, I will take them away from Me and establish shepherds after My heart and they will shepherd in justice and love and My sheep will feed on good pasture and live in safety, and the priest and prophet will sit next to Me at My table as before, and I will again raise the church to the rock; and when the church speaks, there will be new heavens and a new earth. Here, I come to make a new people, a heavenly and incorruptible nation, a holy people that will live by My laws, for Romania is the place of My glory; it is the Jerusalem of My glory and I come to sanctify Myself in its midst and to establish in it those written in the book.

Take heed to the word of the Lord, ruler of the church, for a man from the church is struggling and wants to sit on the seat of the church. Woe to those who make plans that are not from My Spirit! Woe to those who say to the prophets: „Do not prophesy!” Does it not to do My church to ask of its God? Oh, My altars are defiled and the power of life does not spring out of them. There is no more understanding, for the whole body is full of wounds; from top to toe it is full of sores and no one cares for the wound of My people. The shepherds have been shepherding themselves and make an unfair earning; they love silver and commit fornication with My Body and Blood. Behold that I will make an establishment on My seat after My will, as My thoughts are not your thoughts. I cannot be one with Herod; I cannot be one with Anna and Caiaphas; I can no longer sit at the table with Judas; rather I am coming to cleanse My church of idols and immorality, for the house of My Father is not a den of thieves. I come to clean the earth; I come to take the desolation of abomination out of the church and to raise the seventh anointed of mine. And you, ruler of the church, will come and establish a council and then you will rise to anoint My anointed one from Me with the oil of the holiness, for this is from Me not from you. By this I will conclude a living covenant and establish Jerusalem again and will make it the glory and light of the nations. Get up and fulfill yourself into Me and come to do My will, for I will blot the disobedience of Zion out from My face and no longer remember their wrong way, for look, this is the time to give My church its first appearance and to put My times and holy days back into their places. Let all body of the faithful Israel come back to the Lord and listen to God’s voice, for the king David received Nathan and Rebecca asked of the Lord, but My Jerusalem has been killing My prophets and messengers with stones, so that I may not bring together My scattered ones.

Here, I set a man to fulfill My plan. The one who is struggling to sit at the head of My table will not succeed for I will set on My chair the one pleased to Me, the one with a humble spirit, who walks in My ways and straightens the crooked ways, who puts aside the decaying ones and raise the strong ones. I will allow no one to cast him out and to you, ruler of the church, I command to keep close to you until the day when you are to establish him. That one is from Me and I put into your mind to call and raise him, as I took him to the Jerusalem of My passions and I carried him on My back so that he may know and testify about Me; and I also called him back to be for the Jerusalem of My glory and to fulfill My will. I will break the hardness of the hearts and work with power, for the Holy Spirit is the God Who triples the threefold work of the Most Holy Trinity, and all come to rest and eternal celebration.

Romania is My loved citadel. It is the country of the brightness and I come to establish Jerusalem once again. I do nothing without discovering to My servants, the prophets, and let no one dare to get out of My power.

The Lord comes to give power upon the sons of obedience, they who do not defile My fasting and resting days. The Lord comes to strengthen those that are weak and to put to shame the strong ones.

Take heed, ruler of the church, and speak into My church and proclaim My word, for here I come to fulfill. Be strong and raise to do My will and you will be at My right and I will heal the wound of Zion. Let no one fight against Me for who can change what I want?

God speaks to the churches. I come soon and My reward is with Me. Amen, amen, amen.

Holy Virginia's speaking with the Holy Trinity

– Mother Gigi<sup>14</sup> sees a waiting; she sees that you want it and mother Gigi sees many things. Mommy sees everything, children. Oh, how much fight for me and you, but you knew well because I told you, mommy; you knew that you could not do and that you were tender and you knew that you could no longer make it without me on your side.

The evil spirit is fighting with his last powers to stop my word coming to you, for he sees how much power of life and how much enlivening my word works now. Now is my time, sons; they are the days of my victory. He can no longer prevail against me for he has no way, but he found you and saw that I came down to work powerfully upon you and started a war against you to tear you down, children. Oh, this is not possible and if you believe that it cannot be possible then your faith will prevail against any power of evil spirit. I told you that I have always been praying at the throne of the Holy Trinity and bring that prayer which is for my people, and you shall see too how I speak and how the Holy Trinity speaks with me and tells me:

– Oh, Verginica, the Holy Trinity is waiting for you victory; It waits for you to get out with your people, Verginica. Your children are tender and few, but they have to do it for you so that you may overcome.

– Oh, Lord Sabaoth, rise and come next to me that we may come together to the help of my children, for the evil spirit rose to war with them to steal my victory. Do not let them fall down; do not let them hit each other; do not let them hurt each other, for You see that I have to overcome together with them.

– Oh, Verginica, I come next to you, daughter, and here is what We are doing: We give our children a threefold power, as no one had to fight with what those in this time have to fight. Your children are few and We have to give them all the power to be able to overcome, and see My loved one, that the threefold power of the Holy Spirit is great and We will overcome as it is the time for Us to overcome. My Son has been always with them, Verginica, and He is the victor over the death and hell. Do not be afraid for all the heavenly power is with them and you are always with them, and you are victorious, but give them always advice of strong faith, great patience and much love, and give them your word to be fulfilled.

– Oh, Son of heavenly Father, do not let my children go weak. Be with power upon them and make their way victorious for I cannot overcome without them.

– Verginico, I am the Son, Who came from the heavenly Father to show My power to those who had to work for Me and when it came to show My love for all creature, I let Myself to be sacrificed; and I also was afraid of the hard hour and called out to My Father so that this hour might pass away from Me, but then I repented and cried for forgiveness for I did not want to do My will, rather I let My Father's will be done and I was a Son of obedience and patience and I could make it to the end what I had to be able to; I could do it in the name of Our Father, Verginica. I walked on that way of temptation so that My Father might show His power in Me then too, and the devil had nothing not to bring to My feed, but I was unabated and answered him: «Get behind Me satan, for it is written: Serve God and worship Him only!», and then the evil spirit went away ashamed and I overcame.

I came with the body on earth and humbled Myself coming down from the glory of the Most Holy Trinity and became man, to give power to the man, and when I left I let a word to those who wanted to do greater things than those, for I let much power upon those that were with Me in the world. I do not leave alone the one that is with Me, but let him be with Me, for if he is with Me, I will be and work in him, and I am not overcome. This way you should teach your children, Verginica. Teach them and tell them about My victory and tell them that everything is possible to the one that has faith and to the one who listens as I did. Amen.

– Oh, sons, the sons of this age do not complain anymore that they cannot do what they have to do against life, and you, who fight against death, who always die to the sin, come mommy, to step down with death upon death, for the Victor of the death is in us. Well children, let it be no fearful heart, for the Lord is in all His fullness with you. You are great with God for through you heaven has joined the earth and the earth has risen to heaven through you and started to celebrate the eternal Passover; the Lord has been working the power of resurrection through you. Only be of the heaven, for those that are in heaven are the sons of life and are no longer as they were on earth.

Do sons, and all of you work the spirit of peace here, for then I will always be with you in all freedom and joy, and be careful, as what you eat from this table is the fruit from the tree of life. So stay alive and be sober now for look the day is breaking and we will be a light upon the earth and the sons of the day. Do not look to the earth anymore, for your bodies have to be the bodies with heavenly power, with incorruptible power. Let yourself be worked out, so that the Lord may present you as honorable vessels, you that are well pleased to him. The Lord wants to see Himself in you. He walked before you through the multitudes strayed from the truth and made the multitudes believe and wake up from ignorance. The time is coming for the Lord to be seen working openly and these miracles will testify and work out resurrection and knowledge, but you do not have to be without patience, for it is by your patience that we will win the multitudes over, and the world will rise. Let you be under the wisdom and ask to have wisdom and believe that the Lord is close to come.

Peace to you my children, for I wish you nothing more than peace. Mother Gigi brings you peace from God. Let the Spirit of my peace be upon you, that your spirit may be full of peace. Receive me with peace, for I am peace for you, as the Lord, Jesus Christ is peace; and for you I am also love, as the Lord is love. Amen.

Peace to you Israel! Amen, amen, amen.

The Lord and Holy Virginia's trumpet calling upon the Christians from Mănești town

The Spirits of the Most Holy Trinity call out and work powerfully on earth. The Lord, Jesus Christ girds and sets the Christian people at a heavenly table in the midst of which He has been speaking for a long time, for this is what the Lord spoke: «Here, I will be with you to the end of the age». Amen.

I said: «I go to My Father, for if I do not go I cannot come to you. I go so that I may come to you. I go and I will send a Comforter to you; I will send the Holy Spirit Who will take from Me and give to you and He will teach you and reveal from what is Mine».

God is speaking again to this town as He spoke at the beginning of this work through which He came down and in which He said from its beginning that He will dwell in with His Spirit until the end. Amen.

The Spirit of God is working and speaking in the town of Mănești. Peace from God upon this town! Peace, resurrection and faith! Peace, edification and unity, as in the beginning so in the end, for the Lord wants to finish victoriously the work of His creature's salvation and then He wants to announce His kingdom.

The Spirit of the Lord has come down to this work, and the people of this town has known this beginning of work and this people will not be able to say that God did not speak with it, for this town spoke with God. Whatever you may think Christian, that you will escape to confess this, here, the Lord is coming to you and is telling you today that you will be a witness before humankind, that God spoke on this blessed earth and that the Lord chose and spoke to you. Well My child, you will be a witness, for it is only a little time and you will see this work brought from hiding into view by God. You will see that this mountain will rise above the mountains, above the powers, above the heights and the Lord will speak through this work from the rooftops, you Christian who either wants it or not, you will have to testify that you are an adopted son of this work. You, Christian people, are a child of this work, for when you believed at the time you came and joined, when you came and said, “Yes, Lord”, I want you to know Christian, that since then you have the seal of God on you; you have the sign of this godly working. I know that now it is still hard to believe that you have this sign on you, but with the Lord you are past as a part of the people’s counting which ate at this table. This counting testifies before the throne of the Most High Trinity and the words of this working cannot be abolished, which were written the same on earth as in heaven, for the heavenly Holy Spirit was speaking with you, Christian, and a commandment came down on earth to be written the words of the Holy Spirit, and they were written My people, and this book is testifying to the Lord about you that you are written into it, you child who forgot that you are written in this book. The words of the Holy Spirit cannot be abolished, as not even a jota from the words of the Book of the Truth, from the Book of the Law, from the Book of the prophecies, can be abolished. Not even your name can be abolished from this book written by the Holy Spirit, and here, the Lord is speaking with you, Christian people from this town, and is asking you to remember and not to forget that you are written in the book that the Holy Spirit wrote at the time of the darkness of the beast’s dominion, (Of communist dictatorship, r.n.), that is written about in the Book of the Truth, for here, the time is coming for the work of God to receive its first appearance and the time of the victorious days is coming. The time of the second appearance of God is coming, however hard it is to you to believe, you Christian people of this time, for if you do not believe, many nations will believe, that will be lead by God to this mountain, until this heavenly Zion, from the top of which the Spirit of God will speak once again to the peoples, languages and nations, as John the evangelist wrote in the book of his prophecy.

Oh, Israel of this time, the child of Israel, the child of promise made to Abraham<sup>15</sup>, your father, remember the Lord’s words that He gave you when He went up to sit at the right hand of the Father, for He said that if you were faithful you would not work only those miracles, rather you would work things and miracles greater than those. But then God said to the multitudes: «Blessed is he who stays fast for Me», and He also told you, well Christian people: «Blessed is who is not shattered against this rock». And here that it happened as in the time of Moses’ people, which the Lord took out of the slavery with a strong arm and guided it in a pillar of cloud and a pillar of fire, the same as you were led by the Lord, you Christian people. And Moses’ people murmured ceaselessly and rebelled at the slightest trial and that murmuring and unfaithful people shattered and perished in the wilderness swallowed by the earth beneath it and died with the food between its teeth when it murmured against the heavenly manna which was coming down from heaven upon that people, for it was the holy and blessed people and that is why they were eating manna from heaven. Moses’ people were continuously unfaithful and rebelling against Moses and even his brothers after the flesh were touched by the wrath of God for trial. Oh, how hard it was for Moses to stand in front of that people and ask God better to move him above then to let him carry in his back the pain of that people which was always murmuring. And the Lord comforted and told him to take from the chiefs and elders of Israel and made them stand in front of the tabernacle and the Lord made that the spirit of Moses rest upon these, and so it was; and they started to prophesy and Moses rejoiced and was comforted in his spirit and when Joshua told Moses to stop them prophesying, well children, what did that Moses, full of meekness, said? He said this: «Oh, only if the whole people were prophets in such a way that the Holy Spirit may come down upon them!». This is what he said, and reprimanded Joshua telling him: «Are you not in some way jealous when telling me to stop them?»

Oh, My loved people, it hurts Me that the people of this time like that one are perishing from lack of wisdom, for who is this that can thwart the plans and works of God? Who could stop even one of the achievements and prophecies which had to be fulfilled in the time of the Lord's being in the body and which were prophesied by the prophets long before; for they were fulfilled exactly the same way as they were prophesied. Could someone abolish such a thing? Well children, no.

Here, well Israel of this time, for your body is coming from Abraham up to you. Here, son, that the Book of the Truth also writes about you, for as the prophets of old did not know what they were writing when the Holy Spirit was prophesying through them about the time of Messiah, the same way they did not know when the Spirit of God wrote through them about this time too, about the time of the smallest Israel and about the time of God's glory, which will soon be shown; for whether you want it or not, whether you believe it or not, well Christian people, this time has come as well.

When I started to give you birth, you little Israel, I raised a body (Saint Virginia, the sixth apocalyptic trumpet, r.n.) and made it a vessel in which the Spirits of the Most Holy Trinity have been dwelling for twenty-five years and since then I have been speaking to the people being born: «Blessed is he who cleanses his life into this vessel, and blessed is he who will not be shattered by this rock». But you did not understand the way you had to understand so that I may remain with you to the end, and you understood according to your wisdom and not according to My wisdom and shattered My child; for if you had understood that the word of life that was speaking by this working was in this vessel, and if you had understood that the rock you shattered against was the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who was doing this work; if you had liked to remain under the light of this wisdom, I would have had you even today and I would have had you great and with such a power that you could have said to the mountain to move and would have been able to raise the dead of this time, you Israel of this time of darkness through which you should have given and shared light. But you Christian, you made the God of the Holy Spirit come down, you made Him come down to the man so that you might be able to judge Him and go mad and shatter yourself against this rock, as you have continuously forgot that the Lord is not of this world and He is without sin, and that is why He called blessed the one to whom He says: «Blessed is the one who is not going mad for Me». Did you not have the saying of the Scriptures which says: «John, the Baptizer, came neither eating nor drinking and you said that he had a demon; and Jesus Christ came eating and drinking and you said that He had a demon and was eating with sinners»? You Christian had a model of those that exterminated from their midst both, John, the Baptizer, and the Son of God, and did not receive them into their midst. But here, children that John is and is working and coming to prepare the way of the Lord for the second time. And behold that, the Lord, Jesus Christ, is the head of the church and He is with you to eternity the same as He has been from beginning to this end, for through this end the iniquity, death and hell have been finishing and the ephah is being raised between heaven and earth to be put back into its place, and behold, the time is coming for the Lord to announce His kingdom and to establish the New Jerusalem and the spring and the tree of life; he is coming to make new heavens and a new earth, the same as it is written and nothing can be abolished from the Book of the Truth and all have been fulfilling, Christian people.

You children of this town, the children of God, I came once into this town a little while ago; and I came to write a book of testimony for the Christians who remained close to the words of life, which is flowing from this spring even today, from the spring that you also know, the ones that once were embraced by the Lord on the way of this road and have been drinking from this spring of the living water. When I called the roll that is being done in these days, when I called those who believed in this heavenly coming down, I told them that I would raise again the gate of heaven for the town of Mănești to call, gather and tell them, and to those who were from the beginning and are no longer today, to tell them too that the heavenly spirit is calling to bring the flock together, so that he may cleanse and bring it to this cowshed and to add it to the people which remained after taking out from their midst the spirit and body who carried God<sup>16</sup>; for it has been added to this people that you know a more people born on the way, and behold, now every Christian that was past to the counting of this people is being searched out.

Ten years have passed since I raised up to Me the body that carried Me and by which I sounded the trumpet and spoke once again on earth, the same as was written for this time; and it was written that I will raise it for a while to hide it from the face of the wicked serpent (The Communist dictatorship, r.n.) and to test the faith of this people. But look that a word of testimony stands written in the book of this work when the Lord said: "Verginica do not lose yourself, for in your days you will rise with a mighty spirit and feed the multitudes which will be lead to the glory of the New Jerusalem in order to hear the words of the Lord from this mountain of blessing which will not be taken back." And behold children of this town God is coming with his working in the town of Mănești; He enters as in old times when He was speaking with many in this town; He enters again with His Annunciation to bring you also the good news that I sent back on earth the spirit of the trumpet by which I sounded in the days of darkness of the red beast's reign and so, through the darkness of disbelief, I have worked and made for Myself a close flock and said that I will make out of it and with it a light and salt on earth and salvation on earth. There have passed seventy years since the red beast's reign, (1921 – the year of the Romanian Communist Party foundation – 1991 the end of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and here, the Lord has been searching out His people as He was searching Israel in the old times, when he was lifting his hands up and was praying to God for salvation, when he was taken into captivity by other nations or when because of his sins he was carrying upon him the yoke of wicked judges and without God. Behold, the Lord has been searching out the people who ate the heavenly manna through that dish that you know, through that body which I used to make the heaven speak to you, people of Israel from the time of the end, because so it is written, and the Lord wants to do with you a new start of a new and clean age, a nation of heavenly bodies, which will be established on a clean earth, on a new earth, and the Lord wants to make a new Jerusalem with you and to establish in its midst those that are written in the book, as this river of life will richly flow with living water, and as the Magi were led by God up to the manger where the Savior of the nations came, the same way it will flow in the days to come peoples and nations to the spring of life which flows from Jerusalem and they will stand up and rise and will be added to those that are saved.

Behold that I raised the spirit of the trumpet by which I sounded for a long time on earth; I woke her up and clothed her with the power and strength of the Spirits of the Most Holy Trinity to start working her mission in her days, for look, these are the days of her work, for she hardly waited to rise and prepare My way and to lift her people up for the days of the Lord's victory; and this is what I said to her: get up Verginica for the time has come; the time I was speaking about when you are to feed with a heavenly word multitudes of people, and you will prepare a great nation that may come out for the meeting of My day, to enter with it the feast of the great Passover when I will gird and feed once again the multitudes from the fruit of life, from the tree of life, so that My creature may be and live forever. Arise from now on, arise Verginica! Wake your spirit up and take a round trip, My daughter, to see that your people is dried out and your children are only dry bones, as they are yours, My love, this people is yours, it is your earning, it is your work, it is your flock, for you stood before Me and gave Me a dwelling and cover to be able to speak with this people that I born out of you, for you suffered. You suffered more than everybody that I have now with Me; each one with his own flock. Every saint that I have now in heaven worked and produce a fruit for himself; a work and a flock. And behold Virginia that your people is the least one and it is waited by all heaven, for he is the youngest son that the Father set to share the heavenly reward and wealth, to give each one as he worked. This is what the Father is doing with His youngest son, for this is written: «The least will be the greatest over the kingdom».

Come My love, come Verginica, speak to those who were with you then, for these have undergone as those from that Scripture which says: «I will strike the shepherd, and the sheep of the flock will be scattered». Here, I raised you and gave you power to sound and gather together the scattered flock. Gather it, My daughter, from all the steeps, from all the valleys, from the mountains and hills. Blow Verginica, blow My love, over these dry bones so that they may rise and know that God was in their midst; the One Who worked, prophesied and fulfilled, and will fulfill with this people that Scripture which says: «A great multitude, clothed in white garments will stand before the throne and sing the new song of the New Jerusalem which is coming down from heaven». Speak darling; speak Verginica to those that We have gathered together today for he who believes in My messengers, this one believes in Me. Amen.

– Glory to You, Most Holy Trinity, and peace from You to this place where I am come down with the power in spirit to write a book for the town of Mănești which I entered with You once, and then to give You the book to add it to the book of resurrection and sealing of my people.

My loved ones, my loved Christian, children of God, I found you written at the Lord. I found you called to the counting of my people. I am the one who you were walking embraced with on God's way. I am the awakening trumpet which the Lord sounded in the midst of this people. The people of Moses turned around on the spot for forty years instead of forty days because it murmured and gave up Moses; and that people rebelled and fell into the wilderness murmuring against the heavenly manna which was coming down every day. That people ate a godly food and drank from the spiritual rock which was to come, for the rock was Christ; but they fell into the wilderness because they worshipped idols as it is written that «they ate and drank and rose to dance», and they went into fornication and thousands fell in a single day, and they were tempting God and were dying bitten by snakes. But here my people, the Lord made it this way with those so that you may learn from them, and these examples were written for our enlightenment; there were written new things for us who reached to the end of the ages.

Behold I sound the trumpet to be heard. I sound it loudly that my people may rise from everywhere. Wake up and come to your senses! Come back to the words of life which you were feeding on in the old times! Get up my child, get up my disciple and come with me; let us go to destroy the enemy since ages who has always been fighting against the Israel of God. Get up, as no one of your wicked deeds will be able to stay before God to disinherit you, people of this time, as nothing and no one will be able to curse the blessed one, and remember of the prophet Isaiah by whom God writes: «Behold, I forgive your transgression so that I may not destroy you».

Get up Christian, get up with love that you may not be raised by God's strength, for you know what the Scripture writes: «That servant who knew from his master to do and did not do, that servant will be much beaten». Make peace with the Lord, my people, lest your accuser from the evil age give you to the officer of the prison and to not be able to get out from there until you have paid the last penny. I came to welcome you and I have power to raise you in a moment and reconcile you to God in a moment only if you want Christian, for look that the Lord is coming and is making peace with you; He is coming and forgives you everything and does not destroy you; He is coming to make you the light on earth; He is coming to dwell in you, to come in you with His kingdom, for a word from the time of the Lord's body stands written: «His kingdom is not coming openly; it is in you», but the time of the Scripture has come, that one which says: «The Lord is coming to gather together peoples and languages to see His glory», and when this blessed earth, chosen and called by a new name, pronounced by the Lord's mouth, will be raised for greatness, blessed will be he who will believe the words of the prophesies from the book of this works made at the end of the ages, for these words are true, for the Lord of the prophet's spirits sent them and wrote them for testimony. The Lord sent those words which were written to testify about these what come to happen soon, as the Book of the Truth writes.

I came to gather together the body of this people, for the body of this people is undone and scattered through every devastated place. Take it as an example to believe, for I know that this people is stubborn and without faith. Oh, you unfaithful people do not let the words you once believed and then denied testify against you. Learn from the saints whom the Christians exalt, for the saint martyr Mina (Menas, or Mina; 285-309 A.D., r.n.) left for the Lord and came back in the body and spoke with the sinners and gathered together the body, open to pieces and buried piece by piece by the evildoer man who forgot that the Lord is, sees and make it come true. But the Christian cut to pieces was praying to the saint Mina, and behold the miracle known through the faith of well-known Christian. But what a great pain on me, what a great sigh in my spirit, for I have stayed for such a long time in front of this people and suffered and cried and carried affliction and terror from the rulers of the world and from the Herods of that time. I have stood before the Lord for such a long time for you, Christian people, and you will not be able to say to the Lord that you did not know; you will not be able because you saw that God knows everything. You saw how He said to Cain asking him of his brother's blood, and Cain said that he was not aware of his brother's blood; but well, you said in vain Christian. Oh, you will not be able to say anything. It is written at God that you are the son of this working and will have no way to hide no matter how hard it is for you to believe, for you will have not even time to think of hiding. It is a little more time and behold, I have come with love to you to cry with you the time of leave and then to get together, to use well this little bit of time and to rise and forgive and make peace, as afterwards we have work to do, my people. Take a look upon the world for the world is dead and needs to be resurrected. Get up my loved people for it is written about you that you will rise from the dead and the dead will rise up from their graves, at your word. This is written in the Book of the Truth, as from the mouth of the one who believes in God will flow rivers of living water.

Behold, you children of this town, I tell you also, get up and live for Jesus Christ! Oh, it is not enough to believe what I tell you, because you need to put the Lord into your life, in your living of every day. Get up with love to be able to search Jesus Christ well and so that He may also search you afterwards and to cleanse you of disbelief, of weakness and of immorality, and that the Lord may be seen in you. But be careful that the New Jerusalem is being established from heaven, and be careful that it will be heavenly and nothing impure, defiled or perishable will be able to remain on this earth of the promise, for behold my people, this is the time when this corruptible body has to clothe for incorruptibility and this dying body to clothe in immortality to overcome death. That Scripture which says this, neither it can be abolished as nothing can be taken or added to the words of this book, but woe to the one who takes out or adds, for you know what is written for that one.

I want that the victory over death to be fulfilled with my people and that is why I call out pathetically and my spirit is walking crying through all the towns, through all the corners where I have hearts written to the counting of my people to gather them into my arms and into the cowshed of this working, to bring them back to the way and to make that the people may be clean in the day of the Lord, for the Lord is coming to you; He is coming, my people, to engage you for the grape gathering and to make with you resurrection on earth. Whether you want it or not He calls you. And if you do not want to come to terms with Him and if He want to remain with you and you do not want, He will take you and push you from behind, for behold, the Lord gave into my hand the trumpet and sword for your awakening, people of Israel from these days. Come loved people as the Lord was well pleased with you and even now He is well pleased with you, but come for the promise made for you cannot be abolished. Come with me, for behold, God is asking me to appear to you ready for work, but let yourself be worked out, well Israel. Do not harden your heart for today God is calling you out and you should know that the Lord gave me great power to be able to pass through the rock if you are a rock.

Children of Jesus Christ, you are His witnesses and will have to testify about the salvation work of the Holy Spirit Who triples the threefold work of the Most Holy Trinity<sup>17</sup>. The Holy Spirit is the God of the Holy Trinity, the One in the last time. Well Christian, the end of the world is coming. The time of the end of the world's spirit is coming. Take the spirit of the world out of you and you will be alive and will be part of those that escaped with life; you will be of the number sealed by God. It is being done the new counting of the new people, for it will be new, it will be incorruptible; this people will be heavenly and will inherit the new earth, for it will soon be new; this earth of the promise will be new twice, as in it and out of it, the song of the New Jerusalem will resound. That is why I want, Christian, to make you incorruptible and heavenly, for this new people of the New Jerusalem will join the heavenly one and the new song will be heard: «Glory to those of God above and peace on earth»! And it will be heard singing: «Holy, Holy, Holy, the Lord God, and Sabaoth, He Who comes again»! Amen.

<sup>17</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Since the second coming - the Word of God (Rev: 19/13.) - The Holy Spirit, the sanctifying work of the creature, r.n.

Let it be written about this day and about you, the raised town, for look, it is being written by the heaven also. Amen, amen I say to you; it will be easier for Sodom and Gomorrah in the days to come than for those whom the Lord call out and deny Him.

Let this town believe in God and arise! Amen. The Lord empowered me to blow over the earth so that your earth and your body may turn into heaven, Israel. Behold, I am blowing upon you now. Take from my spirit for my spirit is empowered by the Spirits of the Most Holy Trinity Who blows resurrection upon those from the grave of disbelief. Lift up the cross, lift up the gates so that the King of glory may come in; the kingdom of God to come in you, children of Israel!

Get up Israel, for your people is waiting for you; Abraham, Isaac and Jacob is waiting for you; the body of your tribe is waiting for you; your root is waiting for you Israel, for you will sit at the table with all your kindred and with all those who will be added to you after the promise made through Abraham, the faithful one; you will sit at the table with heaven, Israel, for the old will pass away from now on, and the new heaven and the new earth will receive their first appearance, and the Lord Will shine and He Will be light. When the Lords said: «Let it be light»! it was so; it was light. Behold, the Lord is saying once again: «Let it be light»! Let it be light everywhere. Amen.

Peace to you, those who arose from this town! Pace and feasting of remembrance! Peace to this town, and resurrection and light from the east upon you, the town of my people! Oh, only you have come? How about the many; where are they?

Peace and a threefold power upon you, to put aside the cold slab which fell down and shattered the sons of this town. Behold another day of testimony, another book and another day of resurrection. Your parents, Israel, desired but did not see these days; but look, they are rejoicing together with you, as they also see now and leap for joy, well people of Israel. Give your hand to your tribe, Israel! Come out to welcome that great day and be ready, for the Lord, Who is hiding His face now, look, He is revealing Himself soon. Amen.

Peace to you and once again, peace to you! Let the peace of the heaven not come back and remain with you! Amen. Peace to you, people of the New Jerusalem! Peace to you, new Israel! Amen.

I have in my hand the seal of this time; I have in my hand the awakening trumpet and the seal of the living God, of the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Well Israel, a word of testimony stands written in the book of this working, that many houses of Christians which do not have the mark of God, will be struck by the tool of destruction which is coming behind me, by the tool of death. Let you be sealed, and be then a Christian after the truth. Throw away from your house the weapons of the evil spirit and be a child of God's love, for God is love, Israel. Give up your law for your law is not good, and take up God's law so that you may no longer die, Christian. Leave the lust of the flesh, leave the lust of the belly and do not do what those in the time of Noah did, who did not want to take heed and did not want to believe as Noah and his house did and made an ark for salvation. Woe, Christian, watch out, for now it will be the same, as in the time of Noah, when all people were eating and drinking; they were marrying and given in marriage, and the death came unexpectedly upon them, but Noah and his house remained clean and faithful and gained their life.

Get out from the world, my people, for the world has come to its end! Get up and be born of heaven, for what is out of the flesh is flesh, and what is out of the spirit is spirit, Christian people! Do no longer be part of the world, Israel, for the world has come to an end.

Jerusalem, be worthy of your name, for you will have to testify about how you received this new name, as a new name and the name of the fortress of New Jerusalem will be seen written on your forehead.

Peace to you, New Jerusalem! Amen

Peace to you, Israel. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God

... You three sons anointed by Me, I gave you a word to work with power. Work with a clean word, with clean hearts, with clean and blessed voices. Bless you!

... This godly word will be heard by the king and patriarchy as well. I work tactfully and that one (King Mihai, r.n.) will come to power that they brought back and did not let him to get in and light a candle at the grave of his kindred. They were close to put him in prison. (The followers of the Communist Party remained in power after the 1989 anti-communist revolution, r.n.) From now on all the good ones will receive signs to the good and the wicked ones, signs to the evil. All are looking for signs to trust in and they will see that I will give them signs; signs of terror, signs for the stinging of those who want signs, and I will work with you signs of strengthening for you to strengthen the hearts and step and to walk forward with Me and with that what you are working, so that the light and eternal joy may cut through over those who will take on the way of the light. Stay empowered and confident, for we are close to the top.

... Oh, Romania, Romania, how Satan deceived you that you were going on the way of darkness, (Of communist dictatorship, r.n.) you, holy country and loved by God! You do not even know how many little churches you have lost since you got together with Satan. I will shake off the land of Romania of the Satan's chaff and I will make it clean and worthy.

Romania, Romania, God is asking you why do you cry. What seized you? Romania, Romania, the pains of God seized you. Oh, Romania, why did you not realize that you have been a holy and loved country by God? The Romanian's blood is expensive and valued by God. Oh, Romania, Romania, why, My little country, why did you let yourself be deceived by this tyranny? Why did you stay to be wallowed in such dirt? God is your Parent, and why did you let yourself to be led on the way of darkness that you did not want to cast your look upon Me? It was a step more and you were about to fall in the bottomless ravine. But look, God jumped as burned with pain and reached his powerful hand and came across the bottomless ravine; the evil and enmity from you.

The word of God to His chosen Irineu<sup>18</sup>

Peace to you, child loved by God! Peace from heaven and may the glory of your God work through you! Amen. Peace to you, peace from Us to you and from you to Us! Amen. Glory to those above and peace upon you, loved children by heaven! Peace to you, as in heaven so on earth! The heaven is My throne and the earth is My footstool and you, My children, are the temple of the living God. The heart of My children is God's heaven and their body is God's earth, and the Lord is the King of the heaven and earth. And behold, I speak to the loved one:

Peace to you, child loved by heaven! I turn to you with My word and with My good strength, for I want to always have upon you the good strength and I want you to work in it always, for your work has to remain. But the thing that you have to work comes from heaven and the whole thing that you have to work comes accompanied by the good strength. Work it with those from above and let yourself be attended by those from above and this is what you have to say at the beginning and at the end of your work: "It is not I, but my Father is working". Let this faith adopt you in all your things that you have to work, for by this faith nothing is to remain not worked out in the thing that you receive and know how to do it. Do not forget even for a moment that the ages were founded through the faith in My work, and those that are seen were done by those that are not seen. My tools of old were working those that were not yet seen, and all these died in the faith without living in the time of the promises, but only seeing it from far away; and the Lord is called their God. These remained an example to the descendants, but look, My child, that they did not receive the perfection, because it is written that for the little ones something better was promised. These have been waiting for you, little ones from this time, My child, and with you they will take the perfection that they worked for.

Behold, the body of My people Israel is big, My child, it comes from them up to you. Oh, how much better must be the faith in this time, for look what a designation has the smallest one! But My smallest Israel is very small, My child! I told you too that the Israel of today is very small, for look, that he cannot raise even a dead one, and cannot say to the world to rise and to raise the world! My Israel of today does not believe that these are the days of the resurrection and of the glory of the Holy Spirit that has been working in this time to perform that resurrection the Scriptures writes about.

My child let you be of the faith which is asked for to be in this time. Be the first so that I may put you in the corner stone, to put you on the seat of My church in order to do justice between sheep and sheep. Be worthy and just. Give from you the harmful mercy to the tribe of the new Israel for the righteousness will rule over My new people. This small Israel will have to turn with his heart to his parents so that the heart of his parents may turn to him, for woe, I do not want to come and strike with plagues the small one and to put him with his face towards his parents.

I let those who sit at the helm of My church of today know and told them that I would come and set the times back to their places and I would bring that time when the priest would again sit in counsel with the prophet, as in the old time, for this is the church after the truth. And you, My child, believe in those that I came for to let you know, for you believed that I came, and sat in counsel with Me, and behold, you sit in counsel with Me and work for the good strength and for the good faith and keep My word as Abraham believed and kept it, and his faith was considered to him as righteousness. Be like Abraham and let yourself be tested by faith, as you did by now, for I wrote down justice for you by your faith.

It is a little more time and I will discover this spring so that the nations may see and be saved by faith. This spring is protected by the whole heavenly host and I will water the thirsty peoples from this spring. The evil spirit is crying and stewing in the fire that I made it burn here, in the manger I am coming down to. These are only some children, but behold, they believe and work for Me. I sent them with an open book through the towns of My people, the same way as I sent Jonah to the city of Nineveh, and they did not say as Jonah did that they would not go for Me. But the heart of My people is of stone and I will have to show My power and go through the stone, so that I may not come to strike with a curse the one who has been fed for such a long time from Me, for it will be easier for Sodom and Gomorrah than for these if they do not want to hear My voice and My words that I call out now with.

My people is caught by drowsiness; it is caught by the spirit of the world, and I have to wake it up and to put it back to the good path, so that this small son may be found on duty and that I may not undergo with him as I underwent with the people of Moses that murmured and fell in the wilderness. That is why I was well pleased with these children; that is why I put them to intercede for My people, so that I may wipe out from My face the iniquity and disbelief of this people. Woe to this people, woe to My chosen Romania, and woe to those who will come to My words if these children stop their working for Me! That is why I put them to work; that is why I was well pleased with them, but the thing of My plan is hidden from the eyes of those around, so that I may work and perfect the thing of My plan, for the good time is struggling to come, and it will come, for I will come and show Myself through the good time, by My anointed and by My servants.

All heavenly powers work for the peace of this dwelling of the heavenly coming down and for the protection of My servants from here. And behold, My child, I will have to work with power in this place; I will have to go only forward here, and I will have to lack not even a link of this chain which is making by the prayers that are coming to up Me from this place.

I will seek to find a man who I may work still another shelter with for the protection of My children here, for the time of the angels that will begin to clean My field and to wash away the iniquity of this earth of the New Canaan; this time is pressed on and wants it as well to make its thing after God's commandment, and My children servants here, will need to be here on the duty that they have in My service, for woe to them if they keep silent! Woe, My child! Woe to My Romania if the thing of My covenant of today stops from its working!

Blessed are they who will give at least a glass of water to the smallest of Mine. I will work by My Spirit and I will make a good means for the protection of My children here; and to the one who helps to My plan, I will do to him the same way I did to the harlot Rahab, who protected and saved My spies that I sent through Joshua to search out the Jericho. And I will work with My servants from here the same way as I worked with the priests who sounded the trumpets that the walls of Jericho fell down, and the Lord gave that city to Joshua and to his chosen people.

My loved child, behold, the faith in this time has to be great, for this is the time when God is uttering an end for transgression, for emptiness and for the spirit of the world, as the world has come to its end. And as the Lord, at the sound of the priests' trumpets and at the cry of the people, gave the Jericho into the hand of his chosen ones, so it will be in this time, for it is written: «Rejoice, for the Lord wants it to give you the kingdom»! Amen.

I sent a letter to the King of Romania to make him glad and strengthen him and make him faithful to the thing that I am working in this time. I let My anointed Michael know and I told him that he would have authority over the nations by My power, and I told him that he would be a holy king as is written into the Scriptures. I told him to live according to My wills and commandments and I let him know about you that I prepare you to be one with him in order to be peace between you, so that we may work in you the thing for the end of transgression and for a new beginning of heavenly kingdom for this land of the New Jerusalem. I told him that I will set My Holy Spirit into the heart of his people, so that this people may love My anointed one.

Behold how much faith has to come up to Me from you; more than from those who by their faith received kingdoms; have tamed the wild animals or closed the mouths of the lions; who put the power of fire out or cast away the hosts of the enemies.

My loved child work for My plan and everything will be for glory and victory. It is not out of My plan what I work with you; the one about you want to know and what to do with it. I cannot work in it as I work in you. I spoke when I brought you to work for Me for a time there too; I told you that I would give My children for your help, the children tested by Me and found faithful.

And about the one who was for a little time beside you, behold what I tell you; I tell you a wise word which says: “Protect me Lord from my friends, as I protect myself from my enemies.” But I tell you once more this wise word, so that it may be to your understanding, and here is what I tell you: “Keep away from your friends, as I keep you away from your enemies.” Amen.

Work with the strong faith and with that which I called her an apostle of Romania, for I want to give her a share up to the end. What is impossible with men is possible with the Lord, My child, and we will be able to do it, and the power from above will be seen.

Peace to you, loved child by God! Peace and power and strong faith, for by the faith worked out in this time and by your good patience we will win multitudes of souls and many nations will be saved. Peace and sweet embrace from the Lord and from His little Mother who covers you with his honored shelter!

Peace to you, My children, My loved ones, the ones who love Me! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God upon the apocalyptic trumpets: the priest Ioan and the nun Veronica from Vladimirești<sup>19</sup>

The heavenly word is coming down on earth. Glory for those above and peace on earth! Amen. Peace to those who I am talking to now, to those that I make My word come down for, those that I love! Amen.

Peace to you, My loved ones! Peace and joy between Me and you! Peace and blessing from Me upon you! Blessed is the one who opens for Me to come in and have dinner with him, and he with Me. Amen.

Peace upon you, My servants, My workers, the ones that I did not forget and who once I spoke with by this work, by this thread, by this ray coming down from heaven to earth! Peace and unity between Me and you, as in the beginning so in the end, for God is uttering and end for transgression on earth and for the spirit of the world, for the world has come to an end. Amen.

The God of the Most Holy Trinity is tripling His threefold work, for this is what the Lord, Jesus Christ said: «I am going to the Father. I am going so that I may come back to you. I am going and I will send you the Comforter; I will send the Holy Spirit Who will take from Me and will deliver to you». This heavenly coming down, this manger thorough which God is slipping in His word, is that meal that you tasted too at the beginning of this work by which the Holy Spirit is working the salvation from the end. The Holy Spirit is tripling the threefold work of the Most Holy Trinity<sup>20</sup>, as the Lord is at work over Romania to make a heavenly Zion out of it and a New Jerusalem and to lift it above all the heights on earth. Amen.

My servants, My servants Ioan (The fourth apocalyptic trumpet, r.n.) and Veronica, My not forgotten workers! Behold, those that are part of the flock of this secrete coming down, they too have not forgotten My words, and I gave them a word to remember those that are written in the book of this work which writes that these two trumpets of Mine will sit again at this table as well, embraced by God through this work. Then I gave a word for this time, as now that time has come to cry with them into My arms, to both cry together over the time of departure, and to give a heavenly word in order to stand up and blow the trumpets upon their flock, to gather the flock together in a single heart, in a single love and fulfillment of those that now have to be fulfilled by those that want to save their lives, so that they may be to the glory that will be shown in the days to come.

My loved ones, behold, the Lord is speaking with you. Get up and be with a great heart and make a good unity with the plan lowered down by God through this means of coming down of the heavenly word, for since you have known and until now, God has been speaking here and telling the secret of His plans for these days, for behold, the days of the godly glory are coming, which John, the evangelist, wrote about. The time has come for God to lift up the New Jerusalem, and the time is coming for a new earth and a new heaven, worked by God, to be shown.

My loved ones, My trumpets, My servants, I am the God of the Most Holy Trinity and I am at work to discover and work the secret of My plan, for the days of the Lord's glory have come, well My loved ones. The Lord has tools all over the earth which the heaven is working through, but look, the plan of My great work from the days to come; here is how I bring it here, this is how

<sup>20</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Since the second coming - the Word of God (Rev: 19/13.) - The Holy Spirit, the sanctifying work of the creature, r.n.

I work it here. Not even Moses' people spoke with Me as these of the nowadays speak to Me, for I was speaking with Moses, and Moses was speaking to the people, but here is how I work here. I work as you know too, the same way you too saw at the beginning of My coming down into this manger of My Spirit's dwelling, and I told you at that time when you separated from this thread, from this ray of light coming down from heaven, and I told Veronica; I told her that at Passover she will again lay hold of the latch of the monastery, but then it was the time for a great sifting, My loved ones, and it happened then as in the time of My body when the crows were crying a couple of days before «Hosanna!», and afterwards they were distracted by the words which were not translated as they translated them, and then they considered the Son of God to be guilty and gave Him to be crucified out of a madness spirit. Then this spirit went upon the apostles, who remained faithful to their Teacher as well, and it went to sift them too, but it could not do it, My loved ones, for these were armed with fasting and prayer. Behold, the spirit of sifting cannot be removed; it cannot be resisted unless by fasting and praying. This was so in all the times; the same was in the time of this work, My loved ones, for at its beginning the way was full of people, but the unfaithful multitudes were like the cloud tossed by the wind.

I have always come down through this work since then, and I have always been with the good leadership and with the good strength through the word to make a strong people so that I may work during these days through. I have worked to raise this people step by step to the top of perfection, to the top of the virtues which perform miracles, but My Christian was scared by the ascent, got distracted from Me, and let oneself be driven away by the spirit of the world, by the spirit of freedom, by the spirit of rebellion and of not understanding of the godly mysteries; and the Christian remained on the way, at tables with more liberty, with less ascension, and did not stay beside this rock; he did not stay beside this mountain out of which the cleanest spring has been coming out, the greatest teaching, for this teaching has been lifting the Christian fair and softly, step by step, up to the narrow door of incorruptible life, as it is written in the Scriptures.

Behold My loved ones, My servants, the Lord has come near to the top. The Lord is being announced with the Passover celebration and with the days of his creature's resurrection. Oh, if I gave the mysteries that I have them come down here; if I gave this spring into the hands of the Pharisees and scribes of these days, they would pronounce a harder punishment than then, in the time of My body, when these were accusing Me of being a law transgressor and blasphemer of God.

All the teachers of the law of today preach Me, but they do not want to follow in My footsteps, and there is no greater pain than this, and behold that Scripture which says: «What is born of the flesh is flesh and what is born of the spirit is spirit». The churches of today are full of bodies, but the Lord has no width, no kingdom, and the Scripture which says, «The kingdom of God is in you», does not apply today. The Christian of today says that he has God in his heart, but the poor Christian forgets that God does not dwell in the body subjected to sin and that the Spirit of the Lord runs away and steps aside from the lawless ones.

God does not have saints on earth anymore, My loved ones, for all are subjected to the sin, lust and belly and to the spirit of the world, and behold that this is written in the Scriptures as well, that fellowship with the world is separation from God, and it also writes that the Lord is a jealous God, Who wants us only for Himself. And behold, the world is dead, all dead, dead for lack of wisdom and for lack of God's fear, for God is wisdom, and the beginning of the wisdom is fear of God and this is no longer found in the heart of Israel of today. Israel of today serves the law of belly, the law of sin, and God has no more saints on earth. The earth is full of idols, and the Lord has no more saints to worship him according to the truth. Well, My loved ones, God's earth is the Christian, and God's heaven is the heart of the Christian. Behold the house and behold the temple that My Christian has to build, so that I may dwell in this house and find faith, peace, life and love in it; love, but love of God.

My loved ones lift your voices up and down, lift up your trumpets and call! Get your flock together and call upon it a spirit of revival and a spirit of resurrection, for the Lord is coming down to the shepherds to ask the life of the sheep out of their hands. The Spirit of God spoke through the prophets, and it stayed written which testifies by the Scriptures that «If a watchman of a city sees the sword coming upon those in the city and does not let the sinner know so that he may come back from his wicked way, then the blood of the sinner will be asked from the hand of the shepherd. But if the shepherd of the flock will call out and let the sinner know so that he may turn back after the truth to the right way, then the shepherd is clean of the blood of the sinner if the sinner hears the trumpet call and does not stand up to do justice. And if the city hearing the call of the trumpet turns back and works out justice, than the shepherd has saved the life of those in the city».

Oh, My loved ones, God is calling out by this coming down; He is calling out to the shepherds of the flock to graze the flock. God is calling out to His servants that He knows, for the servants who know the way of righteousness and have not walked in it according to the truth these will hear this word: «I have never known you!». And they will hear this because they did not know God after the truth, as to know God is nothing else than for God to live in man in all width and according to the truth.

Oh you, that I have not forgotten, My servants, Ioan and Veronica! Behold that I give you a triple power. Amen. Get up and be an example of living which is working out miracles, for here, in your days there will be worked out miracles greater than in the beginning, for this is written: «They who believe in Me will perform not these, but rather greater things than these». All the tools of the tribe of Israel, starting with Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, wanted, but did not see the days of the Lord, but they hoped for them in faith, for behold, the smaller ones of Israel were promised something better, so that the Lord could give them the reward of perfections and to work salvation through the smaller ones for the whole Israel.

Behold the voice of God! Turn your faces to your parents and to the saints who have worked the commandments of holiness and of the eternal life. Flee from slavery, and who is a slave of the sin, let him stand up and do justice towards God. Remember how I was, My loved ones, for that is why I took up a body, so that I might strengthen your faith as you can be gods even in your bodies. The glory which is about to come and reveal even from now could reached to the human mind by now, but it is written about it in all Scripture. The people of the New Jerusalem will be a heavenly people, with heavenly bodies, and that is why it is written in the Scriptures that Israel has been sighing in his spirit to this day for the redemption of the body. Behold, the body and the heart of those from these days have to turn into a new heaven and new earth and living stones at the New Jerusalem foundation which the Lord will come soon with to the surface and which the far away peoples will flow to so that they may see the glory of the New Jerusalem. The time of the second appearance is coming; My time is coming, My loved ones, but no one understands and no one believes anymore. But they who pierced Me will believe because they will see it, My loved ones.

Get yourselves dressed for righteousness and make straight paths! Make a straight path into the wilderness of the world, so that the saved ones may walk in it! Give yourselves as an example upon the flock and make yourselves a new temple and a holy tent of God's saved ones! Teach the multitudes! Make a straight path in the wilderness of disbelief and cry out in time and out of time; cry out like John, the Baptizer: «Repent in your heart and life for the one, that is written in the prophets about that is coming, is coming now!» Cry over the multitudes, cry out in faith: “Get up from your graves and make peace with God!” Call out as I also called out; call out and command to these dry bones, so that these dead ones may rise My loved ones! Let them be raised for righteousness and be found holy and clean! Call out as I called out: «Lazarus, get up!» for that Lazarus meant the illustration of My tribe of today who forgot My commandments and who walks in the way of death, My loved ones! Call out over Israel: “Israel take the coat of righteousness on you for the time of your glory has come. Eat the food the first ones in Eden ate and live the same way as they lived until falling into disobedience when they ate from the forbidden apple! Put an end, Israel, to the fleshly sin and make peace with God! As it was at the beginning of your work, the same will be at the end of his thing, for the iniquity will be lifted up and the ephah will be put back to its place, for God spoke this.

Israel feed on heavenly manna and do not rebel from now on anymore! You have seen what happened to Moses' people, who was nourished with imperishable food and murmured against heavenly manna and wanted flesh and sin again.

Israel, do not take the life of God's creature to eat the body of the creature made by God. (The flesh of animals, r.n.) Do not turn your belly anymore into a grave of bodies which have life from God! It is enough, Israel! The Lord wants to show you the entrance gate into Canaan, and wants to set the Eden again in your land! Do not work out evil deeds which you cannot reach into heaven with. Do not do any more evil Israel, and be a holy people! From small to great dress, Israel, for righteousness, for there will be no more death, and death will be swallowed up by the victory from these days!"

My loved ones be true apostles, by My apostles, by the apostles of My Romania, for Romania is My bride, and I have loved her since her birth. Romania will be holy; it will be a people with heavenly bodies, for nothing perishable, nothing corruptible will remain in this citadel of heavenly brightness. All peoples will receive light from this blessed mountain and they will drink water from this rock from which the fountains of life will spring and from which the fruits of the tree of life will be shared. Amen<sup>21</sup>.

My loved ones be My true sons, as I am the true Son of My Father.

I have got this loved child (The bishop Irineu-Bistrițeanul, r.n.) through whom I will work out a clean, new and eternal church. I have put My spirits; I have put those seven godly spirits upon him, who prophet Isaiah, My prophet, prophesied about; the one who spoke for Me. I put My spirits in him. You take as well and work together with him; work well with him for he knows from Me and has the good power upon him, the power which is working out power, and behold, I will be well pleased with him for My church from the end and no one could thwart My establishments, and who can break down what I do? But hide the secret of My spring, My loved ones, My apostles, My servants, you that I do not forget, and behold, you that now are not separated from Me. Work to do My wills with all the love that I also worked, and put aside that mercy which is harmful for the soul and for the salvation of My creature; and let My creature not turn back to the carobs of the sins, for who dies again, dies and is over with him, and is put aside.

Peace to you that are not separated from Me! Peace and a spirit of resurrection over the peoples! Peace and heavenly life in you, for I tell you the truth: he who is not born of the heaven, will not be with the heaven, whoever he may be.

Peace and victory over death and sin! Let you sow peace and justice and faith in time and out of time, for the righteous one will be alive out of faith! Amen.

Glory for those above and peace upon you, My servants, Veronica and Ioan, who are counted by Me in the number of the seven trumpets since the reign of Edom and of the red beast, (The communist dictatorship, r.n.), which has reached to the point of changing My times and holidays, and which has put death over the life of My church until it was done desolation and abomination into My church. But behold, the Lord is rising and girding and putting back to their places the establishments damaged by the time of wickedness, for God is the Lord of powers. Amen. Behold, the God of patience is putting on the garment of justice and the coat of power, so that He may put aside the rotten ones and to raise the strong, eternal and living reinforcements on the old ruins.

Peace and faith to you and unity between you and Me by this heavenly bond which has never been worked with in the people of Israel, but love the work of God! Peace and living unity, as in the beginning, so in the end! Peace and love, as in heaven so on earth!

Peace to you My love ones! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of the Lord to Victor Stănculescu<sup>22</sup>

Exhortation for faithfulness to the heavenly plan of emancipation of Romania from the under the heel of the red beast: communism.

To the chief of the Romanian army, peace, grace and blessing from God of the Most Holy Trinity, who works and speaks in Romania! Amen.

I turn to you with My words, to you, who are set as a chief over the army of My Romania, that is blessed and chosen by Me, as from its birth I chose and blessed her to be My chosen one and to come and glorify Myself in her with the glory seen in the days to come.

God is and works and nothing is worked out outside of his plans. I have been well pleased in all ages in the middle of My people Israel and I have worked with it and delivered the secret of My plans through My servants, the prophets, before taking it place. In all the times when My blessed people have departed from Me and from My commandments, I have turned My face away from it and let it to be a slave to the foreign peoples, to punish it by My tool of punishment and to urge it to repentance and turn his face toward Me.

But look, it is written in the Book of the Truth (Bible, r.n.) that in the last days God will choose Jerusalem again, because the people of Israel, according to flesh, did not enter in the rest<sup>23</sup> and the faith brought by the Son of God, but on the contrary, this Israel has denied and has not believed in the coming of Jesus Christ, by Whom all the ages were made; the One by Whom the time split apart in the time of His birth. It is written in the Book of the Truth: «The time is coming when the true worshippers will no longer worship either in this mountain, or in Jerusalem, but rather in the Spirit of the Truth.» Amen.

God chose Romania; He chose her at her birth and called her a queen. God of the Most High Trinity came towards the end of His work by the power and work of the Holy Spirit, Who triples the threefold work of the godly Trinity<sup>24</sup>. I have come down to reveal My secret about Romania and raised My servants out of foreign nations to strengthen the truth of My plan over Romania. But I have been working in Romania in all the times, from her birth, and I will work in her until the end, for I have been well pleased with her and that is why I ordained her to be Mine and to give her a new name towards the end of the times and to call her the New Jerusalem of My glory. Nobody can thwart My plans, for I will fulfill it at the right time. Amen.

Romania will be My throne for which I will show Myself with a great glory and all the peoples will see the glory of the under-privileged one until now, for it was a stumbling block and a testing rock for many nations foreign to Me, nations by which I have tested it as gold is refined by fire. But she kept My patience, and I, come with My reward towards her; I come to take her out from under the heel of the red beast, (The communist dictatorship, r.n.), for this has come to its end with its reign of the seventy years (1921 – The foundation of the Communist Party from Romania – 1991 – one year after the anticommunist revolution, r.n.), that the Book of the Truth writes about. I come to clean the evil from her and to set her for the eternal and feasting glory, as this is written about her, about that one that was cast away and devastated. I come to put a tiara of glory on her forehead and all her friends will see her and walk into her brightness, for she is My love; she is the loved city of brightness; she is the blessed one, for I, God, wanted it this, and spoke <sup>24</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. by My servants, the prophets. All those who cursed her will see its brightness and will worship it, for she is My queen. Amen<sup>25</sup>.

Behold, I come to reveal the secret of My plans, for I have in Romania the spring of My words. There is still a little time, and I will remove the seal of this spring and I will discover its rivers, so that those that are thirsty may be watered from it and all the peoples and nations that will escape with their lives to take resurrection, living life and light, for behold, I rose to judge the iniquity on earth and to make new heavens and new earth, in which justice, peace and love may dwell. Amen.

I am before the plague that covers the earth<sup>26</sup>; I and all the heavenly host; I and the tool of cleansing of the iniquity and of the destruction of the Babylon on earth. I will rise to make a good cleaning of this land, for Romania will be a holy and a righteous people; it will be a new heaven and a new earth; it will be a heavenly kingdom; it will be a beginning of a heavenly state on earth, and from her I will enlarge My tent and there will be all over a holy kingdom, as the Book of the Truth writes for this time.

You are written in the book of My plan of these days; you are My servant; you are protected by Me, and behold, I come to let you know that there is God. I come to tell you to believe in God and to work for Him. Amen. No one can come out of My power, and what I want no one can destroy; no one can change, for I am God.

You are bound by a covenant with the country and swore to protect her with the price of your life and keep the secret of your job. Behold, God is making a covenant with you today: to keep with holiness and with fear the secret of His plans and the secret of His spring which flows into Romania by His servants, the prophets; to keep the secret of God more than any secret, as the Lord has a heavenly commandment come down for the hiding of His thing and of the plan Who works and reveals His wills well done.

Get up and serve My plan and My work, for My servants and My witnesses have to stand by Me; they have to share My words where I send them and they have to call out to Me for My Romania, as I tell them to work for Me. Get up and believe in Me and work for Me and cover My servants well! Take the mantle of faith and put My children aside with it through whom I work, for I work for the glory and praise of this blessed earth. And you, and your whole house, will know that I am God when I will protect you and take you to the greatness and victory, in front of the blessed army of this chosen and blessed people.

Behold, we do one for another. Serve My plan and I will be with you too, and I will be with glory with you. Amen. The one who gives at least a glass of water to My little ones, he gives it to Me, and I will make him stand at My right hand in the days of My glory.

Romania is a Christian country from its birth<sup>27</sup>, as for this her people was born at the same time with the only begotten One, Who was before all ages. That is why I protected her from perishing, for her people had to be the chosen people, the one promised by the prophets, so that God may make the salvation of his creature. I had and I kept in her, all the times, the holy remnant and a strong flock from which I raised saints and apostles and prophets, and these are praying today before My throne for this Romanian people, for this is what I proclaimed in the time of My body: «The one who is with Me, even if he dies, he will be alive.» Amen.

Behold that even today I have people hiding into the most hidden cracks of this earth; I have a holy remnant which has been working with Me and which is set apart for holiness and for a heavenly secret. These I ask from you to set them apart to be in My work and not to get out of the ordinance that I placed them in with their life; to be pleasant vessels for Me and to be well pleased with them, for the salvation of this nation by which I will be glorified. I will come through them and I will tell you about My plans in due time, but close Me well in you, for I will not reveal Myself with this spring until I bring this people to the faith which is requested in this time.

I will work mightily; I will work powerfully and all will be fulfilled and perfected, as it is written in the Book of the Truth, but get up and believe My plan and work out protection for My plan, as all go towards the holy victory and God is and watches and speaks and fulfills those that are foretold and made them true beforehand by his servants, the prophets. Be faithful to Me, for by this faith you will be with Me, and I will be with you. Amen.

Peace to you, the chief of the blessed Romanian army! Peace to you and blessing and protection to you! Amen. Peace and victory by faith in the God of Most Holy Trinity! Get up and put My people aside, for they are in My work, and I will stretch out over you the peace, protection and victory, written for this time, for Romania will be a green oasis before My eyes and before the nations. Amen.

Peace, light and resurrection over My chosen one, over My Romania, for I will protect in it her well-faithful kindred, and by this nation I will announce My kingdom on a new earth, for I come to make new heavens and a new earth, for I, God, spoke and will fulfill it in due time. Amen, amen, amen.

Behold, I put a grace from Me upon you and put power of protection and victory upon this cross which is worked out by clean hands and at My command. Put it and wear it on your chest, for My power will work through it, and My blessing will be shown through it. Amen, amen, amen.

The word of God to His chosen Irineu<sup>28</sup>

Peace from heaven, peace and good strength from God! Peace to you, My loved child from heaven! Peace and blessing and empowerment in order to get up in faith and work according to the counsel of My will!

Get up and take heed, but listen to Me, so that you may stand up and work out My plan, for there will be not much time and you will confess the accomplishments that were spoken about beforehand by the spring of My words which you are feeding on as well, since I have discovered to you My work from these days, the work in which you stay and accomplish those that come towards you through My servants. Make yourself a book to write in all the words that I come to you with, for this book will testify in the days to come. And behold, add these words to this book too and work according to My well-made plan. I cannot take this spring to the surface; I cannot get it out now, but here, I work to share My work to be worked out.

I have come to you by My words and assure you that I am God, and I have placed you to be faithful to My work of these days. I have spoken from heaven and I put My servants to write on earth so that My foretold accomplishments may be seen by this heavenly thread, by this ray of light, from which I share light and life with Me and fulfillment. I am God from everlasting; and from now on, I am; I am and work the secret of the fulfillment of the times, and I do not find faith on earth. No one searches with My Spirit, and the spirit of the world has darkened the time so that the man may no longer search those that are written in all ages, and which testify about God and about His works through the Book of the Truth.

I met within the time of My body the Samaritan woman and spoke with her at Jacob's well, but she knew the words of the prophets and knew and believed that the Messiah's time would come, and when I told her about the fulfillment which was in front of her eyes the Samaritan woman believed in Me; she believed that I am the God Who was prophesied about, the Messiah, the One that was written about that would come and her faith remained as a testimony. Oh, and she belonged to a foreign people and still believed in Me, My child, and she went to her city and testified about God. She had a great heart and if I met with her, I let a light upon her, and My light remained in her, and she left and shared light from Me; she left with zeal and longing, with faith and love to share the light in the lands of her people.

I chose My apostles from Galilee and told them to follow Me and My teaching, and they believed in Me and remained with Me. And because they believed, My light remained in them, and then they spread the light into the world and shared My clean light. They shared Me, for I am the light of the world. I am, but who is still sharing Me today? Oh, who is sharing Me the way I am? Nobody, My child. I tell you too that no one has Me the way as I am, no one, and here are those words that once were saying: «When the Son of man comes, will He really find faith on the earth anymore?»

Those that say that they carry Me lie to Me; they who testify about Me lie to Me, as they are close with their lips to Me, but where are they with their hearts? Where? They are with their hearts in pleasures and liberties. They took the law of liberty and made it reign over them, and behold, they took over the power to share this law upon those that are disobedient. Oh, woe to the blind who is led by a blind guide, for the great horde of the chief men that sits as a judge over My creature reached to be blind too. Oh, who is to share Me anymore the way I am? Who, as from top to toe, all the body is full of wounds, wounds that give to destroy the last drop of the creature's life. Behold My child, the Scriptures which say: «Neither you enter, nor do you allow those that are entering in to enter My kingdom». I remind you now, of that Scripture which says: «I did not come to bring peace, but rather division. I came to make those that do not see to see and to make blind those that see. And the Pharisees felt it and said: "Are we not really blind too?"» Oh, and you saw what kind of answer they received: «If you were blind, you would have no sin, but because you say that you see, your sin remains upon you.»

Oh, My child, there were years when the unfaithful beast reigned, (The red beast – the communist dictatorship, r.n.) and when I was putting forth a priest above them who was speaking according to the truth and through whom I was calling out as through John, the Baptizer, as well, when he was saying: «You offspring of vipers, how will you escape from the wrath to come?» Oh, what will happen with a man like that? For he was taken and hidden into the prisons and My words of light were put into the darkness, the same way as it happened with John, who stood up to prepare My way and My appearing into the middle of the world<sup>29</sup>.

There were years of fog and I came and showed Myself truly in due time, as I spoke by the words of this work by which I have been speaking today as well, in order to fulfill then all My word. I came long before and spoke through this heavenly thread about the foretold time for the crushing of the beast, and about the time spoken of by the Lord by those that were fulfilled in due time.

Oh, the Lord is hardly understood and believed, for those of today say as it was written that it would be heard: «Where is the promise of his coming?» But woe to the unfaithful people, for the Scripture says: «God is not a liar in His promises and will not be slow in coming. But He is long-suffering towards us not willing that any should perish, but that all should come to repentance.» Oh, My day is pressed on and all the old things will pass. Therefore, My child, I am looking at those in heaven for they are crying. But those on earth, instead of sanctifying themselves, becoming devout and hastening of My day, lie in disbelief and here, My coming is drawing near and is coming with fire, for this is written and every eye will see it. But I have a remnant which has to remain faithful to My promises and wait for the new heaven and new earth considering My patience as deliverance, but they should not let themselves fall from the strongholds where they are set by My promises.

I have come and always said by the words of this work: “Blessed is he who will not be crushed against this rock. Blessed is he who is washing his life into this vessel,” for the rock is the Lord, Himself, the One Who dwells in this mountain until the end, by the words of this work, for the teaching which will flow through this work will rise above the peaks of the mountains, so that the multitudes may flow to this river and drink clean and untroubled water from this rock and to wash in this vessel, in this saving teaching, for this is written: «From Zion the law will come out and from Jerusalem rivers of living and clean waters will flow.»

Here, I chose Romania to be Mine and to come and make Myself perfect in its midst and to stretch out My tent by this teaching that I will be speaking with once again and with the peoples, languages and nations. I chose this land to make Eden and Canaan out of it for the fullness of times; to make a heavenly Jerusalem out of it and to shed light from here over the peoples, so that they may see the entrance gate into Canaan.

I have spread the word to the peoples on earth to let Romania be known and that the people may believe in My work that was spoken about beforehand, for that is why I arose to speak to the peoples about those that I have to fulfill. And here, I am talking to you My child; I am talking with you as with a friend, because you are close to Me and to My work, and to My work which speaks in Romania.

I told this to My apostles: «I do no longer call you servants, for a servant does not know what his master is doing, but rather I call you My friends.» You are My friend, you are My child, you are My love; you are with Me and on my side, as Nicodimus was in the time of My body. He too belonged to the Synod under the rule of Anna and Caiaphas, but Nicodimus was with Me and after I passed through the death; he went to Pilate and asked for My body to take it from the cross. Joseph and Nicodimus went with fragrances and did everything for My burial, for they were looking forward to God's kingdom and were hoping to see it. They remained with Me because they believed in Me. They were in the bodies in the times of My body; they were in the time of My passion, death and resurrection of My body, and here, you are in the time of the victory, appearance and glory of My Spirit through you; you are in the time that I have been working in the end of the fullness of times, after the counsel of My own will.

When I delivered this word to the peoples about what I have to fulfill during these days, I said that I would arise to judge<sup>30</sup> kings and lords, the rich and powerful, slaves and free people, for My angels will release affliction and anguish over those who have not got the seal of the Living one, and I said that I would let My wrath loose over the peoples and the smoke of the fire will rise, in which the Babylon will burn. Behold, I said and I will fulfill, and I will rise the ephah between heaven and earth, for My words cannot be abolished.

My blessed child, the loved and faithful one, I am coming towards you again to confirm your steadfastness. I remind you, we both remember of the work of the faith of many tools of old, that in the time of My body I had Melchior behind Me, who was protecting Me of the masters of that world, and he was going behind Me from my birth to the time of My passions; the time when I had to be given into the hands of the rulers of the world for the fullness of time. The Lord was persecuted at that time as well as is now, and whenever I and My disciples were caught into troubles of the world which we were walking in, Melchior appeared presenting the royal seal and thus he was saving the Lord and His ones from the troubles of the law of the wickedness and disbelief.

I have come now with freedom for My faithful ones, (Freedom after the anticommunist Revolution from 1989, r.n.), but look, the sons of the light are striving and sacrificing for the freedom of the earthly life, and the sons of My Zion do not stand up to fight for the resurrection from the death of sins. The heaven is crying, the saints and martyrs, who shed their blood for the sake of the One Who gave Himself as a sacrifice for the world, are crying as well. But today, when the end and fullness of time is coming near, no one is resisting to blood for the sake of Jesus Christ.

Behold, I stay ready to show My appearance. I chose this earth to make a visible glory in it and victory upon the world, upon the spirit of the world, and here is what I find; that as in the time of Noah<sup>31</sup>, the world is drinking and eating, marrying and giving into marriage; and here is what is coming! My wrath is coming; My judgment is coming; the Lord is coming with flame! I want to wake up My Spirit over those that know My name and over those that love Me, for many of them love Me, but they do not know how to love me; they do not know how to follow Me so that I may have power in them. I said that I will protect this chosen earth; I said, and I will do it, and here, I want to work in the midst of this people; I want to wake up workers; I want to make them know My power from the springing faith; I want to show Myself and to be the fulfiller of my words by which I addressed to the rich young man who wanted to follow Me, but did not care about his things. And I told to the disciples who were looking at My meeting with him: «What are impossible with men, are possible with God.» It is possible, My child, but I want to rise and sow faith upon many big hearts, for I cannot, son, I cannot work except by those that are faithful to the words and prophecies by which the Lord is making His works known. I cannot overlook those that are written, as this is written: «I fulfill nothing until I let it be known by the prophets.»

Oh, I cannot take the spring of My words out to the surface. Believe Me that it is not possible now, and that is why I have come towards you and let you know that I will seek to cover well My spring and My servants that I work through. Here, it comes soon that My word, which speaks about those that are called by Me, will be seen; they are not wise, powerful or with a good name according to the flesh, for this is how the Lord made the selection of those vessels, the ones by which He put to shame and have the head of those, who thought of themselves to be wise, go bald. The Lord raised the lower ones in order to bring down those that are on heights, so that no one may be able to boast against God. Behold, the darkness covers the face of the earth, and who can hold back the power of the evil? Let them stand up and hold it back. I will lose the wisdom of the teachers and I will exterminate it, and that Scriptures that says: «Where are the wise and the scribe of this age?» will be seen, for the Lord will reveal their madness and wisdom.

Stay with Me at work, for I want to use your faith, but I want you to stay well placed by faith, for I am faithful to My promises, My loved one. I will work with power of spirit from now on, but My Spirit is making Himself known by those in the body. Behold, I speak on earth, but I need bodies. If I had no hands to have written the words of My Spirit with, how could I have made My book, which is one as I am One, the Lord, Jesus Christ? I am the One Who fulfills everything, but by those that are worked out by Me.

Let yourself be worked out and then do your work, for I do not give you to work what you cannot do, as at the same time with the work that I give you, I also give you power in your work with Me, but rejoice with Me and work for Me with gladness. I cannot call happier another one, more than the one who works for Me and for My plan, for that one will be put over many things into My kingdom. Behold, I tell you that it is by you that I will share many words from Me, and you will be between Me and those that I will be working upon, for we will work much from now on and will prosper day by day, but we will not reveal My spring yet. This is how we should work, so that our work may remain, and this way we will hasten the good time and all My establishment, but this secret and My work needs to be kept well; I need to have protectors of My work even now, for the prophet Zachariah kept the secret of My incarnation; he had kept the secret of the time of My body since the time of John, the Baptizer's conception and until his passing to Me. Work with Me and you will have no greater joy, for you will be My witness before the peoples when I will come above with My secretly worked thing, by which I work out your salvation, which is to come soon. Be great in work and word where you are doing your job for God is One over all creature.

Romania has been Christian since its birth. Romania has been Orthodox, My child, and the Lord is one. It hurts Me when I see division in My Zion, but My Spirit will soon reveal My will over Zion in the days to come, for the church is the Zion. It was the same in the time of My body, but the Lord will work over this chosen land upon the church and will be victorious, and he will make peace in one single and apostolic church, towards the forgiveness and reconciliation of the creature, for God is One. Romania will be My queen and will be clothed in a single garment of glory and she will be great over many peoples through My church in it, for the Lord will have to be glorified in this mountain of blessing.

I have spoken with you My loved child. Oh, how much I want you to rejoice in your spirit! I want you to be faithful, for I am true in the work by this thread of heavenly work. The doubt seeks to come in and halve My power in you, but I clothed you with power of the spirit and faith, and let us remain well united and to overcome our weaknesses! Let us come, for I will continually strengthen you, as I did with Peter, who, although was seeing Me in the middle of the water coming towards him, he doubted that it was I, but I strengthened him if I heard him asking for My help.

Come, for I am! Let us overcome! Come, for your reward is great in heavens! Bring with the heart close to Me and to you your neighbor, that one whom I called her the apostle of My Romania. Bring her to My work, for I want to make her the apostle of My work. I will be the One Who is able to do what no one can on earth; I, for I fulfill them all. I give you a special power so that you may unite her with My work, for by this thing that I work in Romania, I will soon bring the glory and happiness of this chosen land. I want to make a good connection with My anointed one, for we will have to work according to My plan, as all heaven is with you. Behold, I go ahead with the word and speak with her now, but first let us finish this book with the sweetest word: peace!

Peace to you, child loved by heaven, and let you watch out with justice over the flock! Be empowered and blessed by the power of the Holy Trinity, for we will work and your victory will be great! Amen. Let My Spirit fill you up with comfort and peace. Peace upon you from My little Mother, who loves and protects Romanians! There is no victory and there is no peace without Me. Remain in Me for without Me you cannot overcome, My children.

I let My peace to you! Amen, amen, amen.

The word of God to His chosen Irineu

The sweetest word: peace to you! Peace to you, faithful child to My work of this time! Peace to you from the God of those faithful, for the Lord is the God of those faithful and is working with the faithful. Behold the wish from heaven of remembrance of the Lord's resurrection as well: Christ is Risen! Christ is the beginning of the resurrection and afterwards each one according to his own group.

Christ is Risen! But how many understand this secret in order to live according to the truth of this resurrection? The world makes out of this a remembrance, out of this holiday a celebration of feasting and of freedom and not of devotion and not of heavenly glorification and it does not come up with joy from earth to heaven. The same was in the time of My body, My loved child, for the world was gathering from everywhere at the Passover celebration from Jerusalem, to bring a praying sacrifice to God. Yah! As the Spirit of God was not in them, for if those who were gathering together had the Spirit of God, they would have known that I was the Lamb of God, Who came to lift up the sin of the world. Did you see Peter's testimony when I asked My disciples: «How about you? Who do you say I am?» And Peter said: «You are the Christ.» But the Lord discovered the work of the godly spirit and said: «Blessed are you Simon; for flesh and blood did not reveal it to you», rather the Lord had worked all the time, for afterwards He said to them: «Do not tell anyone that I am the Christ.» Behold, the Lord did not seek in the passing of this world in His time, and rather worked with a bunch of disciples, as He could not reach the time to be perfected by death and then by resurrection, as it was written in the book of the prophecies. And when the time came, He went up to Jerusalem to let Himself be given for passion and to show then His glory.

Oh, My loved one, I have come down from heaven, carried a body and humbled Myself to the cross to be an example of love for those who believe in Me. I was an obedient servant of My Father and I bent down in front of all in order to do well to everybody. I came down from heaven and washed the feet of My disciples and I did nothing for Me. I comforted the pains of everybody; I healed the sufferings of those that are faithful and gave food to the hungry multitudes, and afterwards I went on for passion and for the full accomplishment of the mystery for which I came incarnated; and I worked out nothing but love in all the time of My body. And when I went up to My Father, I said this: «Father, protect now those that you gave Me from the world as I now come to You! They are not from the world as I am not from the world as well. The world does not love them, as the world loves only what belongs to it.» The same is now too; the world cannot love those that are with God, those that do not come from what belongs to God's law. But the faithful, who do not suffer shame, disdain and judgment from those in the world, oh, they have not come out from what belongs to the world yet; they still have a double-minded heart. So are many from My people whom I nourished and taught from heaven all the time, and the Christian cannot cut from what belongs to him and be only with Me in order to make him powerful over the one in My people.

I have these little children through whom I work and through whom that which says is seen: «Whoever does not leave parents, brothers, fallow lands, houses and world for My name, that one cannot be My disciple», and the one who leaves everything from Me, that one is My disciple. Oh, these little children have not looked back anymore. They cut from themselves and here, they will be blessed and will be put over many things they who listen to My words and fulfill them. That is why I stuck you to them, and woe, My child, woe to those who only dare think to put a crossbar between you and these that I help Myself with them and through whom I make a bound with you for the accomplishment of My thing in these days! I say so because My work with you is still intercepted by the hypocrites who say that they are also with My work and if there is only a little bit of dough from them, they seek to spoil that kneading from heaven. Keep away from the dough of those hypocrites, for they do not work in My vineyard. Keep away from the friends, as I protect you from enemies. But I want you to understand what I say, for he who is not with the work of My plan that one is not with you according to the truth. Keep away from the gabbler as he has two tongues. And keep away from the flattering man, for his greasy word is ambiguous. I am all the time with a strong protection upon you and companies of strong angels are working around you, for I want have you, My loved child, and I want strongly to have you and I want to have you like a straight edge in the middle of a stubborn and unfaithful people.

The apostles from Galilee took the Holy Spirit. And why did they take Him? Because they believed in their Teacher; that is why they took and knew that they took and went and brought forth fruit and made uncountable miracles, and multitudes from the earth followed them, as in My name they were taking out demons and were speaking into new languages and were doing great miracles. But today, the spirit of the world, this kind of evil spirit, with what it can be exterminated? With what My love? For this kind of evil spirit from this time comes out only with an unheard of faith, worked out with fasting and living prayer, according to the spirit and truth, and behold, this power is not seen that is worked out from My church anymore, for there is no life with Me; it is not. For the priest eats meat all the time, like anyone who is wondered away; he is eating ceaselessly, from the one at the head of the church to the weakest one. The priest does not want to be like Me, and behold, I see this deception today, as the man is getting rid even of the smallest tasks, and he is putting his neck to carry a mountain in his back, for he goes to become a priest and one like that does not know what he is doing. And if the priests knew what kind of time is this and if they understood what it meant to stay between man and God, if they could understand; I tell you as well son; I tell you that the priest of today would take a bag on his shoulder and would go beyond the largest wilderness to escape the hell, for the priest of today does not work God's righteousness, and it is written: «Woe to you because you strain out a gnat and swallow a camel to show your righteousness before the people, but on the inside you are filthy. Woe, for you go beyond the limit of your fathers, who shed the prophets' blood, for behold, you confirm yourself that you are the sons of those.»

Oh, My loved one, be with Me son, for the priest of today makes from My Body and Blood members of the immoral and lawless ones. It would be easier for one like this to take a loaf of bread and go into the wilderness, as it is not only he, but he also turns the one who is siding with him into a child of hell. Believe Me so that you may be full of the Holy Spirit to see with the spirit, that truly, truly I say to you, for before the priest was not leaving his holy garment and was going from village to village and he was honest with a holy honor and primacy, My child, and he was grazing the flock according to the whole guide. But look also today! Look with Me that you do no longer know whether the priest who drinks and smokes is a priest anymore, who not only walks clothed like the world and leaves his holy garment, but more awfulness goes up to heaven, for he goes and does like everybody and I do no longer distinguish him from the world.

I cannot stand it anymore, My child. I cannot stand son, and I want to make a good cleaning. I want to clean all the dry wood; I want to arise Myself and cut the fruit trees that do not bring forth fruit. Why should they occupy a place in vain? I come and I want to let all that I find healthy, but help Me as I want to make with you a beginning of a new work. Do not hurry; do not put Me under a bushel. Take Me out and make Me shine with you by what you are working! Stay in the good power for this kind of darkness and fog cannot be cleared off but only with the good power.

Do not give Me to those that do not walk in the way with Me. Tell and show them the way, and see if they walk in it; join them to Me, and if they do not want, I will not give up for them and I will come back inside Me. I want you to know that I speak the truth; I do not give up My kingdom because of those who do not open for Me according to the truth, for those that are with Me follow My steps and I am well pleased with them. I came completely into the world and completely I gave Myself as an example for cutting and sacrificing and I cannot overlook this. Place Me with your love, with your faith and with your word; place Me in man so that I can be seen in him, and then work with My Body and Blood themselves upon that one, for I am clean, My obedient child, and work. It is not hard with Me. It is hard only when you are not with Me, for I am not feeble at all.

Let Me in all things, but all of your things, be in Me. Nothing without Me: neither your deed and nor your speech, love and look. Nothing without Me, My love, for I take ten steps to one of yours and we go and work and overcome. Seek My kingdom always and I will work for you all other things, but never be without Me anywhere. You have seen that some believers give as alms with their own hand everything that they want to have in heaven. The same is on earth; what we want to receive from around us, let us share, for there is no greater wisdom and no other greater virtue can overcome this virtue. The darkness of this time is great, and the one who weaves the virtues with a right account and a spirit of humiliation, that one overcomes those, for it is that time of the end of the fullness of the times and this is what is written: «The one who endures to the end, that one will be saved». Amen.

Seek with love for the accomplishment of the heavenly plan, and I will make all other works easy for you to work, for look, the time is waiting behind us and I am sighing under waiting, My love. I want to see you working with love for heaven, with love for the world, the same way I worked for the world in love and gave Myself as a sacrifice to accomplish the beginning of salvation work of God's creature. And I want you to be the ones through whom I will victoriously put an end to My work, for look, I work, but I have few workers in this vineyard. Oh, but I shake Myself with a power of spirit over these few of Mine and the victory will rise and it will be seen rising. Amen.

I still have to sit in counsel with you and I would always sit, as I have none to be comforted with, but here, we do not have a close approaching, for the connection is My word.

Now, again, peace to you! Let My peace remain upon you and work a spirit of peace for you. I rejoice in you, for I am pleased with you. Be courageous; be unabated for I am with you. Let the staff of the righteousness carry and support you in all the work of righteousness from arisen faith. Let the rain of My grace make you grow and perfect you for the multitude of the heavenly grace which flows from the Most Holy Trinity upon you.

My Mother welcome you too with the great news:

– Christ is risen, the love child of my Son! Peace to you! May the peace of my Son be with you! Amen.

– Behold, we meet at the manger of My coming down to strengthen from Me and from you those that we are waiting for, those that we help ourselves with, for I want to make them understand well My work in this time. I want you to understand well that within this cover that I have My work come down, we will often work over many tools of My plan, and we will work upon them and then with them, to perfect this vineyard and to raise Romania on the top of the glory of the heavenly Jerusalem.

I will sit in counsel with you again for there are many things to bring into view and fulfillment. All that I gave you to work, be worthy and work them all up to the end; My faithful child of the holy heaven, for the time is late, loved child by God. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to father Visarion Iugulescu<sup>32</sup>

Let this be a blessing and a testimony day, for Christ, the light of the resurrection, is working today a miracle of the multiplying of the living and prepared hearts for the work in the corner top, by which the multitude dressed in white robes is gathering together in one place, that one which will stand before the throne of heavenly Lamb singing the new song of the Jerusalem coming down from heaven.

Peace to you! By open doors, peace to you! I am. The Lord of the powers is My name. I am. Do not be afraid. Peace over your hearts! Peace and unity; as in heaven so on earth!

When the time came to ascend to My Father after I finished the work that I came incarnated for, I was with the chosen ones, with My disciples in Galilee. I was talking with them, and they asked this: «Lord, is it not really the time now to put back to its place the kingdom of Israel?» And I answered them this: «It is not for you to know the years and the times that My Father kept under His command». This is what I told them, because this mystery was sealed in the Holy Spirit. The Holy Spirit is the God Who works in this time to finish His work, and behold, the Holy Trinity is coming to an end with this threefold work, for the God of the Holy Spirit is coming to an end with His work. This is the time that the kingdom of Israel to be put back to its place. Behold the last secret, the most waited for, for all the heaven together, bearing in its bosom all the holy working descent, has been waiting to put back to its place the kingdom of Israel. All the heaven rejoice, as for a long time it has been waiting for these days, and behold, the heaven sees them coming. I want you to know that it was yours, My love ones from this time of heavenly glory. The Holy Spirit is the Comforter promised by the Son of God, the One Who takes from heaven and lets it be known. My apostles who accompanied Me in the time of My body rejoice now that the time came for the answer of their question to be heard. That was the last word between Me and them, and then I ascended from them and I did not answer, for this answer did not belong to them.

My peace and the gift of My peace upon the one that I have met now! I put My joy upon you, son loved by heaven. I missed to sit in counsel with Me, for I sat in counsel with you by this heavenly thread, and I stayed at the other end of this work, at the beginning of this work, son. I wanted at this end too; at the end of this work to talk with you, for she is almost over too. We are close to the big feast, My love, My loved child. You are written into the book of this work, son, Vasilică. This way you are written. The heaven rejoices at the work of your apostleship, at the fruit of your work. The time has come to reveal Myself, My loved friend. This is what I told My disciples: «No longer do I call you servants, for the servant does not know what his master does, rather I call you My loved friends». Behold, I want you to know what I do, as I said to My beloved one, to John, the loved one: «Do not write what the seven thunders spoke; do not write. Seal what these thunders spoke until the end of the end». Behold that time, My love. I arose to gather together the good thing and to make perfect the flock of the blessed Romania. Romania is the chosen country by which God puts back to its place the kingdom of the New Jerusalem. It is written in the book coming down that the Lord will choose Jerusalem again, and this will be in the days of distress. It is great trouble on earth; the fog is thick; the faith is big; but this is what I said in the time of My body: «Not only these miracles; rather those that believe in Me will work things greater than these, as I go to My Father». Behold My love, it will be so. I will gather together all the flock, called, chosen and faithful, and I will make only one out of it and I will blow from heaven, so that those that are written may be fulfilled, for this is written: «I will pour out of My Spirit on old men and young men, on servants and handmaids and they will be filled with the knowledge of the Holy Spirit and I will prophesy among them and I will gather them together from the four winds of the earth and I will bring them into the country of Israel, in the country of the New Jerusalem, the one that come down from heaven.»

I used the trumpets written in the book in this time, and behold, I sound the first trumpet before the second coming, for I will reveal Myself as it is written. I will fill with a seen glory this Romanian land, this Canaan which I have been working on with the word of the seven thunders which have been spoken in this time. I used a body that you know<sup>33</sup>, and I spoke by this body and brought into view My plan and My work of ending of God's secret. This body is now with Me and I gave her a great favor, son, for she had carried Me for twenty-five years, so that I could speak once again on the earth.

This is what I said by the apostle John: «Take the book and eat it, for once again you have to prophecy to the peoples and nations and to the kingdoms of the world». This is what I told Verginica: “Do not lose yourself, Verginica, because you are to rise in your days and give food from Me to a great people that will gather together before My throne with branches in their hands and with little white clothes, singing the song of the New Jerusalem, for only these will know this song.” Only these, My loved son, and here is what I do, for I came into your way through this who is great over My church and who I will put on the first place of my church until the end. I came into your way, by him I came into your way, for I am in him, son, for he is the most faithful to the thing of this work that I speak by in Romania for such a long time. I came into your way to tell you too that this song is the song that I sang to you by this vessel that you know too, and this song is long. It is long; it is from then when I came down for the first time in that vessel and until now, and until the end of this work by which I spoke, by which I sang to make this new song known. I came into your way and looked down from heaven over the work of My apostleship, because you are written into the book of this work, and I remembered of the word of your faith, because I work after the plan made by heaven, after the heavenly sketch. I found you in the sketch of this work and I came now into your way to ask your fruit and to reward you. I want to put the new name of the New Jerusalem on the forehead of your flock, for you are the forehead of this flock, but I want you to teach this heavenly song to all from your flock, for your flock listens to you. Your flock knows you and listens to your voice and goes after you as after faithful follower of the Good Shepherd. You are My friend and I know you out of a thousand, My son. Get up and come to meet Me; come out with all of your retinue. Call and let it be known over your flock, for I want to come in your Jerusalem, to join it with the one coming down from heaven and to make, from everything that is on earth, to make only one, a heavenly one, for here is what I do! I came down from heaven accompanied by the heavenly Jerusalem, to make a unity with you and with your flock, and for you to be one with Me and with My flock, which knows the song of this work. I and all the heaven listen to the voice of your flock, as with all your flock you bring Me glory. You too listen to My voice and My song, the song of this work. Listen to it, as I come to woo you. I am the Bridegroom from the heaven; the One that I came to dress My bride with the heavenly garment and to give her the crown of this time of heavenly glory. Listen to the voice of My work, for I want to bring you glory too, to make you rejoice in this time, with the joy that I will be coming to place over this Jerusalem, chosen in this time.

I know your works and your perseverance; I know that you had trouble because of My name. I know your toil, I know your endurance, but I want you to let yourself be rewarded by Me, for behold that the time has come, when the man has to come into the garden of Eden where he fell from; in the angelic state, in the sinless state, in the state of spirit and grace. Watch out and establish well what remained to be established. Keep what you have until I come, for I am close; I am at the doors. I came with the last establishments. I did not come with all things in the beginning. I have come little by little to put back to their places those that are ruined; to establish My kingdom on a new earth and to make a new man and to put him back into the Garden of Eden. I have come with the last news. It is time to close in the eternal prisons the evil spirit who took Me out of the man. It is the time to bring My creature into the first state, to be as I am, to be like Me so that he may be with Me.

Sound the trumpet so that your flock may hear you! Sound over it and put My last wakefulness on it; put on it the best annunciation of all the annunciations by now! I come soon. I am close now. Join Me with your flock; until I come join Me, for I want to put the seal of this work, for the flock of this work is the flock of honor for My welcoming in the Jerusalem of this time. Romania is My queen; she is My blessed one; she is My chosen one and she is My love, and I will stretch out the tent of My wedding from her, for I come to her; I come to My Romania. I come, as I meant her to be Mine from her birth to glorify Myself in her with a visible glory, and all the people will see her glory. Gird up and get up to listen to My voice and to open, for behold, I come to have dinner together. I want to take water out of this spring and to give it to you to drink, you and all your flock, for this teaching and this voice which is resounding now towards the end, is My voice, which is calling out to bring all the peoples together in order to see and know My glory.

I will bring My anointed, (King Michael, r.n.), and I want to bring him back through My living church, for he will rule in Me and not without Me. He is from me and he is to take for Me the staff to rule the blessed people. He is prophesied about; he is from Me. Let the Christian flock of the Romanian people be lifted up and let its request and prayer come up to me, so that I may hear and fulfill the coming of My anointed one. Let the voices towards heaven multiply; the voice of the church of this Jerusalem, and let them call out until the walls come down, so that My anointed may come in. Let no one be stronger and more powerful than the faithful people and the fulfiller of this nation.

Let us shake our hands, flock with flock, brother with brother, and to stick our tent and to spread the meal, most waited by all holy heaven. Call upon your flock, My love, and tell it about My spring and about the thing that I am working in Romania at this time. Call your flock and make it understand your voice and make it follow you, for I want to show it this garden and My voice which fills this garden. The time is coming to put the ages back to their places, for the time of the red beast, (The communist dictatorship, r.n.), changed from their places My times and My heavenly feastings. Behold, I come with this establishment too, to put it back to its place and to harshly reprimand those that trampled over the parental ones, which were established by Christian blood and by the foundational sacrifice for the clean faith, left by the saints that are with Me now, they who work from heaven with Me. I want to be waited with wakefulness the same way Moses' people was preparing when I was telling him about My coming down into the middle of the Israel people in the time of Moses, for behold, in the middle of this chosen land, it is more than Moses.

Behold, be faithful and do not deny Me. Keep what you have so that no one may take your crown. The one who will overcome until the end I will make him a pillar in the temple of the living God, for the death will no longer be. I come soon, and there will be no more death. Amen. Keep what you have and let no one take it from you, but let Me put the living seal on your flock. Make it hear your voice, for I come towards you. Behold, it is My voice, it is My word; they are My messengers and who receive them, he receives Me. Be faithful, for I come with My reward; I come My son; I come to glorify Myself in Jerusalem. Amen.

Blessed are those that stand fast for Me. I am the Lord of the hosts. I am Alpha and Omega. And there is no other God beside Me. I am, and I give to destruction peoples for My smallest one in order to prepare him the way towards Me.

I am the light of the peoples and the glory of My people Israel, the good faithful. Open so that I may come in, My love. Open for Me, for I come into your house, in the midst of your flock. John, the Baptizer said to the multitudes that were baptized by him: «The One Who comes after me is greater than I am; you should listen to Him». Amen.

Peace to you and peace for you to share, and light from Me to share over this strong city! We will make a new and living church and we will make a holy people and it will come in on the gates of the glory to welcome Me. Receive Me with peace! Do not be afraid. Open to Me, for I came to woo you, to be one with the thing that I work now for the fullness of the times.

Christ, the light of the resurrection, is rising, and is coming out as a Bridegroom gets out of His chamber.

Christ, the One risen from the dead, Christ, the new and eternal beginning, the Lord of the powers is His name. Amen, amen, amen.

The word of God to King Michael

Let it be written another word of testimony, for the Lord lets His word come down, and then He sets to fulfill those that are spoken of by the word. Behold the word of God to the king Michael of Romania, for he is spoken of by the prophets.

Peace to you, king of the one that is blessed, for I will come down with a visible glory and share the light and living light upon the nations on the earth, and she will be My queen. Peace to you, and May the comforting myrrh be upon your head! Amen. Behold, I write another book to you, to let you know that I will let upon this place the spring of My word, as a testimony stone and a place of the glory of My name, so that the nations may know afterwards and to drink living water from this stone, and this will be for the healing of the nations, for this is written about this mountain which shall be raised above the mountains, above the hills, above the wisdom on the earth, and many nations will come towards this rock, towards this spring coming down from heaven, for Romania will be the new land of the Lord's glory in the days to come, and you will be great upon this nation. I am the Lord of the powers, and everything is possible with God, but be faithful to My work and My plan, which is fulfilled from eternity and you will sit on your throne, and your offspring will stand by you.

I came down as a word and told you that I will raise this stone of testimony to the place of My spring through I speak the work of My plan and the work of My Romania, as, look, I take out of this spring for you too. I have My servants by whom I work My word through this spring, and I want to take this honey fountain above, for the time of the accomplishments spoke by this spring is coming; it comes and it hurries to come; it comes and I want to work hastily, so that we may fasten the cross on the top of this stone and to speak from this top the word coming from heaven, to speak the name of My anointed one, for you will be the king of Romania through Me. But I want to write your name on this stone to prepare your coming by this power, by this heavenly foundation, by this testimony, which will give testimony on that day. The Lord of the powers is My name, and this is not impossible with God, and this work is in My plan.

I want to make a good unity and a close connection with your house. I want to make this unity by My faithful witness, who is from Me and whom I am to establish the first upon My church, upon the blessed church<sup>34</sup>, for this witness knows from Me what I have to do upon this nation; and there shall be a perfect peace among you, and I will be in your counsel to the glory of My chosen nation in the days to come. There is little time until the harvest and I want to work this ark hastily, this stone of testimony, for I will overcome by it, and you will come afterwards and we will set the resurrected life and the far light upon this nation, and all the peoples will come and see the glory of the forsaken one.

Sit down by Me to help Myself with you and to raise this stone to its place, the kind of Romania, for I have holy waivodes in the holy heaven, from the body of this nation, which brought a sacrifice of glory for Me and remembering stones in their days, and they cry to Me day and night saying: «How long Lord until you lift up our names according to Your promises?» However, I have My servants near this spring, workers in the body, who cry out day and night before Me, and they remind Me of the time of the promises that I made upon this chosen nation, and everything is written and they will testify about the work of My words. And they remind Me of you, their king, as I gave them the commandment to bring a daily sacrifice and to bring your name before Me and your coming in your land. This is how you are reminded in this hidden place; this is what is heard at the throne of My glory: “Michael, King of Romania, to commemorate the Lord God in His kingdom!” Amen. I gave the order for these to ask from Me to cut the head of the red best, and I heard and fulfilled it in due time this victory. (At the anticommunist revolution in December, 1989, when the dictator, Ceaușescu, was executed on the 25th of December, r.n.). I work here through My servants, so that they may know how My plan is made out, that they may know what to ask from Me, and behold, I am and I fulfill, and I made here an establishment according to the sketch of the plan of those days, for I work from heaven according to the heavenly plan, but I work through these who bring Me by the word, for I speak and then I come to fulfill.

I spoke in the time of My body; this is what I said to My disciples: «There yet four months until the harvest», and many went wrong in Me, for My mysteries are deep, My love, My anointed one, with whom I am well pleased in the days to come. And behold, I speak again the words of that time: there yet four months until the harvest, and how much I would like to wake up My workers and to overcome by this victory!

Sit down by Me, for I want to mark down on this stone and to engrave your name. Behold, I put this stone before you, king of Romania, and it will happen that in one day I will put away the injustice from My and your country, and I will fulfill it. Be faithful, for I will fulfill on that day, as this day is established, My love, but let it be that faith like yours might have never been in the people of the faithful ones, for we will work the victory of the end of the Babylon and that for the beginning of a new age, and I will begin with My holy kindred, with the glory of this new people. I said and I will fulfill, and I will choose from the New Jerusalem, and this will be in the days of tribulation. Oh, the darkness of this time is great, and this is the tribulation for the Lord of the faithful ones, but look, at the end of the fullness of lawlessness, I will establish a king who will be in Me and through him I will establish the kingdom of the peace. Amen.

Get up now and come to raise this stone, for I will speak from its top and those that are decaying will fall down, and we will make a new thing, and the nations on the earth will bow down before this sign. Be wise, My love, be in Me so that I may be in you, but let Me be, My love, My anointed one, My blessed one. The time is late, you king of Romania, and behold, I hurry to prepare your coming, but this is My plan for your coming, and it should be worked out according to it. The time has come for you to bring a sacrifice to me, and I will set it as a witness upon this spring which has run through the midst of this chosen nation, which spoke in this time about your time that is coming. And on that day I will testify and I will fulfill it by the word, and when I speak the word, all the heights will bow down at My voice, for I am the Lord of the powers.

I am. Do not be afraid, king of Romania. I will unite you with those that are spoken by My word, so that you may believe in God and to sit down by the Lord, and that the work of God and the mystery over this nation may be fulfilled. Get up and be for God, for behold, the Lord is upon you with the myrrh of the blessing and of the heavenly power.

Peace to you! Peace to you from the spring which flows in Romania! But I want to tell you, “Peace to you!” from the top of this rock which is to be raised above this spring. Peace to you, king of Romania! God is speaking in Romania more than in all ages by now.

Peace upon the house of My anointed, Michael! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God and of St. Virginia in the synod for the building of the Holy of Holies of New Jerusalem

Peace to you! This is a heavenly synod. Mother Gigi<sup>35</sup> is here with the guests from heaven and is with the Lord, Jesus Christ at the counsel of this synod, and it is a holiday in heaven on this day of a holy synod.

Glory to the Saint and to the One of a being and of life of a creation and inseparable Trinity, now and forever! Amen. The hour is coming that the Son of man be glorified, and I do not speak from me, and the One Who sent me commanded me to tell and to speak. You are the body of Jesus Christ, for the Spirit of the Lord works at the building of the body of Jesus Christ, for the perfection of the saints. You are the new beginning because you take, eat and drink the Body and the Blood of the Son of the Holy Trinity, and then you take again after a day and a night.

The Lord, Jesus Christ is in the synod with us, my loved children, and the Lord give His blessing upon this synod. Behold, the Lord is speaking on you now:

– Blessed it is the kingdom of the Holy Trinity, of My Father and of His Son, and of the Holy Spirit, working threefold, now and forever! Amen.

Peace to you! Through the open doors, peace to you and rejoice that My Father is working to announce His kingdom for the glory and the fullness of God's time! The Lord is working with you, because you were redeemed and sealed for the day of redemption. There is still a little time and we will sit at the wedding table, which is being prepared now. The one who believes in Me and sees Me here where I work, that one does not believe in Me and does not see Me, but believes in the One Who sent Me, and sees the One Who sent Me, for My Father sent Me on the earth, and then I ascended to My Father so that I may come back to the earth again, and to have power in those that come down from heaven, as this hour has already come. I am the Son of the heavenly powers, and I told Verginica to come down again and to work as I told her by the written words into the book of this work, to sound the trumpet and prepare My way for My second coming.

I am the Son promised by the prophets and that is why I came down, as it was written, and I came down to work with those that worship in the Spirit of the Truth; I came down to the sons of the promise, spoken of by the Holy Spirit, to the sons of the blessed tribe of this time of victory, for Hagar is the Mount of Sinai, and Sara is the New Jerusalem, which is prophesied about that it will come down from heaven clothed in glory.

Peace to you, those that work together for the work of the Holy Trinity, which works to establish the New Jerusalem! And we will begin with this stone and from this stone. The Lord, Jesus Christ, is the first for this heavenly synod. Be full of the Holy Spirit, children of the glory of the Holy Trinity, and do not tell anyone what God has done with you. Seal this mystery among My disciples, and we will work and make disciples, and he, who is not against us, is with us. Amen.

Behold, receive My Spirit and be totally into My Spirit. This synod is from heaven, and the heaven is a guest to this Holy Synod. Peace to you! Peace to you and Holy Spirit! Peace and strength and a holy kingdom, as in heaven so upon you, and then from you forward upon many multitudes! Behold, on this rock we will build the church for the beginning of the resurrection of God's creature. Believe in Jesus Christ! I am. Do not be afraid, and we will work at this ark. Seal this mystery until we take and open these seals, as the Lamb of God is worthy to take this book and open its seals within the cries of the multitudes which will come and drink of this stone, of this mountain of the blessings.

Peace to you, and again I say: peace to you! Peace from Us to you and from you to Us! And it shall be light and peace, for I came to bring light on the earth. Strengthen your feet and gird up your loins and stand up, for the Father of the heavens will speak then from the top of this stone and the voice of the heavens will be heard speaking: this is the work that I have been well pleased with and I will go with it to all the margins. Amen.

Get up and rejoice for your reward is coming from heaven! Blessed it be the word, the counsel and the work of this heavenly synod! Amen. Let it be written as a testimony the names of those who sat with the heaven in the counsel of this synod, and the Lord will engrave on this rock the name of those who are gathered together into the name of the Lord of this day of testimony. Amen, amen, amen.

The names of those that are gathered together in this heavenly synod are: Ioan Spirea, Gheorghe, Ilie, Nicolae, Spiridon, Emilian, Emilian, Gheorghe, Constantin, Valeriu, Nicolae, Marian, Ioan, Dan.

The Word of God for the appointment of the land of the garden of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem

The peace of the Holy Spirit and the blessing of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit! Peace and good will and a spirit of faith may come down in the moment of this heavenly counsel obedience! Amen.

The God of the Most Holy Trinity speaks by the Word of the Holy Spirit, and all are worked out by the word, from the beginning to the end of this beginning, for behold, it is being worked out a heavenly mystery of a new beginning.

It is written in the Book of the Truth that, at this time, the end of the world, of the lawlessness and of disbelief is coming, and a new beginning of a new heaven and a new earth is coming; a new godly beginning is coming, as it is written by the prophets. The hour is coming for the Son of the man to be glorified and that is why the Lord started in this place the new beginning of the new work, which will give light from you from place to place and everywhere on the earth, so that the earth may be new, and that is why the Lord started into this place a resurrected life and a living and clean life; and that is why He started with you the work of a new land, which will be worked out through you from place to place and then all over, so that every soul may be a new heaven, and each heart that will be new among those that are made new, for the Lord brings the man to his life from Eden on that time, in the garden of Eden where the man was placed in the beginning. The new Jerusalem is worked out again, and the work of the New Jerusalem from heaven is being established, and it is being done quickly and wonderfully, and all the creature will be silenced upon this wonderful view which will shine quickly upon this people, for Romania is the land that is prophesied about, in which the Lord, Jesus Christ will come down in a visible glory at this time. This is the time that the kingdom of Israel may be restored, for Israel means a faithful people, a chosen people, a loved people, and it means a people which is called and blessed. This is the time when God works out the new beginning secretly, which will be shown afterwards upon all the heights of the times up to this time, for behold, the Lord is announcing his kingdom. Amen.

This is the place of the testimony for the beginning of God's kingdom, for the Lord is in this holy place and is speaking from here, and it is heard all over the earth, and the earth exults and renews itself from place to place at God's voice. And multitudes of people will come and flow from all sides to see and know the Lord's glory which will be shown upon this chosen Jerusalem, upon this heavenly Jerusalem, for the mystery, which is worked out by the word, is coming down from heaven into this dwelling.

From the very beginning God has been working everything by His word, and nothing was done without Him making it known beforehand, and then He set to work and He worked by His word through the prophets, and it was nothing worked out without His works being proclaimed by the prophets. It is written into the book of the prophets about these days too, when the Lord is getting up to choose the Jerusalem again, and to choose again all the faithful ones, and to come into them to be their God and to go with them presenting them as the light upon the world, so that the world may come to life under this light.

Here, I sit in a heavenly counsel with you, My children, that I gathered together to be with Me during this time and to work for Me and to be here now as workers together with the heavenly mysteries, which work to establish on the earth the things that will come down from God by the word. Neither of you are strangers here for you are chosen and prophesied about and have your election for this time since your birth, for this work and for this place which you were picked up in by a godly trumpet. I sit again with you in counsel, for the heavenly word is the roof, the power and the work for which you stand alive during these days. A very little time, children, and everyone around you, and all who struck you, and all who heard of you by the testimony of the word coming down here from heaven and spread all over, for which the heavenly word came down, a very little time, and everyone will see and rejoice of the work which was done by God with you.

I have the trumpet of this time and I sounded it and I put the sounded words under a mystery and a sealing; I put them until they are to be take over and proclaimed from the top of the roofs, as it is written by the word of God. I woke up the trumpet from its place, and I spoke by it on the earth, and behold, I raised then from that town a son and planted him out here, into this land, where this holy place is built. I came by the word and put the spirit and the holy anointment on the crown of this son and I made him an intercessor between Me, a prayerful man for the people which ate from this heavenly table, the people which spoke with God by this heavenly word coming down on the earth during these days; however, it has never been a more perfect work like this in all ages, for the people of Moses spoke with Me, but not like this people. And behold, this people has in its midst more than the people of Moses had, for the Lord spoke with Moses, and Moses spoke to the people the word of God, but in this heavenly work, the word of the Lord was face to face with the word of the Christian. The Lord spoke this time with Israel mouth to mouth, and the Lord will perfect this mystery upon this people, and then for all the nations, for all God's creature. I came down in a living spirit and a heavenly anointment on the forehead and upon the hands and in the heart of this son from here, and he said this: „Behold, Lord, I am your servant. Be it to me according to Your word”, and since then the Lord has been resting upon this holy place, for this place is holy and this roof is to be feared, for all the hostile powers, and the hosts of the evil spirits cry far away from the bounds of here when they see that the end of their evil work is being prepared; when they see this thing which is being worked out among the walls of this holy roof.

This roof is the sealed mystery of the seven thunders which spoke in the hearing of John, the Evangelist, in the time of his apocalyptic vision, which is written into the Book of the Truth. This mystery was sealed until this time, as it was written, and behold, the time is coming for this fountain to be unsealed; this spring of work which flows from heaven into the midst of this people, for Romania is the New Canaan, which will spring now into the eyes of all the nations.

I had heavenly signs come down into this holy dwelling and I will rise with the mystery that I am working at now in this covering. I am preparing this path and I am with all the heavenly hosts at work over those from here and I keep them under a heavenly helm, and they walk completely according to the word that is among them from the heaven and are faithful to the word of God.

Behold the God's word for he, who is written down with his whole name on this earth here, for there is another name written down on this earth, and the Lord sees the name of this son that is written beside the name of God's chosen and anointed one. (It is about the earth which the monastery is built on, the owners being two brothers, r.n.). The son who has a heavenly anointment is Mine with everything that belongs to him. When I entered the Zacchaeus' house, he believed in Me and bowed down with all his heart before the Lord saying: «Lord half of my goods I give so that You may be the Savior of my kindred», but this son said this: “Lord, behold Your servant. Be it to me according to Your word.” And, behold, My lovers, My word has always been since then before My son, and he has done it according to My word. He gave himself over not only with half of his goods, but he completely gave himself over with all he had from God. But the boundary of this land, sealed by God, and the boundary of this covering, sealed by the godly anointment myrrh, has another name written in it; the name of the son of this land contained within the sealed limits of this mystery. There is still another step, and these boundaries will be sealed even better, for the Lord is the Master of the sky and of the earth, and the Lord works according to the plan made out from eternity, and no one can stand in the way of those that are set from the beginning, for everything that is contained within the limits of this boundaries, will be a sealed land and will give light and share resurrection around and over the nations that will hear of this heavenly glory, and that will come closer, and will not be able to climb over the wall, for no one that is filthy, unclean, or accustomed to defilement and fornication of any kind will be able to enter; and he will be called the rock of foundation of the church for God's creature resurrection. Behold, in a few days we lay the witness rock of this beginning of the new church and it will be to raise an altar of witness, which will speak about those that have been worked secretly, according to the commandment coming down from the heaven.

In the book of the prophecy of this work that was made by the word, it is written that the new people, which will arise from this beginning, will be turned into a lamp upon the earth by the Lord and will illuminate with a heavenly light, for the heaven, came down in all the power of its work, is here; because here, the salvation for all creature that was and is, is being worked out; and it is also being worked out the salvation and a spirit of faith from this power worked here by God. It is heard and enters the heaven every word that is spoken here towards the heaven; and look, every word, which comes from heaven to be shared where it is given, is heard here.

In the beginning was the Word, and the Lord worked by the word and made all that are seen and unseen. God spoke the word and the word became flesh, and this way all that are were made. And behold, the Lord is about to finish His work, and He works now as in the beginning; He works by the word and what He speaks come into being, and as it was in the beginning so will be in the end of the work of the word. The Lord said: «Let there be light» and it was light. The Lord said: «Let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters» and it was so. And the Lord said: «Let the waters under the sky be gathered together to one place, and let the dry land appear» and it was so. And the Lord said: «Let the earth put forth herbs on a dry land» for the dry land was called earth, and it was so: and it gave forth grass, yielding seed after its kind; trees bearing fruit after their kind, and this was a heavenly mystery, a great and difficult mystery to understand; this work rising from the word. And the Lord said that it shall be a greater light to rule the day and a lesser light to rule the night, and it was so. The Lord said that there shall be fish in the water and birds and animals, and all shall have life in them, and it was so, because the Lord said and it was done, and all were made by the word. And then, God of the Holy Trinity, the Father, together with the Son and with the Holy Spirit, made the man according to His likeness and made him ruler upon everything that was done by the word. And the word of the Lord gave the man as his food all the grass with seed in it and all the fruits of the trees bearing fruit<sup>36</sup>. And it was so.

My loved ones, the Lord worked by the word and made that beginning and then He rested however, the man spoiled God's work and fell from heaven, for this work was a heaven; it was a heavenly blessing; it was a heavenly Eden, and that happiness would have been forever, and the word would have been in all after that, to the fullness of this happy beginning, and sin and death had not entered upon God's work if the man would have listened to his Creator.

Behold, I tell you a new mystery: the Lord works once again by the word; He works once again a beginning; a new beginning. And what kind of beginning does he work? And why does He work a new beginning? He works to make the one that fell from happiness to come back, to raise him back into the glory that he fell from. God also works in this time by the word, and behold,

God's word came down in this covering, and the Lord started from here the new beginning whose way goes back to the condition of the first worked out beginning. This is the work, prophesied to be in this time.

The work which is working in the covering, has spoken today to the other son who has his name written within this boundaries; for the one that did not understand God and did not follow Him according to the word coming down.

Be careful, son of these parents, for your younger brother belongs to the Lord with everything that he has; with all his life. Take heed and do not forsake the Lord Who is speaking, for if those from the beginning did not escape the punishment because they did not listen to the word which was speaking on the earth, how much more those from now who hear the word and depart from He Who speaks from the heavens. Take heed, take heed to God's word, for here is what the Lord is speaking to you: the land of this boundaries has a heavenly election, and the Lord has worked in this time and sealed it to be a holy land and only the clean ones may tread on it; those with whom the Lord works the mystery of this time. This election was from the beginning, and this is a land chosen by God. The eye of the Lord was all the time upon this patch of the holy land, and the work of the Lord, which was prophesied to be worked out on this land, came down in due time. This covering is holy, and it is worked in it a threefold sacrifice every day, after a godly commandment. There is still a little time and the Lord makes a great light and a visible glory upon this covering. It is the covering of the testimony of this time when the Lord was at work.

I raised from the town you come from, this working trumpet to the end of the world times, and to the beginning which comes after the end of the wicked things. I raised Verginica. I also raised another son from this town, whom, behold, I anointed with a heavenly anointment, and he is a son of the new covenant. Be wise with the Lord, for the Lord asks from you your word to write it down as a testimony. Here is what I write: this covering and this holy and sealed land belongs to the Lord's work; it is of the Lord's plan. This younger son is the successor of this foundation. His name is written in the right of the inheritance from here, for he belongs to God and only to God and he is the heir of this family which is written down as the founder of this land, of this covering which hides the Lord in his manger. Rejoice for the Lord raised a savior from the mist of this house for the salvation of this entire house. Amen. Speak your word for the Lord is here and is writing the speech of your word. Behold, your inheritance will serve from now on to the work, for which this inheritance was meant to be, as near this holy covering the Lord is building now a strong tower, a tower of testimony, a rock of resurrection and of the beginning of the holy and clean church; a new and righteous church, a dwelling of testimony over the nations of the earth, which will be here from all sides to see the glory of this land. All who live within these boundaries work for Me; they work after My word and belong to Me, and I will make them useful and to the salvation for many nations, which will bow down to the New Jerusalem of this time, for Romania will be the New Canaan and will have the leadership of New Jerusalem over it, which, behold, is coming down from heaven through the word; and behold, the heavenly Jerusalem takes life from this beginning from here. This land and this new covering has a heavenly dwelling come down, a heavenly and clean living, and this is the power from which a living life, a new heaven and a new earth will be seen upon the nations. They who live in this land can do nothing by themselves, for they are submitted to the heavenly power and to the word from heaven which accompanies them in any work which is to be fulfilled.

Behold your work that you have to do. I want to hear your word and to write down, for I am your God, and you know Me, but you do not want to walk in My steps. Behold, I will work salvation for you, for I owe this, but I will work with justice to save you. Behold, I speak a word to you: this land will belong from now on to the Lord. This is My word, and your word will be written and will stand either for or against you, but My word will also testify so. I do not want to judge ourselves, and I do not want this way with you. I want you well, but you should also do the same, for I am God and not man, and I have the heaven under My submission, and I have the strength to glorify Myself for power and greatness. And because you give to Me and to My work the share which is under you name, behold, say and I will write. What do you want the Lord to do for you? What do you want the Lord to give you? Say and I will listen and I will do according to your word and I will write your word. But let your word be given as My word and My plan is. Not many had what you put before from the Lord, but you should be careful, for the Lord is a mighty God.

When I arrived with My people Israel to the borders of Canaan, after I took it from the bondage of Egypt through Moses, I gave order to My chosen people to enter into Canaan, but that people did not open the gates so that My blessed people may enter. And I gave order to the priests to sound the trumpets seven days around Jericho and I said to My people to stand with their hands raised up to Me. And after the priests sounded the trumpets seven days, the walls of Jericho fell down and the blessed people entered the land, which was promised to their fathers through the word delivered by the Lord's mouth.

Get up with a mighty heart and with a spirit of faith and do My will, and I will be and I will remember of your faith and your inclination. Get up and speak and the Lord takes care and writes down those spoken by you. Say, what do you want Me to do for you and what do you want Me to give you? What do you ask from Me? The Lord asks you and waits for you to hear your word. The Lord is read to listen to you. But look, you will be saved or not saved by your own words. Choose the Lord and stand with your word for Him and not against His plan. I am God, and you are My creature. May it be to you according to My word! Amen.

Peace to you, and be faithful and humble, for your that was born under this roof is great! Peace to you! Be the doer and give to the Lord your heart, for it is made by Him.

Let it be fulfilled the word that came down now and let it not be opposed. Amen. In the beginning was the Word, and the Lord said, and all were made. Here now: the Lord said and will fulfill His word, and let those that I speak with, work according to My word and it will be well with them.

Peace to you, those from the house of this heavenly inheritance! Peace and fulfillment, as in heaven so on earth and upon you! Amen.

And you, with whom I speak now, take heed and forsake the idols and defilement. Get up and shake yourself, so that you may be able to remain reconciled to God. The emptiness and its idols are coming to an end, for a new light arises. Fight to get a clean life and to bring you to the condition without death! Help your father who gave you birth to give up all that separates him from the holiness and from the work which works salvation and separation between good and evil. Fight and help him, but do not stand in his way. If you have wisdom, use it for My service; do not give it all to those that are strangers to Me. Keep from it and work with it and for Me, for you work for your own good.

Peace to you, and fulfillment after My word! Peace and New Jerusalem upon your hearts, and upon your bodies! Peace and celebration with the heaven to be written on this day! Peace and joy from you to heaven! Peace and not disbelief or opposition! Peace to you and be faithful heirs for God's kingdom, which has come down into your midst! Let him who has ears, hear with them. Amen.

This is a day of testimony. Let this day be written by Me and by you, for on this day the Lord is speaking the name of the small one from this house, on the earth. Iliuță, you should be with My name and with your name up to My glory upon this heavenly inheritance. You are the heir of this family and all your house will be saved by you if it follows Me. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to His elected Irineu<sup>37</sup>

My love and My peace and My hosts and My word are to My loved one, as I have him faithful to My work in this time; I have him among all who serve within the order of the church, as for the others it remained an order made by people, as they do not serve to the God of order.

Peace to you, My love and My chosen! Peace to you and refreshment to your heart, for great is the mystery in your heart as I live in it; I have room in it and I am pleased with it! Peace to you and peace to Me in you! Joy for you and joy for Me in you! Hope for you and hope for Me in you, for I hope for you to accomplish My visible work and My new light, which makes its own path to appear upon this time. This is the time for the kingdom of Israel to be established, and behold, let us be great and resolute, My child, as we have to work what no one has worked by now. Do not be afraid, do not murmur and do not be afraid of people. What can the man do to you? Nothing. And you will see they who depart from the One Who speaks from heavens, that their judgment will be more severe than of those who did not want to listen to the One Who was speaking on the earth; for the time is coming for the heaven and the earth to be shaken, and those that are shaken will remain steadfast, a steadfast kingdom and a pleasant worship to God. And in this new beginning, I want to have you as a foundation, as for this you were born, and if this was written to Me, I had to have your word as a foundation, and let this word be yours: “Behold, I come to do Your will, my God. Be it to me according to Your will.”

I have a book that made for you in this time and I have to write in it all that I have to speak and fulfill by you, and then we will speak the words of this book, and they will speak on the heights and testify about this mystery that we work; a mystery that is still covered for a little while, for a moment, My love, My servant, My anointed, for in the place that I anointed you over the New Jerusalem, behold, we set a rock of witness, and you will be My faithful witness. This mystery will be hidden under this testimony a very little time, but I had to send you to the one who is great on the seat of the church, (The Patriarch of the Romanian Orthodox Church, r.n.), for if he had not known, he would have had no sin and he would have justified before Me.

Do not be afraid of them, for they are no stronger than you. Be determined like Nicodemus from among the priests of My time, for he did not fear of the scribes and Pharisees when he stood up and took care of My body's burial. He was the priest who buried the Son of God, as the Son of God totally submitted to the law, «as I did not come to break the law; rather to fulfill it». Oh and there was no one found among the priests but only one who believed that I was the Son of God and that I was from heaven and I came to fulfill the Scriptures.

Behold, I am now too with Mine through the word, from beginning to the end of the ages; I am forever with Mine, for I am endlessly in they who are Mine, as I promised. I came down with the word in the midst of this people and I have the manger of My word here, where, look, we build a tower of witness, a strong tower, a rock of resurrection, for the testimony of the word that I worked with; it is the rock that now we build on the new beginning, for it is new, it is a new covenant; it is a beginning of righteousness, of cleanness, of holiness, as in heaven so upon this beginning. And we will establish a word of testimony to this foundation, and new days of feasting, and we will celebrate here the resurrection and the Holy Spirit, and we will celebrate the name of the trumpet that the Lord worked (Through which the Lord spoke, r.n.) at during this time for the unsealing of the seven thunders which spoke in the time of the apocalyptic vision, about which the apostle of love, John, the Evangelist, testified, for his spirit was also emptied into this vessel that God spoke through during this time, because the angel said then to John: «Take the book and eat it, for you will have to prophesy once more, in the last time».

When I came in the flesh on the earth, the Father worked secretly in Me, and no one knew that I was the Son of God and that I came from the heavenly Father and from the Holy Spirit; no one know until the voice which came from the Father spoke: «This is My beloved Son, in Whom

I am well pleased». The Father worked secretly to fulfill His work that was through Me. This way He worked during this time as well, as Verginica had carried Me for twenty-five years, and I spoke mouth to mouth with Israel during this time, and I spoke through Verginica, and she was hidden from the understanding of those around, as this work was so. I took Verginica to Me and then I sent her again on the earth, as this was written in the book of this prophecy. I raised her spirit and Verginica has sons on the earth, for her sons gave birth and they have sons from Verginica. She is the one who will stand as the foundation of this rock and on this rock; on this rock, this dwelling will stand as a witness.

I put the spirit of wisdom upon you, for I am in you, but you should believe that I am in you. I remind you of the one who prayed to God and said: «Lord, if you can, do well to my sick child!». And the Lord told him: «If you can believe everything is possible!». And he answered: «I believe, Lord. Help my unbelief!». I remind you something about that time to strengthen you, My child, and be faithful, as through those that are mine by this work, I will work greater things than in that time.

Take My wisdom and make a foundational work with it and put your name at the foundation of this word of new foundation; and put into this word the name of My anointed Michael, (King of Romania, r.n.) for I want to speak his name from the top of this rock when we will finish working this rock. I am the One Who will bring My anointed. I am the God of the powers, and what is impossible to the weak ones is possible with God. But this blessed country will be cleansed of all iniquity, of all filthiness, of all injustice, for it will shine on it the glory of the Son of God, Who is coming again, as written, and He comes to establish His footstool on this chosen and blessed earth.

I want to speak with My anointed Michael, with the king of this nation, and I gave you this heavenly mission to set upon him, upon his house and his offspring that will be on his side, the holiness after God's likeness, after God's establishment, which the Lord will be perfecting with on this earth with a holy name, with a name of the New Jerusalem.

Be My witness and be the witness of this time of heavenly glory and holiness upon My anointed Michael, by the words of this testimony and by the establishment of a holy life upon him, according to the godly order, because this order will be the way which will bring him into My chosen country, into his loved country.

He, who loves Romania and is not with Me and My commandments, does not love this people and this earth; that one can do nothing for this chosen people. I will make My laws come down upon My anointed Michael and make the laws of this chosen land come down, for it is the land chosen by heaven and the eye of God is upon him; the eye which sees those that are wicked and hidden and which penetrates and discovers, which cleanses very deeply and takes out from this land everything that is filthy and spoiled and given to defilement, so that this new earth may be new and the rainbow<sup>38</sup> of Romania may come down upon it, accompanied by the new glory of the heavenly Jerusalem. This is the faith of this land, of this New Canaan, of the new Eden which will shine upon the nations, and My anointed Michael and his offspring will be in me, and will not be without Me on this new land.

Now you will come and I will set by your own hand the beginning stone of the dwelling of God's testimony, who is and works by the word, and everything will be worked this way until we finish; and we will work quickly the new beginning from which the resurrection will arise upon this nation, and all others shall be added to you by God. Seek first the embodiment of My word which is coming upon you, for My word has to become flesh after I speak it, and the others will be made easy to you by the Lord, and will be worked out by His power, by His angels, who are always sent to your service, for your protection and around you.

In the beginning was the Word, and the word became flesh, for God said it, and all were made by the word. The same is now; the Lord speaks a word and the word becomes flesh for the perfection of the kingdom to come. Amen.

Peace to you, My love, but do not be feeble! Be determined and do not be afraid. I am with you and I will be, and all will be worked out, but let My love be your love. Let your love serve you now for the happiness to come, and we will rest and celebrate new days, a celebration of resurrection and of Holy Spirit, as from this rock it will be heard a hymn of resurrection and the song of the Holy Spirit, the song of the redeemed who will wear white garments and a garment of grace and of righteousness.

You should put a celebration of resurrection and of the Holy Spirit coming down upon the blessed people. This is how these days of feasting shall be upon this holy place, which is build now by the power of God in His faithful ones.

Peace to you! Peace from the saints in heaven, who look from heaven to the testimony of the day that you were anointed on, in the Jerusalem that was lowered from heaven! Be faithful to the anointment which is on your head, for we will rise and plant fruit trees from place to place, and these fruit trees will be nourished by the sap of the life tree, which is worked here by My faithful servants, and this fruit tree will be placed in Jerusalem.

May your faith be blessed in Me and into the work of My word by which I am with you! Keep what you have until I come, and let no one take away your glory, for I come soon.

May My kiss on your head and the myrrh of the comforting be with you always! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God on the day of laying down of the foundation stone of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem. The Word of God to King Michael

Peace and blessing and a spirit of joy with the heaven, for the heaven is a guest here. This is a day of testimony. Glory and joy in those above, and celebration of peace from God upon you, for you are witnesses on this day, in this blessed and clean place. There are angelic choruses here and they sing: «Glory to the Holy and to the One of a single being and life of the creating and inseparable Trinity from now on to eternity!». Amen.

Blessed be the kingdom of the Most Holy Trinity, of My Father and of His Son and of the Holy Spirit, threefold working.

Peace to you! I am here. I am the Word for the Word is God. I am the Alpha and the Omega; I am the beginning and the end. I am the new beginning of those that believe in Me, for I come with a visible glory upon Romania. It is written that I will come again, and here, I work by the word and I announce My kingdom. The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool. The heart of My believers is My heaven and the clean and undefiled body is God's bedding, and behold, I am worn by those that are Mine, and I am with the word through them, for this is God; He is through the prophets; He is through the bearers of God. My word works in this place and all are worked out by the word of God during these days, for there come the days of heavenly glory and the days that the prophets of all times wrote about. Romania is the country of the brightness which will appear from God upon the peoples, for this is its choice and it will wear a name of a New Jerusalem and of an Eden, blessed among the nations. I, the Lord, proclaimed this mystery by the prophets and I fulfill nothing without announcing it beforehand.

This is the place of testimony of the work of My word, and behold, My faithful witness is laying down now, by this heavenly blessing, a rock of foundation for the new beginning, and from this beginning it will be worked out from place to place and it will arise a new Jerusalem, a new and clean church, a heavenly church on the earth. The Holy Trinity starts here now with the first stone, and this work of the godly command will be carried out quickly, and the Lord shall proclaim from the top of this stone the name of the anointed one, the name of My anointed Michael, king of Romania.

Rejoice My loved ones, My servants, My witnesses! Rejoice, for I come with My kingdom and I come to My Romania, for it is My kingdom. I come to bind its wound and I come to lay down peace upon it and to put a diadem of a heavenly glory on its forehead.

Behold, I am in Romania through the word and I proclaimed that I got up to prepare the way to My anointed Michael, for I will bring him by My living church, and I will be and I will speak, and My word will become flesh and it shall be glory upon the blessed one. I am and I overcome with those that are clean, undefiled and faithful. I am the Word; I am the Lord of the powers and from now on I am, and I am with the whole heavenly host at work and I am speaking in Romania.

Behold, the Spirit of the Most Holy Trinity is coming down now and I bless this beginning.

Let this rock, which is set now by My witness Ioan-Irineu<sup>39</sup>, be blessed and be a rock of foundation of the righteous and wakeful ones, for he will sit on the chair of My church and will speak out My clean and holy laws, for he is the witness of My work in this time.

Blessed it be the Romanian crown and the house of My anointed Michael, king of Romania, for he is from God upon this people, and behold, the time of God's Romania is coming, and it shall wear a clean garment, a pure and white garment and a work of the Holy Spirit upon the earth. Romania is the one that is clean and chosen and the faithful one of this time, for it will be faithful to God.

Blessing, eternal myrrh and a heavenly anointment upon this place of testimony all over the ages, as in this time God has been working in Romania by the word, and the word, which flows from God into the midst of this chose people, will be perfected. Blessed are you, My faithful witnesses, who have sit in counsel with My word on this day of testimony, and behold, we will quickly finish this stone, and then I will be with you to all the margins of the world, and I will be by the word and work out miracles greater than those at that time, as I spoke then. I am the Lord of the powers upon the heaven and the earth, and there is no God beside Me, and I will achieve My perfection upon the nations, as in the heaven so on the earth.

Blessed are you, who will work this holy place. May your heart, hand, power, love and time be blessed, for I bring the time under your submission, and we will get out soon above all the powers from the earth; we will get out by this new beginning, delivered by a godly commandment.

Peace to you and rejoice as My Father is coming with His kingdom! And behold, My kingdom<sup>40</sup> is in you and all the nations, which will see the glory of this work of living stone and you beside it, will know.

Peace to you, My witness, the witness of My clean and righteous church, for only those that are clean, undefiled, faithful, shall come into this sealed land, and this place of testimony of the work of My word will have power, for I rest in peace and in generosity into this clean manger.

Peace to you as well, king of My Romania, from here, from the first stone of the new beginning! Peace to you, Michael, king of the blessed one! Peace to you and to your house and your offspring, which shall stand by your right!

Glory to those that are in heaven and joy for this day of heavenly testimony, and also peace upon you, My witnesses!

Peace and good order upon My Romania!

This is a day of testimony. Let it be written this day as a heavenly memorial, in heaven and on earth, as on this rock I will build the living church of the new beginning which shall arise upon the nations. Amen, amen, amen.

Glory for those in heaven that are God's, and peace upon Romania, the country of My blessing! Peace and good will and order upon those that are faithful and upon the God's anointed house, Michael, the king of Romania! Amen.

This is what I told to My apostle: «Go into all the world, and preach the kingdom of the heavens, and he who believes and is baptized will be saved. Go and proclaim the peace into every town you enter, and if you are received, My peace shall remain upon that town». And behold a heavenly mystery upon Romania, a fathomless mystery, a sealed and unsealed mystery, for Andrew, the first one called to the apostleship, came on the land of this people, and he was clean with his body; he was undefiled and he came and brought the faith and the baptism of the faith upon Romania, and he was the first one called of Jesus Christ, and so, Romania is the first one that is called, and this way the Christian Romania was born; that way was its birth and the Lord named it, the queen upon the earth, and behold, the time is coming that God may be glorified over it and for Him to put mystery of righteousness upon it, for it is chosen and is a queen over the nations. This is the choice of this earth and it is written into the Book of the Truth that the Lord will choose Jerusalem again and it will be a New Jerusalem. This land is holy and if it is holy, behold, the time is coming that the Lord shall establish Himself upon it to fulfill His promises written for this time.

The Spirit of the Most Holy Trinity is working by the word in Romania, and God's holy people speak the word of God, being moved by the Holy Spirit, for this is what the Lord speaks in the book coming down from heaven: «In those days I will pour out My Spirit and your sons and daughters, old men and young man, servants and handmaids, will prophesy and will speak from God» and the word of God will become flesh, for the Lord said it was done; and the Lord is through the prophets and the Lord says and then fulfills it. Romania is prophesied about by God's prophets and it shall be the new and righteous Zion; it will be the Canaan of the fullness of times; it will be the end of Babylon, lawlessness and defilement, for God's heaven shall be in a visible glory upon this earth and it shall burn all the defilement which splashed the garment of the daughter of the chosen New Zion, towards the end of the time of lawlessness, and it shall no longer be any defilement, abomination and fornication, and it shall no longer be idol worshipping and unbelief; and nothing unclean shall enter it anymore, and the Lord will take out of it those that are hypocrites, and those that are foreign to the truth and those that go astray. And this mountain will be raised above all the heights on the earth for the Lord will make His law come down to the one that is chosen, clean and holy, for the one that is righteous; as I will come down and proclaim the word, and the word will work and cleanse all the filth on it, and no one shall enter its gates but only those that are clean, pure and holy. And this land will be a new Eden, a holy kingdom, a beginning of a heavenly kingdom, a beginning of a new heaven and new earth, and from this new beginning, God's light and life will be spread out, as countless multitudes shall flow to listen to the wisdom that will work upon the sons and daughters of this chosen people. And it shall flow a spring of justice, a spring of love and resurrection from the midst of this holy land, and this shall be the spring of life, the spring which flows from the midst of the city and which will turn into the streams of living waters through the New Jerusalem, for Romania will be the New Jerusalem, and the Lord will be with His word to the glory of the New Jerusalem. And in this time, those that are prophesied shall be fulfilled, for I will bring My anointed one and he will rule with Me and not without Me, for God is upon the blessed one with His word, for the fulfilling of the most wanted glory.

Peace upon the house of My anointed, Michael! Peace to you, king of Romania, and let you be in Me, for I will reveal Myself through you over the nations, as it will come that the nations may see My glory and your glory, and it will come that they will bow down their head before this work. Behold, I work and prepare your coming, and I work by holiness, by a law of holiness and righteousness, for God is holy. I have the work of My word into the midst of this people, and I had worked secretly to the master of this world, to the herods of this world, who had always been trying to destroy this manger, but I was with the covering of the heavenly powers and overcame for the protection of this work, as I came to an end with it, so that I may announce My kingdom upon the earth afterwards and to reveal Myself in a visible glory, to the reward of the patience of those redeemed from the word, for the spirit of the world covered My creature under the darkness of ignorance, and the bearers of the Holy Spirit groaned and cried under the rock of this time. Behold, I come to bind the wound of My people and your people, and your people shall love you and will become holy and come to life for the light of My word, but be careful, so that we may get above with those that are worked in secret and to speak from the roof tops the mystery bringing the heavenly victory.

Take heed to the One Who speaks with you from heaven, king of Romania, for the parents of this chosen nation were in Me with their heart, faith and life, and they were setting stones of remembrance to Me, (A lot of churches and monasteries, r.n.) as a heavenly sacrifice. Take heed, as in this time the purpose of Romania is fulfilling, and you are anointed by Me for this holy purpose. This work of My word comes out; it comes out upon the nations. In a little while I will unseal this spring of resurrection and of life for truth and you will come afterwards, and we will rule upon the nations in truth, for Romania will share the law and the way of the truth and the way of life, and you shall have on your right, the one that I prepare to be the first in My church, for he is my chosen one for this time, and he is set in for holiness and for the mystery which will cover with glory the church and the nation of this time. Behold, I sent him to you to testify about the work that I prepare, that I need to prepare, the work that I came for with the word upon this nation, and he will testify all the word that was under a mystery by now and which proclaimed those that, behold, are being fulfilled now.

In the time of My body there were the priests, the scribes and the teachers of the law, who did not receive Me. I came for those that were Mine, but they did not receive Me. Nicodemus was also one of them, but he believed that I was the Son of God and that I came to fulfill the Scriptures and the prophecies. And Nicodemus as the priest of the burial of God's Son and his faith remained as a witness, and Nicodemus is My witness. This is also My witness, (Irineu, r.n.), in the time of the work of the Holy Spirit, for the God of the Holy Spirit makes whole the threefold work of the Most Holy Trinity<sup>41</sup>. The Holy Spirit will cover the earth by godly knowledge, and all the flesh will bow down to do God's will, and from place to place it shall be worked out a new heaven and a new earth, a new man and a new heart and then it shall come to be seen the Scripture which says: «God sits and judges among the gods».

I made the heavenly news come down by word and I told those, who give a body to My word, that I will set this stone of witness, which will soon testify about Romania and about the work of the Lord upon Romania. I let it be written the name of My anointed, Michael, on this stone. I said that this land may be kept, this manger of the heavenly coming down, this church, and it will be called the church of the righteous and wakeful. I said that this shall be a holy place and a holy law, that it shall not be violated, and he, who wants to come into this holy place where My word speaks powerfully and it is fulfilled powerfully, let he, who wants to come in, to be established within the laws that are come down for this holy place. Those who stand at the mouth of this heavenly spring are bodily clean and are fed on clean food, as I gave the law to the first people that I put in the Garden of Eden<sup>42</sup> to listen to My laws and live without death. But the evil spirit perked up and spoiled My blessed seed, by the weaknesses of those, and then it came for them to fall from the blessing of the Eden. And behold, I work quickly to lift up My creature from the wound of the sin and to breathe and share a spirit of resurrection upon the hearts of those who listen to My laws, for Romania will live in holiness and work out a power of resurrection and of salvation for My creature, as it is my first one called and is a queen over the nations, and its crown, which is your crown, is the symbol of Romania as a queen.

<sup>41</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Since the second coming - the Word of God (Rev: 19/13.) - The Holy Spirit, the sanctifying work of the creature, r.n.

<sup>42</sup> «God also said, 'Look, to you I give all the seed-bearing plants everywhere on the surface of the earth, and all the trees with seed-bearing fruit; this will be your food.' » (Gen. 1/29.)

This is the law of the resurrection of My creature, and behold, I raise quickly a strong tower and a pillar of testimony, and then I will proclaim from the top of this rock your name, king of Romania. But My children, who sit around the manger of My word, are feeble, and I come to you, My anointed one; I come and let you know that I have to work quickly this stone of witness and then it shall come for us to sit down and work this new work of the resurrection of My creature, for the witness of My church will speak upon Romania and upon its church, a word of life, a word of resurrection, a word from the word which flows from Me here, in the place that I am by the word. I desire to send it to you, but I do not want that the Pharisees, the scribes and the teachers of the law to know it, for they have no mercy of My creature and of My flock; they, who know the law but break the law, and behold, it is not I, but the word of the law which judges them.

This is My will: I want to write your name on the foundation of this new dwelling, for this will be a new beginning, a clean condition, a holy priesthood and a people earned by a godly trumpet in the time from under the darkness of the red beast reign. (The communist dictatorship, r.n.) I know your deeds, I know that you love Me, I know that I am the first one in your heart; I know and see that you have no greater anchor than that one which you hold on by the word of the book which is one; I know that you feed on its word and you comfort with it by this anchor without death. But you have it written from me; a blessing proclaimed on the earth, for your grandfather blessed you upon Romania to raise it for glory, and I wrote the word of your grandfather, who let you on the throne of My country, as a prophecy. And you have a written blessing to Me by the word of your mother's prayer, delivered by its faith; and you have here on Me, gathered together, the reward of your patience and of the time of your alienation. I know and I miss you here, and all the heaven waits for that day when I will remove the injustice from this country, for you will come, and you will come through Me. Your pain hurts Me, and the world that surrounds you has no life with me; it has no holiness and even if they believe in Me, they serve to the law of the belly, to the lusts and to the idols of this time. Your pain hurts Me and I want you to let Me, for I know the inner being of each one. I want to work by my witness, who will be upon My church. I want to establish a new clean and resurrected life by the word. I want to establish My laws upon the life of this nation, for they who want to do well for My Romania, can do nothing without Me. He, who loves Romania and does not walk in cleanness and righteousness with the Lord, that one cannot help this nation, for the Lord works by His chosen ones.

It hurts Me when I see the garment of My Romania so dirty, and I want to clean it by love, by the clean laws, which are from Me, but if this choice people does not let itself be worked out by Me in order to establish it for a holy life, I will release disagreement and separate the good from the bad and the light from the darkness and I will overcome by my holy law which will come to be seen by this nation, for you will be My servant and we will put away the filthiness and sin from the foreheads of the chosen sons of this land, who have the myrrh of God's blessing. Romania is mine and yours, and let My word be upon it and upon My anointed one. Take heed to the One Who is speaking to you from heaven, king of Romania, for it will come to work quickly to the raising of the new beginning, which will bless Romania and its king.

Sit down by Me and let it be written and by you this day, for on this day I have placed, by My witness, the stone of this threefold holy place which will be lifted up and which will have on its foundation the name of the anointed, Michael, the king of the blessed one. My word is at the helm of this testimony, and all are worked out by this word spoken beforehand.

I spread My peace and My Spirit upon you, upon your house and upon your offspring, king of Romania. Let your entrances and exits and your faith in God and in His work of this time be blessed. May My chosen one, My country and yours be blessed, and we will make out of it an everlasting glory upon the nations and the nations on the earth will know the loved one, the one that is chosen for the fulfillment of God's times.

Peace to you, and rejoice! Keep what you have for I come soon; and I will come before you to welcome you. I come by the word and God's word will be fulfilled.

Peace, and let the comforting myrrh be upon your crown, My loved one, My waited one, my anointed, who were prophesied about! Amen, amen, amen.

*

May the house of My anointed one, Michael, and the unity of this day be blessed. The Spirit of the Most Holy Trinity goes with you and will speak through you, and will work the word of the Holy Spirit.

May your entrance and your exit, your way and your work that you do, be blessed! I want to see Myself in you; I want to be a mirror in you, which those from the house that you enter may look into. Receive My peace. Let My peace be upon the house that you enter. Be holy, as I am holy. Have faith; I shall be with you. Have faith in God. This is the word that you will be working through, and it shall be another worked out miracle.

May this day be blessed and be of an eternal testimony, for it is a day of the fulfillment of the word proclaimed beforehand. Do the work of new apostles! Behold, I breathe on you with My Spirit. Receive the Holy Spirit, and into the name of the Most Holy Trinity, proclaim the great news of the good gospel of this time!

Peace to My anointed one, Michael! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to Andrei Pleșu<sup>43</sup>

The Lord fights against the opposition of the rulers of the world

The God of the Most Holy Trinity is God.

The true One from His very beginning to all over the ages, and the beginning of God is without beginning. Amen.

In the beginning was the Word and God was the Word, and all were made by the word, from eternity, and God works by the word from everlasting to everlasting.

God is the Word and the Word is from God. God, the Word works in Romania, for Romania is the New Jerusalem, according to the Scripture that says: «I will choose Jerusalem once more». Romania is the country of the brightness which is written about in the Scriptures, and the Lord is with the new beginning upon Romania.

I really speak the truth: he, who receives a prophet in the name of a prophet, receives Me, and he who receives Me, receives the Father Who sent Me. Amen. He, who receives the word, receives God, the Word, and he will have a prophet's reward, and he, who receives a righteous one in the name of a God's righteous one, receives a righteous one's reward. Amen. He, who gives a clean water cup to My messengers, I truly speak, will not lose, and that one will have God's kingdom. He, who hears the word of the truth believing in it, that one will receive the sealing of the Holy Spirit for the fulfilling of the promises, and the Father of the glory, will give him the spirit of revelation for the knowledge of the mystery of the fullness of God's times.

The God of the Holy Spirit completes the threefold work of the godly Trinity<sup>44</sup>, during this time, for the kingdom of God is the hidden dough within three measures of wheat until its complete fermentation, and behold, the kingdom of God is within this one. This is the promise land for the fullness of God's glory. Romania is the beginning which comes for the redemption of God's creature. Blessed is he who believes in the spirits of the heaven, for he will be a son of God's promises. Amen.

<sup>44</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Since the second coming - the Word of God (Rev: 19/13.) - The Holy Spirit, the sanctifying work of the creature, r.n.

Peace to you from the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who arose from the dead and stands at the right hand of the God of the heavens! Behold, I come for you to open to Me and to know how is My path for those who wear Me. Blessed are you if you open for Me to come in and to have dinner with you, for this heavenly table is lowered from Me upon Romania for a long time. I am. Do not be afraid that I am not. I am; I and My messengers; I and those who wear God, the Word. Behold I and My infants, I arose through them to perform sings and miracles for the new beginning, for the new Israel. I arose to put a sign over Romania and I work hard, for it is the same with them from now, as with those in the time of My body; they hardened their heart and have no way of knowing, the One Who speaks from heaven. Behold, I am, as I promised; I am with the faithful ones until the fullness of the times of the heavens, and I am through the prophets, as God's order is.

When My Father began His work, He told Moses this: «Behold, I send you to Israel and you shall be in My place, and Aaron shall be your prophet», but Israel did not want to let itself be worked and rose to rebellion instead and struck into the spirit of Moses, and thus Israel perished on the way, for it was a stiff necked people and did not know the time of its visitation, and I swore in My pain, in My wrath; I swore that they would not enter into My rest, and behold, they did not enter into Canaan because of their disobedience, unbelief and hardness of the hearts.

I sent those that spoke for Me in time and not in time, but the man denied God and killed My prophets and crushed God's messengers, and Israel did not want to come under My wings to be a faithful people and righteous in Me. And I came in the flesh on the earth; I came to the workers of My Father's vineyard, and they pushed Me out of the vineyard, as they did not want Me, and I went away from them, for they did not know the time of their visitation and forsook the words of the prophets that told them the mysteries of My appearance.

Then I went and performed miracles in the name of My Father to redeem from the world those that were to be with Me in the world, and I took them out of the world, for they were neither from the world, as I was also not from the world. And after I completed My work which I came for, I went to My Father so that I may come to those that I gave birth out of Me, for they were of Me. I went to My Father, for if I did not go, I could not come back to those that were Mine, and if I came back to them, that was the first church of Jesus Christ, but here is a mystery that is not perceived by the wise people of the world, for My church has been all the time a martyr and has had no place on the earth, but only under the earth and only in hiding, and it has been the living church, the true one whose head is Jesus Christ, the son of the godly Trinity, for My Father gave Me to be the head of His church and set Me above all the reigns, rules and powers, above all name which is named in this age and in the age to come.

The teachers and the scribes from the time of My body were not able to receive Me. They were in their own spirits and did not know the time of their visitation. I am the God of those that are poor in their spirit, and I find a pleasant dwelling in them, a spacious and illuminating dwelling, and for those that know My ways and do not walk in them, they who know how is to wear God and are not steadfast in Me, to those the judgment was declared for I said this at that time: «Woe to you, those who strain out a gnat and swallow a camel! Woe to you, for you rule on the chair of the law and close the door to knowledge and take into your possession the keys of the kingdom of heavens! Woe, as neither you nor the poor can enter with God!»

Here I am with those that did not ask about Me<sup>45</sup>, and they gave Me a dwelling and let to be with Me and wear Me, as I wear them. Behold, I come to you, for they who are Mine wear Me

---

<sup>45</sup> «As He says also in Hosea:

I will call them 'My people,' which were not My people;

and her (country) 'beloved,' who was not beloved.

It will be that in the place where it was said to them,

'You are not My people,'

There they will be called 'children of the living God.' » (Romans:9/25-26.)

to you and they who wear Me do My will, and if I tell them to go, they go, and if I tell them to come, they come and do the things from Me, and look, I am with those that are Mine from generation to generation, according to My promises.

I came to dine with you and you with Me. I came to be in you and you in Me. I came; I came for what belongs to Me, as your soul cries out from the earth to Me. I came to sit in counsel with you, but do not deny Me. Receive Me with My peace and let My peace be upon you. And if you do not receive me, let My peace come back to Me. And if you do not receive Me, you will be without peace, for I am a jealous God. Here I am. I am the Word and the Word is God. I am the Word of God, and again, all are worked out by the word, for what it was is still again.

Here I am! I arose to make a new thing, a new beginning, a New Jerusalem in these days. I arose upon Romania, for it is My chosen one from the time of the fullness of God; it is My blessed one and it will be the queen upon the people, for this is how Romania is written into heaven. I arose to prepare the way of My anointed that is from Me. (The king Michael, r.n.). I got up with the entire heaven to work, to make a good way to bring My anointed, but no one wants to know the time of the visitation from these days.

I want to take this fountain above, to make from its spring the spring of life and resurrection, which comes out from God's throne, according to the Scripture which speaks about the river and the living water, which springs from God's throne and of the Lamb's. I have this hidden fountain and I sealed this mystery among My servants so that I may come with this spring<sup>46</sup> up to this time, for God, the Word, is from generation to generation, and the Lord is carried by the bearers of God, as the godly settlement is. I was, and here, I am and will be through this heavenly thread, but I was hidden, for the Lord is persecuted and crucified from generation to generation, and great is the reward of those who carry on with the patience of Israel to the end. The Holy Spirit is the crucified God; it is the God of the martyr church, which has had no place on the earth but only under the earth and only in hiding, but look, the word of God cannot be crucified. It hurts Me the denial which comes up to heaven from those who say that serve Me, from they who speak about Me, but do not wear Me in them, for these, like the scribes and the teachers of the law of the time of my body, rule on the chair of the law, but do not take after the One Who was sacrificed for the sins of the world, and behold, Israel does not have Me anymore. The dog knows and keeps and listens to his master who feeds it, but My people do no longer know Me.

Behold, you are a soul from the living soul of this nation; you are the apostle of God's word, and your spirit is praying speechless and longs after Me. Behold, I got into your way and blessed are you if your spirit burns afterwards, as it is written about those that had dinner with Me in Emmaus, and I will command to be written in front of your name: «Here is one that I found no ruse in him. Here is one that did not doubt of Me». Well, struggle to enter with Me into the room of the mysteries of the fullness of My promises, for many will seek to enter and will not be able to, and they will be told: «I do not know where you are from!», and they will cry when they see Israel's fathers and all the prophets into the coming kingdom, and others will come and take their places and enter at this table, for it is written: «The last will be first, and the first last».

I came out and I took out from this spring and I went to others, but I do not use the earthly door, but rather I enter through the door of the heart. I knocked on the door of many people; I knocked on many with a great soul that are the soul of My Romania, but they did not understand it until the end the time of their visitation, the time of this nation's visitation, in which My Spirit wants to glorify at this time. Behold, I work with those that are helpless, with those with empty hands, for I found the perfection of My miracles in those that are weak. I work from heaven and I want to show My coming upon Romania, and I want to put a sign over Romania. I work hard to raise a strong pillar, a living stone from which the living water to spring; clean and not troubled water. I work hard to raise a tower of witness to testify about this manger and to proclaim from the top of this stone the name of Romania and the name of the anointed one upon Romania. I want to put back to their places My heavenly times and My holy days, for behold, the abomination of desolation fastened its pole in My holy temple and removed from their places the heavenly days. I will work a great revival and I will pierce the hardened heart of those who do not want to know the time of their visitation, for I am a strong God and I glorify Myself in power and wrath, for it is written: «Praise the Lord, you sun and moon. Praise the Lord, you fire and hailstone».

Open for Me to sit in counsel with you. Receive Me to dine with you and to drink from your water, and I will give you the springs of life. Be My disciple in truth; be My relative; be My apostle; be a living soul in the soul of My Romania and love and stand with your heart near My weak ones, near My little ones. Be with your hands clean and let you be born once again, for this day is written in heaven as a day of heavenly joy on the earth. Come by Me; come to see where I pasture My sheep and follow the track of the sheep. I am the Good Shepherd and I get into the way of My sheep. Come to hear My new song, for Romania will be the queen among the nations and a new song will come out from it, and I will set on its walls a sound of a heavenly trumpet and a celebration voice. Behold, I ask you to speak for Me, and if those that are hired will be silent, then the stones will cry out and testify My mystery of this time, and the Lord will complete the work of His plan, made out from eternity.

Ask from Me and I will open the storeroom of My mystery of this time, but I want to come out from hiding, for the days of glory come. Stand by Me, for the rulers of the world do not want to open to My children for the fulfilling of My plan. Do not be afraid. I am, and you will see that I am, but let Me be carried by you so that I may be; to be with My eye, and you will be from heaven. Amen. Ask and you will receive and I will take out and give you to drink and you will know the time of your visitation which is from God in these days.

Peace to you, My child, but let you be My child! Peace to you! Peace to you through the open doors! Peace and a New Jerusalem upon your being, upon your spirit! Peace and a visible kingdom to illuminate in Me by you! And you will be the light and new resurrection upon those that will know My kingdom which is in you. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to the Christians

A call to a heavenly confession

The Holy Spirit breathes from one margin of the heavens to the other. The God of the Holy Spirit breathes over the earth and speaks from heavens and works by the word and the word turns into a deed, and again all work by the word, as in the beginning, for those that were are again and it is worked also by the word. Amen.

The God of the Most Holy Trinity arose to work in this time. He arose to work the new thing which is written in the Scriptures for this time. The Spirit of God completes in these days the threefold work of the Godly Trinity<sup>47</sup>, and behold, He wakes His workers up to the work of this time.

God, the Word, got up to sit in counsel with those that He has from the world; He got up to sound the trumpet and to bring together from all margins those that He called and to blow over them and to put back to its place the ruined kingdom of Israel, for Israel means God's chosen people, the faithful people, the called people, chosen and faithful. Amen.

Peace to you! Peace to those that I sit in My counsel with! Peace and heavenly joy to dwell in God's temple, for God's temple is the one who carries Me in oneself.

---

<sup>47</sup> Work threefold: From Adam to the first coming of the Son - the Father's. Since first coming to the second - the work of the Son, for the salvation of those who believe in Jesus Christ. Since the second coming - the Word of God (Rev: 19/13.) - The Holy Spirit, the sanctifying work of the creature, r.n.

I am the Lamb of God, Who washes away the sins of the world, and I let Myself be worked by those with clean hands, by those that are clean and undefiled, for the Lord is clean and holy. Amen.

I am the true life and there is no truth beside Me and there is no life without Me, and I am clean in the life of those with a true life, of those with a true heart.

When the time came to get out in the way of the Samaritan woman, I looked and saw her clean heart and said: «Give Me to drink from your water!», but My speaking with her was from heaven, and she gave Me to drink from her water, for the water that I drank from her, was her faith in the Son of God, Who came out in her way, as there came the time of her visitation, for I came to search the whole body, the whole soul from which the faith in God sprang. And then the Samaritan woman woke up and remembered the prophets and if she had a clean heart, she knew the Son of God and remained in Him, and she became an apostle for the proclamation of God's son, the One That came in the flesh at that time, for that daughter knew the time of her visitation.

When meeting those that were fishing, they did not remain stiff-necked when I told them to throw their nets and catch fish. A night of hard work passed and they did not catch any fish, but they had a big heart, and I saw their inner being; I saw that they were to be with Me from the world and I gave them a sign to strengthen their faith, for casting out their nets at My word, they caught a lot of fish, as the fish were made at God's word, according to their faith, and they knew the time of their visitation; and then they lay hold of the plow and did not look back and they were found worthy for the kingdom of My Father. Behold, the word is still at work and the Word is God, and the Lord knows those that are with Him from the world, and He takes them out of the world, for they are not from the world, as neither am I from the world. And behold, My Father gives Me those from the world that want to be with Me for the kingdom which is coming. Amen.

Peace to you, for I knocked and you opened for Me and you gave Me to drink and a dwelling in the temple of your hearts.

Peace to you, for I was poor and in want and you sought God! Peace and inseparable unity be among you and among the things that are lowered upon Romania, for Romania is the miracle which will be shown from God upon the peoples on the earth!

Behold the time of the new Passover, for the days of the Lord come My love, and the heart of Israel, which springs now from the earth, will leap under the coming glory and we will celebrate the new Passover and the celebration without evening of God's creature resurrection. Rejoice and I also say: rejoice for My Father works to give you the kingdom which comes from God in this time!

You are remembered and written on the table of the Holy Trinity, that you are the heavenly witnesses the same way I was a witness at the wedding from Cana, because you are written near the sons that bear the mysteries, of whose witnesses you are. They are love, as I am love, and you should also be love, as they are love, they, whose witnesses you are towards the God of the heavenly mysteries. Be in the Spirit of the Holy Trinity, for the Holy Spirit is the God Who completes and perfects the threefold work of Godly Trinity. Be My apostles; be My followers for this time. Be workers together with the heaven and get up well to know the time of your visitation which is from God upon Romania, which is blessed among the peoples. Love holiness; be fond of the love, but the love is only one. Be love from the love, for I am the love; I am and I arose to call out and to proclaim the good news of the Lord's times. I am, do not be afraid. I am. I and My messengers. I and My servants. I and the little children that My Father gave Me for the signs and the miracles, unspeakable in God's Israel, for Israel is the one who believes in the spirits of the heaven, the spirits of the prophets. Blessed are they who believe in the spirits of the prophets, for they will receive a prophet's reward. I am, and I will soon reveal My glory. Be faithful until the end so that no one may take My glory from you. I really speak the truth that many will rush to come in at this table of heavenly mystery, but the kingdom which comes was found right only for its sons. Amen.

Peace to you, for the Holy Spirit cries out in the streets to bring together the faithful ones, all that are big in their hearts and they will be put over many things. Amen. Those who are born for Me will overcome the world and the spirit of the world, and there will be the Holy Spirit and of resurrection making upon God's creature. Be great in your heart, but also be clean and holy in your heart, for the kingdom which is coming will establish holiness and a new earth and redemption from the death, for it shall no longer be death, and we will tread with death upon death and death shall no longer be, and sin shall no longer be, for the sin is death upon My creature, and it shall be resurrection<sup>48</sup> in the truth, and the dry bones shall receive life and there shall no longer be death. Amen.

Peace and heavenly joy and a New Jerusalem to be upon you, as God's kingdom came down in your being. Let this day be written both in heaven and on earth and let it be a remembrance day, a day of victory and of a new beginning, for the saints of the heaven stayed in groups and looked to see and to hear the heavenly mysteries of the fullness of the heavenly times. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God on the day of the consecration of the Holy of Holies of New Jerusalem

Glory to God in the highest and from those in heaven, peace and good order upon this heavenly dwelling from now on to all over the ages!

I give you peace and a New Jerusalem! Let this day of heavenly feast be of peace and a new Passover to you! Behold, the Scripture is being under your eyes: «Take and eat; this is My body and My blood of the new covenant for I will not drink it with you from now on until that day when I drink it anew with you in My Father's Kingdom». This is what I said in the night of the supper when I sat at the table of the Passover, before those that were to lift Me up to the glory of resurrection, to the beginning of the resurrection of God's creature. This is what I said to those that were with Me into the world: «Take and eat; this is the new covenant and I will have it again with you anew into the new kingdom».

Peace to you! Peace and let this day be a new Passover, for God's kingdom will be consummated over the world. This is a day of a heavenly mystery until its appearance, for it will testify in the days to come and will be taken and then seen from the heights, and there will be joy over all those that will come and take light to the revealing of the nations and to the glory of the good and faithful Israel. Today those that are in heaven are rejoicing and cheering in those that are set on the earth, for the Lord overcame by His mighty arm, and God's Tabernacle, the Word, is among the people, and the nations will walk and be guided by this heavenly light. Today the heaven is rejoicing and singing here. The angels are singing with you, My loved ones; they are singing the song of the heaven: „Glory to the Holy One, to the one being and of life-giving and indivisible Trinity, now and forever!” They sing a song of resurrection; they chorus of angels without body sing, and the spirit of those that waited to see this day coming also sings, for look, the fathers of Israel saw the Lord's days, which they only hoped for, seeing them from afar.

Let this day be blessed for the Lamb of God has come down today at the table of the new Passover in this heavenly kingdom, worked out by God's word. Take and eat; take and drink! This is the Lamb of God, Who washes away the sin of the creature. This is the new Passover that Scripture writes about. This is My kingdom and this is My new dwelling, according to the Scripture that says: «I saw a new heaven and a new earth. And I saw the holy city, New Jerusalem, coming down out of heaven; and the city is in the name of the twelve tribes of God; and the nations of the earth will take light from this lamp and will drink from the river of life, which flows from this throne, and this water will be for the healing of the peoples. And on both sides of the river will grow fruit trees of whose fruits and leaves will be for the healing of those that believe in God. And in this city no one that is defiled and no foreign will enter, but only those that belong to the Lamb, that follow the Lamb wherever he goes, who are distinguished from the people, God and Lamb's first fruits». This is the bedding that I am well pleased with. This is the work of the Holy Spirit, which will cover the heaven and the earth, and there will be a New Jerusalem and there will be a new heaven and a new earth, worked out from this beginning, for those that are written cannot be abolished and they will be fulfilled.

Blessed are you that worked at this ark, for you are the hand of the Holy Trinity, Which is at work for the fullness of the Lord's times. And let the angel of My church be blessed threefold; the one that is sealing today this godly bedding, and My eye and My hand will be and will work by this new beginning, which has come down for the fulfilling of those from heaven. I fulfill nothing without making it known by the prophets, as the heavenly order is, and behold, I come and I fulfill.

Behold, I am with you; I dine with you; I speak with you, for My supper is My kingdom in which I am well pleased. Behold, I am here; I am with Mine and sit at the table of the new Passover in My Father's kingdom. I am with you and we pray together to the heavenly Father, and behold, I pray to My father in this heavenly bedding:

My Father here is where I am! I am with those that I have from You, for You have taken them out of the world and given to Me. Behold, I and My little children; I and those that You gave Me, as signs and miracles over the world! You gave them to Me out of the world, as neither they nor I am from the world. Keep those that You gave Me into My name, and keep this dwelling where I bow down My head from now on. Let Your hand and Your eye and Your dwelling, be always here with Me and with those that You gave Me. May the holy heaven dwell in this heavenly bedding, and may this temple raised by the little ones, by the few ones, by the tender ones, be from now on Your, My and the Holy Spirit's tabernacle, the One by Which We are One in the Trinity Which is from before eternity and indivisible in its being. And let it be that from this heavenly tabernacle We appear as workers upon those that will come to see the way and to walk in it afterwards. Remember of all Your promises and come to their fulfillment by Your Son in Whom You are well pleased, for here I am, in the manger by which You, Yourself, prepared it for Me to dwell among the people and to illuminate this dwelling with Your light. Make this vine be strengthened in its graft, for You gave Me to be the head for Your church and to dwell in the truth of those that dwell in Me. I in them and they in Me, as We are One, for You gave Me for the redemption of many who will be one with Us by this living and not troubled spring. Sanctify and lay down that living seal upon this rock, for I am this rock, as Your word was. Listen to Me from this heavenly tabernacle and bless this clean kingdom with a mighty hand. Amen.

– May the word of My Son be blessed and may His blessing upon this mountain be also blessed, and this heavenly bedding shall be called the Lord's mountain.

Peace to You, My beloved Son, and blessed be Your entrance into this heavenly Jerusalem! New peace for a new and undefiled bedding and let Our peace remain from now on upon those that are together with Us in this kingdom.

Behold My Son, and the little children that I put to the work of the vineyard of My Son, and the Master of the vineyard gives this vineyard to His workers to master upon it and to share the life to those that walk on the way of the life, and to share the light to those that will walk in the way of the light.

Peace to you, children of the heavenly heaven, and may the kingdom of the godly Trinity in Which you are settled be blessed! Peace and a new Passover from now on and forever, for you overcame by the blood of the Lamb of God! May the peace and New Jerusalem begin from you upon the earth! Rejoice, for look, the Lord is well pleased with this dwelling proclaimed and worked at the godly commandment and this salvation will be known to all the margins.

May the work, by which God sounded the trumpet on the earth to the appearance of His glory, be blessed! I will fill you up with the power to watch well upon this clean garden. I will give you the laws of this dwelling and he who will make bold to violate them, that one shall be cursed from the face of God, for I am the God of the order and of the holiness. Be wide-awake and may your watchfulness be blessed, for the place you stand on is holy; it is from heaven, coming down by the word and it is a heavenly kingdom, and let no one from the earth be seen upon this heavenly dwelling.

Take and measure this stone and its surroundings, and it will be called the Holy of Holies which is for God's footstool on the earth. I am with you, and the one that is not with Me after the truth, let him depart, as God is a consuming fire, My love. Love the holiness; love the heavenly peace; love this godly kingdom and I will be with you and through you.

I am here. I and My holiness. I and those that remain in My will.

Peace to you My dear! Blessed be this day of eternal feast which is from the Lord's days; and there will be new days of celebration with the heaven from now on. May the Spirit of the godly Trinity remain upon this holy dwelling, and may this godly dwelling be God's rest! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God to the feast of the Lord's entrance into Jerusalem

Blessed is the One Who comes into the name of the Lord, for today we celebrate a royal feast; we celebrate the Palm Sunday as God's Christians call it. We celebrate together with the angels and with the saints the King, Who then before His passion entered glorified in the flesh into the city of Jerusalem. It was a great celebration then, for willy-nilly, the crowds that were gathered together for the preparation of the Jews' Passover, sang one after another; they sang, for this was written to sing to Him on that day: «Hosanna! Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord!». Behold how the words of the Scriptures are fulfilled, for they cannot but be fulfilled. Believing or not those who sang with the crowds at that time, believing or not that the Lord is the One Who came and is the One that was sang about by them, but those that were written for that day was prophesied about and this is how those that were singing, sang, as it was written. The believers and unbelievers sang; they took one after the other and were singing, for that celebration was a heavenly celebration and not an earthly one. How long the fathers of Israel had had to wait to see that day! And they saw it and were glad through those that were singing, for they, they and all the Israel from eternity, were singing on that day.

Peace to you, children of the New Jerusalem! May this new vineyard give forth peace and new buds and palm branches, as it will be to be heard soon on the earth; it will come to be sung again the song of the palm branch celebration, for that what it was will be again, and we will sing with the heaven on the earth, and it will be heard from us and the unbelievers will sing, for this Scripture will come to be fulfilled for this time, as I will come again. I come soon, and you will be blessed; you, who long for My coming; you, who behold, prepare My coming back, full of greatness. It is written that I will come with a great glory and if it is written, I will come, My dear ones.

Oh, this mountain raised by Me through your little hands, is the holy mountain, the holy altar table, the holy bedding, which will not be tread by the world, but only by the Lord and by those that walk as the Lord did. The city of the Lord will be great, but the Lord will sit on this mountain and will work from its top and this chosen land of Romania will give light to be distinguished among the nations. The heaven will work soon for Romania, for it will be to remain in it only those that are clean and undefiled, who did not take the name of the Lord in vain, because Romania is the country of the New Jerusalem, and the New Jerusalem is coming down from heaven, not from the earth; and seek and read the Scriptures and see that it is written to be so and not otherwise.

Oh, the Lord will soon blow with His strong breath and will cleanse all that is evil and spoiled around this dwelling which came down from heaven by the word, and you will see then miracles, My children, for many will want to run to this heavenly height, but all the flesh will come to understand on that day that this is the mountain of the Lord, from which the Lord's laws will come down. Here is why I brought to you the commandment so that this height may be worked out, that I may dwell here and to deliver My laws and to pour out My cups and to cleanse the blessed earth of Romania, for it is chosen to be the land of the New Jerusalem. I made a choice; I made a counsel in heaven and I established here a holy dwelling, that it might be worked according to My word here, and to overcome by the word, for all are worked by the word, from everlasting to everlasting, and that is why I needed clean vessels and clean apostles in their heart, that work by the word and after My word. That is why I told you that many Christians want to come and to pass beyond these boundaries, and some ask from Me this thing. And what did I tell you? I told you that they did not know what they asked, for if they knew, they would not ask any longer. They believe that here it will be like on the earth, but here it will no longer be the earth, and it will be heaven. Those who doubted the glory and the holiness of this mountain will no longer be able to enter. It is not possible with the Lord for those that trod with their pace here and did not strive after the heavenly and holy ones, to remain without the judgment that is set under the rock of this holy tabernacle. Do you see why I have told you that those who ask to come into this garden do not know what they ask for? Take a fish and leave it without water. The same is with those who have trodden here, in My mountain, in the last time, for they come in and go out and touch the death, and behold, it is harder than in the time of Moses, for they touched the mountain and died, but I came and I took the unfaithful Israel out of death. And now, the Holy Trinity is with the ending of his work, for the Holy Spirit is the One that works at last and there is no other work of salvation for the one who fell off the light after he tasted from those in heaven which have been working with such a secret during this time when the victory from beginning to end has been prepared.

Blessed are those who will hear of this work and will take from it and live by it, for they do not have a word of blasphemy written upon this work, and it will be well with them, a thousand times more than those that came near to this rock and then crushed against it. And I also say: blessed are those who waited for the word of the Lord to come and to work according to the word, for they will be great and living by the word they let themselves under. My people do not understand how this mystery comes; it does not perceive how it comes to be with clean hands and with heavenly footwear. I showed beforehand to one of My children to know how this place is, and that child believed it and saved him and his entire house. I showed him in a dream this place and I told him to take off his footwear as this place was a holy place. And how does „to take off his footwear” come? Oh, the Lord is in the Spirit. Daniel, how comes this mystery, son? What does this talk mean? My loved shepherds, Daniel and Cristea, let this Christian people know the mystery of this speaking. Tell it to the people, sons, what „to take off their shoes” means; what „to have clean hands, clean eye, clean ear and clean heart” means. (They give off the spirit of the world, all that is worldly, r.n.) Oh, this people cannot be so, as it did not want to be so. I have called out to it for such a long time, but it did not want to be so and it was not so. It came and came closer to My vessel (The Holy Virginia, r.n.) and this people did not cleanse itself, neither in its body nor in its spirit. It came and why did it really come, if it did not want to be with Me? For look, it will be brought to front and will be asked before the crowds that did not know, but that will know and believe, and that will sanctify and will be sanctified. This people will not be called without a mind, as I have always come to give it mind and to keep its mind awake. And, where from!? That one will be silent on that day and these people will come in with Me, but not in the flesh, well My loved ones; no, as the body of this people has had other god and it cannot be this way; and it will enter in the spirit; it will enter, for it has the seal of this work; it has it, for it came near to this work made by the word; it came near, but it did not know why it came near; they did not know the flame that they were broken out from.

Woe and woe again of the one who deny this work before the people! Woe for that one will be condemned by those people in front of whom he denied this work! Woe to you Christian as you get rid of what you know that I worked during this time and say that it is not true or that you do not know that you were called into this work or that you are not written into this book! Woe, that you will be found written and you will be condemned by that man who asked you about Me and you hid with Me in front of the people, for it is written: «Whoever will be ashamed of Me before the people, I will also be ashamed of him before My Father».

Behold, My shepherds, how this holy place and this holy work come, but My people do not know how it comes and do not believe how it will be. I have these children with whom I got up to this mountain to prepare the new light and they atone for My people's not stature. They pray for every name which took and knew this work and this people stays in his wills and My praying children suffer and atone, and no one knows how this comes about. I have mercy on whom that I also put to the work of this rock and I put them to the work of My vineyard and these little ones of Mine are tired, but I want to bring to an end My work with them. They have no protector on the earth; they have no parents, nor brothers, nor relatives, nor friends, because they let everything and left with Me and are born from above. They are not from this world. They are here with Me and behold how wicked is the spirit of the world towards God. Here is a great mystery; you should know that it is, but there were not kept perfect the inside laws, by all that touched this mountain, and this puts much crush upon these that wear Me, and I want to clean out all that strikes My divinity, which will be perfected more and more visible into this heavenly dwelling.

Oh, when this heavenly work will appear perfectly, you will see what a terror will be and what kind of things will take place and what they will do; they who dared to touch this rock without believing that it is the ark of the salvation of God's offspring, the ark which appeared in this time! You will see what groaning and terror will appear! You will see the rulers of the earth that will walk to hide from My wrath, from My light, which will bring to light and will make everything clear on that day.

Oh, I miss to clean out the disbelief and the filth from the body of My Romania. I miss to see it ready for celebration and to glorify Myself into its midst and to take out of it the one without Me and without holiness, and I will come and enter into it, and you will sing to My coming and the heaven will be heard singing with you: «It is blessed the One Who comes again into Its blessed name!». Amen.

And now, may the word of Verginica be blessed among you! Amen.

– Peace to you my children, my joy! You are my joy. Love one another and stay hidden for a little while into the mystery of this work. I want to make with you a heavenly thing, clean, pleasant and waited by the heaven. I want that the food of my faithful people to be clean and from day to day everything will be clean, for by the power of your cleanness I will clean out Romania and it will be of the Lord, and those that will not be with the Lord, will no longer be in this land.

Let us fulfill; let us accomplish the heavenly word, for you have to be the heaven upon the earth. The evil spirit is working now with great liberty among all the dishes and drinks and no one asks it what it does. The evil spirit has nothing to do with the world, but rather it has to do with you, children. It cries out in pain and gets into the dirty people to defile you and to weaken your holiness, for behold, when it found out that I came to make you careful, it began to show its face, but no such thing! For behold, it gives its hidden misery away and my children are taught by the heaven what they have to do. The evil spirit will intensify its dirty work, but you should not mix with its dough; do not touch its poison and you will see how many of its will die caught into this trap. Be good for the heaven will give you all that you need, and you will be kept into holiness.

This day is a day of a holy feast both in the heaven and on the earth, but on the earth it is a mixture and the foreign thing does not reach to God. Take care of those from the heaven for the heaven also takes care of you. I am your shield. It hurts me, but I stay and watch so that you may not be hurt and that you may be for heaven. I would like not to be hurt for I need health in you as well. I would like that, but there is not only after me. If it were so, it would be only after me, for I came to lay down the heaven into this dwelling and I will do it, and the heaven will burn any mixture and it shall remain clean on this mountain. Do not be afraid. The evil spirit will be crushed everywhere and it will not seek to think towards this dwelling, but I need holiness and taking off the shoes for those who come to appear before the Lord.

Keep the service hidden a little more time, my little children. Work with wisdom in everything you do, for I give you wisdom.

Peace to you and may you food for your being be blessed; and we will sit at the table with you on this day of the holy feast.

Peace to you! May the peace of the heaven give rest to those that are inclined to do evil, and they will stay afar, for the heaven has power, children. Trust in everything that comes to you by the word, for all are worked out by the word, and the word is with power, and the word is being fulfilled. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the Lord's resurrection

Peace to you and rejoice! The Lord, Jesus Christ, That became flesh by the word and the One That is crucified by the man's disbelief, and the One That is resurrected by His godly power and by the truth, delivers you this wish which fills up the heaven and the earth, the wish of remembrance of His victory in front of the death, and says: „Christ is risen!” And again: “He is truly risen!”

Christ is risen! I am. I am the One Who arose from the dead, My dear. I am and I love you. And if I love you, I am here with you and speak to you and work with you. I work, and nothing is done from God without being told by Him. Remember My loved children of that day of My resurrection, for I arose from the dead and then I went to show to My disciples so that they may believe that I was truly the Messiah, the Son of God. I made them believe and understand and know that I was the One Who was prophesied to be sent in that time and if they were to believe in Me they believed and followed Me by faith, by the deeds of the faith, My dear. I worked in their midst by deeds, and they believed that I was; they believed through those deeds and followed Me and remained with Me up to the cross, for My cross was heavy, children, and those that gave it to Me, put terror and pain into My disciples.

I carried the cross of the world's Calvary and then I arose from the death and went to those of Mine and showed Myself to them raised from the dead and said: „Peace to you!” and I said: „Rejoice!”, and the peace and My joy remained upon them forever. Behold, this word of mine is true, as I told them at that time that I would be with them to the end of the ages, and I truly was by the words which I proclaimed. It was the beginning of My flock and My flock has bred and grown in time and I have been pasturing it since then, as I promised to those from the time of My cross. Oh, the Lord does nothing without speaking it first, and if I promised then, it is written that the Lord is faithful with His promises. My loved ones, they saw Me up to the cross; they saw and touched Me after resurrection, and they believed in Me and I said then that those who believed in Me in time, would work greater miracles than those of that time. And what is this speaking? For this is what I said: «I will work for I go to the Father». Behold what a great significance, for those of that time saw Me in the flesh, to the cross and after it, and here is what the expression «greater than those» means: «greater», as they after them believed in Me though them; greater, as I was working beside My Father with greater work upon those that believed in Me from generation to generation. Behold, those that arose from that time and until now, are the Israel according to the spirit, the one by promise, for the Spirit is the One Which works from God during this time; He is the God of the Holy Trinity, Who perfects all the mystery of God.

Oh, behold, the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who works miracles greater than anytime, tells you together with the Holy Spirit: „Christ is risen!” It is the greatest celebration of God's faithful ones. Christ is risen, My dear! I celebrated with you in all the heavenly joy and love. I am with you for

I have a manger worked out by the word with you. I am with the Holy Spirit, and I am by the word, but those from this time are blinded by the time; the wise people of this time are without wisdom, and when God's wisdom will be seen working, then it will be heard and written everywhere the Scripture that says: «Where is the wise and the scribe of this time?». Then you will shine, My love, for the light of the Holy Spirit will shine, and it will visibly shine, so that all the Scripture which is to be seen may be fulfilled. Look at those who want to stifle My work with you; look how feeble they are, for I came with My time and took their right and their reign, which is from this world. But you should see them then when My work with you will shine under their own eyes, for in this time, the Lord with His people will overcome the world, which is to be overcome, and the world shall no longer be, for we will overcome the world; we will completely overcome it, and we will blow and a godly kingdom for My creature will be made. That is why I told you, and I also tell you again now: „We have great things to work out, the loved ones of the Holy Spirit. Stand looking at Me and work according to the word from heaven; work a right path for the heavenly word, for I do not want the Lord's Day to be lengthened; this is what I want, My dear. I am with you; I am and work with you so that you also may work with Me. Verginica is also with you all the time; and she is from Me and speaks the heavenly word among you. Amen.

– Christ is risen! I tell you with the Lord: Christ is risen! For you and for all my faithful children I deliver the celebration wish of the Lord's resurrection. Christ is risen, my loved ones; my joy in the heaven and on the earth! The entire heavenly host is celebrating and singing with you now. The heaven is standing attentive to you during this time, for it sees what is being prepared at you. The prophets are rejoicing, you dear mother. Read the Scriptures and strengthen and work for the work of the resurrection which is to overcome the death and the darkness. Do not get out without those from the heaven. Let those on the way to pass and struggle. You stand still and with your heart awake to God and pray, as the Lord told you to pray.

Oh, the Lord is happy for those in the heaven. The Lord's Mother sings that fills all the heaven, and I also sing with her, and you should also sing, children. The heaven rejoices of the joy of the anointed one upon Romania. (The king Michael, r.n.). He came for what it belonged to him; he came to see, to cry and to rejoice. The one that is anointed by God upon Romania came and it is a great celebration in the heaven and on the earth, and it shall be made a right path, but let it be sung for the anointed one; let it be sung the song for him, as it is also sung in heaven:

*“Oh, Holy Lord, heavenly Father,
Keep with Your hand the Romanian crown!”*

Pray and bless into the name of the Lord the entrance of the anointed one on the Lord's holy land. His heart and eyes, they that are kept by the eyes of the wicked ones, will look now to see mine. There are evil eyes around him and there are still cunning hearts. Go and look for him, as he also seeks with his own eyes to see. Go and bring from the Lord the wish of this day. It will be to welcome him by this clean work done by God here.

My loved ones, the true joy will come and there shall no longer be eyes to shackle the Lord's thing and joys. Mother Gigi (Verginica, r.n.) embraces you. And, again, for all the good ones that belong to her, she also says: Christ is risen! Peace to you!

Peace to the anointed one of Romania! Peace to his painful heart, for his heart is full of pain!

*Peace over you all, and over the Lord's thing from you! Christ is risen! He is truly risen!
Amen, amen, amen.”*

***

A word is coming down from the heaven and is being written on the earth a heavenly word. Behold the days of the heaven; and the heaven sings during this day; it sings over Romania; the heaven is sings and is praised on the land of Romania. The prophets and the saints and the angels stay and sing the heavenly suite:

*“Save the Romanian, Your people, Lord,
And bless Your new inheritance.*

Give the victory to the good and faithful, to Your people, to the king, and to the opposing one;

And keep Your people and Your anointed by Your cross!"

"Oh, Holy Lord, heavenly Father,

Keep the Romanian crown by Your hand,

Keep the Romanian queen country by Your hand!"

Christ is risen, king of Romania! Welcome, My loved one! Christ is risen, Michael of My Romania! This is your name: Michael of Romania, and Romania belongs to God, together with its good and faithful people and with its king anointed by God.

I am; I am, He, Who arose from the dead in the time of My body after My body fell on the cross. I am, My love. Oh, you are full of grieved joy; you are full of grieve, My most loved one, but your time is coming, son, your time is coming, but I tell you that it has already come. The dawn of the New Jerusalem come upon Romania, but I tell you that it has already come. Prophets and Magi will come from great distances to see the work of the Holy Spirit, which works and it is seen working upon Gate at the entrance to the „Holy Citadel New Jerusalem”, carved Romania. But I tell you that walnut.

they have already come to ask and to rejoice of the fulfilling upon Romania<sup>49</sup>.

Behold, My loved one, I proclaim the word at the manger of My word, and you were carried by Me by the prayers of the one here. I have here My little ones, and blessed is he who receives these little ones of Mine, for he receives Me.

I brought the Lord's gate back to its place; I brought it, My most loved one; by miracles I brought it, for the evil spirit knew its mystery and took possession and curse over it, but I brought it by the faith and the work of him who sings of Romania and to the one who sings to Romania, the song of the songs. (Gheorghe Zamfir, r.n.) I brought it. I sent him by the word and raised the Lord's gate, the gate that you will enter with glory, My most loved one. This is written in the Scripture, that «This shall be called the Lord's gate and the Lord shall enter it, and the king of the blessed one shall also enter it». It is written about this city which keeps watch over by its heavenly height upon the city of the New Jerusalem, which is coming down from God. It is written that it will be named with the name of the Lord and it will be told: «There is the Lord!». The prophets which wrote this Scripture leap and rejoice in the heavenly ones. You should also rejoice! I will work soon, for behold I have so many that did not bow their knees before the Baal!

Peace to you My little heart, as you are tired! Do not be afraid and do not doubt! I am; I and My servants; I and My messengers; I and My tools. May your entrance into My New Jerusalem be blessed! For this is what I said about Romania, and those that are proclaimed cannot be changed and their fulfillment comes!

Oh, cry My still hidden church. Cry under the pressure of the disbelief of the scribes, Pharisees and the bishops of this time, as they, like those of that time, do not know the time of their visitation. I raised the witness stone of God's work, the Word, Which worked and has been working by the Holy Spirit for almost forty years. I raised it, and there is no work like this on the earth, for this heavenly height is not earthly interpreted, My love one. I have the angel of My church which was sent to you with My message, with My good news. I have it strong for this mystery, and it will be to testify about you when we are to disclose the stone which will keep watch at the entrance gate, for this was My word, and those that built this heavenly height have worked into My name and into your name, and it will be to come by My power. Be strong and gird up yourself with the power which comes from Me and work My wisdom with My life into your life, for we have to make Romania come to life. My children from here have nothing to be afraid of.

They rest upon My promises. Do the same My most loved one, and you will also be at your place. Amen.

Oh, the Antichrist and the evil spirit cries, mourns and struggles, for on the day, when I raised the cross of the victory, the sign of the Lord's Son on the top of this heavenly height, the eternal enemy has not found his rest since then. But I have been working with the heavenly wisdom for these little ones and I overcame and this work appeared and it will be to the judgment of those that think that they are the rulers and strong by their own might, and soon it will be read the Scripture which says: «Where is the wise and the scribe of this time?». This mystery is from heaven and only those with a heavenly life will be able to perceive this, and those without a law will not be able to perceive the Lord's work.

Behold Romania! Romania is singing to you, My love one. Romania is singing the song of its king and the faithful Romania is rejoicing, and it will not remain unfaithful before Me and before you if it does not come to repentance, for I am a jealous God, My loved one, and I want that this Canaan to be from the heaven and not from the earth; to be heaven and not earth; to be holiness and not lawlessness.

Peace to you! Peace to the king of Romania! May the peace and the embracing of My little Mother seize you and your queen and your offspring, which will stand by your right side! Peace to you and rejoice! It is the greatest holiday, and it is doubled on the land of Romania. Romania sings Christ; it sings: „Jesus is risen!” And it sings the song of the king of the blessed one among the nations.

Christ is risen! May your entrance and your exit be blessed! May your coming back home be blessed, as it comes near from God! I said that I will come out before you by your work from here, from the mouth of the spring of My word. I said, and I will come out; I will come out soon before you. (It is about the first visit of the king in Romania, since his exile in 1945, by the communist dictatorship and by a trial in 1990, after the revolution, when he was turned back from the airport, r.n.).

Peace to you, Michael, king of Romania! May My peace be with you and through you, king of the blessed one for the time of the Lord's glory and of those that walk with the Lord! I am with you My loved one, and your joy will arise, and your painful life comes to joy. Behold, I come soon with the heavenly joy! Amen.

Christ is risen! Let this heavenly glory sing to your heart all day, king of Romania! Amen, amen, amen.

The second Sunday after Passover, of the St. Apostle Thomas

The Lord urges the priests in the churches to the word which says: „What you received as a gift, you should give as a gift.”

Christ is risen! The Lord that arose to life from the dead, the One Who appeared after His resurrection, tells you, loved children: Peace to you! And, Christ is risen! This is the greetings addressed to Israel and it remained as a heavenly usage after My resurrection, My loved children.

Behold, the day which comes after this day, the day of tomorrow also carries a celebration of remembrance of the feast of My resurrection and it is called the Thomas Sunday, the one who wanted to feel the wound from My rib pierced by My crucifiers; and if he wanted to see Me and to believe, I showed Myself once again after the resurrection and I strengthened again the other disciples who saw Me. They were locked up in hiding so that the Jews may not find and scatter them, and I, behold, I appeared again into their midst and said: «Peace to you!», and I took Thomas' finger and showed him My pierced rib and I strengthened his faith and the faith of those who followed Me before the cross. But what did I say then? You should know all that God asks you. I said that they who had not seen and believed were blessed; the one who believes in Me by the testimony of those who saw Me up to the cross and after I was raised from the death. If they had not known the book of the prophets, if they had not been poor in spirit and small in rank and greatness, they could have not known the time of visitation that came with Me from those in heaven. Oh, and remember what I let upon them. I let My Spirit upon them and My thing and My new kingdom, which worked from generation to generation upon Israel. I gave them power and I gave them the work of miracles in the midst of the world and I told them this: «Freely you received, so freely give». They received freely from what I had from My Father and I did not tell them: „I gave you freely, so freely give”, rather I told them: «Freely you receive, so freely give». Behold, this is how, this mystery, this work and this service come.

Oh, and I taught then those that were Mine how to work and how to be with Me into the world. When I saw the befuddlement among them concerning who was to be the greatest, I took and I washed their feet and told them: «You call Me, ‘Teacher’ and ‘Lord.’ You say so correctly, for so I am. If then, I have washed your feet; you also ought to wash one another’s feet». I did this to give an example of love and I told them: «Love one another as I loved you». I told them that «He, who wants to be greater, he should be the servant of all». And this how I had worked with them until they got used to consider God great, as I was submitted, obedient and humble to the heavenly Father.

I came from near My Father to leave into the world this kind of living to God, and I let the peace that I had from the Father; I let it upon those that believed that I was from the Father and said: «Peace to you! I give My peace to you! As the Father sent Me, I also have sent you, and he who receives you, receives Me». And they left into My name and testified about Me to all the margins. But as I was, the same were those with Me in time, for I spoke the word before and said: «They persecuted Me and they will persecute you as well, but take courage, for this is how I overcame the world». I overcame it by persecution and death, and then by resurrection; and this is how those, who became My disciples of the same work with them and with Me, overcame it, and I had no other church and it was not otherwise; it was not as it is today. Oh, if a servant of Christ is not persecuted and blasphemed and if he is not like the Lord, that one is not My disciple according to the truth. He, who does not follow Me, cannot hide under My name and is not a member of My church, which was set on the rock and which was not taken into consideration by the builders; and which has been the foundation of the Lord’s church since then. But I said to those of that time and to those, who after them, were like Me and like them, and I said this: «Woe to you, if the world honors you and speaks well of you, for this is how it was done to the false prophets and their parents» And I also said: «Blessed are you when they blame you and persecute you and will speak evil against you, for your reward is great in heaven». In heavens, this is how I said, and behold, I came to make new heavens; I came to set the reward on a new earth and in a new heaven, but there is no one to understand this time; there is no one, for behold, the spirit of the world does no longer know how God is.

Oh, what I have to do with those who serve and rule the nowadays church? What am I going to do with them? How shall I make a resurrection and a new heavenly kingdom on the earth? I cannot even enter with My word to tell them as God’s order was in all times. How? When they do not even want to hear any more from the Lord, as the Lord is by the word as He promised, and this Scripture cannot be abolished. They abolished it; they who rule upon the church, but My church has My word in its midst, and that is why it is the church that I let to be. And those that serve today in My name, made of the heavenly spirits a reason of unfair gain, and they spread this gain for those that are not pleasant to God and for trespasses. But I said otherwise. I said: «Freely you receive, so freely give». And if someone cannot do this way, let him not come closer to Me, for God is not to be mocked and deceived.

Oh, children, how the Lord’s priests should be and how they are! The heaven is frightened of the priests’ life, for neither they nor those that anoint them into My name are with Me, and behold, there is no faith in God and in those that are holy, and those that are holy are violated and cast into the mud and iniquities. They say in vain that are with Me; they say it in vain.

Behold, the Lord is not in want of the church. The Lord has an establishment, for I said that I will establish the heavenly Jerusalem on the earth, and so I fulfill it. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the descent of the Holy Spirit (Whit Sunday)

The Lord speaks about the heavenly wisdom, working in the days of the Holy Spirit's Victory

The God of the Holy Trinity is well blessed; He, Who testified about the Holy Spirit in the tongues of fire for the being and for the new working glory, as if the being of the Holy Spirit was seen in the day of the Whit Sunday, after a couple of days from My dwelling at the place where I descended for a human incarnation, and if the Holy Spirit was seen then in the image of the immaterial fire, then it was seen in the godly work of the Holy Spirit, for My loved apostles were full of the wisdom of the Holy Spirit and it was no longer them but the Holy Spirit in them, and the Holy Spirit that entered them after the heavenly tongues of fire of the Holy Spirit and was sent from Me to them, was speaking into the new languages, as I declared this promise before My ascension to the Father of the heavenly Trinity. I told them this: «I will not leave you orphans, you who left houses, relatives, spouses, children, parents, the world, and your own self, and followed Me. I will not leave you orphans and I will send you the Holy Spirit instead, Who will take from Me and will bring to you».

My dear, you are those from now, and they were those from that time, but you should know and understand that promise, for they from that time are until these days, sons; they are, for My promise remains declared forever.

Behold, I tell you once again what I told you then, for there came a rich young man and asked Me what to do in order to have eternal life, and I told him a word according to his wisdom, so that he might understand what I said. I told him to love his father and his mother and honor them and no to do things which are against the law. I told him but he could not understand but only according to his wisdom, for he was a wise son after his rank that he had on the earth; and he answered Me according to his wisdom saying: «I have observed all these things from my youth up. What do I lack more to have eternal life?». Oh, and when the answer of Holy Spirit's wisdom came, that young man did no longer understand anything, for I added to him the fullness of the words, the fullness of his spoken words, and I told him again: «Sell all that you have and distribute it to the poor, and then you can come and follow Me». My loved ones, if that young man had had wisdom from above, he would have known what to work with his own life to make it eternal, but because he did not understand My speaking, he turned away from Me and remained in his own self, for he did not know how to deny his own self to be able to understand and weigh what God said. Not even those that were walking with Me everywhere, they did not know how to understand how My speaking was. And if they did not understand I had to answer them also according to their wisdom, as I answered to that rich young man. For when those that were Mine asked Me who could be saved, only then I answered them again with helping word saying: «What is not possible with men is possible with God». Because they wondered after I added on leaving of the rich young man, this is what I told them: «For it is easier for a rope<sup>50</sup> to enter in through a needle's eye, than for a rich man to enter into the Kingdom of God».

My children, the world does not know what the kingdom of the heaven is and neither knows to interpret the words of the wisdom of the kingdom which is from heaven and does not know either to discern the tongues of the Holy Spirit. It was great the word that I told them: «Whoever wants to come after Me, let him deny himself, and take up his cross, and follow Me». And what do you say that this heavenly speaking means? The rich young man did not know how to deny himself, because he understood that God's speaking is from the earth. If he truly had wanted the eternal life, he would have understood the speaking of the eternal life.

---

Here is how the man to be born from above is; to be born of the heaven. This is what I asked the young man, but he did not understand and went away from the Lord. I did not ask for his wealth from the earth, for that one was from the earth, and I was from the heaven, not from the earth. I asked him something else, for if his understanding was good when he said that he honored his father and mother and all the good deed of the law, if his understanding were from heaven, I did not have to add a word of wisdom over My disciples wondering at those that I worked upon the rich young man. I added a word saying: «He, who does not leave for Me mother and father, spouse and children, lands and ranks, that one is not fit for My kingdom, which is not from the earth», but the young man mixed those from the earth with those from the heaven, and that is why he could not use well his wisdom from the flesh. Oh, that is why God has to work upon the sons of the people and to fulfill upon them the Scripture which says: «What is not possible with men is possible with God». Amen.

Behold the feast celebration of the Holy Spirit descended in the being by the image of the tongues of the fire, brings the remembrance of the descent of the heavenly wisdom and separates those that are from the earth from those that are from the heaven and which teach those from the earth how to be born of the heaven and how to enter with the heavenly kingdom, for what comes out of the flesh is flesh, and what comes out of the spirit is spirit. I had nothing to do with what the young man had on the earth. I was not from the earth. What I had to do was for that he had to have from the heaven, but he remained with those that he learned from his childhood and did not get out of himself to follow Me and to understand how comes to follow Me.

My dear, God does not divide Himself by the spoken words, but the man who does not get out of himself cannot have God fully in the work of his words. Look to the wise people of today as they do not understand how to have God fully after the wisdom of the Holy Spirit; they do not understand, and I say to you again: what is flesh is flesh and what is spirit is spirit, and if the apostles of that time struggled to deny their own self, they succeeded to get the Holy Spirit and to understand God's speaking heavenly. The Holy Spirit is the wisdom which created the wisdom, but if the man does not have room for the Holy Spirit, which is from heaven and as in heaven not as on earth, then the man cannot get out of himself to follow God, and only this is the way to the heavenly kingdom: the man to get out of himself and to give this dwelling to the Holy Spirit so that God may be in this dwelling. This is the work that the Holy Trinity is working with you, and you will be the sharers of this wisdom, and there is no greater work that does greater miracles than this which is and which will be in your time, as I said that greater miracles than all the miracles will be worked in the days of the victory of the Holy Spirit.

The Holy Trinity is celebrating with you this day of feast of the Holy Spirit with peace and heavenly hosts and with heavenly glory. The Lord, Jesus Christ, brings love and contentment from heaven upon you, for the fulfillment of the work of the setting of the Lord's gate, and this way, children, you should be the ones that fulfill the word of God; you should be all the time and may you be rich in the wisdom that is from the heaven, and you will be from heaven all the time; let you be, My dear, for I have a lot of works to fulfill, and who can call you happier than the one who deny himself and follows the work of the heavenly wisdom on the earth? Who can be richer and fuller of peace than the son of the heavenly works? That is why I made the man, but the man left his Creator and when he left, he became self-conceited and did no longer find the way back to his house and he did not find the door of the house which proceeds. And behold, My Father sent Me again on the earth, as it is written, and behold, I work the work which is written since then, since I came back near to My Father, for then it was written that I had to come again, and that is why I said then: «I am the door and he who enters through Me will enter the house again». That is why I had to come again, and behold, I came by the word and did this work to show the door to those who want to come back home, and if they want, they have to enter the door, for it is not possible to come in over or by the sides of the door. It is not possible because the heaven is upon this work and is working from all sides, and the righteousness and the wisdom that was not understood by the world without the Holy Spirit are being proclaimed.

And you My loved ones, who followed Me and the work which I came towards you with, were born for the work of the world's renewal and behold, you work through Me, for the Lord does not live in broken and decaying dwellings, but rather He dwells in strong houses, and God's houses will hover above the tribulation that is coming to make those on the earth wise.

The Holy Spirit, Which is glorified with the Father and with the Son, He Who proclaimed the mysteries of the heavens and of the ages by the prophets, the Spirit of the heavenly Trinity shall be with you, who I have from the world for the world's renewal what is to come. May the grace of the Holy Spirit bind you into the being of the light of the heavenly Trinity; you and all who come with God, as written in the Scriptures, for the Lord is coming with thousands of thousands of the saints, My loved ones, and you do not depart from the New Jerusalem, which came down from the heaven, from now on to the eternity of the heavens. Amen.

Verginica is glorified by the heavenly powers, for she is the one who gave you birth in Me; (Saint Virginia, the sixth apocalyptic trumpet, r.n.) she is in you as My work and My commandment were. Amen.

– You that are loved by the Holy Spirit, I showed here with you in the dawn of this day of celebration of the Holy Spirit, I showed and then I proclaimed the heavenly appearance. I showed myself visibly and I came down from the heaven visibly and I opened my arms to embrace you, but I am from heaven, you little mother. Do not grieve that you did not feel your embracing upon me, but rather rejoice because I embraced your body and your being. And why was this heavenly appearance in the dawn of this day? For you to know and not forget, that I am in you and beyond you. I am with you, I am in you and I am beyond you, and that is why the heavenly appearance was so. Oh, only if you understand during these moments! Seek and do no longer forget this and do no longer stay against my words, for if I am here with you, the words are mine, and how is it for me when you say a word against my word which is incarnated among you and from among you towards you?

Behold what a great celebration! A heavenly day is celebrated in honor of this heavenly dwelling, which is arisen on the earth in the name of this heavenly feast. It is a day of heavenly feast; it is the day of this holy tabernacle, the day of the name that is given by God. Rejoice my loved ones, you my few children, for a great nation will rise from among you, which will deny of itself and will be God's kindred that will come out of Romania and will overcome the earth into the name of the Lord. Amen.

Blessed be your feast which carries in it the songs of the Holy Spirit, and may the voices of heavenly and angelic hosts fill you with a heavenly spirit, and I anoint you with a godly spirit.

Peace to you, little sons! Peace to you with the heaven and with me! Peace to me with you as well!

I am in hand with the saint martyr Mercurie, who has the commandment from the Lord to work a boundary through you, for all who want to smash against this heavenly rock. Amen.

The Word of God to King Michael

God speaks from the heavenly ones and God's voice is heard, but let them who hear God's word sit and make another book to the one who is Romania's anointed on behalf of the Lord Sabaoth.

Peace from the Father, from the Son and from the Holy Spirit, peace to the king of Romania! Peace from the Mother of the Son of the heavenly Trinity, and peace for a heavenly feast from the rulers of the heavenly hosts, Michael and Gabriel! Peace and celebration in heaven and on earth, as it will come that the celebration of feasts from the ancestors will take their places, and it will come for the sons of the church to turn their faces back to their parents, and afterwards, the parents will turn their faces back to their sons. Romania, the first called among the nations, will be the first among the nations of the earth, as it was born at the same time with the Lord, Jesus Christ, and if it was born then, it was christened by the first called from the apostles, as the apostle Andrew came and baptized Romania even since it was in its swaddles, and Romania became Christian and Orthodox; from its birth it was Christian, and the Lord cannot forget its infancy and its first dress, and God cannot forget the ornaments which Romania was invested with, because under its holy land, all Romanian heaven cries out to the Lord and says: „Lord, how long until You redeem those that stay at the foundation of his holy nation?”

And here is what tell the great of Romania, the good, the great and the saint, who keep Romania on their sacrifice and faith, which was the rock of the church of old. The first and the last kings and all the holy waivodes call out, they who are named together the holy heaven of Romania; they lift up prayers for Romania and look to see the small king coming and sitting, the anointed of this time, the one who will fulfill the victory and the glory of Romania. And here is what the forefather and the grandfather says: „The king of Romania shall have his appearance after Jesus Christ's, as his good ancestors had the appearance of the fulfilled man, as written into the Scriptures. The king is God's holy one, and his appearance and his face shall be after the one from of old, before which all the son of his kindred may bow down”. Amen.

The Word of God sits in counsel with you, king of Romania, for the holy heaven is looking and waiting to see the glory which will come from you in the name of the Lord. The word of God is making a heavenly book and is speaking with you, Michael of Romania. Your father and forefather wait to see your glory and power that were given to you, but the power of the Lord's saint works by the image worn by the holy ancestors. Let your holy ornament (The hair and beard, r.n.) to clothe your face, for this holy law has great power. The great time is coming, for I work at it; I work according to My plane, and woe, the plans of the men are away from the plans of the Lord! I work by the word in Romania, and there will be no creature on the earth that will not bow down under this work that works out from the heaven upon Romania; and there will be no nation which will not sing your glory, which is from Me, for you will be a holy king, and who can stand against My plan?

Take care, My love, and keep away from the wolves, for the wolves have now taken coat over coat and beat about the heavenly work. Be great with Me, for the wolf's skin will be made obvious from under the robe that covers it. Be great with Me, for the Lord does no longer see faith on the earth, and I spoke this through the prophets: «He, who knows My ways and does not walk in them, shall not speak about God». This is what I spoke, and behold, those that work lawlessness, do not take this prophecy to their heart, and they hide under a lamb's coat, and woe, My creature does not know to distinguish the left from its right! But I am God, and behold what I do during these days, for I set to tear down those that are decaying and to strengthen the cleanness and holiness upon My creature. I come to cleanse, to whiten and to unseal the springs of life and then to proclaim through My servants and to show this: „Here is the way, and let him who come to life, walk in it.”

Oh, I want to set your name on a stone, (The foundation stone of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem, r.n.), as this is what I told you, and I will proclaim then from its top the name of the king of Romania. So I spoke and these words stand as a witness on the earth, for I fulfilled in those that were Mine and yours, weak and little, for these that gave a body to My word are Mine and yours, for I am their God, and you are My anointed and are their king. Be wise, for I will set your name on a stone. Be faithful. I am. The Lord is My name and I work to prepare your coming.

Mihai-Viteazu

Those who sit on the chair of My church started to show their teeth and would like to exterminate this work and they would like to put down the one that fulfilled the heavenly commandment, for according to the law he laid the stone of foundation of the new beginning which comes from heaven over the earth, so that it may be as in heaven so on earth, as My promise was. And this work will be called the heavenly mountain, a mountain of heavenly mystery, and from this mountain will flow the blessings which are written into the Scriptures upon those that will be called blessed; and it will be called the mountain of the blessings that come with the Lord with His thousands of thousands of saints, as the prophets said about My ages.

This stone raised through the word and through the heavenly commandment, will stand before you, king of Romania, for this is what I spoke, and I told you ahead of time. Behold, I put this stone before you and I will put away the iniquity and injustice from the land of the living, for Romania will remain forever before Me and you, Michael, king of the Lord's Romania.

I am with you and I carry you on My shoulders, for I am the Lord of the fulfillment of the heavenly promises. Get up before Me and pray for those that I have before Me, before My word, as false witnesses arose against them and the injustice lied to itself, and those, who rule carelessly over My flock, arose in fear against My truth. Pray so that the salt may multiply, and it will be multiplied, for there is no more salt on the earth. Little salt has the Lord on the earth, My dear. Lift up your hands towards Me and ask, and it will be salt on the earth, and it will be good for salting, and the fragile bones of the sons, well pleased with their heart and spirit, will be strengthened. I work from dawn until dawn; I work in your way and I work upon these little ones that are Mine, for the wickedness and the disbelief of the rulers of the law strike to smash to pieces the ship which is worked out through the word spoken from heaven. Romania is My creature ship rescue and out of it will flow rays and lights and salvation and a new heaven and a new earth, as I, God, promised.

I spread My peace upon you and upon your entire house, Michael of Romania. Peace to you, My love, My anointed, for who can wipe out your anointment that you have from God? Peace, holy law and an image after the image from those of old, an image after the heavenly fathers, after the image of God's Son, from generation to generation up to you. Take the scroll which stays under the stone of the new beginning; take it and undo it again, and get ready in this mirror, and we will enter the blessed gate, which came into being after God's plan.

God, the Father, He Who is in the Son and in the Holy Spirit of the heavenly Trinity, may be with the king of Romania, and with his blessed sons, out of whom the new nation will spring up and will work the Lord's victory!

Peace to you, Michael of the Lord's Romania! Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the Church Entrance of the Lord's Mother

The heavenly joy is coming down and is resting by the word proclaimed from the heaven upon the Holy of Holies of the heavenly Jerusalem, the new one, the one that was promised by God through the prophets to be on the earth, and behold, the time of the fulfillment of the prophecies started to appear into the way of those that have understanding and stay established into the hope of those that are promised by the word of God, which worked and is working through the prophets, from everlasting and until the end of the Lord's ages.

Glory from heaven to earth, for the holy heaven bows down, worships and sings to the one who gave herself over as a clean and pathless dwelling, so that she may be a dwelling that brings the promise; a promise of dwelling and appearance of the only One that is born of the Father and Who is called Emmanuel, so that this work may be fulfilled into the midst of the people. And so it was through the one who was forever a Virgin, as God was with us on the earth through her. How comes to be with us on the earth? That is the Holy Trinity, Which is One and indivisible, has shown Itself with the people on the earth by Its Son, Jesus Christ, Who is from the Father, and in the Father, and through Whom, the Father was and is and will be among the people and in the people, that is the created being by the Holy Trinity through the word.

Glory to the Mother of God's Lamb, who is celebrated by the heaven and by you, who are put by the Lord in His bed of these days! Glory to you, heavenly Mother! Glory and praise to you from heaven to earth, for today is celebrated your entranced beyond the iconostasis which separates; and you broke the separation and received this good news and brought into the midst of the people the Reconciler, Who came from the Father, and He stayed with the people and remained with the people forever, as He had to come for this and to show Himself among the people, to be forever with God's people and among God's people.

But look what is on the earth: it is that what has been, as it is written that again and again it is what it was before, for the people without God in their spirit do not know the Lord in God's people, and behold, the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who is born of the Father before the ages of the heavens, says that the time for God's work has come, because the people had spoiled the Lord's laws on the earth since ages, until it came the time for Me to show Myself perfect, Man and God, so that I may be known then in man and that the people may know Me in them and among them. And after I had worked during that time of thirty-three years as Man and God, it was then to leave the work in the man to be followed, as because of this the man was made, and I came for the man in order to deify him and to work this deification out from generation to generation and to be with the people until the end of the ages; and after that to be the heavenly and holy age, as God is heavenly and holy.

Oh, My loved children, I came down to you by the word, and I am in the Trinity, Which is One by the word, sons, sons of obedience. Blessed are the sons of obedience, for there is no salvation besides the one, which comes from the work of obedience. The child of God who gets out from the work of obedience is called a wondering son, who is forced back and ashamed because of his lack of obedience.

I sent Verginica<sup>51</sup> to you with a big book into her arms. Let them all from here know, and those that are bound from here too, that I sent her to show herself with the book of obedience. And when it came she opened the book and read a word from it saying: „You child you should not stay otherwise with you dwelling, and you should know that this is written into this book: you should be in obedience and stay under obedience, for there is no salvation besides the one which comes by the work of obedience.”

There is a book on the earth in which the word of a wise man is written, and this says: „The man has to be and to accomplish everything, in his thought and deed, in such a way that in any moment, someone greater than him sees him in everything and everywhere, without having any possibility of hiding or veiling himself in thought or deed; and the man works this way before the great one the thing of obedience”. The wise man does no longer ask himself how this comes, and you cannot say it either that this work, which is called the life in obedience and under obedience, is not understood by you

The man who does not have his life in obedience, he is not. He is, but he is not, and behold a sword with sharp double edges, which cuts with good at one end, and with bad at the other, for the man who has not got the Spirit of God and who is not even under the obedience of another man from around, such a man is set under his own free will and has got no one greater and powerful than himself to rely on; and such a man is not, for he has nothing to be through, the one that is alone has nothing to be through. It could not be possible for Me to be if I was not through the Father, and God's creature cannot be if he is not through the One that created it. That is why, My loved ones, be awake and walk after this treasure of wisdom, for behold, on this day of celebration, I came with a lesson that carries a weight a wisdom into it, a deep word in itself. Wake your wisdom up, you and those that hear now and after that this lesson of heavenly word, and the heavenly weight of this word. Wake up your awareness of the spirit and stay this way during the time of this lesson, for this lesson takes its bed upon the place where the Lord of the heavens placed the Holy of Holies lowered from those of the heaven. I told you in the last word declared that this place is set aside for God, and if so is this heavenly commandment, I will speak with you and with those that will hear this lesson, to be a lesson for you and for the shepherds that I said that I will sit in a heavenly counsel, a special counsel. And behold, wake up your wisdom and understanding, shepherds of the people called for this work. Take this book and eat it, sons, for if you want and listen to Me, there will be no need to proclaim a word of awakening and awareness upon you for those heavenly that are yours; for the heavenly ones, and I also say: for the heavenly ones. And if I said so, I, Who said from sufferance, behold, I speak to you: do no longer be clay, you shepherds of the people with its name written in the scroll of this work, as I do not speak about his lesson for this place; no, because this place and what is on it, is put by God aside, and I work differently, and I work upon it. And why do I work upon it? I work because I have a favorable place for work, because what is put here into work is in obedience and stays under obedience, and this is the mystery of the mysteries of this place. Those that are planted out into this garden are God's hope, remained in them on God's side, Who put these in this garden, and that is why I gave a commandment of a new law and said: „Let those that are dark not enter upon the work inside this garden established by the heaven.” And how comes „the dark ones”? Oh, you know the word that asks itself and says: «Who shall dwell on Your holy hill? Righteousness, justice and the truth from the heart shall dwell and they shall never be shaken». This is what the word says, My dear, and I said about those that are shaken that they will not dwell in this garden? I said this because I want to dwell here, sons. Do you want Me to dwell here? And if you say that you want, I cannot be pleased with the word of the mouth. I want to have full contentment in this garden where I want to have a bed and to work from this bed. Behold, I am God and I ask you to tell Me: „Shall it really come a day when I could be with you here as in heaven?” I ask you, because I do not know, and I say it again: „I do not know what I have to know from you that is, from you towards Me”. I dared declare and say: „Do not be clay!” I dared, because I cannot be with you here with all your clay. I cannot be in this heaven as you are taught on the earth. I set this place aside to be a paradise, and not earth, and there is no soul of this people that is beyond the gates, none, if I take him and say: „Come into this haven of Mine!”; there is no one to say with all his love, with all his fear and faith: „Lord, I am not worthy to come in without the heavenly garment, but only speak Your word and I am as thought as I entered it, and I am pleased that You have a clean place”, and there would be no one to say a rejoicing word to the cleanness of this place brought to Me from heaven, with an establishment from heaven.

Those from the time of My body, who believed in Me and in My holiness, said this: «Lord, I am not worthy for You to come under my roof and Your word is enough for me and I shall find salvation and fulfillment to my prayer». That one said so because he valued My holiness and did not want to come closer because of his unworthiness. But that one received Me in him and worked a miracle by this humility and praised God through the miracle of his faith and it was enough for him to make a heavenly Jerusalem and a paradise into his heart. I entered his house by the door of his heart, not by the door of his house, and behold, I say to you that the people of this work does not have in it what that man had and there is no one that shall not enter here into the bed that is prepared by Me and for Me and in which I put servants, slaves after My will, and useful vessels after God's will and not according to another will.

Oh, My dear, I have never told you what I say to you now, that the pain got into the innermost of My spirit, and here is what I say today, after almost forty years of work into the midst of this loveless and merciless people, that there has not been a Christian to have compassion on Me, the Lord. I tell you, and I speak for the entire people that there has been no people during the Israel's times, no generation of Israel, no one from among those that I loved and supported in time, to tempt God as this people tempted the Lord by this work, by the vessels of this work. So many mysteries, so many dwellings, so much order that I have had to bring upon this time, and during the time of this work I have wanted to bring the order that, however, will come on the earth and upon the church on the earth, that is, upon the people who believe that the Lord is in heaven. But it was not a dwelling that came with Me by this work; it was no love by the word; it was no correction that came down from heaven not to be sold and given to death, and I had no place on the earth to correct the spoiled things and to clean the dirty ones, at least upon this people, and to keep My laws among the people. And I had to work upon this mixture, and the mixture did not want to let itself be cleaned and separated, so that the Lord might put aside the good which would be selected if it wanted to be selected. But it was not to be selected so that the wheat might be on the right and the weeds on the left, and to be able to work upon the wheat, and the wheat to work upon the weeds and to work a grafting into the weeds. The word was coming back to Me into heaven, as it was not possible to speak about the church and its priests, who belonged to Caesar, (Of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and who spoiled the church giving it over to Caesar and giving themselves to Caesar with all their flock. I was not able to make the man to be with Me secretly and that the man may not change himself after the Caesar's dough. I could not, as My people sold Me. And why did it give Me over? It gave Me over because the man did not have the Lord through the priesthood, as it is not possible to be the Lord's priest if you are not separated from the pagans, if you do not stay with God.

My dear, the people who are not baptized are not Christians, sons, but I could not be with this word by now. And how comes something like this in this time upon the church? Behold, the Lord had used to let the words upon you, which He had always come back to heaven with, as it desolation had been upon the church, and this time of desolation had been long after the priests and bishops made an agreement with Antichrist (With the „Security” of the communist dictatorship, r.n.); and they let themselves to be devoid of the Holy Spirit, and those that came after them, who put the agreement into action, had never seen the empty work and the naked body of the church. And if the binding with God and with the ancestral law was broken, whose brokenness and interruption was not seen, this broken binding had no longer had a forwarding work, so that the Lord might have a church with priests clothed with the Holy Spirit, to leave followers clothed with the Holy Spirit. If the Christ's priesthood was from one to another, that is from one anointed to another, and if the anointed of a time sold this garment to Antichrist, and if Antichrist wiped out his anointment by ruse, then the work to keep the binding of the chain from one anointed to another had no longer existed, and this way the anointment for the priesthood was only an order made by the people, an order devoid of the gift of the anointment in the priesthood. But this damage and this desolation were not only these, as after that a work of extermination arose, of those who did not listen to reject the ancestral laws, that is to listen to the faith denial, that is to sell their baptism by the agreement made with Antichrist, who managed to displace God's law from its place. And persecution was inflicted upon those that did not forsake the anointment of the Holy Spirit, and they were locked up and killed by the power of the darkness, and few of them had the Lord in the recesses of their hearts, that served and could leave the anointment from one anointed to another anointed. And that is why I say that there cannot be a priest if you are not baptized and not christened, for the priests who were then established by those who gave the ancestral law from them; they had no longer the work of the Holy Spirit upon them, and the priest's anointment was no longer put through the Lord, and that is why the baptism after the order of tradition was neither established as a baptism any longer, and behold that the priests that were established after that interruption, had no longer the anointment, and the baptism had no longer power, as the priesthood of those without the anointment from one anointed to another, and the power of the baptism died away time after time, because very few had part of anointed priests by the Holy Spirit anymore.

I wanted to strive and break this fog and to help Myself with the people fed on My word. I waited to find a place to be able to speak to this people, to be able to entrust to it the mystery about the immorality in the church, but it did not listen to Me in the work of the holy laws, let alone it listened so that I might correct with it the immorality that spoiled the church! Oh, there is a scroll in heaven, which is written on the earth by a heavenly commandment. And what is this scroll about? It is written a binding against those that broke the true anointment of the priesthood, for if those that wrote the agreement with Antichrist to change the Lord's laws, and if they changed them, I gave a commandment to be made out that written scroll to bind from work those that changed the work left by My followers, anointed up to them. And it is written: «What is bound on earth is bound in heaven as well», and this binding was done on earth by the heavenly commandment, sons. And if this is hard to believe, look at the front of the church and tell God what is left of it and what is behind this appearance. And behold a world that is not baptized and not christened by anyone for such a long time. And if you are not christened, how comes to be a priest according to Jesus Christ's law?

Oh, this way I have endured this long pain and I could not tell it to the people of this work, and not even now does this people believe; and you, My loved shepherds, you do not believe either, My pain, My morning and work that I could hardly establish on the earth as it is now, the same way I would have liked it for a long time, to be and to live upon this people. As I could not tell even you, how the man can be a priest as it is written into My book.

There is no longer a priest on the earth, for the priest must be a man of one woman in his life of man, but who shall read and understand this word anymore? Why do you really believe that I said that the priests shall be from among those that are clean in My people? And why did I say that you should let Me be the ruler upon this people? Because I know when I put someone into the ministry of the priesthood and I know if that one has clean hands and after the law, and I know all the hands; those that are clean and those that have blood on them as well. And this is not all, but the pain is other, for if the man would let himself to be born once again, that is to be born from above, and to be born afterwards, then he would be a new creature and would no longer die, since he lets himself to be born from above.

My loved shepherds, I told you long ago, about a longing that I wanted to accomplish upon My people, and I said this: „Well, you shepherds, I would like you to have a life of a monk”. And why did I say this? I said to have a life of this kind and to give birth to My people from it. And if I said this then, I said this word upon My people that want to let itself to be born from above. And what does it mean that My Christian to have a monk life? It means to get out from the flesh and from the world and from his clay and to follow Me. Here is the significance of that speaking.

Well, sons, what did the people do, that wanted to have a monk life? For a man left his family, his house, his land and his flesh and got out from the world to have a monk life. And then, his relatives went to look for him, and when they found him, they called him to get out and to give him food that they brought with them, but the monk did not get out to them, and spoke a word from his new clay and his word was heard by his relatives after the flesh, and this is what he told them: „Have you not found anyone else more hungry than I am all your way to me? You brought food because you have natural affection for me and it is because of this that I do not receive.”

Behold, My dear, how much birth from above! As on God it is not written monk with fleshly relative, but it is written monk with heavenly relatives, and I could not make this work, neither upon the great and nor upon the small of My people. I wanted to make of this flock, a heavenly flock, but Abraham could not have been a father of those of the promise and not of those after the flesh, if they did not listen to get out of his land and go to the land given by Me. Here is why no one can understand why the Christians do not have to come here, as here the Lord fulfilled His consuming longing, that during this time to see on the earth a life and a living of a monk according to the order of Melchizedek, who was without genealogy and without relatives. Let him who has wisdom to understand how this comes upon the work and life of this Christian monk. This work is too big, My dear, it is too heavenly, and that is why you cannot live it until you let yourselves be born from above, after the order of Melchizedek. And I want to expound this working into action, and that is why I took the man and touched him from above and brought him into My house and put him a priest and a bishop; and I strive hard to complete through him the church renewal and the coming back to its womb. I anointed him because there was no one to anoint him since the thread of the anointed has been broken for such a long time. I anointed him; he was not anointed by those that said that they are the ones to anoint. (The Orthodox Church, r.n.). I anointed him, and they, willy-nilly, received him as My anointed one. He works the work of obedience. He, (The Bishop, Ioan-Irineu, r.n.), is in My obedience and stays under My obedience; he stays because I strive hard to give him power to stay. And here is what I say to you: „Blessed are the churches that are raised after the fall of the church pillar; blessed are those churches, which this son entered and served in, for they received the holiness from above”.

Wow to the people who say about themselves that they are with the church law and who wrote books over books about My name and about My laws, for those books are not! They are clay, and they go back into the clay, for the spirit of those books is not a spirit with life, because of the lifeless ones, which made them; and those books are not, and these achievements stand against them. This anointed son, who is called in heaven the angel of the church, stays by My choice, as I and not they chose him, but wow to those that impinge on his power from Me! Wow to those who want to walk upon the light of the work of this son! This son is like a sword, and wow to those who try themselves on its edge, as I am the word of this anointed son with a great anointment during this time of trouble and disbelief. He is the apostle of the nations of the earth, and it is only I, Who know how to work upon him. But here, the Lord, Jesus Christ, is to speak with you, shepherds of the people of this work, for there are things that are done without the order from above, and this hidings are called works without obedience; they are called works that are not come from heaven to be put into action; and they are called things that are worked out from the earth, and you make Me abscesses secretly worked out and built without the spirit of obedience. Your spirit is fighting against My spirit and you insist upon overcoming after the spirit of your will, and this thing worked from the sides is not going well. Love and embrace this moment of counsel with God joyfully, and let yourselves under My obedience, as it is better for you to listen to Me, than for Me to listen to you. Let My time come, sons, and turn the other side also, as it is not good only for Me to listen to you. Painful trouble come upon you from this thing that you work from bottom up and you keep Me subjected under the will of your heart. Do you not really believe what I say to you? I rejoice in My spirit that the moment to sit in counsel with you came, you shepherds of My people.

I stay with My little Mother and with you at the table; We sit together and rejoice of those from heaven and from those that are brought for the heaven into this day. I receive for My little Mother those from your love, and you receive for My glory those from My love. Love for love, and we go forward with our counsel together, you that are loved by the Lord, Jesus Christ. And behold, I rejoice in My spirit that I have a pleasant opportunity to sit in counsel with you, shepherds of My people. For I came with this work and taught the one who stayed to listen, and he who could learn from hearing, that one works My commandments upon his life without tempting and making the Spirit of the Lord tired from bottom up by the thread of this work. It is about each individual Christian, but if you, Christian, who was received with this work, if you come to the gate of the Lord and pay a tribute ahead of time as a consequence of your mistakes that are done by the unfulfillment and violation of holiness and from the violation of those that are written into My book, then you bring the Lord into the mud of your deeds, as a servant that you put to clean and rub your dirt. So is the one who comes with his dirtiness and troubles made by the disobedience of the law and requires a word upon the trouble brought as a tribute at the Lord's gate. I have been pierced by this pain for forty years, (The period of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and I let Myself be dragged into the mud of the deeds and troubles that come from the unfulfillment of the holy things. But if I let the gate open into this place set aside for Me, at the reach of the one who did not go the length of coming unwashed, if the law of holiness was not put at the borders from here, he would have also weakened here My power, My right and My bed, that is My bed from the Christian, as the Christian does not come in with fear, but he comes in proudly, as he can come in.

I have children, among those that came in here and then touched those that cannot enter her, that are sick bodily and spiritually, and I put them a limit of halt, that is they got sick into their bodies from the touching of those that cannot enter here, as the Christian that entered here cannot remain; he cannot remain in those from here, and lays hold of the lawlessness and blood, children, and lays hold of the blood price; however, he lays not only his hand but also his heart, and wow, this is the second death, after the first resurrection at the same time with the touching of My place here. I am resurrection and life in holiness here, and who dies after this resurrection, what shall I do with the one who touched the death from before? And here is what I tell you: „The Christian of this work insists upon the Lord to prophesy peace and reconciliation to him when there is no peace between him and God. And if he insists on the Lord for a word of peace, that word is a forced word and it is not according to the work of the peace if the Christian is not reconciled to God by keeping of the commandments and of the holiness in deed and spirit, for the mystery of the heavenly fulfillment is to love the one who hates and hits you, but this work cannot be completed if the one who hurts you does not come to love you too. Behold, sons, your enemy has to love you, and then it can be called a word of peace, and not when there is no peace. If the Christian understands this resurrection, only then he has the right to knock at the Lord's gate and to ask. It cannot be said otherwise, that it was given to him, and it is said that he took it by himself, that he dared to take it into the name of the Lord and from the Lord.

There is a commandment among My commandments which says: «You shall not worship other gods besides Me»; it is, but this fulfillment is not understood, for here there is another significance through this work, that is, you shall not make any opportunity of anything or anyone to hide under this work with another work which comes from its outside; with deeds that come from its outside; with things foreign to the spirit of this work, so that you may not be blamed before the Lord of worshipping other gods, for this is what the evil spirit is trying to do, that is to blame you after the law, and the word that has come to Me today carries a heavy weight into it with Me.

I have set a heavenly law to the foundation from here, because I cannot stay otherwise among the people, but those that entered this garden cannot learn not to worship other gods. Oh, if you, Christian, gave birth to a child, and if you gave birth to him without law, if your child, you kindred and your house does not have Me, and if you came and touched this bath of resurrection and then go again and touch blood, that is not fulfillment, this means that you go out from Me again and worship something else, and you touch even with your heart the dead, and death which the dead stay in, and then you wish to come back and touch with God and with God's place.

Oh, My loved shepherd, what are you looking for, son, into the world? Oh, how shall not have sheep without a shepherd? And what else should the sheep do if the shepherd seeks into the world? I look at you and see that you want to be with two flocks; that you are both with Christ's flock and also with Caiaphas's flock, and I said this: «Get out of the world, My people!». At least you should get out now because you can, My loved people, My loved shepherd. Get out, son, because I do not want to find you into the world and into its work. Get out from the world and do no longer eat with Annas and Caiaphas as well, for they are My crucifiers from that time and until now. I put you aside by this work from heaven. Get out child, at least now get out, and be good to God and to the law of the holiness. Oh, I also entered the temple but I did not stay stuck to Caiaphas. I entered to fulfill those that are written, but I did not get into their Synedrium. What are you looking for among those from the world? And why do you mix death over the life that you take from Me and after a clean order? Caiaphas will never change his robe, for here is what he does: he goes and gives the Christian over to the Praetorium, and look that Pilate and Herod are on friendly terms with each other as then. (It is about the rulers of the church and the political governors, r.n.). Be wise and see what you give to your right and to your left, for you need to have this work and its anointed ones on your right, and you have to understand this distinction. Behold, your children are not with Me. Do you believe that it is so? Those that are in the monasticism cannot be monks in this way, (Monasticism in the church of world, r.n.) and you do not want, son, to listen to Me so that you may no longer work with them from the sides and to make plans with them without Me. They are not your God. I am your God and it is right to love Me with all your soul, with all your virtue and deed. Be faithful as it is not in this way that you should be a monk. St. Serafim of Sarov came of a wealthy family and was a noble in that time, and if he left for monasticism out of his love, he forsook greatness, relatives, city and kindred, for you are not a monk if you are still in the world, if you are still among your relatives. What did I tell you before? I spoke to you that I have hope in nothing but in monachism because it is clean and it is not from the world. It is so, My loved ones, and that is why I said: „I would like you have a life of a monk, so that I may have this kind of life before Me and that the Lord may have hope and work”. If the monasticism from before was so holy, so detached from the world and from the kinship, it was required even more from you, and behold, I have no hope left. I put this order here, and those from here left the body, the world and their relatives and they also left their will, so that I may have a hope left. Oh, it is a great thing that the Lord may have something like this in this time so dark, and look into all sides and understand to see the heaven and the earth at twilight and in torpidity. But look from the darkness and see this window of light, which stays in the middle of the darkness and which is not loved by the rulers of the world, for the thing of this garden is this window, and this is what I said that I work from the middle of this people: a breach in the wall of the darkness and let the light enter by this window! But the people are no longer used to the light, and the light gets into their way and they cannot receive it, because the time of the darkness was long, for there is no longer a life of a monk into this wilderness foreign to the light. I opened this window from heaven and the light is seen through it and the people get upset. The people that are rulers over the darkness get upset; they are angry with this light because they are no longer used to see and to stretch their hands to the light. They are angry and started a war against the light and its appearance into the midst of the people, but this light gets into their way and its window it getting wider over the darkness, as the darkness cannot overcome the light when it is shown from its heavenly heights; and if someone wants to read it, no one wants to leave and understand, because this is written: «Hearing they shall not hear and seeing they shall not see». But they will see, because the weather is blind to see and the dumb to speak and for those that are lame to walk, for woe to the sheep without a shepherd!

My loved ones if the faith is not working, such a faith is ineffective and it is not really faith. And here is what I am about to do: „I will make a forced law come down, a holy law that will get out of itself.” I said not long ago that I would take the people around Romania and release fire and pain over them for understanding. I said that My little Mother is watching upon Romania, for Romania is the garden of the brightness that comes upon it. I said that I would work over Romania as well, and I would work specially. I will have a holy law come down, from which it will come out itself. And what will I have come down? I will have plagues and wrath come down upon the body of My creature in Romania and I will cleanse it to its bone, and behold, My dear, the bodily sufferance will be the holy law which will sanctify My chosen tabernacle into the Christian. Let My people know and he who is holy, let him be holy still and he who is filthy will receive the law of sufferance, which will show in the body the signs of the Lord, Jesus Christ, and no one will be conceited concerning this work.

Love fasting with your body and your heart. Get out from the world and take the world out of you. Enter and close the door after you and work out vigils and give glory to the One Who is glorified by the signs that come with Him. Release those that are enslaved by you and I say again: Make use of the opportunity to get out of the bondage. Honor the heavenly celebrations in you and among you and do not answer to the call of the Caesar in the Lord's days. (You should not go to work in the Sundays and holidays, r.n.). Sanctify yourselves from top to toe and I say it again, be holy as it is the time to start the judgment from the Lord's house.

Do no longer be clay, children of the glory, which is coming with Me. Be heaven, and remain heaven, and let the heaven be new as well, My loved ones. Search out your feelings and sentiments and do not get out of My room and My life, as I will not get out of your life too if you take after Me. Let Me work upon you after My will, for you do not have time any more to work according to your will for Me.

He who is holy, let him be holy still, as it is no weapon that may work against this law. And he, who is filthy, divided and confounded, let him receive the law of holiness, which comes from the sufferance that is clearing and working cleanness. I am with the faithful ones, and the faith is working in them. I am and My plan is with Me. Amen. And I will give each one according to his work.

I sit out of love in the counsel of this day with you, and blessed are you if you receive Me. Blessed is the one who loves the work of this garden and washes his clothes, and let him enter the gates with Me.

The Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit feel rest after this counsel. Let there be rest upon the Spirit of God, Which is working into this garden. The Spirit is spirit and the body is body. Let the spirit overcome against the body, into your members, shepherds of My people. I let the peace and My Spirit upon you, and you should be a favorable and God's receiving dwelling. Be obedient to Me as I was to My Father. I am before you. Be obedient to the One Who is greater than you. Pray to the Father of the heavens as I was praying, and say like Me: «Not My will but Your will be done, Father of the heavens, of the sons of the heavens». Amen.

Peace to you from the Lord! Peace to the Lord from you! Oh, I have worked out peace between Me and you by the spring of this heavenly counsel. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Nativity

The Lord shows the unbelief of the bishops and the scribes

Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will toward men! This is what the angels were singing above the manger that received God, and the shepherds from the sheepfold, hearing the song of the little angels, came down to the manger to rejoice at the appearance into the midst of the people of the Lord, Jesus Christ, the King proclaimed by the prophets.

Glory from the highest to the child, Jesus Christ, Who was born into His faithful manger! Glory, My dear, and peace upon you, peace and good order, for today the little angels have filled the air from above the manger of the heavenly Son, Jesus Christ, as Christ, the Word, has a heavenly and faithful manger on the earth that is given from you to the One Who made the heaven and the earth. Glory and peace on earth, as little earth is left to God's dwelling. Peace to you with Me, the Son of God, Who became flesh from the Holy Trinity to be the Godly Trinity into the men.

Peace, and I say it again, let My peace be upon you! I am not angry with you. Even if some of you were upset with Me, the Lord, I am not upset. I use a good and sweet measure; I do not use the measure that is measured to Me. And behold, I proclaim the joy of the remembrance of My birth, of the Son of the Godly Trinity, and I proclaim to you the joy of the song of the birth giver Mother, who sang with joy and said: «My soul magnifies the Lord, as my spirit has rejoiced in God my Savior». My birth giver sings to you on the day of My birth celebration among the people; she sings and her song is heard, and she sings: „My spirit magnifies the Savior and Redeemer, Who makes the strength with the arm of His might and scatters the pride on Its heights; He Who makes the power on Its thrones come down and lifts up to heaven the humility of those from the low; He Who gives good things to those that are hungry and brings to futility those that are full of the earthly riches, as the Lord, the Savior, rises and proclaims Israel, His servant, and remembers His good promise made to Abraham over the ages, and the haughty minds will turn into dust.” Amen.

I am the Son of God, Who was proclaimed by the prophets, but when it came for Me to show Myself and to come to the God's creature and to be seen among the people, the haughtiness of the man was big at that time, and Herod worked deliberately then and called an assembly of bishops and scribes to search out and to understand the Scriptures about the place where God's Messiah was to appear. And when they found out about the town of Bethlehem, as it was written into the prophets, they arose to destroy the fulfillment of the prophecies, as they did not look forward to be able to understand that the Holy Son, that came out from Bethlehem, will be forever King upon the people and His life and dwelling upon the earth will be endless, and He will be the Victor from the Father of the Heavenly Trinity. And, like those from that time, neither those from today want to receive Me with those that are written into the prophets for My times; they do not want, because they do not understand it from the flesh and blood, and rather they are to understand from the Holy Spirit if it was for them to understand, but I tell you, it was not given for them to understand. And why it is not given for them to understand? It is not given to them as the God's birth giver spoke then that „the proud will be scattered in the thought of their heart and will be turned down from their thrones and the rich will be taken out into the desert and Israel will be raised; he who serves in humility, is steadfast and works in faith”. And if this is written, the word of God's Mother, which is prophesied by her in the time of the good and big annunciation and My appearance among the people, cannot be untrue.

The bishops and the scribes of this time say that they know everything and have everything. Oh, those from that time did not say otherwise as well, but I was a Bishop too, and what an anointment I have got from the Father, and the rulers of the law did not know it and even now they do not know how comes such an anointment, for the anointment on earth is one thing, and the anointment from heaven is another thing, My loved ones. I bring glory and thanks to My Father, together with the heaven and with you, as the Father worked in the power of the Trinity and proclaimed the birth of this work and its growth among the people and its kingdom among the people, that is into the midst of the people, as the living John spoke and told to this time saying: «Behold, the Lord's tabernacle among the people shall reign and enclose the faithful Israel». I will make this work be understood and I will speak to the teachers of the law, and they will be caught into it, for they will be judged by it, as they do not want the Lord to come; they do not want the coming King to reign, and they want to reign over My flock instead, but they who do not want how to reign will no longer reign, and the weak ones, the small ones and the humble in their spirit will reign, as theirs is the kingdom of the heavens, as I spoke from the top of the kingdom of the blessings that come with Me. And this will be the miracle, that I will be on the earth with the people and I will show visibly My kingdom among the faithful of the book of the Lord's prophesies. If they want it or not, if they believe it or not, I am, and I will fulfill it for a heavenly kingdom on the earth, for the whole earth is Mine and not of those that forgot that I said so. Then they will be judged by the law; they and not you, who were judged by their law. I am the Judge; I am the faithful Economist, Who wanted to be believed by this heavenly work among the people, and I wanted to wipe out the guilt and to write half, and I wanted to wipe out the sin of condemnation and to write half, but if they do not want to work after the example of the pagan economist to go toward faithful deeds, how can I receive them in the tents of My righteous ones?

When they treat My sheep unfairly and are ruthless with those that are faithful to My miracles, I cannot be unfair like them. Behold, I will not be their judge, but I will bring into their face the law, which will condemn the deeds done against the word of the law, for they did not love mercy, but asked for the sacrifice for the word of the violated law. My church is the roof of the love law and no law will press on it, as it is written: «The law is for the unfair and not for those that work righteousness and mercy». I will speak once again in the house of My Father and I will terrify all the unfaithful soul that proclaims the book of the law not submitting to this book. This work is called the Word of God and this is its purpose, to speak and the word from heaven not to be bound. I will not work upon this unbelief, but I will work out of love to open the closed heart, the haughty one, the self-conceited one, because I am the Master of the creature and I will not let the creature swerve from the truth, for I will get into its way after the truth, and I will fulfill what is still left to be fulfilled.

I am the King of Israel. I am the One born of the Virgin into the cave of the dumb, and these will speak and testify the miracle that I came down with, as I promised when I went to My Father and your Father. I am the fruit of life; I and My garden from here; I and My warm manger, which is on you with Me. I will make a new birth of the Holy Spirit and fire come down, and I will speak inside of the dead hearts, and they will catch fire and will be a pleasant sacrifice for Me, for My kingdom<sup>52</sup> is written into the prophets to be in this time. Truly, truly I speak to you: I am this work, and it is true into your midst.

I am the Only One born of the Father and I am born among you of the Holy Spirit, My loved sons, and you are a manger to Me, and here, we celebrate the remembrance of My birth as Man and God from the womb of the too Clean Virgin, Mary, the queen of the heaven and the earth, for this is how My dwelling is called; and we celebrate together the joy of My birth in you, children of the birth from above, the one from the Holy Spirit, in the joy of our Father. Proclaim well the mystery of the heavens among the people! Cry out so that the thirsty for the word of God may hear! Cry out and speak about the birth of this work! I want to sit in counsel with the angel of the church from Romania and I want to speak from the heaven over the rulers that sit upon My flock. Do not be afraid, you children of the birth from above, as the birth from above is the one, which does not strip of itself. Do not grieve if you are blasphemed as sons of the resurrection that is coming with Me. I was blasphemed and judged before you were, and behold, He Who is in you is greater than the one that is in them.

Do not get angry, My loved ones, if I remind and tell you again to take care of the holiness of My manger, as the victory that will work from the middle of this heavenly and not earthly garden consists of this. Verginica that gave you birth through My word which was born of her, tells you, she tells you together with the heaven: „Peace!”, and I, the Lord, Who was born of the Father and of the Holy Spirit and was incarnated to appear in the clean Virgin, leave you the peace and joy of this feasting; the beginner of the work of the heavenly Son among the people.

Verginica<sup>53</sup> is My word, and My word is with you.

– Mother Gigi<sup>54</sup> loves you. Mother Gigi stands at the door and waits for the opening of the door.

Sons, I love you, but I'm cold without you. You are my warmth and you go out without my word, and it is the time for you to burn and to purify by fire what is left to be cleaned. Are you not cold without me and without my word? But others are cold; you should know that they are cold. The world of today is cold even if it does not know what this cold is.

Today is the day of the birth; this is how the feast of this day is called. The Lord was born into the straws, my loved ones, and the straws received the Lord, and today He is celebrating His remembrance of His birth upon the world, for the world is a dry straw; the world is like a bunch of straws, as it was then, but this is what the Lord spoke about you, sons of this work, and about this people through the words of this work: „You Christian people, do not be splints, child. Be little flowers, not splints. Be a bouquet of everlasting flowers so that the Lord may have you”. The remembrance of the Lord’s birth is celebrated by the world like a birth into dry and lifeless straws. Let it be on you a birth into the flowers and in a manger of flowers, for this is what I said: you shall be little flowers and not splints.

Oh, my loved flowers, I have much strength into my arms; I have always stay with it into my arms around you, so that I may breathe strength and holy blood in you. And how comes holy blood? That is a holy longing; that is the Holy Spirit. I do not have many flowers, but I will make out of you a bouquet mingled with ravishing fragrances, and I will take and give according to each one’s deed to those that come to receive a scent of heavenly flowers.

Oh, my paradise, my garden that has been sung even from the time of my body, as this is what I was singing then; I was singing and crying, and I was singing to the garden from you, which is my heaven from now, and I was saying: „My paradise, my sweet garden, I would never leave you. You paradise, many souls were crying into your gate, that they were not able to enter you”.

I had, children, the gift of the prophecy of the prophet’s prophets of old. I had this gift, but, although I did not have a human wisdom, my gift was God, the Word, Who spoke through my little mouth to you. And I had the gift of the foreseeing and I saw this heaven came down from the heaven, this garden from you, and I sang it after my little understanding of that time. And if I proclaimed it to be, than why should I not dwell in it? Oh, I would not go anywhere from it, as you do not know with your eyes how this garden is. I know, as the Lord adorned it for me and for my children in it, that is for my watchmen from this garden; that is for the servants of this garden. Oh, and my people did not know what I was singing then; it did not know and the son of this people stands at the gate and my people does not want to make a little white coat for itself. I was asking it again and again to sing the song of the wedding of the heavenly King’s son and my people did not understand that the fulfillment of those that are sung is coming near. I came into the middle of my people accompanied by this garden that was shown to me by the Lord; it was shown to me from afar, as the Abraham, Isaac and Jacob saw it, as they also saw from afar the time of God’s Son, and behold, this is that thing that was seen by me from afar; it is. This is the wonderful thing that I saw then. I want to remain happy in the paradise that was prepared to me by the Lord, Jesus Christ. I want that the word of God may receive birth in the manger of the heaven from you. Let there be no longer desolation of the word of the heaven; let my heaven no longer be devoid of me, for without me this heaven is not alive; it is not blessed; it is not working upon death. Let me be with you, to turn this garden into a vineyard full of angels, as the heavenly words are carried by seven angels to their manger, my loved ones and my few children.

We have work to do, children. Let us get up to work, for the Lord has to establish higher and higher the angel carrying the good news of my church. Let God, the Word, be with you by the word, and let me be with you by the word of God. Let the joy be upon us, upon me and you and upon the angels that came carrying the heavenly words on their wings up to you, for you are the manger of the word of the Son of God.

We will take and eat peacefully and we will rejoice over the bread that is for living and over the word of God that was born with you and came into life in the book of the testimony of this time.

Let us embrace each other and sing the songs of the birth and to celebrate the heaven with a heavenly joy upon you and upon my faithful people. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of Basil the Great

The Lord finds unbelief on the earth and breathes a spirit of revival over the rulers of the church of the world. He comes as a healer, not as a false prophet

Peace to you! In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, peace to you, to those that are faithful to My promises that I declared in the time of My body! Peace and New Jerusalem upon My creature, as for this I came with this work on the earth, but I did not find room at anyone and I found at you, those that knew that I am the One Who is, that I am the One Who comes, as it is written into the Scriptures. I am with you through the word; I am the One Who speaks to you the words of the Holy Spirit, the words of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and I spoke to you and commanded you to take out living water from this well and to pour it over those that will stay and over those that will not stay under this early and late rain; and those that believe into My words, will arise and get life; and, again, those that will deny the One Who speaks from the heavens to wake up the shepherds and the flock, will smash against this rock and will be crushed by it. I am this rock, which is called the Word of God, which speaks from the holy mountain; the word of God speaks from those that are in heaven. Blessed are those that receive Me and run to listen and to believe in God, the Word, and to fulfill the holy life before the One Who comes. I spoke to you to proclaim this work of godly word from the rooftops, and I fulfilled when I said that you are My subjects, My sons; you are My bed which I was received in, which I was well pleased in, and which I work in by the word.

Oh, children of faith! Amen, amen I say to you: there is no faith on the earth. But what does the world say that I am? For behold, the Samaritan woman has been from that time and until now, and one like that believes and knows that time of the searching that comes with Me, as this is what I said, that wherever My Gospel is worked, there the faith of this woman will be seen, for I met her at the well and I worked, and I work the same today as well.

But who does the world say that speaks to you? But what does the Synedrium say that I am, the One that speaks at you? For behold, as in that time, it says that I am a demon; it says that I am not; it says that I am dead and that you speak to a dead man. Not even to a prophet; it does not even say that I am Elijah, not even this. But who do you say that I am? You say that I am the One Who is, and let the scribes, the bishops and the teachers of the world hear; and let the crowds hear what you say about this work, which is called the Word of God.

Amen, amen, I say to you: the day to speak once again in the Scriptures in the house of My Father has come. The word of God is working from those that are in heaven; the word is working upon the Synedrium of the Romanian flock.

With fear of God, with faith and with love come near, you, shepherds of the Christian flock; you, servants of those that are holy; you, teachers and interpreters of the law, and you, scribes, come near to the One Who speaks to you from those that are in heaven, on the right hand of the Father of the Heavenly Trinity, Who is called God. If you want it or not, if you believe it or not, come near and listen, so that you may want Him and believe in God and that justice worked out of faith may be written to you. I am the Lord, Jesus Christ, Whose name is the Word of God. (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) I am the Alpha and the Omega, I am the Omega and the Alpha, as God is without the Beginning and without the End. I am the new Beginning, which is coming with Me. But who do you say that I am? You say that I am a demon, that I am an evil spirit, that I am a false prophet. Oh, do not say this, Jerusalem; do not throw with stones at Me, as I leave you if you say and do so; I go and do not stay with you if you do not look into this work to know Me. I go and you will see Me when I come and when an angelic song is heard: «Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit!». Amen.

You shall not say Zion that I am a demon; you should not say as in that time. Look into this work that I have been working at for a long time; look and you will see the One Who is written about that is coming. But I do not want to come toward you without you knowing it; I do not want to find you sleeping or lingering; I do not want to come like a thief, as if I come this way what will you do and what will you give Me then? Oh, you have to give Me a living and left standing fruit. I did not come to tell you about another Scripture, as He Who brought the Scripture into existence is the One that speaks to you. I did not come with other Gospel, for I am the Gospel, and the words of the Lord, Jesus Christ, cannot be contained into this world, and those that are born from above have room in it. I am the good and faithful Steward and I want you good, My loved Zion, and I want to wipe out the guilt and to write half; and I want to wipe out the sin of disbelief and to write half; moreover, I want to wipe out the sin of blasphemy and to write half. But if you condemn according to your law, you should know that I will suddenly come and I will bring this law into judgment<sup>55</sup> with you and I will remind you that you did not work according to it; that you did not work forgiveness, not even like the pagan steward.

Oh, shepherds of My flock, who do you say, that I am? I am the One Who took the yoke from the neck of My flock and I put the cover of the love law upon My church, and I said that a brother shall not condemn his brother, and I stayed outstretched on the cross so that you may hear the words from the cross, as this is what I said: «Father, forgive them, as they do not know what they do!». I am the Son of God, Who is proclaimed by the prophets, and they are not what you say that they are. I am not from among the false christs that are into the world. I am the Christ of God and I am not in the flesh, but I am in the Holy Spirit.

Oh, you Synedrium of My church, I did not bring this work on the earth to be judged again by the bishops, scribes and Pharisees, and I came as a healer for the man's salvation from the great death. I am not a false prophet and I did not come into your house to spoil the law, and rather I came to take care of the wound of your disbelief and sin, so that I may not find you with your members broken when I knock at the door to be opened for Me.

But what do you say that the false prophet means? That one says that there is no God and also says that the heaven and the hell are here. The false prophet does not testify that Jesus Christ came in the flesh and that one is not from God's Spirit. And how comes Jesus Christ in the flesh? That is to live in your flesh as Christ lived in the time of His body, with His spirit and body alive, after My image and likeness<sup>56</sup>.

Oh, My church, why did you remain only on the outside with Me? Why do you believe that the Christ's church is the wall that you get under only to say that you are a church to Me? Oh, the false prophet<sup>57</sup> sees you and knows that you are not like Me and he is glad and laughs at your Christian name. The false prophet does not do God's will in his own body, and he is glad and laughs at Me when he sees that you also do not do the will of the One that you call on His name with your little mouth before My flock. Oh, what great is the Scripture that speaks to you that you honor Me with your lips, but you are far from Me in your heart; that tells you that hearing you do not hear and seeing you do not want to understand and to believe that I am and that I work upon My vineyard.

Oh, Jerusalem, oh, flock of this time, do not seek Me a guilt after the law, as I do no longer hide now, as the word of God cannot be bound. I came to you with this work and I tell you to love the Lord, your God; to love Him with your life and to love My brother as yourself, as he who is not My brother, is not My neighbor and he is also not your neighbor; that one went to work at another master and listens to another master and he is not My neighbor and I cannot reveal Myself to this one if he does not love Me, God. I do not give My mysteries into the hand of the unbelievers, and rather I give them to the believers, but truly, truly, it written into the Scriptures that the Lord does no longer see faith on the earth, and that is why those of today do not know how to understand God's mysteries.

Oh, you, Synedrium that sits and judge over My flock! But who do you say that I am, the One Who speaks now with you? I tell you who do you say that I am. I am the One that is judged by you, accused of blasphemy in your Synedrium. Oh, and those of that time did not speak otherwise, but I tell you today otherwise: I am the First that stays into the house of My Father and I look at you how you commit the sin of blasphemy and I tell you: Do no longer commit blasphemy towards those that are written by Me for you to fulfill so that you may be holy. Oh, what did I let upon you? I let the law of love and I told you to love Me with your heart, with your mind, with your gifts, with your soul and with your good walking. I let this law upon you and you do not do after My law, and you commit blasphemy and break over the cheek and spirit of your neighbor, for your neighbor is the one who works after My holy law.

Oh, you servant of those holy that are Mine! I said that those that are holy are not to be defiled, but look, priest; look, servant, take a good look at your hand and at your heart and do not let them be defiled, for your hand touch those that are My holy things, and those that are holy burn and clean any filth and punish the sin of blasphemy over those holy that are Mine. But here, My neighbor is your brother; he is your neighbor, and I told you not to cover your sins; and I told you not to condemn your brother, for if you denigrate the one that is sanctified, the one that is anointed by Me, and if you condemn your brother, you should know that you are not a steward of My kingdom; if you convict the one that is anointed by Me to pasture My flock. (Concerning the bishop Ioan-Irineu of Bistrița, who took part at the ceremony on the day of the foundation stone laying down of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem; part of the Orthodox Church Synod wanting his condemnation, r.n.). Do not commit evil in your mind, but rather judge with your heart, and love your brother who believes in God and who believes into My mysteries that are hard to understand. Love the one that loves Me; love the one that loves the life with Me, for if you do not do so, how can I receive you into the tents of the righteous ones? How can I wipe out your sin of blasphemy that you commit over the holy things of Mine?

You made a book, a law and a dogma upon you into the name of the Holy Spirit, and I said that that book and that helm is good; I said it according to your advice, and woe to you, Synedrium and priest, and to you, monk, woe, if I confront you with this book, for I let you make it so that I may look then at what you were doing and not doing from it. As look, what are you doing out it: you make a judgment upon My Christians, who come out of the world, out of the ranks, out of their land and out of their bodies; they come out to walk into My holy and clean wills. He who loves Me works out My commandments. The law is for the unrighteous, not for the righteous, and you get up now and judge the one who listens to Me, the one who lives according to My commandments; however, I will suddenly come and tell you that you are ruthless and condemning, and I will take your service if you do not work after the example of the unfaithful steward who worked mercy and not judgment. Behold, the false prophet laughs at you and it is sin to give the false prophet an occasion of blasphemy over God's things. I came into the house of My Father and you say that I am not the One Who is. Oh, and I am always with you; I am in the Holy Spirit, the One that came down at your counsel, and I speak through the prophets at your counsel.

Oh, My church, I came by the word to ask you what you are doing, to see what you are doing, and to show you what you are doing, as it is written what you are doing. I came to tell you, so that you may not say that you did not know from the Holy Spirit. Nothing is hidden from God's face, but do you still believe in this Scripture? And here is what I still say to you: I came to tell you that forty years have passed since I have been working by you a heavenly work that I brought with Me from My Father. (Starting with 1995 by Virginia, the Lord's trumpet – the sixth, r.n.). I did not come from Myself, but My Father sent Me with this work upon the earth, but, as then, I did not have any place with it in the house of My Father, and I was received and sheltered in a poor manger and I stayed with it in the midst of a humble and tiny people, not taken into account by the rulers of the earth. I passed with a tiny bunch of living hearts through the Red Sea, (Communist dictatorship red beast, r.n.) and I crushed the world out of them and I shepherded them; I gave them water in the midst of their wilderness of faith and I gave them bread from heaven, for it is written into the Scriptures that the man lives not only by bread but he also feeds and lives alive by any word that comes out from God. I gave to this tiny people the mysteries that I still had to bring, as then you could not wear the clothes that were for this time and not to have been sold to Herod. (The communist dictatorship, r.n.). And then I worked and closed a garden and I said that this garden should not be as on earth; and I said that this small sheepfold, which My word has its manger in, should be a beginning of Canaan.

Oh, you bishop, scribe and teacher, do you believe that at the baptism of God's Son, the voice of the Father of Godly Trinity spoke? This is how you should understand this work that I reveal to you, and do not get angry with those that kept it alive. You shall not take on the garment of wrath to do evil and to come with unbelief against this clean garden, from which I urge you to keep a holy life and make a new little coat and a faithful heart to the promises delivered by your God. I did not come from Myself but My Father sent Me. I came and I submitted Myself to you and to the order from you, My church. I could not knock at your door that you may see Me, and rather I came secretly, and I called a Nicodemus, (The bishop Irineu of Bistrița, r.n.), and I spoke with him from the heavenly ones and I submitted Myself to you through his hand, and here is what I do now: I come with him by hand before you, Synedrium of nowadays, and blessed are you if you believe that I am with him into your midst. And if you wanted to condemn him because he listened and believed that I was, then you would condemn Me and not him.

Here what a peace in the word! Oh, you Synedrium from the time of the Holy Spirit; Synedrium of My Romania, here I am by the word in your and My patio. I am. Peace to you! I have always spoken to My little people that I kept hidden from Herods and Judases. I have been coming and speaking for forty years in his midst and I have been wrapping him in the spirit of peace telling him: «Peace to you, little and tiny people!».

And I called him a bunch of flowers, and I called these little flowers My warm manger, the manger of God, and I arrived with the little one to the banks of the Jordan, but the way through the wilderness of unbelief was long and difficult. Oh, and I knew it, Zion, I knew that you are not prepared and that you are stiff-necked, and I did not knock too much to open for Me, but rather I took this well of honey above and I made a fence around this vineyard, so that the soil of this garden may be holy and to have a little Eden into this garden, from which to start a resurrection from Me, a living fragrance and a stream of clean and not troubled water, to give from it to the thirsty multitudes to catch a spirit of joy, holiness and heavenly and eternal peace; to give even to the wolves (The persecutors of the communist dictatorship upon the faithful, r.n.), to drink and to graze near My lambs, so that they may also become lambs, as I love your country very much, you Romanian people!

Oh, you were born at the same time with Me into the world, My country<sup>58</sup>! My Father made you come into being at the same time when I came in the flesh into the world, and then I sent to you the first called from My apostles (The apostle Andrew, r.n.), and he breathed a new and Holy Spirit upon you, and he turned you into a Christian, My first one called, and My Father named you the first one called, after the rank of the first apostle called to the apostleship. Oh, but then you were a martyr, My beloved country; you have been all the time a stumbling block among the nations, and here is what God has kept for you in order to give you the reward of your patience. My Father has had a piece of work for this time and sent Me with it to you to cleanse you and to wake you up, to do the will of My Father and then to call under your vineyard the one who persecuted you and to give him from Me, so that he may also be like Me and like you, and to make Me a new shirt, a new church, clean and holy, as My first church was. Oh, come into the first love! Come, My love, so that I may also come with a visible glory and sing with Me the Song of God! Come into My love! Behold, I do not let you die in your blood, and I come towards you and I call the trumpet upon you. Oh, let yourself be woken up by your God and wash and sanctify yourself and be in the law of your God, My love!

Oh, shepherds of the church! I am the head of the church. I am the Good Shepherd, after the order of Melchizedek. I came to you, My church, and I came to the shepherds of your flock. I came to see your face and to remind you how your face, your heart and your life in My life should be. I did not come to spoil the law, but rather I came to remind you not to violate or break My law, and to turn towards Me, as I am the One Who forgives your sin, but be with a heavenly economy in your spirit, so that the Holy Spirit may be able to work upon your spirit, upon your advice, upon your Synedrium.

Oh, you Synedrium, you should not receive the spirit of lying and self-greatness into your hearts; you shall not receive the spirit of the world and of greed, and rather you should know My search into your midst. Do not be afraid of the Herods that do not believe in God; do not be afraid of these false prophets as willy-nilly they will listen to God. Seek with the heavenly kingdom and strengthen your holiness, for all your ornaments from the earth will be added to you and you will be alive. Speak about God to the sinful world, but let your body be whole; that is to have apostles, prophets, teachers, interpreters of the heavenly languages, and you should be clean, My church, and let the world come to life at your voice so that it may see the way and walk in it. It is written: «He, who knows My ways and does not walk in them, shall not speak about God», but you should walk, understanding and speaking, as your Lord does from His mountain. Amen.

Oh, glory to You, My Heavenly Father, for You were and spoke into Your Son, into Your house and Your Son's, and Our Holy Spirit's, Which is working upon Zion.

I came into the patio of My apostles and I say it again today: «Peace to you!». I am; in the Holy Spirit I am. Blessed are you, who will know that I am, the One that is, for the church is from heaven and not from earth. Blessed are they who believe in the spirits of the heavens. Do not kill the spirits of the heavens. Do not limit the Holy Spirit by letter. Do not judge God in His work. I am with those that are small and weak; I came towards you with those that are disregarded. As Noah<sup>59</sup> and his house believed in the Lord, the same way, those that I spoke to during this time also believed in He, and they do not fulfill anything until I come and speak to them, and this is how they work; they work as I speak. Let temptation not be worked over My place from them, for you will soon see the balance of Zerubbabel into God's hands.

Peace to you, My Zion! Amen, amen, I say to you; you will not understand from flesh and blood, but rather you will understand from the Holy Spirit, Which works upon you if you work in the Holy Spirit and if you want your life to be living. I said that it will not be left one stone on another that will not be thrown down, but the stone of the church will be secured forever, and a heavenly status will be upon the church; and I will make this work be understood by the New Jerusalem upon My creature.

I came to let the peace upon those that are without peace, and I came to take the peace of those without God; to take the peace from these and to give God's peace to those, as My peace is good and My yoke is easy.

Amen, amen I say to you: the hour is coming and it has already come that the kingdom of Israel to be established; for Israel is the faithful people, and the Lord is coming to establish His kingdom upon His creatures. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Ascension

The Son of the Godly Trinity delivers a word upon His garden prepared by the word to stay before Him and to hear His voice upon His chosen garden. Amen.

I am the Word. Peace to you, as My name is the Word! Peace and ascension to you, for it is a feast of ascension! Behold, My ascension to the Father was that I may go and to be able to come to those that bear My name in them. And the ascension of those that believe in Me is My coming back to them and for what is there, that I may be with them, as where they are I may also be. And behold, I am with Mine, with those that believe and hear the Lord, for such work has the Lord in this time.

Peace upon My Romania and its ascension to Me, so that I may come to it, as I promised, that on the day when I ascended near My Father, I saw the plan into the hand of our Father and I saw the birth of a people and the glory that My Father gave it at its birth, for this people was anointed from its birth, and since then and until now the heaven has been working at its glory.

The opposing spirit has no longer had rest and got up to persecute this people and Romania was under its cross all the time, but the anointment from the beginning has kept its seed healthy and the Holy Trinity came with Romania, and the time is coming that its patience to be rewarded. And you, those that are established by Me to stand before Me, strengthen your hearts and your knees in the hope of this promise and stand with your hands up, so that Romania may receive its glory. It is a day of ascension. Exalt your hearts, faith and crying and stay well in the name of Romania. Stay into My glory; stay with Romania in front of Me and carry it to Me, so that I may come to it and give it My glory.

I come down to you with strength and power to give you from them so that you may be able to overcome, My dear, for I do not let you without heaven; I do not let you without victory and you will be able to overcome with Me. It is because of this that I went to My Father, so that I may also come to those that are Mine, to be able to come to you, who stay before My glory, which is to be seen upon Romania.

Let your hearts not be troubled for Romania's searching out. I am, and I am to wake it up and not to find it without watching. I have mercy on it. I came with a shake but I mixed the mercy and I work to wake it up. I sent a letter to the anointed one of Romania (The King Michael, r.n.) and I told him that I will come to wake it up and I did not work until I spoke first. I told My anointed one that I will be ruthless to prepare his coming. I told him that by the power that I let over this garden I will work powerfully and he will come to his place. I want to come and to leave a letter again so that My letter should reach him and that he may be in those things from Me, and that it may be worked with the heaven for the new path, but lift up the voice of those that are promised and stay under My power to spread a true faith for the work of this garden; for I am.

Let Him Who speaks at you, be heard and not denied, for behold, the heaven works together with the earth. The Lord works a new heaven and a new earth, and this victory has been waited for by ages, My dear. I want to embody the holy heaven in those that are chosen of the Romanian people, so that the Lord may have pillars around His anointed one. Oh, I look upon the wise of Romania and it hurts Me, and I want to call them out and to tell them things from Me, and that they may be like Me not like them, for I have the heaven into My arms and I want to set it into those that are Mine and to work miracles and glory that have never been heard of before.

Oh, if you, My Romania, if you knew to receive Me as your own good, I would glorify you without tasting the reward of disbelief and of not waking up. But look, I pass over you and call out to lift you up so that you may know how your staying and walking should be, and to learn how to distinguish your left from your right and to embrace with your Creator, Who comes to you like a bridegroom; and to come within the first love and for a feast at the table with Me. For I will spread a heavenly table into your midst and a multitude, thirsty for God, will come to see you, but your law will be from heaven and the law of the holiness will be upon you; and it will be a clean Eden in you, and the Holy Spirit that works and shares from Me through you, through those that want to be with Me and like Me, but get up, arise and look towards Me and put the unbelief away from you.

Oh, the loved of My garden, blessed are those that are faithful to this godly work, which is born into Romania, and those that do not believe, will be taken with fear so that they may come to those that are worked by God into it.

Let it be a feast with peace. I give you My peace; to you who stand before Me; to you and to those that came to the spring, so that you may drink and be alive; to have the Holy Spirit and to share it for the glory of Romania and for its ascension towards a visible glory. Behold, I breathe upon you and upon the little sweet hearts that came to the spring. Let their sweetness and the heavenly sweetness become a heavenly vessel to be taken from it, and let those that take from it come to life. I touch My heavenly hand, which is not visible, and I put peace, eternity, love and invincible power on the head of those that drink from heaven on this day of heavenly testimony. I am. I am by the word. I am from everlasting to everlasting and I work in those that are being sanctified to receive the Lord.

Christ, the ascended Lord to the Father and Who is not separated from those that know to believe and to work with Him, gives you a Christian greeting. The Lord is speaking from those that are in heaven: Christ is ascended! This word is true, for if He did not ascend, He would have not come to His people to be with them and in them with His everlasting kingdom. And behold, the time of victory and of the appearance of the visible glory is coming from heavens and it is being prepared coming.

Behold, I am with you! Blessed be your love, faith, watchfulness and the celebration of this heavenly moment and with all that you bring to My name and into My name. I catch you, I embrace you I and warm you up and breathe a heavenly Spirit upon you and upon those that are together with you, who take from the Lord, to have and to be spiritual and holy for the time of the great glory.

Verginica is with the host of the saints and angels and is working above Romania and sings together with the heavenly Mother and the song for Romania will not cease:

„Oh, holy Lord, heavenly Father,

Keep the Romanian crown with Your hand!”

The heaven is singing at you and in you. Do not wither under the blows thrown at you.

What can the man do to you? Ask the Holy Spirit upon those that mock the place of the manger of My word; ask that I remove their scales and to be able to see; ask and they will receive so that they may leave their weapons and take My holiness and stay in it, and through it they will believe.

Peace to you! I give you the peace and rest in Me as to some little children. Peace to you and to those that will believe through you! He, who receives the word that is proclaimed, will have a reward of the news giver. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the St. Elijah, the prophet

It is a day of heavenly feast over the garden of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem, which came into being by the work of the word of God on the land of Romania. It is a day of holy and chosen feast, together with other feasts with the heaven over the Lord's establishment from you. The Lord proclaims His word over His manger, on His holy mountain in your time.

Peace to you! I work from My holy mountain by the word! Peace to you, My children, My brothers, My friends, My loved ones, and of My Father, and of the heavenly heaven! Peace to you and celebration from you, as those that are from heaven took their place, hosts by hosts and rows by rows, over the garden of the heavenly celebrations established at you by the word of God. The great forerunner of the glory, which is coming after him, the great Elijah, the prophet, going in front of the hosts of glory, takes a heavenly tour and rejoices over the way prepared for Me and over the manger decorated for Me by you; he rejoices over the time of his work and hurries to fulfill his work of preparation for the appearance of the Lord, Jesus Christ, over His vineyard.

Oh, but Romania is guided by the protection of the My too Clean Mother, and the prophet Elijah works upon Romania together with My Little Mother; and he is united with Verginica<sup>60</sup> into his work, as Verginica has the passing of those days, My loved ones, and each one, until creation, stays in front of his host and looks, because now it is being prepared the fullness of the godly works over the creature, and the glory that is prophesied in the Scriptures about is being prepared for the appearance of the new age of the Lord and of the Lord's creature; that one from everlasting to everlasting. That is why God came down with this piece of work and behold, now, with this garden on earth, to work out the beginning of the new age, that is written in Scriptures about; and it is written about the work that the great prophet Elijah has, through the sons of this work which is from heaven with you. May his work with you be blessed; and My path among the people of the earth be well seen; and My glory will pass on this path from place to place, and it will bring with it and it will make the new age, of the heaven and of the heavenly and incorruptible earth, as this is what I said: «I make new heavens and a new earth, in which justice, peace and life will dwell». Amen.

The time is coming, children, that the world may see the Lord, as this is written, and My words will be seen coming true and all will be fulfilled, and behold, that is why I worked through you this place of coming down of My word and of the glory of My word, so that I may have a path of coming down and that the world may not say that it did not hear the voice of this trumpet call, which called from heaven for the urge to the resurrection and to a new life over the creature. And following the trumpet, the chariot of the prophet Elijah and his horses work, as it is written, and this chariot comes to gather everything that is spoiled and dry in the way, so that the way may be smooth, and that it may be shown the glory of God's path, Who is coming again; and let it be heard over you and over the multitudes the voice of the prophet which says: «Behold, the Lord is coming with His thousands of saints!» and every eye will see this glory. Amen.

My loved children, this is the work that the Lord nestled in your garden, the work of the preparation of the glory, which is coming with Me over the creatures. You are workers hired by the heaven, and you are blessed because of this hire, as you left land, houses, kindred, father and mother, brothers, and you let yourselves be hired into My vineyard. I am the vineyard and you are the branches and we will drink and eat at the autumn table, as the summer is coming to an end and the table of the blessed autumn is coming near when all the fruit that we labored for will be gathered and put on the table. And wine of a new vineyard will be on the table, as the wine will be new, My dear, and the old wine will be turned into water, as this is how it is when it is tried to put water into wine or when it is tried to turn the water into wine. Oh, with God this is not possible; this kind of wine has no room before God. And there will be a new, clean and not mixed wine that is worked with toil; and for this, I, the Lord, will give it a new, good and heavenly taste, so that the weary may have and I will give them so that they may have. And we will stay on this celebration of the new vineyard and new wine, of the new heaven and new earth, as everything will become new and not perishable. Amen.

The great prophet Elijah<sup>61</sup> is celebrated to you, he who has received this work of preparation of the path of God's glory, Who is coming again. Behold, both you and he, bring glory and gratitude to one another on this day. He will touch you with the staff of the blessing and with the waistcoat of the power and he will mark you as workers of the time of the glory of God's work. The saints work with you, and you work with them, and behold the heaven and the earth is working so that the new age, established and not perishable, may be seen. And the Lord will show Himself again, and He will be beside His fleshly creature, that is in the Spirit of the Lord and that works in the Spirit of the Lord.

Oh, how great it might have been the glory of this people, gathered by the word of this work, gathered from swamps and mire, from thorns and narrows, from mountains and valleys; how great the glory of Israel (Romanian Israel, r.n.) could have been if it had chosen the Lord and forsaken his idols! The earth would have been full of rivers, gifts, light, salt and of My word that had always been given. I have been standing in front of this people for forty years, as I had stood in the time of Moses until we got to Jordan. And where are the people, so that we may pass now singing and that the new earth may be shown? But where are those that were born on the way? And behold, these will be born in one day and the Lord will have His people and put it into Eden, for I will show them the life in Eden, and they will leave the death and will be born from heaven; and the Lord will have a people and will bring it to the spring to drink from the law of the holiness, and it will know God.

Verginica is great on the celebration of this day. She works upon you together with the prophet Elijah and with the apostle, who proclaimed the new time. Verginica touches you and brings you gratitude for your work with the heaven and clothes you with the garment of the heavenly power, so that you may finish the work of godly glory, which will be shown near you.

Verginica is looking to see her people. She looks again and again, and finds the people on the ladder and sees that they do not know to climb up the steps, and Verginica wants to talk with her people. Blow the trumpet so that the people may hear and that Verginica may speak over her people and tell them to start climbing the ladder, as she is reclining to give her hand to each one in order to help them pass their climbing. Let it be proclaimed a day of meeting with Verginica's word, and let the people stay and listen as in the days of old. Let them gather together, two by two, three by three, in each town, and carry away her last proclamation. And then the Lord will have to share a word upon the crowds, and behold, the spirit of the heavenly peace and of the power of peace wraps you up, you children of My word, so that I may come to you with the thing that I had to work. Let the spirit of My peace be in you. Let there be the sharpness of the Holy Spirit, the one that is teaching in you and upon you, as those that stay working in the Holy Spirit of godly revelations are blessed. Clear out from you everything that is foreign to the Holy Spirit, for the Holy Spirit is in heaven, in those that are from heaven. The heaven is the dwelling of the Holy Spirit. Be a heavenly. Be a heavenly dwelling of the Holy Spirit; be a house of humility, My dear, as this is the house of the Holy Spirit. Love the glory, which is coming from the work of humility and do not love the fruit of another kind of glory, as such a glory will not remain into the new age.

I said and I say to you again: do not allow the evil spirit make a nest among you, and break down each time the nest of the evil spirit foreign to God. Do not be tolerant with the face of the evil spirit. Do not look at the face and search out the spirit; search the Holy Spirit with your sight, and let those that are covered be uncovered and visible, and this way you should work. The hidden work is called darkness among you. Work everything in the light so that it may be searched out the work of each one of you, to see if it is or not like the Holy Spirit. Give an uncovered light to one another, for those that are good are uncovered through them, but those that are evil are also discovered through them as well, for here with you everything is worked out in the light, as My light, which works to bring into view all those that are worked, brings all hidden things into view. Be sons of the light, which works with you and which comes upon the earth to give light from heaven.

May the feast of the St. prophet Elijah be blessed upon you! May a heavenly greeting of joy be upon you! The little angels of the glory lift up their trumpets and call the song of this celebration, for the heaven is in great joy in its celebrations until the establishment of the eternal celebration, in which the songs of the heavenly glory will never end; the songs of the new, heavenly and eternal age.

May your praise song and the food of joy of today's feast be blessed! May you be blessed, children of the heavenly blessings, which start with you. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the Assumption

God proclaimed a work of a heavenly word upon the manger of His word, which came down into Romania. The Word of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit comes down and spreads a heavenly table. The Lord, Jesus Christ, has this heavenly table in the midst of His people that have been fed for almost forty years in the land of Romania.

He who receives My word, receives Me, for behold, I have worked in the days of your days and I still make a work which if someone hears it does not know to believe in it; he does not know how to believe in it, but you know that I am this work and that I work by the Holy Spirit, as I let a word when I went to My Father, as this is what I told My disciples at that time: «Do not be angry. It is necessary to go to My Father. And because I go, I will send the Comforter, the Holy Spirit, Who will speak to you from what is Mine; Who will take from what is Mine and bring to you, and He will let you know about the things to come». And if I went to My Father I declared a word upon those that I have from the world, given by My Father; I sent them and told them: «Go into all the world and preach that the kingdom of the heaven has come near. Go and baptize and work into My name upon those that believe in Me through you». Amen.

Oh, I have been working for two thousand years and cry out to My creature to come to My table. I came two thousand years ago and I gave Myself to be the life, the food and the eternity over My creature, which wants to believe in Me; and I have also been waiting for this long time the birth of this work that is with you. This is the work of the Holy Spirit of the Holy Trinity, Who came to make the threefold work of the godly Trinity<sup>62</sup> complete. All who are workers of the holy heaven, who came for those that are from the holy heaven, all the heavenly hosts have been waited for the birth of this work, which is called the Word of God. (Revelation, 19:13, r.n.)

I have prepared a vessel of clay and I have worked to be a trumpet<sup>63</sup> for Me, so that I may have how to speak, to leave My word to you, to those that are written into the book of My Father; for you to be born again by this work. And if you know from the Holy Spirit that I am, I have come to be always with you by the word and for you to be My people. I shall be your God and you shall be My sons, as it is written: «I shall dwell in them and I shall walk and be their God, and they shall be My people, and God Himself shall be with them and shall wipe out any tear on their cheek».

When I came in the flesh into the world to do My work that My Father sent Me with, I did not have room with it in those from that time, as they did not know the time of the searching that came with Me from the Father. And if all wanted to exterminate Me, I told them: «You seek to kill Me because My word finds no place in you, because you are not from My Father; for if you were from the Father you would know that I came from the Father and that He sent Me».

Oh, children of Jerusalem that came down with Me by this work! Here I am with you by the word. Blessed are those that have room for the birth of the word of God's Son, Who works from everlasting to everlasting by the word. Behold, I called and I took you from your places to sit and dine together again. Peace to you! I am the Last Supper that you feed from together with Me. I am the Bridegroom<sup>64</sup>, and you are My true bride, with a kindled candle, the wise one, who knows from Me how to watch, how to dress and who to clothe her.

Oh, My loved people, I called for you to come and sit in counsel with Me again, and to sit at the table too, with Me and with My little Mother and with her feast in the midst of your people that is loved by God; moreover, to sit with Verginica, people, as she is the one who gave you birth for Me by this manger prepared for My word, which is coming and is let upon you so that you may have life from My Spirit, the One that speaks over you.

I have been looking back for forty years and see Verginica giving herself over under the burning of the Holy Spirit that I came With to ask for her hand<sup>65</sup>, so that I may make her a trumpet of God's word and to lift up a lighted people into the middle of this people that God loves, and that He prepares to be His throne and path of glory upon the nations. I came from heaven into the way of a child that I had poor in her spirit, very poor in rank, little and tiny poor child among people, and I let My Holy Spirit upon her that she might know through Me, and to know Me and to give herself over under the heat of the Holy Spirit and that I may speak with My word through her in order to give food from heaven to the people who was written about that would be borne by

My work with Verginica. Oh, and what a desolation was that wilderness that I passed through with you, people called by the Lord at the wedding table! (The time of the communist dictatorship, r.n.). As if I saw that those that were before you did not want to come; if I saw that they were looking after their own business; if I saw that they got entangled with those that were taken out today and that they went on doing their own things, then I got out on the road and cried bitterly in front of My table full of the things from Me, and I said to see the table full. And I started to cry and look to see the poor, the lame, the dumb, the wondered away, and the lepers coming, but they did not know how to come; they did no longer know the path, if those that were teaching them did no longer watch with God and did no longer know that the Bridegroom has to come. I was crying over and over, and I was morning after My sheep, and they did no longer know how the voice of the Shepherd was. And then I left from place to place, at crossroads, and I called out from the tent of this child who let herself be used by God; and you came to My holy table, you people that were written about to be for this work, and I have been sitting with you at the table since then, and I have been teaching you to eat and how to eat and what to eat and what not to eat, so that you may be alive in the valley of the death which is opening its mouth to swallow God's creatures. Oh, and I saw you hungry again, and I saw you going down, as the child who does not eat loses his strength and withers away, and you have to blossom and open now, as the time that I spoke about is coming upon you, people waited for by God. As I raised from you sons, and sons of your sons, and I go before you to bring you to Jordan and to bring you into Canaan; to place you in the garden of Eden, so that it may have you, people of Jerusalem, which is to appear upon you and from you.

Oh, I set the new beginning, which is coming with Me to you, but you should let yourself be prepared; you should let yourself nourished until your full growth, until the great resurrection, which is working upon you, for behold, I looked upon you, loved flock, and I chose out of your midst healthy and clean sons for Me and I put them to work in front of you, and I put them before Me for you and for your glory, people of My word. And I enclosed a little garden and I put them into it; and I put on its borders the law of holiness, and I put life of Eden upon it and a heaven coming down from what is Mine, and here is what I do: I displace them for a moment to come into your way, loved flock, so that it may bring My voice upon you and to sit again at the table of My word. I am; I and My messengers to you.

If you are lame, loved people, get up and walk; and walk into My ways so that you may never limp. If you are weak, get up, be strong, take from My Spirit and stay with Me on the path, for at the end of the path it is the celebration of the heaven on the earth. If you has lost your sight and hearing, behold, My Spirit is ready to touch you and heal you. If your voice has grown weak, and if your inner being does no longer speak about Me and about My kingdom in you, I give a river to My word and you should also become a river of the word of life over My thirsty creatures, as the time has come for you to be salt and to salt around you those that do not have Me. I am in you, child of the new people. I am again as I was at that time. I am the One Who gives sight to the blind and takes the sight of those that do not know to see God. I am the One Who gives word to the mute and I wake up those from the death. I am the One Who brings the end of the world and the beginning to My creature. I came to you to let you know ahead of time, as nothing works without God; without His coming and announcing first, My people.

During these days I have raised a stone of testimony into the name of My work with you, and I fulfilled over the multitudes the annunciation of this work that I have secretly been accomplishing with you for forty years. I have raised the stone of testimony, but I came over you first, people of this testimony. I have gone from town to town, where God has those that sat at the table of this work, to announce the nourished people and to tell it to be watchful and have this little coat clean, to have a heavenly light upon it, and to be ready for the new beginning, which comes with me. I made a book of testimony over each town and I sat in a heavenly counsel with all the people of this work and then I spread the word that a tower of testimony be raised, which may stand before God, and which the Lord may look at; and from which the great salvation and the overcoming reward that comes from Me, may work. And behold, I work at the helm of this ship and I stand as on the mountain of the blessings, and I speak upon you to place you in the law of the holiness and to have you after My image and My likeness for the celebration that is coming with Me. I came to teach you again, to be after My image and after My likeness, as those that came out today, want to catch you and to hide you from My face so that you may not stay before Me, My people.

Oh, Jerusalem, do you know why I came to you and gathered you to speak to you about those from the last? Open your heart Israel, and do not be little and tiny in your heart and faith, son, for behold, the time has come to rely on My advice and only on it, so that you may not perish under the weight of this day. I told you, loved people, that a bad weather is arising from the sunset. I have always been telling you and I have not slept before you, and I have let you know ahead of time in order for you to let yourself be dressed with the wedding garment and to enter the wedding room, so that you may not perish on the outside, you child that are nourished from the table of the heaven. I was with you on the way and I have always taught you and I told you little by little all that you have to go through, but you were slow on the way with Me and did not work well enough, hard enough, patiently enough, and behold, the fog of today enshrouded you from the sides, and you are not accustomed to feel it and know it, as this fog has many skins, and they are taken one by one so that you may not see the core, and to save you from the way in order to enter the room and be housed under God's tent.

Behold, Christian, you were watching inefficiently and you did not cry as the prophet Elijah cried while mourning before God that there was no one on the Lord's side and that he remained alone in the wilderness of the faith. Elijah<sup>66</sup> had nothing in him but the zeal for Israel's coming back to God. And if he, being on earth, let himself be consumed by the zeal for the salvation of the elected people, what is he really now when he is from heaven?

My new people, you do not know son, what an example was Elijah when he was crying for God to show Himself to him and to comfort his pain that came from his heavenly zeal. And he went on the mountain and he went there not eating or drinking to see the Lord afterwards, and the Lord told him to come in under the cover of a cave, and a great and strong wind came, and then a great earthquake came, and after the earthquake a fire, and these shook the mountain and the rocks, and the Lord did not show Himself in all these. And after that a still and light breeze came, and only then Elijah was to see the glory and the voice of the Lord. This is how you should understand the time before the appearance of the Lord's glory, as a storm blows around you and the mountains shake and the fire consumes everything around, and the Lord puts His hand on you as He put it on Moses' eyes while passing by with His glory before him. And then the Lord is coming with His breeze to you and He will stay with you to have you always, but you should be careful with those that surround you until the appearance of the Lord's glory, which comes for you without frightening; however, He comes with gentleness and with peace, if you know to be careful and hidden from those that blow until after their passing. Be careful, as the Lord passes by with His reward, with His glory, with His justice and with the separation of the good from the evil, and He wants to take you out of the storm and out of the earthquake and fire, and He wants to set you on His right and not on His left, as all His work is called His glory, as it is written: «Praise the Lord, you stars and light; praise the Lord, you fire and hail!».

Jerusalem, the people with a godly name! Open your wisdom to know how it is the time which you are in, and to know its signs, you Romanian, so that I may crush with you the work of antichrist<sup>67</sup>, which has been working for a long time and has been standing in the way of My overcoming, in the way of My victory with you, My people from the end. Antichrist has been working at the same time with Me and has always been stealing My mystery for the preparation of the heavenly victory on the earth, and he has always been restless and sought to make armor to escape with life his work without holiness, as he does not like the holiness; he does not like it, as the holiness does not allow him to be in lusts, greatnesses and delights. Oh, and what the antichrist's servants did to Me! For behold, he covered the face of the earth with his soldiers and they work well trained lest he loses the reign that he has over the earth, as he cannot understand that the earth was created by God's word and that the Lord is the master of the powers in heaven and on earth. And behold, the work opposing to God stood up on the earth and united with those from the abyss, and the Satan's servants hid their faces well and made a hidden kingdom, and now he wants to come out with those that he worked in secret setting himself as God so that every creature may follow him.

Oh, since the man of the evil spirit found out that I came near with the glory that I prepare for a good while for My appearance, as it is written, he made hidings for himself in caves and rocks and he made a kingdom on God's earth, and works with cleverness and with human wisdom, and this is what I spoke when I said that I take Verginica (The sixth trumpet, by the Lord spoke to the people, r.n.) into those that are in heaven. This is what I said: „What will you do, My people, when I take My word from your midst and leave you for a while? As you will call the evil good and say that the man is God.” And behold, this time is coming and it is has already arrived before you, as the men of the evil spirit took from My teaching and put it above their work so that it may not be seen, and they stole the work of the heavenly mysteries from everywhere, because the lovers of God did not have skilled teachers upon them. And why have they not got? They did not have, as all those that sat over God's flock made an agreement with those that are Caesar's and let the Caesar to come over all that are the Lord's until he destroyed the cleanness and the holiness in the church; until he replaced all that was well established by the fathers, and God's servants let themselves be bought by those from the earth, and then they let themselves be swallowed by everything that is being worked today, and they deceived God as the bride deceives the bridegroom before and after the wedding, and there is no longer a true and clean garment. This is how the servants of the church are today, who cover the shame of treason, (Cooperating with the „Security” of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), wrapping with the wedding garment and deceiving a great people who gathers together at the wedding. Likewise, those that are hidden under the church garment deceive the numerous people and this is how it arrived the time of the blind that falls into the pit relying on a blind guide. And as the outside garment covers the one that is dirty, likewise it is with the work of the antichrist, which laid hold on everything, which touched and put God's teaching over his stain, so that his deceitfulness may not be seen, and that the one that walks in God's way may be drawn away from the path, that he may not know that he spirit of the antichrist, with his face covered, entices him. And behold that he caught you into great temptations, and God cries above you; and He comes and reminds you of those that He spoke to you ahead of time, that the Lord foresees and comes to let you know so that you may not fall into temptation, you children of the heavenly works.

Well Christian, this is what I said; I spoke it beforehand: „You child that are nourished from heaven, take heed and do not forget, as it comes the day to be tempted by those that are taken out today, but I say to you to be good and to stay into God's courtyard and not stretch to take and eat from the fruits of other garden, which are foreign to the teaching that you know, as the evil spirit comes over you and makes the foreign garment sweet for you, and you go and leave me without you, child nourished from heaven”. And behold, I see children from My people who took and ate the poisoned mixture, (Teaching from the world church, r.n.) which comes from the work of the hell, and I see them withered and depressed and touched by the liquor with a hidden face, which kills little by little the soul of the righteous that takes from another garden. And if you, loved people, do not wake up now to believe and to listen to what I tell you from heaven, you should know that the people of the evil spirit, who walk now to poison you with a hidden face teaching, will not have what to do with you and cast you away, as in a little while I will let My sign be discovered, and the evil man will see this sign that you were marked and blessed with by Me. I told you this: I told you that you would not have any chance to sneak from the work of My word, as if not many times at least once you were marked by the heavenly sign of the blessing which came down with Me every time I came and spoke upon you, and I blessed the one who sat at the heavenly table with Me. I still have little time to make out the work of My word and it will come for Me to show you My sign above you, child that are nourished by God. And if you are not found under My tent, you will be asked by the angels that stand up to gather the fruit of My work and they will ask you: „Soul, when did you lie to God? Then or now?“ And you will be found written into this book when the angels will open it and speak from it, and you will not understand how this work will be when it is spoken from the roofs about the mystery that is worked with you by God; and the roofs will bow down to the earth and you will be under them and they will catch you under them like a traitor, and you will not come out from there until you pay the last penny, for the Lord does not forget anything from those that are worked with you, people of My word.

I came from heaven with this work of word and I gathered under My mantle the one that is poor in his spirit, the one that is poor in rank and greatness, the one that is clean in his heart; however, it was to speak My teaching to a small people, humble in his heart, humble under the stone of the time and departed from the work of the antichrist, which is with a blind emptiness and out of the body. I have sought to the one poor in his spirit, to the one who knows to let oneself under God's protecting hand, and it was to speak to the humble who knows how to receive from God, as behold, the spirit of self-greatness and the fleshly wisdom became master upon the man and the whole earth is full of bodies. And the evil spirit came and found ravaged houses and entered and sat and worked out wisdom from hell, and the wandering from the end is greater than the one in all ages. And God is looking at you, people, nourished by the heavenly manna and watered by the water of the river of life; He looks and stretches out His hand after you to set you aside, to know you and to bless you, and that the work of the antichrist may reject you when he works to put the dreadful seal over the whole body. It is for this that I came and I called you and then I chose you to sit at the table with Me, so that I might put the living sign upon you, that the power of the evil one may be crushed through you.

Oh, you, opposing spirit, what you have done with your wicked stretching! But what a crush I prepare for you, and what a victory will come down from heaven upon you and upon your servants, who did not have rest to fulfill your blind work! Behold, the hour is coming and it has already come to put you with your face down and to uncover your dirty plan, which you stay hidden with, as you worked a false kingdom. I am He, Who made your first being, but you became conceited upon your Creator and fell into defilement. But look, those that are without God will not remain, and the Lord's kingdom will be established and I will redeem the creature.

You, Israel that are nourished by God, you are My tool that I will work with; and I will harrow and seed again, as in the beginning, and the new and holy and clean and not perishable Eden will appear again. But be faithful and great Israel, as those that are today are not those that will be tomorrow. Do not let yourself be caught by the power of the money, for the money is the only tool that the antichrist, the man of lawlessness, is working with from all sides.

What will you do when you see with your eyes of the spirit the sign of perdition that antichrist uses? What will you do, Christian that have the sign of the Lord on your head? You will be terrified and want to run and you will want to throw away from you the purse and the coat of today, of the reign of today. Oh, but you will be seen running, because you will have to run then, as anyhow you will be thrown away because of the sign that is on you, son. And how will this be? It will be that the antichrist's sign will not be able to work upon you and everyone will ask: „What is it with this? Why our scepter is not set upon him?“

Oh, My invisible angels will fulfill the great overthrow of the antichrist, but I have to speak to you, people with a heavenly seal, to hurry up, hour by hour, to get out in due time, and to enter with Me the ark of the holiness of the spirit and of the body and to be wise, as I gave you the occasion to be able to work; and I made for you a way and a place to sit with Me and to work for My kingdom, you people hired for the new vineyard and for the new wine. Flee from the love of silver and do not walk in the fair of the evil spirit, as the evil spirit got out a new teaching and threw it on the roads so that you may bow down to take it and to eat it. But do not take; be wise and do not pollute your eyes, your hearing, your mind and your food, and get to work and do your duty and get used to straggle from the enemies of the Holy Spirit. (It is the consumer society, the gratification even loan money, so it gets to be a slave labor to pay the craved, r.n.)

I told you beforehand to get used to it, loved people, and to know to do it by yourself and to know the gifts of God, and to have all the skills into your midst, so that you may have time to cleanse yourself from under the hand of master with dirty hands, dirty of blood and death, and dead to Me. I want to raise him to life through you. This is My work with you, but get up over the evil, get up for it is late and there is no more time, and you have to be clean, clean and washed from those that are not worked by Me and by you. It has never been too early, but it is late, far too late Christian. Satan accomplished his work, and look how early his evil fulfillment came, and you did not understand as God did. There is not much time for the evil ones. The wickedness has accomplished its work and its cup, but I was still slow in coming, sons, in order to put you under a cover, either willingly or fearfully, and to get you under My mantle, so that I may then release the storm, the earthquake and the fire<sup>68</sup> over those that think that they are masters over the work of their hands, over the wicked thing prepared against God.

Oh, My people, how many things I have taught you, son! I have sat in counsel with you as a father is teaching his sons, and I have spoken to you about what is coming and I have always told you what to do to be prepared. I stayed with you during the red time, (Of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and I exhorted you step by step and I told you beforehand, and I said that you should be after My image and My likeness, so that the evil spirit may not open his mouth wide to frighten you and to make you grow weak and then to swallow you. When I saw you weak and fearful and tried by temptations, I stretched My hand out and I did not let you this way, and you knew the arm of salvation that was stretched upon you. This is how I was for you, little and tiny people, the people of this time, because it was not you that chose Me, but I chose you. And if I chose you to be Mine, you should also choose now, son; choose Me and remain in those that are Mine, for if you do this, I will send My angels and they will bring you heavenly and angelic food after the antichrist will no longer give you anything and will not take from you anything during a little while for My trial for Me.

During the time of the tyrant and pagan kings it was given once a commandment that the food from the marked should be defiled with the blood of the idol sacrifices, and those that were Jesus Christ's were also going and buying. And I gave the spirit of revelation and I told to My Christians not to take anything from the pagans because of those that spoiled the food that was for selling, and I told them to soak the corn and eat it and not touch the defiled food, and they listened to the Lord's messenger and saved their lives and their life's cleanness. You should also do this, people of this day. Do what you can and work with your own hands; plough, seed and pray and give to the Lord your work, and the Lord will give you the fruit of your work and you will have cleanness and a spirit of holiness upon you. I have always come and asked you. Oh, and how much I have asked you, and how many things I have told you to leave and not to take them and not to do them any longer! And now, look, they all take you by surprise, as you did not want to listen and fulfill even starting with the time I spoke you about, so that you might be accustomed to the obedience and to the reward of the obedience. I have come now and gathered you to tell you to listen to me and to get you out from under the accusation of the evil spirit and to rise you against the antichrist and work with those that I teach you, for I come to your help and I take care of the one that listens to Me in this time.

Take out from you the carelessness and watch, and I also say: watch well, Christian, as the time is foggy and its face is hidden, and you have to be found cleaned and not interfered. Do not worry; the day has enough of its trouble, and I will work out miracles with you, Christian people. If you are worried what do I still have to do? I am the One Who takes care of you, Israel, but get used to talk with Me so that you may know how to feed yourself on those from heaven, and to believe that the other things will be added to you. Behold, the work of Lucifer has entered into every body and where it is not possible more, he makes the weak ones to worry; however, the man cannot add anything more to his stature.

My child, who has got Me as God, that one gives his life, his wakefulness and his care to Me. Get together, son; hold together in one thought, in one will and have the same likeness to one another in Christ. Look at two twin brothers, as sometimes they are hard to distinguish from each other. You shall resemble each other in Christ, in holiness and in wakefulness. Be after My image and after My likeness. I have been speaking from heaven for such a long time, to you to raise you to those that are from heaven upon you!

I have come from heaven on earth and I placed the work of the word over the multitudes to the work of good annunciation. Oh, but the world does not know as much as you know about Me! The time is coming for the world to ask from you bread and water from heaven. The day is coming for you to be the light in the darkness. Wanting or not, deserving or not, this work of godly word will discover the hidden sons under its wing, and they will be the sharers of those that come for the renewal of the creature and for the raising from the dead. The work that includes you into its mystery is great. The light which works in its inside is great, for the godly signs will accompany it and any word delivered by it will become a visible action.

I have come, Israel, to bring you those that you have to work for and fulfill; to tell you to engage in those that you must be found when My wrath will come over those that are without God. The time has come to put on you the shirt of holiness, which will not burn on you, and you will not burn in it when My wrath will pass over the earth to cleanse it from the world and from the spirit of the world and of lawlessness. Do not be deceived to go to someone to save you and to feed you on another false hope, for behold, the bishops and the priest did not open to Me to see Who knocks, and they said that it was not I, and they said that I was a demon. They said now as they said then, for they have nothing else to say, since they do not love My ways and the law of holiness, which a servant of the holy heaven has to stay in.

The hard time has arrived when the abomination of desolation reached on the chair, which was supposed to be holy, and look what a row of servants God endures, as they trade in the Holy Spirit and buy chairs, and today there are no longer established the servants after the heavenly revelation as the order in the church was, and there is no one to search out and judge the behavior of such a servant; there is no one, Christian, as they take after each other, from the smallest to the one that is established at the head of the flock, and the flock is falling down to the ground under the deterioration of the weather, and only the Lord is taking care of the lonely flock. I do no longer have shepherds to seek for My flock and to feed it from the spirit of the heavenly revelations, as the order in the middle of My church was, and behold, the antichrist rejoices and unfolds his stake and his spoiled teaching, which even My Christians take and taste from, and there is no greater pain in heaven.

Oh, Christian, after what is one of My messengers to be known? After what do you know the one who speaks from Me or speaks into his name? Ask the law son, and with those that are in it look upon the one who speaks about God, as it is written: do not take to eat or chew without knowing the food, and seek to know the false teaching, for it is nothing else but the dead to be risen and to do the last signs, those that are written that will be done. Do not ask for signs, child, and do not believe in another god beside Me. As a big sifting and a temptation worked out with much toil will come; they will come and say that they are sent to take you and to protect you, and they will promise you life, food and salvation, but you shall not be taken by surprise, and you will know the one who comes before Me, if you are found in the spirit of the holiness, in the shirt of the holiness.

Keep away from the love of the silver and put away from you as much as you can all the lusts however small they may be. Love the poverty and humility as much as you can son, and be like your forefathers from the beginning, so that the temptations that come to try you on and to draw you out from God may not deceive you. As a spirit of carelessness will come upon the people, but I say that it has already come, and the world does not know the face of this spirit, and the man will sell himself as a slave to the spirit from the end and the world and the spirit of the world do not know the one from the end as it will be over forever. I have no place into the world with My word, as My word does not have any room in them. I go neither to the kings, nor to the scribes, nor to the wise of the earth, nor the rich of this age and nor to the bishops. I do not go, but rather stay with you and teach you and give you light and keep you away from the wolves and from the Judases if you take care of your steps to follow Me. I feed you on those things from the last, and I will show My glory upon you, and upon those that do not even then want to know Me, I will work to put them away from the way of My glory, and I will overcome with My kingdom that will be seen from you. You are My people that I will be glorified through in front of this disbelief on the earth, so that the unbelievers may know that I am God; so that they may know that there is no other God besides Me; and the wise of this age will see his nothingness and his race for emptiness.

Oh, those from heaven are marveled at the Christian who still has God today, but the heaven is rejoicing over the strong Christians, and from everywhere the host of those from heaven is coming near and works; called or not called. Oh, call the saints and the angels, call them, as the heavenly host is working with you and all the saints make a chain around My children and fight for them. But My little Mother stays with her arms, with her work and wakefulness and with the miracles over Romania chosen by God, and when she sees you, people chosen and fed by Me, she lifts up her hands before the Godly Trinity and always asks, and she receives for you and for Romania.

Behold a feasting in heaven and on earth in the name of the Most Holy Birth Giver of God, in the name of her day of ascension, when she went from earth into heaven. It is a holy feast in your midst, people loved by God. Oh, the world trampled the heavenly feasts, as the antichrist worked out corruption over the church, and God was long enduring and listened to the mourning of the forefathers and of the saints who always cry: „Until when, Lord?”

Oh, My children, I come with My glory and I will give the appearance of the heaven on earth again, and I will put an end to the spirit of the world, as the world came to an end. Take care son; take care so that you may not have the spirit of the world in you, lest when I touch, the tool of cleaning may come to you. Take care so that you may not have into your house any ounce of death, and if you have, cry out to God incessantly; cry out with your crushed heart and take away the spirit of the world from your house, as behold, I have houses among you where two are against three and three against two.

Oh, Christian, it hurts Me when I see that you go on the way of holiness and your child gets out and loves the world, works the lawlessness and stands against Me and you, and some of them sell your life and My life and go to the people of the world and feast with them, and they come and go from you, and then come again and stay with the world close to you and near your roof, Christian. And I ask you: „What shall I do with you so that I may keep you clean and not touched by the lawless one and that you may not be found near the one who tramples the holiness required now for My children’s salvation?” Did you look at Israel when it was scattered among those from Egypt that I went and I put a mark over his house, and when I sent the angel of the death, Israel was passed over? But now, how shall I mark your place and your courtyard to put them under cover? As the son of your house and your daughter get out and go into the world and do what the world does and wear the clothes that the world does and your child does not love God. Behold, I tell you, as I told you before: put away from you the harmful mercy and separate from the one who does not want to be with Me and like you, and do not take part into the sin of indulgence, and clean your courtyard of death. Do not take your sinful child into your arms, who wears away his soul into iniquities, as the evil spirit also writes you down, Christian, and finds your house dirty, and there is no more time to get dirty. And it will be as in the days of Noah<sup>69</sup> and you and your entire house should be like Noah, as behold, then the people were eating and drinking, marrying and getting into marriage and did not believe Noah; the same is today, and it will happen likewise, but get your house used to be found as Noah's house was, under cleanness and obedience and full of faith and heavenly light. Be like Job, do not be careless and pray to the Lord for those from your house that do not obey, as if the Lord sees that they do not stand up for holiness and for coming out from the spirit of the world, the hour of election is coming and each one will be drawn there where he is inclined, and I will work through your prayer and I will get out from you the one who does not listen to the law of the holiness, which prepares God's glory, as the time is as written: «Let he who is holy be holy still, and he who is filthy, let him be filthy still».

If today your child does not want to get out of the world and from the things of the world, tomorrow he will not be able to get out, Christian, for he remains stuck there where he is drawn and will be found there. Get up and gather your house together and tell it from God and see what your house chooses, and make a new beginning, clean and secret, in your courtyard; and split the good from the evil to your right and to your left and watch with Me on your right, son, and to not bow down to the one who is on My left. Stand on My right until I bring the adversary under My power. When you clean your house, cast out the dust, the dirt and what is spoiled and damaged that spreads a bad odor, and shake, brush and wash the dirtiness. This is how you are to do for the Lord too and for His place in your house, in your courtyard, and let the myrrh and incense smell into your house, child of the Eden that comes to Me.

I sent a heavenly word upon My people and I told to the Christian to come back to the food from Eden so that he may stay alive and to sanctify himself. This is how I have been working with you, people gathered from the world, and I have been speaking to you, one by one, little by little, so that it may not seem hard to you. And when the way was wider, I called out and told you that the time is coming for the door to be narrowed, when it may come for you to enter the room of God's glory that will come before you to welcome you in the great tribulation. I know like Me and not like you. I know, son, why I also ask this step from you. I do not want to let it be hard for you when no one will give you anything, and I want you to be well prepared and ahead of time, so that God may know you and send you then heavenly food, as he gave it to Israel in the wilderness, as then I expressly wanted to clean the one that were blessed, but he lusted after the earthly things and fell down from heaven and did not enjoy the manna that was coming from heaven. It is likewise now; the Christian does not enjoy to learn how to come back home, and wants it as on earth, but I will make heaven on earth and it will be as in heaven so on earth.

Receive My annunciation son, and feed on those that were given at the beginning to be the food of My creatures, as I want to put an end to the spirit of the flesh, with the world spirit in you. You see well that the Spirit lusts against the flesh, and the flesh lusts against the Spirit. Let the Spirit overcome, Christian; let your spirit be stronger than your flesh, as what comes out of the flesh is flesh and what comes out of the spirit is spirit. I blessed as you said, and I said to be eaten if the man ate, but in the beginning it was not so. In the beginning I made the man and I breathed the breath of life without death, and the man did not listen to Me and knew death and died. But I want to give him back his life without death and youth without old age, and this is the work that the Lord wants to accomplish.

I chose you, people gathered from the death, and I raised you step by step to bring you to My holiness, to be My tool and to work with you the great resurrection that is waited for by all holy heaven. Behold, I revealed to the world the work of My word, which accompanied you from heaven, and then I set a new beginning, clean and holy, in the midst of the people and I set a heavenly living, and I will still establish all that is to be established, and then I will glorify Myself before the people on earth, and the creatures will understand the mystery of the New Jerusalem, which comes from heaven on earth, which comes down little by little and which is made out by the word of God.

Oh, Romanian people, you gave a parable from you, which came made out from the Holy Spirit. No people on the earth gave it any longer; only you gave it, and a prophecy was written out of your spirit, people of the glory, which comes with Me to you according to your word that came out from the Holy Spirit. I was with My disciples and I was going from place to place and I was giving them parables saying: «How will we liken the Kingdom of God?» And I gave them many parables for learning and doing, as all the word, which comes out from God, which comes out from the Holy Spirit, is a deed even from its deliverance. Oh, Romanian people, you gave from you the parable with the king who has youth without old age and life without death, and if you spoke like this, behold, I came out with this work to welcome you, and I chose from you and I started the work of this kingdom of the King, Who has those things that are spoken from you. I am the King Who has this kingdom and I want to come with it upon you and to let it in you and to start with you the coming back to the beginning in which there was no death. And any science will come to an end and it will be a heavenly kingdom as it was in the beginning. Come back to your first situation; come back to those without death and drink from the fruit of life and do, Christian, what God teaches you, for all will come to an end, but the Lord will remain with His inheritance and with His sons.

Behold, Verginica<sup>70</sup> is with Me and she rejoices in her spirit; she is blessed and loved and helped by all the saints until her. She has the passing of these days and is alive, and her spirit is working and living. She has a great favor, son, as she had been carrying Me for twenty-five years by the word, and now, behold, I am her word, as she had been My word, and there has never been a greater work than that, which was and is through Verginica. For I took her; here is why I took her: to be able to send her back to you to bring you to those that were from the beginning so that they may also be.

Verginica, loved daughter, I, the Lord, command your spirit to give voice upon the manger of the word that comes from heaven with God and with His messengers. Amen.

Truly, truly, I speak, that Verginica works from beside Me; Verginica works from those that are in heaven upon her people.

Verginica, release a word, daughter, I in you and you in Me, as this is the reward of the great workers of the heaven, as it was for Moses and for Elijah, who came from heaven and sat by Me in the day when I changed before the glory in the eyes of My disciples. Peace to you, heavenly daughter! My peace and My word through you! Amen, amen, amen.

Verginica has a heavenly commandment to let a voice and word upon the manger of the heavenly word.

– Peace to you sons! If there is here a son of the world, he can also say as other sons of the world said, who spoke about you that you speak with the dead.

Peace to you, those that are alive, who believe in God's miracles coming down during this time! As the Lord, Who is alive and works over all the ages, I am alive and work as well, as I was a godly tool, made out by God, and I did not do what I wanted, as the people without God did, and I stayed under the will of the One Who made me, to be His tool, trumpet and tabernacle, and to raise sons from sons, to come then within those from heaven, and to feed and give water from heaven to the one borne from the word of God who spoke to you from me.

Peace to you sons! Peace to you, those who know me in the flesh! Peace to you, those who know me in the spirit! If the saint martyr Mina, got out into the way of the one who called and accompanied him on the way of the danger, so are you to believe in my walking with you, but the world does not know how this work comes. Oh, and the church of the Lord stands on such testimonies, if it stands, for those that are alive worked after their passing from the body, and they truly worked, and their work remained at the foundation of the faith of the Christian church.

If the Lord worked so many miracles through me while I was with you, how shall this work not be from me when I am now from heaven? Rather a greater work from the Lord starts now through me and through my spirit and through my appearance among you.

I came into your way, people loved and nourished by God through me. That is why I went; I went to be able to come from heaven to you and to come with a heavenly power. I am with you to help you. When you lift up a weight I find you under it and I come under it beside you. When you get in through the thorns and get your feet and arms bleeding, I come there after you too, and I take you out and I put you on the path and urge you to stay on the path. Oh, and you do not want to get under cover when the Lord comes and tells you that all these will be shaken. I am above you watching and look to see you watching too, but you always labor for your pile. Oh, my child, seek to gather only what God likes, only what takes after the new and heavenly law, which remains to rule over all the new ones who come from the Father. The Lord is coming again, and He comes with the law of the holiness, and He does not come with another law as you want to say; for besides the law of the holiness there will be no other law. The old ones are passing away and are wiped out and the new heaven and the new earth are coming back to their places, and nothing unclean, nothing old, nothing human will remain among the new ones. And there shall be angelic food as it was in the beginning, and the end is going to come near to the first beginning. Look, those that are stolen by the beauty of today and by the wicked miracles of today, will never be able to know the truth, as the face of the world covered those that are from the world and the world hid from the truth.

People with a new name; stay close to me and to my spirit, which is working in you the things from heaven. Stand by me for I am a lamp, which warms you up and keeps you awake, son. Seek to be like me and then you will see afterwards who you take after and you will rejoice. I reveal myself, but if you do not resemble me, who will you be able to endure that moment sons?

I came towards you, son, who departed from my work, and I speak upon the one who departed and ask him: „Why did you leave me? As I want to hear your voice that tells me: „Oh, if it is not too late, receive me again, as a lost one!”” I have always come to you and told you to leave your burdens, as your burdens turn you into clay and you do no longer know to get up for the heavenly table. My dear, if you are Christ's in order to resemble the Lord, then you should also resemble each other; you should take after each other.

I call the trumpet throughout my people. I called and I gathered; I gathered it from everywhere to tell it to use the wakefulness an hour earlier. The Lord is calling you for those that remain; He calls you, loved people, and tells you to crush your idols, your lust and your lawlessness from your way, for the Lord stays with love; He stays with the time stopped to put you under His shelter and to release the cleanness of the way of His glory afterwards.

I came with the Lord into your way, people of Jerusalem, and behold, I offer you to walk carefully and to withdraw from the way of the wrath that is coming. Sound this way too, as I sounded and I gathered you into your house and my house, as your house is the work of God Who nourished you and brought you up through me. Sound too and get your house together and make a counsel of revival. Do your duty and I do mine, and get out from death, you and your entire house. Oh, here is what I advise you: do no longer stretch out your hand to eat from the world table, as you are a people chosen by God and special for God. Satan stands on all crossroads, on all corners, to take from him, to eat and to drink so that you may not be clean any longer. He gets into your way to entice your lust and to draw you to take from him, but he is dirty and filthy and he is a slave and is doing a wicked work on earth to get into your way and to entice you. And if you do not want to come in and stay quietly in your courtyard, in your garden, at least you should do this; do not take from the hand of those without God. Get used beforehand son, and get used to have your own hands, as the people eat people, they eat corpse and make liquor from hell and put filth into it to touch you by it and to make your mind, your faith and your love grow weak.

Oh, do no longer take, Christian, teaching from the way, as what you learn from what is taken from the way is not good for you. You are the son of God and you should not get into the confusing of the languages of those that are foreign to God. I look at you how you go on the way and gather science (At School of Theology, r.n.) and confuse your mind with those that are written by the servants of antichrist, as all that are come out today are sprinkled with poison from the hell to make you no longer understand God, to make you stand aloof from those that come from heaven, those that spring from the word of God, and that you may no longer understand the Lord then.

I said to my children that are put to watch at the manger of my word; I let them know not to touch anything with their hand from what has come out today; not to search out the confused languages that came to entice and confuse the way to God's heaven.

Do no longer put your hand, Christian, to read the teaching which comes from the man with a hidden face. Do no longer seek something else than those that I bring to you, as I know what to bring to you, but you do not know what to take so that you may learn. You do not know those that sneak with a teaching that has a hidden face. They are the servants of the hell, my child. Ask yourself where do these things come from, and stay well, to distinguish the evil spirit that comes with its hidden face for you to take from it and then to blame you before God. You are a blessed people and you have food and clear water from me. You have from me what you need, but do no longer stretch your hand into another bowl, as I stand before you with God and I told you what to do during this time.

I yearn after you life, after your holiness, after your clean spirit. God is waiting for me with you, people of the New Jerusalem. I call out the trumpet to gather you into those that are from heaven, to blow the dust off you, to teach you to stay within the wedding garment and to sit with the heaven at the table and to sit with me.

Blessed are the Christian houses, which have no son of the lawlessness under their roof, as those will be under God's shelter. I want to take the death out from you, to throw it away into its arms and to burn it, so that it may no longer seek towards you. Take your own little hands and put them to work for you, for your little hands are blessed by the Lord, and do no longer use foreign hands. Start this work as much as you can and the heaven will come to your help.

Do not love luxury; do not love silver; do not love the lusts of this age. Save your children from the hands of the antichrist as your hearts will get broken when you will see your children without escape. The teaching from the outside is spoiled more than any time and it divests your child of the holiness. Oh, if I came and asked you for a child to work with me, you would have nothing to be afraid of and say that he is yours and that you do not give him. And because of your opposing, I do not come to ask him, for your opposing would mean your child's perishing, as the Lord showed what the reward of the opposing is. But you give your child into the arms of the antichrist and let him at his teaching.

Oh, Christian, open your eyes and take a good look at what kind of weather is outside and do no longer laugh the word of God off, which tells you to come under His roof and to make a shelter for you as the Lord teaches you. The time is coming when you will no longer be able to get on your wagon or on the Caesar's camel, (Not travel with public transportation, r.n.) as he will ask for his sign and if you do not have it, he will not receive you. The time is coming when you will not be able to go by your little ship, (Private car, r.n.) as even there you need Caesar, (Money on card or chip, for gasoline, r.n.) from whom you cannot take and to whom you cannot give, if you did not say as he did. If you understand, the Lord will work through you the crush of the antichrist and will tear down his plan and his power, but pull yourself together by the work of the holiness, my child. Be wise, as the Lord came to your help for you to be able to make yourself a shelter and to listen, as the crushing of the opposing work will spring from the work of God's obedience. The Lord has been crying for a long time and has been telling you for a long time, son. Open the book of this work and you will no longer be able to tell that the Lord did not ask you to get out of those that are today.

Oh, I look and my spirit is filling out with joy and love for you. And I look again and my spirit is filling out again, but this time with pain for some of you. Woe sons, woe, as the teachings of today and the immorality that they are born of touched you to the full. Let me teach you, Christian, as the time is too bad, son, and it is hidden from your face and you do not know to understand it. Let me open your mind and your wisdom and let me stay into your way, as I look with heavenly eyes around you and see wolves and foxes which try to draw you into their den and to tear you to pieces.

Well Christian, take care of your child if you say that it is yours; take care to have him and give to him from those of the heaven. Give him as well, and take you too those from the Lord, to have and to be, Christian. You are like gold for God, but you should be, my child. You are God's treasure, but you should be, and do not wear yourself away, as the Lord will redeem with you all the creature, the one that was and is, and you will be the light from the Lord, and will stay over the darkness and will give light forever.

I will also call out and I will gather you again to eat with God and to bring in due time those that still are, but you pull yourself together from the road and come in, watch and pray. You got angry on me, loved people, when I told you to stay into your little house and to work holiness upon you, for there is no more time to get out and to pass through the dead. But I know, and I know why I asked you not to come out, and not even now do you understand how this mystery comes and why I have come to tell it to you. There is only death into the world, Christian. The hands and the work of the world are dirty and filthy, and you are a blessed people with blessed hands. Teach yourself to be a manager over yourself. Learn to be as those from the beginning were, for all the earth will be taken out from under the sole of the antichrist, and you will be settled on a new earth as the Lord promised you.

Let it be peace between you and God, and so you should live forever, as the Lord let only peace upon you.

Peace to you, children of the heavenly things, which work on the earth! Peace and holy patience! Holy peace upon you, sons! May the steps of your coming back to your things be blessed by the Lord! The heaven brings gratitude to you, and you will feel the good reward because you came to dine with God. May the myrrh of the Holy Spirit flow over you and fill you with the power, which comes from the work of holiness. I give thanks to the Lord and say: Lord, I did as You told me. Amen.

– Peace to you Verginica! Peace to you, children of the New Jerusalem! May My holy peace remain upon you!

I am; I and My messengers, and he who receive them, receives Me, and he who does not receive them, does not receive Me, and he will be received likewise. As I am received, so the one who receives Me will be received.

Peace and New Jerusalem upon you, people of the glory, which comes from Me! Jerusalem, be worthy of your new name, which comes to you from the heavens, as My glory will come with you and the nations will know My blessed people.

Amen, amen, I say to you, as the kingdom of God and the glory that comes with it came down to you, and you, Jerusalem, will be the Lord's people, as I am your God. Amen, amen, amen.

The Synod of the Saints Archangels Michael and Gabriel

The blessing of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit is pronounced. The new heaven, the new earth and the New Jerusalem, which were worked out and came down from God for carrying God's throne and tabernacle into the midst of the people, are blessed by word pronouncing.

Behold, I open My springs so that I may flow to you for you to drink, to drink from the river of life always and to eat from the tree of life, which is watered by the river<sup>71</sup> of life and which grows and yields fruits in the midst of the heavenly Jerusalem.

Peace to you from the Father! Peace to you, children of My Son in Whom I am well pleased! Peace to you from the Comforter, Whom I sent to the sons of My Son, after My Son accomplished His work upon you, dwelling in you by this Comforter, Which was given to Him by Me, so that He may come with Him to you to give Him to you and to be with you until the end of the ages.

I give My peace to you; I let you My peace, sons! As the Son gives it to you, so the Father, so that you may have a conduct from the Holy Spirit in Us; in Me and in My beloved Son, in Whom I am well pleased. If I am without beginning; if I am before all ages, the same is My Son; the same is My Truth, Who is My Son and My Heir Who comes with Me into the inheritance.

But the angels created for Our glory, for Our work, could not be but glory until God made the heaven and the earth, all the visible and invisible things, and the man that was taken out of the earth. And behold, the creature made by Us from the earth and to whom We breathed a spirit of life, that creature stirred up disorder into the world of the angels which were made by the word, as all were made by the word; all but the man. All the angelic hosts formed God's glory obeying the work of the glory. But after We made the man, I said to the man to listen to the pronounced work, so that the word may be obeyed, to be fulfilled. But the word that was delivered upon the man was not fulfilled, Christian. Why Christian, was it not fulfilled? Why the word was violated and how could this happen? The man became conceited, sons. The angels were spirits, and the spirits do not do any work without the body, without having bodies as a dwelling. And if I made the man with a body and if I breathed a spirit of life upon him, and if I rested in him, I rested with all the heaven in him, into the earth that I worked, as after I worked and I finished him, I rested in him; I rested from My work; Mine and My Son's in a godly Spirit.

Be careful, children, take good heed, for today it is a celebration of angels, but I want you to understand well and carefully. Be careful with your spirit and inclined to the perceiving in God, as we have an angelic and heavenly counsel to understand the work of the angels. The chiefs of the hosts of the angels, Michael and Gabriel, bring a feast in the synod over the Jerusalem given to you from heaven that the angels may be working upon you on this day of celebration. Be careful with your spirit and lift it up to Me to understand the Lord's counsel among you, as after I created the man, I rested in him. And how long had I rested? I was able to rest very little into the work of My hands, as in the time of My rest into the man, the man rejoiced over the entire glory of God, which was moving in Eden, which was hovering in Eden, carried by man, by the man's body and by the movement of the man's body that was wearing My glory in it.

I made the man from the man so that he may not be alone, that My glory might be great in the work of the man. The angels were with Me and with My glory in the man, and the man was then the bearer of God, a dwelling of God's glory. All the hosts of the angels and archangels found their rest into the man, as they were part of My glory, and the man was served by the angels like God. And I loved the man and I made him king in Eden, as I made for him a Garden of Eden over which the man was to be king. And if I made him king over Eden, he had a hidden thought, which was ministered by angels, and this hidden thought received the angels' ministry through the chief of the angels.

The man was made king and then he became conceited and said: «I will put my chair and I will set it above the clouds; I will put it above the Most High». And look, this hidden thought of the man, who was to receive the angels' ministry, shook the Eden and the heaven above, as the man, made out of clay, longed to ascend above his creator. And as the first angel over the hosts of the angels started, when it started to think to serve the man's hidden thought, it smashed against the mountain of haughtiness which grew into the man, and the Lord did no longer feel the rest into the man, and the angels started to fall down from God's face, from the honor, which they were in. And while the angels were falling down, the Lord woke up Michael and cried out through him: «Let us stay well and take good heed in fear!» And when he said „in fear”, the falling of the angels stopped, because of the obeying word.

Behold sons, what the man has done! He became an occasion and a dwelling of the angels' falling down. As quick as the lightning was this falling of the man; as quick as the thought, as when the man thought it, the angels fell down and became satans. And what does the word satan mean? Satan means the change of the good into the evil, and when the good turns into the evil, a fight of enmity against the good starts, and a power that is called evil is brought forth; the power of the evil against the power of the good, of God. And look, this is how satan was made then, giving birth to an inimical power, which goes to God and accuses the man before God. This power inimical to the good was brought forth like lightning and this wicked power is called satan, but it fell down from God's face, as it is written: «I saw satan having fallen like lightning from heaven».

And after this power fell down on the earth, which earth did it fall on? He fell in the man; he fell upon the man and upon the man's wisdom, as satan took then a serpent's image and this fallen angel worked; he worked through the serpent speaking a word of temptation enticing the man not to listen to God, so that the man may also fall, if he and his entire host fell down. Lucifer was the first angel over the angels and over the hosts of the angels and had the first host, close to the light and happiness of God; that is he was the first; he and his host near God's throne, close to the light and happiness, children, and that is why he was called Lucifer, (Adonis, morning star, translator's note.) that is light, as he took his brightness from the light of the godly happiness.

And Lucifer got angry with the man; he blamed the man for his fall. He was the angel of God's wisdom, and when the Lord rested in the man, he and host also rested together with all heavenly hosts, and his fall happened into the man, as the spirits of the angels do their work through the bodies. And Lucifer struggled to make the man fall down from heaven, and entered into a serpent and enticed the man, and since then the work inimical to the good and to the man's happiness in heaven was brought forth, and the man was expelled from heaven and was put into the Sheol. But I sent My Son to become flesh and to spoil the work of satan annihilating him from everywhere and to fulfill his defeat and destruction on his coming.

Here is what it means the man to let himself be overcome by satan! And that is why I raised people from among people who banish satan. When the king Saul was tormented by satan's spirit because of his self-aggrandizement sin, he was freed from satan by David's song. But it is hard for God's dwelling into the man where this angel dwells, as Saul was always seen by Lucifer in his work. Here the sin of Lucifer working in the man by self-aggrandizement, by self-opinion! That is why I sent My Son; I sent Him to spoil the satanic work and to show himself to the people to teach them to take God's image and likeness again. And who lets himself be taught and helped by My Son, that one does what My Son did, and comes down to humility, so that Lucifer may not try his control in the man who receives My Son.

– Oh, My Father, that is why I spoke to the people: «I am the way!». This is what I said when You sent Me to the people, and who believed in Me went on this way and saved himself from this enemy angel. Amen.

Oh, My loved ones, My friends, My brothers in My Father! I said this: «I am the way!». And how comes, I? I was lowered up to you, so that I may take you afterwards with Me to My Father. Behold a descent and ascension. This is the way that I showed it to you. First, I came down and then I ascended. If I do not come down to you, how could you ascend to My Father? The Father does not receive anyone without Me, as He sent Me to come down and to bring with Me those to which I came down, those in whom I come down. I am the Son of the Father, and I came down in you to teach you too to work and to destroy the satan's work.

When that sick man came to Me asking Me to heal his body of sickness and evil spirit, I healed him and said to him: «Go but from now on sin no more, so that it may not happen something worse to you». And you people, how did I say to you when you came to be with Me? For I receive and I healed you by the word from the reward of your sin that you did until then, that is, I forgave you and I received you and I said no: „Go and sin no more!” And I also told you: „Come, and do not go wrong; come and stay with Me so that it may not be bad to you”.

Oh, children, behold, on this day of celebration I speak to the people of this work. I have spoken for so many years with the people of this work. I called out the godly trumpet and I told him to gather together at the table of My word, and the people of this work came, but hearing he did not hear, and coming he did not come. He did not come, sons; he did not come because if he came, he was come and he remained. He was coming and turning back; he was coming and going, and he was not coming. He did not come if he was doing so. I was always gathering him to heal him always. Whenever he fell, I was getting him up forgiving him, because he was not getting up. I was getting him up because he was not getting up, for to get up it means to hate falling down and not to fall again. But I was getting him up and he was going away from Me and was falling again. He was falling because he was haughty, as it will never be heard that someone falls if he does not become conceited arising himself above God. If I was coming and telling him not to do this, he was always standing against, and this is called that he was falling again becoming conceited above God's throne. Oh, I was hearing again and again, as I also hear now from this people that he says that „God is good and knows that satan is wrong and sees our struggle!” Oh, Christian, you will never see the one, who fights against satan, and not to overcome satan; never son. And you will see satan again and again in the way of the man overcoming the one who does not fight against satan. Only the one who does not fight is overcome; only that one. He who receives this angel becomes a satan, who fights against God, against God's kingdom, and that one overthrows God's throne, and God's dwelling in him. That is why I came with this work, to set God's throne back to its place; to set it and sit and to rule sitting. But from Lucifer's falling down it has never been heard that the Lord dwells in the man that has this angel in him.

Here, I speak with you about angels, so that you may know this wicked angel and not to give him kingdom, sons; you should not give it to him; do not give him any more. I came to overthrow the Lucifer's throne, but if My people do not see this angel fallen from heaven, he will always let himself enticed by the serpent that bites after it entices, and then Lucifer, seeing, goes and accuses the man. That is why, Christian, I say to you: listen to God and to His word, for if the man from Eden had listened to the word spoken upon him, he would have never reached to see the fruit of this sin.

Here the greatest and the oldest sin! Disobedience is now like a bracelet that the Christian of My people wears with him all the time and this bracelet will be split in two and will catch your both hands, Christian, and you will be taken there where you do not want. And if you do not want to be taken to the place of disobedience, cast away from you, cast away from you the bracelet bought from the people that are foreign to God, and buy from Me a necklace and a wedding dress, and do not walk on the way of disobedience of God's word; do not walk having in you this evil angel, as he makes you fall down from heaven, son, he draws back you from heaven. Do not be careless; do not be careless, as tomorrow you will not be able to draw back from the reward of the carelessness.

Oh, I said this: «Watch and pray; that you may not enter into temptation!». But what does it mean to pray? It means to bow down before God that this dark angel may not spy on you. What did I do when I was going into the house of My Father? I took My Father's book and read it and I was showing to everyone the work of My Father; and so did My apostles afterwards, and this is what you also should do, sons; you should always be so, that you may not fall into temptation. He, who does this always, is always ascending into heaven, but on My ladder that I came down on, on the way that I descended on. I am the way and I gave it to you, and I gave it to you more than to any other people of the Israel's time. I am, and I told you: „Come! Come, and from now on you shall not fail going on the way! Come, so that the angels may celebrate with you; the angels that did not fall!” And why did they not fall down? Because they stayed with fear in God's work and took heed at their staying in God.

This people had always been coming to this celebration; it had come at the feast of the saint archangels Michael and Gabriel. When I celebrated with My disciples the feast of God's kingdom, which came with Me, I fed the multitudes with the sight of the miracles and with the signs that accompanied Me from the Father. I fed their sight, their hearing, their smell and their taste of the word and the visible and concrete work at the view of the fulfilled word; and then I finished the miracle spreading the table with the food for the body, and I put the food for the body also from heaven; the food that was prepared by the word and by My prayer to the Father, from Whom I was asking and from Whom I was receiving.

When I was called into the house of the Pharisee who made a great feast, I went. And why did I go? Because this is what is written: «Whoever compels you to go one mile, go with him two; give to everyone who asks you, and do not ask him to give your goods back again». And I turned to that one and went to his feast, but I went to My feast in the midst of his feast, and I multiplied My feast, that is, I multiplied My word, as he was looking for Me because of My word. And what did I eat in his house and at his table? I did not eat, but I ate the food that I had to eat, and I worked and took that wicked angel out of them and I showed them My way in them that they may know satan's work, as for this I had come. I came in and I saw this haughty angel, who took his place at the table with a human haughtiness, if he fell down on the earth. There came rich people at the table with soft clothing and the spirit of Lucifer, which was in them, was prowling around to tempt Me with empty glory. And yah! You know what I did there and what I went there for. I came in and looked and saw how everybody was sitting at the table and I looked upon their soft clothing, bearing in them the greatness of the human glory, and I started to work and to tear down; to tear down Lucifer's work, and I said: «When you are invited to a feast do not hurry to sit in the best and highest seat, since perhaps someone more honorable than you might be invited by him, and he who invited both of you comes and makes you stand up and puts you on the lower seat, and he puts into your place the one, who he prepared his chair for». Why did I say this? That I may not take place at this table, to spoil the passing taste, for I did not sit at the table of their food and on the seat of their kingdom, and they got up from their table too. And I added a word again, so that they may not offer their bread saying: «When you make a feast, do not call your kinsmen, your friends, or your neighbors, but call the poor, who cannot give you back, so that your work and your feast into God's name may be received by God». And here, this is how I made weaker this angel that was ruling in them, and I worked the way of My descent into them. And if I had not come down, I could have not lift them up to humility; I could not get them out from the table of their empty haughtiness.

This is what I was doing at the feast of the saint archangels, where almost all My people was coming and gathering together, but I was having no room with My way into My people's heart first, as there long tables with food were set, and I was staying and waiting for My people to have enough, for otherwise it was no longer staying at the table of the humility of My word. That is why My people did not stay with Me, and that is why I could not lose it either, asking it to have the same work with Me. I was allowing it to eat that it may not murmur on the way to Me, as I could not speak on the way with Me, and I could not speak on the way to Me. I told it: „Come My people, come and do no longer go wrong!” I told it „Come!” as I came to stay with it, but it did not stay with Me. I did not tell it: „Go and sin no more!”, rather I told it: „Come, sin no more, and stay with Me, so that you may no longer go wrong and get hungry!” But look, I set a table at the feast of the saint archangels in the garden of the new beginning and I joined it to the new beginning. I have no longer a people with a body as I had once when the door of calling was wide open and waiting, but the Holy Spirit speaks to His people and will go to give His word.

The Lord is speaking with you, My people, who came with your spirit at the feast of the heaven. But look, the Lord releases a little silence of the word, and those from the garden of the word go to taste My things from what is Mine, and we will take the book and put into it those that are to come into being into this book. May the food for the body, and the heavenly one, be blessed and through blessing. And it is not said: „Good appetite!” at the table, as the appetite took the man out from the table of the heaven, and rather it is said: „Blessed it is the table and may its food be from heaven!” And we will go forward then with the word about angels into this day of celebration. Amen, amen, amen.

Behold, we go forward and are careful within the spirit, as the spirit keeps the Christian awake before the meanings of God's mysteries. Let us also not be weak in our bodies, as the heaviness of the body comes from the carelessness of the spirit, My dear. I have spoken so much to My people of today, which has had God's mysteries on the table, and My people has not grown old in wisdom according to how much book it ate from Me. And some of My people have not used anything from God's so much speaking, and like the young man, whose spirit became heavy at Paul's speaking, and who fell asleep and fell down from above and died, so is the body of this people, as it had not got a careful spirit in it; it fell asleep in the house of the high mysteries and fell down because of the deep sleep of the spirit, and it remained with his body fallen; and I have always woken it up and raised it to life, so how Paul brought to life the young man who fell from above because of the heaviness and of the deep sleep that he was staying in.

Oh, My dear, how hard it was for God to enter with His work upon the man, with the work of redemption from the reward of the sin of disobedience and of Lucifer's slavery! Because the people have done only evil on earth and the Lord destroyed every man on the earth bringing flood over the earth, and only a man and his house remained; a man that God saw that he liked the ways of the righteousness. And then God worked upon Abraham and delivered through him the promise of the man's salvation. Then My Father came and used a body and got into the way of Abraham, and God redeemed the man by the promise made upon Abraham and upon Abraham's offspring, Who was to come at the right time to fulfill the mystery of redemption. Behold, My Father blessed Abraham; Melchizedek blessed Abraham, for Melchizedek was God's priest and he was greater than Abraham. No one could be greater than Abraham on the earth, as My Father gave him the promise, and behold, He, Who is greater than Abraham, blessed him. My Father used a body and blessed the young One; He blessed His Son in Abraham. And who made Melchizedek priest? As his father, according to the flesh, was an idol worshipper and he sacrificed children of the Salem city worshipping idols, and Melchizedek was greatly hurt because of this iniquity, and he lifted his hands up to My Father and requested that the entire land of Salem may perish and nothing may be left out of it, and thus it may not be done so much lying and wondering astray. And it was destroyed at that instant; the city perished in an instant and it was no longer known that it was, and he remained alone and went to God dwelling in the mountains, and My Father called him His priest because Melchizedek brought the sacrifice of his love for the Lord, and no one brought a greater sacrifice than him. He brought the entire city as a sacrifice to the Lord; all his genealogy and all his kinsmen he brought as a sacrifice only by the word, My loved ones, and thus he remained without genealogy, without the beginning and without the end. His beginning was no longer known; the beginning of his kinsmen was no longer known anywhere, and it was no longer known a trace of the end of his kinsmen, as the location of Salem was so well situated, as passing over, no one would suspect that it took place a change there. Who else could know of the beginning of his days? No one, as no one knew his end. He was the priest of God because he brought everything that he had as a sacrifice to God; all his inheritance, and had nothing left for himself but only his body and his God.

Oh, this mystery is great, but you cannot bear it now, children of My people, as My Father used a body and blessed Abraham and his successor, and this is the work of My Father, which you stay in too; and behold, you work according to the order of Melchizedek and you work by the word, as Melchizedek brought a sacrifice to God by the word and was called priest forever, the priest of God, by whom My Father did His work of sealing of the promise made to Abraham.

Who shall I speak with about the work of My Father? I will speak with the old of this people, as I cannot speak about the great mysteries with the young. But where are the old people? But are there any old people into My people? Behold, the young are the old of My people, and I speak to them and let My people grow old as the time is coming to an end and the time grew old waiting for God's wisdom to increase upon the people.

Oh, My people, I had drawn you close to Me so that I may establish you to judge all the tribes of the earth as I declared to Abraham when I told him: «In you will all the families of the earth be blessed». Abraham was the man that My heavenly Father pronounced His promise over, and into whose way He came with bread and wine and with the heavenly oil of the promise word.

Abraham was a secret blessing and the Holy Trinity worked Itself then, and fulfilled Its promise up to the end of Its work, as it was told this: «To you and to your offspring». And behold, He Who had borne the fruit of the tree of life was promised to Abraham, children, and that is why Abraham had the promise, and that is why it is told so, but this work is not understood by the sons of My people, and by the old of My people. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, was in the bosom of Abraham; I was promised by My Father and that it was put over Abraham the Scriptures, which says: «In you all the families of the earth will be blessed», that is in the loins of Abraham, by the word of the promise.

Here is why the man, who was before My incarnation among the people, was saved: as My Father prepared the place of waiting of His incarnated Son in the bosom of Abraham, as I am the fruit tree of life, children, and I was waited for to bear fruit and to be the iconostasis entrance into heaven, and that is why the Scripture says that no one can enter but through Me; and it says that I am the door, and the first step into heaven was made on it. I was raised from the dead and then each one, in the order of his division, as the promise was declared. And who was the first who got into heaven? Behold, the thief entered into heaven, and although he had the key on him, the door was not opened for him until I arose first. He arrived with the cross and told the angel in front of the heaven, but that one did not open for him until I arrived, as I went first into the hell<sup>72</sup> and then I came to life; and I became the entrance door to the tree of life, which is in heaven, which is the Holy of Holies of Godly Trinity, and then the kingdom of God started over the living and over the dead.

But the ignorant world did not understand anything, as then God prevailed over the death and the death was swallowed by victory, as each soul has been raised since then in the order of its division, and comes to life, if it left towards Me and accompanied by Me, as it is written: «Blessed and holy are those who have part in the first resurrection, as over these the second death has no power, but they will be priests of God and of Christ, and will reign with Him one thousand years» And those who did not left in Christ, they do not come to life, and wait for the other thousand years, and behold, satan has come to an end with his work of destruction and deceit upon the nations of the earth, and all the dead in Christ will rise for the redemption of their bodies, as they reign with Christ, and Christ's kingdom is set to judge.

Oh, My people, not even now can you bear this mystery of the resurrection of the dead, not even now; and you should have understood it by now. But I put a well-set lid on this mystery, and behold, the wise perceive this mystery, which is pronounced then when you say this: „I wait for the resurrection of the dead and for the life of the age to come”. Oh, if you had waited for it, you would have known what you had been waited for, and if you had known it, you would have waited for it. But you did not wait and behold, you do not know, and your eyes are prevented from seeing and you do not see, as you do not read the book and you do not know if you do not read. And to read it and to understand it, you have to be lowered from heaven, Christian; you have to ascend into heaven (With the love and with the mind, r.n.) and then to descend and read. I came to give you My hand and to show you the heavenly things, and you did not give Me your hand to come with Me to see, to understand and to believe. I came with the heaven to you, My people, but you did not believe, as your eyes were prevented from seeing; they are kept by unbelief and you do not know Me in the breaking of the bread, as those from Emmaus knew Me after My resurrection. But even now I am also after the resurrection, and I am with you on the way, speaking to you from the Scriptures, but your eyes do not let themselves go to see Me, and I come to ask you to buy oil from Me and to anoint your eyes and see, to take the gold and My garment on you, as look, I stand by your door and knock. Open to Me, open, to see! And if you do not see, it means that you do not open for Me, but because I love you, I reprimand you with justice to come and repent, My people from the end, as you are foreign, people from the end, and you do no longer look to your beginning.

I want to join you with your beginning, son, so that you may not remain for the end. I want to bring you again at the beginning, as behold, the tree of life, which is in heaven, in the heaven from Eden, was the only one among the trees of the heaven that had no fruit in it; it was near the tree of the knowledge of the good and evil, but the tree of life had no fruit in it, for if it had had, the man would have taken from it too; and the man did not listen not to take and not to die, and that is why the man was expelled lest he stretched his hand and took from it, in the time of its fruit, and broke the fruit without being fulfilled; lest he took and lived forever in heaven without obeying. And the man was put again on the earth, and he was prone to it and came back into the earth. But I was the tree of life, and I was having fruit two thousand years ago, and I was the entrance door to the tree of life. I was the tree of life, and I also was the door to the tree of life, and I arose and bound the devil for a thousand years and I reigned into My kingdom. But you do not understand how this came, as the man who worshipped Lucifer, forced the sons of My kingdom; he forced the one who believed in Christ to bow down to the beast that was made by the man's hand; and if he did not bow down, he was martyred for Christ's testimony, as I had been reigning in those that believed in Me and I had been overcoming by the blood that was shed into My name and for My testimony; and I had been raising the crowds to belief and I had been reigning and sanctifying the earth, and the devil was bound. Let him, who hears well, understand, as the devil did not overcome My Christian, the sons of My kingdom that I was reigning over.

And here how strange you are from the beginning, Christian people from the end. As after everybody of that time, when the devil was bound, overcame, I raised everyone to reign with Me a thousand years and they are those that help you today, people from the end. This is My church from the beginning, the first one, but behold, the one from the end, helped by a great many of martyrs, who got up and reigned with power, let itself to be enticed by the devil, by the one who was released for a little while, and the seed of error entered in believers, as the devil's hidden face remained in the people's minds; and the sheep separated from the goats, and the sheep remained only few and became goats and chose to the right and to the left. But the wondering wolf had always sought the sheep, as they were few, and put the sheep and the shepherds in fear, and the sheep did not fight and did not wake up the shepherds, and started to hide in the hills and in the mountains, until they did no longer know the way to the cowshed. And behold, the church from the end estrange itself from the beginning, as the sheep did not graze a known pasture and learned to go astray without a shepherd and the sheep from the end did not longer know Me; they did no longer know the shepherd's voice. And what else God should have made than what it was written; to start sounding His trumpets and announcing the way of the Bride's coming to His wife, to His church.

But once with the trumpet sounding, behold, Gog and Magog (The communist dictatorship and then the dictatorship of money, r.n.) received the devil's release upon them to fill up the cup of their errancy and then to be destroyed by the fire coming down from heaven, by the Spirit of God, Which is to clean up the lawlessness from the earth. Behold also the end of this godly week, which had carried into its midst the trumpet's sounding of the covenant for the end God's mystery and for the cessation of the sacrifice and for the coming of the Lord, Jesus Christ. And if I came, everything stopped if I came; and then I worked to save that was still to be saved and that is why I said then that the seat of the kings was taken from the earth, and that those who want to reign may stay like the Lord on the cross, and not otherwise. And it was not so! As the kings knew nothing and remained at their place. But they do not have My kingdom, and rather they have theirs instead; and it shall remain nothing at the opening of the books, which will be read, as I said to this people; as this is what I told it long ago: „Children of My people, it is still a little while and we will shake our hands, and we will read the book of today's prophecy, from the beginning to the end, in front of thousands and millions of creatures!” And I said that „That day will be great, when I, the Lord, will prophesy in front of many peoples and the first church will be built again.”

And behold, God and Magog, sing, cry and squirm, and the devil cries like never before, and the false prophet sees its lie, for the ages are into My Father's hands; and there is no wise not to understand this. Neither the prophets perceived what they wrote; nor those from afar or those from near, and they stay and look from heaven and do not understand how it comes, as look, the mysteries are solved out on the earth, and the heaven and Jerusalem are established to receive those who will come to the celebration of that day when this book will be opened and it will be read it; and the great and small dead will stand before, and the like of fire will be opened for the liars, for the second death.

Children of My people get up and learn this lesson, so that you may know how it comes to wait for the resurrection of the dead and for the life of the age to come. All the world says that the Lord is a liar by His prophets, but it is not so. The world does not understand that I announced My kingdom and it will not understand if it does not turn back to look to the beginning. And behold, the dead will come to life, but I tell you that they have already arisen and the world will not have eyes to see, as the eyes of the world are prevented from seeing.

Oh, My people, how many times have I wanted to open your eyes and you did not want! How many times I have put you under My cloak and you did not stay! Behold, your heart is desolate. Open for Me to come in and to know the One Who comes into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit and to eat with Me the new Passover for the new kingdom, My people from the end that are close to My coming. But I say to you that I have come and you did not know Me. (He comes in word named Word of God – Revelation 19/13, r.n.) Who has spoken to you, people from the end? Was it not God that spoke to you? Who else has really spoken to you? And what have you done? You have eaten and drinking; you have married and given into marriages and multiplied the sin of your body and you said that you live according to the book. And I have been working near you a city of escape, a heaven and a New Jerusalem; I have been working and calling you to come in saying: „Come in My people and close the door behind you!” And I still tell you today: „Come in, My people, into your good and Mine, as it is for you that I have My good! Come in, so that you may not remain outside, as you do will no longer know the place where you stayed! Come in and do no longer get out, as outside are the dogs and the adulterous, the idol worshippers and those that love the lying. It is a lie into the mouth of those that keep saying that there is still time. It is no longer time, but God is waiting for you to come into your good, people blessed by Me. We still have a little while to travel and at the end of travelling it is the feast of the heaven on the earth; and I will break the bread and give it to you, and you will know Me and rejoice forever. Ask God, so that you may understand. Come and knock and ask Me, so that I may tell you what you do not understand, My people from the end, and that you may not remain for the end.

I still have many things to tell you before My coming appearance in front of you, but can you bear them from now on? There are still a few things to travel and to fulfill, but who caused you, Christian, to grow blind? Who did to you something like this? I came and I was crucified and I remained for you and I gave you the key of My kingdom; I gave you the cross that I opened the heaven with, as I opened it for you, but I took to carry the key of death and hell, so that no one may put you there. If I gave it to someone else, he would put you back. If I gave it to you, you are wicked and would put your brother into the hell when you go upset with him. I gave you the key to heaven, so that you may open and come in, as I am the door of the tree of life, and for you to overcome, son, so that you may eat with Me My people, as you do not know how this great mystery comes, that is into My hand and that I want to offer for you to lay hold of it and be with Me.

Get up for Me, as I am the door and I am reigning with the saints and with the prophets, who work with you, people from the end. Get up as you have to go with Me and to get the loved one up; to wake Romania up, as it is for this that I passed you by this school, so that you may walk with Me when I call you to go. Walk with Me; at least walk a mile if you do not want to go two, for I take you then into My back on the way of the morning announcement. Go, as look, I give you the blessing to go, so that I may call you at the feast of the heaven on earth.

Behold, I call out upon Romania; I call out to wake her up, and you should not stay with your hands into the pockets; do no longer stay like this. Is it not the nature itself that teaches you how ugly it is for a man to stay with his hands into his pockets? But it is bad for the Christian; it is indecent for the Christian when talking with another one to keep his hands into his pockets. The Christian that is pleased by the heaven should not have any pockets on his coat, for if it has, he puts his hand into it and stands with this hands into his pockets; and Satan fills me badly with pain, for Satan rejoices over the Christian who stands in this unbecoming posture. The Christian that is fulfilled in his staying with God needs to have his little bag around his neck or at his chest, so that he may not be idle with his hands. The Christian needs to wear decent clothing, covered by a heavenly and not an earthly glory. If I told him how to wear his coat, I would be blasphemed by the Christian. But to you, those that believe in my coming back, I tell you: "Do not use your pockets any more, and rather cover the appearance of your body with a coat; with a coat of a Christian and not with a coat of a pagan. The time is coming for you to have a pleasant appearance of Christian. Make your little clothing with your own hands and let them fit you well and pleasantly, as it is the time for you to get out of the world with your appearance as well. Be distinguished, so that the world may know my Christian after the outside garment as well." (See the Romanian popular costume, r.n.)

Christian, do no longer wear soft and thin clothing. Not this way, son. Until when so? I want you to be distinguished in the middle of those with a pagan life. The old Christians of your kinsmen had humble clothing, which covered the indecency of the body. Oh, I could not tell you that I did not like the cover of your body, Christian. You did not have love so that you may be and look humble in the midst of the people. You would have had more power in front of death, but you did not love life either. Oh, what kind of coat I would like you to have on! But I could not come upon you with this holy and decent law and you were not distinguished from the world this way too. And if I asked you now to be decent with your Christian clothing, you would say that you do not have money; this is what you would say, and you will say. But it is not so, Christian; do no longer stay like this; do not keep your hands in your pocket from now on. Oh, when I see your little coat that is so tiny, so tight, it hurts Me; you should know that it hurts Me, and you do not want to get out of the world.

Do no longer keep your hands into your pockets, Christian. Break off the pocket of your coat and do not longer keep your hands into your pockets, and come to the work of My path; let us finish paving the path of My coming which is seen by every eye! Let us prepare Romania, as this earth, after being cleaned, will stay before My glory and will carry My glory and your glory if you get up now to love My glory in you.

I speak a heavenly word upon the manger of My word in the middle of Romania. I am the Lord of your spirit and body, as your body is from My body until the fullness of the times of the heavens, oh, My Romania, the country of My choice! And why My Father chose you? Oh, you were born once with Me into the world. My Father made you a body; He made you a body at the same time with My body as well, and then He breathed a spirit of life upon you, as the first one that I called, (Andrew, the apostle, r.n.), came to you and made you Christian, and baptized you into My name and that is why you are called the first called among the nations. But do your kindred really know this mystery? Does it really believe this heavenly miracle?

You were beautifully worked in the midst of the nations of the earth, as your land carries a great mystery that you do not know, and this mystery taught you secretly to be good and not to want anything from your neighbor, and it is only you that fulfilled this commandment among the nations of the earth. And you kept yourself a bride for Me, as My Father betrothed Me with you at your birth, and God has been dwelling in you by His Spirit, because you did not love other gods, from your birth and until the end of the first church that lived with His body in your midst. And then you, pure and not defiled one, let yourself be deceived; and then it was chosen from you to the right and to the left, and My faithful sheep remained but a few to My right, and the other, trying to divide Me in two, tore their first shirt and took a new shirt and a new behavior, and from one you became two, My church, as in you, Romania, My Father has worked the last prophecy, and you have been aware of this.

And when the devil was released to work before My coming, as it is written, (The communism in Romania, r.n.), you, My church did not watch then, and sin entered you and you turned your face from your parents and from you. And behold, it is an unapprehended mystery, as from a loose woman, from a loose church that deceived her lover, antichrist was born; he who caught you in sin and since then he has always devastated you and dirtied the garment of your body. But your Bridegroom redeems you and makes an escape from your midst, as you have been from the beginning in the right faith, and your Lord does not forgive your first garment.

I am the One Who has the keys of death and hell; I have them since I bound the evil one, and I gave you the key of My kingdom to stay in it and not get out of it and not go and work at another master. But behold, the opposing spirit was released in its time and surrounded your town, but I come again and as then I will overcome for you, My church from the end. But you are estranged from the beginning; the man from the end is estranged from the beginning, as the one from the end did not sacrifice himself with his body and did not know the one who kills his spirit, the one that surrounded the town of his spirit. But look, I am into your midst, and you do not know the time of your visitation, which comes with Me to you, as I started to call out the trumpets, (The first apocalyptic trumpet: the prophet and priest, Iosif Trifa, r.n.), once with the release of the evil one, (The year 1921: the foundation of the Communist Party in Romania, r.n.), and I did My work, and I will overcome by it, as from you, Romania, I have raised sprouts and I called out during all the red time, and My Spirit was awake into your midst. And the first church will come to life in you and it will be built again, as God works and joins the end with the beginning, and there will be a New Jerusalem on the earth.

My Romania, wake your shepherds up and get together in My Spirit and feed on a clean pasture, like those from the beginning that ask for their redemption crying: «Until when, Lord?». Wake up your shepherds well, to shepherd you and not to rule upon you, and not to take the keys of My kingdom and hide them from your face. I call out the trumpet upon you. I am, and I am into your midst by the word to wake you up from the death. Get up and do not give yourself to the time of this world, for it is the time to get up and to stand before Me. I am, and I am in your way with My way, to get your together and to take your cross and make a flag of victory of it for you. But look, My shepherds drive Me away like the one that breaks off, and as those of then they say that I am not. I am; I am by the word and work by the word to clothe My bride in a heavenly, clean and holy dress, but your shepherds came out to Me with swords and sticks, as at that time. I knocked at their door to tell them about Me and about you, but they reign and rest and do not want to get out of themselves, so that they may come in Me.

I am and I came to raise the downfallen church and to build it on the first foundation; and I raised a preacher, (The bishop Irineu, r.n.), and I sent him with the last news, but they took him and crucified him and took his walking and gave him a chlamys of insult and dressed him like them with the robe of antichrist and forced him to be silent and not to preach raising and resurrection upon you before the One Who comes; moreover, they crucified the Holy Spirit, waking up spies to put the word of God into a jail. Oh, but the word cannot be bound! It comes out of the nails and it builds the church.

Oh, My church, how comes that you did not know the time of your visitation! As Simeon was bound not to die until he saw the Virgin carrying the Son of God. And you are bound by the same word, so that you may not be resurrected until you see the work of My word in the middle of the heaven, and until you see the Word speaking and declaring: „This is the work that I am well pleased with and by which I come then, seen by all who are piercing Me now, as look, I came surprisingly and you were not prepared, people from the end”. And look, I come and tell you that I come, and you are stiff-necked and do not take oil from Me to anoint your eyes and know My coming.

Romania, Romania, wake up your shepherds for God is coming to you! And a Lion will come and bind all the wolves and you will know the One Who came to you, and you will wash your face and stand before Me, as I am well pleased with you. My word, the word of the Holy Spirit is received by those that have the Holy Spirit, by those that are moved by the Holy Spirit, but the shepherds of My church in Romania received Judas instead, the one who sells the children of My word. They opened to him, but they did not open to My word to understand the Holy Spirit and to believe in My coming, and as in that time, they call Me heretic and corrupted and take Me out of My Father's house, as they also took out, as some heretics, those that carry My word in its coming.

Behold, I and My little children and the manger of My word, Romania! Oh, Synedrium of the last time! You did not know the One Who comes; you did not know, as you did not watch at the right time, so that your house might not be broken into, and the thief came and bound you during the dark and robbed you of the richness from Me, but I called the thief into account and then I came back to you with those that are stolen from the thief, to give them back to you and to build My first church. I did not come to spoil your house, but rather I came to repair it with you, but if you do not receive Me, I take you from the foundation and build with those that are faithful, and My church will be clean in its body, as its spirit cries from the ground to Me; and I will redeem My creature, and I will work after My Father's order, after the order of Melchizedek, and the church will not perish from before Me.

Behold, I make a new thing, a heavenly work into your midst, a heavenly time and a heavenly body over My church in you, Romania that are blessed by My Father. And I will fulfill it by the word; and the end is joined to the beginning, and the earth is joined to the heaven into a visible thing. I knock at the door; I stand and knock. And if someone opens at My voice, I will dine with him by the word and I will reveal Myself to him, as I love those that are humble, and I will make those that are haughty in their spirit bow down, and it will be heard the Scriptures which says: «Where is the wise of this age?» Behold, those that are great do not open to Me, but the infants hear My voice and rejoice seeing this day and this time.

Oh, if I did not cut short the persecution of those days, not even a body would stay before Me, but for those that are humble in their spirit I hide the face of the plagues, which are upon the world, to test those who dwell on the earth. And you, Romania, will be a reign for Me, and the unclean one will be taken out of you. Get up to hear My voice and to dine with you, as My Father puts a heavenly wedding and a clean church in you, and He will give each one according to his deed. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast at Candlemas (Meeting with the Lord)

Today is a day of honor. The Lord meets Israel and Israel meets the Lord.

Peace upon Israel! Peace to you, My dear Israel!

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, peace to those from above and to those from below, as Israel from above, the one of the grace, from above, has the Lord into its midst in coming down for a heavenly dinner into your midst, Israel that meets the Lord today. And I will come on the clouds with a great festivity and Israel will meet Me.

Romanian Israel, behold, I come into your temple, I come into your heart. What does your heart do, child of My people? I announced the children of My people to prepare the house of their hearts beautifully to receive the Lord, to meet the Lord. Never mind if it is cold outside. It is cold outside and this cold is sent by Me to speak in the cold with My people Israel. Behold, My loved people, behold what a meeting gave the Lord to you. Did you get upset, son? Behold, I breathe the words of the Holy Spirit over you, child that are frozen and chill. It is cold in the house of your heart, child of the time of My coming on the clouds. It is cold, child, and I have no place to bow down My head under your roof. I came to have mercy and compassion over you. I came to keep you warm, people numb on the way to those that are in heaven, to warm you up, son, at the bosom of the glory of My word and to guide you to the warmth, as I am the One Who warms up your heart. Behold today the voice of My word that came down for you at the manger of My word, for you, to let it upon you today, to warm you up, as it is cold son; and let us warm up one another in the time of the cold.

Here is My voice today. Let no one harden his hearing at My voice. Son, you should not do as Israel did, who has hardened his heart for forty years, and he is still the same now, as I forsook him because of this callosity, but look, I have an Israel for the redemption of the one at that time. I promised you to be, Israel; to be Israel in this time and to give My hand through you to the whole creature that was, and still is, and to redeem through you the lost one from My face. You shall not be unfaithful about this prophecy that I tell you again, as I told it to you long ago that it would be to come true. You should believe the prophecies and not denigrate them, as the old Simeon made God angry when he did not believe the prophecy, which wrote about the Holy Spirit and about the Virgin, who was to give birth to Immanuel and still was to remain Virgin; however, he wanted to wipe this prophecy out, but My angel added it into the book again, and again he hardened his heart and erased these words from the page of the book, but the words were unfolding again into their place in the book, and then I became angry and I declared upon him: «You shall not die until this Virgin is born, so that you may see her then, and also to see the Lord that will come out of her» And the old Simeon lived four more times over the life of a man and was no longer dying. But it came after three hundred years the time of the Virgin who was born and grew up and she gave birth to the Lord, Jesus Christ; and Simeon saw the fulfillment of the prophecy that he could not believe, and then, burdened by time, was forgiven by God.

You should believe My words, Israel, as I have not lied to you with anything of those that I have been telling you for forty years, and behold My voice upon you. It is cold outside, My love; it is winter with cold. You should not flee from My warm arm. It is cold in heaven too, as the heaven is cold without you, Israel from the end. The Lord is cold without you, and you should no longer wander away from your Lord and from the Holy Spirit. Do no longer wander away, My loved Israel, as I do not want to see you crying, without comfort and without a shelter. I am your shelter, and you should stay with your Lord. Amen. In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, I tell you to stay with God, you people of God, people with a heavenly seal, taken from the table of this work of godly word.

Come near, My people. May the ear of your heart and the house of your heart be blessed today, so that the house of your heart, My temple in you, may be welcomed by the voice of My word! You should stay well awake with your heart and pray to Me, so that I may give you faith to understand with it the voice of My word. Amen.

May the entire heart of the Lord's little Israel be blessed, so that it may eat usefully and the little Israel may grow up and breed sons for the time of the promise, for I come back on the clouds, as it is written into the Scriptures.

Peace and blessing over the supper of My word in the midst of My people! Peace to you, sons, and I let you a spirit of wisdom upon you today! Remain into My Spirit. Take and eat; this is My word. I am the Word, children of My people. Be careful with your spirit as My Father is with Me into your midst.

Verginica<sup>73</sup> has come with Me, the Lord, into the midst of her people:

– Peace to you, children! Take the exhortation of the Lord; be careful with your spirit. It is hard sons, because you did not stay well with the Lord by now, and it is hard now to understand those from heaven. But be careful with the spirit! Remember the Lord, Who told to His tempters from that time who did not understand anything from heaven and to whom He said this: «If you do not understand those from earth, how shall you understand those from heaven?».

Behold, the Lord is speaking today with you about those from heaven, those that were from the beginning. Be careful with your spirit. Receive the word of the Lord and make the word in you be warm. Those that the Lord brings to you are from heaven and not from earth. The Lord is speaking as in heaven, not as on earth; this speaking is not as that by now.

Behold, I breathe warmth into you. Let it be a warm manger in you, that the word may come in you and that it may be warm to it. Do not be cold; do not be unfaithful. I am here with the Lord, children. Be careful with your spirit and grow into the Holy Spirit, as it comes the time of the heavenly miracles worked by the Lord upon you. See that these miracles that come may not crush you, as the miracles, which will speak from the Lord about this people who ate from heaven, come. I was the teaspoon that the Lord fed you with, and I have a prepared place on the earth where I come with the Lord for the people with a holy name. Behold, I have come with the Lord into your midst, and I have come with the faithful and obedient who watch at the manger of the heavenly word. Prepare your little coats, as soon the gates of the Lord's glory and of the sons of the glory that come with the Lord will be lifted up; as the Lord is coming sons; He comes in a visible way, my children, and all of you will see the Lord, and will see me with the Lord at you. (See the selection topic: „The coming in a visible way”, r.n.) Let me not find you in the cold and let me find you into the house, into the faith, children, and into the obedience of those that come to you from heaven.

Mother Gigi<sup>74</sup> is touching every son of this people who came to meet the Lord. This is today's feast of my people. It is a day of welcome. Peace to you, my loved Israel! Be careful with your spirit and I say again: be careful with your spirit, child nourished by God.

Peace to you, to those that are gathered together at the heavenly supper! This is a place of Emmaus for the Lord, the place of the food through the word, as the Lord is the Word. Amen, amen, amen.

The second Sunday after the Resurrection, of the St. apostle Thomas

The faith in those that are not seen is greatly rewarded. Advice for food without meat

On the first day of May, this year, I have come down with a heavenly synod of feast by the word on the hill from the surroundings of the manger of My word and I gave food to My people that got together above My manger. And behold, on the eighth day of this month, the eighth after the resurrection, I set again a holy day and a heavenly feast into the midst of My people.

I brought you together My people, to celebrate the eighth day, the first Sunday after the resurrection, when I took Thomas' finger and I stuck it to My pierced rib and to My pierced hands.

Peace to you, Israel, people loved by God! Christ is risen, Israel! And I start My counsel with you, a heavenly feast and a new Passover; a feast of word for resurrection. Christ is risen! The Lord, Jesus Christ, the resurrected One proclaims Himself that He was the first to arise from the dead, and the day of resurrection, the first day of each week, remained from Me and for Me with those that are faithful, a feast of resurrection.

Christ is risen, My loved people! And behold, I break the seal of My word and I give Myself to you by the word, and you eat and grow up in your spirit, that you may be a strong people and that I may dwell in you and fulfill the last Scriptures through you, Israel of grace. I spread My Spirit and love over you and I comfort you by the word to break fresh your numb faith and love for Me, so that you may sacrifice yourself for the One Who sacrificed Himself in His body for you. Love for love, son, as it is the time for Me to do the work holiness upon you.

I am the Lord, Jesus Christ, the One with His rib thrust and with His hands pierced. This is how I am now too, for this testimony remained an eternal seal, so that the entire creature may see it, when it stays before the throne of My glory, before My Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Oh, but I am the slaughtered Lamb all the time, My people. Here is how much love I left over the faithful ones, how much sacrifice; well children, and little children! Oh, My people, not even now do you understand what this means; you do not know, for those from today do no longer know anything; they cannot pass into the invisible to believe, to make the people know what the Slaughtered Lamb is; He, Who washes away the sins of the world. There is no longer any experience of this Passover in a heavenly heart. Everything remained only a practice and I cannot put a new patch of cloth to an old garment, and I cannot put a new wine into old wineskins, into outworn wineskins, children; I cannot, for the wine will be spoiled and will lose its taste, and no one understands anything, and I struggle and hurry and work, so that I may put a new wine into new wineskins, well washed with clean water, and to clothe those that drink the new wine with little new clothing.

I am consuming Myself with pain for you and around you, Israel, as you cannot bear the mysteries of God's kingdom, of the kingdom that is hidden into your midst. Thomas, My apostle, believed when I took his finger and put it on My wounds, and he spoke from his inner heart saying: «My Lord and my God!», and he was happy that he saw the Lord and he believed that I was the Lord. But I declared an even greater happiness for those after My ascension into heaven to My Father, and I said that those that believed would be more blessed until they might be seeing what they believed in, for this is what faith is. It is easy to believe when seeing, but this is a ready-made faith and has not reward as that faith that you feed on in those that are not seen, but believed in those that are heard through My witnesses and hoped to be seen. But after My ascension to My Father, I, the One that was confirmed by witnesses, I have dwelt into the hearts of My believers who have felt Me living in them and they have not given Me at any price, because they wanted to go with Me into the kingdom of My Father and they left their body for sacrificing, and went with Me beyond those that are seen with the eyes of the flesh.

I am the Slaughtered Lamb, but if the world knew to believe in Me, it would have got Me; the man would have got God in him and would be led by God, and the Lord would be seen living with the people and accomplishing a work of a new heaven and new earth. Behold, My beloved people, I want to do this work with you and you to understand what I want to do, and you should want to be with Me, Israel, as I need to have a holy and clean people for the days of My appearance. That is why I always come by the word into your midst saying: „Peace to you!” and I teach you the lesson of the kingdom in which I will come, to remember you in My kingdom when I come. O Israel, thou art My kingdom, and I want to mention your name before the nations of the earth, which heard of Me and you and of this work of heavenly kingdom; and I do not ask you something else than to sacrifice yourself for the preparation of My coming back, son. I sacrificed Myself by crucifixion, hard, painful, bloody, and tormenting, so that My Father may give to Me a people by a new covenant, worked out by My Father; and it is not possible love without sacrificing; it is not possible life without death; it is not possible eternal life without giving something in return. I asked you the death of your lusts, the death of your passions, the death of unbelief, and I asked you the crucifixion of your fleshly desire, to be a new and a clean people for Me, and a fruit of holiness before Me. I asked you to come back to life by the death of the earthly man in you. I asked you to come back to the life before the coming of the death to you, and it is for this that I came from the life and I gave the price of the death, to redeem you from death, and I want that you may no longer pay for your life. I paid it for you, but do no longer sell it, sons. Hold to the life without death, as I told you even from the time of Verginica's body; I told you that you shall not have death any longer. Oh, and no one could be prepared by that word to cast the death off him. But, Israel, do you not really love life? Or, perhaps you do not understand what the life means. Or, perhaps you also understand like the sinful world that relies on Me that I died into its place and that it may live in sins. Oh, this is an eternal crucifixion for Me, and not a resurrection for the redemption from the death. But My resurrection for man is that I may arise in man; it is not otherwise, child. Oh, My loved people, this is what I said, that you shall no longer have death, children of the holy people. I asked you to see how you know and I told you: „Do you know that you shall no longer have death?“ This word of Mine from that time has to be fulfilled in you, My loved sons and daughters.

The man, who kills the life of a body to eat the body of the killed, commits death and that one eats the body killed by him, and the death is taken from the belly. Here is what the man does: he feeds the body that is prepared for the death; he feeds pigs, birds and cattle, and works for their food, and then finishes his work and kills the animal or the speechless bird, and the man becomes a grave; a grave for what he kills, and the man says that he is alive, but he is with death into his belly; as the egg turns into meat, and from meat it comes out an egg, and from meat it comes out milk, and I spoke to the man at the clean beginning, to feed himself on the belly prepared for the food of the man, from the ground, from those that grow on the earth, as for this I created those from the beginning so beautifully; to be harmony and work, clean food and joy and holiness<sup>75</sup>. I let everything that is needed to be for the man, but the man changed God's will. I can no longer teach the man the lesson from the beginning, and behold, I take it over again with you and make out you for a garden of life, for an Eden of a new kingdom, as in the beginning; and you should eat what I tell you, and not do as the man from the beginning, who did not want to do as I told him, and who wanted to taste the death, that is disobedience.

I would like to know your ways, Israel; to know the ways of your soul, to see where to put you; to the right or to the left. I would like you to choose, but I would like to be on My right, to come to the right of My glory and not to take after the counsel of your free will, so that you may be My slave, if you do not listen to your Master. I teach you the way of life, the way from the beginning, when the death was not born yet. This way comes from Me to you; it comes with resurrection, but be careful and choose, as resurrection means one thing, and death means another thing. Behold, the people of the earth spoiled the clean teaching of the life and mixed it with the deeds of the death, and you do no longer have to learn from the lesson of life. That is why I always come down as a word from heaven and come with it to you, and I ask you to choose life, as I need to have a people through whom to condemn death. The bodies should reign together with the souls too, as it is written into the Scriptures the lesson for the redemption of the bodies, but I need to have a beginning of this work of the redemption of the bodies.

<sup>75</sup> See selection topic: „What defiles a man, what enters or what comes out of him?“, r.n.

Seek, Israel, to understand your mission and to work from the end to the beginning, as behold, I made you to stay in My work, and you should not oppose, as I pay you if I hired you. But I also pay you if you do not stay into My work. I pay you with the reward of disobedience if you do not listen to Me to stay and work as God says. Do you get upset with Me because I chose you? Do not get upset, Israel; do not get upset that I loved you and I chose you; but you do not realize how you should be, to let your will into My hand. Maybe you want Me to help you to believe in My work. With what shall I help you, Israel? But I helped you, son, as My work has been testifying for two thousand years, for seven thousand years, and it is written in the Scriptures about this time of today, and it is written that I will work by the word before Me; it is written about the time of the holiness, which will come before Me in the clouds. It is written that not everyone will die before My appearance, and some will only change for incorruptibility to welcome the resurrection of those that are asleep in the Lord, and then to be taken away into glory got the welcome of Jesus Christ. But what do you say that the change into incorruptibility means? That is why I asked for your hearts; to put My helm and My love into them, and for you to grow fond of the work of the incorruptibility of the body; the work of clothing in body incorruptibility. This is the shirt that I brought to you from My Father, to find you in it, My loved people, and to shroud you into incorruptibility and that your soul may inherit into your body, as it will come that the bodies what carry you to be heavenly in the day of their incorruptibility utterance. The heavenly wisdom is not hard, but give Me your heart, My child, and let Me be your father, if you call Me so! Oh, if you say „Our Father that are in heaven”, then let Me be your Father, children, if you call Me so, as I do not want to dwell in heavens, but rather I want to reign and work into your hearts. It is for this that I made the heavens and the earth; I made them for the man, as My work can be called man, Christian; and you should understand this, as I created everything for the man; to put him into My creation of heaven and earth. If you want to see My tabernacle over you, Israel, look and you will see it above you, decorated and within a glory of godly creation, with light and ornaments.

When I created the heaven and the earth in the beginning, first I said to be light, and it was light if I said it to be; and I took everything from the light and I created them all by word. And then, at the end of the creation by word, I worked out the man to be after God's image, the image of God's Son, as I was the only One that I was born from the Father before all ages, and I am the One of the same being with the Father. I made the man and I put a spirit of life in him and I placed him into the midst of those that I created, and behold, the man spoiled God's joy, and since then the Lord has been waiting for the time of reparation of those that are spoiled by man. The Lord is waiting for you, Israel. You are waited for, so that the Lord may do with you a work of reparation by the work of your obedience. Or, maybe you do not believe that you are waited by heaven, that the heaven is waiting for your holiness, and that the grace is waiting above you. Believe in God, Israel! Do not be unfaithful into the word of My voice, as I let My voice for you on earth. For you, son, as the people of the church do not believe in God; they do not want that the Lord may work from heaven, and they want that they themselves may work on earth. I prepare you for holiness, and those, who sit upon over you from the church, love the sin and are far from holiness; and they do not love you, but rather they blaspheme you and call you heretic, wonderer and proud. They persecute the light, which I cover you with, people chosen from the world, and they sting you, child, and they judge and follow you with unbelief, and behold, the light has come again into the world, but the people love the dark more.

You should not get upset, Christian, that you are persecuted by those that are great in the church. They did the same with Me too, believing that they served God. But behold, now it is otherwise, as those that get you out of the synagogue, really bring a service to God, for they help you to be distinguished with God, so that God may put you on His right, as My Father took Me to His right when the people of the church cast Me away, as I tell you again: the word church is one thing and the word Church of Jesus Christ into the obedience to Jesus Christ is another thing. The people of the church mock God, and I will ask them immediately an answer and I will show them their fruit. I will point with the finger to the world that is shepherded by them, which has no feast or prayer, no shame or Christian cover, but rather it has pagan ornaments. The world has no repentance; it does not withdraw from the way of sinning, and the whole world made a kingdom and thrones and garment on the earth; and the world goes to church to take the Body of Christ. Oh, what a blasphemy, as even the pigs fled from before Me when I entered the city of the pig keepers, but the world that loves to sin comes and asks My Body from the church to put it into the hell, as no one does the true work of a watchman of those that are holy any more, for it says that the holy ones are not being defiled. Oh, God does not do so! This is how the world mocks God. But you, Israel, stay on My wounds and keep them for Me, as the comfort for My wounds does not come from anyone. There comes garbage over them; there come thorns and thistles, and the world keeps Me on the cross, son. Take Me and put Me down from the cross and do what those from that time did, who put Me down from the cross, and prepared Me for resurrection.

Behold, I come to you; I come and talk to you. I talk only with you and you should understand My work with you and you should wait for My coming, as I come suddenly; I come soon, Israel. There have passed two ages, which the last Scripture is prophesying about, and I come back with My appearance, and your eyes will be opened and you will see Me in My glory as the witnesses of My resurrection saw Me; as now I am after the resurrection as well, and I walk and seek everywhere, but behold, I am with you by the word, I rejoice with you and teach you how to prepare yourself for My coming; and I teach you to be alive with your body and with your soul, Israel, and to have faith, son. Behold, I stay with you through the word, as I do not have any place into the world. I am now after the resurrection as well; I am as the witnesses of My resurrection saw Me; I am as I am in My icon close to Verginica; in the picture that was made by heaven, and which testifies about My work with Verginica, My work in your midst, Israel from the end.

Behold, Verginica's little sister stayed into her place for the burial of her mate's body, a mate who loved sin and disobedience. She had to stay to relieve his way, because it happened with Verginica's relatives as it happened with Israel after the flesh, which did not believe and became stiff-necked. But behold, the Lord had compassion on you for their hardening, Israel chosen from the people, and by their disobedience you got mercy, people of election by grace. And what is it if I also graft this that loved My work but did not fulfill it? He believed it but he did not live it. I will do to him as I did to the thief on the right of My cross, and I will make him see what this work was; the work of Israel redeemed by the sacrifice of the love from the end. I work and judge with deep judgments to put to shame the angels who would boast with those that had this work; and the accusing angels will be bound and cast out too, as I do a work of salvation; and I will open the eyes of those that do not believe. Oh, and with what shall I help the unbelievers to believe and to see where this work of godly word, of godly voice on earth comes from? I help the faithful and open their eyes, but I do not help those that do not believe; I leave them as they are, for their unbelief keeps Me away and it cuts My power to them. And as everything is possible to the one who believes, the same is with the one who does not believe; it is impossible for him to believe and see God in his endless work. But when the moment of the truth comes, it will not be spoken about disbelief, as on that day, those who pierced Me will see the One Whom they pierced; they will see Me; the One they pierced; the One they rejected.

I am the Lord of the resurrection. I am the resurrection and the life of those who believe in Me. Israel, what shall I help you with to believe in Me through this work? I ask you and you should answer Me, Israel. Do you want Me to help you to believe in Me by the work of My word? But whom shall I ask these words? I ask you, Christian who do not believe, who would believe if you saw what you believe. What shall I do to you to believe? I helped Thomas and he believed, but those, whom Thomas testified about My resurrection, believed too. Do you not have sufficient witnesses, son? Do you not want to receive the reward of your faith? But I will open the book and I will show you from it that I will work with this book before the ongoing fulfillments.

The Christians, who do no longer believe in Me and in My word, came back to their vomit. Do not worry, sons. I am the Slaughtered Lamb, Who pays for the redemption of those from the death of disbelief and disobedience. My glory comes into view, as written in the Scriptures, and as I fulfilled those written for My incarnation, the same way the Scriptures for My coming back on the clouds have to come true; the same way it has to be fulfilled all the words of this prophecy, with what I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, have been dwelling into your midst for forty years, people of new Israel.

You, Romanian Israel, be alive in your faith, as it comes the time of those who believe in God and in His works. It comes the time that the dead may arise, as it is written, and they will testify about you from Me, people of the Lord.

Christ is risen, My loved people! I want to tell you about you, Israel, raised from the dead, and I also say that you arose, as you also say about Me. Be alive in your spirit and in your faith and in the body of your spirit, so that I may go before My Father and say: Israel is raised! And the whole body of Israel is raised through it!

It is a day of feast and resurrection, Israel. I brought you together and I made a counsel with you and had dinner into your midst. Come, Christian, to the eternal resurrection, and pray for the whole people that bears the name of Israel, but take care of your garment, so that it may not be dirtied by anything that is foreign.

Peace to you, blessed people, as no one has on earth a greater gift than the grace that I gave it to you, Israel that are blessed by My word. I work by the word upon you, and I work again by the word. In the beginning it was the work of My word and the same it is in the end; the beginning joins the end and I will redeem those from the middle.

Peace to you, Jerusalem of My rest, New Jerusalem, and resurrection to you! As I rest into your midst with the work of My word. I spoke to you about a day of meeting with the heaven, and I accomplished it. Speak about Me and get together; and I will answer, and I will come into your midst, and I will give you heavenly food, Israel. Amen.

I bless you for a feast of resurrection. May all My people Israel be blessed; the one that is faithful and the one that has little faith and the one that has no faith at all; all the people who ate from the feast of this work, which is called the Word of God (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) for a supper of forty years.

Israel let you to be under My grace. Get up for the work of resurrection and faith, so that you may take the work of the grace upon you. May My blessing be upon you, Israel of the grace from the end! Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the Lord's Ascension

The heaven speaks to the earth. The Lord is sounding His trumpet on earth. I, the Lord, speak from heaven and it is heard on earth. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, the Son of the Father; I, He, Who has ascension and descent in the clouds; I, Who walks on the wing and whisper of the wind; I, Who make the grass spring up for the animals and vegetation as food for people; I, the Lord, speak from heaven on earth, and blessed is the one who hears the words of My voice and believes in the Son of God. This is the work of God: that the man may believe into the One that God sent. And the one that My Father gives to Me, comes to Me, and the one that comes I will not drive him out from Me, as this is the will of My Father, Who sent Me, so that everyone that My Father gives Me, to keep, strengthen and raise from the dead, as he who believes in Me has eternal live, resurrection and a day of resurrection.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, this is the sign of those who receive Me; this is the name of those who believe in God and I will raise him up; I will bring him to the day of resurrection. I am the resurrection, and anyone who has heard and learned from My Father, comes to Me and will be taught by God. I am the Word of My Father, the only One born of the Father; I am My Father's messenger; I am the One Who spoke to Israel, to Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; I am the One Who spoke with Moses and with the prophets. I am the Angel of the great counsel, Who spoke with Israel.

I speak to My people that is called Israel.

Peace to you, Israel, My blessed people, as you know My Father and you know Me, you Israel of the promise! My Father is in Me, and you believe this Scripture, because you are taught by God, as it is written into the Scriptures: «And they will be taught by God», and this it means that the one who comes to Me learns from My Father.

Israel, My people, the Spirit of My Father rests upon you, because you believed in the One that Father has sent to you now, and I have you as My witness, Israel, and I call you My people, Israel. I chose you and I call you Israel, as this how I also called the people chosen from the beginning; I called it Israel too; I named and I called it out Jerusalem as well, and you are Israel after the grace and after My word, which has been in counsel with you for forty years, Israel of My coming in the clouds. And you are My witness of today, the witness of My coming back on the clouds, as from the clouds and from the wind above your head and near you I speak to you, and I call you Israel, and I feed you on My word, more than Israel from other ages. Oh, you are My witness of this time, and the world does not know, and this little village does not know who are you, people got together in the cowshed of this work of godly word; it does not want to know that I had a trumpet in this village, a singer that I played through her and I spoke as in heaven so on earth. I had spoken for twenty-five years through a vessel chosen by Me, through a vessel chosen by God, and within these years, I had raised fruit and the fruit has given forth fruit, and the Lord has spoken from the fruit, and My work does not stand still but it goes up to its glory; it goes up to its end.

I am the word of this work, and if I am, you are blessed by your faith, Israel, as by your faith I will go with you to the end of My work and I will speak over you and you will fulfill My word. I can do everything, as a God, and behold, I speak upon you and I do not let you die, My people, My chosen Israel, but you shall not forget that I chose you, and not you; I, and that is why you are My people, and that is why I do not leave you to yourself. I do not leave you, because My chosen people has to do the will of the One Who sent Me to this people to choose it to listen to God.

Oh, Israel son, do you know, do you believe that no one listens to God anymore? No one listens to Me any longer, My people; no one, and you would have not listened either if I had not given you power to believe and to listen to God. That is why I come and speak upon you, that you may believe in My declared word and that I may fulfill it by your faith. Behold what I pain I share today with you as with a witness, My dear, for you have been the witness of a godly work for forty years. I am with you in counsel and in word, and the world did not know this mystery, and behold, now I have told the world My mystery with you, and the world has no faith; it cannot believe that I speak over the earth, that I have been always working and speaking on earth. I have had a people prepared over and over again, a secret nest with which I have gone forward closer to the man, so that it may remain as a testimony from the man, how I, the Lord, have worked and not remained silent, and I did not remain in heaven, and I have stayed with the man and worked into the midst of the people, and God's people have testified about My work from age to age, by which I am with the faithful people; I am from age to age.

Here is what a pain I share with you today, Israel, My witness of today. I have made it well known to the world and I said that I am with you at work and in the word, and the world has its world and its spirit and does not know how to choose its spirit. The world does not know and does not believe that I am with you, to come through you and to come to Me as you came; also to testify what you testify, to learn, son, to learn from God, as you take from Me and from heaven to be with Me and not with the world and not without Me.

I want to give you as a testimony, Israel, My people of today, people nourished by Me in the time of disbelief, because it is the age of the disbelief from before My appearance on the clouds of the glory. I am on the clouds; I am, but the eyes of the world are kept from seeing that I am on the clouds. I have the clouds of ascension and descent, as it is written into the Scriptures. Oh, I made My voice come down upon the manger of My word, and the sons of My word get out with Me into your midst and give you what I gave them for you, as I put these before Me for you, son, and they stand before you with Me into My name, Israel, with My word, as I am the Word. I also told you that My name of today is the Word of God. (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) This is My name into your midst. I am the Word of God, and blessed are you, Israel, because you are chosen by My Father to be My people of today, as the world of today, which goes to church, does not know how Jesus Christ demands that a faithful man should be. Who is to tell the world? Who, as there is no one? And you, when I ask you today, you shall say like the prophet: «Here I am, Lord, to do your will». Tell Israel, tell to the world what I taught you, what I taught you to teach you also, so that you may be of the same work with Me and that you may not work injustice, to be ashamed of the one with earthly ornaments, of the one with earthly seats, you should not be ashamed of the one with knowledge, and you should not tell this man to take wisdom from heaven, as on earth is as on earth not as on heaven.

Israel, witness of Jesus Christ and of the wisdom of His word, take from the heaven and give to the world as well, and tell to the man from the world not to say that he is with Me. Tell him that it is not possible both with the world and with My Spirit. Who told it, to the world; who told it that it is possible with God as it wants? I want to raise you an apprentice upon the world without Me. I want you to breathe into My name, to breathe My Spirit upon the man from the world who comes to seek you, and to help him to find Me and to taste Me with faith, as the one who takes Me for heavenly food, remains in Me, and I remain in him. I told you that I share with you the pain, which comes upon Me from the disbelief of the today's world; that I could not come out with you as a witness by now; it was not possible, son, as I sought to have you, and I did not leave you to be swallowed by your butchers. But now you should no longer stay; I come to you and I tell you not to say with Me under a bushel; you should no longer stay, as I want to command that the disbelief may withdraw aside, so that the man may see the way and walk in it. You are My way among the people. You are My people that is prepared to be a miracle on earth, to be light and salt and water and sacrifice of love in My name, and an example of holiness, Israel, people with a holy name, and to be a testimony among the peoples, you little and tiny people, taken from the middle of Romania, to be for it a beginning of resurrection and of heavenly glory.

I am into your midst, My loved Israel, and I celebrate with you a heavenly feast, the feast of My ascension to the Father, as that is why I ascended, so that I may come then to My people. And I came if this is what I promised to those that were the witnesses of My ascension to My Father, as after ten days My apostles clothed within Me, into My power, as the Holy Spirit was sent by My Father and by Me. Here is why I had to go to My Father; that My Father may work with Me, as He worked everything with the Son, the One begotten from the Father before the ages.

It is a feast of ascension into your midst. Peace to you and in Me and peace to Me in you! But who could understand your joy in Me on this day of ascension? It is a day of ascension, and I come to raise you to the work of testimony, My people Israel. The witnesses that were at My ascension, how many they were, they stood as witnesses to the faith of the people. The witnesses of My birth from the Virgin, the shepherds from the sheep, and the Magi stood as witnesses the same way. On the day of My transfiguration there were three witnesses that I took especially with Me to testify about My glory. Oh, My glory was always with Me, and I was not transfigured on the day when you say that it is the day of the Lord's transfiguration. It is not this way that you have to understand, but rather you may say that I let My glory be uncovered for a moment, so that I may convince those that My Father gave Me of My glory from My Father. Their eyes were released to see for a moment, and they saw My glory and testified, and their testimony remained. On My meeting with those from Emmaus, you should understand that My glory that always was with Me was allowed to be seen. The same is now. Oh, and how many times I revealed My glory in My work with you! And how many testimonies are and that will testify into your mist! But what a pain! As behold, My seen glory is about to be uncovered in this work, and there is no faith on earth. Oh, and you should have believed, Israel, that I and you worked great deeds from the Father; I fulfill with you all that I have to fulfill; I speak with you as I have never spoken by now through the ages; My glory has always been with you, and we will testify about all the work of this glory. And if the age still was, it would be a great testimony, son, but otherwise, it will bear witness your time with Me. It will bear witness and will fulfill and open the eyes of many, as all will be taught by God through the glory of this work. This heavenly work with so many witnesses, the book of this godly work among the people, will be written by God's finger on any patch, on any little branch, on any little stone; and in the rivers, in the springs, in the mountains, in the paths, in the wind, and in the clouds, as I was this work, I, the One Who walked with you from place to place, and I sprinkled the earth with the dew of My word, which will be testified by all that are seen and not seen. All will bear witness: the time, the place, the heaven, the water, the dry land, and the leaves from the trees, as all speak only in imaginations. This way the godly work will be announced and it will be taken and carried like the softest little clothing, like the holiest spring, as this is the river of life, which flows from the throne of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. And you will testify, people chosen at this table, and you will be testified by the glory that will enshroud you before the people. But you should still have a little patience until it is proclaimed everywhere, until I have finished prophesying the news about the New Jerusalem come down among the people to be with them forever.

Do not get lost, Jerusalem, as this is how I called Israel too. Do not run to waste, Jerusalem, as you are the remnant with grace that I still remained with during this time, and every nation on the earth will bow down to you and will stay under your light. Get up and testify what I worked on the earth on these days. Testify Israel, My witness that you will be My witness from earth to heaven, from dawn to dawn. Tell, My child, to the world and to every dead and called man; tell everything that I worked with you and you with Me, all the wonderful deeds. Tell you, worker and obedient, that I will make the weak ones to look for you and you should bear testimony of Me and of My time. And you, Judas, (The unfaithful ones, r.n.) get up and tell what you did into this work. Tell, son, and do not lose your mind and hang yourself as then. Tell, with your number, no matter how big it is, with your friend, with your hired man, with your master, with everyone that has had the same work with you; also, speak about what you did, so that you may repent and may not lose your mind again, hanging yourself. It is the time to testify about this godly work, as you are here, as you will not see, Israel; you will not see any Judas but only into your midst, son. He is born nowhere but in you Israel. Judas has this name only in you, only near God. Now it is the time that this godly work may be testified of, and you are part of it and you have nowhere to withdraw; you are caught into it; you are in the book of this prophecy. You have repentance before you. Do not do as you did then; do not be stupid as then. Testify about Me and believe in Me, and you will be alive by faith. A Judas has a bad habit of hiding himself, but take a look to see, that My glory will include everything. Where would it be for you to hide anymore? What would it still be for you to do with a foreign price? You would no longer be able to do anything with lie and judgment, as it is the time for every dead man to come to life and rise to God.

My people of today, the world from this little village did not know; it did not know well why you used to come on this hill; it did not know about My spring for you; it did not know that here was the cowshed for you and for Me. My work with you, people of today, has been beautiful. Verginica was the pipe that I played for you, Israel, My people of today, but the world from here was laying traps for you and for Me. That happened to Me then too. Those from My people, those from My town did not appreciate Me and did not receive Me. The same was with My trumpet, Verginica. She was a vessel chosen by God, but neither the villagers, nor her neighbors, nor her godparents, nor her godchildren, nor her kindred and nor her closest relative valued her. The same was then too, when I came through the Virgin; the same as now when I came in the Holy Spirit to choose you from the world; you, Israel, My today's people. And I have had no place on the earth to teach you as I had to teach you, for the church on the earth that bears My name and My garment, the Orthodoxy that I kept calling it My bride, forsook God. It wants to deny God, but I say that it has already done so, as there has been no greater schism within My church since two thousand years than the one that was seventy years ago, when it was fulfilled the Scripture that says: «They will make so bold as to change the times». (When, in 1924, the Romanian Orthodox Church changed some of holy days of old style - after the Julian calendar, for the new style – Gregorian, like Catholics as well, r.n.). Here is the schism of that time; it was the denial of the faith and of the celebrated saints from the heavenly Synod; the denial of the Orthodoxy from our forefathers. The Orthodoxy does no longer know that God means; it took after the science of this age and believes what the science says. But the greatest science is to work out the commandments of the holiness and of the Christian and godly virtues, for which some of the learned men left the teaching of the world and embraced the light of the godly virtues, as it is written: «Those who belong to Christ have crucified the flesh with its passions and lusts», and the law, which condemns the man before God, as the experts of the law condemn your love for heaven.

Oh, I have let you know so that you may gather yourself together around the manger of My word, and you loved Me and came. And since I have proclaimed My word for you to come, you have come, Israel, and I looked ahead of you and I prepared your path, son. There are three, four days since I have lowered the word here, at My manger, and I have taught the children of My word to kneel down with their hands lifted up and to ask from Me to nourish the earth with rain. They listened to Me and I prepared the rain and I watered the earth. And I told them again to ask from Me; to ask cloudless and fine weather to work at your request, people chosen today, and I work this way. I work into your midst, to convince you that I have always been into your midst by the word.

Well children, have faith in God. This is the work that you have to fulfill: to believe in Me. Be careful and do not burden yourself with the weariness on the road. Be careful in your spirit, as I want to exhort you for the work of grace, sons. I want you to know well what the Christian is to say to have grace from God. The Christian of My people needs to have grace, and if it has not, let him ask this work from God and it will come.

Oh, Christians, the heart in you is the house for Me, children, and if My grace dwells in it, the Christians is always with his house open, so that My grace may enter it. Your face, dear Christian, is the window of your heart. If you look on someone's face you understand whether the man has grace. The grace in man comforts and warms up everything that the man has around himself. My grace in you makes you calm and contented; it makes you peaceful and clean. My grace in you calls you to life and peace, to faith and resurrection. That is why I teach you, My people, that I want you to know how to work by grace, but by My grace and not by your grace. You should learn from Me the work of the grace, as it is a great thing to be under My grace, Israel. Do not get upset of your sufferance, and do not get upset of your trials that come upon you, as they are announcements of helping angels. Here is how the man receives grace! The man who has no angel visitation, who has nothing to suffer from, who has nothing to fight for on the earth, that one has not got into the school of grace. The grace is a school; it is received through its school, and you cannot learn the grace without school. The scolding which comes to you, Christian, from the one that is near you, from the one that is greater than you, that is the school of grace. The trial from your neighbor is also a school. The pains and humility worked out by pains, is the work of the school of grace. If you know how to learn and interpret those and these, then you are a diligent and careful student, but if these do not teach you anything, if they do not take you to God and to the work of the grace, then you are a mindless and loveless man.

Israel, the work for the preparation of the grace is a benefit from Me, son. Do not complain Christian, when the Lord tests you on the earth. This is the work of grace. Do not be grieved into your heart; do not let the face of your heart be downcast; do not harden it. Let the house of your heart into My hand and understand how much I want to give you grace. Grace by sight is much less than the grace received by faith. The faith in those that are seen is easy to work out, but the grace of the faith is great work; as the apostles saw and believed and had grace, but your grace, Israel, is greater than that of those, and that is why you are loved by heaven and by My Father, and it will not be long and you will see that what I tell you now is true upon you.

I told you, loved people, to cast away from you the empty glory, and not to take it on you any longer; do not keep it into your house and do not take it into your house. If I enter your house to see what you have in it, this picture is the picture of your heart. I urged you to holiness, Israel, to cleanness and humility, to poverty in the spirit, to obedience, and I asked you to cast your anxiety away. Why do you worry about? That you have no food? That you have no little clothing? That you have no expensive things or a good house? That you do not have what you need? Do not worry about these, as they make you work all day and forget about the heavenly kingdom. Oh, how much I want you not to do this! I had compassion on you, Christian, as I saw you working for a little cow, for a little chicken, and you were bound, worried and worn-out. I had mercy on your children, as they took your little cow to pasture and they came back home with foreign lesson, with bad and hidden lessons; they came back dead and wounded and you did not know it. Forget it son, as what I taught you is good, and do not grieve about this life. You can also eat as it was the food from the beginning given to the man.

Everyone should eat from his mother; let each one eat from the one who made him. Let the animal eat from the animal and from the food given for him from God, and let the man eat from the man and on the food given for him by God; from God and not from the animal. You are a man in the man; you are not from an animal to eat otherwise. Let each one eat from his mother and from God's hand, Who makes the grass spring up for animals and vegetation as food for the people. This is how it was from the clean beginning, but if death spoiled this clean nest, it took the chicks from the nest and threw them down on the earth, and the chicks died. But behold, God is starting again from the beginning, and establishes again those from the beginning.

Israel, learn about grace, Israel. Do not wonder that the world does not understand the things from the beginning. Why should you be angry about? The world chooses its ground, and you chose the heaven, and if you insist on being with heaven on earth, the earth will become heaven by your work, and the heaven will fight for the earth. Do not wonder about anything; do not get upset with anything, and do the work of a new heaven and a new earth, as for this you are chosen from the world; to be with God, and you will be of help for the time without consolation, which will come over those from the world, as the world has come to its end, and the Lord, at the beginning. The Lord has arrived at the beginning with you, Israel. Do you rejoice, son? Do you like to be with the end? Do Adam and Eve rejoice over the valor of your spirit and body, you Israel that are for the Holy Spirit? Come back to be in your first love; the one from Eden, the one without death, and be an obedient child, Israel, and do not be curious or lustful, and do not rise to overlook God, as Adam has you to repair his garden, his life and fault, but you do not have anyone after you. Mind you do not take yourself after the world that lengthens the age. Read in the Scriptures and see what it writes about My coming, but see how you read. Read well, as it is not seen what is written into the Scriptures any longer. The teachers of the Scriptures hid the Scriptures of My coming and do no longer wait for Me to come; they do not watch any longer. They made the age longer from their own reading; they changed the words of God's book. (In the Romanian Orthodox Bible it writes „thousands of years” instead of „one thousand years”, r.n.). Oh, how much patience I have had during these days! When the righteous Simeon erased the word of My birth from the Virgin from the Scriptures, I worked from beside My Father and I put Simeon to shame, and I made him see what he erased from God's book. But these from today, who work without their parents, who make a storm in heaven, that is into the Scriptures, what shall I do to them anymore? These are punished by what they did, as they changed the number spoken by God through the Holy Spirit; they took the books of the Holy Spirit out.

Oh, Israel, mind you do not take after the man who lengthens the sufferance that makes the evil age longer, which does not that the Lord may come with His kingdom without the age, the endless one. Take a look; if you put ten teachers to show you the way and the Scriptures, and they do not match each other. And how comes this? And behold, the world does not wake up to see that its watchmen do not watch from the Lord, but rather they watch from them. Let the world do no longer that it is with Me, as it has a great sin if it says so. And I tell you again: it is one thing to call a church with ministers, and another thing to call a church of Jesus Christ, with ministers like Jesus Christ, like its Teacher, Jesus Christ.

Israel, I was longing to sit in counsel with you, to soothe My longing; I missed you and I wanted to refresh your spirit, Israel who loved Me. And if you have sons in you, who do not love Me, I make a spirit of love to come down from heaven, to heal your sons of coldness, Israel, so that you may not grow soft on the way with Me, Christian. Behold, I made out a heavenly celebration and a spirit of joy with the heaven. I am above you with My heaven, with My throne and with all the dwelling of My glory. Verginica (St. Virginia, r.n.) is celebrated by My heaven, on the feast of her birth. Behold, today you celebrate the day of My ascension into heaven, and the day of Virginia's birth, and how well these two feasts match each other! I went and she came. I go and she comes. I ascend and she comes down. I stop from My speaking and she starts her speaking with My people. No saint is for death; no saint is unable. All the saints are clothed within God, and I do not have to tell you Israel, that Verginica lives and speaks from near God, from near Abraham, Isaac and Jacob.

Do not be afraid, Israel! If you were to stay a day and a night on the road, do not worry. I had always stayed on the road, in the head and in the wind. Do not be afraid! I work for you, but let your heart towards Me, little child. Do not be prone to sleeping, or to drowsiness, and be careful at My trumpet, as I release the voice of My trumpet over you. She called the trumpet on earth, and she calls it from heaven too.

May your trumpet sounding be blessed, Verginica. I in you, and you in Me, My love. Peace to you in the midst of your people!

– Christ ascended, Israel of the Lord! I deliver the greeting of the today's feast from your midst. Christ ascended, people of the Lord, Jesus Christ! Take care, son, the Lord does not want to lose anyone, and you should have the whole number and to multiply yourself calling to the Lord those that will learn from you the heavenly way on earth.

Here we are; I and the witnesses of God's work, which started in 1955, and was worked with me. I was born a year before the fall from the church. (1923, r.n.) And if I was born then, the Lord chose me to be a mending tool for those that become corrupted then, of those that fell in. And it had been waited for seventy years, and the Lord put back to their place His broken things, those that were damaged and abolished by the man. (The observing of the feasts on a precise date in the new church<sup>76</sup>.) Woe, as the people made so bold as to change those of the Lord, which came from the fathers up to these days! Behold, my people, what kind of work was that which the Lord had with me! And after passing of those seventy years, the Lord started to put back to their place those that were abolished; he started with you the returning to the first beginning, and I do no longer say at the beginning of Jesus Christ's church. Remain careful with this work, as I, sons, am standing with the fruit and speaking from heaven, and my fruit is hearing me, as the sheep hear the voice of their shepherd. A shepherd of God never dies, and has a flock forever. Do not be feeble, Israel, and you, Christian, the one who are from the beginning of this work, teach yourself to testify about it from now on, so that the Lord might have not worked in vain upon this vineyard.

Oh, how dear you are to God, Israel, you and your sons, who are on the way of this work! And on one day it will be that the Lord's grace will shine, enshrouding you from everywhere and you will no longer be in need of the sun, as the sun will go pale before the One Who made the light. In the beginning was the wisdom and then the light was made. The light was made in the first day, and there was evening and there was morning, the first day. And after the Lord made the heavens and the earth, He made then, in the fourth day, the sun and the moon, the lighter of the day and the lighter of the night.

You should stay at this school of grace, Israel; you should stay, son, and learn the lesson of the grace. Come always together with the heaven and ask grace and stay under the grace. You should have a clear face and soul; you should have a clean body and spirit and you should not let yourself grow drowsy. Grow over sleep and drowsiness, children of the Lord. It will come to work much; it will come for the gates of the Lord's gates to be open. Grow your hearts over sleep and fog. Let the blue of the holy sky settle into your hearts and on your faces and I will see you and tell you whose sons you are, and who you take after. Get up to work. Teach yourself to proclaim the Lord and follow the tracks of the little shepherds, and let the little shepherds keep the track of their Shepherd.

Israel, oh, what a gift you have brought to me! You came out to me on the day of my birth. May the Lord, God, bless you, Israel! When I came into the world, it was the day of the Sunday of all the saints that year, and all the saints of the heaven got together around me; the saints who heard from the Lord that a work of salvation was born into the world.

Keep the track of the trumpet, children! Go to the holy heaven, as look how the holy heaven is coming down into your way. What shall I give you more on this day? I give you the promise that the Lord comes soon with the holy heaven, and I will come with the Lord.

Today is a day of celebration and not of sorrow, but I cannot help not to go to those that are separated from me. Come back, you, who are separated from the womb of this work, and do not stay separated from the body of this people! Come back no matter how great your separation is! Come back to me, as I am from the Lord upon you. It is the celebration of this work on earth. I have been celebrating this work for three years in heaven and on earth at the same time. Come to the celebration of this work! Come back to it with repentance! Come back so that the Lord may not make you come back. The moment of those that are not seen comes; of those from heaven and of yours. Let yourself be uncovered beforehand, so that that day may be a day of glory and not of sorrow.

I am celebrated by Israel. Remain in an eternal celebration, Israel; remain son, and be forever with your God! The heaven is open above and it comes with you and it goes singing above, as you also go, celebrating the heaven with your singing, with your longing. It is a heavenly celebration in my birth village. The heaven stays open and comes with you to the gate from the valley, to the gate of the New Jerusalem, which the Lord told you long ago, long ago through this work.

I miss to give you my love by the word, and to let you know this word of love. Behold, I celebrate my day, my staying and my people.

Peace to you, people of the Lord, my God! And let the peace of this celebration remain like a seal upon this town. Israel, testify about this work that was with the Lord and with me upon you. Let the world have this ray of heavenly work as you have it, people nourished by the word that came from heaven. Behold the voice of the Lord upon this lands where the Lord has been grazing His flock of this people for such a long time. And behold the voice of the Lord's trumpet. May my peace be with you Israel, the peace and the joy that I have from the Lord, your God! I am not ashamed with you in heaven. This is how you should work and this is how you should multiply the Lord's grace upon you.

Peace to you young and old men, those that were far off on those that are near! Peace to you, witnesses of the Lord! And take this testimony to the ends of the heaven and the earth; receive the peace of the Lord and the news of the Lord, so that the people may receive a spirit of resurrection. May your joy with the heaven be blessed! Let this day of joy be lifted up to heaven, and meet you for testimony!

Peace to you, Israel, as the Lord is your God! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of Pentecost

The Holy Spirit is the Spirit of God. Blessed is the man who receives by perseverance and by faith the work of the Holy Spirit, God's work.

Let the watchmen be careful, as God, the word, is lowering His voice a little bit on the manger of the word, so that the book of this day may be also of a heavenly feast on earth.

I come to celebrate with you, children of My manger from these days, as I find My pleasure and My true work of the Holy Spirit in this manger. Peace to you! Receive My word; receive the Holy Spirit and give it to My people Israel, as well. This is what I said to My apostle, breathing on them: «Receive the Holy Spirit!».

Oh, Israel, My today's people, how many times I have breathed on you, son! Oh, and how many times I have breathed to receive the Holy Spirit by the gift and by My grace! Look, I say to you again: receive the Holy Spirit from Me and became spiritual in the Holy Spirit and breathe upon the world, My people. I elected you for this and I educated you at this school of the Holy Spirit, a heavenly school. Peace to you, My people Israel! Peace to you and Holy Spirit from the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit! The fire of the Holy Spirit is God's tongue; God's tongue among the people. I have My work of word upon the people, as the other creatures listen and totally fulfill God's work, but with the man is something else, and because of the man's hardening everything has been changed, and all have been suffering for seven thousand years, waiting for the things that are not shaken. All have been sighing waiting for those that are not shaken, as because of the fall of man from those that are not shaken, all were shaken and the man needs great repentance. I want to make the work of this man's repentance through you, Israel. Be wise, as look what you have to do: you have to bring before the heaven repentance for every man, from Adam and to My coming, which will be seen by every eye on the earth and under the earth, as the eyes that are with the heaven see the Lord on the clouds of His glory. You, My people, should repent not only for your sins, but also for the whole creature from beginning to end. Be afraid of the mystery that you carry and stay in the work of God's fear, as the spirit of God's fear will lift you up to the work of the Holy Spirit over the creature, Israel, My people.

I came to cast the fire of the Holy Spirit on the earth, as this is God's fire. The fire that consumes the creature is the work of the wrath, but the fire of the Holy Spirit is the work of cleanness. I did not come to lose the world, but rather I came to save it, and I was born of man, and I let Myself die in the flesh and I was raised and went to My Father; and I sent the fire of the Holy Spirit for cleanness before My coming in the clouds, and I will grow high this fire upon sons and daughter, and I will give them power to become sons of God, sons born of heaven, of the Holy Spirit, that is coming from heaven, to a new birth and to a new world. That is why I had to go to My Father. I did not go to leave the world, but rather I went to come to it with the Holy Spirit, that proceeded from My Father, of Whom I also was begotten, without age and without time.

Israel, My loved people, My today's people taken from the Romanian people, do you know son, how the Holy Spirit descended in His day of glory? It is a great thing if you know, but it is still a great thing how to know to understand and to have this day and its work into your mind. There were people gathered together in Jerusalem from all sides of the world, and the Holy Spirit descended upon them all. How comes upon them all? I tell you that it was so. Not only upon the apostles did the Holy Spirit descend. The being of the Holy Spirit appeared upon the apostles, so that it might show their work from Jesus Christ; the image of the Holy Spirit was shown upon them, so that the others might believe in Jesus Christ, the One that was preached by the apostles; the One, Who was raised from the dead and taken up into the heavens. And those that said that the apostles were filled with wine, they received the Holy Spirit too, as each man from then on understood what the apostles were speaking; each one understood in his own language, as on that moment the tongues of the people were made clear, and it was only one language, the language of the Holy Spirit, which was understood by every man on that day; and the work of that day was the clear face of My kingdom upon the faithful people and upon those that were to believe through the faithful ones.

Behold, the day is coming when all the breath on the earth, all that will be in and out of the body, may have only one language, the language of the Holy Spirit. He, who is speaking today in the language of the Holy Spirit to the ignorant, has to interpret the significance of the Holy Spirit's words, but in My day of glory it will be nothing to be asked, nothing to be interpreted, as the Holy Spirit will be the One, Who will be shared, and that Scripture about the new birth of the world will be fulfilled. But until then, I work with you upon the world, My people, and the people of the Holy Spirit, which flows upon you into the language of God's invisible wisdom.

Behold, the confused language of the world, the confused language, which covered the earth because of the man's spirit, who became conceited up to God's throne, this language received the punishment of its mixture, and the man has no way not to discern anything, and man with man struggles, a man over man, and there is no way out from this confusion. But you, My people, you have the language of the Holy Spirit upon you, and you should speak it, son, on the earth, as a great damage has come upon the earth because of the man's haughtiness, who wanted to tempt God's hidden mysteries, that hoped in His knowledge; and it is written: «He, who speaks from himself, seeks his own glory», and the man gives glory to one another, and the man relies on one another, and behold a confusion not made clear up to this day and until tomorrow, as the school of the Holy Spirit cannot be learned on the earth. This school can be learned only in heaven. But you will say: „Who can ascend into heaven to learn this school?” Truly I speak to you that this school and this language can be learned only in heaven, as on the earth there is confusion of languages and of the spirits of languages, and no one would believe if I told him that the language on earth is totally foreign to the one in heaven, the language from the heaven. That is why I seek, moment by moment, to take the earth off you, Israel, and to put the heaven on you, and you understand this language that I speak into, as you learn in heaven, son. If I am near you with My word, where do you think that you are, since My place is in heaven, on the right side of My Father and of yours, Israel, My people?

My loved children, I took Abraham out of the confusion of the languages on the earth, and I separated and blessed him, and I blessed all the nations in him; and I have raised out of him a people, and I have always been with this people, and I have had this people from the nations of the earth, and I have stayed into its midst and spoken into My heavenly language, which had been over the people until the confusion of the languages; until the birth of the Babylon over the confused languages. As when the people started to speak on the earth there was only one language, and the people after the flood spread then all over the face of the earth, but they sought first to build a city and a tower into its midst, having the thought to reach up to heaven, and so that this testimony may belong to them, and then to scatter themselves all over the face of the earth. This was man's work and the Lord looked at the city built by the sons of the people, by the sons who got out with their mind from other people of the earth. And if God saw that the people would not stop from their haughty thought, He had the confusion of their languages come down and they could no longer understand each other; and they did not advance with their tower, and this work, this city, was called Babylon, and afterwards the Lord scattered the people from there all over the face of the earth. And the people remained so and they do not longer have the language of the Holy Spirit. And today is the same, and that is why I said to you that the language of the Holy Spirit cannot be learned on earth, but only in heaven, Israel, My people, as I speak only with you about the heavenly mysteries.

It is written that they who violate one law are guilty, but today all the laws are violated, all the commandments for holiness and how could the people teach other people and this language to be good when they are guilty of those that are holy? The teachers, who teach and speak into the name of God, have read the book of the Holy Spirit, but if they do not fulfill those that are written, it is not said that they teach when they say: „Lord, we taught the world into the markets and followed you”. Woe, what painful it will be the answer of the Holy Spirit, of the language of the Holy Spirit, Which is from heaven and that cannot be included into the book from the earth! This language and its speech is endless on the earth and in heaven, and behold, the book stays open until the end, until the first beginning, which is to come again for the settling down of those that are not shaken. I had not been with My work until then, only what was written then and until then: I am in an endless work, and behold, I work and I speak from heaven over the people of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and over the people of Verginica, My people promised to be and to start being, so that all the nations of the earth may come to God and to the school of the Holy Spirit, as it is written: «For out of Zion will come forth the law, and all the nations will flow there». The mount of Zion is God's throne, from where this work of the Holy Spirit flows over you, Israel, My people. Take son, and give from it, and the one who believes and will be baptized into it, into this water of the river of life, into the water of Jordan, which flows from the throne of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and he, who will be baptized into this heavenly vessel, that one will come to Me and will be received and have resurrection and a day of resurrection. But see what you are doing, Israel; see how you drink from this water and see how you give from it. Take the little wooden pail into your hand and take water into it and give it to the nations of the earth. This is how you should go, on the day of Epiphany, to take the holy water from the Jordan of Jesus Christ and to go to your household and sprinkle yourself with it, so that everything may be sanctified; this is how you should take from your little wooden pail the water of the Holy Spirit and to baptize into it the whole creature, so that the creature may know the taste of God; to taste and to be hungry after God.

I likened My kingdom to natural parables, but natural parables are not eternal, sons; they are only an image of those that are eternal. You saw what the prince of the world did, that he pasted the man to his visible things, of the prince of the world, children. And now, at his end, the prince of the world made a machinery and opened a window to those that are seen, and seduced with it the whole creature, (The television and the internet, r.n.); and the man is looking into this window and forgets about the heaven; and the man is looking at the confusion of the languages on earth, which are seen by this window. But I will fool him and I will turn this weapon against him, as I will make use of his weapon and his window and get in it the work of the Holy Spirit and the view of the heavenly life that I work and make out upon you, Israel, My people of today. Behold, I came to show you through this window, (The screen, the monitor, r.n.), the testimony of your celebration with me at the feast of the Ascension, at Verginica's feast and of Verginica's village. I have to turn everything back to those that will never be destroyed, but stay into at the school of the Holy Spirit, My people, and learn well, to take the little crown, the gift and the prize of salvation, Israel.

You do not find the teaching of the Holy Spirit on earth, but you find you in heaven instead, My people. Stay in heaven, stay with Me and do not get out from Me and from My presence, as outside are the wolves with body and without body; outside are the dogs, the sorcerers, the idol worshippers, the liars and fornicators and murderers; outside is the confusion of the languages, My people. Let them come in to Me; those that were and got out from Me leaving for Babylon. Let them come in repenting for them and for the whole creature, as outside is the confusion of the languages, children. There is only one language with Me, sons, the language of the Holy Spirit, cleaning the death off, and all things will come back to those that are not shaken.

All the people that were gathered together at Jerusalem on the day of Pentecost, were seized by the work of the Holy Spirit; they all were hearing the language of the Holy Spirit into their own languages, and believed that it was the wine that was speaking through them, children. My apostles were filled with the new wine, the renewed spirit of the new wine, a drunkenness of the Holy Spirit on the earth, a joy of the Holy Spirit upon the people, the spirit of Jesus Christ's victory, the One Who ascended to the Father, the One raised through death and resurrection. Every people were seized by this joy of the new language in Jerusalem, the language from heaven over the creatures.

All of your body, Israel, My people, all of your body should be baptized during all the time with the baptism of the Holy Spirit, with the fire of the Holy Spirit, and you should work son, from My apostles on until today and tomorrow; from the beginning and until today and tomorrow, My people, as tomorrow I will rest again in the man, in the man from the beginning, and I will celebrate the day of the Lord's rest.

You shall love the Lord, your God, Israel; you shall love Him with all your heart, with all your soul, with all of your mind, and your neighbor as yourself, My people. I will come to you, as I will gather you together to speak with you about this commandment in which the whole of My kingdom is included in you, Israel.

May you be blessed, My people! May you, the children of the manger of the word, who take into your little bag and bring to My people, be blessed! Receive and give! This is My word over Israel. Receive the Holy Spirit! May Israel, My people blessed by Abraham, Isaac, Jacob and Verginica, be blessed!

We will sit again in a heavenly counsel, and I will come to you, Israel. I will take the sons of My garden and I will bring to you from Me, and you will be happy if you receive from Me, if it is known that you receive from Me; as I will also know you if you are known by My Father.

I am pleased to spend time with you My people, and if you are also pleased, we will work together from now on; we will work much and will gather together your people that are scattered, and then we will call the table guests to your wedding with Me, My people, as they will see you enshrouded with glory, and they will come after you, and will come after Me, and the language of the Holy Spirit will speak over sons and daughters, over old and young men, over servants and handmaids, and it will be an eternal celebration of the Holy Spirit in heaven and on earth, and everything will be new and in a celebration garment, My people Israel.

In the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, receive and give the Holy Spirit, as I am the Word of the Holy Spirit of the Godly Trinity.

Who can curse you, My people? Who, Israel? May you be blessed! May you be blessed forever! Amen, amen, amen.

The Sunday of all saints

The creation suffers from the man's disobedience. The yoke of marriage. Food like in Eden. The steps of calling to the work of a disciple. The interpretation of the love for one's neighbor.

My meeting with you, Israel, is blessed. In the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, I come down to you, son, with a celebration of a holy synod and of angels, and I celebrate with you the celebration of today, the celebration of all saints, Israel, My today's people. Peace to you! Peace to your spirits, sons! Let the sleep not overtake you; let the drowsiness not overtake you! Be awake with a heavenly and godly awakening, and be more vigorous that all the things that have been done! Be holy within your body and your soul. Be holy into your obedience, and I say to you again, be holy with your obedience, My children, as disobedience made the earth, the man and the creation suffer; and behold, they have been suffering for seven thousand years. At least, you Israel, listen to the Lord, your God, and do not have other gods beside Me, My people.

Behold with what I start your speaking with Me today; My speaking with you. Be careful to what I start with upon you today. You shall love the Lord, your God, Israel My people. You shall love Him with all your heart, with all your mind, with all your virtue and with all your soul, and you shall not defile the name of your God, for you bear My name, Israel. You shall not defile My name, son. Let the world look at you and bless you and My name that you have from Me. I want to speak with you about this Scripture, son, and I want to find this work of godly commandment upon you, and then you will know to love and how to love, so that it may not happen to take My name in vain or to defile it with your deed. Keep away from false prophets; keep away with a heavenly care, Israel, as the false prophet urges and entices you always to serve other idols and other things made by man, son. Keep away from the one who urges you to serve to your own self, Christian, and to your own taste and your body and to all of your needs of any sorts, as the one who says so is a false prophet no matter who he is, but you shall love the Lord, your God, Israel, My people, and not yourself. You are made to love God, and your God from you, son, and all the other things will be added to you.

Well, children, have I not really told you to look at the lilies of the field and at the birds of the sky? Have I not really told you that you are much more than these and to understand that I take a greater care of the man? The birds of the sky and all creation prays to Me for you, man, as the whole creation knows from Me that if the man serves God, he will have from God, and the creation will have what it needs, as well. All creation suffers when the man is evil with God, as if the Lord punishes a man because of his disobedience, than the creation suffers too.

Well, children, you have many worries, so many, and I would like to take them all from you; I would like to bring them to an end for you, to be My Father's care, My children. Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, dwelt in tents and did not have things made by hands, and had everything from God, Who took care of His children. Now, it is otherwise, but you can let yourself into the Father's care if you know to be faithful, Israel.

Oh, Christians, your kingdom should not be from this world. The martyrs that are now the saints of the heaven, the apostles, and those who left the spirit of the world, understood this Scripture, and they used this world as though they were not using it. The man made out a law upon him, between man and man, and he is not free. Behold, now, at the end of the age, I can say with a freedom of word, that I have neither Caesar, nor Anna or Caiaphas, to hide from them anymore; I can say that it is hard for the man who marries, very hard, as such a man is bound; he is a slave and is not free; he is full of worries and it is very difficult for him. Behold, it is of no use for a man to marry, but who do you see any longer that understands My Scripture, which I handed it down through My apostles? There comes no profit from this law, and it is a law, children. Nothing good comes from this law, but only people from people, slaves from slaves, people without freedom on the earth, and the married man cannot be My servant; he cannot as he has many obstacles; many to bear on his way. Even you, My people, believed that it was possible. It is not possible son, it is not possible. I have never come to tell you about this crush, yours and Mine. This Scriptures has been understood very little for two thousand years, and few let themselves be pulled out from this slavery. The married man is a slave to this law, and he is a sinner, and he has no way, he has no freedom to belong to Christ, Christ's disciple. The man, who is bound to something or someone in his life, cannot be Christ's disciple, because of this bond. The man leaves descendants that take after him and not after Me. I separated My apostles of all that was theirs, so that I may have them as My disciples and to be one with Me and to be known that they are under My Father's care.

This Scripture was difficult to understand on the earth, very difficult. Not even the monks of today, and I do not speak of those of old; I speak of those of today, that not even they have freedom in Christ. They have relatives, they have mother and father; they have friends in the world, they have the slavery of the luxury and they have earthly possessions, and they are slaves of the things that they have, of the things that master over them; they are not Jesus Christ's slaves, disciples of Jesus Christ. Not even you understood My people; not even you knew to use the opportunity so that you may not be a slave anymore. Oh, why do you say that the Scripture was short from then on, when saying about those that had women to be like those that had none, and about those who made use of this world to be as though they might not use it?

Not even you understood My people, and there was not possible for Me to make you understand; for if I had not looked at your heart to see that it could not manage without marriage, I would have no longer had someone to speak on the earth to; you would have not stayed to listen to My word and to write it, so that My speaking of today may remain established. You would have no longer stayed to listen to Me what I was about to speak from heaven, so that it might remain as a testimony that I spoke on the earth and that no one understood My speaking and that not even you understood My plan and My speaking, Israel. At least your children; at least they should not take the yoke of slavery; that they may not seek the kingdom of this world either, and rather to take it from Me, the one that is not of this world.

I did not come to unite the man to man, and rather I came to unite the man to Me, Who am from heaven, not of this world. I am beyond it, sons. You know why I came; because it is written on it why I came. I came to separate the man from his wife, not from woman, but from his woman<sup>77</sup>; mother from daughter; mother-in-law from daughter-in-law; brother from sister; Christian from the world, and behold, Christian from Christian, as not all the Christians denied the world. Let, those who denied the flesh and the world, come on My right, and let those, who cannot do this, not come to My right and not stay with those on My right. And the one who I put on My left you should not take and put him on My right, as that one is not good for My right.

I said: «Love one another», and I did not say „Love one with another”. I said that there should be love among those that belong to Christ. I was speaking for those. I did not speak to the world something like this, but rather I told those that were not from this world. The love is not for the world, sons; it is not in the world. The love is not from this world, as I am the Love. If a man gives his own life to save someone else’s life, this is nothing. I gave My soul to the world and not My body. I crucified My soul, but it is hard for the man to understand the sacrifice of My love. Those that are of flesh, give their soul and body in vain for others, as it is not all the same, children.

Why do you believe, Israel, that I tell you not to take after the false prophet, who match the earthly things to the heavenly love? Well, the kingdom from the earth, the one that is made out of the earth, has drawn everybody to it, and all were built in it, and all are left behind it, all those who put their hope in it, as from now on, My heavenly kingdom makes its way into its place, and you do not need the work of your body for it, but rather you need only wings for your soul and freedom, son. It is one thing to do something into My name and another thing to do something into your name, as My love is from heaven and not from this world.

I have come to take you out of slavery Israel, My people taken from the world, as I have taken you from the earth and lifted you up into the heaven; however, if I am close to you and into your midst with My voice, be wise about this. I am from heaven; I am with the heaven near you. This is how I wanted it; to go to My Father after My passion and after My resurrection, and to prepare a place, so that where I am, those that are Mine to be there too; they who will choose to be My disciples, who will come out of the slavery to be free and to be able to be Jesus Christ’s disciples. The man who is bound to a woman or the woman that is bound to a man cannot belong to Christ. That is why I told you long ago, My people, and I exhorted you to have your wife as your clean sister and to be My disciple, you and your entire house, and moreover, to be My people with all that you have, Christian, and to call yourself free; not to marry anymore; not to be given in marriage; not to drink anymore; not to eat as in the world, and to watch over what I have told you, as I told you not to say any longer as the world says, which says that this is how God wanted it to be. Oh, you should not say something like this My people. It is not as I wanted it to be. I went not in Cana of Galilee to bless the wedding and the wedding bed. It is not for that that I came from the Father. I went to separate the bridegroom from the bride, and this is what I did. I took out from under the law those that were ready to take the yoke of slavery.

I had known the twelve before, as My Father told Me about them all, but you should not stumble if My Father gave Me Judas as well, although he was not good. It was written that I had to suffer and Judas had to fulfill the Scripture and to give Me over to the Pharisees for crucifixion. But I will forgive him as I forgave him at that time, but he was a fool as he went to stay in hell until My coming on the clouds of glory. He took alone his reward for his deed. He repented of what he did and condemned himself, and I forgave him, children, and I will lift him up and resurrect him because your prayers My people, for I asked you to pray to Me for Judas, and you listened to Me and remembered Judas before Me, and your prayer was heard.

I said that I knew the twelve ahead of time, and that My Father chose the bridegroom from Cana of Galilee to be among the twelve; and I went to take him to be My disciple, and I took him, and I counted the bride among those that served Christ and the kingdom of heavens. Children, I cannot interfere with blessing upon the wedding bed, as it is written about those that belong to Christ that they crucified their body and their lusts and are free from the law. A little butterfly is freer than man. It flies from flower to flower and rejoices that it is free. The birds of the sky are free both until they come into the eternity and afterwards, but it is not the same with the man, as the man is bound to the man until his death; the husband is bound to his wife and to his children and to his relative and to his house, and such a man cannot be a disciple of Jesus Christ; he cannot follow Christ.

The apostles also had a woman with them but she did not belong to them but rather she was a disciple of Christ, because this is what God did from the beginning, male and female he made them, so that the woman might be a helper, as this is what We said: to make a helper suitable to him. When God created man, he created them, male and female, and then this body pulled itself out from God's arm and did something else, and God did no longer multiplied the people, but rather they multiplied themselves and that is why the Lord said to the woman: «In pain you will bring forth children». When I created another man of one, Adam was not hurt at all, but when the man creates man, he gives him birth in pains, and he lives in pains and dies in pains; and woe to the man if he goes into pains as Judas did! The man is bound by the law; he has his kingdom and if I came into his house and told him: «Follow me!» the man would not be able to go as he is bound; he is not free to follow Me, and it is not possible with Me on the way otherwise. I cannot take with Me the man with his entire house, with his wife and his children, because into My kingdom is not marriage and given in marriage, but it is an angelic life in the body. I go far away and leave the man where he chose to be. I have no obstacles; I have no steadfast homeland, I have no father and no mother on the earth; I have no brothers and sisters out of the earth; I have no one but My heavenly Father, Who is forever, Who is master over everything, and I have you My people, who want to be My disciple; who want to be My father and father and brother after My will.

Oh, and how shall I do to you, My people? As behold, not even after forty years of the word and exhortation upon you, can I take you to a disciple's work; to go with the heaven and with Me from place to place, from time to time, until the visible coming down of the kingdom of the heavens on earth. Then it will be too late to go. Then the work will settle down on its foundation. Now it is to go and do the work of My kingdom.

Your house and your wealth, Christian, should have been the kingdom of the heavens. How good it was that I gave you a house! I and not you, son; to have made your wives and children, spiritually, as I did to My disciples, for there were thousands who followed them. How good it was for you to have stayed into My plan and not spoiled My plan! How good it was if you wanted to take after Me more than to the world, My people! Is it not really better for Me to make you and those that came out of you a future? Is it not really better to make a future at least for your children? I and not you, as you cannot give them what I give them. You give them what you have, and what you give them, do not serve them; it comes to an end and they come to an end so. Behold, if you wanted to make them a future, both you and I would lose them. And the world took your children; it took them with it; it took them in it, and they are into the world, not among Christ's disciples. There are few left with Me, and all that wanted to be with Me through you and from you, I want to make them bear testimony out of your midst Israel, My people. If you listened to what I have always told you, to keep your little ones as much as you can away from the roads of the world, from the teaching of the world and from the schools of the time, you would have got something for Me now, something more, son. Oh, and how much I have struggled for you, My people, and I urged you to heaven, only for you to choose the heavenly way!

The teaching from the earth is born of the science of the man's nature, and the science of the nature is not a heavenly fruit, and no one can understand that this mash, this science, has a root foreign of those from heaven; however, I have always told you: „Keep away from the false prophet, who speaks of those that you are pleased with, that are from heaven”. Not so, children! As the man's nature will remain fallen until My appearance in the clouds of the glory and for those that are coming from heaven, as the man does not want to work on earth as in heaven; he does not want to learn in heaven, and he learns on earth. The man does not want to seek to enter the narrow gate, which is narrow by the lack of those who do not walk on it. But the wide way is broad because of the number of those who walk on it, and it is written: «Broad is the way that leads to destruction and many are those who enter in by it».

Oh, everything grows under the rain of the heaven when I clothe the clouds with rain; everything grows up: every flower, every branch. Only you, Israel, do no longer grow up under the rain of My grace; you do no longer grow up once; you do no longer come to fruition and you are still stunted in your growth, weak, very weak compared with what you had to work. You are weak, My people, as though My food has had no effect on you. Grow over, Israel. I am ready to heal you, to heal all of your body, all of your number that has been during My work for forty years, as you remained little in your body and number, and here is what I do! I get up and call you to come back; to come and listen to Me as My time requires during the time of this age, as the sons of this age marry and are given into marriage; they eat and drink, but those that are worthy to come in with My kingdom and with the resurrection from the dead of this age, shall no longer die, and they will be like the angels, the sons of resurrection, the sons of God. I am ready to heal you, Israel, no matter how big your number is, from the beginning of this work and until today, since 1955 and until today. Come to Me Christian, but do you know how this comes? Why do I say to you: „Come to me!“? Perhaps you say that you came to Me, but only you understand what you say, as I have nothing to understand. Come Israel to Me; to Me and not to you. You should come to Me, not I to you. Come into heaven, and come with the heaven, as on earth it is a confusion of the languages, it is the fruit of the iniquity, but you come to be born of heaven, of the fruit of the holiness of soul and body, and make you disciples as I did, and come to work for those that will remain, My loved Israel.

Oh, My people, which gathered together today with Me, get up son and stay upright with Me, to gather together those that are scattered, Mine and yours, as many have wondered away through the wide way. Get up to the heavenly work on the earth, My people which remained with Me, as then I had twelve disciples and I raised huge multitudes through them, but now I have a greater number of witnesses, and I want to raise to heaven all the nations, as I promised to Abraham.

Oh, My people, how many times I have told you to eat clean and blessed food, food made by you, as you are blessed on the earth! How many times I have made you eat with clean hands, with hands washed away of the world! But you had no way of getting used well to it, that you took again from those that were before, and you were given up and were eating again from the hand of the world; bread made by unclean hands; food foreign to your blessing. I have wanted for two thousand years to establish on earth the food from Eden, but few wanted to take after the ones from the clean beginning. The man has been eating meat for seven thousand years and he has not had his own fill of it. The man has been staying fallen for seven thousand years and has no longer got up to stay again for a new beginning. That is why I want to raise you, My people Israel, and to call you Israel in the place of the one that did not listen to God. The man has been eating animals and birds and bodies with breath of life in them, and he says that God let it be so. Oh, My people, I complain to you as well, for the man says that God made it that way; he does not say that the man wanted that way, that the man made it so, and that God has had patience on him, and that He has still endured him for seven thousand years and blessed him the way he is since seven thousand years, only if My blessing may stick to him. What shall I do to him? Shall I curse him? But the man is cursed by what he does on the earth and over his body. Shall I also curse him? I wait that My blessing My stick to the man, to stick to him from now on, as the age is coming to an end. The age means man, sons, the age of the man, the time of the man, the will of the man; this is what this age means. But the age to come does not belong to the man anymore, and it belongs to the man who became divine from sole to head, of the man born of heaven, of the new man, who is after the image and likeness of God, Jesus Christ, Who appeared to the people, and Who gave Himself for the redemption of the people who were to believe in Him.

I still hear some of the Christians saying that this is what it had to be, that if it had not been this way, it would have not happen this or that. This is a human interpretation, My people. Who, Christian, urges you to say so; to make you also believe so? That was from the man, not from God, that I, the Lord, do not partake in; I do not take part in the world's mistakes or sins. This is man's work, no matter the man, as the man, however good he may be for God when he seeks to do something good, but from him and not from God, than the Lord lets him fall down from above, as he has nothing to do with such a man. He lets him fall down from heaven, to see that it is not possible to be done after man's will and that the man has to be in the Lord if the man wants to be; and if he does not want, that man is not, he is still not, and he still has until he gets up to be and to know God. You shall not think this way Israel, as behold, I teach you this significance today. God did not let it be this way. If Judas, one of the twelve patriarchs, had three boys, and if all his boys died because their wicked deeds before God, is it really that God let it be this way? That Judas' offspring may die? No, sons, but it was as they wanted; it was not God that wanted this way; the Lord did not want them to sin; the Lord only repaired their sins and their perishing. And by what did He repair it? You may say otherwise. Behold, I stand still and I ask you: by what did the Lord repair the sins of Judas' boys, My forefather?

And now I tell you what the reparation was made through; it was done through Me, the One Who raised the shame and curse that came through their sins; through Me, Who dwelt in the body of their human offspring to redeem Israel and Judas. If the sons of Eli, the priest, did so much evil before God and died by their wicked deeds, I did not wanted this way, but the man worked so. It was not to raise Samuel that I worked to choose Samuel, but I raised Samuel to repair their mistakes. If the sons of Israel had so much unbelief before God, it was not to be so, and I had suffered for Israel; and until My incarnation from the Father, I had suffered with My Father and with the Holy Spirit, before and after, as Israel had not let itself until he denied Me. And I want to redeem him now through you too, he one that was denied Me. You should no longer say; at least you should no longer say that if this was not, the other one was also not, and you should rather say that this is a human interpretation.

I do not tolerate sin; I do not take sin as a shield, and you should also not do this, My people, rather be wise and do not seek to interpret the man's things, but rather interpret those from heaven that I have been bringing to you for forty years. If Abraham made a mistake as a human, his mistake received its reward and its body, and Abraham's justice received its reward and its promise. The same is with you, Christian; if you were haughty and lustful near Me, I let you be caught by the seduction of the fall and its darkness, as I could not interfere within your ego, within your pride. I do not partake in your sin, in your pride, in your ego, and I let you fall down, to see what it means to call yourself a god, to make you another god beside Me and to worship it. God is only One, but when you try to pose as God, you come to see that you are not and that I have not interfered in your pride. And when you start to lie powerless, comfortless, then you try to get up alone and to knock again at My door. Then I search you to see if you came with total repentance and pleasant to Me, and if you are totally corrected and healed by repentance, then I open the door wide and I take you inside with Me, but if you remained half with death and half with you and if you come to Me only halfway, then I do not open for you, no matter who you were. Or, if looking forward, I will see that you will go back again to the bad things after coming back to Me, then I also stop receiving you with Me.

Behold, Israel, My judgments, a forethought born of My own self. If the man goes wrong within his mind, his word or his deed, then he receives the punishment according to his mistake; either by his neighbor, or by his enemies, or by his stranger; a deed for a deed. But if the man goes wrong outside his body, is also punished according to his mistake, by the mistake itself; but when the man sins within his body, then the man demolished God's temple from his inside, and then the pride, the fall, the sin and devastation take place. And when I see that the man goes to church, and that he goes to those that are holy, he goes there without repentance and still says that this is how God let it to be; woe, until when shall I really endure it any longer?

Well My people, pray to God for the spirit of wisdom upon the man, son. The man does not know what it means to be a faithful man, and he says that he is faithful. Oh, until a man is confirmed by the Lord that he is faithful, he has a lot of work to do, My children. First he needs to have a calling to Christ, and after the work of calling he needs to be elected to the work of those that are chosen for the work with the heaven, and only after that he receives the name of the faithful. The man does not know what it means to be faithful, and look how few are the faithful! Behold how few they are into your midst, Israel, My people! As some of you remained at the level of those that are called; then a little group was called on to the level of those that are chosen, and very few were placed on the level of those that are faithful, to whom I may entrust the same work upon the people as Mine.

Behold, the rulers of the law, the experts of the law say that today it is not possible for God to speak. But who are they who say so? I do not know these who do not know Me, who say that I am no more, who say that the Lord does not see, that the Lord does not hear, and that the Lord does not speak any longer. But I say to you: keep away from lying and from those things that spring out of it and use foreseeing in everything; and use the Holy Spirit upon you, and do not use the authority of the man who says that the Lord is dumb, deaf and blind. Receive the spirit of foreseeing, receive the spirit of incorruptibility of the body and soul and strengthen yourselves in the Holy Spirit, children of this people. Blessed is the man who received from God the work of the spirit of foreseeing, of seeing ahead of time of those that are worked, of those that have to be worked.

Dress properly with incorruptibility, My people, and after that you will see with your own sight that all creation that is seen will be incorruptible forever. Everything and all wait for you, as I put the man king over all when I created him, and I put him to give names to everything and to all, and I gave him the knowledge of the Holy Spirit. Everything and all wait for you man, to come into the incorruptibility, as all things of the seen creation speak with God: earth, water, stone, leaves, flowers, birds, fish and animals; all sigh after incorruptibility.

Your people from the beginning, Romanian people, Christian people, was speaking to the earth and knew the language and the voice of the earth; it knew the language and voice of the tree, of the spring, of the mountain, of the time, children; it knew the language of the birds; it knew the language of the horse; it knew the language of the angel and it used to meet with God's angel; moreover, the man was speaking with all creation, seen and unseen; he used to speak and understand its whisper, My people. The man used to speak with God, sons, and now here is what the man does: he believes in those that are made by man and does no longer speak with those that are created by God. But you should go beyond, My children, beyond those things of the man and of the world. Go beyond and keep away from the false prophet, who likens his kingdom to God's kingdom to deceive the sons of the people, even God's sons.

You should not seek the outside world, and walk before Me this way, as I want, My people, to put upon you the Scripture, which was proclaimed by My speech saying: «Do not be anxious saying 'What will we eat?', 'What will we drink?', or, 'With what will we be clothed?' For the gentiles seek after all these things. Your Father knows that you need all these things. But seek first God's Kingdom and His righteousness, and all these things will be given to you as well». Sell your wealth and then watch with Me for a while, a moment, My dear. Test Me and you will see that your Father knows that you need all these. But if your Father does not know that you need all these and He lets you work hard, than it means that you do not know the Father, so that the Father may take care. I told you that the gentiles of the world seek after all these, but not God's sons; the gentiles seek after them and work hard to do them, but God's sons do not seek after them, because the Father is adding all things they need.

Oh, My people, do not sleep at My word, Christian, as I want to see that you heard what I told you. You are blessed if you heard it, as it will be seen that you heard. There are some Christians who fall asleep immediately when I let My word upon Israel that gathered together for My word. Some sleep with their soul, and hearing they do not hear, and they eat for nothing. But when the Christian hears from the world and from the science of the fallen nature, then he is awake and watches, and if you tell him that he is not with God, he says that it is not so, and he is with God. Listen to Me, My people, that it is not so to be with God. You are with God when you are an intelligent man, who distinguishes well the good from the bad, as today it cannot be better otherwise. Choose, son, the man who has got God, and follow his advice and believe him when he tells you about your evil step, and listen to his advice for your correction. A man of God has the spirit of righteousness, moderation and foreseeing, and do not take after the one that does not have it. The immoderate man cannot rely on himself not to speak of relying on someone else!

But I have a pain into your midst, Israel, as I see here and there that the one who does not stay well in Me speaks in you as well; I see the one, who does not fulfill My today's dwelling and life, that he gets into My work and a man like this staggers; and such a man should stand on My left, as My thing on the right works to a full accomplishment, with foreseeing and moderation. You did not want My people, to be only with Me, and behold, I cannot put you to your work, and I keep you in the cowshed as lame as you are, as I have sufficient people that I cannot work anything with. And I come today with the entire heavenly host before you, and I come with the saints from the Synod that are celebrated into your midst, Israel, celebrated by Me and by you; I come and give you the only one and heavenly commandment: «You shall love the Lord, your God, with all your heart, with all your soul, with all your virtue and with you your mind», so that you may know how to love your neighbor if you know to be My neighbor, as behold, you do no longer know to love your neighbor. And you do not even know who your neighbor is; you do not know even this. I would give you this lesson too, but you would convict yourself even worse by it, as you still say like yourself and not like Me. Oh, if you are proud, Christian, you cannot even say otherwise. You say that you are better than I am, when I tell you not to receive the one who does not believe in God. Oh, how many times you have loved satan and said that you loved your neighbor! How many times you have loved the evil and said that you have loved your neighbor! You said that you are better and more merciful than I am, you said that you open to everybody. Open, Christian, to anyone you want, but you should know that your neighbor is yours and not Mine. Your neighbor takes after you and comes to you, not to Me. If you knew to love yourself and how to love yourself, only then you would understand how, how much and when to love your neighbor. If you love yourself more than God and you love your neighbor as yourself as well; however, when you love your neighbor as God, this is about the way you love God. If I put aside the enemy of My kingdom and you are better and draw him on your side, then you take after you neighbor, who overthrows God.

My people, let your neighbor be the one who does God's will, as you do not know to choose your neighbor. Let Me choose him for you, if you say that are with Me and with this work. Look at the way I do this work and its sons, and this is how you should also work, but do no longer take the one from My left to put him to My right. And if you take him, do not put him to My right, but rather put him to your right. Be careful, My loved Israel, and love the Lord, your God, Christian; you shall love Him and not deceive Him, and do not undermine Him or make Him stumble, son. You should love Him. And how should you love Him? To love Him means to listen to Him and not Him to listen to you. To love Him means to give Him your heart, your soul, your virtue and your mind. Give them all to Him, and He will give them back to you according to His will, not according to your will. Here is what it means to love your neighbor as yourself. You should love the Lord in you, and you should love the Lord in your neighbor as well. You should love the Lord in your neighbor and not otherwise, My people.

Behold, the Verginica's day into the midst of the saints of the heaven. It was the Sunday of all saints on the day of Verginica's birth. This is how I wanted at her birth; to please the saints, who have been waiting for their redemption for seven thousand years. I do no longer give her the word, as I still am into your people, Israel; there are other people sneaked into your people, who do not understand that those from heaven are alive forever; who do not understand that those who are Mine, will be alive if they leave their body. Verginica is on My right, because she was My word, and she is My word. Who was a prophet remains a prophet. Who was a shepherd remains a shepherd. Who was alive in the body, remains alive forever and works forever. But I also have grumblers, who have found shelter into your midst, My people, grumblers who can hardly believe in My word. They struggle to believe, but the unbelief is great in the world. And if those that are into your midst touched by the world struggle with unbelief behold, Verginica does not want to let her word. She is happy if she is with Me in your midst, My people. She is great among the saints, and she is loved and honored, as she came from the great tribulation of the time in the end, as she carried My work from the end. She will be with her word when you will be less in counted number, but she cannot work now for unbelief. Everything is possible to those that are faithful, but to the unfaithful is hard, sons.

All the saints sustain you, Israel; all carry you to Me, and you should know how to intercede among them with Me, as I have you great, My people, and the saints know your greatness and your grace.

May you be blessed with a blessing of the holy saints and with Verginica's blessing, which is celebrated by Me and heaven and by you, My people! May you be blessed forever, Israel! You should love the Lord, your God, as your Lord teaches you, not as the man teaches you, son. You are the Lord's people, the blessed people. May you be blessed, Israel gathered together today, and you, Israel, who will be gathered together tomorrow, as tomorrow you will be great, and I will have wedding guests at your wedding with Me.

Peace to you, My loved Israel! The word of Verginica longs to sit in counsel with the faithful sons. She knows by her spirit those that long for her word, but Verginica uses the heavenly foreseeing; she foresees things and does not give her word now, because of the disbelief, which is nestled into your people, Israel, but she does not rejoice over you, and the celebration of this godly work is a great joy for Me and for her. This work as long as forty years is entered into its celebration. Three years of celebration has been fulfilled. There is still a little bit of time and we will celebrate three years from the laying down of the foundation stone of the visible work. It is a celebration of the New Jerusalem into your midst, My people. It has been three years of celebration, and the celebration goes on and on until your day of rest, and it will be more every day to love the Lord, your God, Israel, as I love you and I glorify Myself into your midst; and many nations will look for you when I stop the water to spring out, and you will have water of grace, water from heaven, teaching from heaven, as I will take the spirit of comfort from the sons of men, and they will run after the soul refreshment and they will find it nowhere but only with you, My people, and on that day, you will take the water out with your little wooden pail, and a word of the Holy Spirit in your little bundle, and you will share with those without comfort. I want to see that you work together with the foreseeing, son, as together with it you will think forward, and it will work before your step, before your deed. The foreseeing thinks before anything else and only God's sons have it into their work. The sons of the men do no longer use the Holy Spirit of the foreseeing, and that is why they do not get away with evil; in fact, sometimes they work the evil with passion, until the evil opens up its trap and catches the one who works it.

My people, the Holy Spirit is above you, My son. Receive the Holy Spirit children of Israel, and let it be seen that you received it. I still want to raise some of your sons to work, Israel. I want to see Verginica rejoicing by her fruit, eating from her fruit. May your new fruit be blessed, My people! And may seed come out from seed, moment by moment; moreover, may sons of God come out from grace and may it be that springs of godly work over the creature flow from the Holy Spirit!

I will give you water, My garden, and I will give water to your sons. I will release My voice upon you all the time, and I will tell your children to take their little bad and bring you My word, which is from your joy with Me, My people.

May you be blessed, children of My garden, the garden of the new beginning, prophesied by the vessel of this work, by Verginica.

May you be blessed, Jerusalem, and may your new beginning be blessed!

May you be blessed, Israel, My people, and love the Lord, your God as the Lord, your God loves you! Peace to you! I would sit in counsel with you forever. I want to increase the fire of your heart after Me and after My work with you. I want to see you burning with the spirit and grace, as I want you to be accompanied by the heavenly signs, child. Peace to you Israel, My people, which stay awake in your spirit and work!

Peace to you, Israel, which went and tasted from the wine of the world, Christian! Come back to Me; come back and do no longer stay close to other gods, you wondering Israel. Come back, son! I stay and wait for you, but see how you come back so that you may not remain half outside. Come inside, Christian; come in the spirit of this work that is called the Word of God. (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) I am the Word. Come back, you wondering Israel, and take after My image and My likeness, and ask those that have My significance to teach you how to stay if you come back; how to come in, how to stay, how to speak, how to keep silent, how to eat and how to be alive.

May the resurrection of those that come back out of the death from the world be blessed! However, I will get up from My crucifixion and I will be alive over all of your body, My people, over all of your number, and we will draw the wedding guests to our wedding, and the celebration of the New Jerusalem will be beautiful on earth.

Behold a heavenly message: I will gather you soon Israel, and we will fly little flags, and the Holy Spirit will sing into your midst from Psaltery and will play the chords, and we will sprinkle the earth with the Holy Spirit. I will sound the trumpet and I will sent the watchmen to give you the news, and we will celebrate the feast of the Word again, and My work will get up in the middle of its city of birth, and the people will see that the Lord was into their midst, and they did not know that He was there.

Israel, peace to you, My people! And may voices of children come out from you before the Lord; voices of the Lord's children, Israel. Dress beautifully; dress cleanly and take the new song and go into heaven near Me, as I am with you; I come to meet you, My people, and our Father will meet us, and there shall be no more death any more.

I am the Lord, your God, Israel, My people. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Assumption

Be attentive to the voice of God, which comes from above. The heaven speaks to the earth. I, the Lord, speak from heaven upon the faithful ones. I, the One that I was resurrected and ascended into the heavens, I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, speak from heaven on earth, into the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen.

Peace to you, My people! Peace to you, sons; to you from My faithful people! The world does not know how I speak above you. The world does not believe in God as you believe. The world has its world and it does not know what I work on the earth during this time, but I pass with you through the world, so that the world may hear that I, the Lord, have a people taken out from the world and I speak from heaven into its midst and exhort it to the holiness of the spirit and body, that I may speak with it and fulfill My heavenly plan for My second coming. Be faithful, as I, the Lord, raise this work of word between heaven and earth from now on, so that the world may know the people that has been speaking with the Lord for forty years!

Peace to you! May the kingdom of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, be blessed! May you also be blessed, sons of My people from this time! May the celebration of the feast of the ascension into heaven of God's Mother be blessed! And behold, I, the Lord, and My little Mother, and My heaven, are above with tents of little angels and with glory. Sing My people; sing son; sing to God; and the heaven is singing above you, faithful people. May this day and My word proclaimed from heaven on this day be blessed! And behold, may the overcoming cross, raised by the sons of the garden of My word, be blessed! May it be blessed and sanctified by all the saints and by all the heavenly powers, to the joy of the work of the New Jerusalem on earth.

The word of God is proclaimed: this cross is blessed and sanctified, in the name of the Father, of the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen. My meeting with My faithful people is blessed and sanctified. Be attentive, you, watchmen of the word; receive from Me and give to My people, which believes My word. Be attentive to the voice, which comes from above upon you, upon the garden of My word. Behold, I come upon you with My word. Take it and make it come into being into this book, as I feed My people and accompany it with My voice, the same as I accompanied the Israel people from the beginning; the one that was faithful from the beginning, and the one that is faithful in the end is Israel from the end. I was with Israel from the beginning on its way with Me: by day in a pillar of cloud, and by night in a pillar of fire, and I was going with My word above and I was speaking with the prophet Moses, and I was speaking with Israel.

Peace to you, My people Israel! I am above you and I come with you by word, as I was with Israel in a pillar of cloud and fire to the land of the promise, but I come with you, with My glory by word and I call you Israel from the end. Behold, Israel, I come to meet you with My word, declared for you above the manger of My word. Israel means faithful people. Be faithful Israel, as the remnant of Israel was, the remnant that remained after Israel forsook Me; for I made the salting food, which I ploughed the ground with, sons, from the faithful remnant of Israel. And who were those from Israel's remnant? They were Peter, Paul, Jacob and John, and all My apostles, who preached My name and the kingdom of heaven to the ends of the earth. My people from today, I made of this remnant of Israel a host of apostles and prophets and saints and I salted the earth with the salt of My word, which was flowing by the mouth and spirit of these heavenly servants on the world. I salted the world with My word through them, as after My ascension I told them this: «Go and preach that God's kingdom has come near. Go to the ends of the earth and baptize those that believe in the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit». Amen.

And behold, My people, you are the people from today that God speaks with on earth, as after I arose to life, I remained alive and I remained for the man, but the man did not understand what I said in the time of My ascension into heaven, as I said this: «Behold, I will be with you to the end of ages». But how shall the unfaithful one believe, or the one slow to believe? How, Israel, shall the unfaithful believe that I speak from heaven upon you? That is why I want to come with you before the world, so that the world may believe that you are My messenger into the world, as I sent My apostles then. And you, like them, go now and tell again what they said. They said that the kingdom of God had come near. And what is the kingdom of God, Israel of today? Did My apostles Peter and Paul, who were the first from the apostles, really lie? Were they lying when they said that the kingdom of the heavens came near? They said this, two thousand years ago, and you say this today, son. But what is the kingdom of the heavens? But what the kingdom of the heavens is not? Oh, sons, the kingdom of the heavens is not eating and drinking, it is not marriage and given into marriage. The kingdom of the heaven is eating of God's word; it is holiness and cleanness and it is the word of the Holy Spirit. The sons of this age marry and are given into marriage, but those that are worthy to be the sons of the kingdom of heavens, live an angelic life in their bodies; they do not marry and are not given into marriage, and live like the angels in heavens, and the heavenly Father, Who is their Father, takes care of them. The kingdom of the heavens is with you, My people Israel of today, because you have My throne in you, My word into your midst. You are My people who has Me, the Lord, into your midst with My advice, with My commandment, son. I do not give commandments but to those who chose to listen to God, and those that do according to the will of their body are not God's sons; they are the sons of this age.

Tell My people, tell to the world, and do not be silent; tell to the man from the world not to say that he is with Me. If he is with the life of this age, if he does not keep My commandments, let him not say that is with Me, as it is written: «Those that belong to Christ crucified their body and fleshly lusts, their desires and vain glory, which comes from man». Teach, My people, the one who comes and asks you about what I speak with you; tell him as My apostles said; you should tell him that the kingdom of the heavens has come near, and you should tell them what the mystery of this godly word means.

Israel child, do not go out from My kingdom; do not go out from it, as outside are dogs, blasphemers, liars, fornicators, exorcizers, servants of the flesh and false prophets, who say that there is no God. Be careful, faithful Israel, as the false prophet of today is more deceitful than within the past ages; as he uses My teaching to make you believe that he is with God. Be careful, as he comes with signs and miracles to make you depart from My kingdom, as he is jealous of Me when he sees that you love holiness and he does not. You get into his way of false work, as you prove him a liar. The word of the one who speaks about God and does not love holiness and godliness and the truth with a holy life is a lie. The false prophet borrowed a humbled face and uses My name to defile My elected ones, those that chose to serve Me. Where did the false prophet borrow his humble face from? From lying, sons. The humble face is lying, sons. A Christian that loves the heavenly kingdom has a clear face, holy, sweet and full of heavenly light; that one is not ashamed before the people. A man like this shares the holy heaven to those on the earth. The man with a humble face is a liar, sons, and does not know humility. That one exposes the lie from his inside and is exposed by the faithful one who has the Holy Spirit in his inner being. There is still a little while and the false prophet will do the last signs and miracles, with which he will demolish those that are staggering now. A Christian of My kingdom does not look for signs and miracles; he does not search the mysteries of creation, and does not tempt God, the Creator. Here what the false prophet did, as he taught the man that there is no God. He did not tell the man that there is no God, but rather he told the man lies. I am the Creator of those that are seen and not seen, and the earthly man will not be able to perceive with his knowledge into the mysteries of the Creator. The Lord does not allow such things, and that is why the man of the age is a liar; the man of the science of this age is a false prophet.

In Abraham's time, when God saw that the people erected a tower to climb into it to search out the Creator, what did I, the Lord, do? I confused the languages of the people then, so that they might no longer understand what they spoke and what they wanted. I confused the languages of the proud people and I do the same today with the people; and I do not allow them to perceive into the heavenly mysteries. Behold, sons, that the people received the confusion of the languages; that curse fell on the people who tempted the Creator's mysteries. You should not believe Israel; you should not believe what the man tells you, as the man is a liar, My people. The man who searched those that are made by the Creator, remains on earth and gives birth to earth, but the man who lets himself be born of God, gives birth to heaven and Holy Spirit and to paradise and heavenly fire on earth; he serves to the Word of God and does nothing without the Word.

You, Israel that have your Creator into your midst, you should flee from the man who speaks things from himself, as that one raves. You should flee from the man your hear speaking about God without knowing him, without seeking him with passion; that is insistently, that is by fulfilling the holy commandments in his body. But you should also flee from the unknown man, Christian, as the Lord does not come to you in an unknown manner. Remember that the apostles chosen by Me, My Father made them known to Me, and then I saw that I knew Myself in them; I saw that My Father knew them. Flee from the man who is not known by My Father; flee son, Christian, as the one who is unknown is a trap for you. Do not take after man Israel, as the man made a kingdom for himself, that keeps him worm here; and he is taken out of it, and it does not keep him warm. The false prophet is coming; the one with the last lying signs, and he will say that the dead comes to life, and he will raise him right in front of you, but that one is not the dead, and this lie is something else. He is coming to make you believe that he works into My name, but it is not true. I am the One, who will raise the dead; I and not the false prophet, who brings the body of his lie in front of you. Woe to the man who has not got the Holy Spirit in him to see the lie of the today's liar! As the men have been getting up for seven thousand years to set up as God, to set up as wise men, to make a name for themselves; that people may deceive each other, as this is has been happening to the people who get out from under God's tent. The man has courage in life and does a lot of things. The man with courage today does one thing, tomorrow another, until he forgets about God, and then he has no other guide in front of him and becomes a guide for himself. Do not take after the man, My people, and keep hold of My word, which teaches you about holiness and heavenly kingdom. The man has got into the earth to search; he has ascended into heaven to search; he has gone down into the sea to search; he has entered the man to search son, and the man says that he knows. Oh, poor of him, as he is only body without soul, and I will make the haughty man be ashamed, as I will take the sun from the sky and put it into the faithful, and the dwelling of holiness will receive light from the son of the faith; to reveal what the wisdom is. The wisdom is the fear of God. The wisdom is in the man who has the Holy Spirit, and the Holy Spirit stays into a clean vessel, into the clean man, a man after God's image and likeness.

Oh, My people, I have been staying for forty years into your midst and feeding you from heaven by piece, by My word; I feed you with the fire of the Holy Spirit, so that I may use you for the cleanness of the earth, to clean the man from the earth of simplicity, of lie and haughtiness, in such a way that the man from the earth may know from you that to be and to be eternal means something else.

In the time of the faithful Abraham, I came down upon the people and I confused the languages of the people who were tempting the mysteries of the Creator. But now, here is what I have done, as I came back to the earth again and I chose a people that My Father gave Me, and I make the languages on the earth clear into its midst and reveal their lying cover; I reveal the skin of the lying tongue and bring the Holy Spirit to My people. The Holy Spirit is the knower and not the man. The garment of the Holy Spirit is expensive and the man cannot afford to buy it, as he has to give everything that is evil for it, not everything that he has as good. And how comes that? It is so, sons, and this is a great mystery. Man, you have to give for the garment of the Holy Spirit everything that is worse; every lust, every desire, every lie and carelessness, all the power damaging the soul and the wisdom; all of your sins you have to give in its exchange; you have to wash away of yourself and take on the garment of the Holy Spirit. I am this garment; I, with My life in you; I, with the light of the Holy Spirit in you, as the man, unless he gives himself away in return of the Holy Spirit, he cannot have the way under his foot. One like this, steps into the void; one like that is not. That one may become a living man by the death of his lusts and desires. Behold Israel, My loved people, this is how you have got Me, and why, the unfaithful one, who does not believe that I speak with you from heaven, really marvels at you? I speak from heaven and you hear Me, but it is not you that hear Me but the Holy Spirit, Who speaks with Me in you and above you. You came to the manger of My word, and I take from the manger and give you food and make you glad, My people; and I come down from heaven above you and let My word upon the manger of the word. This is My nest where My word is given as the food to My people.

I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, am your Shepherd, Israel, My loved people, and it has not been such a heavenly work on earth since age. I am the voice; I am the Word of God, (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) and I chose a poor and forgotten vessel, and I breathed the Holy Spirit upon it and filled it to the brim, until the river of life upon the earth started to spring from it; as from this little village I raised a little fragile sprout and I poured water at its root until it grew into a big tree and all the birds of the air nested into it. Who is this tree and what are the birds of the sky? I, the Lord, am the tree, Who dwelt with My Holy Spirit in a working tool, in a heavenly heart, in a little girl, a trumpet that I sounded on the earth in this time of the end. In a little sprout from this village, I dwelt into her heart and by her mouth; I, the Lord, spoke My word to a people called to this heavenly work. And the birds of the heaven are the hearts of the sons of My people, who dwelt with their spirit in My Spirit, listening to My word and fulfilling it. And behold, this girl sprout is now taken into heaven and is working from heaven near the saints, as there is no one to work for the Lord and not to live forever. The same with you, My loved people; you will be alive forever if you listen to Me until My coming on the clouds.

Oh, Christian people, I, the Lord, have worked to give freedom to your faith and I helped you to be with Me today too, fulfilling My will, as if I took Verginica into heaven, I also prepared you further to arrive with you up until the days of victory; to remember your steps that walked on the secret little paths of this village when you were coming to the spring of the heavenly word. Then you came by stealth, (In the time of the communist dictatorship, r.n.), and now you come singing; you and all your sons, people loved by God. You were coming by stealth to protect My vessel that I spoke through with you, to protect My trumpet that I was speaking the heavenly word from, as the hunter of the antichrist was staying into your way to give you into the hands of the persecutor, to bring My tool into silence, into the prison, My people, as this is how all that stayed into My heavenly work suffered. I endured within the man, within the man who carried My Holy Spirit in him, as Verginica was the dwelling of My Holy Spirit and the world did not know it. It was only you, My people, only you son, that knew and saw what I have worked upon you, and you are My witness and you are with Me, as I passed you through a foggy time and I brought you to your days of feasting, and behold, My word is coming down today before you as well, as Verginica has her fruit within her feet; she has got disciples and disciples of disciples.

Blessed is he who has believed until today into My heavenly work, which I have dwelt in this village with, in this village that I spoke on the earth by. This is how the sons of the faith have been among unbelievers and this is how they have gone further with Me during the time. This is how I have you, My people, the sapling and the fruit of My work, which started in this village in 1955, and behold, there have elapsed forty years of walking into a spirit of unbelief, and I come back today with you and I make room for you to testify of My heavenly work and of My prophecy time, as I had prophesied through Verginica, and I come to fulfill those that had been prophesied for forty years through you. It was I that I prophesied, not she. She was the vessel in which I had dwelt with My Holy Spirit, with My word by her voice, as two thousand years ago, when I came down from heaven, I also came by a virgin to take on a visible body among the people; the Virgin whose name is God's Mother. And now, I have also come by a virgin into the midst of a faithful people, for the birth of My Holy Spirit, and I also nourished you Israel, My people, by a virgin. My little Mother, the mother virgin, if she had Joseph as a companion, her fiancé, it was to take care of her and to protect her and her Son, that is I, sons, during My time as a child. And Virginia, if she had a companion with her, whom all this village knows too, the company was not in the flesh, but rather in the spirit, for protection, for the covering of My mystery; however, she was a clean vessel for God, for the Holy Spirit, Who entered her body for My speaking through her. The word of the Holy Spirit has been born through her for as long as twenty-five years, starting with 1955 and until 1980, when I, the Lord, came and took her into heaven; and now she is working from heaven, near Me, upon My people, upon her people, as she gave birth to this people, she, from My word that dwelt in her; a people born by My word, a people born from above, from the word coming down from heaven into a vessel chosen by God.

This is My work through Verginica, My heavenly work of today, and today I let My word come down on the clouds upon the manger of My word, upon this little heavenly garden, which is called the garden of God's word, and they, who stay at the mouth of this spring of word coming down from heaven, are the watchmen children in the way of the word. My word from heaven flows like a river upon this garden chosen by Me to be the manger of My word by which I may prepare My people for the glory of My coming back on the clouds. The angels who came at the time of My ascension into the sky, told the apostles who saw Me rising upwards; they said that «This Jesus, Who was received up from you into the sky, will come back into the same way as you saw Him going into the sky». And here I am coming by the word, as the word is coming down from heaven to prepare the path of My coming back; to prepare the holiness and the cleanness of the people who will meet Me at My coming back. Behold, I am coming back; I am coming back soon, and I will find the world not prepared, as the world does not want to prepare her life; even now the world is drinking and eating, getting married and given into marriage; it is being born and has no time to get ready. He, who does not love God, does not clothe himself for God, but you, My people, you love Me and hear My heavenly voice and feed you with My word and grow up and come to life more and more, until the day when I am to be seen<sup>78</sup> into the clouds, and then into the midst of those who wait for Me to come. And you will be the one, who will sing, Israel; on that day, you will sing the song of the angels, who will announce My coming, as on that day the heaven and the earth will sing: «Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord!». You are the one who sing today too around the manger of My word. Sing, son! I am above you with the heaven and I always write you down into My book, and this book will testify that you are My people.

The world sings too when coming together in the church, but it does not know what it sings; it does not feel what it sings, as the world has its own world; it has its own god, and it does not have Me as God. The world loves the sin, and I do not stay with the man who feeds himself on the pleasure of the sins. I am from heaven; I am sinless, but the world does not want to forsake the sin and to choose Me. The world has no time for God. Instead of going to church on My day of feast, the world goes to the market and fair and it sees of its own affairs, and this sin will not be forgiven forever; and it will be atoned by those that stay indifferent to God, as this is how they are to be found in the day of My coming. My day is coming as trap and it will catch into it the one who had not time to take the Lord as a father. The stomach is the god of the world; the stomach and the work of food and that is all, as the worldly man forgot his purpose and forgot about God, about the Son and the Holy Spirit.

My loved people, My loved people; be an example for the world, My people; and be example of holiness and a little gate for the worldly man, so that he world may come to God. I enshroud you with the voice of My word, and you should give to the world the living water of My word, so that the world may come after Me and after you, Christian people. Let the servants of the people see you and find out, what the Orthodoxy in its own living means, and no longer blaspheme you and no longer speak evil about you, as he who speaks evil about you, speaks evil about Me, as I am with you and feed you with My word that is coming down to you on the clouds. My word from above is your guide which brings you before My glory, in the day of My glory, as you, My Christian people, the people of My word, make haste of My visible coming. I promised your victory with Me, and behold, they who were following and shackling you, today they protect you on the way of your glory with Me. Behold, your judges lived to see the garment of you glory, as you were hiding with Me and with the work of My word, and now you are alive in the spirit and in the body as you have listened to Me, and brought Me days of heavenly feast, with the singing and joy of your hearts, loved people by God. And I will make a great people, as you will feed the multitudes with the dew of My word, which is coming to you with the Holy Spirit and warmth. Do not be afraid My people, do not be afraid. Sing from now on! Sing and wait for Me! But call Me out to come, as the voice of your prayer is sweet for the heaven. And why so? Because you love cleanness and holiness and the Holy Spirit.

It hurts Me deeply; I have My wound deep, as the servants of the church do no longer love cleanness, holiness and the Holy Spirit. The heaven is crying under oppression, as My church, which was born two thousand years ago, has had little life for the Lord, and it has had more life for itself instead. But now it hurts Me deeply; it hurts Me deeply, as I go and leave wounded from My meeting with the soul of the church, as My church gathers together only with the bodies, but it is weak in its spirit; it is devoid of the Holy Spirit, as the Holy Spirit, sons, does not find its broadness and work in the man who is mixed up in his own sins, and in his fleshly delights. You cannot tell those that they wound the Holy Spirit; you cannot, as they feel in control of the Holy Spirit, of the gifts of the Holy Spirit, and you, who stay under the rain of grace of My word, are not know by these that you are with Me.

He, who loves you, has got the Holy Spirit. He, who does not love you, My people, does not have Me, as it happens with you what it also happened with Me, as they did not love Me either, and nor did God's servants receive Me; they did not know Me. And why did they not know Me?

Because they were in their own spirits and not in My Spirit. The same is with those of today from the church; they reject you; they speak evil about you, and they, who sold you, My people, were known, as they fed you with a little spoon, and sold you from behind; and by all means, they wanted to destroy you. Yah! But I exposed them and I got up to protect you and to show to the servants of the church, who persecute you, to show them your Orthodoxy and your education from Me, as they do not know My book and My life. He, who knows My life, stands up to fulfill the work of the Holy Spirit; that one has the fruit of life and heaven, but he, who does not have this fruit, does not know Me.

Do not be afraid, My people; I was also persecuted by My people; I was given into the hands of Pilate and Herod by My people. And it happened to you the same; the same is today. Do not be afraid My people; do not be afraid. Stay under My tabernacle and come always to Me, to the Lord, your God, Who brings you up and loves you and protects you. You will be the one that is protected and loved, and the beasts, which try to bite you, will have their teeth set on edge, and they will remain without teeth and without tongue, as the tongue that bites you today will go rotten alive, so that it may not bite the sons of God's word. Come son with a manhood of the Holy Spirit; come to victory! Leave the unfaithful and look into heaven, and pray for those that bite you. It is a time of disbelief; it is a time of darkness, but go with the light of My word before you and leave Me to protect you sideways, as I have always brought with Me a cordon of angels and saints, who enclose you round and round, and do not wonder at those from the church, do not wonder at those who hit you. I, the Lord, will bring them with their foreheads to their feet and I will urge them to repentance, but without any kind of inclination, I cannot forgive the one who does not come back with repentance, as this is written: «If the one that wronged you comes back with repentance, forgive him». But, if he comes back, forgive him, and if he does not come back, whom are you to forgive? Whom are you to draw from the perishing that will catch under it those that are not faithful? To be faithful means something else than what the man of the today's time understands. To have God as father means something else than what the man of this age understands. The man of this age does no longer have teachers from Me upon him, as the teachers of today do no longer have power to lift up a man from his sins and carelessness, since they do not like to stay within the Holy Spirit of the heavenly knowledge. I would like to forgive every soul if it comes back to Me, but the man does not know what it means to come back to a godly life, as the man sold his body to the lusts and greed of the beautiful of today, and he does no longer feel the true good.

Do not grieve My loved people. I come to comfort you by the Holy Spirit, by the holy word. Let the Scriptures that are written long ago be fulfilled with you, as then, a long time ago, I spoke on the earth among the prophets about My coming among the people, and then I came descending from heaven and I fulfilled what I prophesied by the prophets. I prophesied that My people would crucify Me, that My servant will sell Me, and that those that were prophesied came true. Let the Scriptures be fulfilled with you, as My Holy Spirit prophesied by My mouth that you will be driven out from churches; children of the people chosen and distinguished from the world to be the people of My word. And you should know that I prophesy a new word to you, and you should look for its fulfillment. I prophesy to you from heaven that any temptation coming against you is a path for your own good and glory, people of My word. My name is the Word of God, and you are the people of God's word. I prophesy to you about those in the church, about those that took hold of the keys of My kingdom, that the keys will fall down from their hands, as they did not know you, who are with Me, and rather they blasphemed you as a wonderer and as a godless people. I did not work this way, and they do not have a work to resemble God's.

The day to take into account the workers of My vineyard is coming, and I will ask for their fruit, and I will ask for their harvest, fruit and talent, and on that day, they will be empty-handed before Me, and you will be prepared to give My vineyard into your account; however, I will stay with you at the table and serve you as you also stay today in My name before My word. I will fulfill the Scriptures of today with you, people of the Lord, and I will give a sign to the unbelievers, but I tell you that I have already given them, and they did not even look at you, and if they looked, they did not recognize you; who do you belong to, people of the Lord, as I have stayed with you under the bushel until today, but I come out with you, sons, and you will be signs among the nations of the earth.

Oh, people of the New Jerusalem, even the pagans of the nations had prophesied<sup>79</sup> about your coming into the world; that you are born by the Word of the Holy Spirit; you are born by the baptism of the Holy Spirit of My word, which I have shaded you with for forty years. Only those, who stay into My name upon the church, do not want to know you that you came from Me, people of the Lord. When I came incarnated from the Virgin, the Magi of the Gentiles came prophesying to Israel about My birth, the birth of the King of the world. They were forecasters and readers of the heavenly signs, and these prophets of the signs of the times were counselors of the kings of the Gentiles. And I sent My archangel in the image of a star to lead them on their way, and rather the prophets of the Gentiles believed that the heavenly King was born in Bethlehem, but Israel did not believe those who had My archangel as a guide up to My manger. Many prophesied today too about the birth of a holy, clean and righteous people in his faith, and behold, you should know, My loved people, that the pagans will know you more that you are My people, born of My word, and I will no longer tell anything of My mysteries to those that say that are Mine. I do no longer make clear any mystery to those who hid the Scripture of My coming in the clouds, and they will be taken by surprise by the glory which comes with Me and which will catch under it all the human and fleshly haughtiness.

Come to the glory of the heaven, My people. You will not grow pale, but on the contrary, you will turn green and blossom and produce fruit, as I will water you by the heavenly food, by the manna of My word, as the place of My garden where you come together, is called the place of the Word of God, Who is coming on the clouds. I have the clouds for ascension and descent; I am not a weak God. I speak into Romanian because I want it this way, and no one can spoil My plans. I give tongues of the Holy Spirit; I give the Holy Spirit upon the Romanian language, and the sons and daughters of Romania will prophesy in front of the peoples of the earth, as I chose Romania to be My country. My country crucified Me. The people that I chose at the beginning took Me out of their midst, and since then I have embraced Romania and the land of its country, and then I have worked with My Father and I have given birth to the Romanian people; I gave it birth and worked it out once with Me, and I made it Christian with My name; and I chose Jerusalem and I called it Jerusalem again, like the one that crucified Me. That is why this country is called New Jerusalem, because if I left from the things that were Mine, I took with Me the gifts and the wealth of My heavenly gifts, which were from Me upon Israel and upon the Jerusalem of My Israel; and I laid at the foundation of the Romanian people all My heavenly wealth, and I gave birth to this people and I anointed it by the hand of Melchizedek, to be a people of saints for the time of the end, for the time of My approaching with My coming again on the earth.

I, the One Who passed with My body through the death, I, Who was resurrected in the crucified body, I, the Lord, Who are with My body ascended into heaven, I will soon stay above Romania with My revealed glory. I do no longer send My archangel, but rather I will be coming accompanied by My body taken from the Holy Spirit and from the Virgin, and I will be glorified with a great glory upon the manger of My word, upon this little garden, upon this new and holy stone, and there will be heard the songs of the angels from heaven and of those on the earth: “Holy, Holy, Holy, is the Lord, God, Sabaoth, Who comes of the name of the Lord!”, into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit!. Amen.

I, the Lord, chose Romania and who can thwart My plans? This is how I was pleased; I, and not you, My people from the midst of Romania. I came to bring you My word and to call you to be My people, little people and distinguished from the world, to be the people of the receiving of My today's word, of My Scriptures that are written today by the heaven and by you. I prophesy and fulfill a new heaven and a new earth. It does not matter if the servants of the church do not want to come with Me. They will remain with the walls and the walls will cry out against them. My church is not a cold wall of stone, but rather it is a living and heavenly spirit. The church is not from the earth and it is from heaven instead. Only the church is heavenly on the earth; it is come down from heaven, as the sons of My church, the sons of the church of Jesus Christ, are born from heaven, from above, as I said to My scribe of that time; as I told him: «He, who is not born from above, from heaven, cannot be with Me; he cannot be the son of My kingdom», and behold, the sons of the church are no longer of this age, and they are of the holy heaven, and the holy heaven is the companion of its sons. This is how it is called that the church belongs to Jesus Christ and to the heaven. Otherwise the church is from the world; it is not from the heaven.

Loved people, be as strong as the heaven; clothe yourself with the heaven, My loved Israel, My new people, My little and tiny and most precious people. This is what I said: «When the Son of Man comes, will He find faith on the earth?». Why did I say so then? Look, I was true in what I prophesied, I, who knew and saw until the end of the man's age. But I have a little seed of faith, and I will seed with it and fulfill the Scriptures about the New Jerusalem by My power, which is coming down from heaven, as I said that the sons of the church are from heaven and not from earth.

People of the New Jerusalem, stay, son, to fulfill My Scriptures; stay under the rain of My grace and sing, My people, My loved Israel of today, as this remained the name of the people which believes in God, Jesus Christ. Israel, people of the heavenly Jerusalem, may you be blessed by the Lord, your God, the Father and the Son and the Holy Spirit.

It is the celebration of God's Mother, the celebration of her ascension into heaven, to her Son. Jerusalem, sing to My little Mother a song of glory; sing the song of the heaven, New Jerusalem. Let Romania hear, My people. Let Romania be born of the heaven and let it be the country of My choice. Let My heavenly Romania and her anointed one from Me be blessed, as the anointed of Romania prays for you, Romania blessed by the Father and by the Son and by the Holy Spirit.

You should sing Jerusalem; sing from earth to heaven, as your song of glory is taken by the wings of the haven and carried from glory to glory. May you be blessed, My new people, and may those that love you and those that believe that you are from God into the world, be blessed. May all that have a clean heart for you be blessed and know the fruit of My blessing, as this is how I pay to those that love you! I pay them and I also pay those that do not love you; I pay them with their work; with work and reward.

May this day of glory be blessed, as the village of My word is today in a celebration of the heaven on your earth. There shall nowhere be more beautiful and more heavenly than it will be here, where I, the Lord, had worked by the word. Behold, I make them all new. I, the Lord, work again by the word, as in the beginning, and I make a new heaven and a new earth; a new man and a new and heavenly age. I will seed from a little and tiny seed a new heaven and a new earth, at My word.

Peace to you, and may the New Jerusalem be upon you, those who celebrate the earth on the earth! Peace to you! May a celebration with peace and eternal glory come out from your hearts full of the fruit of the faith for the Lord's coming! I am coming soon. May My welcome by the people of the New Jerusalem be blessed!

Peace to you, children of the New Jerusalem! The Holy Spirit is coming upon you by My word that is sanctifying you. Sanctify yourself, Jerusalem, and keep yourself with a garment of glory. I am God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. May the Spirit of comfort make you sprout, Jerusalem! Peace to you from the Lord, your God!

I am. I am the Word of God. I am not a weak God. I speak into Romanian and bless My people from the middle of Romania. Peace to you, My loved people, as I am the Lord, your God!

May your journey to your things be blessed, people which came to the heavenly feast! I am with My peace upon you. Amen, amen, amen.

The Nativity (the Lord's Birth)

I sing to My people the song of the angels of My birth from the Virgin. I sing with the little angels who announced My birth among the people.

Peace to you, My people! In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, peace to you, My people, My new people! I sing to you with the little angels who announced My birth after the prophecy declared about this heavenly miracle, about My birth among the people. I was born of the Father before all ages. I was born of God and of the Light to be the Light of the people. I was born of the Light and I am the Light. First, God said to be light, and it was light, if God said this. First the light was made; this was the beginning of those that are seen and not seen. On the first day, the light was made at the beginning, and this is how the beginning of the visible and invisible things was. On the first day, in the beginning the light was made, and in the end, on the first day of the week, I, the Lord, the Light of the world, was raised from among the dead, from among the things of the dark, sons; I came to life on the first day. Amen.

I sing the song of the little angels of My birth from the light. Glory and honor in those from above, glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, and light on earth, and good will toward the men who have the light, those who have Me as light, as I am the light of the people who stay in the light.

Peace and good will upon the manger of My word, My loved manger, which is written into the prophets about; the manger that I dwell in, as this land where I have My manger now, is a land prophesied about and chosen to be a patch of land to Me and a peak of the mountain and a blessed Zion, from whose top I stay and announce well the good will of heavenly light upon the people who choose this way. Peace to you, My sons from the manger, My little and tiny watchmen! Peace to you, as you made for Me a dwelling of peace with you; and because you allowed Me to make a dwelling of peace and of word upon the earth. Behold a new heaven and a new earth, as above your manger I have the heaven open, sons. I always open and speak and let My voice upon this new land. Oh, you should not want anything else. My grace is sufficient for you, My little and tiny sons. Stand before Me! It is enough for you. Stand, so that I may stand before My people, as I stood before Israel through Moses.

The people of the world give gifts to one another when this feast is coming. This is a custom that has remained from the time of My birth, when the three Magi that followed the star brought gifts at the manger of My birth; they brought gold, frankincense and myrrh; however, this custom has remained to memory, and the world has turned it into a custom. But the world brings gifts to the world; the world honors the world, not Me, sons. But look, I, the One Who was received at the manger of the dumb, bring you from heaven the gift of My peace, and I put it upon you, children of My manger, as look, I have the manger as My dwelling during this time too. The rulers of the church from the world say that you are dry and they do not receive Me through you. They say that you are barren and that you have no godly fruit through this work of word. But behold, then too I was to be received on the earth in the manger of straw, and the straw knew Me and warmed up My little body, which did not find anywhere a place to come on the earth, and it found a place in the straw instead. Today is the same, and I turn the dry into the green, but I also turn the green into the dry, as without My word everything is dry and arid.

Let My glory be in you, children of the manger of My word, and may you give forth good will upon My people of this time, upon Virginia's people, sons. Behold, I tell you a mystery and I will unseal it among My people; I tell you about the mystery of My coming of then and of now. It is written into the Scriptures: «For the Lord Himself will descend from heaven, at the voice of archangel, into God's trumpet; and the dead in Christ will rise first, and those who are alive will be clothed with immortality, and death shall no longer be, and then we will be with the Lord forever».

Oh, Jerusalem, My loved people, this is written into the book of testimonies, and as the Magi believed in the prophecy about the birth of the King of the world; and as they understood from the prophets about My birth and believed; and as they left the east to follow the star to find the One born of heaven; and as they believed into the prophecies proclaimed beforehand by the wise people of the old, you should believe likewise; however, you should believe better than those, son, as they were pagan wise people that had faith in the prophecies proclaimed on the earth, but you, My people, you are Christian, and you have to understand even better than those, as behold, I reveal the mystery of My coming. This is written into the Scriptures: «The Lord Himself, at the voice of archangel, into God's trumpet, will descend from heaven».

Oh, Jerusalem, My child of today, My baby, My people of today! I gave Verginica's name. (Romanian diminutive of Virginia - the sixth trumpet of the Lord, r.n.) I called her God's trumpet into your midst, Jerusalem of today. Verginica was called God's trumpet, and you did not understand My coming by the declared word of the Scripture. When I came down in the body by My Mother, the Virgin, I came down at the voice of the archangel and I came for appearance, and now I have come and descended through God's trumpet, as it is written: «At the voice of archangel, into God's trumpet». I would come down from heaven into her, My people; I was coming down into My trumpet from heaven, and I was before her to raise you from the dead and to raise your dead to life, for if you were hearing My voice, all of your body would hear it; all of your people, all of your kindred down to Abraham, son, down to your thousand generation, down to Abraham, the father of all the faithful, and all of your dead would come to life at the voice of God's trumpet; and as for you, that were alive, I would take you into My work to stay in it, My child of today.

Have you stayed in My work, son? Behold, I made a sieve to match the grain of wheat and now it will be seen how you have stayed in My work, My child from (Romanian) Jerusalem. I made a sieve and I will sift with it the sons of this people. In the time of Noah I also had a sieve and I put everyone into it, and nothing was left within the sieve but the grain of wheat, the clean and whole grain in obedience and faith. During this time I have also made a sieve for My people, and I tell My people to be like the grain of wheat; like the grain of wheat: whole, clean, spotless and pure. What is whole, ripe, clean and healthy will remain into the sieve, and what is small, barren, unripe and foreign to Me, will go through the sieve. I do no longer have time ahead, as I have come and always told that the sons of this work are the end of the man's age. (See the selection topic: „The End of the world and the Day of the Lord”, r.n.) Oh, little from Jerusalem believed My words. They ascribed them to man and did not believe that they were from Me, and if they did so, those who did not know to believe and fulfill, remained with this age. If the child of this people had said as the Virgin, My Mother did: «Behold, the handmaid of the Lord; be it to me according to Lord word». And behold, child of Jerusalem, if you have stayed into My work, it will be seen now, as in the sieve of selection and sifting the whole grain will remain, and that is why I have always said to you to fall in love with Me, Jerusalem, as I am also in love with you. But now I want to see the one who was faithful to Me and to take him at My bosom and to be forever with him, as it is written into the Scripture, for Verginica was God's trumpet through which I came down on the earth to you to give you birth, Jerusalem, so that you may stay then embraced with Me, and to give you My embrace and to call you Jerusalem; and to have you in My heart, to have you in My heavenly heart, as I have a heart son; I have a heart like the man, and you cannot say that I do not have.

I was born of the man at the voice of the archangel, and I was born in a wonderful way, and the Virgin, who I became flesh into, also remained virgin after My birth. I was born in a wonderful way, and you cannot understand it. You need a great faith, son. My father gave Me birth from a Virgin; He got Me out through the closed doors, and he did not spoil the Virgin's body, and the Virgin's body remained virgin.

The woman was taken out of the man, sons. God took a hand of flesh from the man's ribs and filled back the place with flesh, and it was no longer known what God took, and out of this flesh He made the woman; He made her out of the flesh. God made the man out of clay, both out of clay and by the word, and He made the woman out of the man and by the word, out of the flesh and by the word. When I got out of the Virgin's womb, I was the same. By word I was taken out of the Virgin's womb in a godly way, sons. It is written, but few perceive those that are written; it is written that the righteous Joseph brought the Virgin to his home, but he did not know her until she gave birth to God's Son. When Joseph saw the Son born near the Virgin, then he understood clearly; then he understood and knew clearly the miracle of My birth of the Virgin, and then he testified about this; but he testified to a few people; to a few people then too; but neither today, nor the world, nor the Christians know to understand well the miracle of My birth from the Virgin.

Oh, Jerusalem, what good it would have been of you if you had read the prophecies, the Scriptures and its mysteries, and to have believed them! You would have known to believe like the Magi too, like the Samaritan woman and like all others who knew the book of the prophets. The Samaritan woman was a Gentile and read the book of the prophets and knew that Messiah should come, and when she met Him, she believed that He is, the One That had to come. Behold My people, you do not read the prophecies. See, Christian, why I have come to speak with you again? I have come because you do not read, and I have come to tell you to read, to believe in the fulfillment of the prophecies<sup>80</sup>, sons. I have come to tell you about Me if you do not read to know My word spoken by the prophets and by the apostles, as the Samaritan woman knew, although she was of a foreign people. The Magi knew, because they read the book of the prophecies. And you, Jerusalem, should have also known; you should have known about Me and about you and you should seek to be with Me; you should seek to see that you are prophesied by the prophets, and you should stay into My work that was prophesied by God into the prophets. Oh, but how comes this, to stay in My work? Oh, there is no good tree that produces bad fruits, and there is no bad tree that produces good fruits, and the fruits of every one are seen, and that is why I made a sieve to see what fruit is and what not fruit is. It is written that the man brings that what is good or bad out of the treasure of his heart, and this is how that the fruits of his heart are seen.

I, the Lord, got tired of the spirit of espial in the midst of this people. I tell you too that I got tired, and I command this spirit of espial to get out of My people, to fall down from the sieve and to be taken out from the boundaries of My people. I got tired of it, sons. It boasts and puts out its tongue at My table and brings bad things out of his treasures. I asked you, My workers, and I ask you again, that you may no longer introduce in the counsel of Israel a speaking with inquisitive people, with those that are faithless, with those that are pushing in their words and with a haughty chest full of inquisitive things within their hearts. And be careful as I will use the sieve again, sons. I need the clean grain of wheat in the barn, not the lost grain, or any other kind of wheat grain, but the grain selected by Me, the one that was selected by this sieve, because you, My people, are a sort of wheat grain, and from this sort I keep only the ripe grain, which lets itself worked out by My hand, by My mill, by My grinding mill, to peel and to winnow it of its chaff; to grind it and turn it into wheat and then to knead it and submit and give it to the Holy Spirit, so that I may make bread from wheat for My eternal table into this oven.

Jerusalem, My child, take warmth from Me, so that you may no longer be cold, careless and ignorant.

Oh, My loved sons, working sons, who work in My people upon the sons of My people! You have pain; you have My pain within you; you have My brokenness within you. Your pain calls Me close to you, and you should let Me take it away from you, as it presses on you, and I have mercy on you. Jerusalem is rebellious and it does not know what to do, but it should receive Me and it should let Me heal its unsteadiness.

Jerusalem, I have unstable sons in you, who disturb the spirit of My people. Oh, until when do these people make crushes upon the peace of My people? Jerusalem, My people, My child, there is much rottenness in you that makes your body sick for Me, Jerusalem. I am your head and you are My body, and I do no longer want that you have sick members, Jerusalem. I want to take care of you, to clean you, as the tree is cleaned and cut in the spring; and I want to sort out the wild branches, which even now do not know of what stem they are. My people will be distinguished from the whole world on earth, as this I prophesied into the book of this work. And behold, I take the book and get water out of it and give it to the world, so that the world may believe into the prophecies of this work, which was foretold ahead of time; however, there will come people from east and west and will sit at this table and may this table be a table of clean feast and not mixed with idol sacrifices. He, who still serves the idols and he, who still worships the idols and the body, will pass through the sieve. It does not matter if that one does not believe what I tell him, but I believe what I tell him, and My people will be selected from My table grain by grain.

Jerusalem, My child born of My bosom, of my word, as out of My bosom I take my word; let yourself be born of me, Jerusalem, My loved child, and be innocent, and be a child and eat from heaven, as here is what I do: I give you chewed food with the teaspoon from heaven, My child. Woe to you if you ever rebel at My table! When a brother rises against his brother into this people, he rebels against Me. When I hear a speech of judgment upon My work, upon My working sons, who take the crushing with their hearts, oh, when I hear these words of inquisitiveness and rebellion from the unstable ones within you, Jerusalem, I feel like getting angry, but I think like God, so that I may not crush the grain. And I will use the sifting sieve and I will work with heavenly wisdom in such a way that the man may not be blamed; so that the one that stays before Me for you Jerusalem, may not be blamed.

Oh, you child that are unstable and rebellious! How did you creep in My wheat to disturb My crop? And if you crept in as bad as you are, why did you not let yourself be clothed and grafted as at this table? You came and crept in My crop to yell at Me, to trample the ears and to crush the fresh grain. What shall I do with you? What shall I do with your unsteadfastness and with your inquisitive spirit? Behold, I will do what is written into the prophets, but you are not afraid since you do not know what I declared by the prophets. And you will perish because of your haughtiness, as the bad sort cannot bring forth better fruits unless grafted. But if you did not let yourself be grafted even by now, you remained a bad lot, and the prophecies will be fulfilled word by word. I wrote the Alpha and the Omega, and this means the sealing of the time. This stone that I wrote down this work on is the boundary of separation between day and night, and I announced this fulfillment. I am the Alpha and the Omega. I am the new foundation.

Jerusalem leave your knowledge and be the man from the end, who receives My knowledge in him, as the man from the beginning stole God's knowledge, and behold, the science is death. My child come into those from the beginning; come into obedience and do no longer intrude to know something on earth, something from the world, something from the knowledge that comes from the man. It hurts Me when I see that you do not listen to Me. Speak with the prophets and with the apostles, My child; speak with Me, the One prophesied by the prophets and apostles, as even the apostles were My prophets and My word was their word. Do no longer speak with the world; do no longer speak from the world. Speak with the heaven, and speak from the heaven, as there are all kinds of speeches. The man from the beginning spoke something else that God told him and lost the Eden. I waited for you to learn to speak from heaven, and you do what you do and speak from the things of the world. Not this way, Christian. I want to bring you back into the light; I want to bring you back in Me, son from Jerusalem; I want you to be a heavenly Jerusalem, not an earthly Jerusalem, as I want to come down with the heaven on earth; I want to bring the heaven on the earth, as the earth is the footstool of My feet, as it is written.

It is a day of celebration, child from Jerusalem, and I have the heaven above My manger and I watered you with the rain of My word. You should live by My word; you should take life from it and get obedience from it, as I am My word.

Those that are not seen wait for you to make you see them, Israel, the child of My coming into My trumpet. It is Verginica with the rows of little angels to sing to My manger and to the celebration of My birth. There was a creation in the beginning, and it is a creation in the end, and you should be a nation born from heaven, Jerusalem; you and your sons should be My holy people, My holy body, My holy temple and My bedding into which I am well pleased.

Peace to you, children and old people, young and old men, as behold, the earth sings to the heaven, and the heaven sings to My new earth, and the heaven is renewed into a new joy. The heaven has been waiting for seven ages for the appearance of Jerusalem from the end, the one born from above by the word, at the voice of My trumpet. Glory to God into the highest and peace and good will and thanks in the Holy Spirit!

The world says: „Happy New Year!” on Christmas celebration, and the sons of the world give gifts each other, and I, the Lord, bring you eternity and youth without death and beginning without end. Behold, I and My children and My joy with them!

Peace upon the shepherds and upon the sheep! Peace between heaven and earth! Peace between you and God, Jerusalem, My child, My loved child, into whom I am well pleased!

Jerusalem, you are My son and may your sons rest into one another, into My name. As I am into the Father and My Father into Me, the same with you, Jerusalem, you should be into Me, and I into you, and you, children from Jerusalem, should be into each other. You should be like Me, sinless, because I forgave your sins that you have done by now; I forgave them if you brought them into view and into hearing. But I have sons in Jerusalem, who concealed, and I will use now the sieve, and My wheat has value after its grain.

Peace to you, eternity and everlasting birth! Let there be no more death after birth and let it be an everlasting birth into an everlasting life, in the Only One Son born and of Whom you are born, Jerusalem. Behold My Spirit upon you. At My baptism into Jordan, the Holy Spirit came to Me in an earthly image. The same is with you too, Jerusalem, before the nations of the earth, and they will call you My people into which I am well pleased. Amen.

The Feast of the Saint Stephen, martyr and archdeacon

The New Birth through holiness fulfills the Scripture of the new man and of the renewal of the world. The Lord orders food as in Eden for His last disciples

The carol of the new people have sounded into the heaven, but here, the heaven also sings carols to My new earth, to My New Jerusalem, tiny and new, and to My manger, Jerusalem, as I have My manger into your midst, and the carol singers come to the manger.

My peace is with you, children of Jerusalem. Peace to you! In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, the heaven joins the earth for the work of word. I have celebrated a feast of birth for three days.

Today we are celebrating the synod of a young man, sons, as young as My young men from Jerusalem, who started to go to My manger with the carols of the birth. Stephen, the martyr, the first martyr after My resurrection from the dead, comes to sing carols with the martyrs of My name and to worship My manger, as I have a manger dwelling into the midst of Jerusalem; I have a holy cowshed, included in the middle of the bad weather, which My people, Jerusalem, was born in.

Jerusalem son, I gave you birth within a bad time, very bad, son of today; a time of great tribulation among the times of the sky, but I gave you birth. (The time of the Ceaușescu's communist dictatorship, r.n.). But I gave you birth and grew you up, Jerusalem, and some of your sons took their share and left to spend it with the foreigners, and they have never come back to their cowshed, and behold, the cowshed has its boundary fixed and My people is marked and sealed, and I put it to grind so that we may prepared food and a new meal. I am sorry for the sons that left losing the wealth from Me, and behold; now they are empty-handed and with their arms full of wind and the wind tosses them from one side to another, as Jerusalem was their country. He, who deceived Me, who left Me, who lied to Me, who blasphemed Me, who defiled Me and put a name of shame on Me, that one should leave; he should fall down from this mountain, as it is not a laughing matter within God's word, which comes from heaven and works with heavenly mastery by the saints and angels and by God, Who is ministered by the saints and angels, as it is written about the prayers of the saints who stay before Me.

Stephen, the youngster, took a group of martyrs and came to Me so that we may go and bring carol songs to My manger. Oh, Israel, you do not know, My people, what the heaven is doing for you. Oh, living Jerusalem, you do not know what stature you have in heaven; you do not know and you did not believe Me when I told you, as I always told you, but you closed your heart and mind so that you may not know. Behold, the youngsters from Israel, (From the people around the area of monastery, r.n.), who started singing carols at My manger, these children aroused the zeal of the heaven, the zeal of the youngsters of the heaven, and of the martyrs of My name, and we come singing carols at the manger. Well sons, who went carol singing at My manger then? The little angels from heaven sang and the little shepherds on the earth heard them. The little shepherds saw the angels; they saw the heavenly suite and came to find the Child sleeping in the manger, as the announcement of the little angels was upon them. The little angels spoke with the little shepherds and they told them about Me that I was born and that I was lying down in the manger. It is not that the rich man did not receive Me to be born into their house; no sons. I did not like to come into empty palaces; I did not like something like this. I needed a clean place and it was dirty in the houses, sons; it was world; it was immorality.

The man does not know God's language, and there is no one to understand anything, but the creation knows God's language; the animals and the birds know God's language. I was not fond of soft beds and coverings. I liked to come into the midst of creation; I liked to come to be received by the straw and by the cattle's warm soul, which breathed upon Me to warm up My godly body. I sent the little angels before the little shepherds on the mountain, into the midst of creation, and they sang carols to the little shepherds, the great news of the ages. What did the little angels sing, sons? What kind of carol did they sing in the night of My birth? Behold, the heaven joins that carol singing with the carol singing from now, and it joins and completes the carol singing from then with the one from now: Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace and good will toward the people! Amen. Glory to the manger of the word; glory to the Word from the manger, and peace upon the manger, as I do not like palaces and human ornaments! Glory to the white little stone, as this little stone from the midst of this little garden is a heavenly ornament; it is My word, as this little stone was built by the word and it was made out by the sons of the word; and it is not a fairy-tale and rather it is true, sons, as I turned into truth and faith the fairy-tale that I have always told you since I came to you. He, who believed, now sees and believes, and he, who did not believe, does not see and does not believe and does not understand if he sees, since he has not believed by now.

I sent the little angels before the little shepherds on the mountain, into the midst of creation, and they sang carols to the little shepherds, the great news of the ages. What did the little angels sing, sons? What kind of carol did they sing in the night of My birth? Behold, the heaven joins that carol singing with the carol singing from now, and it joins and completes the carol singing from then with the one from now: Glory to God in the highest and on earth peace and good will toward the people! Amen. Glory to the manger of the word; glory to the Word from the manger, and peace upon the manger, as I do not like palaces and human ornaments! Glory to the white little stone, as this little stone from the midst of this little garden is a heavenly ornament; it is My word, as this little stone was built by the word and it was made out by the sons of the word; and it is not a fairy-tale and rather it is true, sons, as I turned into truth and faith the fairy-tale that I have always told you since I came to you. He, who believed, now sees and believes, and he, who did not believe, does not see and does not believe and does not understand if he sees, since he has not believed by now.

The Jews get angry with you and try to tear you down and throw stones at you when they see the brightness, when they see My brightness with you. The Church (The Romanian Orthodox Church, r.n.) has been for you a guide to My work, to My word, which has accompanied and surrounded you; it has been a guide as long as it has not known that you have the spring of My word and that you have Me with you by the word. But since it found Me with you, then it got up over you and it was seen what was under the garment on top of the church of the world. It happened with you as with Stephen, sons, for when he got up to clear up the perplexity of the Jews, who were wondering about who Christ was, then the Jews were filled up with indignation and with great shame when they saw Me shining on Stephen's countenance, as it is written: «And his face had a shine of an angel». This is how you should also shine in the midst of My word, which uncovers the immorality and unfaith of the people of the church. Well children, Stephen, breathed his last at the peak of happiness, as he gave up his soul for Me, and he gave it to Me; however, he did not feel the chill of the death, as he had My name on his lips and into his heart, he had Me with the testimony of the One without death, because he loved Me more than himself, more than his life, and he came to Me and near Me, and the first church of that time called him the first martyr of Jesus Christ. But there were other martyrs of My name, before Stephen. It was Zechariah, My relative from the temple, a relative from My Virgin mother; there were the children murdered for My name; there was the blind man who was healed and whom Saul murdered in his zeal for the law; there were so many Christians who were murdered by the rulers of the temple, because they saw them healed or because they followed Me and believed in Me; there was John, My godfather, and Stephen, who was martyred after My resurrection, the first martyr after My resurrection. And here where they are; as I come with them at My manger and sing the angel's carol and heavenly wish upon Jerusalem; and thanks for the youngsters' carol singing in Jerusalem.

The heaven wept for joy at the carol singing of those from Jerusalem and My watchmen from the manger rejoiced with My joy in them. Little brothers, two by two, and three by three, blushed by frost from road. Little brother with little sister, little sister with little brother, oh, how beautiful is this! This is how they were, sons and My apostles; pairs of little brothers and kinship, as I was a relative after My mother and after Joseph, who protected Me, to Zechariah, to John, My godfather, and to My apostles and My disciples. This is how I have worked today too. And then a Judas was found; a Judas was found now as well, as I am the same, sons, and where I am, Judas is also there. But where I am, My disciples are also there, and I have a great joy, extremely great, as I see children arisen on the way, who took over the helm from their parents. I weep for this joy and I pray to My Father and for you, Jerusalem; I pray for these of today and breathe the Holy Spirit upon them and I clothe them again with My hidden word.

Oh, beautiful children, as beautiful as My beloved and dear Daniel was! Daniel was beautiful and did not want to eat from the food of the king of this age, and he was handsome eating seeds and vegetables, as the seed sprouts and yields a beautiful and young fruit. He, who eats food with meat, is not as beautiful as Daniel. He, who eats vegetables from the seeds, and seeds from the vegetables and from fruits, is as beautiful as Daniel, and like his three friends, who loved God and loved the cleanness of their body. You should be beautiful and healthy, sons, carol singers, sons from Jerusalem. Be clean, as the souls and the bodies of the young men of the world are dirty and filthy, ugly and sold to the lusts of the dissolute spirit of Baal, who learn to sing and dance at the trumpet sound of Baal. Be good into your mind and heart and be united with Me and in Me, as I was also young and I did not grow old. I was young and I was tempted by the things of this age, and I left for wilderness and had stayed hungry for forty days and forty nights to prepare My godly outcome before the passion. And the spirit of this age followed Me and tested Me on the moment I was hungry, after forty days, and he wanted to test My steadfastness and he showed to Me the face of the world to give it to Me if I wanted it. He, who worships the spirit of this age, has all the wealth of this age, but I rejected this wealth, and the one that brought it in front of My face, and for spite, wanted to kill Me; he wanted to throw Me down from the height of the temple. But he could not overcome Me sons, and then I told him: «Get behind Me satan, and you shall not test the Lord, your God!».

I was tested in everything except sin, sons. Behold what a mystery: except sin. He could not test Me with this, since I did not have on Me the ancestral sin, as I was born of the Holy Spirit, not of a seed of fleshly lust. Seek to be like Me, sons. Let yourself be born of Me, of the Holy Spirit, like Me, without sin, as I work out the new man after My image and likeness, with a life giving spirit. I give you birth from heaven son, from the Holy Spirit at your faith. I was born of the Virgin at the voice of the archangel, and from the Holy Spirit, conceived into the Virgin. And you, Jerusalem, you should be born from Me, from a man, from a heavenly virgin young man, at your faith and out of My word. I made Adam out of word and clay. And spoke the word: «Let Us make man in Our image after Our likeness». This was the word, and then the clay was subjected to the word and to the Spirit and out of the man I took the woman, sons. Here is how the man was created in the beginning. Not from lust, not of seed, but by word and Spirit; and now I make him by faith and word, which is born of Me, as I am the Word.

Son, I give you birth from God at your faith from heaven, as it is written: «He, who is not born from above, cannot enter into the kingdom of the heavens». If you are born from below, from the seed of the fleshly lust, if you are born like this, out of a fleshly human, let yourself now be born at My word, so that I may call you sinless, and that the temptation may no longer have power upon you, Jerusalem, My Son born from above. It hurts Me the pain from the end of the age; it hurts Me after the ones that left the heaven and fell again into the world, as here is what it happened to Me! I lost entire families for children, and it burns badly the place where these members came off from, as they came off from Christ's body, and the place burns and stings Me, and the spirit of this age boasts because of My stings.

Behold, children and young men, as not long ago a family of My sons collapsed fell down on earth, as their unsteadfastness, which comes from this age, threw them down. I had a family of godsons and one of them left saying this: „Father, instead of doing other sins, instead of sinning, I better get married and come under the law and stay as I can”. Behold sons what poignancy on Me; poignancy without comfort. I want to get you out from under the law, Jerusalem, and you pull out from Me and get under the stone of the law and bring all of your kinship to the ground for Me. Oh, and I will ask you kinship from your hand, and you will see what I will do to you, as I will ask what you have torn down from My face, you, who boast with a new house, with a worldly life and with your flesh; and you will see that My words will not pass away and I will bring them into fulfillment.

I remind you young men of My poignancy, as it stings Me badly, for this one was tempted by the sin. I was tempted by everything except sin. Here what the sin is! This is the sin and not something else. The temptation is temptation, and the sin is the sin, and they are not the same thing. Mind you do not look for death, sons, as only into My arms you find life and your garden, Jerusalem! I give you birth from Me. I am without sin. I am born of the Holy Spirit from heaven, Jerusalem. It is written this into the prophecy of this work of heavenly book towards the end: „Cover your head son, for you will perish on the way because of this cap; you and your entire house”. And behold, the prophesied word was not a lie, as those that did not listen and did not believed this prophecy perished, as the prophecy was; they perished into their sins, as the sins of disobedience reached them and made slaves of the law, and they were redeemed by this age. Oh, and a great pain comes for these deeds of unbelief, but you, the one who remained with Me, be without sin and remain like this within Me; remain in Christ, as the Scripture does not lie and says: «Those that belong to Christ crucified their fleshly lusts and desires to walk in the Spirit». Your parents stayed into My work, but they stayed with their bodies; but you should stay in the spirit. You should no longer ask from Me a body, but rather ask for a spirit and heaven and paradise, and ask for holiness from Me, so that I may turn you into heavenly food, sons; food of sacrifice and of great faith in time. Let your hearts and your faith from them be My food, My table and My rest, My resting day and My manger of abode with My life creating word. Clothe yourself with Christian garments and feed on milk and honey, (Heavenly, r.n.), as I promised you, and be holy, as I am holy. Do not depart from the word milk, as the breast with milk is the earth. The fruits and vegetables are milk; their name is milk, as all have milk in them; sweet and healthy milk given to the man by Me. The milk from animals was taken by man, but the true milk I gave it to you for food. Who does not want, he does not want. What shall I do to the one that does not want? What shall I do to the one that does not know? That one knows only resistance, only disobedience. That one does not love life; that one loves sickness, and is sick if he loves it, as the sickness becomes disobedience. The whole world is sick from flesh, and the world does not know where it has got this sickness from. The sickness and the man's bad habit come from the killed flesh. If you often pass through the woods and meet a lion, you see that it is attracted by the meat, because it is carnivore. Meet is attracted by meat. If you meet a deer, that one does not tear you to pieces, as it eats only vegetation. Here is the difference. The saints from the wilderness were not torn to pieces by the beasts, as they were not guilty of meat; they did not smell of killing deeds; they did not smell of blood, and the beasts were serving them and submitting to them as to God. The lust for meat comes from meat, sons. But I said, and I will fulfill it now; I said that you should belong to the Holy Spirit from now on, and that you should be spiritual. Amen.

Peace to you, those that are spiritual! From fleshly you became spiritual, but be spiritual sons! Be with your mind and your heart, with your eyes and your ears, with your speaking and behavior, so that it might be known whose you are. Do not seek to be rich during this time, and rather seek to work into My plan during this time.

Come Jerusalem into the incorruption, come! Come as this is My prophecy for you, Jerusalem, My son born of Me, born of the heavenly fetus and not taken out of the clay and out of the man. Come Jerusalem, come! Come son, into the age without beginning and without ending, and do not get bored with Me; you should not lose your temper and faith, as those that are not seen will be let upon you. Seek to be without end, as without your seeking I cannot make an eternity upon you. Seek to enter into those that will be without end, and sing a carol of a new age and without rest; a carol of birth without death. Come Jerusalem, son, come and rest from the labor of the seven thousand years, as this I promised to the father Abraham! Come, Jerusalem, into those that are prophesied for you! Do not let yourself be drawn away from My cowshed, as the wolf, son, is not attracted by the one who is clean and good.

Glory to God in the highest and peace upon you, Jerusalem, My hope in the last time! Peace and good will toward your courtyard, Jerusalem, toward My work with you, upon My work with you, My loved son, My loved Jerusalem! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of Epiphany

Behold a heavenly travel from heaven to earth and from earth to heaven. I come from heaven to you and you search for heaven from earth, and we meet and celebrate the feast of heavenly word and heavenly baptism in My name.

Oh, heavenly people; do you see Israel why I have asked you to stand in agreement with the heaven; why I have asked you to be from heaven? Oh, I have not spoken to anyone by now as I have spoken with you, as long as I have spoken with you for forty years, as I came down to you into God's trumpet. I came down to you as it was written into the Scriptures. I came down to speak with you the same way Abraham was speaking with God's angels that wanted to destroy Sodom and Gomorrah. I have done likewise with you Israel, My promised child to Abraham. I started to destroy the lawlessness on the earth and I stopped to speak to you on My journey, as I stopped to speak with Abraham. Do you believe that it was not possible for Abraham not to believe? He also could have done like you, but he did not. He believed that I was the One Who was speaking with him. He knew the descent of the Holy Trinity and said: «Lord, if I found favor in Your sight please do not go away from Your servant». And Abraham laid the table before God, and it was written justice and righteousness in his right. And Abraham could have said that it was not I, but he had faith and therefore, he was called the father of the faithful.

Behold a heavenly travel. The Son of God is coming near to the pool of His word, as He came near to Jordan, and John came into His way to start the baptism of the repentance into His name and with Him. My Son, I let Myself be marked by the John's baptism to complete the mystery of the water baptism, and at My baptism into Jordan, I was baptized with water and with the Holy Spirit, and the Holy Spirit covered Me within His bodily image, by a dove's image, Israel, a baptism with water and with the Holy Spirit. John baptized Me with water and the Father baptized Me with the Holy Spirit in a visible way, so that the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit might be by Jordan. Amen.

Here I am with open heavens above the manger of My word, above the pool of the new Siloam, above the river of life, Jerusalem as the Jordan of life flows from heaven. The river of life flows from heaven upon the mouth of the spring of My word, and I, the Lord, proclaim a word of heavenly Epiphany: the water of the river of life and the water of the springs from the garden of the river of life are blessed and sanctified by the Holy Spirit into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

This is what I told John by the Jordan two thousand years ago: «Allow it now, for this is the fitting way for us to fulfill all righteousness». And now I baptized with the Holy Spirit and fire, as it was the prophecy from John, the Baptizer. And how comes with the Holy Spirit and fire? You should know to answer, Jerusalem, child fed on the Holy Spirit. What does it mean with the Holy Spirit and with fire?

It means wheat and chaff. The wheat is baptized with the Holy Spirit and the chaff is baptized with fire. What is the wheat and what is the chaff, sons? Oh, it is good for man to be wheat and not chaff, as the whole world is chaff and it does not know what the baptism with the Holy Spirit and the baptism with fire are. These two mysteries are one at one end and other at the other end. The baptism with the Holy Spirit is for those who believe and fulfill the law of the holy heaven, where the Holy Spirit comes from. And the baptism with fire is for those who separated from the will of the heaven and from the Lord's law, and they are baptized with fire as it is written: «They will be saved, but as through fire». And again, it is written: «His winnowing fork is in His hand and He will thoroughly cleanse His threshing floor. He will gather His wheat into the barn, but the chaff He will burn up with unquenchable fire». This is what John said: «His threshing floor and His wheat», as not all the threshing floor and not all the wheat belong to the Lord, because some do only by nature the things of the threshing floor and wheat, but not by their faith in Jesus Christ, the Son of God, as it is written: «I am the Light of the world»; and it is written again: «Be sons of the day, as the light was called day». The day comes from Me, as it was done from Me, as I am the day. The day does not come from the Sun. The Sun covers the mystery of the day, but the day is from itself, from Me, sons, from the light, as My name is Light and Word. You, who have remained with Me in My trials, I gave My word to breathe over My people and over the world.

Israel, I have got within you sons born from above, out of word and faith and of the Holy Spirit. These let themselves be born and sealed by My word to get in front of you with Me and to give you from My word. I look for you, son, I look for you, Israel, and I call you to come so that I may speak upon you. I call you to believe My word, as this is what it means to come. If you come and if you do not believe, you should no longer come, as this it does not mean to come. You should no longer come this way. So it was then when many disciples followed Me and see what happened then! The Jews quarreled about My words: «I am the bread which comes down from heaven that anyone may eat of it and not die». If anyone eats of this bread, he will live forever. Many disciples who were hearing this, said: «This is a hard saying! Who can listen to it?», as My disciples also murmured against Me if they did not let themselves be My wheat, and then I told them: «Why does this cause you stumble? Only if you saw Me ascending where I was before!» Behold Israel, My word was Spirit, and they were flesh. And it is written into My word that the Spirit is the One, Which gives life, and the flesh is useless. There were among those some who believed, and that is why I told them: «No one can come to Me, unless it is given to him by My Father». But those from the flesh did not understand, and then many from them withdrew and did no longer followed Me, and I was left only with the twelve, who understood the words of the eternal life from Me, and they believed that I was the Son of the living God.

You see Israel, why I have reminded you My work of that time? For you to see that then it was also the same. Many came to listen to My word, but it was hard for many, hard to fulfill if they cared about their flesh, and behold, the flesh is useless. Now is the same with My work of the word. There have come many a bodies to hear, and coming they did not come, and hearing they did not hear and did not fulfill the words of life. And here is what I say to you today Israel: if you come and do not believe, you should no longer come; do no longer come this way. If you come and do not want to fulfill My word, you should no longer come. Why do you believe that I was hardly speaking two thousand years ago? I did so, to sort out the wheat from the chaff. I did so, so that those who did not believe may leave; those that were a body without faith, that is without spirit. I do likewise today, and I will bring the words of mystery even harder to believe for those who did not want to leave their bodies. This is what I will do, so that I may remain with My threshing floor and with My wheat, to be able to work, as we can no longer work as by now. If you come and do not believe, do no longer come, and I will fulfill this word of Mine. He, who believes, fulfills My word without any other kind of speech. He, who believes, understands. He, who does not believe, does not understand My words. Jerusalem, do you not see, son, that these words are Mine? I tell you as I said two thousand years ago; and this is what I told those of then: «If you do not believe in Me, believe in these words of God». And I tell you today: if you do not believe that I am the One, Who speaks upon you, at least believe these godly words, as they are from God and not from man. The human words are nothing else then these, Israel. Oh, in vain I speak to you in many ways, as you will not be able to defend yourself before Me. If you come and do not believe, you should no longer come, and if you come you should also believe; you should come and be obedient to My order, and you should not come otherwise and stay otherwise; you should no longer come otherwise. Mind that you do no longer come and scream at Me. It is enough, Christian! I close the door for those who scream at Me and walk at My order to judge from the earth.

Jerusalem, look at the order that My work had into the world two thousand years ago. When it was to proclaim the man's salvation by My crucifixion and My resurrection, I worked first to proclaim the news of repentance, and he, who would come to repentance and in faith and holiness, was baptized with water and then with the Holy Spirit. He, who chooses to work repentance receives after that the baptism with water and after that the baptism with the Holy Spirit. Israel, you came to Me at this time. You heard that I came and speak on the earth, and you came to hear Me, and I taught you to repent of all your wicked deeds, and you did not do so. Those of the time of John, who came at the baptism of repentance, were asking John: «What shall we do?» The multitudes came to him and he answered them: «You offspring of vipers; who warned you to flee from the wrath to come? Therefore, bring forth fruit worthy of repentance, and do not think to yourselves: 'We have Abraham for our father', for I tell you that God is able to raise up children to Abraham from these stones». The customs officers and the soldiers were come and asking him: «What shall we do?», and John was telling everyone to do justice, not to oppress anyone, to be contended with what they had, and if they had taken more, to give also to the poor, who walks into God's way in his poverty. And you came and asked Me what to do, but you did not ask about repentance, and you were asking what to do with your fleshly and earthly business, and then you said that you listened to God of what He told you. And no way, as when you told Me, I said „Yes” to you. If you had come to ask Me about the baptism of repentance, you would have been sealed now by the word of fulfillment and by the Holy Spirit, and you would have been the one to share the Holy Spirit. You see, Israel, first is the baptism of repentance and you did not do so. Oh, the mystery of repentance goes before the holiness and faith, and then before the Holy Spirit. Now the church does not work this way, for if someone comes with a baby to be baptized into My name and to entrust it to Me, that one lies when he comes, as he is not repented and sanctified and faithful; and he also does not urge the baby come to Me and follow Me, as Cornelius did with his entire house when he was baptized by the hand of My apostle. Oh, there is no longer faith into the world, but it is neither with you Israel; it is not, for repentance works out holiness and attracts the Holy Spirit from the One, Who baptizes with the Holy Spirit. Tell My people, if the baptism from God is known upon the people. It is not known, son. Oh, and what will answer those that baptize into My name the people that are not like God; those that do not remain with God after their baptism? Oh, you should believe what I tell you, as everything remained only a habit and that is all. But you, My people, you should understand son, My way, and how you should walk on it, and where you have to start from. This is how you should have started; with repentance.

When I was tested by the spirit of this age, I confessed to My Father before My disciples and I told everything that happened to Me from the spirit of this age and I did not hide anything. This is how he, who confesses, has to work; he has to tell everything before his brothers, as I did. I did everything as an example for those after Me, but the man did not do like Me. I am not the Teacher for the one that does not do as I did. That one did not come to Me; that one does not have Jesus Christ as a Teacher.

Israel, that is why I told you to flee from the man that is unknown by you. Here what a word I let today for My workers from Jerusalem: Flee My workers, flee from the one that you do not know, as I do not know that one either. He, who does not let himself to be known by you, is not known by Me either. How comes this, working sons? Behold, he, who does not do as I did before My disciples as an example to you, that one is not known by you. He, who does not reveal himself for you, is not known by you and by Me; that one is not the threshing floor or the wheat of this barn; that one cannot enter into this barn to be worked out, kneaded, ripe and used for My food, for My word, as My food and is My word. Flee from everyone that says that is the son of this work and who does not reveal himself to you as I did before My apostles. I was their Teacher, and I still revealed Myself, and they are disciples, and do not reveal themselves; as those that do not uncover themselves are not disciples.

Behold what I do after forty years of work with Israel. I make a new people, as the one that has been by now is not new. He, who wants to remain in the body of My people, that one should let himself be known well. He, who does not want, behold, I say for that one: if you come and do not believe this word of knowledge among the disciples, you should no longer come, foreign son, as the one that is hidden, is a stranger and a thief. You should no longer come as a thief, and you should know the law of the heart and God's law in your heart. A heart that is born of God is always open, and it does not work out the evil to hide from it. Because of the evil from the heart, the man is hiding and turning in on himself, but a beautiful and shining heart does not conceal its light. The light is not to be concealed, but, on the contrary it proves out. The darkness conceals by its nature, as the things that are done into the darkness are not seen. I am the light and I will tell you a big mystery, sons, and it will be difficult for many of you. And I will tell you many other things, and I will tell you My work and the work of the man, and I will also tell you that the man puts his work into My account, and it is not possible this way.

Behold, today we celebrate the feast of Epiphany and I declare: the river of the word of life and the water of the springs of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem, the springs of the garden of My word, are blessed and sanctified. Sprinkle everywhere, and let the spirit of holiness come to life, and a desire for holiness upon the people. Take, sons, into your little bottles everywhere you go, and let this water drip off everywhere and always, and that this water may be towards the healing of the souls of the creature, so that the creature may be baptized with the baptism of repentance and of the faith and then of the Holy Spirit.

This patch of land is great under this heaven. This mystery of this heavenly garden is great, and it will for the whole world on the earth to understand.

Today is a celebration of Epiphany of the Son of God, and then it is the feast of My godfather's celebration of baptism, and I will work. Let us stay a little bit and then work again, as I will bring mysteries upon you, words of mysteries, sons, deep and great words.

Jerusalem, it is a celebration from heaven to earth; it is a celebration of Epiphany. You should be a people, which is baptized by the Holy Spirit, Jerusalem, people of the Holy Spirit. I want the man of unbelief to see that you are the son of the Holy Spirit, born of Me after My Father's will.

Peace to you! Peace to you for the celebration of Epiphany, Jerusalem, My loved people! Peace to your sons, who stay under the spring of the Holy Spirit! Amen, amen, amen.

The Synod of Saint John, the Baptizer

First God made the light. God was the light, and out of the light God made the light; He made light from the light. He made the light, as there was darkness over the deep. And when God made the light, He separated the light from the darkness and He called the day light, and the darkness He called night. Amen.

I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, make out the word again. I open the heavens and proclaim from above them, and I have John, My godfather as My companion, and I celebrate him in the synod from the middle of My people Jerusalem, into My little garden of sons born from above. John was testifying about the light, sons.

Peace and light to you! I give you light from the light, to be sons of the day, so that you may not be fleshly but rather godly, and so that I may be able to speak to you those things from the spirit. The things from the spirit are perceived only by those that are spiritual, and you will not see, Israel, a fleshly man, to understand these words that I have been feeding you with for such a long time.

But look what a mystery: first God made the light; God made the light on the first day, and, on the sixth day, He made the man. On the first day I was raised from the dead, and on the sixth day I died like a man, as the man was made on the sixth day. The first day is called Sunday, and the sixth day is called Friday. On Friday I died like a man, and On Sunday I was resurrected like a God; on the first day, when God made the heaven and the earth, He made the light on the first day.

«I am the Light of the world», this is what I said. I said: «Be sons of the day», as the light was called day. The word is the light that shines in the darkness. I was the Light, which shined over the darkness, and I separated the light from the darkness, because I was from the Father and I had this power, and I did all the visible and the invisible things. God was the Light, and the Son, embraced by the Father, the One born of the Father, the One that is called the Word, that One Who made the visible and the invisible things, as it is written that all were made by Him, is Light from the Light and God born of God.

Behold, sons, what you are to say to those that do not know to value the first day. On the first day God made the light. On the first day it was made light at My resurrection from the dead. The first day is the day when we celebrate the creation of the world. That is why I prophesied in the scroll of this work and I said: „Cursed is the one who does his business, with the exception of light, from Saturday at sunset and until Monday at sunrise”. The light was made during the night sons; it was not made during the day. The light of the day is contained between two nights, and the darkness of the night is contained between two days. The first day is the longest day, because on the first day God made the light. This is what you are to tell those that do not value the mystery of the light, the mystery of the day. They do not value Me, the One born of the Father, the Light from the Light. It is written: «I am the Light of the world», and I am Light from the Light, and I showed Myself upon the earth as a Light on the first day, sons. The light was made in the beginning and in the end of the first day, for in the end of the first day of the week, I arose from the night of the death.

I am Light from the Light, born of the Father. The Father is both father and mother. God made the man in His own image and after His likeness. God made them both: male and female; God and not man. God made the father and the mother in His own image and after His likeness. I was born both of the father and of the mother, as in God’s kingdom there is no male and female, and everything is angelic and wonderful; without fleshly immorality and without sin, as in heaven, so on the earth of God’s kingdom.

The Kingdom of God is the heaven and the earth, because God made the heaven and the earth. The heaven is the throne and the earth is the footstool. One cannot be without the other in creation, and this creation is God’s kingdom. Only the man that was made in the sixth day, only that one stayed subjected to the Word of God by which everything was made. All the other things obeyed, as God put them under the reign of the man who was created in the sixth day. And as the man fell, all the other fell, as they were under the man’s dominion. Behold what happened, when the man fell, all that were under his dominion also fell. Oh, and behold son: «Truth springs out of the earth, righteousness looked down from heaven», as I came and took a human nature, the same way as the man was made of the earth, and I added the heavenly righteousness and I raised through Me the promise of redemption of all that fell, and of the man too, sons, but the man hardly perceives this mystery. The man likes to remain in his condition of dust and not of Christ, and I have had great mercy on the lost man’s unwisdom, which dies continually.

Blessed is the man who receives Me, as it is written: «But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become God’s children; to be born of God, not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of the man, but of God», of father without mother and of mother without father; of God, sons, by Me, the only One begotten from the Father. It is only I that can testify about My Father, as I come from My Father, sons, and I am not separated by Mim with you, as Father is into Me.

Israel, behold the mystery of the light, the mystery of the light from the man. The man that is lighted in his face and in his heart has got Me, as I am the light. The one that is not lighted has not separated the light from the darkness, as I separated the light from the darkness. He, who prays to Me, he, who worships Me, is lighted in his face. This is the sign of those who worship Me. He, who is sullen, is in the darkness; that one does not know what prayer is even if he prays. One like this does not listen to Me; he is not shy of Me and that is why he is not lighted. The mystery of the light in the man is great, Israel, and how good it was if this wisdom would be seen in you! That is why I came and I always break from the light and give you to eat the word taken from the light to make you out by the word, as I made everything out, to produce faith and worship in you. You read prayer enough, but only you know whom you are to give it, as you do not worship Me if you are not lighted, if you are not lighted from the light. This is how I spoke the word upon you, this is how I said: „Let there be light”. Behold that you do not stay in the mystery of the light, and the light cries subdued by the night in you. If you had been light, the light would have been upon everything long ago, and My kingdom would be seen by you.

I want you to understand the mystery of the light, son. I feel like leaving you and no longer come to you and to go to speak to the darkness from outside about My work. I feel like leaving you and not come to you anymore. I feel like doing with you what I did with Israel. If I see that you do not love the light, what else shall I say about you? You hide in your own self, son from My people; you are sullen; you are picky; you are bored, and I feel like leaving you and go when I see that you do not know what light is. You had the heaven open above you, Israel of today. Where were your heart and sight? Behold, I feel like getting angry with you, as you did not want Me come to life within you on the first day when you have come to Me. I should have also started the creation with you, as the creation starts with the first day, and on the first day the light is being made, you son without Me. I am always near you and you are still without Me. Why do you really not let Me in? Do you know son, how is the man who does not have Jesus Christ in him? Look at Me and at you, so that you may know once and to take Me into you; to be as I am, and to testify about Me into the light; to be light from the Light as I am Light from the Light, Father and Son. You should also be the same, light from the Light. Oh, what shall I really do with you Israel? You have the light into your midst. Take, Christian, and eat and take the night out of you, as I am not night. I am day, son. The one with a sullen face has got another god. I do not bring darkness over the face and into the heart. Other god does such a thing in men.

Oh, My unforgotten people! My apostles were going on and on with My word to strengthen the Christian cities, and behold, the same is today too. Let Me still keep your way; to exhort you further for a tiny little while as there is still a very short time. I have always told you to obey My commandments, son. I told you, and behold, I also tell you to love God and the one who serves God. I told you not to make other gods for yourself. You shall not make other riches and lusts, and you shall not do your own will. I told you to respect God into everything that belongs to Him. I told you, Christian, not to kill, or commit fornication, or steal, or be greedy of someone's goods. And behold, I have been telling you again: take Me freely within your own soul and ask Me to tell you what to understand and what to do with every commandment. Why were these commandments really written for? They were written because people were doing these sins, and I wrote them down, so that these sins may not be done any longer.

I want to sound the bell of awakening. What does this mean what I want? I want you not to shed blood any more, son; this is what I want. You will say that you do not shed blood and that you do not kill, and that you do no longer kill. Sons, neither Israel said that he killed, because it did not know what it meant the covenant it was in. The covenant means blood. Israel had brought blood for sin. Israel had sinned and after that he had to wash the sin away by blood. It killed an animal or a bird and it paid the sin with blood. It had to shed blood for its sin. The blood from the man sinned, and the blood from the animals and birds was shed for man's atonement. You are not obliged to commit sin, but it is a duty to give blood for sin. When blood was brought then it was known that someone sinned. Oh, what a shame, Christian! For a man to commit sin and the animal to pay for the cleaning of man's sin! For a cattle or for a bird to die for the man's sin! And this was not enough, as the man was not cleansed yet, since he did not escape from sinning, since the man had sinned on and on to the end. I hear everywhere the man saying about his salvation through Me. The man boasts that I shed My blood for the sins of the people. This is nothing to boast about, and the man should be ashamed and shy and he should put himself right according to justice, as he needs no sacrifice and killing for righteousness. Well, sons of today, I did not tell Israel to bring animal sacrifices when they arrived in Canaan, but if they knew that for sins it was needed blood and sacrifice, and if they knew that they sinned, they brought sacrifices, but I did not tell them this. On the contrary, I told them: «I abhor your sacrifices and I am disgusted at them. Who ask you to bring them?». I asked them to love Me and not sin. I told them not to kill, or commit adultery, or steal or lie, or do injustice. This is what I told them. It is a shame for an innocent bird, or lamb, or kid, or a young bullock to die for the sin committed by the man, and it is written into the Scriptures: «The earth will give up its dead, and the sea will give up its dead, and the hell will give up its dead». And what will the man do? As the man should also give up his dead, innocent beings swallowed by the man's belly or killed for the sake of the sin. It is a shame for God to die in the place of the sinful man. It is a shame for the man to commit sin, and to kill God for his sin. It is written: «For one will hardly die for a righteous man. Yet perhaps for a righteous person someone would even dare to die».

The meat eaten by man kills the man's mind and brings guilt to the man. I did not want the man to eat meat. I did not want to be death over the creatures. The will of man was from the beginning before Me and this caused death. The will of man brought death. I did not ask Abel to kill the lamb. He wanted it; he wanted to do it out of love for God. This is what he wanted for God, and I received the love of his heart, but Abel paid for the killing with his blood.

Killing was from the beginning, sons. I did not ask people to bring sacrificed animals before Me, but for the sins of the people the man made a law; he wrote a tooth for a tooth; this is what the man wrote for the committed sin; he wrote sin for sin, a sin erased by another sin, and I saw that this had no power for the man's salvation from immorality. The law proves out the sin, as for this sin the sinful man brings an atonement sacrifice and his sin is found out. I came on the earth and I died as a sacrifice on the cross; I shed My blood for the man's sin, and the man boasts about it and lies idle in his sins, as he says that I shed My blood for his sin. What a shame! Sons, I did shed My blood for the one that takes advantage of this sacrifice, for the one who lets himself be lighted by My light from Me, and not for the man that sins on account of My sacrifice.

Israel My people, do no longer stay into the night! Be the son of the day, as during the night one sleeps, and the day is awakening. I am your day, and you should be My son. I am the light and you should be My son. Have mercy upon Me and sin no more, as I am always the slaughtered and bloody Lamb for your sin. What shall you answer because of so much slaughter, man? At least, you, My people, should be righteous before Me; be awake before Me. The darkness is in the world, night and deep, and My Spirit hovers. Son, give order so that there may be light and the dark to be separated from the light; so that I may work at your word, at your faith, as the word was from the beginning in the work of creation. Be careful, as you set yourself to work, but first tell it to yourself what you are to do about and fulfill it afterwards. Do not do it without whispering it to yourself! Tell God to make the light, as God works a new creation at your word. Speak so that My kingdom may be done on earth as in heaven. I feel like getting angry on you as you stay without work for the Holy Spirit. During the day you work for the kingdom of your body and during the night you rest into your kingdom but your flesh is useless. The Spirit is the One that gives life. I feel like getting angry with you, as you do not want to work like Me. I have worked like you, because you said so, and I listened to you. And why do you not do likewise; to listen to Me and to work like Me too? On the first day I said, «Let there be light», and there was light from the Light in the beginning. And in the end, I did the same as on the first day; I was raised to life through the light, on the first day. Oh, I wait for the first day to come upon you son, the first day from the beginning upon you in the end too, to be light from the Light, son from Israel. Then I wrote the history of Israel; I also wrote, son, your history now. Do not make Me ashamed before the angels! Let yourself be flooded by light, as the mystery of the light is great, and everything will rise towards immorality, as all were made by word in the beginning. The earth will give from it everything it has waiting in it. As in the beginning the earth got out of it living beings, the same way it will get out of it in the end, as all the bodies have been waiting the new birth of the world.

There is no man to do justice and judgment; there is not a single one, as all have strayed and became unworthy, and I, the Lord, reached to be their reproach. Behold, who is to judge; who is to correct the one that went wrong, the guilty one? Who? Behold who: the one who loves the Lord, the one that does not kill, the one that does not commit adultery, the one that does not steal and does not lie and is not greedy; that you shall make justice and judgment. Amen.

Israel, do your best to get the new age, where there shall be no more death, son! You have seen those three clean young men that they did not burn into the fire of the oven, and the unfaithful marveled at it. You should be like them, son from Israel, and not burn, but be like them, so that you may not burn, as the new age is coming into sight and it will receive its sons. Amen.

John was testifying about the Light. Do the same Israel; you should do what John did. John testified about the beginning, and you should do the same. John crucified his body and you should do the same, and love My justice, not yours, son, as it is written: «Righteousness and its sons will dwell in a new earth and a new heaven».

In the beginning God made the light; He made the light on the first day. Let the first day include you into its mystery, Jerusalem. Receive light, receive light, Jerusalem, as My glory stays open above you, and the first light wants to come over you! Come son, as I call you to come, and call He too, as it is written: «Come, Lord Jesus!». Call Me, as I come by day, and I will clothe everything into the light.

Turn into an infant, Jerusalem, so that you may enter into the new age. Come, son, to immortality, as the light will prove out its sons. Come son from above, and do not come from below. Come, Jerusalem, into My kingdom, as My glory has risen upon you! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the holy Three Hierarchs, the saints Basil, Gregory and John

At the beginning and in the end of the mystery of the word, the three saint hierarchs work in the middle of the people of the word. Holiness means godly nature in the body.

I have come above the manger of My word. I have come to you to tell you something, sons from the manger; something beautiful, something of great value for Me and for you, and here is what I have to tell you: Peace to you, sons! Peace in you, peace in your hearts and your thoughts! That is why I have come. Let the peace seize and enshroud you and to see Myself smiling in you, little children. The little children smile; the little children are full of peace and fearless. Let the smile of the Holy Spirit dwell on your faces and into your hearts, the smile of the heavenly behavior, and this is how you are to remain until I appear among you. Stay now this way, sons, so that you may stay the same then too.

Peace from heaven, sons! This is My gift of today, as today you have with you here the three hierarchs that have worked from the beginning, having been sent from heaven upon My work. Where has been heard of such work, such an anointment from heaven on earth? And what they had to do, they also did at the beginning of this work, and they did it in the end too, that is now. They came from heaven in the beginning and in the end and brought Me from heaven in a bowl and gave Me to Verginica from the bowl brought from heaven; and their anointment remained upon My work, a bishop anointment, sons, an anointment above nature. That is why the anointment came down upon these three sons anointed by heaven into My garden of sons, into My little garden from the end.

You shall not forget, sons, celebrated by heaven on this day; you shall not forget that your anointment is from heaven, brought by hierarchs from heaven; not by hierarchs from the earth. Sons, be like the flowers, which rejoice on the plain before the Lord, under the Lord's shelter. Do not let yourselves be grieved, sons. The grief is against the Holy Spirit. I have come to you to sit at the table with you; I have come with My bishops, with your bishops and Verginica's bishops. Do you see what a gift I gave Verginica<sup>81</sup> after her feast of forty days? I gave her My Body and My Blood, worked in heaven by the bishops that came from the earth. Do you see what a gift I gave to you? Do you see what a gift I lowered upon this garden? I put upon it the anointment from the heavenly bishops, sons. The three hierarchs put an anointment upon you and broke from the tree of life and put it in the midst of the people. But here what news I bring to you: My people has to be prepared. Do not get angry because you go through hard lessons, as look, we will receive these lessons and we will have to work with them upon My people, as I want to make out of My people a big family of saints and sanctified people.

What does saint mean? It means clean. Holiness means heavenly cleanness in man, a godly nature in men; this is what saint means. He, who looks at a holy man and is not clean, and thinks with an unclean thought of a saint, one like that cannot blame the saint in his thought; he cannot blame the saint before the Lord, as it is written: «Blessed is the man whose sin God does not take into account», the accused sin. Oh, sons, blessed is the man whose sin the Lord will not take into account, as he is written down as a saint.

Look sons; we should have no fear to go to My people and teach him a lesson to put him on the way of holiness. Our people does not know what holiness is. But here is what I tell you; blessed are those whose transgressions were forgiven and whose sins are covered. I have an anointment of bishops upon you and I want to melt down the sins of My people under your hand. Do you really know that these bishops are all the time with you? They have come down into the work with you, so that it may be power for the remission of My people and of the nature from creation, both in heaven and on earth.

We go to the sheepfold, My little shepherds. We go to teach the sheep not to look through the thistles anymore and that he sheep may know what a thistle is. Let us lead the sheep to a clean grass, to a pasture without thorns, so that the mouth may not take thorns; that they may not take thorns either by mouth, or by thought, or by mind, or by hearth, and that the sheep may be humble, that is to have clean thoughts and clean views toward the little shepherds. Let us teach the sheep what this cleanness means, as I have also taught them, but it needs perseverance; you also have to work with Me and like Me and to understand the signals, sons, and to set to work as the signals indicate you. Do not be tolerant to your sinful mind of the Christian, and this is how you should start the work. You should have a foundation in your work, and here is the foundation: the sin and the mistake do not come into the man until the man does not agree with it; until the man does not work his way to the sin. Let this be the only one justice that you are to give to the one who does not have holiness in his body. We go to teach the people the lesson of God's love; to teach it to love God from all his heart, and to love one another in the name of the Lord and in cleanness. We go to teach the sons what it means to be bold with God.

Oh, My people does not wake up well until it has a clean prayer. We will gather the people together; we will work with heavenly powers, with heavenly bishops and with an anointment of heavenly bishops, as they work through your tents. The bishops serve the Lord into the church. You are their threefold church, and they come into you to anoint you with the chrism of power, so that you may heal the people and to put it in a spirit of cleanness. I have industrious sons within you, and let us get up to do what we have to do. That is why I have the course of My work come down upon you, to work out the reconciliation, the absolution and the sanctification of the creature. Remain in Verginica. She was a heavenly dwelling and I put the anointment of Melchizedek in her, and I passed with this anointment through her, and behold, this anointment upon her has carried forth fruit, and you are the fruit, My bishops anointed by heaven and not by earth. And there is still a little time and I will come to you with a cluster of trees to plant them, sons; trees and a new vineyard, a vineyard with a good wine, but we have to sanctify the people and to clean it of its fleshly nature, of the things from the world and of the hostile things.

Woe to the one who comes before Me to get into My vineyard, into My people! Woe to the one who comes from outside and says that he comes into My name! If he comes into My name, he should stay under modeling; and he should remain into obedience and he should not spoil My house and vineyard or take My authority, as I am the Master and the servant upon this vineyard. I can be Master and servant. He, who cannot be master and servant, that one does not stay into My name, but rather he stays into his name. We have to mend the road of My people to Me and the road of My people to you. We have to prepare the people.

And behold, sons, this work of God's word spreading is blessed. We open the seals of the book, as I will have everything, sons. I am the treasurer and I will be able to help you. Do not doubt. You should want to fulfill this prophecy. I have prophesied many times during My time with Verginica, and I said that I will take out this scroll and I will read My prophecy. Look who is helping Me. I help Myself with you, and what I prophesied will be fulfilled.

Sons, heal yourselves of pains and weaknesses, as I let the healing come down upon you. Receive the healing and work My book out, the book of today's time, the book of this work, as this prophecy is being fulfilled, and from now on, all that are written into this book will be fulfilled; and behold, the sons know what their Father does.

Oh, it hurts Me deeply of the people that were written into this book, and that forsook this book; however, the people is written into the book, sons. I am frightened and I do not know what to say anymore. This is what I say; that it hurts Me of the one that was born by this work and has a birth certificate written down into this book, and he, like an unfaithful one, died before the opening of the book. And behold, the book will speak, but let us also take this speech easy until we are to proclaim the whole book. Now we proclaim from it the things for resurrection and after that we will sit in counsel and will take out from the book again.

I gather My people together to tell it too what I do. Why did My people not believe? Why has it not believed until the end? My people is written into the book and even now it rises in revolt.

May the opening of this book be blessed as it is written: «And another book was opened». Blessed is the one who reads and he, who listens to the word of this prophecy and the one who obeys those that are written into this book, as the time is here; it is near. That is why I want to prepare My bride; for you are My bride, My people. We have to fulfill the Scriptures, son, and that is why I came to you; to fulfill them with you, with you near Me, and with Me near you.

I give you peace at the beginning and in the end. Peace to you! Peace and supper to you with those from heaven, with the hierarchs of this ending work! Let Me be with peace among you! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God for Romania

I have descended upon My manger; I have descended with a seat of angels. I put My seal again upon Israel, in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. This is the seal and the sign through which, I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, come down and work upon Israel, which turns forty years; forty years of food by the word of this work.

Peace to you, watchmen of the manger where My word comes down! Here is what I do: I build Myself as a word before you, My people. I build Myself into My garden and I become word. I create Myself and I call Myself the Word of God, (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) and the word remains on your table, in your heart and in My book from Israel, in My history of word during this time. My word remains with you, Israel, and you should fulfill it, son, as there is no one to fulfill My word on the earth. My word was built by the prophets as they wrote My word, and I fulfilled it. Well sons, My word was through Verginica, and you listened to it, My people; you have listened to it for such a long time, as I have built Myself before you by the word.

Jerusalem, people of Israel, I have been with you for forty years, and I have sent a voice of trumpet upon you to gather you together now at the great celebration, as I, the Lord, open the seals of the book, and I will celebrate this book, which is called the Word of God. But you have no more time to learn from this book, and that is why I have come before you. I take the sons of My garden and I come down with them into your way, at the lap of the mountain, as you are My mountain, and you have peak and you have laps. You have no more time to learn to do the things from the book. The time of learning has been until now. Now it is a celebration of passing. You have to fulfill this book, again and again, and that is why I have come down now. I have come down to speak a word to you. And what kind of a word? A word to be fulfilled! Be careful, as Moses fasted forty days to speak to Me and then to sanctify himself and to remain into Me. Elijah fasted forty days to speak with Me and to take him up by a heavenly chariot and heavenly horses. Son, Verginica fasted forty days and then I descended in her and I made her the spring of the river of life, and you drank from this river. I am the river of life, and I sprang from Verginica into your way, as I turned her into a rock and a rock foundation, and I came and touched it with My staff, and the spring of the river of life gushed out of it, and you drank Israel from the river of life. If you have not known by now what you drank from this rock, behold, I tell you today what you drank from. You drank from the river of life, the river that the Scriptures write about. And how comes that? I came down and I overcome the world from you, and I overcome the unbelief from you, and I pointed with My hand and I showed you My spring and I gave it you to drink from and come to live; and to give you a way of heaven under your feet, son. I stayed with the little path toward heaven into your way, and I have always showed it to you, and I have always exhorted you toward heaven. The river was flowing to you, as I turned Verginica into a riverbed. Oh, what I have not made of her to stay before you! In the time of Moses I was working under cover. I was covered by a cloud of mist or by air, and Moses listened to My voice and then he was telling My word to the people; and I worked then as the man was. During the time of Elijah I worked likewise and I hid Myself into the wind and I spoke with Elijah. I spoke with the prophets likewise too! With Abraham, Isaac and Jacob I worked the same. Behold, Israel, how many sons of faith! And you have been written today and chosen to hear My voice and My voice upon you, and now I put the book into your arms, as if I has been to fragment it until now, you would have not been My people now, because the time and its sons would have been broken you into pieces, but I gave order that the seals of the book might be open; however, I am worthy to take it and open these seals. I said shortly before: „Woe to him who dies before the opening of the book!” And here is why I have come. I have come to tell you to rise well, well, Israel, before opening of the book, and to be great in holiness from now on, and to be good from now on; as good as you have never been, as My book from your time is being opened. Be careful My people, as it is not a joke, and from now on it is about to rise. Rise, rise, Jerusalem, as God’s glory comes and covers you! Rise and rejoice over resurrection, and let the death no longer be in you from now on, as he, who causes death in you from now on, will be more pitiful than any other sinner.

Call out the trumpet upon you and prepare yourself by fasting forty days, and we will welcome the feast of the opening of the book, of the opening of the seals of the book, and you are written into this book and are called Israel, the Lord’s people. Let the watchmen come; let your centurions come before you and bring My word to fulfill and to remain forever in the heavenly holiness on the earth and in the spirit of your body, as your body will be seen as My temple in the time that is still left, and the man, who will seek for repentance and salvation, will follow you.

Son, My people, you should fast for forty days; you should no longer give yourself up to food for forty days. I will give you great power, son, My people. I will give you heavenly satiety<sup>82</sup>, Israel, My loved son. Eat bread after the day is passed. Eat wheat son, as Ruth did, the daughter of Moab, who found mercy in Israel picking up wheatears after the reapers. Ruth was a relative to Abraham’s family, and I added her to Israel and I counted her into the number of My ancestors after the flesh. Behold what feasting does; as it led this daughter to the God of Israel. The man, who eats wheat, becomes god in spirit and body, as the mystery of the wheatear is as great as from here to heaven, son, My people; there is a great power in man. I trained My apostles into this mystery<sup>83</sup>, and I also want to train you, Israel of today, people of the apostles from the end. I want you to eat wheat as well, and I will give you much, much health, if you listened to Me to love this food; and I will give you a spirit of holiness, as the living wheat grain will work in you and will make Me grow in you; and you will love Me with much grace and much love. I come to prepare you well and to teach you to eat the seed of wheat and the seed of oil, milk and honey (Spirituals, r.n.) from those that I grew up for the saint on the earth. I come and build Myself by the word before you and I give you teaching of wisdom of an endless life, as you are to pass a bridge with Me, so that you may not remain and taste from the end of the world too. Behold, the world remains on the earth and will serve antichrist, but I will be with you, and I will sanctify your body and mind and I will bless your bread and water and your seed of wheat and oil, and I will bless your clean fruit, clean food from earth and blessed by Me. Fasting is useful only to those that love to fast. During the time of the clean fasting the devils do no longer have the courage upon you, but the angels take delight in those that fast. During the fasting all prides, claims and rope that is hidden in the man must disappear, but the man of the world of today does not know the point and the power of fasting. The fasting heals the man and feeds him spiritually. All the body of the man goes to healing by fasting. The man does not believe that all the sickness of the body and of the soul comes by food and from the belly with food. The man does no longer believe so. The man says that he has no vitamins if he does not eat; this is what the man of the sciences says. Oh, and he is right, but he does not know how to get them. Oh, if the man kills the food (Boil or fry food, r.n.) and only after that eats it, and if he does this with all the life from food, where should the food get life and strength from? The food fleshly work, and fasting is spiritual work, sons. The prophets had their fasting in their life, and that is why the Holy Spirit was speaking upon them. Who, Israel, shall believe any longer that My voice with you is the Holy Spirit upon you? You, My people, had a tradition for fasting and food, for living and consecration. You are blessed if you listened to Me! Behold, if you did not listened to Me in everything, from now on listen to Me My people; listen to Me in everything up to the bridge and then you will see why you have listened to Me.

I will tell it to the world that there is God. You will see what I am about to tell the world that God is and how is He. Settle down, Israel, My bride, as the world will see that you have a Bridegroom and that you loved your Bridegroom. The Bridegroom of the world is sin, but the Bridegroom of the Christian is the Lord, Jesus Christ. My people, you are My bride, son. You should be a clean bride, son, and My people, as woe to the one who will be put on the left when we will step on the bridge, when we pass through the little door of happiness! Clean yourself well, Israel, and clean your feelings, and feel Me with them, as I am close to you, and you love Me with them, so that you may not remain without Me, son and My bride. I am without sin and I want My bride to be the same, as I took you out of the world to make you worthy of Me, My people and My bride. I took you from the Romanian people and I want to make from the Romanian people wedding guests at My wedding with you, Israel, loved bride by God.

Oh, Romanian, Romanian Christian, remember Me, Romanian, My chosen people! Oh, perhaps that some ugly word enchanted you and you took it over on your tongue and it seemed sweet to you and you ate it and you clothed by the fruit of this word! Perhaps it came to you that stranger and whispered into your ear this word: civilization. There is no such a word with Me, and this word was not in the book of your language either. But this word is paganism. Nothing of this word with a hidden face is from God. And who saves you now from this sweetness anymore? Oh, here is what happened to you, Romanian, as the flies are attracted by this sweetness and they eat from you and leave you deprived of Me. Behold what a word, what a language foreign to Me: civilization! Romanian, you should serve God, Romanian, My people, as you have anointment from your beginning, Romanian Christian; you have My sign on you, and this sign is: in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. You should not serve your body, as you commit sin in your body if you serve this way. You should serve the Spirit of God with your mind, as you give forth heaven, holiness and true life by your spirit. Oh, Romanian people, you got civilized and have departed from God. I gave you birth from the Holy Spirit at My birth from the Virgin. I was born a baby and you were born a people in one day, on the day of My word that was proclaimed upon you, Romanian and Christian country! Oh, do you know what Romanian means? You do not know what this word, Romanian, means. In what language shall I speak to you, so that you may understand Me as at your beginning, Romanian, My people? Oh, you got into your box, (Residential buildings, r.n.) Christian, and you no longer have a courtyard and grass, trees and wood, glade and honey little houses, hoe and harrow, and you are no longer Romanian. You are German, as you went after the German feasts. You are French as you put on a French coat. You are Englishman as you confused your very sweet language. You are Turk as you did as Israel did, which mixed up with them in one body on their way. You are American because you forgot your age, which is as old as Mine, and you forgot your ancestors that you have under your lineage. You are American as though you no longer have forefathers and ancestral beauty. You forgot your grandfathers, Romanian people. Oh, Romanian, why do you no longer speak Romanian, son of Mine and of your grandfathers? You do no longer speak beautifully, and behold, I speak Romanian, as the Romanian language is beautiful on earth and in heaven. Your language is no longer beautiful today. You have confused it by loan words from the people foreign to your language, and it was not nice what you have done. Oh, where is your Christian language? I have let you know about the kingdom of the heavens since your birth, and I have dressed you in white cloth of baptism and I have taught you the prayer „Our Father”, and I have sent you the heavenly language, the language of the Gospel of the kingdom of heavens on your land. I have sent you a clean son, born of Me, (Apostle Andrew, the first called to the apostleship, r.n.) to make you a bride for Me, Romanian people, and he brought you a robe woven of water, spirit and blood, and I gave you a new name and I called you Romanian. My Holy Spirit called you by a new name, Christian country, as My godfather gave Me the name Jesus Christ. This is how God gave you the name of Romanian at your baptism. And this is how all the nations have been blessed into the name of Abraham by the name of Israel; the same is now, Israel of today; all the nations will be blessed into your new name that you have got from Me two thousand years, as every man, who dresses with the little robe of the Christian, will be called Romanian.

Oh, I come to call you. Your beginning and My first love for you is calling you, as I pronounce the sentence of the sin and the Gospel of the creature’s resurrection into your language, and you, Romanian, have hated your own language, My Gospel, and you have taken in it from other nations that do not have your anointment. It is only you that you have had the anointment even since your swaddles; only you among the peoples of the time; only you, Romania, the land of My coming back. That is why I gave you birth and I have prepared you, both at your beginning and in your end, and why have you forgotten your language and your Gospel? Why? Oh, this is immorality. You have done as the pagan nations did? You have made factories of smoke and enterprises of death, to prepare the death of your body, and the small man in you does not know what you do upon him. You became a master over the man, Romanian, My people, but I made the man to be free and not the man’s slave. You have also learned the pagan way and science, and it has not led you to the good, and rather it has led you to lie and death. But I come to set you free. You are My chosen people; you are the man born from above at My birth and yours, as Father gave us both birth at the same time, Bridegroom and bride from heaven, from water, spirit and blood.

I set over you kings and waivodes, brave and full of My Spirit, and when you went wrong I would punish you by My tool. I would punish you according to your staying with Me and I would comfort you according to your faithfulness, so that I may not lose you from My arms, and that I may not remain with empty hands without bride. Oh, you have stripped of Me and I forsook you. I stay hidden from your face and I wait for the moment of your redemption. Wake up, I call you! Do you hear My voice? Get up and go after the one that is sold and expelled, as your anointment is on his head. (The King Michael, r.n.). When he was exiled by you, (By the Communist regime that came with Russian tanks, r.n.) I gave him all your anointment and he left with it on his forehead and not a wicked one lost the one of yours that wonders away.

Oh, Romanian people, your voivode is crying in the middle of Egypt; (Exile, r.n.) your king is crying, Romanian; he cries and blesses you always crying, so that you may not perish; he cries and prays with all of his heart, as David, My anointed one did, when he wrote his prayers on earth. Your king is crying, Romanian, as he was taken away his house and his country and his kindred, and no one really wants him from among those that struggle for him, as they do not do My will on earth, and he will overcome by My will against the man who is against God; he will overcome by My sanctified people, and your king will come to Me and to you, My Romanian people. Oh, he was thrown away from his place, and since then it has not been going well with you, as you removed the small one far away to be eaten by the beasts. You did like Joseph's brothers, who casted the little one away, and since then you have been a slave, as Israel had been as slave in Babylon.

Oh, Romanian, Romanian, are you really a people with a wicked soul? You are not with a wicked soul, but why did you cast away the one that I gave birth for you? Who taught you to do so? I punished and I still punish those that took you out from the man with a good soul to a man with a ruthless soul. Oh, it is not allowed for a brother to kill his brother, Romanian Israel. God does not allow you to destroy and murder. I forgave you and I will refresh you with the Holy Spirit, but wash away of this outrageous sin, as I wrote in My commandments that you should not kill, that you should not give false testimony against your neighbor, and that you should not covet your neighbor's house. I did not tell you to cut your head off, and why did you do it? You cut your head off and put something else in its place. (The communist dictatorship, r.n.) I did not tell you to cast away your anointed and why did you do it? And where is the anointed of this people? Oh, I have protected him as he cried out to Me for him and for you. I have never had a people without a shepherd and a shepherd without a people.

Wash your sin away, Romanian, and repent as by your deeds you prove that you are the son and the daughter of those who agreed to the evil deed by which My anointed ones from you may be killed and casted away. Behold, I come and breathe upon you with My word. Take on you the holy garments, Romanian, My people. Where is your costume of Romanian, Christian? Oh, you are a pagan people according to your costume. Your grandfathers look for you to see you, to know you among those from the earth, and they do not see you. The whole heaven bears the name of the Romanian on their lips and in their singing. The whole heaven and all the angels sing the song of the Romanian crown. Only the Romanian is no longer shown to be seen by his grandfathers. Romanian, where is your Romanian shirt? Seek well to find your little shirt, Romanian son, as I open the book and you will see where the world, pagan in image and in its costume, goes. Receive My image, the image of your grandfathers, but you should not hide yourself under My image to tell Me that you are Christian and you are not Christian.

Oh, you do not know what I have prepared for you, Romanian. I have in you a little and tiny people. I have taken it out of you and I have brought it under the ray of My word, and I have grown it up in spirit and word; moreover, I have kept it hidden from Herods and Judases, and I have gone through it through the wilderness of disbelief, (From under the dictatorship of the communist „read beast”, r.n.); and I take it over and put it into the lamp stand to give you light and for you to take after its life and to make out of it a model of life without death upon you. Oh, Romanian son, how little you are! Why are you so little, so spiritless? Oh, the sin is not good. It has separated you from Me; it is not good. It has separated you from cleanness and united you with the immorality, Romanian son.

My word comes on the wind; it comes with the wind; it comes with Me to you in the still breeze, Romanian, My people. It comes in a gentle breeze, as it went to Abraham, to Moses, to Elijah. I speak otherwise with the pagan world. I speak by deeds with the pagan world. I proclaimed and I still proclaim today by the prophets. I proclaim plagues over the pagan world, and the word becomes deed. I speak to the world by thunders, but thunderbolts, by flood, by earthquakes, by fire, by a bad slap, by lack of wisdom upon the world.

Oh, Romanian people, I have nothing to do with the people with schools; I have no work for them. The school is holiness, and those that are learned from the earth do not have the training of holiness and its work. I can do nothing with those that have schools; I cannot. I can teach them nothing but about Saul who had education and persecuted Me because of his so much learning, and after that I appointed him to preach Me to those of other nations and I humbled him becoming Myself a victor in him. This is how I overcame Saul, the one that was educated on earth. I have nothing to do with those that are proud, with those that are haughty in their mind. I need a poor man in his spirit. The one that is haughty is a god to himself. I have nothing to do with the haughty one. I have nothing to do with the one that is dyed, with the one that is made-up, as dying is a dirty thing that covers the wickedness, the ugliness and the lying, so that they may not be seen. Make-up is a dyed countenance to cover the ugly face. I stay hidden from your face and wait the moment of your redemption, Romanian, My Christian. Wake up! Do you hear My voice?

Wash your sin away Romania, and repent! I am ready to forgive your sin!

I have in you a man that is anointed by Me, a man in My plan from over you. I made a wonderful thing in you and I brought you a little white stone, and I want to write your name on it, and I want you to know My spring. I have in you a little white and holy stone with many eyes in you, and I have the seven godly spirits written on it, and on its top is written: The Word of God. And I have had during this time a witness at the rock of this spring, to give you a rock of spring, Romanian people. I took this witness and I commanded him to strike with the staff into this rock, so that the river of life might spring out before you, My people, Christian Romanian. I have a son that is anointed by My word of nowadays from the sons of the church of the world. (Bishop Irineu-Bistrițeanul, r.n.)

Oh, My Peter of today, the one that put My church on the rock by your testimony! Oh, Irineu, a word of peace over the church, My Peter of today, I thank you because you came on the water to Me, but you doubted on your way to Me. But I will strengthen the water under your feet and you will not sink. I thank you that you helped Me to raise My church on its first stone, on its first deed. Peace to you! Your name means peace. Peace to you, My anointed one of today! I thank you son; I thank you with all the heaven, with My twelve apostles, who laid down the foundation stone for My church; I thank you that you listened to the courage that I gave you, and raised My church to its place, so that I may put it into the lamp stand. My church from the beginning was ruined as there was no one to put it back on the stone. I thank you and I call you My blessed one.

I call you too blessed for your purpose from Me. Behold, some have spoiled the church, and others have built it back. When I could, I made of you a hand stretched out to the church of the world. I anointed you and I put you on the throne of the church and I made of you a hand stretched out to the church of the world. When I could, I made room for Myself. I can no longer stretch the hand out to the church of the world that has departed from Me. I am ashamed with it before My Father. It is full of sodomy, masturbation, fornication, belly and lawlessness. Only the belly and the lawlessness were left out of it. Look, I will give it something more; I give it the book of My word of today, My seat of judgment and I ask her: why did you leave Me? Why did she let herself be bought by the spirit foreign to Me?

Son anointed by Me within this time; anointed by God's word! I do not write to you staggering. My enemies and yours rejoice in vain over you. I do not appoint you staggering, as the man of the worldly church has taken away My spring from you and has taken away your steps. If you tell Me now that you do no longer believe the work of My word, I do not write you denial, but I write it to those that love to hear you saying that you deny the work of My word. Your heart does not resemble their heart. You do not have any room as you are among the people. The people do not know what God is, but you know from Me what God is and what life is, life without death. Oh, only if the man of the church knew from Me what God is and what life without death is! Life without death is holiness in body, in mind and in soul; it is a life of eternal Eden in the body. This means life without death. The man, who loves his life, listens to the word of God, believes it and fulfills it. I would like son, to reconcile Romania to Me, Son of God. I would like Romania to come to repentance and to make out a birth certificate from above, from water, spirit and blood; an agreement of reconciliation to God. I would like My Romania to know and to believe that you are My anointed and you are My word upon it. Oh, what a beautiful salvation I wanted and want to do through you upon My Romania, My chosen people! I do not tell you any more «Get up and come!», as you are a slave and you cannot, but I tell you to stay with Me, with Me into you, until I will give you back the path to My spring. I thank you for your work with My word, as I reached out My hand, so that the one who wanders away without Me may get up out of his downfall. I thank you son for the sufferance of your spirit, inflicted by those that are not faithful to My word. I thank you seventy times seven, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. And I will work with the whole heaven over Romania, My chosen people, and every Christian will be called Romanian, as I have My sign in the Romanian people; I have the people of My word, the mountain of My Zion, and all the nations will receive My law from this mountain, from My Siloam of today, and I will baptize the one who believes, in the healing water of the new Siloam, in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. I will baptize some by the water of the Holy Spirit, and others by the fire of the Holy Spirit. I will work by water and fire upon the wheat and chaff and I will strengthen My work and I will undo its scroll. The heaven is waiting for the unfolding of the scroll of book.

Romanian, Christian Romanian, take your Romanian costume on you! Take, Romanian son, your baptismal garment on you and stand before Me, as I come to you, Romanian people and I will raise from you a people of apostles of God's word! Amen, amen, amen.

My watchmen, I stay a little longer above My manger. I still remain with My Israel; I stay a little longer. I still have a little word upon Israel.

Israel, what are you doing, son? Oh, I have always cried because you did not want to read the Scripture, and I have always told you to read it, and I have always asked your rulers to teach you the lesson of the Scripture. If you had read the Scripture you would have seen what sin was and you would have no longer done it. You are ungrateful concerning the Scripture and you will not be able to tell Me that you have not got the Scripture. Behold, My book of today is one with the Scripture. That is why I have come with this work, as you did not want to read it and to understand the Scripture. In the Scripture it is written well about the sin and about the reward of the sin. There is also written that the repentance is the end of the sin, but not only for a while. Did you know that it is written so in the Scripture? I knew that I needed you to be holy, and that is why I asked you to read the Scripture and to stay with Me in a spirit of repentance.

The sinful woman was not convicted by anyone, and I also told her: «Neither do I condemn you. Go your way. From now on, sin no more». This is what you also had to do when you came to Me to forgive you. You should sin no longer then, Israel. I did not condemn you, but you should have not sinned any longer afterwards. He, who came to Me, came not to sin anymore, but you have sinned after that and have committed shameful deeds before the heaven, as you were to destroy all My work, if I was not working as in heaven with justice. It is otherwise with Me. To be Mine means not to sin anymore; not to live within the lusts and fleshly desires; this means to be Mine. Otherwise you belong to the flesh. Behold, you have reasons for crying and I will wash your garment with your tears, son. Yah! As you do not cry. You should cry and get up in the last hour, son. I see today that you still have a shameful lust in your mind. Saint Martinian threw himself into the fire to cast the body of the shameful lust away from him. And what do you do? You confess that you have a shameful lust. I come and tell you to clean yourself through tears and heavenly love and not by fleshly love and shameful folly. Oh, why do you not want to die? Behold, you have not died by now and you have not crucified yourself by now. I told you son, to die, and you did not listen to Me, as if you had listened to Me, you would have died long ago, and now you would have been alive. Son, the sin is committed by sense, by mind, Israel. Receive Me into your mind and talk with Me in your prayer and counsel. You say that you have fear of God, but you do not know what it means to have fear of God; you do not know. If you have no fear, you have no restraining from the evil things. And if you do so, rather stay at home and do no longer go to the Christians, as there is no more time to go astray by the shameful lust. Oh, I am sorry that you did not sanctify your mind, your heart and your love, as if you had done this, now you would have been the healer. I forgave the thief on the cross in the moment when he repented of his wicked deeds and believed in Me, and I gave him the heaven for his repentance. But you, My people, you have known Me for a long time and you had a long time to repent. Repentance means to sin no more, to deny of your own self and follow Me in a conduct of clean and holy cross, not of a dirty cross son.

Well, My apostles, My workers, gather the flock of Israel together and cleanse it of its sins by now. Stand as witnesses, My watchmen from the garden of My word. You, the three sons anointed in My garden, stand as witnesses during this time when the people will gather together, and I will declare upon it a spirit of repentance, remission of sins and reconciliation to God, as behold sons, we have forty days of clothing with holiness. Tell the people of Israel no to sin anymore by sense and mind. I will put one like that away from Me, if he still eats the dirty things that defile My place of Christian. That one will remain a man without spirit, and I will deform him to show him to you. I want Israel to be holy. If he had not been holy by now as God asked, let My people be holy in his mind, in his heart, in his love and in his body. He, who does not want, he cannot. He, who wants, I will help him and I will have mercy on him by helping him with angels and saints.

Sons, do not trust children. Do not let the children set My work on fire. Do the work of a watchman, as I am full of swellings from your children. Oh, that the Christian did not want to believe that the school of the world kills the sons of My people! But he, who loves Me, is not overcome by the sin. Why is he not? Because he loves Me, because he does not want to take Me out of him.

Oh, sons, do not cast Me away from you. The end of the world is coming. I will not be able to protect you from the end if you are not clean for Me. The Scripture, which says: «One will be taken and the other will be left» does not lie. Be awake and attentive to these words.

The servant who helps Me to do the work of repentance upon My people, and the sons of My garden will stand as witnesses in that moment, and after that you should no longer sin in your bodies, sons. Receive with love the lesson of the fast, and work out the time of the fast with great joy; moreover, work with the prayer full of hope. We will meet together after the time of the fasting and we will open the seals of the book and I will have the Holy Spirit come down upon My people. There will come a clean people; clean, and weak in its flesh and body. Let these not go astray when they come, as woe to you if error is to come from you. Receive My lesson, and may your holy food of the fasting be blessed! Let your fasting be accompanied by spiritual praises, by holy services and by prayers of reconciliation to God. I ask the servant who helps Me with the people to make prayers with the people: to get together now and again in the place where I come together with My people and to bring prayers to the heaven in the midst of the people. Let them not get tired and work at My word, and not at the word of the weak people. Do no longer go to this servant, you who do not want to listen to the word of this work. You, who work otherwise or something else than My word, do no longer go! Let this be for those who obey and sanctify themselves. Oh, My servant, listen to Me, son, not to the one who makes you get out of My law given for the holiness of My people. The others, who have not come well to life, let them go to the priests of the world. And you, My watchmen, search out well the steps of My people, and keep this servant of Mine away from those with an unsteady spirit. Amen.

My people, this is the day of your rising, and from now on, do no longer sin! Sons, pull yourselves together! You are at the end of the battle line. Choose the holy things and take holiness on you and separation from the world and from the spirit of the world.

I sound the trumpet upon Israel. Israel, you should come together at the feast of My Passover of forty years with you, as My word into your midst has been a feast of resurrection, sanctified Jerusalem. Prepare yourself cleanly, with a little clean garment, son from Israel. Prepare psalms; and you also should prepare a song of celebration and a crown for you, son. Come together within this preparation and separate yourselves from the minds that are not pleased to God. Give Me your hearts. I will come into them and I will lead you to the bridge that will appear at the end of the path. The book is opened and this Scripture is coming into fulfillment. Let the people and its teachers come together to prepare the feasting of the opening of the book. Be a people of saints, Jerusalem, so that I may give you what I have prepared for you. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Resurrection

The consecration of the triptych located in the village Maluri, on the place of the descent of the Word, marks down forty years of the Lord into the Christian Romanian people: 1955 – 1995. The Lamb opens the seals of the book. Exhortation to Romania for a heavenly heart.

Romanian Jerusalem, New Jerusalem, the Lord meets you; the One Who was raised from the grave on the third day. Jerusalem, My people upon which I write today forty years with the heaven! Dear and loved Jerusalem, people of My word! I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, meet you with the greeting of My resurrection, as in the year 1995: Christ is risen! Christ is risen! Christ is risen!

I am the Word of God. I am the Son of God. I am, Romanian Jerusalem. I come down to you on a heavenly feast and I make you enjoy with the Christian news, the one declared two thousand years ago on the day of My resurrection from the dead: Christ is risen!

The whole heaven is coming with Me singing and celebrating, singing resurrection upon you My little people, taken out of the Romanian people to be the people of My word of this time. I am the King of the glory, the Lord, strong and mighty, and I speak the word upon you, people of the word coming down from heaven upon you. This is the day that I made for My glory with you, Romanian Israel, for your glory with Me that I prophesied long ago, son and My people. I have separated the earthly age from the spiritual age with you, people of My word and I have written with you a new beginning.

I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, came down in 1955 with the work of godly word to harvest a people, and I harvested a people and I spoke with it from heaven and I founded in him the book of My word from this time. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, have My word come down on the clouds over the manger of My word and cry out: Lift the gates up so that the King of glory may come in and speak! I have used the man by now. Now I am in glory and speak. I am clothed in word and I do not use a path. I sit by word in the clouds of glory and I let My voice upon My new earth, upon My little and new people, as I promised God, the Holy Spirit, and I said that I would send Him down after My ascension to My Father, and behold, I fulfill as I promised.

Peace to you, My people! I come to you with My word and speak from the clouds upon you. May this day of Passover be blessed; this great holy day between heaven and earth. May the opening of the seals of the book of My word be blessed, as I spoke My word into Romania, upon My people taken out of this nation! May you be blessed, My people, which I come by My word to! Peace to you and heavenly Passover of My feast with you! I have been hiding for forty years with you in time and speaking upon you, but today I have made room for you, My people, and I call you Jerusalem, and I speak with you in the middle of the crowds and I give them the book of My word. I have spoken with you from heaven on earth and I have written all My speech in a book, all My renewal. I have given you word to eat to grow up, My people. He, who has eaten, has eaten and grown up; he came to life and remained alive, and is called My people that remained alive after his birth from the word.

Come son to talk with you and to celebrate forty years of word! Come! And here, you came if I called you to come. Come son, as I call you My son! Come, My people, as I call you My son! I have been using the man for seven thousand years and I have been speaking My word through the man and I have made a godly work on earth, but now I reign and speak Myself. By now the man was, but now I am Myself and come and call out: „Lift up you gates so that the King of glory may come in!” The watchmen of the garden lift up the gates, and I come in and become word and stay into My garden.

Behold My book, which is worked out of the word! I am the book; I am the Lamb, Who opens the seals of this book and gets out of it the food of word and puts it on the table for the multitudes, as I did once. I become word, and you should know My people, that I am broken into your hand and given to the crowds to taste Me, to carry Me and to take Me in into their bellies and to grow up and be born into the heart of the man that has not heard by now of My word and of My Holy Spirit speaking on the earth. I speak with you, My people, and from now on, many crowds will know what I speak with you and what creation I give to Me by the word into your midst, Jerusalem, My people. Blessed is the one who listens to My word and opens to Me, so that I may come in and rise in the man from the end; to take him and give him birth from above and to give him a new body and a new spirit and birth from above, that is worked out by word. I have been speaking during this time of end into My godly language, and I have used the Romanian people's language, and I have raised a small people of the Romanian nation and I called it My people, My son, but I have not done this work without being written about it in the prophets.

I come soon to fulfill into a visible glory, as it is written, but first I proclaimed well the glorified coming of the Resurrected and exalted Son, as I have never worked anything upon man without proclaiming it first through the prophets. I come soon, and I will command your eyes to be opened, My loved people, and then I will reveal Myself visibly near you, and I will work upon you within a revealed glory in the eyes that were prevented from seeing the heavenly things. I come soon and I will be with you as I was with Luke and Cleopas in Emmaus, but I will not leave you anymore, and I will remain upon you and near you before the world, and the world will be baptized by the Holy Spirit of the faith and of the resurrection and of the spiritual growth, and it will be baptized by the fire of the world's lawlessness cleansing. I will baptize you by fire and by the Holy Spirit and I will take you to work, My people and son of the word. But I tell you that I have already taken you into My work and behold, I work upon you and with you over the lawlessness of the world and over the spirit of the world, to make room for the Holy Spirit and for the glory of the Spirit of the godly Trinity, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit.

I have come with a feast of the new heaven and of the new earth in the citadel of My word, as this citadel is the Bethany of this time, My loved Bethany, where I have come so many times with the heaven; I have come with the heaven and with the word; My Bethany where I wrote down the word of My speaking of this time of heavenly glory. I come with My body raised from the dead and I stay into My glory which not seen by the fleshly man. Rejoice Jerusalem, My people from the earth, as I am with the Jerusalem from above in a celebration with you! In the name of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, come, My blessed people, to be the footstool of My glory! Come as I gave you birth from heaven by the word, and many nations will know that you are the people of My word, and they will walk to find you, so that their mind, hearing, sight and heavenly love may be opened at the voice of My word. Life without God is not good. The man's life without God is not good. I miss to give form to the heaven on the earth and upon the man and in the man that is created after God's image and likeness.

Oh, where are you, where are you, My image? Even Lucifer had not made so many sins as man did; he, who was created after God's model. The man rose above God and God's throne in the man created after godly counsel was torn down. The man is no longer man, but he is something else.

Oh, where are you My creature? Where are your image and your likeness from God? I walk and seek the man created by God and find him no more.

My people! Where is the man made by Me? I want to make him out again, but where is the man? The man pulled himself out from the hand of his Creator and received another use and became subjected to death. He pulled himself out from the life and was subjected to death.

Man, where are you? Death is no good. Come back! Come back to your first Creator! I will let Myself be seen by your eyes. Man, come back to Me!

Man worked out by the Father, by the Spirit and by the Holy Spirit! There is little, little time, and I come again, and I will make the man and I will work crying over the man's pain and compassion, and I will take the man out from death.

Oh, you body and soul that I called man after I created you! I want you to know that I will require you back and I will make out the man again. I will make out the man from the man who deformed his image<sup>84</sup> and his likeness from God.

I told Noah<sup>85</sup> to make a house for himself, and Noah made his house at My commandment and floated on waters, and I started from the beginning to make the man and I worked upon Noah's house.

Man, your first Creator seeks you to make you out again. I seek much, I seek sobbingly; I seek and seek again to find the man created by Me and I will carry him into My bosom and I will clean the lawlessness and I will put the man carried into My bosom, I will put him on a new earth, and I will reign with him, and I will make a house by him and I will dine with him and I will reveal Myself to him.

My people carried by My bosom, you should cry of My pain and stay into My hand and be My tool, as I want to redeem My lost work and to finish with the spirit of the death, as here, I call out My creature that I named it man. I made out of the clay a creature into the image and after the likeness of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, and I called this creature man, to be a work useful to his Creator.

Man, I am your first Creator. The one that you serve urged you to change your image and love and estranged you from Me, so that you may no longer drink from the spring that you are taken from.

Man, I miss you! The evil spirit, My enemy and yours, boasts before Me; he boasts about My work. I gave you image from My image and you do not love Me, man, and you do not follow Me to be alive. My enemy is not your father and you love him, and you have borrowed an image foreign to Me.

Man, My work, I want to take away the death from the earth, as in heaven so on earth. I want to give you what you lost. I want to give you the place that you fell down from. I want to redeem you, son. My Father sent Me two thousand years ago to become flesh, and I chose a little handful of people, a little handful of disciples, and I marked down upon the man the lesson of redemption and the opening of the door of the kingdom of the new heaven and the new earth, and I have worked with those that are few at that time, who let themselves be born of Me, the Son of God, the One that became flesh from the Virgin, and I opened wide the way of man coming back to life; however, I promised to the man that I will come with life without death. And behold, man, I had the work of My word come down into Romania in 1955, and since then I have been creating Myself and becoming word, and now I arise to work with all the heaven to fulfill the promises that had been proclaimed for forty years.

My Romanian country is a great mystery. Its body comes from My body; its years are as many as My years; its birth is at the same time with Mine. On the day of My birth, My Father kneaded the sketch of this people and of this land, blessed since My birth and its birth. My Father gave birth to a Bridegroom and a bride and prepared a wedding table and wedding feast, and behold, I take My bride from the Romanian country and I ask her hand, but I say that I have already asked her hand, as you, Jerusalem, are My bride; you are My gift from the hand of My Father; you are My love, you, Romanian country; you and your sons in you, who are given to Me by My Father, as he gave Me from Israel a handful of disciples, who I laid a new wedding table with.

Behold My wedding with you, Jerusalem, the bride given to Me by My Father, from the Romanian nation; and I will give birth to sons from sons, and they will be born from above, by the word, in the same way I worked in the beginning. You will be to Me a new wedding table, new wine and new bread, renewed by word and by heavenly anointment over time, and no one will prevail against you, My people, blessed for as long as forty years. I have been blessing you for forty years, and I have been hiding with you, little and tiny people sanctified by the Creating Word. Rejoice, son; people blessed and sanctified! I made out a heavenly wedding in this day. It is a day of new Passover, as I took you out of the Pharaoh bondage, the one without God, (From the communist dictatorship red beast, r.n.) and I gave you freedom to show up with Me, the Lord and your Master, Who has been giving you food for forty years within a heavenly mystery. I made a great miracle for you, son, as if I had not done it, Pharaoh rose up to kill you, (At the Revolution in December 1989, r.n.) son and My people. But I need your life, for I have given you as food life from My life, and I have made you grow up, so that you may be useful for the work of the redemption of the man taken from My face. You are a very little people, but My power shadows you and anoints you with power; it encloses you and presents you great, My little and tiny son, Romanian people from the Romanians!

Oh, Romania, My love, here is what I have in you. I have the people of God's word into your midst. I have been giving it My word coming with Me on the clouds as food for forty years, and I have protected it, as this time is a time for dying; it is not a time for life. Wake up for a heavenly heart, Romania called by Me by a new name; Romania, My New Jerusalem, united with Jerusalem from above, the one from the invisible glory! Wake up My love! I have a tiny kernel in you, a new seed, worked out by heaven, and I want to turn you into My field and into My holy relative. Israel crucified Me and denied Me, and My Father gave Me to you, so that you may be born of Me, from water and Spirit, to be born of the Son of God, My love. I pass with My voice through My people, through My gates and I speak upon you. I give you heavenly knowledge and you should feed on it and believe being born of it, and to pull yourself out of the hand of the enemy of the soul. I leave a book to you. Read it My love, and answer Me! Come to Me as I come to you. And even if you do not come to Me, I will come to you, as this is written. Behold, I call you to My wedding<sup>86</sup> with My bride taken out of Me. Come Romania, to be a wedding guest at My wedding with My people, who endured because of Me, with My bride prepared by Me with heavenly vestment, with heavenly ornaments. I have gone through forty years of wilderness, as in former times with Israel, and now here I am by Jordan with My bride that I remained with from the world. It is a day of new age; it is a day of new Passover. Come, Romania, at My day of Passover, as I leave an eternal Passover in you, and I start My wedding and multiply My new Passover, and I come to kiss you with My word! I pass gently by you and I comfort you with heavenly speeches and I want to wake you up from the death. Do not be afraid, but get up! Do no longer stay without Me as I remind you of your choice at your birth. The dogs and the wolves increased in you, and you were not as you are. Come My love, to a life without death, as I stay before you with My little people, which crucified his body, his will and his worldly lust, so that he may serve the Holy Spirit, and to make out of it redemption from death upon you.

Romania, you have no longer got any Samaritan in you. The priests and Levites pass by you; they pass in front and no one of them does any good to you. Romania, My Orthodoxy, do not distort your first love. Your faith in Me perishes; it perishes from you; and the man relies on the man; the man is struck by the man; the man is deceived by the man, the blind is deceived by the blind, and the Pharisee enlarges his garment and his hidden lawlessness. Behold, I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, cut off the living stump from you. It is old and it does not want to give forth fruit for Me. I cut it off and grow new offshoot out of it, with heavenly sap, as on earth is as on earth and not as in heaven. I beat down a stake of spiritual age and I started with you a new vineyard and a new people, as the old ones passed away and had no more fruit; they have no longer heavenly grafts. The old man does no longer wakes up and I make a new man and a new Passover and a new son. It is written into the Scriptures what I do, and who can stop the prophesied fulfillments?

It is a day of heavenly wedding in the citadel of My word. It is a day of new Passover. I call out the man from death to life; I call out the man to the life with God and not without God. It is My feasting with My people, a feast of passing, a feast of new heaven and new earth. It is a holy feast of New Jerusalem and I come out with My blessed people and I work with it upon Romania.

Oh, beautiful and holy people, you should sing son, from now on and up to the heavenly eternity, as I make out in you a new heaven and a new earth. I offer My hand through you to the one that fell down from heaven. Let the man, who became earth, hear; let him hear the whisper of heaven, My whisper, which passes through your midst, people of renewal and of feasting of heaven on earth, heaven and earth, united into a heavenly celebration.

Behold the book of My word. May the opening of the seals of the book be blessed, as by its word I will redeem people of all peoples, tribes, languages and nations! This book is the word of God, and I gave a heavenly commandment to be opened and My word became flesh, and I take the book and open it. May the opening of the book of My Word be blessed! Let the man take and taste of My word and grow as I have grown you up too, My people. Let the lost man find Me and take Me as a guide, and let the man receive God's image and be after His likeness.

It is My feast with My people; it is the book's feast. Let the people receive knowledge, as I will give you power sons, to multiply this food of imperishable life in the body. I am the treasurer in heaven and on the earth, but My work has its own brunt, as this is God's work; it is with sacrifice and pressure on the earth, but I will work within this work and I will overcome by it against the darkness in the man, and I will scatter the light of the Holy Spirit upon those without a heavenly heart.

The heaven waits to come with glory upon the earth. Jerusalem, My people of Romanians, stand son before Me for the man, as I want to give the man his life back; and this is how you should also want, as I work in you the redemption for the man. Let My Romania know that you are not a strayed people, as shame is cast upon you. My church strikes you as My people of my time also struck Me. The people of unbelief have given you a bad name, little people, but you are My people with an Orthodox living, as I want to be the life of My church. Priests and bishops strike you as they also struck Me, but hide your head and keep it on your shoulders and do not let you be struck, as I am your head, My loved people. Let the man look at you and understand what the Orthodoxy for living and heart means. Those that blaspheme you have no heavenly heart. Pray My people, for the man without a path, for the man who serves the body, for the servants of the church who serve their bodies and not God. Pray son, to wake up the workers in the work of My vineyard, so that the seed from the beginning of Romania may not perish. It is not Orthodoxy that one under which those that serve the body stay hidden. Orthodoxy means a right way with heavenly fulfilling on the way, with the accomplishment of godly commandments in body and in a pace of heavenly supper for life without death.

Oh My Father, it is My Passover with My people that You gave Me out of the Romanian body. Bless the gift from You, and let the power of the blessing remain upon the people of the New Jerusalem, which arises and which will grow and be holy. My Father, bless My joy and My Passover with the people that are My bride.

– Dear and loved Son, I gave You all the power in heaven and on earth, and I made You a beginning and I started a planting from You, and behold, the field from the end will be green, dear Son. We will work a new man out of man.

We will increase the light, which is called the book of the Word, and the book will speak, and the man will rise to life after the path that leads into heaven, and We will give the heaven back to the man and will establish the new heaven and the new earth upon the man. Oh, Son, let Our joy seize the small people that We remained at the table of My word with.

People of My Son, may My Son bless you into His Father; I in Him and He in Me before you, people, My light on the earth! And I will give you light as a food and you will give forth light day by day, and the Sun will lose its brightness more and more at the sight of My glory with you, and the man will look for you to put his steps on the path, as there are no other paths. It is only a path and something else is a road to death.

Man, receive your life back! I did not declare death upon you, but I speak now to the death to give you back to God. I am the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit and I do the work of incorruptibility in the man. Amen.

– Oh, My Father, I let Your joy and Mine upon the people, blessed by the word. I let an eternal Passover and a new and holy supper by holiness of the body and soul, as this kind of worshippers I need.

Romanian Israel, you should grow up and clothe with My grace son, New Jerusalem. I offer My abundant grace upon you and I bless you in the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, as My word will change the appearance of the body and soul of the Romanian people.

I came with My word in 1955, and I declared the word of the resurrection: Christ is risen!

Peace to you! Rejoice! I am the Resurrected Lord, and I am with you on the way, Romanian Israel. I also want to graft Israel that gave Me over to death on the cross. I want to bind it to the people that believes in God, Jesus Christ, the Son of God. I want to wake it up and to receive Me from My Father Who sent Me.

Stay uncovered from now on; stay marked by My glory, Romanian Israel. Stay My people, seized by the glory that come over you and you will be My tool from which I will make out the work of man's redemption by word, the work of the resurrection of the dead and a beginning of new heaven and new earth, worked out by the word, and you should be light in your way with Me, Romanian Israel.

New Jerusalem, Christ is risen! I resurrected in you, spiritual son, and you should bring this day of resurrection to all the margins. Peace to you with the holy heaven! Peace to the holy heaven with you by word! Peace to you, children of Jerusalem, which starts with heaven on earth! Peace to those that love you, Jerusalem! I, the Lord of the resurrection, bless you in a work of resurrection upon those in whom I arose.

Blessing and resurrection upon you, New Jerusalem, as My glory arose upon you! Amen, amen, amen.

The third Sunday after the Passover, of myrrh-bearing women

I say to you amen, sons of Jerusalem: the work of the Holy Spirit is coming upon you to eat from it and to grow by it, as I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, from My birth and up to My Father, was brought up by the food of the Holy Spirit, Who is from heaven upon the earth, and you have seen and heard of the Scriptures and from the heavenly book how I was brought up and how I revealed Myself on the earth. The time is coming and the time is closer and closer to clothe you My people, in a great visible glory, and that is why I ask you sons and daughters from the people to choose to be male and female disciples for Christ, the Son from heaven, the Son from the Father.

Peace to you, peace to you, peace to you, sons and daughters, My children, people of New Jerusalem! Well sons, we are surrounded by My holy women, by My female disciples, who were then as you are now. They were then and you are now. Behold, I also had women with Me and they were Mine and were taking care of Me, of My apostles and My disciples, but they were not fleshly but rather spiritual. They were a people as they are a people now. They all were a family, as My people is a family of God now. The Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, and where the lot fell on them, there they were working. They were working where it was needed and no one made any condition to oneself on the earth; no house on earth, and not a specific place on earth. I did not move you from your place My people when I draw you to My work. I remained to your place and into your condition, and even so you were not giving yourself to Me as much as you could do it. I did not take you from your family to be in My family, as I took the apostles and disciples and the holy women and many others who were chosen their love for the soul and for the heaven. Who else among you I moved from one place to another place; I did not say to anyone to separate except from sin and from the opponent of this work of cleanness and resurrection. I have not gone from country to country by now, but now I will go and I will take disciples with Me from place to place. Amen.

Peace to you, sons and daughters! I tell you as My myrrh-bearing women: rejoice! Rejoice over the kingdom of the heavens, which is given to you! Rejoice over My growth upon you, as behold, I gathered you together as for an earthly lesson, and I give you a lesson, a lesson of holiness and good behavior and of discipleship in Christ. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, need to have disciples, man and women, and they have to love Me, and to know how to love Me. Why should they love me? Because I am the Love and they have to love the Love.

Oh, My loved disciples, My little disciples, how good it is for the man to be wise and how bad it is for the man to be simple. What does it mean to be wise, and what does it mean to be simple? I speak so out of My great zeal, the godly one, as I want to make you wise and intelligent, for if the Christian remains simple and ignorant, he will lose Me. The intelligent man is the one who does not live without Christ and without God's will in him. From where can the man know what Christ's will is so that he may fulfill it?

Oh, sons and daughters, oh My disciples! I came then through the Virgin and I became Man, and I let My exhortation about which was written into the Scripture, and I said what the man should do to have Me and to have eternal life, such as I have eternal life and I am called the One without death. The man who has Christ has all he needs if he has Christ, but here it means nothing at all and that is everything, as My people by now understood. My people did not look into the Scriptures to know how it comes to be a disciple of Jesus Christ, as they, who became My disciple then, would sell everything they had so that they might not be mixed up with them, and they would give themselves and their belongings to Christ's disciples, and would enter My family whose had I was; I, the Lord, I, the Son of the Lord, and they would go from place to place with Me, and they and I, were seedsmen. What do we seed? We seed the kingdom of the heavens in the man and upon the man. Those who did so with their life, were wise and gained the kingdom of the heavens. You should not believe son of today, that if the Lord's disciples died in their bodies seven thousands years ago, they are dead. This does not mean that they died. The bodies have passed away seven thousand years ago, because Adam and Eve put the death into the bodies, but only the bodies have passed away for a while, and you will see that these holy bodies have passed away only for a while, and they will get up soon, soon, that they will appear soon, soon. Sons, do you believe that the myrrh-bearing women and they who are now with Me at you have come with their bodies at you? The saints have heavenly powers, and they have power to take their body back, and if they have, they have taken their body and are within the body, but their body is like Mine after the resurrection. I passed with My body through the wall and through a closed door. I did no longer use My pace on the road after the resurrection, and I moved from city to city and I went among those to whom I appeared. I carried My body from place to place by the power of the Spirit. The spiritual body is not seen by the fleshly bodies, but it is seen by those that are spiritual.

Oh, sons, sons, it is written into the Scriptures: «If the man has hoped in Christ only for this life, he is most pitiable of all men!». Behold, the man loses the endless life for the one now. The spiritual life is endless. He, who lives a spiritual life in his body, goes on with it, if the body passes into its rest until the resurrection of the new body. But he, who has a fleshly life in his body, he puts an end to the life of the body and receives the reward for the deed of the body; he goes for hard work; he does not go for a spiritual life near the Lord, Jesus Christ. The wise man knows to rule his house well and gets hold of spiritual eternity. The fool does not know what life is. He thinks that the life means only the time of the body and stays carelessly and builds whatever he wants, and then he finishes because his body dies, and then he sees that he was fool and he has deceived himself. My disciples did not think and do not think this way. They think in terms of holiness and choose the heaven on earth, and I pass them into the imperishable and forever comforting things, because the reward of their heavenly life on earth leads them there. The simple man chooses his flesh and those that are seen by the flesh. My work with you for forty years has been the work of ascension into the heaven, but My people did not want to be wise, and it remained with his body on him, poor Christian. But I will also have wise people and it is good for a man to be wise. The fool remains in his body and thinks like the fleshly man. The wise man elevates himself with in thought and heart to the Man of the Love. I am the Man of the Love. I am He Who gives the man love and eternal life through love.

The man, who has his body defiled by a fleshly lust, stinks before the heaven, and the heaven does not give wisdom to such a man. The thought of such a man stinks, and the spirit of the clean man rejects the spirit and the body of the man that is defiled.

It is a great thing for the man to be wise. Only the man who chooses the heavenly love and grows it within him with wisdom is called a wise man, as I and My followers up to you did. And I say again: blessed is the simple man; that is the man without God's love, who comes back like Mary Magdalene, My loved myrrh-bearing women, more loved than each and everybody of that time. She loved sin and flesh passionately, but she gave an even greater love when she came after Me to love Me. He, who loves Me, does no longer sin with anything. He, who loves Me, does no longer love his own self; he does no longer loves the deeds of the flesh, and rather he loves the deeds of the Spirit of Jesus Christ in his body.

Oh, how much I have loved Mary, Mary from Madgala! Why did I love her so much? Because no one loved Me more, and I fed her with the love of the Holy Spirit, and it was done much love and she had loved Me since that time and until now, and she will love Me forever, and Mary is My bride. Mary, this daughter, stood up against Pilate after I seated by My Father. She could no longer bear this pain; that is, to be accused by someone as guilty; however, she took Me out from under the guilt that I was condemned by and testified Me as God from heaven. Behold love! She was the first one that I appeared to after My resurrection, and only then to the others. She was convinced that I will not perish and that I will be alive in My body. She believed what I told her; as I told her that I would be alive again on the third day. All doubted, but she did not doubt at all, and after I My resurrection, I went to her first.

Oh, what a great reward the faith has in those that I, the Lord say! Oh, sons, how many things I have told you by the words of this work! Behold what I show you today! I show you the children from My garden, which believed all My words, and that is why I fulfilled and fulfill through them, because they believed what I told them. Sons, sons, do believe in My words and do not play with them. He, who is playing with My words, will have great pain and great shame will seize a man like that. That one will be persecuted by angels and people. Sons, do not play with those that I have spoken upon you. If you were sinful, do as Mary did and love God, so that the grace may be multiplied in you, and by My grace in you to love Me. Replace the deeds of the body with the deeds of the spirit, as it is a difference between a Christian and a disciple. The disciple does not let himself be guided by feelings, but the Christian sometimes do, sons. By now I have called My people Christian. But why did I call it so? Because he was under the law of the flesh, the law of marriage and the law of given into marriage; he was under the law and not under the grace. But now I will call it people of disciples, men and women, who serve one another in love. That is why I have taught through the sons of My garden the young man and young girls from the people not to choose someone that they might care about in their soul, and rather they all may care the same, and to care about Jesus Christ, the same way as the work of My first disciples was; who were going where they were needed in the Lord's service, and not being bound by anyone and by anything, they could answer to the heavenly works.

My book goes up with the people step by step. Read and see how much time I have been speaking with the bodies of this people, and the people remained only flesh; and today many are only flesh. Oh, I have asked Myself now, why the one who came into this people really committed this sin, if he was not a lover of Christ, and if he wanted to be only flesh? This was a great error, and woe to the one who leads astray the little one of Mine!

The apostles ask you; My disciples ask you; My myrrh-bearing women and My female disciples, who love Me, ask you to be like them in love and that you may not be yoked with a foreign yoke of discipleship in Christ. I am the Lord; I am your Bridegroom; I am your husband, young man and young woman from the people. Behold how many brides I have had. This is how you should also work if you want to be written as My disciples. Mary of Magdala, My myrrh-bearing woman, served the apostle John; she served My Mother after I was seated by My Father; she served there where she was needed in Christ's work. All My people did the same. He, who does not want it this way, shall get out of My disciples, so that My little ones may not stumble. Do no longer stay into My people if you do not want to be with Me and with the heaven. Do no longer stay, as you cause and offense if you pose as My disciple into My people without being My disciple. Withdraw from My people and stay with the outside world, so that those from My people may not believe that you belong to My people.

Sons, those that withdrew into the world in their flesh too, were not of My people. They have sinned very bitterly if they came in at this table. They did and do as Judas did, and sit at the supper of My word and take the morsel from the table and then run and do the deeds of the flesh and of the darkness of the body. Do not stumble over the one tossed by the wind; do not stumble over the simple man. The simple man is the man who chooses his own self, who chooses the will of his heart and his fleshly desire. I tell you to be wise, sons. He, who loves something else than Jesus Christ, is not a wise man. I need wise sons. Well sons, do you want to be wise? If you want here is what I tell you: rejoice! Rejoice loving God during this time when the world do no longer love God.

I have the Holy Spirit come down upon the children of My garden, and I pass through their speaking with the word of the heavenly teaching.

Sons from the garden, the Holy Spirit is giving you today a new language. Get up one by one in a heavenly feast and give the language of the Holy Spirit upon these disciples. I in you and you in Me, into a work of the Holy Spirit! I have called sons and daughters close to the manger, so that you may teach them the work of the male and female disciples, to teach them what joy means, and rejoice with them sons, and make disciples of disciples. Teach them to flee from the sin by the love of God, not by the fight against sin. He, who fights against sin, still has something else to do until he does a work of love for God. Get up to work, sons. Receive the Holy Spirit and give the Holy Spirit. Amen. Behold, the shepherds stand and look at you as the teachers of the Temple looked when I was speaking in the Temple at the age of twelve<sup>87</sup> and then afterwards. First learn and only after that sing. May My word be blessed in you; may My word be blessed! I am the Word, and I am in you. I come in you, and from you go into the disciples. Behold, I come in and out through the invisible doors and work through you. Prepare sons, as you will stand in front of the multitudes and you will teach them the love of God and the resurrection of the body and of the soul.

May you be blessed, apostles and disciples, men and women! May you be blessed, teachers and interpreters of the heavenly words. May you be blessed, overseers of the Holy Spirit. May the kingdom of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit be blessed! Amen, amen, amen.

Christ is risen! Rejoice, and I also say: rejoice in your Lord, Jesus Christ!

Peace to you, peace to you, peace to you! I give you My peace, sons of the New Jerusalem! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Saints Kings Constantine and Hellene

I come down again and again to Israel, as it is written into the Scriptures, that as I ascended into heaven so will I descend, and here, I have always come down. I come down as it is written into the Scriptures, and I have to fulfill all the Scriptures, until there may remain nothing that is not fulfilled from the Scriptures. As I ascended, so will I come down, and no one comes down from heaven except the one who ascends. Blessed is the one who ascends into heaven as that one comes down as well, as it is written that he, who is not born of heaven, cannot be of the kingdom of heavens. Amen.

I promised you, My child Israel that I would come to you to write into this book about the lying of the wisdom which comes from the man; to write into the book that the man without God is a spiritless man and is given as a loan to the evil spirit willingly, as it happened with the man from the beginning, who passed over the Spirit of God in order to be greater, and then all shook from their places; all that God created shook. But it is written into the Scriptures My word which says: «I will shake the heavens and the earth once more», as I, Israel, have to put back to their places those that were shaken, and the putting back of those shaken will be felt. I spoke by the mouth of My apostle in My garden which declares upon you the word coming down from heaven, I spoke by his little mouth before you, and I spoke by the Holy Spirit, by a speech of the Holy Spirit; I spoke that the greatest miracle that I did by this work coming down from heaven is the miracle of the new man, who lives according to God's word, who moves within the word declared by God, who receives God's image and likeness by the word and by living according to the word, the same way I made the man from the beginning. The same way you too, My child that are born by My word, which came down from heaven to you. Here is a birth from above, a birth by the word. Oh, what a miracle I worked out in you, Israel! That is why I kneaded this wok and this people, so that I may give birth in him sons from above, as I was. I was born by the word from the heaven. How sons, how by the word?

Israel, Israel stay under the learning of your Teacher, and mind that may not be in need of a borrowed learning, as the first man that I made did so; he borrowed the teaching from the evil spirit and thus, by so doing, he lost God's teaching. I am your Teacher, and you should not take from anyone but from Me. You should not take from you; you should not do like Adam, Israel, My Son. You should not take from you, but do what I did while I was working among the people. I took from the Father and I worked all that My Father told Me, and I did not work from Me. You should not take from you, as behold what it happened to this people, which proceeded from Me at the beginning, when I opened the heaven and I came down in a pillar of fire before it to speak from the burning bush as I spoke to Moses. Verginica was the burning bush before My people of today, and I was speaking with the people of today from the burning bush and I was writing the law of the new man, the law of the heaven, as I wrote it in the time of Moses. The commandments given to Moses by Me are the law of the heaven, the law the man fell from. And now, do you see what I do, Israel? I come to you and I refresh the lesson of the heaven for you and I explain to you the meaning of God's commandments, and if Virginia came to Me, she did not take the fire from the burning bush with her, but rather she let it before you, Romanian Israel. What was the fire of the burning bush? It was God's word, which cleanses by burning. And behold, the fire from the burning bush does not go out forever, as I will never come to an end as well. That is why I tell you son, not to take from you and work upon you, but rather take from Me, as behold, the fire from the burning bush was born before you through Verginica, and that what is born of the heaven, that is what remains.

Son, if you are born of the heaven, you should remain, and if you remain, you should eat fire as Elijah, My prophet, did. Eat fire, Israel, and burn like Me, and stay before Me, like a burning lamp, as I put the earth and the sky on fire with this lamp and I fulfill for Me those things for the appearance of those that are not seen. That is why I told you to stir yourself up, to burn with the glow of the holy fire and to be in Me, to be into My heart, and to have no other longing and love. Love Me with all the fire of your heart, as the love of God is good, and the man will learn; he will learn from you that only God is the truth, and the man's wisdom is a lie, and the man will look at his lie and will see that he was not supposed to work that way. The man was supposed to work only what God told him to do from the beginning when He gave the heaven to him. The man was supposed to work what God have him to work and not something else, as I want to get you out little by little Israel, so that you may not stay surrounded by the work of the lie, and I will give you as an example of a new man and of obedience and heavenly work. I take you out little by little, and I work through you to get you out of the work of the lie, which was worked out by man, and then you will work what I told the first man to do.

Israel, what did I tell the man to work? Behold, I gave him the heaven made from Me, and I told the man to keep it and to work it as I worked it, as I showed him, as I also show you, My man of today, as you, Israel, are My man of today, not the man of today. The man of today is the man of the lying, and you are My man of today, My people, who lives and feeds on Me, on My word. Do you see Son, how the teaching is? Did you learn something like this from the man, who bound you up to his school, when you went to get education? Education is not learned the way you did. That school was a lie, and be careful, as school is school, and lie is lie, son. The school is something eternal, and the lie turns into emptiness. Only that what is eternal is called school, and that what comes apart is emptiness and chasing after the gold, that is after the wind. Did you see what gold did with the man? Did you see Israel what gold did? It did more evil than what Lucifer did. Gold became wealth for man and cheated him by his brightness and turned him into a slave, and the man gave forth to lie for gold; he has struggled to give forth to lie and to give it a body and to present it this way before the man and to buy gold for lie. Behold how comes this work: you receive gold for lying, and you buy lie and the fruit of the lie for gold. And I will take the gold and buy the kingdom of heavens with it and I will show it to the man, so that the man may see what he has to do with the gold if he wanted to deal with gold. The man did not have God's kingdom when he found gold, as he lost it from the beginning. But he had to struggle to give gold in return of the lost kingdom.

Here is what I do with gold today. You have no more gold, Israel, as you were of lowly condition, as I made you out of those that are not, not of those that are, but of those that are not on the earth. I made you out of nothing, as out of nothing I made the fish where there was no fish, and I told My apostles who worked the whole night through for fish; I told them to cast the net and get fish, and they got fish; but it was not fish, rather it was the word, and this is how I fed them with the word that became flesh, and this is how I made Myself out in them. I made Myself out in them little by little, as out of nothing I made fish, bread and wine, by the word; and I created life out of death and light out of darkness over the blind and over the deaf, as I made the hearing where there was no hearing, and I made the sight there where was not any sight. But the man, who brought you at your school to learn from him, did as I did? The man wanted to do, but he, poor of him, did as Pharaoh's philosophers did, when they performed miracles like Moses by the lying spirit. But they were miracles for them, and for Moses they were God's power. Woe and woe again to the man who does miracles and wonderful works, which come from the man, as that one does what Pharaoh's philosophers did; the wise of the earth, who give forth to the power of the evil; however, the evil becomes flesh, and it becomes a son of the world, and evil comes out of it; it comes out a son of the lie and a worldly philosopher, as those from Pharaoh were. This way is the work, which is called „science”; this way is the man who calls himself „man of science” and „philosopher”, but I did not call him „man of science”, rather I called him „scientific”; this is how I called this thing. The science was stolen, son, as man received science by disobedience, and this is how the age of the man's science started, the man's age, Israel, for the Lord is ageless, the Lord is eternal and without time.

My people, do not murmur, you who have got used to pierce and tease Me, and do not stumble, you, who wonder about those that surround you and which are born out of the man's science, the stolen science by disobedience, by theft, Israel. I made you a network to catch fish, but the network is cast into the sea; it is cast into the sea. My people, I took you out of the middle of the man's age; I took you out from the people to be a field and a people for Me, as I took Abraham out of those with confusion of the languages, and I gave you birth by the word, as I was born by the word. I was born from heaven and earth by the word. How, son? But you know how. The word came from heaven by the prophets, and then by the angel of the good news, and the word was fulfilled; it became flesh in My Mother, the Virgin, who believed into God's word, into the prophets and into the messengers of the heaven, and I became flesh and I was born in an age. And I gave you birth Israel the same way. I had the word come down from heaven, and My word took you up into heaven, and you believed, and then you were born from heaven by the word, and you became a man of God; further, you pulled yourself out from numbness and you let yourself worked for resurrection; however, blessed will be those who had and will have part of the first resurrection, as the second death will have no more power upon them. I gave you birth from the middle of the death of the age, in the middle of the death of the man's age, and I called you My people, Israel, and I called you My son born of heaven; and little by little, I destroy the age surrounding you, which held you in death, as I took you out of the first death and I made you a son born from above, out of that death that the man calls life. I stayed with you in the midst of the death of the man's age, and little by little, I destroy from your surrounding the science that comes from man; and further, I make the heaven again, the way I made it from the beginning, but I work through you in the midst of the hell on the earth, in the midst of the beasts on the earth, as I also came on the earth and I had stayed for thirty three years in the midst of the man's science and of its thing. But you should have great patience, as My patience was not over when I passed into those that are not seen, but rather I went forward patiently among those that were born of heaven, among those that are born of heaven.

What would have happened Israel, if I did not pass into the invisible ones? You do not know what would have happened if I did not cover Myself with those that are invisible. I stay covered by those that are seen, so that you have a place in time. I never left Mine, but I hid Myself in them, and that is why I said that the man seeks Me and does not find Me, for I am covered.

The man cannot find Me but in him. How shall the man find Me in him? By his likeness to Me, in obedience to the Father.

I want to show Myself to the man in you, son from Israel, and that is why I tell you to let you be after My image and My likeness, in image, in spirit and in work, for you are My kingdom, My man in whom I rest in this time. Oh, son, son, you should know that I have never rested in man as I do now? Behold, I have room with My rest and My work in man, and I work on the throne upon the earth, for you are My throne of resurrection and of judgment, Israel, My child. If you are surrounded by the age of man's science, by those of the man's science, do not doubt, and do not rejoice either, for you have to work with Me, and we will abolish, by our obedience to the Father, the emptiness which comes from the man and from the gold, son. The man makes a science for the gold and gives it for the gold, so that the man may have gold, and the gold is a false god even if it glitters. The man should work what God gave him to work and he should work nothing else; but if he did, I work with you to help the man receive back his glory that he lost. The science was God's and the man did not listen and took from the tree of knowledge, and behold, the man have belonged to the science since then, not to God, and the science man does not want to believe that he is not God's man. The greatest lie is told when the science man says that he is God's man. There are many among the science men who pray to God to help them in their science, to help them do this and that way, but who listens to them? God hears them, but hearing, God does not hear, for God cannot divide Himself.

Oh, Israel, the work of the redemption of the man that I lost in the beginning is great and heavy. I had also worked heavily with Israel then, and I had only Abraham with his promise made upon him, and about which I worry and struggle together with you, Israel of today, to accomplish it well, peacefully and with resurrection. I only had Abraham of all My labor; Abraham and everyone who takes after him in his work, as Abraham fled from the midst of the confusion of the languages and stayed with Me at work, and I want to do the same with you, son of Abraham, son born of My word. Son, you should run, and if you run, run from the tower of Babel; run, as this tower will have a very big downfall. Run Israel from this tower, which is called Babel that is Babylon. Flee son, from the man's hand, which keeps you into his hand. Flee son, as I give you power, and I gave you power to pull yourself out. When you were a slave, you could not pull yourself out, and he forcefully called you at his school, and you heard only lies from him, but now you are free and come to Me and to My school, as we have great work to do. I have to fulfill with you the Scripture that says that the science will be done away with, that the gift of the languages will come to an end, that the wise man will no longer be found anywhere, and it will be heard My voice which says: «Oh, vanity of vanities, which went through seven ages to catch wind and you caught storm, and the storm wiped you out from the earth!».

Son, what have you learned from the school that comes from the man? I ask you in an earthly way, son. You have learned physics, chemistry, mathematics, biology and agriculture. This is what is written on the book that you learned from; however, on My book writes Scripture; it writes the Word of God. My people, do you really need these books? And if you need them, what for do you need them? Why does the man learn from these books? He learns to build at this human's age; that is why he learns. The man learns to build what is to be demolished. Do you see why does he learn and why does the man of this age build; the man without God? Do you see what is written on the books that are written by man? It writes vanity; it does not write God. Oh, if the books of these teachings would come from God, My name and no other name would be written on them.

The science man raked out with his mind and got into the mysteries of the creation as Adam went into to eat from where he should have not eaten. The man raked out with his mind and then said that he is intelligent and made books for himself and gave them the name of a man, and he wrote on them: physics, chemistry, biology and philosophy, but it is not written disobedience on any of them; it is not written death; it is not written emptiness. The most intelligent men were those who became Christians, those who forsook all the earthly science and came back to God to be redeemed of the life and obedience to God. But it is a great thing for a man to be Christian, that is Christ and that is the man in whom Christ stays hidden. The Christian man should be like Christ in his behavior both in work and in appearance, so that Christ may take him and make him a working disciple, that is Christ working on the earth among the people. The Christian who does not work properly at his likeness to Christ in him, is in search for Christ, but the Christian who is truly a Christian, finds Christ in his inside as it is written: «The kingdom of God is in you».

I want to turn gold into bread from God, so that the man may understand what is well to be done. Israel, Israel, the man's age is the age of the gold; it is the age of the greed, sons. If the man would not have the spirit of greed upon him, he would no longer work that much to earn vanity for himself, and a great name upon the vanity that he worked for. The man knows nothing in spite of his learning and his digging up. Man is not helped by his learning and I want to write an end over the man's science, and I want to work with you and by My science in you, the one given by Me, not taken by you, Romanian Israel, My people by that I announce My kingdom. I will destroy everything the man has done, and only what God did will remain. I will have the Holy Spirit come down, and by this fire<sup>88</sup> I will turn into ashes all the man's science and the entire creation that comes from man's science.

Son, that have God, you should learn knowledge from Me and become skillful by listening to My word, as I will always speak upon you, for I am without end. It is written into the book that comes out from the man to commit sin even if what is written is not seen well. It writes that the sin is life; so it writes. It writes that if you do not sin, you get sick. You should know and believe that it is written so. I hear the man on the earth teaching one another to commit sin, so that they may not be sick anymore. Oh, My child, you do not know son, why the books, which man learns them from man, were kneaded. Oh, what work was this! What a lying lie was the man's book! The tempting man taught you to believe in those that he tested you, and he taught you to know the lesson of testing of God too. I said to this spirit: «Get behind Me satan, and do no longer test!» But when this spirit came to you, man, to lay down at your feet, you did not tell it: „Get behind me satan!” No, because the man learned it by heart and remained obedient to it and learned from it; however, the man says that the sin is life, and he does no longer say that man is sinful. When I asked Adam: «Where are you, Adam?», Adam answered to Me: «I hid, Lord. I have sinned and then I was afraid of You and I hid», but the man of today does not longer let himself be sought, or called, as I always call and tell him: «Man, where are you?», but the man does no longer answer, not even as Adam answered, who said that he sinned and hid because of God's fear.

Man, man of the age, you do no longer know that the sin is sin; you do no longer know what sin is. Oh, you do no longer know, as you are made of sin, and you do no longer know what sin is not. What you know is only sin and that is all; and you do not know something else. You will see that I am God and that you heard from God and did not want to believe. You are taught to believe in God otherwise, as your teachers taught you so.

Man, I will find you; you should know that I will find you, and behold, I have come to you and told you that there is God and He comes to you. You will meet Me, man, and I will show you the heaps of your emptiness and I will tell you that you were a liar and smart in lying, and I will show you God's glory and you will see what the truth was, as I have in the middle of the people, I have sons born from above, which have stayed in the middle of the people with Me, and that I will reveal Myself near those of the same image and likeness with Me, and the spirit of haughtiness will turn into ashes. Amen.

Israel, Israel, My beloved people, the time has come to understand your work that you have to do with Me. Do you see son, that I am right when I tell you that we have to do the work of a new heaven and a new earth? We need son to do everything again, as the man of this age has worked only lying for seven ages. Do you see why I was crying and asking you and speaking to you: „Israel, Israel, do no longer read worldly newspapers and books, and read the Scripture instead, son!“? I was telling this to you in a great whisper, straitened man, as there were only wolves around you and in you. But now, when we are no longer afraid of wolves, I tell you with a powerful voice: Israel, Israel, read the Scripture son, as I always write into it, so that you may have what to read, so that you may have what to eat, as it has come the time to eat, son, and to put on weight to have great strength, son.

Oh, what mercy I have had on you, child born by My work of resurrection! I took you from among the people of this age and I gave you birth and I gave you birth among the dead, and I have brought you up with difficulty until this day, and today I tell you to be great, as great as My work of today is; the work of the destruction of the science of emptiness which comes from man. I brought you to have from Me and to take nothing from the man, and to feed, brother on brother with heavenly manna and to believe what I tell you, as here is what I say to you: the time is coming and it has already come, when you will eat only God's word and that is all. And how shall it really be? It will be so, and then you will have to do what I did when I had nothing to eat; I and those that followed Me. I have to be in you, Israel, in you, child from Israel, and to proclaim the word from you and to lay the table by word, and to make out of nothing: fish, bread and wine, water, refreshment and healing, milk and honey, heaven and earth, resurrection and endless life.

I do no longer speak with those who went after death, with those who seek after death and after the abomination of sin, as I made a new step; a passing over Jordan I made, and he, who did not pass, did not pass. I go before and bless Israel that passed and teach him the resurrection and the work of the resurrection. But look, I still have something to say: Israel, do not be afraid of the wolves, which still surround you. Do your work that you have got from Me, as the wolf has in its back the trap that will be caught in, and it will die of hunger on the way. The wolf does not like Me, and it eats nothing from Me, as it does not know to eat like Me. It knows from it, and the wolf that remained hungry will die of hunger. My food fits only for the sons and not for the wolves, and the wolf will howl of hunger and the trap will catch it by hunger, and Israel will be saved from the work of the wolf. The wolf goes up to where it can be gone, and then it no longer goes forward.

Israel, I blessed you and do not be afraid of nothing, but fear God instead, as blessed is he who fears God, as he receives teaching from God and works salvation for himself. I spoke a word and I promised that a great people would rise from the dead and will sit at your table with Me with joy and will see God. You have to learn all the words of this book and to see their fulfillment, as all come into fulfillment. He, who stands behind the curtain to see if the word of this work is fulfilled and only afterwards to come, that one will never rejoice, as he tested God; he touched God to see if He is or not. He, who fulfilled My word only half way and not wholly, will sigh deeply and will stay sobbingly and not joyfully before Me.

My people, you should know that today it is required to work well and not otherwise. You should know, son, that you need great love today, to have God in you and to be clothed in God, as the time is coming to spread the table for you by word, as there shall no longer be food on the man's earth. The time is coming to do what Elijah did with the widow's wheat meal and oil, and you will be rich in oil and bread, as the world will come to the reward of the emptiness, and then the wheat will grow into a heavenly and holy earth, holy wheat on a holy earth. Come in crowds Israel; force your way into the holy land, which will remain before Me with the new heaven above and with My glory within the light, seven times brighter than now. Son, I do not tell you fairy tales, and do not believe that I spin a fairy tales, son. We have to redeem the land and the dead from it, and all these will be worked out by word, as in the beginning. In the beginning I made everything by the word, and in the end it will be the same, but in the end every man will see all God's glory, and the man born of Me will be above any love into My hand and will play into My hand, as My hand will be a cradle of eternal love for the man in the end, who listened to My word, and became a new man, in the image and likeness of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. All My glory will rest in the man from the end, and this glory will be seen by the man without God's love.

I give you a godly nature, My loved child, My child of today, only for you to want, as I want you for heaven, by your free will. You will tell Me that you want, I tell you to get down to teaching, son, to learn as needed, to learn how to be, so that you may want. You should be, not to want. It is one thing to want and another thing to be. My people, you should have nothing beside Me, but you have to want, and you have to learn to have Me. Learn Christian, as the sons of My garden learned, who dwell within love and who love each other as I commanded and not otherwise.

Oh, sons of My little garden, you should listen only to Me, and this is how you should teach the entire people. The people should learn not to listen to you, but to Me and to My sending toward them, as I have My word into the midst of My people, and My word is Mine. Learn to stand better than any time before Me, and keep, sons, the law of the holiness of this dwelling, and keep watch, as this mountain is the holy mountain. This little garden is a living and holy tool. Teach the people to blaspheme My holy mountain not an iota, and to prepare their little coats, to weave and sew their little shirts of glory alone, for the day on which the heaven and the earth will kiss each other within a new meeting, which has been waited for seven ages, sons. Teach the people to have body and soul and new spirit, as in heaven.

Come My people, to the sweet lesson of new heaven and new earth, whose path is justice and peace! Come Jerusalem, come! Come son, as you are My last love! Come Romanian Jerusalem, as I called you My bride! Come My love, come My last bride, as your Lord loves you with a great love! I will bless all My meetings with you, only for you to want to come to the lesson of the son of glory that comes and whose coming is visible. I not only call you to come, but I also want to see you that you call Me to come, as I come from heaven to you, Jerusalem that come together at the table of My grace by the word. I want to see you coming, and I will announce My coming and I will bless My tabernacle upon you, to shadow you, and I, to sit with you, speaking into your midst. You come as well, as I also come, but you should not say that I interfere with you, and you should come longing for Me and giving anything to come, for I give you food and water and I bless My rest with you and your rest with Me between heaven and earth.

May you be blessed, Israel! I, the Lord, thank you for your labor, and come, as I miss you! Come to the well; come and give Me to drink, as I also give you to drink. Let us appease our thirst to each other and live God's love and take from the well and drink, as I will turn you into a well of honey, and you will share from you and you will be like honey, Jerusalem, as I am well pleased with you. Receive light and come, as My path is coming towards you.

Peace to you from your Bridegroom, Jerusalem, My bride! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Descending of the Holy Spirit

The peace and the quietness of the Holy Spirit are above you to settle upon you, Jerusalem, My loved people. I come to comfort you with the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, as this how He is called, son; the Holy Spirit is called the Comforter. Amen.

Peace and comforting in a day of the Holy Spirit upon My manger in which I spread My word to be in the book, as any word that is proclaimed begins its fulfillment.

Oh, My loved people, a stone rain arose in the west to blow over My vineyard. You are My vineyard, and I am the vintager and I keep My vineyard and I pray to My Father for it, and I sit above it and I guide the black clouds to head for the wilderness, where no one of My people dwells. I am the One Who commands the storm and the hail to depart from over My vineyard, as My vineyard is Mine. Amen.

Sons, sons, be good and faithful, and stay before Me with a great faith and strong hope, as My book, which is the fire that got out from the midst of My people, started to burn in some places, but no one can blow out this fire, because this book is the Holy Spirit.

A stone rain arose from the west to blow over My vineyard, but I, the Lord, proclaim a word and say: In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, let it be peace, quietness, comforting and Holy Spirit upon My vineyard, and let the stone rain come back to the place where it came out from. Amen.

My people, My people, take out the book and seek well into it, as I, by My Holy Spirit, told you that a time was to come when rumors would come upon you saying that you are not good, that you are not My people. And behold, that time has come, but I tell you that you are My people and My new vineyard. The vineyard of the world is the vineyard of the world, and the vineyard of the world gave forth sour grapes instead of sweet grapes, but My vineyard is watered and tended by Me and it has new grapes and new wine. My people, you should not get out from the vineyard, as from all over a stone rain passes over the vineyard of the world and over the shepherds of the vineyard of the world. Stay under the tabernacle of the Holy Spirit, under the rain of the Holy Spirit. Oh, My vineyard, stay on My table, as I have worked hard to have you on My table. Rumors come over you from the world that you are not a choice vineyard and you are not good. Oh, close the door and stay with your ears clogged to the whispers that produce evil and sorrow. Do not be grieved, and do not take after the strangers who show enmity against you. Take after My word and do not get out of My tabernacle, as I am above you to protect you and to comfort you and to command the hail from the west to go into untraveled places, where no one of My people dwells. Your enemy will never say that you are the people of the Holy Spirit, and behold, New Israel, My and your enemy gives you a sinful name. Who gives you a sinful name? Who, My people? You should not be afraid, Israel, of this whispers, as they will be lost into the darkness, and you will stay into My light. I am the Lord, your God, new and loved Jerusalem by God, and you should not wait for love, comfort and praise on the land that is foreign to peace. You should keep the work of My peace, as that is why I always tell you „Peace to you!” Peace to you in the time when the enemies of My work fight against you! But I stay before you and turn this enmity to the place where it is born from. Sons, where do the enmity and rebellion originate from? Out of unbelief, out of disobedience, out of sexual immorality, out of haughtiness and out of love! Oh, My loved people, I come down to put this work of love upon you, to love God during the bad time which surrounds you from everywhere, as I command the hail to shun My vineyard, so that it may stay for ripening and to stay on My table.

I proclaim a work of the Holy Spirit upon you, New Israel, Romanian Israel. May you be blessed by the watch and the protection and the brightness of the Holy Spirit! May you be blessed, My people, in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. Do not be upset, son, with the one whom you see that casts stones into you, as the stones in his hand, he did not them take with his heart. Behold, the time has come to see the one who is called My witness in the middle of the church of the world, as he casts stones in you. Do not be upset with him; do not be upset with anyone, son. It was written into My book of today and this word should be seen accomplished. It is written into the book that „the shepherds of today will make files and will take My little good sheep into court calling them „bad sect””. Do not wonder if even if these words, which I proclaimed beforehand, are declared by the little hand and little mouth of the same witness, as I said to you to get up and say: „Get behind me, satan, as these words are the words of satan!” You are My people, and you are not a sect, and these words are satans, but you should rather say: „Get behind me, satan!” This is how you are to say to these worldly words, and you should not do otherwise that you may lose heart on your way with Me.

Israel, Israel, he, who was with Me and is no longer now, he, who is a slave, is not free, he has to listen to his master that holds him captive, and he cannot do My word; however, he will be able to do My word again when he no longer has this master, as the unfaithful master will no longer be master, and the servants will receive their freedom. Pray for this son, who now has got his fist full of stones and throws them into you, because he has to listen to his master whose slave he is. These stones will not hit you, and take a good look to see where their target is. And for My witness, who testified Me once and does no longer testifies Me, pray for this witness and forgive him, as I want to forgive him, and this is how you should also do, Israel. (It is about Irineu, the bishop, obliged by other bishops from the Romanian Orthodox Church to curse what he blessed and sanctified, the dwelling of the monastery „The Holy Citadel New Jerusalem”, r.n.). Those, who took him out from Me, are afraid to take the stone and throw it, and push him to do this ugliness; however, you should forgive the enslaved one who has not got his own will any longer. Let the heaven hear your prayer from your little mouth, son of Israel, as the time is coming when you are to see a great victory, worked out with patience and love. Let us be patient, and to love and forgive on the earth, so that it may be the same in heaven. You should not bind the one who throw with stones into you today, as they are your flowers, Israel, as I will make sons out of stones and flowers for the sons. The thrown stone will never remain stone, never, dear and loved Israel. The stone is a flower, and I promised you that I would prepare for you a dear ornament, son. Those who came from earth on heaven and who suffered stones, mockery and strokes, are now sons of glory, and they have their arms full of flowers and glory. I work to prepare for you a great crown, but the crown for heaven is not worked by an empty glory, and rather it is made out of humility, patience and love. Do not be upset with My witness who throws into you as a slave. You are free and you can avoid it. Hide under My wing, My people, as I cover you as the hen covers her chicken under its wings when the storm, rain and hail come.

The man of lawlessness says that you are an evil spirit. Do not take after the man who loves sin and separation of the holy commandments, after the man who nicknames you, My people chosen by grace. He who calls you „sectarian”, that one is right in his own way, and do not be upset, son. He is right. My apostles were called likewise, sectarians; and they were called „the Nazarene sect”. You are a sect in the bosom of today’s church, the same as My disciples were a sect in the bosom of that time’s church. And I tell you sons, I speak to you in an earthly way: the official church on earth belongs to Caesar and the world and to the man’s taste, and those from the church chosen by Me through holiness and love and separation from the spirit of the world in the church, those are called „sect,” for this is what „sect” means, sons; this is what it means in an earthly language. The one, who calls you „sect” in an earthly language, is right. Who is distinguished and steps aside to be faithful to the holy creed of the church and to God, that one is called „sect” according to the language on the earth, and according to the language from heaven, he is named selection; he is called a chosen people, the same way I chose those from Israel whom I made disciples of holiness and of My word, which I came down from heaven with, to wake up those that sleep. This is what I have been doing at this time. I had a word of awakening, resurrection and cleansing coming down, and those that slept did not hear. But you My people, you listened, woke up, stood before Me and distinguished yourself from many people, who sleep before Me, who do not hear this way; as neither those from two thousand years ago had time to hear. And if those who woke up listened then to Me, they were called „sect” in Israel, and they called Me „The Teacher of the sect”.

I told you, chosen Israel, that everything that comes with evil towards you becomes a path of glory for you. No evil, which blows against you, brings any harm upon you, but stay, son under My tabernacle, as I strengthen this word and say: Israel, Israel, you should not get out from under My work. Let the world laugh at you; let it nickname you; let it humiliate you; however, do not be afraid and do not turn pale, but rather be proud of Me that I am with you, My people. No enemy can work against you. The enemy is a tool that works at what he does not know, as he works for the reward of the joy of the one that he hates. I said so: „He, who receives laurels for the earth and for the body, finds damnation after he finishes to work, but he, who endures pain, humility and contempt, comes to an end with the reward of patience, and patience has other reward”. Sons, patience has an expectation and not a chasing after the wind. It has a wonderful and praised work that only God’s true servants can taste and have as a reward on earth and in heaven. Patience is the beginning of its reward. Patience is its fruit even from the time of its work. Patience is sweet, and is a crown of glory, and I, the Lord, have been staying under this crown for seven ages. It is bad for the man who has no patience, who has not got this crown on his head.

Sons, sons, anger is from the devil, sons. Those who have got angry with you now, those who throw with stones at you now, those who nickname you, are angry people, and anger is the tool of the devil, and you should not be afraid of the devil, as his weapons are putrid. Israel, you should not get angry with anyone. You should be patient as this crown is big. You should pray, as I prayed for those who got angry with Me. I wait for those, who get angry with you, to come back to repentance. I do not punish them, as the word that I prophesy punishes them, if they do not come back to repentance. If I told the man not to take the name of the Lord in vain, and if the man does not listen, I do not punish him, but the word, which says: «You shall not take the name of the Lord in vain!» punishes him. The same is today; My book stands for trial with those that do not come back, to do justice and peace between heaven and earth.

Israel, My witness, people of the Holy Spirit, it hurts Me when the angry man with you calls you people against Me and against the Holy Spirit. It hurts Me and I sigh heavily, but My patience keeps Me gentle. This is what it happened to Me two thousand years ago. On the day I had the Holy Spirit come down, Which was promised to My disciples, the Jews were as evil then as they are now; the people of the church were as they are today; they who were rulers on the earth were angry with Me likewise. My disciples were waiting for the promise of the Holy Spirit, and they were afraid, poor of them, and they came together to hold on to their peace and hope, and I glorified them before the multitudes and I released the descending of the Holy Spirit in Jerusalem, as I promised. My disciples were gathered together in a pavilion as they were afraid of the Jews, who were fighting against Me and against them, but I had the fire of the Holy Spirit come down, and My disciples shared this language to all who were gathered together on that day of Pentecost in Jerusalem. And behold, Jerusalem of today, behold the fire of the Holy Spirit started to speak on the earth, and it confuses the languages, it clarifies the languages and it puts all the emptiness into shame, and the emptiness cries out to you that you are fools, but you are not fools, but rather those, who do not understand anything from the speaking of the Holy Spirit, are fools. And he, who is ignorant and weak is seen now, as I speak into the language of My heavenly church, as I am from heaven, and I have given the judgment to the saints who look on what is seen on the earth and in the churches on the earth, and the saints start the judgment, as the time of justice has come.

Sons, sons, get under My protection, come under the wing of the saints and angels. Do not stay without protection, as the faith denial has come. Only the sons of My work have faith. God is no longer believed anywhere. No one knows how is to believe God anymore, and the faith denial is displayed from man to man. What does faith denial mean? What does this work means sons? Sons, sons, this work is the Lord, Jesus Christ, that came on the earth through the word; and it became the Lord, Jesus Christ, and spoke upon the earth; and the people who hear it say that the Lord is the demon, and no one recognizes the voice and the word of God; and the faith denial is displayed from pillar to pillar beginning with the pillars. The pillars are the people of the church, as first of all I went to them with the word, both then and now, and only after that I headed for the nations of the earth, then and now, and God's denial is displayed from pillar to pillar, from man to man. The man of the church makes you deny Christ; to deny this work, which is God, which is called God's word. He makes you do as he does, and to lie as he does; for he says that he is with the mother-church, with the church from the east. Do you hear son, what he says? The mother-church, the church from the east! Oh, if he had been with the mother-church, with the eastern one, would he have been a man of the lawlessness, of sin and of the vainglory any longer? The mother-church is the one, which died for its sons. The church from the east is the one who gave light over the sons; it is the one, which the man of today's church brags about, the man of the church of the world, who stays with his lawlessness on his seat, on the seat of the mother-church. That is why I came and I cried for you, Israel, and I told you that My enemy took My little house and My little coat, (Of bishop, r.n.), and stole Me and posed as God, and I do no longer have any right in the house of My Father, (The Orthodox Church, r.n.), and the enemy says the he serves Me and that he is Mine. He is Mine but as an enemy, not as a friend; he is as one who took from Me everything that I had from My Father, and about whom it is written into the Scriptures that he took My vineyard. But I took the gift and the grace of the vineyard and I gave them to those who love Me, and behold, I have a new vineyard, and I left the workers of the vineyard in disbelief, and I put over them the word that I spoke in My time with you, Israel, My vineyard from My coming, and no one can do to you any harm, for you are under My tabernacle and you are faith in God. I established you on the earth by the word, to be the people of the faith in God, to be light and path for the people without holiness in their flesh, and he, who denies you, denies Me, and no one can understand that Scriptures which speaks about the faith denial in the last time.

Behold, I declare a word, I spread the word into My book and say: I brought this work of word on the earth and I told the man to do God's will; that the man should believe in God and sanctify by the holy word which urges the man to the kingdom of the heavens, as I have come again speaking on the earth. This work is called God and God's word, which comes from God. This people is the people of the Word of God, and I made it known through the work of the word spoken from glory over the earth. He, who hears this work of word and he, who hears the One that speaks from heavens and denies this word, denies God. I have been working the heavenly word on the earth for forty years, so that I may bring the man face to face with Me by the word and to test him in the faith. Behold sons, the faith denial is the denial of this godly work among the people.

I told the bishop, the witness of My work; I told him ahead of time, that if he loses My work, he will not know the time of the faith denial. I told him that the faith denial comes over the church, and behold, it has already come, and he does not know that it came, as he did not remain with Me to know from Me. He wants to flee; he wants to say that the Lord is not true by this word that came from heaven, but he does not have this luck. Now it would be good for him that the work of My word to be a lie; it would be good for him that while he keeps the crown (Bishop crown, r.n.) with his hand that no one may take it from his head. But he does not know what it means to have a crown. You have a crown, My people. You are crowned, but he did not want to stay under your crown, and took a crown of vainglory, like the bishops of the word, who make use of the names of God and of the places consecrated to God, and commit lawlessness in the place sanctified by the parents; and they stay at their parents' bosom, at the mother-church's bosom, at the bosom of the church from the east, as East means God; it means holiness in the flesh, and heavenly life among people.

He, who gets angry with you, My people, chosen from the church of the world, gets angry with God. The angry man loses any appearance. The angry man has to humble himself and take the appearance of the Holy Spirit, of gentleness, love and patience, if he wants to be a man of Jesus Christ.

Pray, Israel; pray son Israel; pray for the bishop who has his name written on the stone of this time. Pray for him to escape from the spirit of anger, as anger is from the devil, son. You should pray to the Father and tell Him to make this angry son come back; to make him come back to the gate of the righteousness, as the gate that means salvation is not called something else but justice. Behold, the bishop, who is written on My table with you; behold, he is ashamed of you, who are My people, before the world. If I had given him a ready-made crown, he would have held you for a name of honor, but if I tested his faith and patience, he started to hit Me and you. But I do not receive him without you, as no one forced him to come to this table. Oh, if then, while sitting at the table with Me and with you, I was not a „sect“, what is now to be said when he declares „sect“ upon My work? My work is not a „sect“. My work is love, faith and holiness, without it no one will see the Lord. He, who started to know and to believe then into this work, I tell you, that he cannot receive his salvation on any other way if he goes behind Me on another path, as this work will stand before Me in the name of the seven ages, that I, the Lord, have been working upon the man. He, who came into this work to receive something else except faith in God and holiness in the body, that one is wretched and he will be called into account.

Israel, Israel, be careful with those that will come together to listen and to come to My table. Watch well working son, as many will come to Me and to you, but the one that you see that is looking for something else except for faith in God and holiness in body and spirit, you should keep him far away of this drinking place, which has its spring root in heaven, in God.

Behold, I confirm again the word that I said before: My child, you shall not look into the world; do not look son, as that is why you are called „sect”, because of this, as you withdrew from the big circle and stood aside with God and with holiness. Son, no one is Orthodox any longer except Me and you, Israel, the last son of Abraham. I confirm the gift of the Holy Spirit upon you with My prayer to Father and I say: My Father, Father of Israel, I lift up to You My hands pierced by those that denied Me, the One that You sent. I lift up to You this testimony, these hands pierced by nails, and I show Your love and Mine for those that believe in You through Me. My Father, let Us stand up in front of the small people and let Us stand in front of Israel and behind Israel of today, and on its sides, Father, and let Us also stand up and down and in its midst.

My Father, keep the small Israel away of the wrath that comes from the man without fear of God. Protect him from the powerful man on the earth, and hurry for Your Son and for Your people, which is Your youngest son, to destroy the mightiness that comes from man. My Father, strengthen Your children of today, as the work of today is great, My Father. I pray for these; I do not pray for the world or for the church of the world, about which it is said that is Mine, and that it is of its mother. Its mother cries in heaven; she cries when she sees the defiled altars and places, sanctified by the life of those saints, who came from earth into heaven. The mother-church cries in heaven when she looks down on the earth and sees the servants of the sin, who establish themselves as God's servants. The mother-church is ashamed of those who laid hold of the places, sanctified with blood by the fathers and by a holy life.

Oh, My Father, what it is on the earth! Oh, what it is on the earth and in the church of the world, as behold, I had no more room with the small ones of Ours among the bodies of the world, but I wanted them to be distinguished, as it is written into the Scriptures: «I will not sit at the table with the lawless ones». And I made Me a clean table for the little sons, a new and heavenly vineyard, bread and new wine, as it was the promise proclaimed into the Scriptures for this time.

My Father, the man denies You and Me, as We have come on the earth with this work of the word; to call the man to the redemption from the sin and from the death of the lawlessness. We have no longer any inheritance, any wealth on the earth. We only have this: this small and blasphemed people, whitened by the fire of the Holy Spirit, by the word of the Holy Spirit. Protect the small ones and stop the hailstorm, as I work upon Israel into Your name, Father.

– Oh, dear Son, You are in the pavilion with Your little disciples. Your disciples are small, but loved by Me and You, dear and loved Son, as You obeyed Me when I sent You on the earth to become flesh and for the world to know that You are My incarnated Son. You also obeyed Me when I sent You into the world to become word and to proclaim a new word of creation, as in the beginning, so that a new heaven and a new earth may be made. Behold Son, I also listen to You, as I listen to the one, who prays in the Holy Spirit of righteousness. You are the door to Me, of those who want to come to Me, and I listen to You, Son.

Blessed is the small one, the little Israel. My Son, I will leave the sign of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit uncovered on the head of the last little ones. And how will I leave it uncovered? Behold, no one will be able to harm them, as My sign on them will work and will protect them, as I have always protected those that You brought to Me, those whom I gave to You to bring them to Me to be Ours.

I am with You by the word, dear Son. Let all the work of the wrath, which began against the sons of the Word, against the people of God's Word, fall apart! Let the clouds, the haze and the pain be cleared away, and let the little people no longer be downcast! The little people works with the heaven. The little people is tiny, but it is protected. Blessed is the one who is little, as that one is protected. Woe to the one who is great, for that one is not used to being small, so that he may be protected by the Great One, by God, the only Great One. Behold, the great one, who is a bishop among those great on the earth, behold, he seeks refuge with the man, and cried out to the man to save his life, his name and his throne. Oh, what a pain is for the man to be great, as he gets used to it, and God can no longer get together with him, with the one that has a throne on the earth, as a throne in heaven is nothing but humility, justice and holiness. Son, the man does not know what it means to be great, as the One Who is great is crucified on the cross by great people. You are great Son, as only You knew this greatness, this throne, which is the cross and the sufferance carried for the man.

Oh, My people, the people of My Son, do not get upset that you are small, that you are blasphemed by the people of the time, and stay like My Son in humility, and rejoice in humility. It is not good to be well seen by the people, as My Son left it written in the Scriptures saying: «Woe to you if the world speaks well of you, for their fathers did the same to their false prophets. Bless those who curse you and blaspheme and persecute you». This is what My Son said, oh, people of My Son. You are a sign on the earth, and the world does not know, but it will know; and behold, the world knows, that I and My Son called the awakening; We gave the word over to the world and no one will be able to stand against you. I am the One Who gave the word; I, the Father and the Holy Spirit; I and not you, and no one will rise against you. He, who stands against you, stands against Me, and faces Me, not you, little and tiny son, as that is why I protect you, as you are tiny and obedient. Oh, little and tiny people, go through the lesson of obedience and do not be at ease with those who do not know to be obedient; however, you should make them be obedient as you are, as it is hard for a son of the world to become a son of God. I will give My hand to many through you, but not onto the great ones, as the great ones have upon them a trap worked out of greatness; however, the time is coming that everyone that has now a name to cry over his name. The moment comes for those who made themselves a throne to fall under it, but I tell you that the moment has already come.

Oh, My Son, Immanuel, My Son, I have proclaimed My word upon the little one and I comforted You, Son. You should also comfort after Me, and let the little and tiny people be surrounded by saints and angels and by the Holy Spirit, and may You be blessed, dear Son, dear Messenger, as I sent You, and behold, You work and make a new creation, as in the first beginning. You are the foundation, and My foundation will not be shaken.

– Oh, Father, I am in the pavilion with the disciples. Behold, I and those that are Mine! I bow down with those that are Mine before You, and We thank you Father that You have listened to Us. I knew that You would listen to Us, and make the world see that You listen to Us and that You protect what is Yours, so that the world may see that this people is Yours; the people that I watch over and in which I work and write the Scripture of the heavens.

Sons, sons, My Father strengthened My field, and so you are to do too, as We also work. Also strengthen your strongholds, strengthen your foundation sons.

My people do not forget that you are a witness over time, that you are a sign that stirs up opposition over the people without the Holy Spirit. Israel, Israel, the Holy Spirit Who proceeds from the Father, gathered you together on the hill full of testimonies. Here I am again in My village with My people, in the village of My word. This village will be called the village of the Word of God and will bear My name.

Verginica, here is a joy for you! I came with the children in Our village. Verginica, Verginica, you should always run and urge your children to patience and appeasement, as the children are fragile. Your children should work with you in them, as your spirit has to work, My love. You are a great worker upon this time. Come with your exhortation and breathe comfort upon the sons.

– I come, Lord, as I miss to come. I come longingly and I listen to You, and I come and comfort the little ones who were still remained. Those who still remained are called little. Those that are great left, because the great one is haughty. The one, who loved to be small, remained and is called the little and protected one.

Peace to you, little and tiny people! The Lord told me to comfort you. And how shall I comfort you? I comfort you with what I have from you. All I have from you is a comfort, and I give to you from it, your things from what is yours. I comfort you with love son, as love is the reward of love. I comfort you, son, with the blessing of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, with the comfort that I sealed you when I marked you to be the Lord's people. And I would also mark you now, but now you need great attention, as the one who comes near you without faith, without propriety, without humility, also come for marking, and I do not do as in the time of the my body, when I made for me strong sons within a crushing of the Holy Spirit. Now I mark you within a great mystery; you who work with good power under the sign of the power. He, who does not stay well under this work and is marked with the sign of this work working on the earth, one like that becomes powerful in his spirit and not in the Holy Spirit. The sign of him, who does not stay well under the obedience of the word, is being erased little by little by disobedience. But I say to you to strengthen your sign that is put over you; to strengthen it by obedience, son, and to come under protection, as the time is hard, bad and angry with you, and the sons of this age are upset that you spoil their living of carelessness.

Oh, my village, what a pavilion and what disciples! All look at those from heaven over the village and over those that are gathered together at the feast of the heavenly Whit Sunday. I go with those from heaven at the stone from the garden where the Lord came. (The Maluri village, the village of the St. Virginia, trumpet of the Lord, r.n.). I go, mum, to put a blessing from heaven, and may God's glory be fulfilled for the place of testimony of God's descending from the end!

My people, I love you and I bear you before my Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Mind that you do not fall away, lest you get scared, you, who want to be with me and with God. I am the protector on behalf of the heaven. I am out of you, my people, and I protect you from heaven.

My village is celebrating. Behold, the Lord with His disciples, as two thousand years ago. May the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, embrace you and all those that go on the Lord's way like you! May your way of the new beginning be blessed, and do not be afraid on your new foundation, which is laid down by the heaven. It is written about it in the Scriptures, and in those of old, and in those of nowadays. That is why God tells you to be wise, Jerusalem, people of the Lord. He, who is not wise, cannot stay with God and with this heavenly work.

Be wise my people; this is how you are to be, as the wise ones will overthrow the throne of emptiness, and the emptiness will cry out on its streets; it will cry out with a great shout at its downfall. But you should not be frightened, loved people by God, as I, as the Lord, proclaim: peace upon you, Israel! Oh, I am with the angels above you. All the heaven is above. Open your eyes, son. Do not be afraid with the heaven; do not doubt, and stay properly, for it is a great power to stay as it is necessary to stay.

I spoke a word upon you, my people, and I thank the Lord for the work that He gave me, and you, Jerusalem, you should not get out from under the cover of the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen.

– Oh, Verginica, all the heaven startled when it heard you speaking upon the people of Israel of today. The entire heaven thanks you that you help the little ones. Do not be discouraged, Verginica. You should work and exhort your children toward work and to listen to what I say to you. He, who believes, believes, and he, who does not believe, does not believe and chooses whatever he wants, but We should work, Verginica.

Oh, Israel, Israel, it is the village of the beginning of My word and it is full of heavenly guests. This village is full of the Holy Spirit, and you will hear about the work of today, of the work of this day and of the greatness of the celebration of the Holy Spirit, Who is working upon you, Israel, and upon the village of God's word.

Sons, sons, may the joy of the Holy Spirit seize you and stay under it! Let any wrath and any judgment which is angry with you be scattered. I, the Lord, tear apart any evil and hold back and scatter it; however, you should go on the road of the new age, which started with you, and do no longer look into this age. You have a new heaven; you should stay in it, and may My joy be blessed with you!

May the Holy Spirit rejoice within you, and from you to the multitudes! Peace to you through the Holy Spirit of hope! Do not be confirmed to this age, at the voice of this age. It is the new and holy age with you. It is the kingdom of the heavens with you on the earth. It is a new heaven and a new earth. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God on the Sunday of all saints

I spread out My godly peace on you, My loved people. I come to you son, and I work upon you and I become a word in your way and I give Myself over to you as food, for you to grow up, My loved child, and to testify about Me, the Lord your God, Who dwells on the highest, and so that you may be My heaven of reign, My heaven from the end of the evil, which came from man's disobedience.

I am with the entire heaven in a celebration of saints over My little people, which is out of Romanians. I am with Abraham, and with him are all those that have their rest in this bosom of rest, which is called Jerusalem from above. I am the God of the living, of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, and down to you, Israel son that was promised to Abraham; Israel of the promise, proceeding from the word. I am Verginica's God, who was carried on arms by saints and prophets, as at her birth, on that day, all the saints heard from Me that a hope is being born, which will be called God's trumpet from before the Lord's appearance in the glory. She was born on the Sunday of all saints and was decorated for Me, as she bore Me within her, and out of this burning bush I had spoken and I gave birth to a people through the word and I had worked out My plan on the earth, and this miracle was a great example, and I called it the sixth trumpet, according to the Scripture. And I made the man during this time, the man that is today with God; I created you, My people; I created you in My time with Verginica, and this work is called day, son, day in a night time, as «with the Lord a day is like a thousand years», as it is written into the Scriptures; with God, but not with man, and not as the man of the science says. My people, you shall not say as the world says. When I created the heaven and the earth and all that is seen and not seen, I had worked six days and then I rested. But you shall not say as the tempting man over the creation says, and you shall know that the human measure is as God let it to be and no more than that. You shall know My people that the measure of the day in the time of the creation was the measure that is made out, the one that has been testifying over the day up to this day, over the measure that is called a day, an evening and a morning. But the man, who created the time over him, lengthened the day; he lengthened everything, and the man that came out of the man does no longer speak like God, as God said this: «It was an evening and a morning», and this godly measure was called day, as also today, an evening and a morning measure the day which was made out in the time of creation. The man is worried; the man who tempts is worried, and being worried, he changes God's mysteries and understands them like a man, and the man lost his godly measure in the time of creation. The day is measured by morning and by evening, and this mystery is called day, and the word night is not all the same with the word evening, which is part of the word day.

Sons, the day has its godly measure, and the man tells lies over this mystery of the day from the beginning. I had made the creation in six days, and in the seventh day I rested from the things of the creation and I celebrated the creation looking at it. I was looking at it and I was resting looking, but the man spoiled My joy and grieved Me.

The man does not understand My mysteries; he does not understand it without God, but you should be with God, My child, as I made you out by word, and I gave you grace and wisdom to know like God and not like those on the earth, who learn without God. Do you see My people, why I have spoken about God's prophet and about the false prophet? God's prophet serves God and His heavenly commandments, and he has from God. The lying prophet serves to his own body and spirit, and not to the Spirit of God, and that one speaks from his own spirit. My people, I told you to read the Scripture to speak of the Spirit of God and to get used to this heavenly speaking. This is what I told you; to serve according to the commandments established by God, and to receive your speaking from God. You have learned book from man, as this was the work of the slavery, but I have called you now to freedom and I took you as My disciple to serve Me, to the Holy Spirit and to the heavenly languages, son. Take a look at you when you do not listen to Me and when you speak with the world and like the world. Then My Spirit departs from you and you do not know. Behold what night is. Night is the lack of the Lord's Spirit from man's sight, and the night has filled with its emptiness every place and it has deceived the man.

The man of God is a great mystery in time; the prophet of God in time. That one eats the Scriptures and the Spirit from God, fulfilling It in him by obedience and humility, by gentleness and self-control, by wisdom from above and not from below; however, it was hard to understand, My people, as the time, when you were born and which subjected you into it, was also hard. The man of God on the earth is a great work, but who else knows of this work anymore? Who and where shall the man learn from? Come to Me son, as you have nowhere to learn from. Those who became teachers upon you do not teach you My mysteries, as they do not know them; they do not know humility, lowliness of heart, obedience and the Spirit of God. The man goes to his teacher, to his healer of today, and he does not learn from God, as the Lord is within humility. I teach you a great thing, sons, and you will learn from it how to work one upon the other, and you will come into My Spirit day by day, more and more, and I will embrace you and you will speak from God.

Sons, sons, when I worked among the people, I did not work like the teachers and shepherds of today. I look and see that no one works like Me upon the man. But I teach you to work like Me. I give you the example of the Samaritan woman. I met and asked her to give Me to drink from her water. And if I did so, I raised that daughter. I did not give Myself out for a teacher; rather I was a humble and low traveler to her and by humility I worked to save her out of her spirit. What teacher does this today? No one knows what humility is anymore. The teacher is conceited and gives advice and he does not hear it; he is not an example before the others, and it is no greater evil than this. I did not do so; I did not work this way. I, being from God, became a man, but man is making himself a god over man and is pretending to be a great teacher; and there is no humility spirit, a God's spirit. I told to the Samaritan woman: «Give me to drink». And I let Myself be known by her and humbled before her asking water to drink, and the spirit of My humiliation worked in My Father and God won this daughter for Him, together with many people of her kindred. I became the confessor of her soul and we confessed to each other what we had to confess about. She confessed her sins, and she was faithful and humbled, and I testified like a God's messenger, like a helper before the man going astray.

Sons, sons, behold, I have in My little garden of today sons who listened to work like Me. I said this: «Confess to one another». But what confessor does such a thing anymore? As everybody pretend to be teachers sitting on their seats, and they do not do what I did by humiliation. In My garden it is worked in the same way as I worked. The confessor tells first his weaknesses before his brothers. He cleanses himself first and only afterwards he cleanses with Me the weaknesses of the others, if there are weaknesses. The confessor has to be the first to be known, to let be known by humility and not to be high and mighty, for he who does this thing is not big; that one cannot give life. I told the Samaritan woman about the power and work of My Father in Me, but first of all I humbled; first I bent before her. But the one who calls himself a confessor does not take after the One Who let this work on earth. You will not hear anywhere such a heavenly teaching, son. A confessor of Mine does like Me not like man. The confessor has to be known by the heart of him who beats at his door. A true confessor makes for himself every son who comes to God for confession. The Samaritan woman would have had no trust and support in Me if I had not bent before her to ask water to drink. The father has to confess before the one who comes to him and then the one who came. The confessor is not a master over the one who comes to him according the things from the Lord. The confessor is confessing by all that he does before those who come to him. The confessor has to sit as a mirror so that all those who come to him may see their own faces in it. If the confessor does not reveal himself before the one who sit in front of him, that one is something else; it is not a confessor. Do you know what that one is? That one is a high-sounding talker, of a worldly glory. One like that cannot raise to the Lord the one who comes down by humility approaching the confessor. That is why the man cannot climb up. The man who confesses to a priest cannot climb up towards God. Why can he not climb up? He cannot climb up because the confessor did not come down to that one who comes and knocks.

In order to open to the one who knocks at your door, it does not mean to open to him; rather it means that you should open yourself to him, as I worked with the Samaritan woman. I did not use the judgment upon that daughter, but I released a spirit of repentance upon her. I did not say to her to stop sinning, rather I told her to ask water from Me, and I gave it to her if she asked. I made her ask, and I gave it to her by word. The confessor should give himself as I gave Myself. But the one who I do not dwell in, because of his narrow-mindedness, that one cannot be a confessor into My name, but rather he is a confessor into his name.

I did another beginning at the same time of the beginning with My new people of today, with you, My loved people. I, son, work like Me into My people and not like the man who learned from man. The Book of God is not learned from man, for the man of the church made to Me a little square and is telling Me to be aware of My border which he set up for Me. I came and abolished the law which oppressed the church, and here is again a law who encloses My Spirit for His work. I become bread and wine to give Myself to the man to be eaten and that the one who eats Me may be like Me. In order that the man may take Me into him, I became bread and wine, and let the one who takes Me know and show that he took Me in him. He who is not aware that he took Me in him, that one took Me and crushed Me within him. I became bread and wine, for God is a great mystery. I delivered the word and healed them and everybody left but one who stayed to thank Me as you, My people, remained to please Me; you remained out of the many who came to ask from Me healing and power and then left with the power and did evil with it, for they that I healed did not remain with Me.

The Christians of the first ages, who came to serve God, were giving up their fleshly sins thorough those good things from the soul, which they were coming to Me with, but My people that came to My word did not give up all its sins, and it stayed with them near My word and thus it was crushed by them, as it turned back to its sins. That is why, those who left, went away. They went away to serve the pigs, the cattle and their bodies, instead of serving Me; and they remind Me of the Gergesenes that told Me to leave, for fear that they lost their pigs into the sea. Many went away from My word because of this plague, which is called meat; pork meat, meat of creature, which has been killed by man's hand for as long as seven thousand years. Oh, if the man took of the tree that was put aside by God, how should he have not been taken of the creature's meat? It was within his reach, and the man killed the creature and took it dead into his belly; and the man took it into his belly and then he gave birth to what he took. I came and I became bread and wine, so that the Man may take Me into him, to give Me birth in him, to grow in him, and to inherit within him with My kingdom of the creation from the beginning; however, in man, the creation from man reigns, as the man also made a creation. He took of My creation and made with it his creation, and the man posed as God, and I do no longer have a throne in man. But I have a throne in you, child born of the word, and I brought you into the garden of the first creation, into the first living, and I told you that you should no longer know sin and no longer be known by sin; and I took into you the garden of heaven to eat from the tree of life and to live.

Behold My people, I took you from the hands of the teachers who were teaching you and who were feeding you from their hands, for I reached to the hold of those who set themselves teachers and they took hold of Me and of those that are Mine, and I stay crucified and imprisoned under their hands and I cannot move because of the nails and I cannot get out to work through their mouths and by their way, for they are doing something else with Me. I have come to be merchandise for gaining to them, and they master over the ungrateful multitudes; they master under the name of teachers of Jesus Christ. These teachers teach people, if they teach, but they do not teach themselves at all. They do not do what I did to deify the man. They say that they deceive Me, but their deceit has fallen over their head, for I have created you and I have given you grace and I have rested in you, and I have marked down in good time a new peg and a new anointing and church, the same way as I have been working since My beginning among the people, and I left the middle of the vain glory, which was driving Me into a corner so that they may use My name over them. I could not stand humiliation, imprisonment and cross. I broke out the connections and I got out and I gave birth to sons from stones, as it was written in the Scriptures and I rested in your midst, My beloved church. Oh, how much I have loved you, but do you really understand what I did for you in order to create you? Oh, how shall they not scream, they who kept Me in a fishing rod for their gain? They were making disciples for their gain, but you should make disciples for Me and you are making disciples for heaven and you are making an incorruptible kingdom for God and are giving it to Me to rest into it, for I have been resting into you, child born endlessly, born out of pains and of great trouble, and I have always been telling you not to be afraid, for I the Lord protect you and love you, and I come down before your face to give you My hand and to take you by the hand for that day without evening which is waiting for you to sit at the table with the saints, with a synod of celebration, for the saints are waiting for those left behind, as it is written in the Scripture which says: «All and everything are awaiting for the revealing of the sons of God».

I have always told you to be clean and to be Orthodox and that you should not be like sectarians, who are not clean, as that is why they left the mother church. They left so that they might not be clean, and that is why they speak negatively about My mother, the Virgin, as they do not like to be clean. Behold son, the time has come to tell you a beautiful mystery, as the mystery of Christianity is great! It is great the mystery of the church where the Body and the Blood of the Son of God dwells, that was shown to the people by the Virgin! He, who loves Me, also loves My mother, the Virgin, who gave Me birth of cleanness. He, who loves Me and her, also loves virginity; he loves cleanness, and he, who loves Me and My mother, becomes a virgin boy and a virgin girl. The mature Christian loves virginity and cleanness and flees from it as from hell and death; he flees from the fleshly lust, which spoils the virginity and cleanness. Here is what it means to be a disciple of Jesus Christ. The world fights against you, My people, and is afraid that you may not contaminate it with cleanness and virginity; it is afraid that you forbid marriages and birth from the man; as the world does not know what I want to bring through you on the earth. Through you I want to bring the heaven on earth, and the man is afraid of heaven, as he wants to keep his lust forever, until My coming. It is a time for great preparation, son, and the man does not keep into his mind through you; however, he looks at his flesh and not at heaven instead, so that I may come as it is written. But I tell the man through you that it is not this way that I wanted to create the man when I said: «Be fruitful and multiply!». I want to multiply the man from the word, but the man did not want it, and he wanted to multiply by lust, by flesh, by man, not by God. That is why I let the baptism into My name; to adopt the man by baptism, as the man is born out of the human sins.

Behold My people, on this day of the Synod of saints, My Virgin Mother urges you to love her and to take her inside you with Me, son. I prevented all that I made My disciples from lusting, and so did My mother, the Virgin. Those who blaspheme My mother do not love cleanness and holiness. All those who do not love cleanness, do not love My mother. But you love her as you love Me, as you, My people, are My disciples, and you understood what it means to be Jesus Christ's disciple, the One of the Virgin. I came through the Virgin for the judgment of the man who is born of the man, that I, the Lord, did not want the man to multiply, but the man spoiled this clean work and became sin over it, and the sin gives birth to sin, and it has been born for seven thousand years, and I declared: „It is enough!” and many that are in you listened to Me, Israel of Abraham, Romanian Israel.

I had to have a clean people, but the man of the world does not know the Scriptures of My coming. The priests of the church do not know them either. They know everything, but they do not know the Scriptures. They know to pose as teachers and confessors, but here is what I tell you today: sons, sons, it is one thing to be a confessor, and it is right at the other hand to be spiritual confessor in order to be spiritual. The confessor who is not spiritual before Me and defiles the holiness of the holy place, that one is a false prophet<sup>89</sup>, the reading being established from him in a place called holy, and one like that defiles the holiness of the holy place, for I raise those that belong to Me if I see them trampled. Sons, sons, write this on the tablet of your heart: it is one thing to be a confessor and it is another thing to be spiritual confessor, in the likeness of Jesus Christ. I am gentle and humble in My heart, for it is one thing to be humble and another thing to be humble in your heart. The humble one is pitchy and hard to carry in the back, and the one humble in his heart, is gentle and fine and is easy to carry in the back by everybody around. One like that is not a burden for anyone. One like that makes everybody spiritual by My living in him. That is why, at the beginning of the church, two thousand years ago, the priest was chose from the city, from the middle of his people, to be well known and was named and put as a servant for his people before God; a servant and not a master as the priest is today. Today one by one comes from the other side and sit as a bishop or priest over an unknown place. Oh, this is the human ordinance and foreign to those let by God. It was not so in My people; rather it was so in the worldly people, in the worldly church, not in the one of Jesus Christ.

Oh, My people, oh, My nation whom I made and knew so that you might know Me as well! I became related to you, son, and I called you My son, My people, and I work from your midst with teachers and servants, and I will increase your kindred, and you will be known, son, and will be called the people of the Lord, as I call you. The priests do not know why I call you Israel. Oh, sons, Israel means anointed; it means this: it means My name. Jacob was named Jacob not Israel, but I gave him this name so that these names may be from heaven: Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. Israel is the heavenly name of My anointed ones, no matter what people they may be, or whatever nation they may be. This is the promised name of those who will love the heaven on earth. The priest and bishops wonder about this name put upon Romania, but who does not read God, that one does not know the work of God.

Israel, My anointed one, may your anointment be My power over you and govern you, and by it to have dominion over every foreign man who would try to raise his hand against you! No one can curse you, as you are My anointed one. I am He, Who declares this word. Amen.

Sons, sons, confess to each other the things of your inner being as I commanded, for the people spoiled this order. Even if they call you sect; even if it is said that you spoil the order of the church, do what I told you, as otherwise you will not find any healing, son. I am He that spoke this: «Confess your sins to one another», and it is also I that said: «Make peace with your accusers until you get before Me», as if you do not do this, this word will be your judge. These two words of Mine are both one. Live these two in one, and if you do this, you shall no longer torment My Spirit.

While confessing do no longer play, Christians! The evil angels come with the image of confession and show Me that you have sins. Do not longer play sons. Do not accuse each other anymore; do no longer do this abomination. If you do not know to have fear at this seat of testimony, you had better be silent and say a prayer of reconciliation to God and of cleansing of folly, as look, I wait for your full growth, son of Israel. Christian, do you want Me to come and teach you this lesson? I taught the children of My garden everything in due time. I have worked upon them, as they let Me work. Do you want Me to come and teach you? Do you want Me, sons, to come and teach you? I wait for your word. Ask and I will give to you, for it is something else when you ask. I asked a son once whether he wanted to receive Me with My advice upon him and that son did not give Me any answer, and I did not go if he did not receive Me, and it is known that I did not go and that he did not receive Me.

Israel, Israel, call for Me in your weaknesses to teach you. Call Me and I will come. Teach yourself to call Me and get used to calling Me, as I stay and wait. Call Me to teach you to pray, to teach you the skill of healing. Call Me. Let no man be weak in your tribe; nor in the spirit or in the flesh. Call Me to put an order for you and upon you, as I am afraid to come; I am afraid that you do not receive Me; I am afraid that you get upset with Me; I am afraid that you hide from the things that I tell you; I am afraid Son that you talk dirty with Me. I am the Father's messenger, and I have My messengers in you and upon you, and he, who does not receive them, does not receive Me. He, who does not receive them, who does not understand My language that is on their tongue, that one does not believe into My descent, with what I am and work through the sons and among the sons without learning, without rebuke; they are not My sons, and they, who do not do according to My advice are called sons of adultery.

Sons, do not stay asunder in your heart to one another. Do not separate from one another, as this is a spirit of pride. Son, do not think alone, and let the other one think for you. Behold, I repeat this word: „Let the other one think for you, as this is what it means to learn, and not something else”. I teach you well and I want you to grow up and to know to eat from the plate, and the plate is right in front of you, not in you. The plate is a plate, and you are you, and there are two things facing each other, and they are not one and the same thing. He, who does not work within this order, has his spirit in him and not the Spirit of Jesus Christ, as I said to the Samaritan woman: «Give Me to drink». You should do the same, son. You should ask to drink from the one in front of you, as I also did. Call Me to teach you to take after Me in your work. Call Me to teach you not to boast anymore, and to escape from this downfall. Do not take after you, and rather take after Me, and I stand before you to guide you and I become flesh to show you the way with Me. I say to you: keep away from the strangers and stay with your people, with My people that you originate from according to My Spirit, according to My choice and calling.

Do not get scared of the one who nicknames you, and you should believe in Me, son, as only I speak the truth about Me and about you. The bishops come to take you in their arms, but I do not give you over to them, because you are Mine; a chosen people from those who are looking for you now. And they will look for you more and more, and they will ask you to utter a blessing upon them, but do not be mistaken in your work and do not get over Me, son. Read the book and see what I have taught you until now, and do not get out of My advice.

Sons, sons, the words that are proclaimed cannot be abolished. They were proclaimed ahead of time, to stand face to face with those that rise against these words. Let My words work, and you should work through them, as the mystery of the proclaimed word is within God's hands, and the Lord uses it. Let the book not stay closed, sons, as you have to work those that are written into it, and you should work carefully, as this book is a declaration upon those that are today. Stand by My right, as I work specially on the right side, as I also work specially on the left side. The sin of faith denial was accomplished, as this work means the Lord, Jesus Christ, and you should behave in your courtyard, as the Lord, Jesus Christ is your courtyard and His fruits from the courtyard.

I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, declare a word and say: May I be worked out and be put on a plate before you, Israel, and he, who understands let him understand. Amen. He, who does not understand, let him not understand and not sell, as I am no longer on sale; I remain in the midst of My people. Amen. I have a hired cook, and I will come to ask him if he wants to listen to Me to put Me on the plate to be food for My people. But let us work as in the beginning, as for you, My people, I abolished all the burdensome law, and it is only I that remained. The law is for those who sin, for those who do injustice. The law has nothing to do over the free ones. The law is applied there where it is violated. It has no word in another part, and may I not be judged by anyone on the earth, as the only law that remains will be the holiness in heaven and on the earth and My love upon the new man.

My people of today, you are blessed, as this is what I said: «Blessed are those who listen to My words and accomplish them». You are the one that I spoke about through My Gospel. I called you blessed, above My mother, the Virgin, as now it is the time of the word that is proclaimed from heaven, and blessed are those who believe into My coming. Then someone told Me: «Blessed it is the womb that bore You, and the breasts which nursed You!» and I added saying: «On the contrary, blessed are those who hear the word of God, and keep it». I predestinated so great happiness for you! I called you blessed, My people, and blessed is the Virgin, My mother, for those who listen to My word, the word of her Son. She was not grieved over the choice of your happiness, and he was glad for Me that I would be obeyed and believed by you through the word. She is with Me beside you and we work at your happiness, as great is the one who believes into God's word of this time. I am He, Who prophesied God's Word, and behold, the word is being fulfilled. I have come and you have believed and listened, and you are the blessed one that was prophesied by Me; you are the son prepared by Me to meet My word which speaks from above you. Blessed are you, son, My people, but do you realize what I tell you? And if you do, how do you realize it? Oh, you shall not fall down from happiness by pride, and rather humble yourself before your brother and before Me. You should not pose as worthy of the gift that I gave you, as I gave it to you out of mercy. Keep tight to Me and pull down any trace of Babylon from your way. Get together near Me tightly, so that I may feel you close and to spread My protection over you.

It is a celebration of saints and fathers. Virginia is celebrated by all saints, and all wait for you to arrive well on the top of Golgotha of the Holy Spirit. It is the Golgotha of the Holy Spirit under your steps, people of Israel, and you are the cross of the Holy Spirit, carried on My shoulders and that slips in secretly near you to take you on its shoulders, loved people by God. The cross is the sign of victory, the tool of holiness and sacrifice of love from you to Me. You are the one who takes the cross of this time beside Me on the road of Golgotha of the Holy Spirit, which comes to an end on its top, and behold, the top is with you, as the Lord is the top. I am He, Who has carried you and He, Who has helped you, and I will protect you as I protect a little one, and My blessing will be on you until I release the last voice that will establish the day without evening over the sky and earth for their renewal.

May the seal of the blessing be upon you, and may the tabernacle of the Holy Spirit cover you, people predestinated to be happy with the Lord, your God. Give up slavery, for you are free. You should not love slavery, and pull yourself out from under it, as you are free, My people. What is slavery, son? We shall meet each other again, and you will come to give Me an answer to this word, and I will search out your wisdom and its sharpness.

Israel, Israel, the Lord, Jesus Christ, blesses you through a feast of saints, celebrated in the Synod. Oh, what a feast; oh, what a joy over the saints! I command the saints and the angels to watch over you, to protect you on My behalf, to announce you to those from the world, and you will see what this word is, as I will fulfill it in My saints.

Veronica blesses you with her love, with her care that she shows to you and with the longing that she has for you. My mother, the Virgin, works the same way over you, and she protects you and does heavenly miracles for you, My people. And My Father and your Father, rejoices and reaches out His right hand over you and keeps it over you until the great joy. You are the blessed one of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. You should not get out from under My Father's hand, as I have you before Him and I testify about you, My people, and say: peace to you, My loved people, and give Me to drink from your water! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Saint Elijah, the prophet

I come in the clouds and speak upon the earth. I am God, the Word. Amen, amen, amen. Oh, children of Jerusalem, I have come down with the entire heavenly host, and I speak upon you out of the midst of the glory. When the rain falls down on to the earth, the springs hold water from abundance, and the earth blossoms with life; however, when the chambers of the rain close, the springs begin to dry out and their bosom also dries out. This is what I do with you, My people; I keep you to My bosom to eat and that your life and your offshoot may not dry out. The voice of My word flows like a spring over to you, and I grow you up with manna from heaven more than I did with Moses' Israel. I make a spring of word come down from heaven, to turn you into a spring of word on the earth, and all passers-by to drink of you, that they may be thirsty of the living water and to look out for it, and those who drink to grow up. Israel, Israel, that is why I brought you up in the time of My coming back, so that you may tell to the world about My coming back and about My glory and My kingdom. Let the man look at you and follow you and drink from the river of My word. Peace to you, My people! In the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, I open My bosom and I come closer to give you to eat. Take son, and eat. Take My people, take from God and get used to My life within you, with Me in you, as he, who has Me in him, has life in him; oh, and what kind of life he has in him!

The man of the world does not have My live in him. Israel, Israel, teach the man of the world what it means to have life in him; teach him if you can, and I will give you a high price for it, son, but you should work carefully lest you may go wrong; lest you take and learn something from the man of the world. You should not learn the work of the world, as the man of the world has no life within him. I am the life and he, who does not have Me, does not have life in him.

The Holy Spirit is above you, My people. It is the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, and it is worked out by the word, by a spring of word of the Holy Spirit, as I promised that the Holy Spirit would come and proclaim everything that is to be brought into view between heaven and earth.

I look upon My work in heaven and I see it in the time of Ahab when My prophet Elijah closed the bosom of the heaven by his prayer to the Lord. The earth had not received rain for three years and a half. The springs dried out; the earth opened its mouth and was asking for water. The earth cracked open sons, and it was with its little mouth opened to God, but Elijah's prayer was before Me, and My compassion was bound under the word of the zeal of this heavenly servant on the earth, as his zeal was better than My compassion. Here and there had it got a few springs. And where did it still have from? Out of My mercy!

Be careful Israel, to have a spring blessed by Me into your courtyard, as it will be a great work with your spring. Be careful My people, and have Me in you, as I will do a great work with you, son. And why shall I do it? Because I proclaimed the word that I would do it, as the people that was with Me and left again for the world did no longer thought when it left that I would fulfill all those that I proclaimed and that it would be hard for the one who left Me. It will say that it did not left Me, but in no way was it right, as I am the word and I come to perfection and those who left do no longer hear Me. They are far away from the spring and do not hear Me and do not eat, and the spring that has no water dries up and he, who left, does not know what it means a dried up spring; he does not know, poor of him, that I am the spring, and that if I do not come into his ear and into his heart, he does not have Me. I do not have any other path for the sons of this work, and the ear is the gate of entrance for the word. Only those that ate, only they hear. Only the springs that receive water have water. The others dry up and their stream of the spring is clogged. Oh, what mourning was in Israel when the bosom of the heaven was not giving rain any longer! Hardly, hardly did Israel come back to Me, to the Lord. It was bound to idols; it was seized by idols and sinfulness, and it could no longer escape with its thought to God. Israel was feeble and dead, as the one without God is dead, and the one without food is weak. He, who is without Me in him is dead, but he does not say that he is dead. But I said it, and I said this: «He, who does not eat and drink of My Body and Blood, has no life in him».

I came two thousand years ago to give life to the man, but what did Israel do? It killed Me and did not believe that I was resurrected, and to believe that I was the promised God. What did it do? It bought with money the guardians who kept watch at My grave and it told them to say that

My disciples stole Me while they were sleeping. Oh, if it was true that My disciples stole Me while the watchmen were sleeping, then the watchmen had to be killed because they slept during their watch. Sons, sons, the lying of the bishops from the time of My glory by resurrection was big. Their unbelief was as big as of the today's bishops. A lie bought with money and spread on all sides, as this news has remained until today, as though I was stolen from the grave by the disciples. Not until today has Israel believed that I was God and I was resurrected after I gave Myself as a sacrifice of atonement for the man. The lying word of the bishops has power, as the people are simple minded when they have not got the Spirit of God. Israel did not have in mind to believe in the Christ that was sent from heaven, and that is why the lie bought them so easily. Israel has not believed even to this day; it has known so to this day; this is how it has believed, that the disciples stole Me while the watchmen were sleeping. However, I was resurrected and the testimonies of My resurrection spoke more than their lie, but they still have not wanted to receive Me as God. I had a small people of witnesses who stayed within My closeness and to whom I appeared alive after the resurrection, and with whom I spent time after the resurrection, and Israel came out as a liar, but its pride has kept it opposing to this day. Behold, today it is the same! I have you today, Israel of today. I have always had you close to the miracle of My word; I have had you as a people of My coming back, as I have come back through the word and I have worked so wonderfully; however, no one has believed afterwards; no one from the church, and the bishops of the church try to lie as then. But I have come out as then and I have appeared through the word, and I sit at the table of heavenly supper with you, Israel, and I give you to eat wisdom from heaven, and you testify about Me, as the little ones, who were with Me in the time of the work of My body, testified about My time in the flesh and about My glory through the resurrection.

My people, you should know, son, that you will soon meet with the tabernacle which has sheltered Me in the time of My coming of today. You will meet My trumpet, and you will see her in a great glory if you have been with Me and faithful to Me. Those who gave up My work, gave up also My trumpet, and they will no longer see her. My people, it will happen to you as it happened to Peter, James and John, on the day when I changed before them, as they saw Moses and Elijah near Me. This is how you are to see My glory soon, and you will not know who I am and who My trumpet is, as Verginica was My tabernacle on the earth, the body that sheltered Me before you. And a great glory will remain upon you, My people, and the world will not understand My love from over you. But I still have a little bit to sieve out; I still have a few empty grains of wheat, which will not be able to stand next to My glory. I still have a little bit to clean out at My table, as only the one, who believe by fulfilling the words that came with Me, is faithful at My table; all the settlement of the Edenic man on the new earth. The man with a life of Eden within him is a new man, and under him it becomes a new earth, and he will do the work of a new earth upon Romania. Amen.

What a pity, Israel; what a pity for the son who heard and tasted from this table and had not stayed until the distribution of the table gifts! What a pity for the one who knew this bosom and did not stay to eat forever of it! What a pity! And why do I say so? Because this is the greatest sin! And why it is the greatest sin? Because there is nothing left to be washed with, as the scroll rolls up, the road wraps up, and the time turns into a scroll, and the unfaithful perishes forever. What a pity for the man who takes delight in money, in days like on the earth, and in greed of earthly things! I cry over the man without God as a dead is mourned over. I will take the death out of the earth; I will remove the sins from the earth; I will take them away, so that they may no longer be on the earth, as the sins brought about death to the man; however, the people will weep for longing of sins, for longing of pleasures, for longing of lusts and of sinful joys; people will weep for longing of death, and the death will no longer be. I will take it and I will punish it into nothingness, as this is written into the Scriptures, and the sins will no longer be, and it will be the reward of the sin, as this is written into the Scriptures and the Scriptures are true.

Oh, the way is no longer seen; it is no longer seen! A great many of evil spirits conceived by people, a flood of spirit darkened and blurred the way. The way is no longer seen, but the light of My people, its white coat and God's glory will be seen above. This will be light; the place of My people, the land of My people, the new land, which will bring forth afterwards and will include in it all those that were created in the beginning; and Adam and Eve will finish their way of coming home to God and they both will be one body. Amen.

Israel, Israel, this Scripture is great: «And they will be one flesh, male and female». Oh, and what did the man do with this Scripture? He abolished this Scripture and did something else. The heaven cries and the earth, which was created at the same time with the heaven, cries, as the man trampled under his feet those that were created, those that were clean. Ask, My people, the priests and the bishops and the theologians of this age, and see what they tell you about this Scripture which says: «And they shall be both one flesh». But son, come back there where the man and the woman were both one flesh. Leave your father and your mother; leave them, as it is written to leave them, as you are not of that seed. Leave them and take My word which gives you birth.

Sons, sons, when did Adam and Eve sin? They sinned when they were no longer one flesh, as if they had been one, they both would have thought like God. I wanted to repair the mistake made by Eve, and I told Adam to separate from Eve, so that I might start all over again from there where Eve was not created yet. I told Adam to put away the sin, which arose in Eve, which is Eve. I told Eve that she would die since she gave rise to sin. I told him not to give up to death and that Eve will die. But Adam did not want to separate from Eve and he said that if she died, he did not want it otherwise.

Do you see My people, why I ask you to separate from the one in your house that is not with Me? To save you son, and then also for you to be a savior and not a mortal one. Be one body with Me, son, as you have no one to be one body with, as the Scripture says. Do not do as Adam did, who did not want to separate from Eve, who listened to the devil that tears the man apart from God. Adam and Eve were one flesh as long as they had listened to their Creator, and they were the Lord's perfection in the man. When man and woman separate themselves from their fathers and mothers, then they are born of God and become one flesh; one Christ in them both, and they are born of immortal seed, of Christ, the One, Who created Adam together with the Father.

Behold, sons, the world will be born again; the world will be renewed as it is written. The world will receive its first appearance, the one from its beginning. The visible world will be included in the one that is invisible, so that the invisible one may be seen into the visible one, the world created by God and not by man. The man that was born of the man got into the earth again and will come out of the earth as in the beginning, at God's word, at the work of God's hands. The man will be made out again from the earth. Every man that knew God will get up in an immortal body and will stand before God. God's man will come back into Eden. It is written into the Scriptures about the new birth of the world, about the renewal<sup>90</sup> of the world. You shall not stagger My people, as the fact that you are today in the body, that you are today with God and that you have got a skin from God, is a great work from God through you. I will put you face to face with Elijah, the prophet, as the beginning is joining with the end; the first ones are joined to the last ones, and we all will be one body. Amen.

Israel, Israel, what does this mean, one body? Soon, you are to answer what this Scripture is about. He that is joined to a body of a prostitute is one flesh with her, as the Scripture says: «They both shall be one flesh». He, who is joined to Christ, is one body with Christ; you and Him, one body. My people, the first time is coming; not lusting is coming on the earth. The man that does not sin anymore is coming on the earth. Christ is coming, sons; He is coming. I am the Lord, Jesus Christ, and I became one flesh with you, My people. He that is one flesh with Me can no longer sin. He that is not one flesh with Me becomes one body with the sin. Elijah, the prophet, had no lusting in his body, and that is why he had so much power in word and deed. Israel, you should not look to get an answer from your body to save your soul from the condemnation of the sin. The body does not sin until its mind gives to it the conceiving of the sin in the body. Turn your mind into heaven to have God in it, son from the end, as all the heaven has to come down in you and on the earth through you. The heaven comes to an end too, as it is written, and it will come down upon you when its dwelling and waiting will come to an end; it will roll up like a scroll and it will be given to you son of God from the end. I come with the clouds as it is written. The clouds also come with Me, and they remain with Me upon you and in you. And why do the clouds also remain with you? So that you may have, son, something to take you into the invisible ones; to be taken, as I am, on the clouds and with the clouds. If I come, I come with everything I have; I come to take you with Me; I come for you to take Me with you and both to stand before the Father with this kingdom of new heaven and new earth as it was in the beginning. Who has ever heard that such a little accomplishment, which is within your reach to fulfill, may hinder you? And if you do not want to fulfill the entire preparation, who has ever lost what you are to lose, son called and elected to stand before Me on My coming? Be faithful Israel, as it is not enough if you are called and chosen. The faith perfects you; it makes you to be complete. Without it you do not do everything that is to be done. That is why I declared in your time: „So great a faith like yours has not been heard through the ages”. The one with a clean heart that cannot escape and wants to be with Me, I save him with My angels, but I leave the one that takes Me jokingly. «One will be taken, and the other will be left». Take a good look, that this prophecy is seen into My work. He that is left is the one that gives up My work, the skin that I gave you within this time. He that is taken<sup>91</sup> is the one who goes with Me and with My word to the place where the heaven meets the earth in view of waiting for those who will finish their way well.

Go, Israel, go! Go with Me on the way, even if you do not see the way with your eyes, as the day is coming so that the world may see that you have My way under your steps. You do not have to see it. The unfaithful one has to see it! Elisha, the prophet, did not see with his eyes the heavenly host, ready for battle for him and for his escape, but Gehazi saw the chariots and the heavenly host; the disciple looked towards the Lord at Elisha's request and believed into the word of Elisha's faith.

Go, Israel, go! Go My people, go on My way with you, as I also go on your way with Me, and behold, I go. And we take a break of word and sit at the table for a supper of Emmaus, and after we eat, we work again, what we have to work. What do we work with? We work with our mind, with our heart, with our deed, with our step, and we work with all our spiritual members: with faith, with love, with patience, with peace; we work with the new proclamation; we work with the resurrection. Now we come to a stop to eat and drink, and then we travel again; we still have a short travelling to do and at the end of our travelling is the celebration of the end.

Go, Israel, go, for if you stay, you no longer go. Go son, as he who stays gets lost on his way, as the road turns into a scroll; the road that leads to the Lord does not remain unfolded. It rolls up behind and it is kept by angels behind you. Go manfully, as only one road goes to the Lord. Watch out for the side roads and to not turn to the left or to the right, as the road behind turns into a scroll, and you remain on the paths without spirit on them. Go son, go. I wait for you at the spring to give you to drink. Go, as here is what I do: I come into your way with the little wooden pail and I give you to drink. Go, son Israel, as this is My desire, and we both will be one body, I and you, Bridegroom and Bride, man and woman, as you are of a single one, sons of Israel; you all are one bread, one body, and you eat of the same bread, and we will always be one body. Amen.

May My supper of today be blessed, Jerusalem, loved son, and you should be alive, My people! May you have a glowing countenance from the fire of the Holy Spirit, of the love of the heavenly fire! May the heaven, the earth, the air, the water and everything into My way with you, bless you! May a fragrance of resurrection remain wherever you pass by! May the dead come out of the graves wherever you walk and sing „Christ is risen!”, so that Israel, that has been unfaithful to My resurrection to this day, may hear!

Go, Israel, go My people, go as Israel went with Moses, but go obediently to Canaan, and enter alive into the garden with milk and honey.

Go, Israel, go. Go son, as Elijah, the prophet went, as he went full of longing to meet Me, and he did.

Go, Israel, go, until the visible meeting of the heaven with the earth; go there where the two worlds become one, as the wall from the middle will be removed and we all will be one body.

Go and go again. Go, Israel, go, as you go on the way of the glory of the New Jerusalem, and I made you a passing passport through the barriers of the world, and the world will know you as Jerusalem.

Go, Israel with a new name, as I bought you a travelling ticket and the whole world knows your name.

Go, Israel, as My trumpet is on your forehead with its name, and the citadel of the New Jerusalem was proclaimed on the earth, and it is establishing on the earth, and after that, I will establish it for immortality. Amen.

The Lord, God of Israel, has spoken to His people. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Assumption

Love comes down from heaven on earth. Amen. Love became word, spread over Romania and speaks; and the voice and the word of love are being fulfilled. Love comes down and speaks. God is love. Amen. God speaks in Romania. The Lord speaks over the people of His word. God speaks the word of love.

Peace to you, My people born of word, and I want to give birth through you to all Romania by My word; and I want to give her birth out of love, so that she also may be love before Me. Peace to you, My people, as the news spread to all the ends that God speaks from heaven with you, that the Lord sits above you and speaks His word over you. I turned you into a gate, My people, a gate through which My word enters to the people. Peace to you, blessed people! Peace to those who love you, to those who believe in Me through you, by My word given to the people by you.

Oh, how much love I have put in people, as the man fell from eternity and virginity! Why, Christian, did the man not understand how much love I have put for the man? I have first created all the beauties, all that can be more beautiful and blessed, and then I sat and worked out the man with My own hand, to have someone to give everything that I created. Oh, how much suffering on Me, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit! How much suffering on Me, when I saw that the man fell from the heavenly good! Oh, My people, how much love I have mixed with My pain and how much I have suffered loving, loving and waiting to see the man near God again! I have worked afterwards for five thousand years to repair the things the man has spoiled. I have dwelt by the word in the prophets and I have let My anointment among the people, as My prophets and My anointed ones have worked with My word in them for five thousand years, My people. In the beginning I had worked for five days, and on the sixth day I made the man to give him everything that I had worked for five days, and the man had crushed them all; he had crushed the eternal life of those created by Me. Then I had worked for five thousand years to bring the man up into the eternity, and in the sixth thousand years I had been creating a new man. Oh, My people, and how had I done this? Behold, I was the Man, as I became the Son of Man within the sixth thousand years. I became Man, so that the man may know how he had to be, how he had to multiply and how he had to work before God. And behold, within the seventh thousand years I have been with the word over the earth, and no one is ready for this love, for this descending of love.

Love came down on to the earth, and the man does not know what wisdom is. Love calls the man. Man, where are you? Oh, you hid yourself; you hid yourself because you are naked. For seven thousand years you have been walking naked. The man that is born of the man is naked; he is barren. He is born naked of man, and naked he goes back, and behold, Love calls the man so that he may not go back again. Let him get up; let him cover himself and go forward, as Love is waiting before him. Man, born of man, Love waits for you to be born of it and then to know what wisdom is, as wisdom is a loving spirit of people.

My people, I enter the gate to call out the man. My people, My child, stand in the gate and give life to the word, which calls out, to the man. I am the word. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, am called the Word of God, (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) God from God, God Who came among the people from God. At the beginning I had Israel as My people, and I was speaking upon it, and Moses heard Me and worked to give to Israel eternity, virginity and the Canaan, and the man did not want even then to come back to God. I have Israel again in the end and I called Israel, Romanian. Israel means the Lord's people. Israel is the name of the Lord's people. Oh, Romanian Israel, behold, in the end I made you My people and I called you Romanian, the new chosen Israel, and I said: «Peace to you!». Israel, Israel, the Lord God calls you to become the people of the heavenly happiness. Romanian Israel, your Creator is calling you, as behold, I gave birth to My word in you, and I give birth to it on and on, as I always become word before you and I call you to go ahead and not come back any more. Look Israel, how I graze My sheep born of My new word, and keep the track of the sheep, Christian, as I put My flock before you, and I am the Shepherd and the Teacher. Israel, keep the track of My sheep and eat as well, so that you may grow up in wisdom and to learn the lesson of the kingdom of the heavens on earth and to become a builder, Romanian son; a builder of the heavenly kingdom between heaven and earth. Those that the man has built for seven thousand years are not good, sons. Only those that are built by God are good. Come for a work of heavenly masonry on the earth! Come, Romanian, come Christian, as the Romanian is the chosen people from the end. Come to build the kingdom of the heaven, as this is how I did with Adam. I created him to build the kingdom of the heavens, and he built disobedience. The first stone was disobedience, and everything that has been built for seven thousand years is built on it. And what has been built on it? It has been built lust; and the lust conceived and became sin, and the sin blamed the man and it has been standing against him for seven ages. But in the sixth age I made a new work, proclaimed by Me through the prophets. I came and I sown Myself into the Virgin, and I was the seed, I, Who came from heaven; I became Man in the Virgin and I was born a baby and I grew up a perfect Man, and then I stood with much love as a man to taste the death to break its power by My resurrection from the death.

My people, My people, who can understand what I did in the sixth age? I made the new man; born and not created. I made the work of the birth of the new Man. I came down from heaven among the people, as I had to give birth to every man from Me; from Me and not from man; from Me through the man, by the work of God's hands. The First Man was the work of God's hands, and I also want to make this kind of work in the end. In the beginning it was the man's creation, a worked out creation, and in the end it is a man's birth, a birth through the word, not through the man; a birth from heaven on earth, as it is written: «He, who is not born from above, from heaven, cannot enter into God's kingdom».

Israel, Israel, My dear people, I let the word through the Scriptures, and I spoke about the new birth of the world, and I prophesied about the world's renewal. Oh, My people, I also finished the seventh age, and I made a step of a new age, and who can understand the Scriptures anymore? I sent the angel and I asked the Virgin so that I may sow Myself into her, and she received Me. By what did she receive Me? She received Me by her word, and she said: «Behold, the handmaid of the Lord» and in that moment the Word was conceived and grew up and was born: he was born by a closed door, as that door was not used and the Virgin remained virgin. Behold, this is what God worked, the One Who made the heaven and the earth and the man. God worked out a birth from the Virgin and did not spoil the virginity through child bearing, but the man has no longer wisdom.

Oh, My people, I am with you in a heavenly celebration on the earth, and we celebrate the mother Virgin. The joy of heaven with you is in celebration. It is My mother, the Virgin, celebrated by the people chosen in the end.

Rejoice, mother Virgin; rejoice near the new people and help the small one, as you helped Me in the time of My infancy and childhood, until My full perfection. Help the small one, swaddle him, feed him and grow the little one up quickly, the one born of God by the word, as he who is born of God is included within God's kingdom. Rejoice mother Virgin, and teach the small one the hope in those that are promised by the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit; the hope in the renewal of the world. Amen.

Oh, how much love I have given for man! I, the Son of God, became the Son of Man, to make him son of God, born of the Son of God.

Man, where are you? Do you hear My voice? Oh, you hid yourself, because you are naked! You have been naked for seven thousand years. Behold, My word breathes upon you. Receive from My Spirit and let you be born of the Holy Spirit and stay swaddled in the Holy Spirit, as I call you son. Man, I love you and I call you. Love calls you. The pain of love is long; it is as long as seven thousand years. Man, My work, I came down from heaven after you; I came down into this little village and I made a cowshed of word in it and a path to the people. I made a garden of heaven and I hover above it and speak the word of the renewal of the world, and I call the man out to become eternal, to become virgin and to let him be taken over by life without death. Amen.

Man, fruit of the sin, come to a godly nature, as the Word came to give you birth from it, and that you may come then to life. Man, take from the fruit of life and fill yourself with life, as I am the way, the truth and the life. Amen.

What way did you choose, dear man? As the price that I gave to redeem you from the way you chose was expensive. God died for you, and then He rose to life and said: «I am the way, the truth and the life».

Oh, My people, I am the way, Romanian Israel, and I gave Myself to you to have a path and to walk on it. Take care of your walking and search yourself well and walk on the path, son.

The man has to be adopted by love. The man must have a mother's love. The man must become a baby at the bosom of love and to call it mother. The man must be the fruit of love.

Man, fruit of the sin; let you be born of love, of its word. It is waiting for you to feed you on its fruit. Love is life without death. Love is God. God is love and the man will be new, a man after God's image and likeness. This is the work for the new birth of the world, and behold, the heavenly wisdom speaks upon the earth, and it is bestowed on the people to renew the world, as it is written into the Scriptures. I have been coming down for forty years and I have become word and I have become a path of descent for the man; a path for the man's ascent to Me.

I made Myself known to the people of today's church, and they did not receive Me, and they have not known the Spirit of God, Who has spoken in the end; and they did not receive the comfort of the Holy Spirit into their church. They brought the Word again under the law and under the judgment, as it was two thousand years ago. The people of the church say that they have education; they say that they have knowledge. Where do they have knowledge from? Oh, Paul also had knowledge and education taught on the earth, but until I made his knowledge blind, I could not use him as a tool of My word; I could not, as I also cannot do it with the man of the church today. The Church has its own business; it has no time of the Word, which comes from heaven, from God. The Word comes; the Word came as it was written into the Scripture, but the church broke its way. The Word of God came and made itself a people; and it has a people, and it has a church, and it has a manger, and the Word of God is being born in it. The Word is the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit.

Oh, people of the Word; oh, church of Jesus Christ, Jerusalem, New Jerusalem, made out by God! Take son and eat the word, as the church from the world went to sleep, and it does no longer wake up to eat. The church sleeps its own sleep, and it does not wake up from its sleep. I woke it up to hear My word, and then it went to bed again, and it does not wake up to stand before Me. He, who serves the sin, does not understand God; he has sin as his father; he has no time for God. But the man who fulfills God's commandments, has knowledge, has a sober spirit and it is a son of love, a son of God, as it is written into the Scriptures: «But as many as received Him, to them He gave the right to become God's children, to those who believe in His name; who were born not of blood, nor of the will of the flesh, nor of the will of man, but of God».

Love comes down from heaven on earth. The love became word and is laying down on Romania. Peace to you, Romania, as you have the people of My word in you! Peace to you, as I want dress you like a bride and to give you birth from heaven and to be My bride; to make you virgin and to make you eternal; to give you the gifts that the man lost at the beginning. When Adam had a new son in the place of the murdered one, he said: «Behold son, in my own likeness and after my own image» and from that son the man has multiplied on the earth in Adam's image and after his likeness, as it is written. Adam was created by God in God's image and after His likeness, but when the man was born again of the man, he was in Adam's image and after his likeness. The man born of the sins must let himself be born from heaven, from God, from God's love for the man.

My people, you should be bread and salt for the poor and for the rich. My people, you should be a staff for the weak that will come to the path. My loved people, may you be blessed, and may you celebrate My coming, as behold, I have always come towards you and I speak from above you and I guide you and I am the path for you, My people.

Romanian Israel, come to the feast of My word, as the heavenly table is in the midst of Romania. Israel, Israel, you should make the cross right and you should make your life right to follow Me and to come at My table. Peace to you, My people! Peace to you, son; to you and to those who believe in Me and in you! To those that believe that you are My people, I give My peace and unfold My path, to see the way and to follow it.

My people, behold a heavenly supper; a supper of word in Romania! Romania, Romania, may all the holy heaven and all the heavenly powers bless you, and may you get up, daughter, and be a heavenly church in the middle of the nations of the earth! Peace to you, My country! Peace to you, Jerusalem, New Jerusalem! Peace to your anointed one, who has the anointment from Me! Peace to your body and spirit! Peace to you, Romania, New Israel, New Jerusalem! Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the Birth of the Lord's Mother

I come down with a celebration to Israel. The Lord comes down, Israel; the Lord with His tens of thousands of saints, with His mother Virgin and with a feast of birth and heavenly longing. Amen.

I come down into the orchard to see the fruit of the autumn.

Israel, Israel, little tree of spring, the autumn has come, son, and you are still a vernal little tree; you are thin and feeble. I put props for you and I strengthen them to sustain you and for you to become an autumn tree in which the birds of the sky may come in, the Spirits of the Lord. Autumn has fruit and spring has flower. In the autumn one gathers together and eats of the fruit. What shall I do now if you do not bear the autumn fruit? Why are you not a little tree and a tree? Why, son? I was both man and God, and so you also should be, Israel; to be a man with a godly nature, son, to disagree with the evil so that it may go away from your way. This is what I did, and the evil left from before Me, and you should also work, Israel, little tree of the spring; Israel, little child of breast.

The Lord, God, requires from Israel a full growth and a condition of a perfect man. Amen.

Peace to you, My people! Peace to you, My cluster, My cluster of trees, as I will make you into a great plantation in the days to come. I was both man and God, and I want to get you used to My work from earth and heaven; to rebuke the evil so that it may go away from your work with God. I was taken by the spirit into the wilderness, and there I was tempted by the devil. It wanted to see if I was the Son of God and it could not find out, as I did not do to his liking, and I rebuked the evil and the evil left. What was the evil? The evil was the spirit of the world and the dominion of the world that satan wanted to give Me, as he gives it to any man. But I was and I am, both man and God, and I overcame the evil, which followed Me into the wilderness. The man can learn from Me, that if he worships God, it makes the devil ashamed and he does not worship it. What does it mean to worship the devil? It means to do its will.

Israel, suckling from the bosom of the heaven, you should be an autumn tree, as the storm of the weather of nowadays bows down the trees. A storm of false prophets filled the paths of the world and pose as God's prophets. Oh, that is why I have always been telling you: „Read the Scripture, son, to fill you up with the Holy Spirit”. Be skillful through the Holy Spirit to know what it means to be a prophet, so that you may know that all come to a stand in front of this work. All the springs will come dry; all will be troubled, as the man is full of pride; and more, he put the name of God before. False prophets do not know what it means to be a prophet. Women with their heads uncovered, oiled with dyed make-ups, nail-polished and adorned, people of all kinds; they pose as Orthodox and some of them even say to the world that they also are with My word of the New Jerusalem. But I now tell the world what it means to be a prophet, and what does this people of Mine mean. My people does not walk on the roads. It walks only after Me; it comes only at My call. My people does not have gifts, as its gift is the word of God, which is coming down to guide them. My people does not take after the prophets, for it has Me as a helmsman; it has the word of God before it. Before Me the science, the languages, the gifts and the prophecies die down as it is written. Amen.

My mother, the Virgin, saw My archangel that announced Me to her, and no one heard her boasting about gifts or that she demanded honor. She was a holy virgin in the night of the sins of the world, and out of the flesh of this virgin, the Son of Man, Who was the Son of God, was kneaded. She brought Me up and stayed under My shadow; and she stayed at My feet, to serve her God. This little child is a mystery. This mystery went with her entire body into the heavenly ones, into those that are not seen, as those that are from heaven are those that are not seen. The heaven begins from the earth upwards. The void in which the man is included, the nonentity that cannot be grasped by hand, that is, the being of the heaven, which surrounds the man. The man is embraced by heaven, but the man has not got this wisdom. Sons, sons, this is what I said: «The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool». The man is included in heaven, and the heaven is My throne. The man's body has the form that I, the Lord, gave to Adam, the first man. And the man took his body, and the end of the body came also from Adam. The man receives his birth of above from Christ, a heavenly birth, and he also receives an immortal body from Christ, with which he will inherit forever.

Israel, Israel, the time has come to redeem the body that God made; as the body made by God was an immortal body when it was made. It was worked out only from the good, only from God, only by God, and I made him master over the good, to inherit it, and to inherit God, and not to have any other wealth; not to have other formation. And if I made him master, he took My dominion and did evil with it. The evil was not in the man. Evil was not in man. Evil was taken from man, it was eaten by man, it was taken by man within the womb, and the man is born of this dough. The fruit taken by man of the tree of the knowledge of good and evil is the dough the man is born of. The man received dough of disobedience in the womb. This tree also fell down and became sin. It had stayed as long as its fruit was not enticing, and after that it became sin and fell down from heaven at the same time with the man. Since then I have proclaimed the mystery of the child Virgin that sweetened the fruit of the fallen tree, to raise the tree back to its place, among the trees of the heaven; to raise the man among the trees of the heaven and for him to eat with obedience from the trees of the heaven.

Israel, little tree of spring, I want to turn the man back among the trees of the heaven. Christian, you should become an autumn tree and be ready to be eaten to the joy of the Lord, the Creator. The Virgin child was a tree of the heaven, and this tree bore fruit, and the fruit healed the tree; it healed the man who ate from the fruit of this tree.

Oh, mother Virgin, little fruit tree with one flower! Oh, mother, little tree from heaven! You bore one fruit, and your fruit healed the man of death.

Israel, love people, I would tell you son a great mystery, but I cannot, as the man of the church hears Me and makes Me heretic, both you and Me. But the Virgin, My mother, will come with Me, and then I will proclaim her mystery. The man of the church blasphemes and blames you if he finds out from you My mystery about the Virgin girl, about the Mother Virgin. Her birth is a great mystery. She is called a tree of heaven. She was born from heaven. She was born by the word that I declared to the serpent, which deceived the thought of the woman. Her seed was God's Son, and from this seed the new man is born, from the word, as this Virgin was born even from that time, by the word that was proclaimed then. The word was born then, and she appeared now.

The mystery of a prophet is a great mystery, but what does the man know? The man believes that prophet means a way of gaining praise, of gaining wealth. The man believes what he believes, but he does not know what he has to believe and work. My mother Virgin did not pose as a prophet; she did not exalt herself to demand honor among the people. She was humble and clean in heart and deed, and her gift was the love of God. But the earth is full of people, who pose as people of heavenly gifts. People that serve idols pose as people with heavenly gifts, and people stay in a row to come in to them. Frivolous men and women come at the gate of My manger to show their gifts; people that do not look for teaching anywhere. They come here to teach those that are Mine also, but I am here with the spring of the gifts. Oh, sons, if I guide the man to the spring of the gifts, even if I guide him by a gift of a guide up here, from now on he should drink of the spring, as he does no longer need a guide if he found what he was looking for. And if he did not find, one like that does not know what he is looking for, if he does not know how to find and value and how to humble himself before God, the Spring. My mother, the Virgin, was lying down at My feet and was praying to Me to do well to the poor and downcast, to those who walk through the darkness, and I was her gift. She, with her love, gives light to the darkness of the man's life in the world, as the world does not have any path; the world has changing paths. My mother, the Virgin, called herself the Lord's servant, and God called mistress, the one that named herself servant. Why is it said that she is the mistress of the heaven? Because she ruled the heaven and did not turn it into a body. She kept her body God's heaven and throne, as the heaven is the Lord's throne.

Israel, my dear little tree, the mystery of the deified man is great, as the man received his godly nature from heaven. Israel, thin and little tree, you should be a tree of the knowledge of good, and you should no longer test yourself with the fruit of evil, as the fruit of evil, if you take it and eat, it grows within you and becomes man, and it makes of you father and mother of evil. Israel, Israel, baby that came out of My word of forty years, the one proclaimed in the time of Abraham! Israel, people nursed by heaven! Come, My love, towards growth and autumn. Come quickly son and ripen yourself fully! Come, as I also come! The buds are counted in the autumn, and I come to choose you as seed and to take you into My palm and to put you down on the table of the Holy Trinity; the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Behold, take a good look and see well. Every science and every language have come to an end by themselves, and it will remain before Me the deified man, who feeds on knowledge from heaven on the earth. The wisdom from the earth is born of the man, and the man is fallen, as the human wisdom is also fallen. The man who serves the sin has wisdom after the sin, as he puts out what he eats. The wisdom of the man wanted to take God's place and became a God for itself, as the learned man does not receive God as his master. The learned man has the school of the sins, as if he had it not, he would not love the school from the man. The learned man cannot escape from death, but he, who puts an end to his school and sciences and languages, rises to life and becomes a baby at God's bosom; and he becomes love, and the love brings about love, and it never dies. Sons, sons, school is arrogance, and arrogance is the death, which has been dwelling upon the man for seven thousand years. The learned man does not know his purpose, as he has to talk to God, but here, the sons of the people are not God's sons. The wisdom of the man wanted to take God's place, but behold, I came and it is silent before Me; it is silent and it will be silent, as it is written into the Scriptures.

Man, you can do only what is good on your way; you do it in vain if you do not do it on the way with God. I do not need your good to take and to pay for it. I am in need of My good in you, not yours, as he, who is not from God and with God on the way, that one is not. The Son of God became the Son of Man to turn the sons of the people to God, but if the people do not believe in God, they cannot do any kind of good for heaven. God Man died, and God Son went down into the hell and took out those who were waiting for Him to come after them. And then God Man arose and the man also arose, and the man became god. People take people as gods; gods that die like people.

The people that do this are guided by the dark angels that fell from God. The people that have God as master are guided by the good angels that stayed with fear and attentiveness obeying God. How comes then, for the man to have God as his master? What does it mean a man with the name of a Christian, who has the Lord as his master? It means to stay with attentiveness and fear on God's commandments, and with obedience, as the good angels did, and who did not fell; it means to work everything that God commands, as the angels obey and do what are given to them to do for a good and heavenly work. And behold, the sons of the people do their own will, and they do not have the Lord as their master. The people stuffed by their own science say that I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, was one man of that time, a man with power and that is all. They take Me after their own likeness, as they also are gods for themselves; they are a kingdom for themselves, but they did not rise as I did through the death; they did not ascend into heaven. They are from the earth, but I came from the heaven, from the Father, in the Virgin. They do not like to believe in the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, as they should believe. They are sons of the people, and the live that way, but they who have as master, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, speak with God; God speaks with them and they remain for life and not for death. I am the eternal life, and he, who has Me as food, is nourished with the eternal life.

The learned and rich people are the poorest people on the earth, as they serve the lying and remain with it as their possession; with it and with many spirits, which swarm over their thoughts and hearts.

Israel, Israel, I stood once with My disciples in the midst of the crowds which were looking after us. I was speaking with My disciples and told about the blessed ones, about those that are blessed; however, I called them so before the multitudes; it was them that I called blessed and not the multitudes. I told them that those that are poor in their spirit are blessed, that the kingdom of heaven is theirs. The rich in their spirit do not have room for the kingdom of heavens in their thoughts, but the poor, that are clean in their thoughts, are blessed, and they have this blessing and comfort in their spirit.

Man, man, you have to fulfill all that is in agreement with God's commandments, but if you are haughty and proud, you are a dark angel, and it is of no use to you. He, who is proud with God, humbles like God. He, who humbles like man, is not in God; he has a spirit of man, which does the good without God; he works the good of the evil, and the good of the evil is part of evil and not of God. He, who does not believe in the Son of God, Who came from heaven on the earth, sins against the Holy Spirit. Oh, if an animal had the speech of a man, it would put the unfaithful man to shame. Oh, the disbelief will come to an end, as I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, will show My glory before the unfaithful, and I will thrive with you, people of God's word.

I have come into your midst, My people, with the Virgin, My mother; I have come with a feast of birth. In the beginning, God took the woman out of the man and in the end He took the man out of the woman, as male and female, means man. I will come and give birth from heaven to every man who will understand the mystery<sup>92</sup> of the birth from above for the eternal life. I will come visibly<sup>93</sup>, Israel, My people, as it is written about this coming. The seven ages were sealed, as God counted to seven in the beginning as well. I will appear with the eternal age, which began between heaven and earth, for I do this work with you, My people, and then we will have the harvest, and at the table of the new age, we will eat imperishable food for the incorruptibility of body and spirit. Amen.

Sons, sons, I have been crying for forty years and I have been asking My people to listen to everything that I give him to work upon himself, so that I may dress him for incorruptibility by obedience. I taught you My loved people, and I look at your obedience and I still see carelessness, and I see that you are not afraid of My word proclaimed to you. I asked you son, to be clean, you and your entire house, as I told you that angels and heavenly guests come into your house and at your table, and I told you to be careful, so that the heaven may feel fine with you and into your house. I have always blessed everything you have had, and I do the same now, but I have to remind you again to be clean, Christian, to be clean, My people. You should eat from vessels that are clean and kept clean, and when you leave the table after you eat, take water quickly and drop Holy Water into it and wash the dishes and the table this way, as behold pain and shame on Me, when I see that the evil spirit touches and sucks from the food blessed by prayer. The evil spirit becomes a fly and lays down on those that you eat. Oh, and how long I have been waited for you not to have any garbage into your households; however you should rather have sweet-smelling flowers, basil, roses and lilies, so that you may have an assembly of angels around you, as the angles are drawn to the heavenly fragrances and to heavenly cleanness.

Wash and make a quick sweep son, after you thank God for the food on your table. No one should be cleaner and more taken care of as at your place, and be careful, that this cleanness may not only be clean but also be kept clean. When you sit at the table, son, you should have your house and your table clean, as then, the Lord and His guests sit at the table with you. Let there be no other little corner without order into your courtyard, sealed by God for you. Chase away the fly, son, and pray to heaven for the perishing of this spirit, as the fly carries the evil spirit everywhere, sons, and it defiles it, and it leaves dirtiness of evil spirit on any clean place. The evil spirit takes the body of a fly, sons. Fill up your houses and your courtyards with fragrances of flowers, as the fly does not stay anywhere but in dirt and it is born of dirt. Where does the dirt come from? From man, from animals! But the dirt from the man has sin in it, and I asked you to be holy, as the evil spirit does not touch the saints to eat.

My people, do not do so much work before cleaning into your household. Let the evil spirit not feed on anything that is yours. You should protect God's blessing and have Holy Water sprinkled everywhere on what is yours. Keep your body and your spirit clean, My people, so that you may have power, son. Listen to everything that I asked you to have power, and when you rebuke the evil, let the evil leave you and be in submission on its leaving.

Son, you should be clean when you touch the Holy Communion, as I am God, dear son. Take great care to be clean at My table, and ask Me to teach you perfectly the cleanness from My table, as otherwise you hit yourself, otherwise you smash against Me, and smashing you get hurt and you also hurt Me. Be careful, as now you eat a new Passover. Be careful son, as now you eat a new age, and you should be the first, as in the school on the earth, he who learns best is the first.

I have someone who fell and got hurt. Be careful, son, as anytime you come to Me, you should be clean, and you should be prepared, as one has to come to Me. You should not be angry when you come; you should not come with thistles; you should not come unwashed or with strange scents; you should not come intoxicated; but rather you should come as one of My good friends, as My closest one, as one that I love most, as one that I know best, My loved people. Do you know how to be at My table, son? You should be like the apostle of love, like John, that I loved, who sat at My table leaning against My chest, and this clean and loved son was a comfort to Me. I loved him much, and I love him much because he was clean and because he did not love the lust, and because he had courage to lean against My chest. Did you see the unprepared disciple at the table? He came and ate unprepared and then he fell into his sword and got hurt.

Sons, sons, give up to disorders; give up to everything that defiles you, and be as I required you to be. Be as in the book and do not step over the word of My teaching, so that you may be called unprepared then; that is thieves. The fruit does not have to be stolen when you eat it. It has to be taken with the agreement of the master, with his knowledge and according to his will. Be like John at My heavenly table, and then be like those from heaven if you sit at the heavenly table. I want you to be the sons of the Lord by your free love. I want you to love the fulfillment of My word, as I spoke a word to you, so that you may no longer stay covered by a cloth that catches fire. (Of synthetic materials, r.n.). Oh, why is it so difficult to you to fulfill this word? Do I really have to speak it again to you? And behold, I speak it again to you: take out of your houses and off bodies everything that I told you to take out. Do not mourn that you do not have money; do not murmur at the fulfillment of My word. But when you went to buy what is not blessed, how did it come that you had money?

Oh, clean yourselves and your houses. Work out the fulfillment of My word and be Christians, and be Romanians like Romanians, sons, and be prepared when you take from My food; prepared with fulfillment in everything that I asked you at My table. You shall not do as the gypsies do, who ask for cakes in the church and then they swear and stay dirty; they stay dirty and ask for bread. You should not do like the priests who give the blessed food in the church to the pigs. I come and put My name over the offerings brought by the man to God, and then they come and take home the cakes and the blessed koliva, (Koliva is a ritual food of boiled wheat which is used liturgically in the Eastern Orthodox Churches and the Eastern Catholic Churches, tr.n.), and put it into the trough of the pigs. Oh, how long? Until when shall My name be trampled under feet? Do you see man, to whom you bring your offering, your money and your love? My people, you should soak the wheat only as much as you can eat, so that My wheat, blessed for heaven, may not be thrown to garbage. My people, you should take care of the bread as the bread is holy, son. Remember son when I blessed the bread into the wilderness, that I said that the broken pieces of bread had to be gathered and nothing to be lost. Why did I say so? Because that food was blessed by Me. And this is how I also bless your food when you ask Me to bless it, and you should not throw away the morsel, which has the blessing upon it, but rather you should eat it son, to be blessed.

Oh, daughter of the New Jerusalem, do no longer stay covered with a head kerchief that blazes like fire, which is worked out of fire. (Of petrochemical products, r.n.) Throw away from you everything that is passed through fire and make garments of linen and cotton cloth, as the wool is the gift of the sheep given to you as a garment, and this gift is a holy symbol.

Son, son, seek to wear a spiritual garment of an apostle of Christ; kept in speech, in conduct and in word; kept heavenly among the people. Do not be angry on others; do not be prone to anger, but rather seek to be pleasant to each other, as this means love to each other. You should not love anyone anyhow; no so, sons. Only this way and not anyhow, as those who love one another were taught wrong about what it means to love one another. You should love with joy and not because you are obliged to love. Only those who live one for another truly love each other. He, who does not give to another everything he does, does not know anything about love. And who is the other one? The one that also loves the love proclaimed by its laws. Israel, My people, you should seek son, to please your neighbor, to be pleasant by everything you do, and if you do not please him, do no longer get upset that you do not find love, as what love sows that it will also reap, son.

There is among the sons of My people a man full of haughtiness and with a sick mind, who reaps what he sows. He sows jealousy among My children; he sows murmuring and disdain for the children of this people, and behold, what he sows that is what he reaps, and he eats of this work and is empty and not pleasant to those who love God. He cannot love God. He has a sick mind and is frivolous in the feeling of his heart, and the Scripture says that some people like that are fallen in shameful passions, and this is the reward of those that are done in a sickly manner. That is why,

My people, I ask you to have a spiritual garment of apostle. That is why I keep you awake, and do not be upset and do not murmur against Me, if I always want to put you in a wakeful state, pleasant to Me and to your neighbors. Do match one another. Take after Me sons, so that you may work out the good and love to one another. Let yourselves be stolen by heaven. Let you be overwhelmed by My word and be word and eat the word and give this food to one another. Sons, do not be snakes in word. Be the bearers of the word, and be the sharers of the word. Give food to My word. How comes this? My word is like a flower, which dies if it has no water, which dries up without food and becomes barren. Sons, do not destroy My word among you, as without the word you are barren. Sons, sons, prepare the way of My word to you, and be word; be food and grow up within the word.

My people, you should not forget that everything is done by the word. You should not forget son, what creation is. The first earth was made by the word, out of the water. The earth from now was also made by the word and out of the water. But you should be careful, you who are now workers of the word into My name; be careful as the new heaven and the new earth is waiting for the creation to be finished. This new creation is waiting. Grow up sons and multiply in the word and by the word, and be born of My word; moreover, give birth further of My word to all who want to be born from heaven, from water and from spirit. Be skillful as in the end, not as in the beginning, as when I made the first earth I said to the people: «Be fruitful and multiply», and they were not careful to do this work of My word and by My word. When I made the earth of now, I also said to the people who remained on the earth, I told them: «Be fruitful and multiply». And even then there was no understanding for this word declared by God, as the man got drunk, and while being drunk he cursed and multiplied as those from the beginning. But the third time I will put an end to the evil, and behold, I work out a new birth from heaven and a reproduction from heaven; and I create the man by the word, and a new birth of the world is being made.

Oh, My people, I have slipped in a great mystery to you today. Today is a day of birth; it is a day of the third creation, of a man born of Jesus Christ, the Son of God and the Son of the Virgin. Amen.

I want to turn Romania into a salvation ark. I want to turn it into water and spirit in the middle of the fire<sup>94</sup> which burns today and which is always lighted for the creation of new heaven and new earth, and the heaven will open up and everything that is not seen will be uncovered; all the eternal things. Amen.

My dear and loved people in that I am well pleased, pray for the forgiveness of your sins, as only this way you will no longer sin, and you will stay humble before God, and brother before brother. Let him, who gives good and heavenly advice, also receive from this advice, for if he does otherwise is a Pharisee. If a good advice is not received, it has no power and receiving because he, who gives the advice, does not also receive from it, because the advice has no life in the one who gives it to another. You should give an advice with breaking of the heart, and you should be the first to take of it, and then you will have a hundredfold fruit and word like the wheatear rich in fruit.

Israel, My people renewed by My word, you should have a heavenly stature, and a growth of eternal life should be seen on you, and you should not speak like the man on the earth. You should speak like the man that came down from heaven on the earth and you should say to those born on the earth about the Mystery of the heaven and to make the heaven come down on the earth with you, son born of heaven, of the Lord, Jesus Christ, the One Who ascended into heaven to be able to come down with the heaven to you.

Israel, little tree of spring, grow up and become thick. Israel, grow up and catch fruit, as the Holy Trinity and the guests of the heaven come to eat of your fruit. You should be a tree in which everything that is in heaven may come in for shelter; the angels and the saints, the tens of thousands of saints, as it is written in the Scriptures. Israel, put the food on the table and eat. I gave you a dish. Put it into cooking and take from it and eat until I come.

Oh, My blessed people, My mother, the Virgin, blesses you and tells Me: „Son, here are Your sons; here are Your brothers”. And I, the first One born, tell you: „Behold the mother virgin of My brothers near her first born, as the virgin without a husband has sons; she has a people and she has a son”.

Verginica, little tree rich in fruit, My Mother Virgin blesses you. Verginica, child from the end, who had from Me the third work, be celebrated beside the mother of the Christians, as you have a Christian people, and no one has had a clean Christian people by now. There has always been a Christian people, but not clean at the creation of the heaven. In the time of Noah, there were eight clean people, but when they were to multiply from God they became dirty. Oh, Verginica, you have got now a clean people that follows the Lamb wherever the Lamb wants. Teach your people always not to lust. Receive the word from My word, break it and give it to the people to eat not lusting, so that this people may stick to My bosom forever and ever. Amen.

– Oh, my Lord, I am Your trumpet, and I give You praise for my people, which is Yours. Not a shepherd on the earth wants to give You his flock; he says that it is his. But I gave it to You, Lord, for You to take it over, as this is at the end of the work: the work is given to the Father to be taken over, the work that was done for the Father.

I, Lord, glorify Your mercy and love, because You call this people clean. It is clean but it still has to work to do: at his conscience, at his love, at his carefulness, at his soul, at his patience and growth, Lord. It is clean, but it still has to clean, and I urge it to this, to be like the apostle John. My last exhortation for this people was: to read the book of love, the book of the apostle of love.

Read people what I gave you to read; read until I come, as I come with the Lord soon. Read to be clean, to be full of the Holy Spirit, as the Holy Spirit cleanses you of everything you still have unpleasant in you and on you. Be careful son, at the word of the Lord, as it is nothing to add to it. Become virgin and let yourself for eternity, my people. Oh, you should grow up, to have water and light and to have the word at your table. You should grow up, my people, and should be the glory and the ladder of the Lord, as it was that mother who brought the Son onto the earth. You should be a ladder as I was the ladder of descending for the word to you, my people. You should grow up to be at the table of the Lord, Jesus Christ, where He is to sit and break the bread and to remain forever discovered by you. Grow up, son, grow up, my people, grow up. Grow up and give yourself to God as a new church, clean and eternal, my loved people. Amen.

– Oh, Verginica, what beautiful are the heavenly feasts when you sow a new seed over your new people, as it is new; it is the new work waited for seven ages. My little Mother blesses you and thanks you for all that you give Me. The Mother Virgin comforts your people and keeps vigil to help you and works with you on your mission. Peace to you, Verginica! Peace to your people, that you gave Me to be the fruit of the end!

Oh, new people, grow up son, grow up and pass from flower to fruit. Grow up and again, grow up, as I gave you growth. Grow up and come to fulfillment, as I came and I come. Grow up, Jerusalem, and become a heavenly city on the earth. Grow up, Christian, and go up to the heavenly things, to eat from them and to grow up. Grow up, Israel, grow up, My people, as Israel decreased after I had grown it up, and joined with the sons of the people, and spoiled My tribe upon which I was God. Grow up, Israel, grow up. Grow as a little tree of the good and become a sweet fruit that grows up in fruit. Grow up, Israel, grow up. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, grow up and multiply for the eternal life and for incorruptibility. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Ascension of the Holy Cross

The Word of God becomes food; He becomes manna, which comes from heaven. The Word becomes bread and wine; the Word of the Father becomes bread, because the Son is the Word of the Father. The Word of God became Man in the sixth age and had dwelt among the people and then He went up to the Father, so that He might come back to the people. If He had not gone, He would have not come again to the people, but He came so that He might take to the Father all those who believe in the mystery of the creation by word.

Be careful, Jerusalem, as the Word becomes food again. Receive and gather this manna; take and eat, My people, as I am the Word, I, the Son of the Father Sabaoth. I proclaim Myself and you hear Me proclaiming while coming to you, Israel from the end of the time. I announce My coming from the clouds, and you, little people of My garden, open son, so that I may enter the garden and that I may enter the book, to let Israel know about Me. I am in the clouds. I am with the clouds that are not seen. I am on the clouds of stars. I am on the clouds of sun. I am on the clouds and the clouds are not seen. I am on the clouds of angels, on the clouds of glory, on the clouds of cherubim and seraphim. I am carried by the clouds of My glory into those that are not seen; I am into those from heaven. Israel, son of My word, you should live in the heavenly things. Son, you should eat this manna; you should eat it every day; you should eat it day and night; you should eat it hungrily, son Israel. You should eat milk and honey from heaven, as those that are not seen are not perishable. Take and eat from the garden of those that are not seen, so that you may not be perishable, My people, and to have imperishable eyes to see the clouds of My glory, and to see Me with you, and to see you with Me, and to see, son, why I have labored over you for as long as forty years. Open to Me to see, as every word of Mine has to be fulfilled with fear and great love, and this means to open your eyes to see.

Oh, My little child people, eat manna, and do not ask Me for meat, as I will no longer give it to you. If I gave meat to Israel, what good did I do to him? Because if I did its will, Israel would come back into its death. Jerusalem, My new man, I do not want to do your will any more, and rather I want, son, to get you used to desire My will. Stop asking yourself and ask Me instead, son, why I call you New Jerusalem? Because you are made a new man by Me, and the new Man has the Holy Spirit as a dwelling in Which he stays. You are surrounded by My Holy Spirit, for the Holy Spirit is God in the Father and in the Son, from the Father and from the Son. The work of the Holy Spirit is called Whitsuntide; it is called Jerusalem, and you are My new man, born of the Son of God, the Word. You are the New Jerusalem, as the Word is the Holy Spirit; it is God in the Spirit, Who comes and makes a new man from the word. Eat, Jerusalem, Holy Spirit, and do not crave for the meat as the Israel in the time of Moses, for Israel asked for meat from Moses, because Moses was My tool for Israel. I wanted to make Israel a new man, and to get him used to eat manna, and then milk and honey. But it was not so, for he did not want it and he came back again to the meat. He did not want like Me, and rather it wanted like himself; Israel wanted like the old man. Israel, the man did not ask God when he ate meat. The man ate and the Lord saw what the man did. Eat manna, Jerusalem, for the word is heavenly manna. Eat and do not get bored like Israel.

Peace to you, My people! I sit in counsel with you, and with you at a meal of word, for it is a feast. Peace to you, My house! Peace to you, Israel, My rest and My footstool! It is feast, son, and I come to dine with you. I break Myself and I put Myself on a table of feast, the same way as I put Myself on the cross to give Myself as a sacrifice to the man. The people of Israel brought meat of animal as sacrifice to God, and God gave His Only Son as sacrifice for Israel. I put Myself as sacrifice on the cross and I broke Myself and put Myself on the table as his food. The same way you put food and bread on the table to eat, the same way I put Myself on the cross, so that you may have what to eat, you, the hungry one from the end. The man brings as sacrifice from what he has, and the Lord also brought what He had. The Lord gave Himself, so that the man may have the Lord. The Lord gave Himself to the man, and the man wanted animal and poultry meat and other living creatures.

Oh, My people, the people of My comfort! I gave Myself to Israel as food, and he was satisfied and left Me. I became the bread, which was coming down from heaven on the clouds above Israel's camp, and he changed Me for meat. He craved for meat and he, who craves, dies. When I first made the earth and the man, the man ate meat and did not ask the Lord. The man brought sacrifice to the Lord, but he did not ask the Lord. The Lord could not get into the man's craving, as the man craved and then he ate, as the sin became craving and grew in man. When I made the earth of now, the man ate meat and did not ask the Lord if He allowed him to eat.

Oh, My people, the best thing for the man is to let the Lord speak, as he, who speaks first, is the one who created the word and the deed of the word. Oh, when the man becomes God, what else shall the Lord do? Israel, after he ate life from heaven, he wanted to eat death of living creature; Israel wanted meat. After Noah arrived at the end of the flood, after the Lord told him to get out of the ship, he and his entire house and all the animals that were in the ship, after that he made an altar and sacrificed animals for God. He sacrificed them in love, but with the love that was in him, not with God's love in him. I did not tell Noah to bring sacrifice. I received his love and I said into My heart: «I will not again curse the ground anymore for man's sake, because the imagination of man's heart is evil from his youth». I said then into My heart that I will not lose or destroy all the living creatures as I did. Noah's heart was inclined to sacrifice animals after the flood passed, and if I saw this, I let it be as it was before the flood, for the man went ahead of Me and used his sacrifice too. The same with Israel; no sooner did he get into Canaan then he took and brought sacrifice to God, but God not said so. What else should God tell the man, who chooses what to do? That is why the Scriptures say that the sacrifices pleased to God are a humiliated spirit.

Israel, Israel, be wise, son, as you have before you the reward of the man who wanted like himself. Israel, the broken spirit receives from the Lord and does not bring to the Lord. The spirit of the humiliated spirit brings to the Lord what the Lord requires from him to bring. The humble man brings obedience. The humble man waits for the Lord. The humble man does not receive counsel from himself. This is a humiliated spirit and not otherwise. The humble prays for the Lord's will in him and I taught those that were Mine to pray, and this is how I taught them to say: «Lord, may Your will be done, as in heaven, so on earth».

Oh, Israel, My comfort for seven ages! On earth it is as on earth; it is not as in heaven. My child, when I came from heaven on earth, I had to take it as on earth, not as from heaven. I judged the man's will; this is what I did by My sacrifice on the cross. Noah was thinking into his mind to eat meat, to drink wine, and I approved as he wanted, and I added My will to his will with great humility, as this is what I told him: «Eat every moving thing that lives, as I have given every green herb for you». I gave to the man, but the man also gave to himself. I reminded Noah what I gave to the man as his food, but Noah's will was first and then I reminded him of My order.

Oh, Israel, Israel, the man's mind and the imagination of his mind are inclined only to evil from his youth; from the beginning, sons. But the time of the new man comes; it is coming and it has already come, as I have come. I have also come in the flesh, since I gave Myself as sacrifice on the earth; since I gave Myself as food for the man, so that the man might understand what he should eat. I have also come in the spirit, and behold, I become heavenly manna, I become word, and soon I will become full satiety for an imperishable food, which came down from heaven on earth.

My people, let your cross be meal and bed, son; a table on which you should lay before Me as a pleased and humble sacrifice. The cross that I celebrate with you today is the way that I came to the people on. I made of it a path for the man to Me. My cross was of wood, and yours is of spirit and body. Let your body be on the cross, and let My Spirit be on it. You should carry My Spirit in your body and you should be sacrifice for Me, My people, as the cross, son, was the first sacrifice table that I put Myself on as food for the man who wants to be new. I put Myself on the cross for the birth of the new man, so that the man may see the path to the new man; to see the resurrection through the cross. When I came into the way of the apostles to make them a new man, I started from where I found them. I started from fishing with them; I started from fishing as I made fish from the word, so that they may catch fish made by word and then to be able to take Me into their fishing net, and to turn them into a network and into fishermen of people for the kingdom of heavens, which is not seen by the old man, but it is seen by the new man, who comes back into his image and likeness to Christ.

Israel, you should be awake at the hearing of My word, as the one that is awake fulfills God's word. The one, who does not fulfill it, sleeps. Be careful, My people, as he, who fulfills it, is awake, and the one, who does not fulfill it, sleeps. I come and I always find sleeping the one that does not fulfill. Israel did the same. When I came, he was sleeping and did not let anyone to get up. But you, the new one, you should not have the heart of the Jew, son, as I call you son. The chief Jews sat in counsel then; the rulers of the temple agreed that when someone from the Jews believed in Me, he had to be taken out of the Synagogue. Behold, the same counsel is in the worldly church of today. The rulers of the church decided for those that believe into the word of God of today, to be threatened, to be punished, to be put into their chains, and behold, they even now do not remain with the persecutors of My word, as they did not remain then as well. I shook the dust against them and I went out, and I stuck to those that were humble, to those that had a clean spirit, and I made them a living and new seed and I started the heaven on earth with them, with those that are renewed. I do the same with the vineyard from now.

Oh, vineyard full of sour grapes! The sour grape is sour; it is not sweet and it is not good for eating; it is not good for eating. You mixed manna with meat in the belly of your soil (Your body, r.n.) and it came out sour grapes; and instead of a new man it came out an idol; it came out a carved idol, for the man worships his carved image<sup>95</sup>.

I have come and I become word, and I said that I give Myself as a gift and to wake up the flock that sleeps. I came as then to be a heavenly gift from the Father to the man that lives on meat, and the vine growers took Me out of their vineyard and put Me into the winepress and crushed Me, and out of My blood I made the new wine for the one who believes in God that came down on the earth; and My body became bread, and I became a heavenly manna for the faithful one. Israel said that he served God and when the Lord came to pay them for their faith, He found sour grapes in the faith of Israel. The church of today says that it serves God, and behold, the Word is being proclaimed for His coming in the clouds, as it is written into the Scriptures that He comes to pay for the work, and there are still sour grapes in all vineyard of today. Behold a Scripture that is fulfilled: «The fathers have eaten sour grapes, and the children's teeth are set on edge». Oh, it should have not been that way, as I put Myself on the cross for redemption, and behold, I was slandered by the man of the church, and I am again not known by the sons. But I will sink all disbelief again, for the water of the river of life flows; it flows and floods everywhere. The word of God grows and the water of the river of life becomes word and it is word, for the man does not want manna. The man wants meat; he does not want manna; he does not want the word of God. Manna is obedience and meat is disobedience, and it is free will in man.

Oh, Orthodoxy, daughter of the first faith, which I gave to My apostles to bear, with whom I walk over the land of Israel! I came to Israel in the flesh, and to you I have come in the spirit, as I promised that I come. Oh, daughter of the faith of that time! You have carried My message until today and when I was about to give you the reward, the shine and the holiness, you did as the Jews did. You did not receive Me; you did not know Me; you did not know My voice and the word that comes with Me on the clouds. You became conceited and did not receive Me; moreover, you put your hand at My mouth and you look out for your people and do not let them believe in Me, into My coming through the word, for I am the Word. Behold, you send Me away; you send Me away from your Synagogue, and I have come to do you good. I have not asked you anything but to give up your sins and to be clean, My church, but you do not want to be Mine. That is why I bowed down to you to ask you to be Mine, so that I may give you manna from heaven. That is why I have come and I have come because it was written that I come. Open My book and see that My coming is written into it, and take a good look and read well, and see that My name is the Word of God, (Rev: 19/13, r.n.), and behold, the Word came in through the prophesied coming and you sleep. The one, who does not take My word to eat, sleeps. He, who does not hears, sleeps. But you could not say that you did not hear, as the dead from the graves will testify that they heard this word<sup>96</sup>, and then you will not know where to hide in from My wrath.

Oh, daughter of today, I wanted to give you a ring with a precious stone, on which it is written My name, the Word of God. I have come with this ring to you, so that everybody may know that you are the bride asked into marriage by the Bridegroom Who comes. And you, daughter of your parents, you do not know the One Who comes, and behold, He comes; He has always come and you stay closed into His way.

Oh, vine with sour grapes, I stopped in you on a mound and I grafted a branch from the vine and I put it to be taken care of, to grow and to be multiplied, and I gathered ripen grapes from it, good to be put on the table. I took from you, and you should have rejoiced that I came to you to bring forth fruit in you, and I spoke from My tendered vineyard and I told you to come back to yielding fruit and to tending. Open to see what I have come with. I do not want to take what is yours, and I want you to let yourself for renewal, to let yourself for eternal life with Me. Open to Me, as the sinful world trampled on you and on your little dress and turned you into a Babylon. Come back from your slavery, as the sons of the Babylon came into your palaces and defiled you with them, and My heart seeing your nakedness departed from you and from your sister, (Catholic Church, r.n.) because the foreign sons took your garment away and sold it and left you naked, and behold, you drink the cup of your sister and suffer from your iniquity. The foreigners come in to you and you dress out for them and make your eyes with make-ups, and I have come to call you out, for you deceive Me as a woman deceives her husband. I do not want you to be judged by the law of the prostitutes and that is why I call you out: come back and do not do as your elder sister did; do not do as Israel did; do not do with Me as the Jews did.

Oh, Orthodoxy, I have started a fire into your midst and I will burn your transgressions into it. Come back to your holy fathers, those that sacrificed themselves for you. Come back, you, seed of Judas, as I came out of this seed, and I have let priesthood and prophecy into it, and behold, what I left is no longer clean, and what I left into My vineyard is sold on a price of debauchery. He, who violates the law that I let over My flock, is blind; that one becomes blind, blind in the spirit. I know that you believe that I am in the word and that I call out to you, but you are sorry when you see that I want to separate you from your evil will. You are ashamed of your nakedness and it is hard for you to prepare in holiness, man of the worldly church, as you do not want to belong to the Lord. You are ashamed to lose your seat that you sit on without My calling. Who chose you to serve God? And if your bishops chose you, why do not serve God? Oh, the row of the anointed, from anointed to anointed, have been broken several times, and you put the man off with fine words to make him believe that you are My anointed, that you are My chosen one, and to have him given you his tithe, and behold, you spend it on lusts, as Israel did. The man pays for you to put him into the grave; and he also pays for it. When I raised Lazarus from the dead I did not ask for payment. I raised him from the dead, and I did not bury him, and I still did not take any payment. This is what it means to be God's elected one for the people; not for the man to pay you because you baptize him, because you marry him or because you give him communion with God. What else shall I pay you if I were to give you for you work for Me? I do not pay the man with money. I pay the man who serves God with salvation, and here is the parable of the vineyard, which brings forth sour grapes. Those in the vineyard break My head when I come from the Father to search out the vineyard, and behold, the Sower Who sows the seed finds stone, a trampled path and a dry soil; He does not find good soil for sowing, for the man has much to work and has no time for heavenly seed. I will go and call out to the man of Caesar; I will go to tell him that I come and that I make My way to come, and I will call out Romania and I will work with a sweet word, as a God.

Oh, Romania, become My country. Romania, do you really not want to be Christian? Christians fast from those that are not blessed, from the wicked things. Christian love; they love humility and God's image in them and the poorness in the spirit, so that they may be happy. Christians love the Lord's works on the earth. Christians listen to God and fear the Lord and obey.

Oh, Romania, My people, which I feed in your midst, honor Caesar with the honor that is due to Caesar, as it is written into the Scriptures. Romania, I speak My word into your midst, but the man of the church, who is supposed to receive Me, does not receive Me; he says that I am the dead. I am not the dead. I am the Lord; the Lord of the prophets and of the righteous and of those who believe in the Lord. The church says that I am the dead who speaks. But who is it speaking to? The entire service, which it speaks with God and with the saints does it mean speaking with the dead? The saints, who took the heaven and the Lord as home and land, are the dead that the people of the church speak with? All the church services are words to the Lord and to the saints; it is not speaking to the dead, as the saints are not dead. The living speak with the saints into their prayers and send the saints to Me to receive from Me for those that are living in their bodies. If all the prayers of the church speak with the Lord and with the saints, shall the Lord and the saints not speak with the man? Can only the man speak with the Lord? Can the Lord not speak to the man? I can do more than man can, as I am the Word from everlasting to everlasting. I am alive. I am without death and without end. I am the Alpha and the Omega; I am and I speak upon the earth. I speak into your midst, Romania, My country. You are My country as I came back; and I come back into you and I speak the word of God in you, the word of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

Romania, I came to put a necklace on you. I came with a ring into your midst. I have My gift in you, My gift for you. I have the people of My word in you. I took it from you and I kneaded it out of My word, and I have a word in you, as My people is My word; it is the fruit of My word, and I speak upon it and say: peace to you, My country, Romania, My bride, as behold, the heaven cries to Me for you. Your holy fathers and forefathers are your heaven which is with Me. I have a heavenly feast into your midst, Romania, My Father's chosen one for His Son. It has been a feast in you for forty years. The Word of God is being spread on a table of feast. Come, My love, to the feast of the heaven! Come and eat! Come and be born of God! Come and wash your little dress into the river of life, and also wash your little shirt, and look for your little shirt if you do no longer have it, as without the little shirt your nakedness is seen through the little dress. I have come to you with heavenly apparel, of water and spirit. I want to turn you into water and spirit, a baptismal font, in which all those, who will head on the way of resurrection and eternal life, may be baptized; all the peoples that will come hearing of My glory in you, as My cross became a crown on your head; it was interlaced and became a crown of glory upon you. Let My cross be your veil of peace between Me and you. Give Me a message of peace between Me and you, Romania, My country given to Me by My Father. Rise before the peoples, you country of My coming back, as the land of nowadays passes into renewal, and it becomes a new heaven and a new earth on it, as the first earth was. Amen.

Come Romania, to be My people chosen among the nations of the earth! Come, as the people chosen in the beginning put Me on the cross and forsook Me, and I embraced you, as I found you under the cross and I took you under My mantle when I passed by you and saw you under the cross. Come to give your reward, to give the ring of precious stone! Give Me your hand to put the ring on it, as on this precious stone is written My name: The Word of God. Amen. Come for a day of wedding, My country, My bride, as this is your destiny! Come, for I come! Listen to My prayer and be My treasure, and be My path, as I come, and I let it be known that I come, so that I may not come unknowingly when I come.

The Spirits of the Lord rest upon you. The spirits of the saints are like the stars over you. The spirits of the angels stay as a crown upon you. The Holy Spirit has His throne and word in you.

Peace to you, My country, land of the Lord's feast, as where the carcass is, there the vultures also are. Amen, amen, amen.

May My people in you be blessed, Romania, the country of My return, as great is My people in you! The people of My word is a green branch; it is a fruit tree full of fruit by the spring of life, and its branches run over the wall, and I, the Lord, pour out on it the blessings of the heaven, the blessings of the earth, the blessings of the forefathers, the blessings of the eternal heights. Such blessings I put on the head of the one that I chose, My country.

Oh, people taken out of the Romanians, may you be blessed before the Romanian people, and may you bless Romania before Me, and may you be My word before it, and may you be like a voivode among your sons and daughters, My people chosen from Romanians! This is how I selected from Israel a group of people who walked with Me. This is how I worked with the Romanians and I took a people, and I call it a beginning of new age, and I have carried it like a voivode before Me, and I call anointed the people of My word, and I call you the oil giver of new anointment, of new age. This is how the Lord calls the chosen one, the one put into the dough, for a people to grow out of it; a people of the returning of the Son of God, Who comes with the clouds. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the devout Parascheva<sup>97</sup>

The Lord, Jesus Christ comes with heavenly guests in the garden. The Lord knocks at the door; the Lord speaks from the door, and His word comes through the gates of glory; it comes from the air into the air, and the Lord creates new skies. Amen.

I am sons, I am. Amen, amen, amen. I wake you up ahead of time, before the dawns of the feast morning, for My people come to the spring and I prepare food for it; I prepare food for Israel.

In the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, this is how I come when I come. And how do I also come? What do I say to you when I come? I say peace to you. Peace into My garden! Amen, amen, amen. Receive and give peace to Israel, as the name of Israel is great. Blessed are the people that bears this name, as great is the name of Israel.

Oh, sons, My language is heavenly. My letter is out of Me, and this is how I speak, as in heaven, not as on earth. The heavenly speaking is always with perseverance in it, with awakening in it, with a heavenly language in it, with heavenly languages over Israel, as heaven speaks only with Israel.

Peace to you Israel; to you My people! Peace to you that stand faithfully before Me! I speak with perseverance upon you, and you should love My heavenly language. You should not like the speaking on the earth, but rather you should like the heavenly language, which comes with Me above you and embraces you and steals your heart in you, and takes it with it, to help you love God and to remain in Him, Israel.

Let Me tell you what I see on earth! I see that someone writes a beautiful letter to a human being that he does not know, but he only heard of her. He writes it beautifully with love and longing and receives a letter of reply with love, and the longing grows between the two, and both start to know each other by letters; and they start to see each other within their spirit, and then the day comes to meet each other, and they meet each other and know each other and the joy fulfills the longing, and everything comes into view, into sight. I also write to you from heaven on earth, and I give My letter to the postmen and they bring it to you, and you let yourself embraced within Me and nourish your longing, and you hasten the day of My meeting with you on the earth, as you are an inhabitant on the earth, and I cross the heavens up to you and become word on your table and stay invisible by you until the love is perfect, until you become perfect in the One Who carries you to Him by His heavenly word, by His heavenly speech before you. This is how I have always worked over Israel, but I have never worked so close like today, as the Lord's meeting with the ones on the earth, who stay into His name before Him, is near.

The man does no longer know the God's way to the man, as the man has another love; the man loves what he has and what he does. But you, Israel, are My people, and you have anointment and special election and you know everything from the wisdom above. Be careful to understand who knows and who believes and who is elected. He, who has anointment from above, is elected. Paul, My apostle, until My anointment, did not know from above, but rather he knew from below. One cannot know from above without anointment. It is not possible to have faith into this word that came down from above on the clouds, unless you have anointment and touching with God, with the God of Israel. Be skillful, loved people, as many on the earth say that they know from revelations, but they speak their own truth, and their revelations come from their body and blood, not from the Holy Spirit of the Godly Trinity; they come from their own spirit, not from the Spirit of God. They are led by their spirit, by the spirit of their longing, as without the anointment of the Holy Spirit no one has something from the Holy Spirit. The apostle Paul could not be a heavenly worker until he received the anointment from the Holy Spirit, and then I had always worked upon him so that he might not become conceited because of his anointment from above; that he might not boast about his anointment, but rather the anointment from him might boast about him. The same with you, people anointed by God, you should not become haughty because of your anointment from Me, but rather let the anointment rejoice over you, as otherwise you receive a thorn from satan, from the evil angel, that stings you with haughtiness. You should not sting yourself into this thorn as it has happened to the people, who sting into their own thorn, in the thorn of their spirit's revelations. You have My revelation with you; you do not have your own revelations. You are something else on the earth. You are not like the sons of the people. You belong to God and serve Him; He serves you and you serve Him.

Do not let Me perish son. Keep Me alive My people. Do not give Me over to death during this time. But you are small and you know from Me how to become small in My arm, so that you may not know the wickedness of the great man, who is crucifying Me with the sharpness of his spirit. Oh, who knows to crucify Me better than the wise ones, better than those who read My wills without taking them into their inner being? Who did the Lord's crucifixion? Pilate or Herod? They did not understand who I was and where I came from. They knew their things, not Mine, but the priests knew for they were reading and learning from God, and still no one knew better than them to crucify Me. They would have not given even to God their seats and look who were the worst people in that time. The priests were the worst, the most astray from the path of righteousness. It is not that they did not believe that I was God, but they loved their kingdom which was for injustice and did not want to open the door so that their house may be seen, for their house was only gold, ornaments, silver and expensive vessels, gathered together in an unfrequented place, in a murky place, as it was written in the prophets. Oh, what damnation they have prophesied by their own tongue for they said that if they let Me prosper with those from heaven, many Romans would come and take over their country and nation. Certainly not! For if they had received Me, they would have become an invincible people on earth, for no one can do any harm to the one who sits under the tent of God, to the strong one in God. Take a look with Me over to those of today who have taken the word of God: who were the worst, the foreign and the coldest ones? The priests were. It was only them who had no power to leave, to rejoice over My word; only they; as in that time, only they. Only they stir up the people against the truth, only they crucify the truth, and here, they sold themselves for money and for the riches and for a kingdom of straw; and the straw are scattered in a storm and are no more, and with a lightning from heaven they burn and are no more; the same way as the people of Israel who fell slave to the Romans who put fire to it and scattered it on the whole face of the earth. But I took out of it those who believed and I turned made them a bundle into My lap and I told them to be the salt good for taste, and they were and worked the Lord, so that all nations of the earth may have the Lord, and you too, My people, to have him as well.

You son, love the nation from which I came out, from which the apostles came out, for the Hebrew people was My people, and the its faithful remnant remained My people, for out of the body, the remnant turned into a spirit and worked out a Holy Spirit on earth and gave the earth to the nations, so that the earth may be Christian, for Christ was proclaimed everywhere by those who remained Christians in Israel. I will have mercy of Israel, for by its collapse you have a place next to Me, but pray so that he may walk up and look at you, the one who are with the Son of God, and to take Me as heir from the Father to utter his forgiveness. Amen. Pray Israel, pray for Israel, the one after the flesh, for it has carried the name of God on earth, because out of its people the faith in the Son of God, the sent One, sprang out.

It is a great war on the earth, as great as it has never been since ages and as it will never be. What war can be greater than the war that is not seen and works at its ease? As behold, Romania, you too, do not know how enslaved you are! You are enslaved, daughter, and you do not wake up to get rid of the enemies. No one wakes you up to fight, as your watchmen sleep, and you are enslaved. Until now they used to come with weapons and troops of war; the Turks were coming, the Germans were coming, the Huns were coming, the Tartars were coming and you were seeing them and you were getting up and chase them away when you could, and when you could not do it, you were paying them a tribute of slavery until I was stretching out My hand to take you out from under the stone. This is what I did, but today you do not see the enemy any longer, as it is an invisible war, and the enemy sucks even your soul, not only your body. Now the weapon is the money, and the foreigner deceives and buys you with the money and defiles you by what he gives to you and poisons your breath, and you do not know what you eat and what you drink on your money. You are full of enemies, My love, and you can hardly breathe, as I am your soul, carried by those that love Me. The foreigner has taught you only lies in schools, and you do not know the story of your kinship anymore, as your kinship from the beginning was pleasant to God and not left behind, and the new man of the time came and gave the name primitive to the one of old. But what is this word primitive? This word is a lie. Oh, My people, that is why I was telling you that the school on the earth is not good, and behold, the one, who learned lies in school, still stands today in the name of justice, and I cannot clean the spirit of lying from the man's bosom. There has never been a man more primitive than the man of today since ages, and it will never be. It has never been a man more orphan than the man of today on the earth, and it cannot be a greater war than the war of today. The Turk has been coming with weapons by now, and now he comes disguisedly and dyed, and he sucks and leaves satisfied, and he leaves only smoke behind him and only dirt of evil spirit; moreover, he tramples under feet in a dirty and foreign way over the country of my choice.

Oh, My people, it is bad for the city that has no word of a prophet, as that one is under the sword, and there is no one to announce her; it has no one to wake her up. But behold, My word will prophesy over the evil and lie and will wake up those that sleep with their sword stretched out above them with threatening.

The primitive man is the man that has not got God. If this word is true, behold, this is the meaning of the word primitive, as it is true the little story on earth about Me, the Lord, Who was a family man with a Christian and humble family, and this little history is not a parable, but it is a godly truth among the people, and only its example remained. I was the family man of the Christian family and I had a shelter in the house of the man, and it is said that there was a family of people that loved God. A man had a wife and two little children, and they were living very happily loving God. They built a little house, a shelter for bad weather, and they got into it and were living happily from day to day. They had a wooden bed on one side of the little house, and all were resting in it. They also made a little stove of clay to make fire in a cold weather, and they also has a little dish hanging on a nail, and they were taking it down and putting on it the little polenta and drinking and whatever else they had from God's gift. And they were gathering around the dish kneeling down and all were dipping their morsel in the dish leaning for each bite. They were sitting at the table and getting up with prayer and with thankfulness, and then they were taking the little dish to hang it on the nail, and they were speaking about God and with God, and God was with them on the earth. And I became man and I went into their house to be their family man, and they received Me, and I slept with them and ate with them, and I rejoiced over them with the Spirit of God into their house and in their living. And there came a bad weather over their house, over their heart. The evil spirit did not rejoice over My marriage with them and plotted a temptation and took Me out from their house, as one day a rich man from their village knocked at their door and asked him to go and help him with his work, saying that he would pay him for his help. And he, a gentle man, went to help the one who asked him, and then he saw how the rich man lived and what he had into his house. And when he finished his work, he took his pay and went home and told what he saw at the rich man, and he went with the money and bought a better bed, more beautiful and softer, and replaced their bad from the house with it. When I saw the warmth of their heart for the good and new bed, I felt deprived of their love and I was shy, and I did not go to bed with them, because they had another joy. I stood by their new bed and they cuddled against each other and rejoiced, and they said that God helped them. And then he went again and worked and bought a bigger and more elegant table and put it into the midst of the house, and I drew Myself aside. Then they also brought tools and other things and their house was filled out, and I drew Myself near the door. They asked Me saying: „Lord, why do you not sit on the bed, on the chair, on the chest? Why do you stand by the door?” And I replied them that I did not have any place, and that is why I did not sit down. Their joy increased for what they had and gathered. They worked and did what they liked, and I went out aggrieved, and I had no more room as a family man into their marriage. They did not feel My pain, and they always said: „Lord, we thank You because You helped us and You gave us so many things to have”. I let them choose their love, and they chose the self-love. From then on I had been so small into their hearts, smaller and smaller, and they used Me only for their first custom to thank the Lord for everything. This is how the man remains orphan of God. This is how the man remains alone in his spirit, getting his human courage up, losing the fear of God and the love of God, the most valued wealth among riches.

Oh, My people, how beautiful it was for the man that gathered together near his small table, on his knees around it. The man was like a bird, which lifts up its head after it swallows the water, thanking God. The man was bowing down with his body, kneeling down for each bite, thanking the One Who gave it for living. The man kept his little dish on the nail, as a sign of respect for the holy thing, as the dish was a holy object, on which the man broke the bread and put the food from God. That man was not a primitive man, and he was a holy man, and he had God as wealth, and he was rich in grace and word. But no one has God today by grace any longer. There is no more room in the house of the man for God. That is why I brought you up, new Israel, and I taught you to turn back to Me and to take Me into your house and into your life, and to take Me into your garment to warm Me up, as I love you so much, you that have Me today. Seek My people to work what I worked, and not to work what the man works, as the man, you saw what I told you, does one thing for himself today, tomorrow he does another, and he forgets what he has to know and to do.

It is a great bustle on the earth, My people, and you are not wrapped up in grace and you can no longer go on with the man on the earth. The man of today is tiring for Me and for those who are with Me; he is heavy and stiff-necked and does not know to let himself helped by the one with a clean grace and with clean hands. I have compassion on you, My son, when I see that the spirit, which comes from the man, puts pressure on you, but we have to resemble to each other, son, and to finish what we have to sow, so that no body may said that I did not knock to be opened for Me. This is how I also was, suffering among the people, but I had to work what I had to work for. Make, son, a shelter of My word for you, and come to fruition under this shelter. Fulfill quickly the word that I bring to you, as he, who does not fulfill it, is called unfaithful in My word. Oh, there comes a storm and a thunderbolt worked by God for everything that is without God. See that you have nothing within your boundaries; you should not have something that the fire is drawn to.

Israel oil your posts with obedience, son, and do go any longer along with the man from the world, near the sons of destruction, which works out only destruction over the world. The man works to his destruction day and night and he does not know what he is working at. But you, be awake waiting for Me, as I put you under a shelter, if I see you watching, watching in the middle of the night, asking in the middle of the night. But you should not ask Me for riches and worldly things, and you should not ask Me humility, obedience, love and bread from heaven, but you should ask Me holiness instead, as I have those that are everlasting; however, you should also be careful, very careful not to put two cattle of different kind in a yoke, as God does not allow you to do so.

I always teach you. Do not be upset, son. What else should I give you? I give you teaching to be a wise and wakeful son. You should not buy fire for you, Israel, My child. Did you see how the world buys fire on packet? The world smokes; everyone smokes and has fire that is bought. See that you know what it means to buy fire. You shall not buy anything that is made of fire, so that you may not take after the world that smokes. You should buy only holy things, Israel; to have only holy things in your house and on you; holy and humble things, so that you may not take them to your heart and forgive the One Who loves you from heaven, for I want to come with the whole heaven and to stay with you on the earth, My people. The earth is made by God, not by man, and the man filled it with sin and took possession of it, but I will start to take it out of the slavery and I will sanctify it, and I will start with you, but I tell you that I have already started. Little by little, but I have started. Little by little, as I am not rich in gold and money, and the man asks Me to pay him, and to take back everything that I made. The worldly man does not deserve to rule the God's earth, but you, who love Me, you pay to the worldly man even for the light of the day, as if he gave it to you, as if he was God. But I made great promises to you, only for you, My people, to listen to Me, so that you may arrive at the city to which will not travel by car or by train or by plain, but you should travel on your foot, on your pace together with God instead.

Oh, rich people in promises, be careful, so that you may know their time, as Israel did not know when the time of the promises made by My prophets came. Be skillful in wisdom, as I promised you all that the man has not had by now. Little by little, I come with those I promised, but I want to find you full of love, loved people. Behold, I gather you together and I work upon you as a gardener works out his field. I work you out Israel, to produce fruit. I dig you, I rake you, I water you in due time, I warm you up and I want to gather you in My lap, in a kingdom of heaven on the earth, as I have a kingdom in heaven, but now I make it on the earth, so that I may pass the earth into those that are God's holy things. Amen.

Behold still a little patch of land. I come down now with heavenly guests, with heavenly bishops, with heavenly water, with heavenly anointment, to oil this patch of land, to be for heaven. I take My children from the garden and My people and mark down with blessing this little clod of clay.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, the sign, with which I marked down the land redeemed from the man, is blessed and made holy. It is blessed and sanctified the cross, threefold working, which will stand watch and as a sign between heaven and earth on this place that is marked down today, and this land will be named with the name of God of Israel, Who works over the earth; however, He had worked through the name of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, as those from today by whom I work are called Israel too, as I planted and made it grow. Amen. Amen, amen.

And you will come, My people, and we will meet into this garden, and we will eat from heaven together; I and you at the heavenly table, children of My people.

Israel, Israel, I will soon come down into My garden, as a word for the man of the Caesar. I will go to tell him about My work over Romania, and that is why I say: peace to you, My little garden of sons! Peace and a preparatory spirit before Me, so that I may come with the prophesying word over My Romania and over those that rule over it. I will come taken by the wings of the invisible glory of the angels and of the cherubim and of the archangels, and you, watchful children, you will feel the flap of the heavenly wings, when I will come to shake from the foundations the spirit, which rules over My country, over My land which is to come and that will stay before Me. You sons, clothe yourselves with holiness and with a garment of grace, as I promised you that I will make of you light on the earth and a guide for the worldly man, who will seek refuge to God. You, sons, seek to be poor of those on the earth that are not for the Christians. You, sons, seek to have Me as a family man with you, and have the little coat of the grace on your head when you go to rest and when you get up. You, sons, seek to have one single garment, the garment of Jesus Christ, Who came back to you to clothe you with grace. Sons, you should not serve idols, lusts, ornaments, eating and drinking and mixed living, as here is what you should be rich in: in grace, sons. Oh, sons of God love the work of the grace. Oh, children of New Jerusalem love the work of those that I promise you; love those that are not seen, as they come into view.

Go Israel, go! Go son with faith in those that are promised to you by God. Go, son Israel, to the promised land, as it comes towards you. Go with clean steps and well shaken by those that are from people, as your steps will go into the city and you will be great with Me and you will grow up. Amen.

Grow up, Israel, grow up! Grow up, son, as all will decrease before My and you, and you will grow up by My glory. Grow up, My love, grow Israel, grow up, and look at how you grow up, if I tell you to grow up, as My word is being fulfilled in you. Grow up Israel; grow up, as everything bows down wherever you go, when you grow up. Grow up and be strong by the grace of the Holy Spirit, as we have a great work to build between heaven and earth. Grow, as behold, the heaven bows down before you to lift you up. Grow and feed on the living things, and you shall no longer eat death, as your body is a temple of the Holy Spirit, Who comes into you to proclaim a new heaven and a new earth.

Israel, My bride, let your watchmen take care of what it means to be bride and Bridegroom and what it means to be wedding guests. The Bride and the Bridegroom have one place, and the wedding guests have another place. The Bride and the Bridegroom have one garment and a preparation of bridegrooms, and the wedding guests have another garment. Let your watchmen be careful not to give your seal also to those that do not know what seal means. The seal of the Holy Spirit is put when it has broadness in work. Israel, do not mix two kinds of food with the same name, in the same dish, in the same row. You should have your rows removed, and let those that come to see you and Me have different place at the meetings. That is why I tell you to be a boundary for your own self and for Me between you and the world, between the doer and the not doer, and you should not be shy to distinguish the evil from the good, the red from the white, until everything becomes white and holy between heaven on the earth. Be one body, and get the rank together, so that it may be distinguished by anyone what a waking in a row is, and what a walking at random is. Teach the man what it means to be a Son of God, and go in a row with the sons. The sons of the people, who seek God and do not get used to the teaching of walking in a row, did not put off the old man, of the man foreign to God. Israel, also teach the man what it means the work of a son and a name of the son, and you should speak with the man about Me, and let not the man speak with you about himself. Take care son, not to burden your spirit with the things of the man, and ask the man to know what he is looking for and what to find if he wants to find, and keep My stature before the people. Blessed is the man, who looks for you and follows like you, after he finds you near Me.

Be clean Israel, clean in spirit, as your spirit has to be taken by the Holy Spirit, Which comes from above. Amen. Keep you a holy body, Israel, and the Holy Spirit will dwell into your body, into your midst, for the people of the Lord is great. Let My love be a crown on your head. Let your love be a table for Me at My coming, as behold, I always come to you, loved Israel, My called son, as I named you with My name. Peace to you and a celebration with love of the saints around you! Peace to you from the virgin that is celebrated today in heaven, the virgin Parascheva, which is in Romania with her body and spirit! She is rejoicing with the host of the virgin girls that came with her at My celebration with you. She gave up to all human joy and adornment, and took the heaven and the garment of the holy spirit on her. The saints come at your celebration with Me, Israel. The saints come and see you and honor you, and stand before you with help and service, as you are blessed between heaven and earth. The saints long to see you, to help you and to serve you. Call them, as all are for you, as you are for Me and for the life to come.

May the food for the living that you receive from My garden of sons, My people, be blessed!

Go Israel, go son, go, and do not stop from going, as the heaven travels towards you, and the great meeting is accomplished, and that day will be great. Amen, amen, amen.

The Synod of the Saints Archangels Michael and Gabriel

Let it be attention into the garden, in the garden of My word. The Lord comes; He comes to speak upon the garden! The Lord comes for Israel! Let it be attention into the garden. Amen. The Lord comes for Romania! I called Romania Israel because it is the country of the Lord. I, Jesus Christ, I came out of Israel when I became the son of Man. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, started from Israel the voice of My coming back on the clouds when I came back, for I came back as it was spoken in the Scriptures. I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, stay above the clouds of glory over Romania; I stay and I will stay until I let My staying and My coming, prophesied through the Scriptures, be seen. In a little while I will let Myself be seen in My coming; I will stay visibly on the clouds of My glory upon Romania, the country of the returning of the One ascended in heavens.

My people listen to My voice! I am the Word of God. Amen, amen, amen. I speak from heavens again and I protect My speaking upon the earth and I spread the news of the return of the Son of God to all the margins of the heaven and the earth. I am coming the second time to the people from near My Father. I came two thousand years as an infant through the Virgin and I announced the kingdom of the heavens on the earth, for the Word became flesh. And since the time from the Scripture has passed, here, I come with the tens of thousands of saints, carried on a throne by cherubim and by seraphim and by archangels. I come the second time, as it is written, but I do not come as a baby, rather I come as word, as My body became word. I am the Word that said to be light and it was light. I am the Word of God, the One Who said to be heaven and earth and it was so. I am the One of one being with the Father, through Whom everything was made. Blessed are those who prepare My visible glory at My word, as I come from the Father, and I come through Romania, as My Father gave it to Me at My birth. I was an infant, and she also was an infant. I become the Bridegroom, and she, was the bride born of God, of God's word. I was announced to her as her Bridegroom and she let herself be wooed and loved since her infancy, since her youth.

I, the Lord, am on the throne of the cherubim and archangels above the garden of the word. It is a heavenly celebration upon the Israel taken out from Romanians, and let Romania know what the Word of God speaks upon her. The Word of God speaks in the clouds of glory.

Peace to you, Romanian Israel, and peace upon Romania! My peace between Me and her, as she does no longer watch before Me. She forgot what true God means. I am the One Who is and there are no other gods, but she got used to gods that are not gods. Let My peace within you be upon you, My country, as I come to wake you up. Do not be afraid. I come with peace; I come with love and I come with comfort. I come, Romania, I come, I come to you. I stand by the door and knock. Open, My love, as your election from childhood, the first one, is not blotted out. I come to you, My country, and you do no longer know it; you do no longer believe that I come, but I come, and I come to announce you that I come. I do not love to lie. I am the truth and I speak that I come. Oh, My country, I do not love lying. What shall I do with you as you have loved lying? What shall I do? I cry at your feet as I do not want to see you being punished by your own deed.

Oh, My love, I come with comfort to you. Lying is not good, as it is written: «You shall not give false testimony». Come to repentance, come, My country! Come, as I come on the clouds from the Father, to take you out of the guilt and that My visible coming may not find you under your deeds, but you should get out in due time to repent, wash and prepare, so that I may protect you and to forgive you, that you may not be hurt by the reward of those worked out in secret. I was the light in you, but you have loved the darkness, because your deeds worked out the evil, and you hated the light for fear that your wicked deeds may not be seen. I come to lift you up from the burden of your last deeds.

Oh, country, country, where did you hide the little crowd of your patience from under the cross? You were the country of patience; you were the crown of patience, the crown of brotherly love. Oh, country, country, the red time entered into you and you did not know its face. (The time of the communist dictatorship, r.n.). You did not understand that the red is a chlamys of shame. You forgot what it happened to Me under the cover of the red chlamys. The time of Edom came over you.

There were two brothers. One was called Jacob and the other Esau. Esau was red all over and he sold his birthright for a red broth. For this he was called Edom (red). Edom sold his blessing and earned his living by his sword. Edom started to hate his brother, as these two peoples struggled together within the womb, and by their birth they separated each other within the entrails of the one who gave them birth. When Esau was born, he was red and lived by his sword.

Oh, Romania, it is a painful thing that a people from Esau's relative was born out of your body. You have been defiled by the Esau's relative and the red time was conceived within you, and your sons defiled their own tribe. You should have become related to Jacob's tribe, as I kneaded you. You should have become related to My Christian people until My coming but not with the red time and with its sons.

Romania, I have proclaimed upon My sons in you that I will come in word upon you. I stand by the door and knock. I stand by the door with the spirit of comfort and I bring you a spirit of wisdom if you receive Me. I stand by the door and knock. Receive Me! Amen, amen, amen.

I am the One Who is. I am the Word of God. Amen. I knock; I turn to the gates to those that stand in the gates. I go a long way round and I come out to the gates and knock at those from the gates of Romania. I am the Spirit of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. I knock at the gates.

Lift up you gates, so that I may enter and speak a word of love, a word of comfort and of a new announcement of peace over Romania! Oh, I can hardly find a stone to sit on and rest with My work, with My blessing! It is very hard as the spirit of man overcame the Spirit of God and the man is too big on the earth. The man became too big, too big. I can no longer tell the man that I am God. I can no longer tell the man to have fear of God, as the man became too big.

I go a long way round and come out and knock at the gates of Romania. Amen. Lift up you gates, so that the Word of God may enter! I knock at the gates of Caesar, so that I may speak with every man who sits on the seats of Caesar. I bring a word of comfort; I speak a word of love.

Behold, I come in. Oh, people from the gates, of the gates of Romania, take, eat and come to life! This is My word, which comes to you for the forgiveness of the sin and to a living life. Amen. I am He Who is. When I sent Moses in Egypt for My enslaved people, Moses asked Me: «Lord, Who should I tell them that You, Who send me, are?» And I told him this: «Go and tell them that I am He, Who is».

Amen, amen, I say to you, oh, people from the gates: I am He, Who is, as there are no other gates. Nothing is God; no money, nor rank, nor wealth, nor human wisdom, nor high towers, nor man and nor the sword of the man. Nothing is God except Me. I am He Who is, and there are no other gods. I sit in counsel with those from the gates of Romania.

Peace to you, those from the gates! (The rulers of Romania, r.n.). Let My peace be in you and among you, as the man is dead without Me; he is not alive. I also stood before the rulers of the earth; I and My apostles and My entire relative by now, as he who eats My Body and My Blood, is My relative, My kindred, My brother and My neighbor. Both I and they, who were Mine, also stood before Caesar, but hardly was it possible to find rest for God within the great man, as the man became too big before Me and before himself, too big.

I sit in the counsel with those from the gates. I break My word. Take, eat and come to life! Amen. Come to life within the spirit of peace and work peace before Me, peace between Me and My country, peace between brother and brother before Me; between brother and brother before Me, no other kind of peace, for the man does not know what the peace maker is. The peacemaker reconciles man to God and God to man. This is what I said: «Blessed are the peacemakers, as they will see God».

Peace to you, those from the gates; peace between Me and you! My counsel is with you. Take from Me and come to life and work peace between Me and My country, as Romania is My country; you should know that it is. The Lord speaks that it is. Peace to you and then a spirit of faith upon you, the first faith of the Romanian! May the first love include you, those from the last! I come to you; I come in the counsel with you, as woe to the country where there is no prophet, for it sinks. I am the spirit of the prophets, from the beginning to the end of the prophecies, as all the gifts, all the prophecies, all the languages will come to an end; however, I tell you that they have already come to an end. Everything will come to an end, and My love and its sons will remain. I am the spirit of the prophets who had a calling from God and a holy living in God, as other kind of prophets do not belong to God.

I give you My love to you, those in the gates. Take and rise in the spirit of the love and be born of it, out of the Lord, for I am love. Do not be sons of disbelief, as the unbelief and its sons have come to an end. Be born of My love and not from other love. Be born of the heaven not of the earth. Wake My love up in you so that Romania may wake up as well and learn what love is, what a ministering church before Me is; what it means to be a sacrifice brought to the altar of the love, a sacrifice before Me. A church means the sons of the last love from heaven which has the body of love on its table. The sons of the heavenly love do the deeds of the love. They are the sons of love, not others. Take from Me and give yourself to one another and work a spirit of faith in God upon you, for the Lord is coming like a snare upon the unfaithful, upon those that do not watch, and He is coming like a comfort upon those that rise through love. Take and rise, take and fulfill God's word which is coming on the clouds of glory setting in Romania, and the word of God from the book is becoming a body. I become a book on the earth. I am becoming a book now too, for I have been working nothing without speaking first. I come to teach the Romanian; first the Romanian and then the Jew, the Greek and everybody else from other nation. I come to teach the man what the church and sacrifice brought before God mean. The church is nothing else than the sons who serve God on the earth; God and not to themselves; to each others in the Lord and not to themselves. How comes such a thing? How comes to serve in the Lord? That is the sons who have the Lord for food, for growing up, sons who have the Lord as life, not sons who serve to their pleasures and to this age and to the master of this age, to the spirit of this world. And the sacrifice brought before Me is when there is reconciliation between brother and brother, between man and God. Such a sacrifice does not get to the Lord, and rather it comes back.

Oh, the man brings about too much lying out of his spirit, out of his heart. There have been seven times (Millennia, r.n.), since I made the man; and I put him over the creation of heaven and earth, but too much lie has covered this truth. It has been a very long time since people are gods, false gods.

Man, the science that comes from man is not good; the science that disinherits the man of God, as the man is a lying god, the man who takes after false gods. Romanian man, you were crying for food when you were persecuted by the false man that was upon you. (The communist dictatorship, r.n.) Romanian man, you should have cried over your sin. You were not wretched because of lack of food, but because of the sin that oppressed you. And what did you do? You woke up and have turned the bodies of your sons and daughters into a pool of blood; and you have committed sin over sin. You were crying of hunger under the man who was sitting upon your neck without Me, and you wanted to free yourself of hunger, from under your hunger, and you fell into a greater need, My country; and you succumbed to the lusts of shame, and every foreigner with dirty hands sucks from you. There is a great need in you; there is a lack of love; there is a lack of God. The Lord is hungry of you, Romanian people! Where is the tear of your repentance? Oh, country, where are you going? Where, My love? I stand at the door and knock.

Oh, country, you have always made schools for your sons and daughters, country, so that the departure from God might be taught within them. But the fear of the Lord, the repentance and the resurrection are you not going to learn? Oh, you have no longer teachers with a Samaritan heart within you. Come back to the Samaritan from heavens! Come back, as your sons perish in ignorance! Come back, as you have blessing upon your head! Oh, there is too much death within you; too much! The Lord dies within your body too much, as your sins are too heavy. The red time has been oppressing you for a long time; the time of Esau, who lives by his own sword. (The communism and its descendants, the „leftist ones”, r.n.). Oh, Romania, get rid of the sin! Listen My people to My voice, as your priests have indulged in worldly pleasures; both in their bodies and in immorality, and you no longer have judges within you, judges of the sins, so that they may take away the sins from over you. Listen to My voice, Romania. I sit in counsel with those from the gates and I speak with them; and I speak over you, daughter of the heavenly Father's love; bride of the Son of God.

Romania, wake up brother on brother, and say the prayer „Our Father” without lying. It has been a long time since you utter this prayer without being reconciled to God, loved country. Go and make peace brother and brother, Romanian Israel, My relative, Israel chosen in the end. Leave your gift down and go your way and make peace with your brother and then come and bring to Me the sacrifice of the spirit of your repentance, so that you may not fall under your deed. Romania, you should know that God made you, and when He made you, He made you Christian. You should also know, My daughter, that you are kneaded by God, according to the plan that was with God for your birth on the earth, and I want to take a new man out of you, a new people, and a holy people before Me. Open your ear, My love, as I have brought up a tiny people within you. I gave birth to it out of the word; I have brought it up by word and I let the word upon it, for it and for you, My country, as I gave it birth for you. Get up to believe, to believe what I say to you, as I exhort you towards repentance.

You are punished by your deed, loved country, and there is no peace between Me and you. You have been enslaved by lying. Wake up! Brother has lied to his brother. You have cast out the one born of you (King Michael, r.n.) and you lied to escape not guilty of your dirty deed. You did as Jacob's children of old, who departed from their brother and covered their deed by lying. Oh, and how much did they pay for it, as they fell into slavery and into forced labor in Egypt!

Oh, Romanian people, you are a Christian people, and this is not a Christian deed, and your sin stays before Me against you. Romania, get rid of this sin. Have you not seen? Have you really not heard how Israel, My people, suffered because of his brother casting away? Romania, do you no longer fear God, My love? I come with the spirit of comfort, with love and repentance over you. You are the mother of those born within you. You are My plan from the end of the time, loved country, and chosen country.

Romania, one of your sons cries, he cries after your hearth, he cries far away in Egypt. (In exile, r.n.). Oh, what shall I really do to you? Should I bring pain upon you so that you may know this sin? Should I tear down all your towers in a whisper, all your mighty men, who set themselves against righteousness? Not so, My dear. Do not let yourself fall down under the burden of your sins. Make peace to God. One of your sons cries; he cries in Egypt, and it is heard in heaven. His anointment is put over his head upon you, as this was My heavenly plan. Mother cries after her son. He has Romania as mother. This mother was a swaddle and bandage, baptistery of baptism, house and board, cradle and food, nurse, teacher and home. And Edom got up, (Those from the east, where from the communism came with the tanks, r.n.), an immoral people, which defiled with immorality the heart of My people chosen in the end, and it oppressed My child anointed with the oil of Romania's blessing. I, the Lord, had worked through it for you, My country, to get you out of trouble and fighting, and what did you do? You cast away the one from Me for you. I have always united brother with brother, loved country, and I have always taught you what it is love, unity and power, which is born of unity and love.

Oh, Romania, you cast away your waivode. Your waivode is from Me; he is My anointed upon you. You cast away My anointment from you, My sign on your head. You put away the head of your body, the sign of God that is put over you, Romanian people. Oh, this sin is too heavy, and it cries to heaven. Your sacrifices are put on hold. The angels cry by your sacrifices of love, as they cannot raise them to heaven. Your saints cry, Romania, as you are not clean in the prayer „Our Father”.

You, from the gates of Romania, listen to the voice of the Lord! I cry over Romania; I call out from her gates, and I do not go beyond the gates. I call out to those within the gates and to those beyond the gates. Romania, the tear of the one who cries has a burning within it. I gathered tear by tear and I stay hand in hand with this full bowl. The evil angels slap over My hand to pour out the bowl of pain upon you, but the heart of the one that is castaway sighs to Me and asks for your forgiveness and prays for your resurrection. The heart of the one that is alienated from you turned into a wound longing for you, Romanian Israel. What do you want to do, Romania? I am the One Who sees ahead of time. You have never committed any sins as you do now, and you have never suffered as you do now, but do you believe what I tell you? Your priests serve to their own pleasures and spirit and their name, and they have no power to share resurrection upon you, oh, flock without shepherd! But I have come to be your Shepherd, Romanian flock, and I speak from the clouds above you, loved country. Your driven away son cries, and you, Romania, did not know that he was driven away, for those that drove him away gave false testimony, as Joseph's brothers lied to their father. (They said that he abdicated, but in reality he did it with the gun on his temple, r.n.). The wanderer cries far away and his longing consumes Me.

Oh, people who sit on the seats of Caesar, on the seat of Romania! Do not make the one that is driven away to buy from you what he has from Me. Do not also make him lie to Romania, as those that sent him off did, those that wiped out Romania's anointment from its forehead; the anointment that is upon him, the persecuted one. He bears your name beside his name, and this is his name: Michael of Romania. He belongs to Romania; he is the son of this land, as Abraham paid for the land where he rested, and it was his. This is Romania, and he redeemed this people from bondage and took it out from death and trouble, as My blessing worked through him.

You, from the gates of Romania, make peace with God, and the Lord will make peace to you. The heaviness of this sin is great. Get out from it. Love wisdom from Me and reconcile Romania to Me and to its son driven away from it.

The heaven sighs for you, My country, for the tear of your persecuted, but I came down on the throne of cherubim and seraphim and archangels. I am with the clouds above Romania in a heavenly celebration. It is the assembly of the heavenly hosts. I have with Me seraphim, cherubim, seats, principalities, authorities, beginnings, powers, archangels and angels, and Michael, the archangel over the angelic hosts calls out again: let us stand well and in fear and with attentiveness! Amen. Michael and his angels proclaim upon Romania to stand well, to stand in fear and with attention. There is bustle of angels and archangels, and the flap of the heavenly wings flusters and the heavenly powers work for Romania, so that it may be peace and heavenly love over your sons, country of My glory, country of the birth of My word from the end. I come with the new age, the heavenly one, the one as in heaven not as on the earth; the one made out by Me not by man.

You, on the seats of Caesar, work out love between brother and brother; work out a spirit of repentance upon Romania; work out repentance and justice like God and not like man. Come to the spring and drink and be resurrected! Amen. Come, for Romania is the country of the Lord's glory! Come! Let the sin be destroyed within My country! May it be that you get healed, Romanian Israel! Let it no longer be drunkenness, sexual immorality, fornication and a spirit of lie. May the Lord be in you; may the Lord, with His blessing from the heaven be upon you; the Lord, with its new age which is coming down on the earth, as behold, I come in a whisper, I come to take the evil out of you; I come with the heavenly things to establish them on your land and upon your sons, loved country. Oh, Romanian Israel, either you want it or not, either you believe it or not, it is God's plan working upon you, and we will make a heavenly dwelling on your land, so that the nations may receive My light from you that the way may be seen and that they may walk on it, for I am the Lord. I am He Who is. Do you hear Romania? I am He Who is.

Oh, sons of Romania, who sit on the seats of Caesar, be true sons. Wake up and worship God and work out peace between Me and Romanian people. Open the gates so that the wanderer may come in, and have your hands and your hearts clean and be with a spirit of repentance, as there is no sin to prevail over My kindness. Love Romania. Do not look for your own things if you love Romania. Look for its things and all the other will be fully added to you. Do not look for your own glory. Let My justice and My heavenly plan rest over the country of election. Romania is elected by the Lord from among the peoples. Teach the way of light all the sons who did not know to learn, and who had nothing to learn.

Oh, sons of Romania, who sit on the seats of Caesar! Do not sit in your spirit. Receive the Holy Spirit and be resurrected! Amen. Prepare for Me a celebration of reconciliation between brother and brother, as Romania is as great as all its sons may have room in it for a heavenly peace. I am. Do not be afraid, and work our peace. Amen.

It is a feast of archangels and angels. The heaven is in a holy bustle for you, Romania. The Lord is on the throne of archangels and of cherubim and seraphim. The heaven is in a celebration with the earth. The heaven without the earth is like a soul without body; it is like a soul without home.

I am He Who is. Let it be attention into the garden. I withdraw from the gates of Romania and go, as I have a warm dwelling; I have a warm manger, prepared in Romania. I go to the little people, to Israel that is taken out of the Romanians. Amen, amen, I say to you, Romania; this is the day of My counsel with you, when I, the Lord, became word on your table, to make out of it a deed before you, so that I may make of you a holy people before you. Peace to you! Peace to those within your gates, if they will receive My peace in them.

I am He Who is.

I come back with the word to My people risen from the word, the one brought up with word, the one that I come in and become the word in the book.

My people, peace to you, little child, My people! I passed through you and I went to the gates of Romania, to those that are gates, so that I may become word before them. My people, you should stay well and always remember of My promises made for you and for the Romanian people and for those who will believe into My coming by the word. My people, you should proclaim a path for My peace, and let My peace come in on the gates of Romania and work out peace. My people, see that you may pray; you should pray to your God, so that the new age may come upon you and upon Romania. Leave all that you have to do; leave everything and pray as I was praying to My Father before any wonderful fulfillment that I had to make on the earth.

Grow up, Israel, grow up. Grow up son; grow up, as My work with you is too big. Grow up My people, and stay under My blessing. May you be blessed before Me! May you be blessed before the nations of the earth! May you be blessed forever! Amen.

It is a great celebration of angels; it is a great work on the angels. The angels of the paths prepare the path of My word up to the gates of Romania. The angels of the lights prepare My light for Romania, and Michael, My angel, proclaims again the word upon everything and says: „Let us stay well; let us stand with fear and with attentiveness!” Amen, amen, amen.

My people, I leave you to sit in counsel with the sons of My word. I am in them for you. I spoke to Caesar man. Peace and angelic celebration between angels and you, Israel, My people!

Grow up, son Israel, as we have to establish only great works to come into fulfillment. In the name of the Father, and of the Son, and of the Holy Spirit, grow up, son Israel, grow up child, grow up, as your time is great, and you have to speak a word of eternal life upon it, a word of new age, proclaimed by God upon you. Grow up, child, grow up, and a new heaven and a new earth will come out from your growth, as all come to life and become new under your steps when grow up. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Church Entrance of the Lord's Mother

It is a holy feast in Israel, and the Lord comes. The Lord comes from His glory, He comes with His glory. Amen.

Sons, sons, I come for Israel, as I found celebration in it. I come to keep My people watching. I come to help it stay awake. I come to help it keep vigil and stand in wisdom. Let all the people stay in wisdom, let it stay ready for the coming of the Bridegroom.

Peace to you, Israel people! The evil spirit has nowhere to give you from, what I, the Lord, your God, give you. I give you peace; I proclaim peace onto you! This is the key that I open your spirit with, My people, so that I may come into your midst and lay out a supper of word and to eat with you, My people. I came and I told you this: «I do no longer go into the world, and all My richness I give to you». Peace to you, as he, who has this power given by Me, can manage by it; he can manage through bad weather. Oh, it is bad of the man when he cannot go on, but I give it to you, so that you may go on. Peace to you My people! Receive son, so that you may have; receive and be rich in My peace, as it is your power. You should nourish yourself from My peace with faith, love, wisdom, eternal life and with a watching spirit to meet with Me, for I look upon you to see how you stay and wait for Me, My loved people. You should wait for Me, and wait for Me if you know. Do you see what the wise son wants to say? That one, either that he watches or sleeps, is prepared and ready to fire up the lamp and stand for meeting with Me. Amen.

Today is a day of welcome. I celebrate the feast of meeting with Israel, when My mother Virgin was a little child, and entering into those of My Father, she was welcomed by the servant of the temple, because she was promised to God, and this little child grew up in the Spirit of the Lord and fed on Him, and she was a virgin candle in the spirit and body; she was an unquenched candle until the light of the candle became a baby within her, and a Man was born among the people.

Candle used in the „New Jerusalem”, created in the monastery workshop

Oh, Israel, what a big work the candle is! (Candle - vigil lamp, r.n.) The candle is watchfulness; it is the light into the darkness; it is the earnest of the light not conceived by the dark minds of those who do not watch. Oh, Israel, I want to have a lighted watch in you. I want you to be a wise virgin, My people, as I gave you wisdom, and you should have it if I gave it to you, and not go and buy from those that sell it. No son. You should have it from Me, and I have always told you to have a heavenly kingdom open before Me, a kingdom waiting for Me. Did you see what I said, what the kingdom of heaven looks like? I spoke about the ten virgins who went out to meet Me, taking their candles with them, and I said that half of them were foolish and only half of them were wise. The foolish ones took only the candles with them, but the wise ones took also oil in their vessels, (Normally in the lamp is used only pure oil, cold pressed oil - untdelemn in Romanian, not refined, not pass through the fire, light of the candle represents wisdom born of love for God proved by fulfilling the word, as the flame of the oil lamp is born, r.n.) to have so that their candles may not go out. This means watchfulness and wisdom. Those who took oil into their vessels were prepared for waking, even if they were about to slumber waiting for their Bridegroom, as during the time of their waiting, they all slumbered and slept. But when there was a cry at midnight: «Behold! The Bridegroom is coming!», they arose and trimmed their candles. The foolish ones saw that their oil was finished, that their candles were going out. The wise ones had vessels prepared with oil. If they had not been wise, they would have given of their oil to the others, who did no longer have, who did not prepare, and when they were asked for the oil, they responded with wisdom: «No so; what if there is not enough for us and for you? You go rather to those who sell, and buy for yourselves. We have. Take for yourselves; take from those who sell». And no sooner had the foolish ones left to those who sell than the Bridegroom came, and those that were ready came in at the same time with the Bridegroom to the wedding, and the door was closed after them. And when they that went to those who sell came started to cry at the door: «Lord, open to us!», but only the voice of the Lord came out saying: «I don't know you».

Oh, Israel, do you understand what it means for a man not to be known by God? The man says out of his habit: „God knows; God knows my heart; the Lord knows what he will do with me; the Lord knows my trouble”, and here is what I told the virgins that did not watch, that were unwise and without oil; I told them: «Truly I speak to you that I do not know you».

Israel, Israel, you should be careful, and you should have, so that you may not go to those who sell. I gave you, so that you may have. Do no longer go to those who sell. (The church from the world, r.n.). Come son; you have it as a gift. Those who sell have for those who buy. You have it as a gift. You have if you watch. You have if you take from Me. You have if you received from Me; if you received, son. Oh, watch, so that you may have!

Do you see Israel, what watchfulness means? To watch does not mean not to sleep any longer; no, son. To watch means to be careful to have oil for the time when I will wake you up with the cry that says: «Behold! The Bridegroom is coming!». Then, even if you wake up, if you do not have oil in your vessels for candles, you wake up in vain. (Love of God in your soul, r.n.). You cannot go to those who sell then; you are not able to come back from your way, as those who sell, have nothing to give you. Their goods are their goods; it is not for you; it is no longer good for the candle, for you candle. (For your soul, r.n.). You have pure oil in your candle. (Love of God, r.n.). You have because I gave it to you. How about going to buy from man? I have also had into My people some, who went to buy from those who sell, but such sons did not stay with Me, but rather they stayed more on the road, more with those who sell. Who are those who sell? Those who sell are those that buy God's gift on the money, as they say. Only those sell, and if they do so, have nothing to sell, as My gift is not received with money. Only they know that they buy, those who buy to have. That is why I told the foolish virgin: «I do not know you».

Israel, Israel, not even as a gift can you give to those that do not have oil today, as the wise virgins did not give of their oil. Leave My gift into My hand, as I give only to those that I know. You, Israel, do not know those that I know. Let Me take this care, as behold, I have no longer someone to give. No one really knows Me any longer. I do no longer know well anyone, son. You have seen what I answered to those five foolish virgins: «I do no longer know you». Oh, My people, the door that leads to the wedding rooms is in My hand, son. I am the door, but he, who did not enter through Me, does not know what the door is. The door enters at the same time with Me, and then it is not seen anymore. It is seen something else, if it is still seen, but not the door, rather something else is still seen, as those who sell are not a door to God. They have something else to work; they work something else, and the man does no longer know what is on the earth and what is worked on the earth. Where should the man know from? Who should tell the man? What fruits shall the man eat? As the fruit tree is no longer a tree with fruits. There are only wild fruit trees; only gnashing of teeth everywhere; only fruit tree with sour and foreign fruits; only raw fruits; only wild fruit trees everywhere. In vain does the man want to wake up and buy the truth for money.

The man has been saying for a long time that he is not made by God. He said that he is older than God; this is what the man said, sons. Oh, what shall you buy any longer, My people, from those that sell? Here is what the man sells. The man sells lies. Who else knows what oil (untdelemn in Romanian, r.n.) means, and what it means to buy oil? The man says that he is older than the earth. The man says that there is no God, if he says that he is older than the earth. No one, no one knows what oil means. The oil is not bought; this heavenly gift cannot be bought. The man says that the oil is the one, which is put into the cooking pot. The man has no longer a spirit of wisdom. The man is fool, as this is written into the Scriptures: «The fool says into his heart that there is no God». Every wise man on the earth knows so, and says so, that he is older than the earth and the heaven. The man multiplied the time from his own reading. Not even Lucifer did what the man who fell down from heaven did, who fell down from that godly knowledge. The man fell down and crushed into a bottomless deep, as he counted millions and billions of years over time. But the time means this: the heaven and the earth; that is all, sons. The eternity was before the Lord's creating the heaven and the earth, and after the heaven and the earth come to an end, there will be eternity again and redemption over all that it had been carried by time and redeemed for eternity. The man walked to overthrow God and the creation from God; he walked to know and he collapsed falling down into the deep, and it remained the man's lie upon the man; however, the man took everything out of it, and there is nowhere oil; there is nowhere wisdom, not even for the money.

Israel, Israel, how rich you are, but you do not understand your glory. No one has got what you have got, My people. Not even Moses had what you have, as the wisdom came down from heaven and gave birth to you on the earth, and the Lord has wisdom from heaven on earth and in man. You are the man, you are My Son, Israel, and you are the heir of My kingdom. I called everybody into the kingdom of heavens, but the man had something else to do. The man did not want to be with God and with the laws of the truth. Do you see why I told you that I have nothing to do with the learned man? That is rubbish, Israel, and there are only heaps of rubbish on the earth from place to place. I come across only heaps of spiritless bodies, bodies that sound hollow.

The man tries to come back to God. The man sees that the lie deceived him. The man sees that he received nothing from lying. The man has been dying for seven thousand years.

Israel, Israel, the man will allow himself to be overcome. I am about to appear, and here, I make noise and the man hears Me; the man hears My steps. Oh, My people, no one has richness except you; richness that does not perish, that moths and rust do not eat. Who made the moth, and who made the rust? The man sons, the spiritless man, who also creates; creation and moth, which eats up his creation, his making, his work and his lie. It is only I that I do not perish, Israel; I and My inheritance and its sons. Amen.

The man says that he is not made by God, and if he says so, he knows what he says; he knows why he says it. I said to those without spirit: «You have the devil as your father». The devil is the father of those who say that the man is not made by God. Oh, how comes that he may say otherwise? I made Adam and that is all. I also made Eve, so that the man may be complete in the Lord. But the man pulled himself out of eternity and fell down together with the earth, with all creation made by God.

Oh, what man did to Me; the man made out by Me! But what the man born of man did to Me is outrageous! That is why the man is right when he says that he is not born of God, and sometimes he says that is made out of a monkey, and he is right when he says so; but he is not of the monkey that came out of the earth in a monkey body, as that one is pleasant to God, but out of another species of monkey, and behold, the mouth of the man speaks the truth from the man. I have always sowed a heavenly seed over the man. I have always sowed as it is written: «The sower went out to sow his seed, and the seed also fell on the roadside, among the thorns, on the rocky ground, and on the good soil». But the man trod everywhere and filled up with thorns and stone everywhere, and when the seed fell, Satan came and devoured it.

Oh, My people, those, who do not believe into My word and into My seed, serve satan, and that is why they do not believe. Do you see why those, who do not believe, do not believe? Those who serve satan do not receive My word; they do not receive eternal life, and I told them this: «You have satan as your father». Israel, why do you receive My word? Because you have God as your father. I have come to you and I turned you into a good and soft soil, and I sown the seed on it and it produced fruit, Israel, and I called you My field, and you are My field.

Behold, Israel, the Sower sows your seed. The seed grows up and ripens and then it is made oil out of it. The seed is from heaven; it is not from the earth. Out of seed it comes out seed and then oil. God blesses the oil, which comes out of the seed, and it anoints prophets, kings, apostles, priests and sons.

May the oil from you be blessed, My people! May your word, which proceeds from the Word of God, be blessed! Your word will raise the dead, Israel, for the people on the earth are dead, sons, but I breathe through you over the people on the earth, so that the man may know what is God and how many years the man has, if the man has years. The man wiped out from the earth all the truth from God, but here is what I do: I come to tell the man that there is God.

Listen to My voice, you earth! I am God from everlasting and from now on I am. I will not give My glory to any other god, as there is no god except Me, and the man will cry: „There is God! There is God!” He will cry as the infants from Jerusalem were crying: «Hosanna, hosanna! Blessed is He Who comes in the name of the Lord!» The man will cry out to testify about God, for he will see God on the clouds, to the judgment of the people's unbelief. Amen.

Israel, Israel, every man will testify about you and will say that you are the people of the Lord and the Lord's tabernacle and the Lord's kingdom on the earth. Israel, I have to reign on the earth, as that is why I made the earth. I will make it new and everlasting, as I proclaimed into your midst the heavenly and eternal promise. Israel, son, take care to have vessels with oil, and take care of the vessels, Israel, and watch over the oil, as the man of today does what I also did; he also makes oil, (Love for those of the world, those that it sell, r.n.), so that he may make Me smaller. I turned the water into wine, to do My heavenly work on the earth. And the man also turned the water into wine; he did it and he always does; he has been doing this, thousands of times more than I did, so that he may do his satanic work on the earth. Take care son, as the man that has the devil as father, does what I also did; he also does, but you should reject his work. You should stay under the blessing of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and be healthy in wisdom (The light from the candle, the snuff of the candle being Christ, r.n.), and in sight, son Israel. Amen.

Today I have taken My anointed sons and I have come to you, My people, to give you the fruit of the prayer: to give you the Holy Spirit and health of spirit and body. Ask Christian, ask, as I also ask from the Father. Ask Israel; ask what I have, and not what you want. Be careful My people, to ask what I have. I have My kingdom; I have the kingdom of heavens, as the earth was taken from Me by the man, but I will redeem through you everything that I lost, as that is why I gave you birth, Israel. I gave you birth and I brought you up and I educated you to grow into a righteous man and to help Myself with you when I will redeem everything that was Mine. I also did as every father does when he sends his child to school, to become a lawyer and a right man, and for the unjustified man to have a protector. I gave you birth and I brought you up to have an heir, son Israel, so that you might be My inheritance, My people. Receive son a gift of health of spirit and body. Receive son; receive, as I have sons that share. Receive son, and clothe yourself with the new garment, and you should not have an old patch on your garment. You should not have a garment with a patch, Israel, as your wedding garment is new, son.

Pray to the Father; pray through Me, the Lord, Jesus Christ, and you will receive everything through Me. Amen. Pray and sigh after the new heaven and the new earth, and after the body clothed within incorruptibility. Pray Israel, pray to God, and He will give from what He has. Pray and watch, so that you may have what you need to have. You should have on My coming seen by the eye; you should have what you need to have at My coming. Pray incessantly and rejoice in the Lord, your God, My people. Pray, as the prayer of the righteous man for My word can do much. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Saint Apostle Andrew

I come again in counsel with you, again sons, and I am with the first called to the apostleship, with Andrew, a clean disciple, a virgin disciple, a faithful disciple, and loving of teachers, as he had John as a teacher, and after that he passed onto the One prophesied by John, to Me, sons. And behold, yesterday, today and tomorrow, I came and I come, as you have heavenly guests, who come with Me to embrace you, to comfort you, as I comfort you, little children. The Lord comforts you, and the world, which hears of My comfort upon you, wonders and says: „What kind of speaking is this?” Oh, it is the speaking of the Father with His little ones, as the heavenly Father is sweeter than the natural man, but I tell you, sons, that your Father is One. Do you not see how it is on earth? Every man teaches his child to say „mamma”, the first word. No one gets used to teaching his child to say the first word „father”. („Tata” in Romanian, r.n.) But the people testify about the truth when they learn the first word „mamma”. Only the Christian knows to say „father”; only the one, who is born of the Father, says „father”. Oh, little children, the child that got out of the man is comforted by the word „mamma”, but the child of the heaven, that lets himself be born from above, is recognized by the heaven as a son because he says „Father” to the heavenly Father.

Oh, dear sons, I come to comfort you with dear words, with sweet and comforting speaking, as your time is bitter; it is hard; it is cold, and you would not be able to go on with it not being comforted by Me, your Father, as I am father for you, and you are sons to Me. Amen. I am with you and with Andrew, the first one called, who announced Peter afterwards saying to him: «I found Christ, the One proclaimed by the prophets». But from where did he hear of Me? From John, sons. He was with John, and heard him testifying about Me saying: «Behold, the Lamb of God, Who washes away the sins of the world». Oh, why does the world not want to take care of John’s prophecy? Oh, why does it not want to wash itself of its sins? The world does not want to come after Me as Andrew did; it does not want; it does not want; the word does not want.

Amen, amen, I say to you, little children of Israel: be careful, so that you may know how to pray to your Father through Me, and to pray like Me, sons. This is what I was saying: «Father, I do not pray for the world, but for those that You gave Me from the world». The same with you, sons; you should pray for protection over you and over those of My Father, that He gave to Me, and who follow Me as Andrew, My apostle, followed Me. I comfort those that are Mine, with heavenly comfort and with heavenly words, and I call them with a name of children, with childish names, My love little children. Take care of all that you have to do and work, and use the dough of cleanness everywhere for the kneading of this people, and be careful, as little yeast leavens the whole lump? That is why I made you careful; to know how to love one another carefully, and I told you that love has its own partners, its companions. It has suitable companions. But you, sons, should not mix God’s glory with man’s glory, as little yeast leavens the whole dough. The people do not know what God's glory means. But do you really know, sons? Is there someone among you that does not know? Let him pray to receive wisdom, sons. I told Martha at the mouth of the cave where Lazarus' body was put; I told her that if she believed, she would see God's glory. And Martha believed and saw it, as the Father's glory was the Son, Who, after thanking to the Father because He listened to Him, added the word afterwards, which became a visible glory, saying: «Lazarus, come out!». Behold Israel, what the glory of God, the Father is. The glory of God is the Son. The glory of God is Lazarus resurrected by the word of the Son. The glory of God is the Word. Amen, amen, amen. I say three times amen to you, so that you may understand God's glory. Sons, you should not mix God's glory with men's glory. You should be God's glory and only to God. Be the glory of My word, which is being fulfilled within you as it was fulfilled within Lazarus, who was risen from the dead at My word.

Oh, dear little children! Do you see what praying is? It is God's glory, which appears at its cry. It is the road on which the glory of the fulfilled word comes. This is how you should pray, Israel, as here is what I do: I search you out through the sons of My garden and I clarify all your queries, to teach you the work of the faith in the Son of God, Who stays with you by the word. You saw that it was by the word that God's glory was worked out then in My speaking with Martha. Son, if you see that I have to help with your faith, call out and say: „Help me, Lord in my unbelief; help me to believe, as I believe”. Son, be wise, as I help only the one who believes, and I add to him help, fulfilling those that he asks Me for by prayer, that is, showing him to see God's glory, the fulfillment of his prayer. The prayer, which asks God, is in itself God's glory. The prayer, which asks for the glory of man from God, glory for man, is in itself the men's glory. I speak to you, dear Israel, and let the man receive hearing to hear; let the man receive God's speaking to come and wash away his sins; let him come into a work of church, where he finds Christ, Who washes away the sins of the world.

You Romanian Israel, every man who says that he is a Christian, who claims that he is from the church and a son of the church; every man who comes to church and does not partake of the Christ's Body, to that one it is written violation towards My Body and My Blood. Let the man who goes to church go only to partake of the Lord. This means going to church. If you go more rarely, you commune more rarely, but if you go all the time that is why you always go, to commune always. Behold sons, what it is on the earth. Much ignorance, much sinfulness, much violation towards the Lamb of God, Who washes away the sins of the world! But the world comes up to the door and it goes home still unwashed. Who is to tell the man what a great sin he does when he comes and sits during the time of the Lamb's sacrifice and he does not take from the Lamb and does not sit at the table? Why does such a man come to church anymore? He comes for disobedience; that is why he comes. He comes unprepared and commits the sin of violation towards God. He comes to lie by what he says, for it is not enough that he does not come close when he hears: „In fear and love you should come close to the Holy of the Holies”. (At the Holy Mass, r.n.) It is not enough that he does not come close to take, but he also commits the sin of singing praise to God for making them worthy of the holy sacraments and he prays to be strengthened for the holiness all day. The priest lies too and the man who sings something else that what he lives lies as well.

Oh, man, do you not see that the Holy Mass is only for those who commune; is it for those that are baptized and prepared for the Holies of the Lord? You worldly man, the glory of God is something else, as it is written: «Let he who boasts, boast in the Lord», that is, to be united with the Lord in the body and blood. When My apostles were gathering together in the Lord, they were ending with breaking of the bread and with the believers' communion. That is why they were gathering together. There is no longer that time on the earth so that all the church may commune. But let all man know that I do not sit at the table with the unlawful ones; I do not sit at the table. I do not dine with those who did not leave their sins so that they may have Me always in them, as it is written: «I will not dine with the unclean ones». There are many dwellings where many people are gathered together before the breaking of My body, and the world does not take from My body.

And if it takes not being prepared, it takes it in vain, but not useless, only to be guilty of the holy ones instead, since they do not sit washed away from sins. Behold, there is a market on the world, it is not the Last Supper as the song of the Last Supper is being sung. The today's priest puts Me in a bowl as on the market and not as on the table for the Last Supper of the believers, but rather like those who tell the enemy the secret of My supper. They come in one place: prepared and not prepared, believers and not believers, clean and not clean; they come in as at the market not as at the Last Supper. And look what it is on the earth: it is said one thing and another thing is done, as it is written, that everything has remained but a human ordinance.

Israel, Israel, the work of the prayer is a great work, son. The man, who sits down to pray without having love for prayer, is like the man who goes to church without having the Lord's Supper. The man, who stays for prayer and does not feel the peace of the prayer and the comfort from the prayer, is not praying; that one does not receive by praying. If the word from the prayer does not comfort him, does not heal him, does not raise to life the one who prays, that one has not come to pray. If the man falls after he gets up, that one did not pray; that one does not pray and did not get up when he said that he got up. To get up from death is something else, as it is known when you are no longer in death, for he, who does not get rid of the taste of the sin, does not have God's fear within him. He, who is not condemned by his heart, has boldness with God in prayer, but he, who is rebuked in his own conscience, that is he, who has the sin living in him, also does not have boldness among the brothers, that one is overcome by sin and by his own self and stays overcome among those of the same faith with him. That one needs a strong counselor to follow him on the earth, so that he may come to follow the Lord afterwards.

The praying is a great thing. The way to God is a great work. I look at each one full of a holy smile; I look how the Lord is known in him, and I look again at each one who proves himself that he has the sin lurching to accuse him, and behold, God proves Himself, and the sin prove itself, and it is written: «If anyone is wrong, you should correct him with gentleness, being careful to yourself not to fall into temptation», into the temptation of comforting his sin, of vindicating his sin, of having mercy on him without lifting him up. It is written that for the sins leading to death you should not pray; you should not pray for the one who commits sins leading to death. But what can you do to him? You should show what it is with him and what he should do. And if he is rising by resurrection from death, let you only afterwards see what it is to be done with him, for great is this way, the prayer. If the man's prayer does not bring the man before the Lord that one did not go on the way of prayer, as it is written: «No one descended from heaven, but only he who ascended». Who does not ascend has nowhere to come back from with the reward of his prayer. Israel, Israel, there is no man to pray and not to receive.

Little children, the children of My people Israel from the end of the time! Well little children, I cuddle you and I comfort you and talk to you about the secret of praying, for speaking upon you the man will take from the world too, as I give you the seed and you sow it, for I see here and there good and warm soil for seed, not only road, not only thorns, not only rocks. I have some more among those who sigh after the Lord and I will add them to those resurrected by word, to those who are born in the end from My word which is coming to you to wash away the sins of the world and so that the risen one may come to the Last Supper of God's Lamb.

I say again and again: a church means the Body and the Blood of Jesus Christ, taken and eaten by all that are gathered together in a heavenly church on the earth. It is only there where I am complete; only there I fully come, there where all those gathered together take and eat from the Supper, from the Lamb, from the Passover, sons. But neither in the beginning have I got what I have today, for I have prepared you today, Israel, for the endless Supper, and I told you, son, how to dress, how to wash, how to sit and how to eat, so that you may always take from My Supper, after each morning and evening, after each measure of day, son Israel, as the fire does not have to go out, and the Lamb does not have to be taken away from the table. That is why I told you, son, Israel, that you are a secret, son, a Last Supper before Me, as you do not give My secret, My supper, to the enemies, and you do not sell Me for kisses as Judas has been doing from that time until today. You do not stay even a day without Me. You take My Supper forever and become everlasting, eating the One Who is everlasting, because you have prepared yourself for the wedding, dear son, and all your members sit at the Last Supper's table of the heavenly Lamb's wedding on the earth. You are My secret from the end of the time, and I stay, I gladly and longingly stay at the supper's table with you. I do no longer stay in you for crucifixion; I do not come in you as in a grave, rather I come in the light, because I made you a light from My light because you become illuminated by My word, which remains and watches from above you. God is the word and bread on your table. I am a spirit and body with you and in you, and you are My secret, dear people; you are the one who loves Me on the earth, for the man on the earth does not know what love is. The man changes the place of all the holy words, and the man does no longer know where the word peace fits in: the word love, the word church, the word Christian, the word son of God, and the word life. The man has taken the holy words and put them over his work, and the man reads from man. But look, I come to take what is mine, for I will not give anyone the glory of the holy word, for the glory of God is not the glory of men.

Dear sons, remind Me on and on of My promises for the establishment, glory and praise of the New Jerusalem established on the earth. The church is the Jerusalem, the living church, which has on its table its body, taken away from the table by her living sons until everything will be swallowed up by life. Let yourself be swallowed by life, sons. You in Me, and I in you. The church from My body took life. The church was built of the sons who ate from My body. They who eat My body are My church. They who eat being prepared and are alive in the living one, they are the church for Me. They who eat from the supper and do not come from death to life, they remain among the dead. Let the dead be with their dead, you, who understand the mystery of the resurrection. Israel, Israel, the man will wake up from the sleep and will try to take light, but you should teach him first what God is and how God is, and then to look and see if the man uses the Lord and only after that to give him the light. Do not believe in the light of the man; do not believe, Israel. Who comes illuminating in itself, do not break from his life which is coming from Me through you. Let he who comes, come without having anything, for the old ones pass with a great noise. Those that are seen are not the ones which will be. The man has to be healed of everything that is perishing and passing away, sons, and the man should not have mortal sins and if he comes let him be with the things of life. That is why I have always been telling you that love has its partners; that is why, lest you fail when the man comes and knocks to take light. The light has its sons and its partners as well sons. Every man who strives to please God will be known; that one will be known by God. By what shall he be known? By God's calling; as only then the Lord is looking and sees who is crying out and how and why they are crying.

Israel, Israel, you should know that the sheep is only a sheep is a sheep, a goat is a goat and the wolf is a wolf. You should know sons that in the church are only the sheep. You should also know, Israel, that there is only the sheep's skin in the church from the world. You should know too, My child, that the Shepherd from heaven knows his own sheep. I am the good Shepherd. The shepherd who does not lay down his life for the sheep is not a good shepherd. That one is giving the sheep with his own hands to the wolf, for he is well with the wolf. But I came to My sheep and I do not let what is Mine. I give them a clean pasture; I give them clean water; I give the Holy Spirit to the sheep and lambs, for the wolf flees away from the Holy Spirit, and this is how I save My sheep.

Israel, Israel, let your life be in Me, and My life in you, dear son, for with this work of your life in the Lord I wrote the judgment of the world. I have brought you up and perfected you in the Holy Spirit and I put you in front of the people that man could see what God wanted to speak within man and so that man could be judged for the deeds of his life. Amen.

Romania is celebrated in heaven, among those in heaven, by its apostle, Andrew, and the entire heaven pays honor to this loved disciple of Mine, as he proclaimed the new name of Romania before the Lord. He worked Romania for the Lord; he put its first foundation, and Verginica, sons, completed the foundation of My country, as Romania is called the country of brightness in heaven. Verginica renewed and completed Romania's foundation. The whole heaven got up to celebrate Verginica near the first founder of My country. Behold, one in the beginning, and the other, in the end, and the Lord is resting of His work. The Lords rests soon in a celebration without evening with you, dear Israel, taken out of the Romanians, as you are My mystery from the end of the time.

Peace to you with those from heaven! Peace to you and sweet celebration between Me and you, Israel, My dear people! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Ascension

First, the peace of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit comes down. Amen. The word of the One ascended to the Father comes down; it comes down to Israel, and you, Israel, lift up the arms of your heart to receive the word and to eat it, son, to eat it with your heart and to rejoice, My people. I made you happy and I comforted you, Israel son, as I knew from the beginning in what time you, the little one, were to be, and you could not be without the comfort of the Holy Spirit, little son. I comforted you as this is written into the Scripture about the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, Which I promised for this hard time without comfort. The worldly man does not need the comfort from the Holy Spirit. He is used to lying comforting, which does not satisfy the soul. But I have always enshrouded you with the spirit of comforting, with the comforting veil of the Holy Spirit, and I have kept you as in a swaddle, so that you may feel protected, as the little child feels within his mother's arms. God gave you love of the Holy Spirit, people of the Lord. Oh, I have come to make you happy. I gave you much word with a great richness in it, and you have son; you have what to eat, so that you may be sufficiently big for the time of accomplishments, which come slowly, slowly into view. I gave you much word and you have it. I gave you to grow up through it, and to become perfect in it, but here, you need a holy and sweet joy, and I come to make you glad with warm food, little son, the son from the end, so that you may see that I am with you to the end, as I promised you through the Scriptures.

Oh, how great the gift of the holiness is, son! It is great, but you should believe in everything that I promised you; it is a great gift, child Israel, extremely great, as only by the faith of the man of God, everything that God did in His ages, was done. The road of the man with God begins with faith, and if this is how it begins, it has never come to an end, as the faith remains forever by its deeds, and its road is eternal, it is eternity, son. This is how you should believe, as God can, and you should never go weak within this gift that bears the power of God.

Israel, My people, you have been bearing into your heart the day of celebration for two thousand years, when I ascended to My Father after forty days since My resurrection from the dead in the view of all that believed in Me. Why son, did I ascend to My Father? Have you found into the Scriptures the word at this question? I ascended, so that I may come to My people, to be with it to the end, and in the end to give to the faithful the place near the Father, as this is what I said: «I go to prepare a place, so that I may be with My people in it and to shepherd it». Amen. If I had not ascended to My Father, how could I have been prepared everything that was needed for those faithful in Me? If I had remained on the earth, seen by man, the faithful man would have got used to Me and he would have had nothing to believe in, if I had remained seen by the faithful man. I did so, so that the man may have the gift of the faith, and so that I may work by faith to prepare the wonderful place of My Father's house, as where I am, My people may also be, and that I may shepherd it for the reward of the happiness of those that are faithful. It is one thing for the Lord, Jesus Christ to be with the faithful son in a visible way, and it is another thing to be from near the Father with he that believes in the Son of the Father.

Israel, I am not separated from the Father in heaven and on earth. If I am with you, I am with the Father near you. If I am near Father, I am with you near Father, and I strengthen the gift of the faith, child Israel. But I want, with My whole godly longing, you to be skilful in faith, more skilful than you are, more skilful, much more skilful than you are son, more deepened within this mystery, more filled with the gift in such a great gift of the faith, so that you may see the invisible miracles of the faith in the deified man, as Elisha's disciple saw, as all the saints saw, all God's servants, who help you today on the way of the faith. The road of the faith is the only way. Nothing means road except this road. Strengthen yourself on the road with Me, son, as this is why I established you on the level of the true prayer. You should not have rest into this work of the prayer until you see that it opens out its fruit. You should enjoy yourself, son, with this fragrance that brings God, as I come through it; it is My road; it will reveal Me visibly into your midst, Israel of today, as the one of yesterday, who believes in Me, is with Me, and it will let himself be seen near Me, and near you with Me. I gave you the gift of the faith, so that you may have abundantly, and I enshrouded you within the gift of the true faith, accompanied by the gift of the faith, as how would someone pray without believing, without hoping?

Oh, dear son, if you want to eat food, you should prepare it first. If you want to see the fruit of the seed, you should first plant it and then water it, weed it, hoe it, and dress it. Oh, how greatly a gardener rejoices when he sees that the seed he planted comes out and brings forth fruit! This is how you should also rejoice son of the faith, of the fruit of your seed, of the fruit of your prayer. Your prayer will bring forth a new age, visible by your eyes, it will bring forth a new heaven and a new earth, as it is the promise by the Scripture, and its fruit will never wither away. You should not get tired in the work of the prayer son, as I teach you wonderful things, Israel. I have taught you to gather yourself together as a cluster, to stay for ripening and be perfected. Take a healthy cluster into your hand and look well at it, so that you may see how the little grapes have grown together within the cluster and how they stay together, suckling from the grape vine until it is brought ripen on the table, until you can eat of its sweetness, of its fragrance, and to drink of its wine, of its joy, Israel. I have taught you to stay in clusters, so that you may produce fruit, to be a cluster with big and healthy grapes brought together before Me, Who grow you up, as I am the grape vine. I have taught you to pray son; I have taught you how to suck from the grape vine, how to be of the vine, how to stay in the vine, as the cluster is the fruit of the vine, son. I have taught you to turn from the natural into the spiritual, looking at so many grapes that are gathered together on the cluster of grapes.

Oh, My people, My little grape, My fruit waited for a long time! Any mother is waiting to see her fruit grown up and fulfilled. Any grape vine is waiting to see its fruit, son. I am the vine, you are the branches, but you are the little grapes. Oh, My people, My little grape, you should take a good look, son, at the grape cluster, and this is how you should be in the grape vine. The little grapes stay together; they stick to one another and are of the same color, of the same fragrance, of the same dew, enveloped for their refreshment, being warmed up by the same sun, and being nourished from heaven and from earth. Be careful, dear child; nourished from the earth and heaven. There is no earth without heaven, and there is no heaven without earth. The same is with you, child, My little grape; be a whole creature, son; be complete every moment. Oh, I teach you and you should understand, as it is necessary to understand, so that you may turn from the natural into the spiritual; further, you should not say like those in the beginning that it is not the time, as those of thirty or forty years ago, did not want to be established in that spiritual time, as it is hard when you have something else to do, to also do the spiritual things and to do them with love and faith. It is hard to make a true prayer when you have so many to do, when you also have other worries, when you are both natural and spiritual. Oh, it was hard for My Christian, nourished through this work, to turn from the natural into the spiritual, as the Scripture teaches. Until when did they really want to go on like that? But I have today a people used to the natural ones; I have a people that uses the natural things as though it would not use them at all; I have sons that work everything within a spirituality of spirit and body; I have, and I pray to My Father, Who gave them to Me, to make them perfect in Me, as the Father, this kind worshippers wants, worshippers in the Spirit of Truth. Israel, My little sweet grape, you, son, should not let yourself stolen by those that you do by your own hands. However, you should let your heart before Me, into My heart, and you should do the work of the heart in the hearts, as the little grapes on the cluster stay into each other, side by side, in the grape vine. Son, let your heart be into My heart. I take care of you more than you do. Let your sweetness be sweet in the grape vine, as the man of God is God's son, and he has to be in God. Amen.

Oh, My child, your work is love, son. Learn well this work, as look how much I insist to teach you. I come with the spirit of comfort and I teach you to know and to believe that your work is love, and I tell you again to look at the little grapes in the cluster, to see how they stay, how they are nourished, how they come into perfection for their sweetening in the vine. And I also remind you, dear Israel, how to work at your building, as you are God's building. Work son, at your building, as this is your work: the spiritual work. I remind you of the word of the Holy Spirit which has worked within you and spoken this: when many of you build a wall together into the Lord, and when the bricks are put into the wall, and if the wall is not upright enough, and if someone from the bricklayers sees that more attention is needed, more precaution at the work of the building, that one should lay down his brick and get the wall straight, so that the wall may go on straightly, increasingly straighter; straighten with love, with patience, with wisdom and love, and the bricklayers should work correctly, with enhanced attention at building, and you should build Israel, and not stop from building, for the Lords pays you, because He is the vine, and you are His workers. I am the Master of the vine, and I have the reward of the workers, and I teach the workers what love is, and each one will have a whole measure as a reward, as it is written into the Scriptures, as love is shared equally, because there is no favoritism in love, but rather it is commitment and love, and each one will have as a reward one dinar, a whole measure. When love is not complete, then it is not. Love is the same from beginning to everlasting.

Comfort each other with these words. Comfort yourself Israel, with those from Me, and comfort each other with Me, as I am the living word, and I give Myself as food to you, so that you may be alive. When you say „Our Father”, you should believe, son, what you say, as Father gives you the everyday bread, and he will give it to you forever. You cannot give it to you and that is why you should ask it from the Father, as you belong to the Father and you pray to Him. You should be more careful day by day to the words that I taught you to bring to the Father as prayer. Be careful to their interpretation and do not forget that you ask from the Father, and if you ask, you have to believe and to rely on your Father, Who you ask from. Ask son, as the time came that you may know what to ask for and to see what you ask. Be careful to the prayer „Our Father”; you should be more careful day by day to the Father, so that the Father may know that you really pray. Be careful, dear child, that you may not wear yourself out in your mind. Let your mind be the place of the Holy Spirit, Who brings you together, little grape by little grape, into the cluster, so that you may be a little cluster, Israel. Be gathered grapes, grapes, and feed on the vine, and I am the vine. Cry after the milk of the vine, as the baby cries after his mother's breast, and keep hold to the work of the peace among you with all your spiritual members; the work of love among you. Build at God's wall, build sweetly, build in love, as loves thinks, speaks, comforts, suffers and heals one another in its body. Let the hearts love each other, nourish one another, and do not give occasion to any wounds, sons. Be soft, be gentle, and be careful, as you are for yourselves, for your own good with Me, earnestly desiring My coming into the midst of your love, sons. Let the love in you know what it wants; let it know what it gives; let it know to whom it gives and from whom it will receive its reward. This is great wisdom in the mind of the man of God. This wisdom keeps the man within love. Amen.

Oh, Israel, My little grape, the heaven is waiting for your spiritual fruit. It is hard for the one that has not understood spiritually by now; however, it is easy to listen now, My child, to grow in wisdom, as all the saints were, those that are now waiting for you, the smallest ones, as their longing is great for your spiritual work into the grape vine that nourished you so much and urged you to a heavenly flight between heaven and earth. That is why I told you: eat the gathering, as you find the lessons for the flight in it; and you also find a spring of tears of repentance, if you have no longer been spiritual in good time. And the Scripture says that repentance gives you birth from heaven in a while; it gives you birth from above in a while, so that you may be from above, son; to be from the kingdom of God.

Oh, eat the gathering son, as it remained not eaten. It does not have to remain uneaten, son; let no crumb be lost, as that is why I gathered it, so that you may eat it, My son. I have lowered it down for you to eat. Eat, Israel, as if Israel had eaten it whenever the food had come to it, I would have had the people now, but the people from the beginning ate with its ears, poor of it. My joy would have been for them to eat and to be known that they ate. But it did not eat, and that is why it did not know the taste of the food and the fruit of the food and its spiritual growth.

Israel, My little grape, grow up, son, into the spiritual ones, as I cannot remain silent and not to remind you again that you do not need anything else but bread, water, clothing and covering. Grow up, My people, in those that are spiritual, as you ask the other ones from your Father when you say the prayer „Our Father”. Oh, son, when you work with your hand those that the Father gives you, you should know that they are from the Father, and do not place your reliance in your hand, in your work, in your endeavor. You should speak with the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, during the time of the work of your hand, and to stay as a cluster, Israel; this is how you should stay in the work of your hands, so that My Spirit may be speaking in the time of your hand's work, as the Lord called blessed the brothers that live together, happy and blessed forever, happy and without the fear of sin, when they live together, as the Lord did not make the man to be alone. This is what the Lord said: «It is not good that the man should be alone». Those that live together without sin are blessed, as this is how the Lord made the man, and not as the man is.

My people, you should fight with all your faith, with all your heart, to fulfill everything that came from Me to you. You should fight son, to make the new man come into being in you, the man of obedience to God. You should fight dear child, as I have helped you for a long time and you have many helpers in Me, as I, as it is written, am near you with the tens of thousands of saints, as the Scriptures write. And if you know how to pray to the saints, to see your humility, to confess your unworthiness, for you were chosen through My mercy to be the people of the hearing of God's word, which comes on the clouds of glory to you. God has done nothing without being written into the Scriptures.

I remember together with you, My people, when the Scripture of My incarnation of the Virgin was fulfilled. Only a handful of hearts believed waiting and asking for this fulfillment. Zacharias, who was a great servant of the temple, a great fulfiller of the Lord's laws, and faithful in those prophesied by the prophets, believed and asked for the fulfillment of this Scripture and he worked as a faithful man, to give place to the Lord's fulfillment on the earth, as the Scriptures promised; moreover, this minister of the faith worked in secret and with courage of great faith, and I fulfilled through him all the preparation of the coming down of the Son of God among the people.

Do you see Israel, how the faith of the man works? Do you see son, how your faith should be? Zacharias asked that the Lord may fulfill His coming by the Virgin, and because I had a faithful man, I brought about the fulfillment. You should also long for this, My people, as the promises for the time you are in, are great. There were also then only few people that I used to fulfill the Scripture of My coming among the people. No one had any clue. I was among them, and they did not know the work that came from God. The same is today with God's work, with God's work which prepares the fulfillment of what it is still to be fulfilled, as the angels that appeared in the time of My ascension to My Father, prophesied this: «This Jesus, Who goes up into the sky, will come back in the same way He ascends». But look into My word, as I proclaimed about the coming of the Son of Man that was to come after the faith and love would go out before the coming of the Lord. And now I have come with this work of word, as it was written into the Scriptures about it. I have come to take out of trouble the people that I called the witness people of My word on the earth before the appearance of the Word in the body of His glory among the people. That is why I spoke to you in the words of your time, that I did not call you to work with the hoe and shovel, My people, and rather I called you to believe in the Scriptures and to fulfill the Scripture of My coming by your faith, and to reveal the new heaven and the new earth, the life without death and the heavenly age, which are prepared by Me, as I went to the Father to do all these, to prepare them to be discovered by your faith and by the faith of all, who were waiting believing into this time. Behold son, how I teach you. I teach you to know how to believe and believing to prepare My glory; you should prepare My way, Israel, as those in the time of My birth from the Virgin did, and I added heavenly signs during that time to their faith, for the Magi spoke about My birth; the shepherds from the cowshed also spoke; the righteous Simeon and the prophets of the time of My birth also spoke, and Israel has never been deprived of the spirit of prophecy from God.

Strengthen yourself with spiritual habits, My people of today, to take courage in faith, son, as I work by your faith. Get used well to the work of this faith, and let one not even mention of the spirit of doubt in Israel, as the Scriptures are being fulfilled in everything. Amen. It is a great thing to know to understand the word of God. My word, which has been working together with the time, has worked according to the time; it has been working according to the time and it has been gathered within the grips of the time, and that is why, My people has not known how to believe into My word and has not fulfilled it in all its power. That is why I told you: Israel, leave the natural and earthly things, sell your wisdom and throw you wealth on the waters and get used to the destitution of possessions and of the worldly spirit, to be able to gather together as a grape cluster from place to place, and to urge one another to the faith in God's promises, and to make yourself a white little coat, of the Holy Spirit and of clean linen, and to work love before Me, as your love for the Lord is the path that you make for Me to come. And you will wake up with Me before you, the same way I came into the way of Lukas and Cleopas when they were preparing My way towards them through the speaking of their hearts, to one another, about the Son of God, Who came to fulfill the Scripture. The apostles also were staying as a cluster; they stayed together and worked out prayer, repentance and speaking of God together, and I also appeared victoriously for them telling: «Peace to you!». The same I say to you: Peace to you, disciples, as there is still little and you will turn your eyes to Me and we will see and comfort each other, and we will sigh relieved of the pressure of the waiting.

Prepare a way for Me; make My coming true; make my path visible with you, and have Me beside you. I help you with heavenly discernment, with great heavenly grace, to work the work of My path, of My visible coming. You call Me and I come. You believe and I give you the reward of the faith. You ask and I come and fulfill. Keep Me alive among you and with you, as I am alive and I am with the Father near you and with you, and we work the fulfillment of the Scripture of the coming of the Son of Man, accompanied by the new heaven and new earth that I promised for the endless age. Amen.

It is a feast of ascension. It is a feast of the coming of the Son of God to His people. Be like the birds of the sky and like the lilies of the field and you will be so, as I, the Lord, prepare the happiness of those that are faithful. Teach each other sons, to live without worries, and work like Israel, which was gathering its food that came from heaven in a place desolate of food. I have My angels that take care of you. I have My ravens, which take care of you; I am the treasurer of the heavenly things and of those from the earth. I will fulfill the New Jerusalem for My people. It works for My coming, and I work for the fulfillment of the New Jerusalem, seen by every eye from heaven and earth. I work in a heavenly way, My little grape. I made them all. I also make them all now and I make them out according to the Scripture, and as it is written into the book of My time with you, My people.

Feed yourself with light; feed yourself with My word. Feed yourself, son, believing in those that are promised and prepared to come as a gift over you. You are My wheat, made more expensive. Sanctify yourself by prayer; humble yourself by prayer; rejoice yourself by prayer. Son, bring forth the coming of the Lord, Jesus Christ as the fruit at your prayer. If you cannot work alone by turning the smile into tear and the tear into smile as I exhorted you, then I come and help you, son, so that you may be able to do it, My child, and to find you seated among My things, as I long very much after your love and after your love among you. Work the work of My coming and do not be afraid of anything and anyone. Believe into My promises made to you, little children from the end of the time, as the time will be called eternity.

Israel, be worthy in faith and get used to the fear of God, son, that are still grieved because of the unpleasant things of the Lord. The fear of God keeps you in God and in Me, and you are not without cover. I work to your preparation, to your love of God, to your establishment into those that you have to be found and established. You are not weak; you are strong Israel, because I make you strong, My child. I strengthen you and protect you and I give you light with My light, which is in Me, to be the light from Me before Me.

I come soon. Do not be afraid, Israel, My little grape. I am with you, do not be afraid. I am with you. You should be faithful in those that I tell you. I ordain you faith, My people, faith that is asked to have in this time. All the saints help you as the smallest one, and they gather together around you, as the big brothers gather together around the smallest one. Love one another: those from heaven love those on the earth, and those from the earth love those in heaven. Love each other, you, children of love, as I am love, and you are from Me and you belong to love. Let the heaven and the earth know you and to look well at you that you are My disciples and you are the sons of love and relative with the heaven. I am with you and I give you powers and comfort. Amen. All the saints from heaven come and tell you about the song of the feast of today: Christ is ascended! But behold what the saints of the heaven say: Christ is coming! The Lord, Jesus Christ is coming with the tens of thousands of His saints. Amen.

Peace to you, little children of the heaven! Let us be one spirit and one love! I give you powers and comfort. I am with you and I help you to be with Me. Speak of the Lord on the way, sons. This is what is to be done into this time. My word comforts you spiritually, bodily and heavenly, sons. Peace to you! Let My peace rest upon you and among you and into your hearts.

Children of the garden of My word, take care of the full peace of the Holy Spirit in the garden and upon you. I want to be in you as I am. Close the gates well and open well your hearts to the heaven, so that I may feed the people that stays into the work of prayer. Do not allow the spirit foreign to God to enter the garden. Be worthy and full-hearted, so that I may give to My people comfort by the word. And I always give you comfort, so that you may comfort each other in your Lord, Jesus Christ, Who comes with a heavenly food for Israel. Take care of My path to you, to Israel. I give you peace, to have peace in your hearts, sons. Strengthen the peace into your hearts, as I give you peace. I am in great need of your peace in you, of My peace in you. This is My peace from heaven to earth, from Me to Israel. Comfort to you, little people of My little garden!

May you be blessed, child, My little grape! May you be blessed, Israel, people of My waiting! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Assumption

The Word becomes word into Its book, in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen.

The word is the peace from heaven and from earth, as the peace is from heaven. Pace to the path of My word from heaven to earth! Peace and faith to you, sons of My people, as My word is not to clarify the human wisdom, and rather it is for the testimony of the Spirit and of the power.

Sons, sons, let your faith be in the power of God, not in the human wisdom. The wisdom is hidden in God; however, He ordained it before the ages to the glory of those that are perfected, and this age did not know it. That is why the Scriptures say about the things, which an eye did not see and did not enter into the heart of man, that God prepared to those who love Him. And I come and I reveal them to you by the Holy Spirit, as the Spirit searches out everything, even the depths of God, as it is written. I gave you from My Spirit, to understand those that I promise you. Sons, sons, be spiritual, as the natural man does not understand the things of the Spirit of God, as they are discerned spiritually. I gave you from My Spirit to understand My mind, and this way your faith may be in the power of God not in the wisdom of the people of this age.

My people, this work of the word from heaven is My cross that I gave it to you to carry through the world, sons. It is the sign of the Son of Man, who was to appear before its visible coming. The cross is the life of Christ, carried by man; it is Christ's face, taken out of the man, and this word and His face are My cross, carried by you. That is why this new announcement, this carried cross, is a folly for those who stay in the spirit of carelessness of this age, but for you it is the power of God. Behold, My word proves the folly of the wisdom of this age, as because the wisdom of God did not make the man to know God by wisdom, that is why God wanted to save the one who believe through the proclaiming of the cross, as it is written: «The Jews ask for signs, Greeks seek after wisdom, but those that are faithful preach the Christ crucified, Who is a stumbling block for the Jews and foolishness for the Gentiles, but to those who are called from among them, is Christ, the power and wisdom of God». This is the hidden wisdom of God. He lifts up those that are low, those that are not, to destroy those that are, so that nobody may become haughty before God, and he who boasts, let him boast in the Lord. Amen.

Peace to you, Israel! Peace on My path from heaven to you, son! I come with a spirit of heavenly celebration; I come to comfort you with a spirit of heavenly celebration; I come to you, My people, as I have nowhere to go; I have nowhere to travel to. There is only human wisdom everywhere, and the preaching of the cross, of Christ's life, is foolishness for those who love the destruction worked out by the deeds. I come to you, My people, and I want to find My pleasure in you, little son, as I carry with you My cross of today. I gave you My cross; I gave you My life for you to carry on, so that I may arrive with My cross to the last end and to rest in you, My people. My cross is My life, and that is why I told you: „I long for Me in you, son of My people”. The world take My word and it can hardly understand it, as the world is confused by the wisdom of this age. But you, son, you understand the depth of My word, as I gave you from My Spirit, to understand the depths of God, as the one who is in God has God's wisdom, which has nothing to do with the wisdom of the rulers of this age. The heaven calls you blessed, My people, as blessed it is the one who has God's wisdom, Which comes with His Spirit in those that believe in Him. You should not be weak into this blessedness. You should always keep in mind My word and stay in it, My people, as it keeps you in Me. It turns you into My holy body, which becomes word before you, into your faithful heart bowed down in Me, dear son. I have nothing dearer than you, My people, as you have been waiting for seven thousand years for Me to fulfill with you the last promises proclaimed to you; the new heaven, the new earth, and the new man after My image and after My likeness, so that God's hidden and mysterious wisdom may appear, son; the one that I ordained before the ages to My glory and yours, faithful child from the end. I have always come to you, so that I may keep you in My arms, to comfort you, to strengthen your faith into My wisdom, as the fear of God places you into the mystery of the wisdom from heaven on earth. Oh, only big words I bring into being by My word, and the spiritual ones understand them, son. The natural man does not understand the things of the Spirit of God, but the spiritual one understands the mysterious wisdom of God.

I come with a spirit of celebration and with mother Virgin, who gave you the Son of God. She is the ladder on which I came down from Father to you, to become the Son of Man, and that the man to know that I come from the Father, through the Holy Spirit and through the Virgin, as the heavenly man is virgin-like. The man has to remain from heaven, but he did not want to listen, and I came to bring him into obedience, so that I may take him back to those that I worked for the man.

Oh, you man, who do not understand the wisdom of God and its treasure, I came with this work of word to bring into life My mysterious wisdom, as My wisdom is a loving spirit of people. I have come into your way to show you the cross, to show you the life, My life, man, My life in man. This is the wisdom that I came to establish upon the people. I am the Son of God's wisdom, and I have come to become God in man, so that the man may have wisdom. I came to become flesh in the man by the word, so that I may create a new haven and a new earth in man, and a new man in man. I chose a people so that I may have ears to hear and that I may come into being by word, and to call out over the earth, so that the man may hear Me, and to turn him from the natural into the spiritual, in a mystery of a new age, and he, who has ears to hear, hears and comes to life. Amen.

Oh, little children of the garden of My word, this is what I told you: „Remain in My love!” and this word remains spoken and keeps you in Me, as we have to fulfill the word of the mysterious wisdom over the earth. Remain in My love. I have always strengthened you into this word; I always renew you into this word, so that it may be known by angels and saints, thrones, principalities and powers, and even the evil spirit to hear always and to know and leave at My word. Remain into My love, as it is with it that I strengthen you, so that I may have a path for you to walk on it, as I do no longer have a walking on the earth; I do no longer have it. I do no longer have a vineyard; I do no longer have it. But I come as a God, and I will redeem My word.

Children of My little garden, remain rooted in Me, into My love, as I take care of you and I heal you of your wounds and I will wipe out your little eyes of tears, and I have always embodied you into My holy body, as the time is hard, sons; it is hard and oppressing and hostile to Me and to you, but I am a strong God, Who has been merciful and I have overcome from generation to generation. I bless your staying in Me; I strengthen your faith and power and love, as we have a great and wonderful work to do: a work of heavenly age on the earth. I have always come and strengthen My path, and weaken, with the heavenly powers, the power of the evil spirit that blows upon you, but you work, always work My way towards you, the way of My word towards the earth. May the way of My word be blessed over the earth, and may all the opposition of the evil spirit perish from its way, and may the sons of the path be a path for Me! Amen.

Oh, children of My little garden, this is what I said: teach My people what lightness is and what holiness is, sons, as it needs that all this people may turn from the natural into the spiritual until its great transformation, as it is written: «You should love the Lord, your God with all your mind, with all your soul and with all your heart».

My people, I always teach you; the sons of My garden also teach you; your centurions also teach you, and we always learn to be a new yeast on the table of this age without wisdom. My people Israel, I celebrate in you feast by feast, as the heavenly feasts celebrate in you, little and tiny son. It is sun in you, My people. I am your light; I am the day of the evening time. It is sun in you, My people. Let all the ghosts serve you; let everything help you on your way with Me, and you should help Me into My labor from heaven to earth. The Jews ask for signs, Greeks seek after wisdom, but you have Me and you should give Me to those that are thirsty after Me and after My cross in them, after My life in them, by the crucifying of the natural man and by the resurrection of the spiritual man in man.

I long after the spiritual man in you, son, My people, as the great day is coming when all will be clothed within incorruptibility. That is why I have been speaking for such a long time into your midst and I have always urged you into a spirit of repentance, as the one who has come to Me and started his way through repentance, that one is alive and spiritual with his heart and body. He, who confesses his sins as sins, takes them off and dresses spiritually within the love of Christ and into Christ's love; that one makes peace between him and Christ, and by the Body and Blood of Christ, is being born of Christ to an everlasting spiritual life, as so it is: first it comes what is natural and then it comes what is spiritual. It is so because the man wanted it, not because God wanted it, and now I have to make a man out of man, to turn the natural man into a spiritual man, born of Me, of My Body and Blood. Do you see My people, what the work of repentance is? Do you see how it is and how it should be placed into the man? Let the earthly and natural man hear, let him hear, son, to get up for his becoming spiritual and let him draw on My right side and eat My word until My coming.

I want you, My people, to know well what a natural man is, so that you may choose the spiritual one in you. The spiritual man cannot live without God in body and word, as I am the body and the word in the spiritual man. I want to make of you what I could not do through the man by now, as I did not make so much love as much as I have made it with you, My people. I have been struggling for forty years to bring you into a bride condition, My people, to dress you in My heavenly whiteness, in My heavenly body, to embody you into My holy body, you in Me and I in you, son, My people. I have never made so much love as I have done with you, and you still do not know what love is. You get confused into its word and you do not know it yet. I want son, to teach you always, and to always know, as you have to know it for every man from everlasting to everlasting. I want you to be one body with Me, bride and Bridegroom in a heavenly love, not natural, My people. The natural love becomes sin, but the heavenly love becomes a new heaven and a new earth in man. Did you see David, who fell into the traps of the flesh, as the flesh appeared in front of him by what has been weak from the beginning? If Bath-Sheba did not love herself before loving God; if she was not a godly nature in the flesh, she would not give herself over to self-love, to fleshly pleasure, and then David, the king, would have not seen the flesh standing in front of him. But David came to a spiritual crying, and I wiped off his wound made by the flesh, as sin made a wound into his heart, and David was My anointed, for he took care of Me in him.

My people, this is what I told you: pass from the flesh into the spirit; turn from the natural into the spiritual, as I teach you the lesson of life, so that the earthly man may hear those about life without death. It is a great thing for the spiritual man to have a spiritual stature. This work seen in the man is a great work. There is no greater work with the man than this. The spiritual man sanctifies the man in front of him. I tell you, My loved people, to know the work that you have to do before Me, as you have to be the spiritual man before Me. I take care of you with the love of My word, with the power of My word. I warm you up into My love, so that you may know its spring, son. I always bring through it your changing into eternity, into childhood, in the spiritual, as I am the love, because the man coming down from heaven is without sin. The man born of Me has to become a sinless man before Me, the man of the heavenly love on the earth.

My people, I place the sons of My garden into My name before you, so that they may teach you from Me what lightness is and what holiness is, as their word is not theirs, but it is My word. Learn My dear people; learn what wisdom is, as it is the fear of God, which goes on its road to the love of God, towards love dear son, people loved among the nations of the earth.

It is a celebration in you, Israel of today. It is My mother Virgin that is celebrated in you by heaven and by you, My people. She loves you, son; she protects you; she helps you to be, My people. The Holy Spirit is above you and empowers you with spiritual power, son. Verginica is also at the feast and touches you and embraces you with her love and she comes closer to comfort your spirit, My people; and she gives you courage and heavenly power, My people. Verginica is with the sons of My garden.

I embrace you with great love; I and all My saints. My love is with you and I comfort you and bless you, so that you may be My joy, My people. My peace is with you; strengthen yourself from the spirit of My peace. The word is the peace from heaven and from earth. My word is My glory into your midst, and I glorify Myself in it before you. The Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit bless you, Israel. You should be faithful, son, as I work by your faith, and I glorify Myself before you by the word. The word is God. Peace to you, the Lord's people, as God is One: the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Beheading of Saint John, the Baptizer

The purest love: the motherly love. The true gentleness is the day of rest of God in man. The true disciple is the worker of the salvation of the human kind. Rebuke is a watchman that came from God.

Oh, My people Israel of today, if I have you as My people, should I not stay into your midst?

Behold, My people, I always sit in your midst, to hold your hand, My people, as a mother holds her beloved child.

It is a heavenly feast, Israel, and I make feasts of celebration with you on the holy days, as I have no other joy, I have no other comfort. I have you, My people, as I chose you to have you, Israel. If it is celebration in you, I come with a spirit of feast, so that I may be into your midst, and when I come, I come into the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, the name that you bear, My people that love Me and follow Me to the Father. I come with My peace into your midst and I sweeten you with milk and honey from heaven, as a mother does with her child.

Oh, son, you should have a heart of a mother in you. Mother has the most beautiful heart. The love of a mother does not sin in love. It is a great thing for a man to have a heart of a mother in love. What kind of a mother would do any harm to her child if she was a mother? The same with you son, if you want to be pure in love, you should love anyone, but with the love of a mother, My people. I am both father and mother for you. I am the perfect love, which teaches you to have a perfect heart in love, a heart of a heavenly mother; not fleshly. When a child goes wrong, his mother rebukes him, his mother teaches him, his mother keeps him out of mistakes, his mother protects him, but she never leaves her child. How much more I, how should I forsake you, My people? I am the perfect love and I cannot forsake you. I like to protect you, to keep you out of mistakes, to rebuke you as a mother who watches over the good walking of her son.

The man speaks in his own way, and the Lord speaks in His own way. The man says that he is a good man when he speaks beautifully, gently and warmly. I have also spoken wonderfully and warmly but in My own way not in the man's way. I was forgetful, but not justifying the mistake of the one that was forgiven. When I forgave the man I taught him afterwards; I rebuked him and told him what to do for his forgiveness. I did not speak as man speaks. When I said that I was gentle and humble, I added that I was gentle and humble in My heart, and God's justice was into My heart, the Spirit and the truth, My people, and that is why I said that I am the Good Shepherd, Who lays down His life for the sheep, and of Whose voice the sheep listen and go after. I am good in the truth and not in the nature of the gentleness. Gentleness is something else than what the man understands; the man that loves gentleness in him or from another to him. Israel, open the scroll of the Scripture and see how My word was and what kind of gentleness it has carried in it. If I had been good like the man, I would have not been left by all. I was good like God, but the man does not know what it means to love God so that you may not forsake Him. The man does not know what gentleness is. It is God's truth, son, and the man is true in his gentleness. If the man had been gentle and humble in his heart, he would have had gentleness like My gentleness, but the man is gentle and humble in his flesh, and the man's flesh draws the heart of man to be one with it. If the man had had gentleness like My gentleness, he would have worked like Me not like the man. When a mother's child goes wrong, she does not take him into her arms to rejoice over his mistake. She suffers in her heart but rebukes her child and is angry with his mistake, sighing in her heart for her child's misconduct. She starts watching, and keeps watch with fear, lest her child may go wrong again. The heart of the mother is pure in love, is holy in love. Her child rejoices under her eyes of mother, but she suffers watching and watching again over the life of her child. I am the same for you, My people, chosen to be My child. I suffer watching over you and I would like you to watch, son, so that I may rejoice resting in you.

I long after the rest as I have had nowhere to bow down My head for seven thousand years; I do no longer have. I suffer from longing after the rest and I have nowhere to bow down My head; I do no longer have. Look how I come from heaven to you, My people, to make of you a place of My rest, son, as I long after the rest, My people. A bird, which comes from far away into your country, works a little bit until it makes a little nest under your eaves, and then it comes into her nest and it breeds her chickens and then it works to feed them, and it has where to bow down its head. But I do not have any rest, and I do not find anywhere a place where to enter and rest. I come to teach you to watch over you, to watch over you so that you may also give Me a moment of rest, son. Oh, I miss My resting day, My day of that time when I rested in the man from My labor, after I created the heaven and the earth for the man; for I created the man and I rested in him, and he in Me, and since then I have no longer had any rest and a place to rest; I do not have anymore, and I long, My people, after My resting day, of My day of old. That is why I said: «Remember the Sabbath day, to keep it holy in you, so that I may have a resting place in you».

Oh, My people, remember My day of rest and put it in you so that I may rest, My people, as I am all worn out. I have been looking for My day of rest for seven thousand years and I do no longer find it. Turn My people into a day of rest for your God, as that is why I gave you birth of My word, so that you may learn from it the rest of God in you, people with My name on your head. My people teach Me what I should do to find My day of rest. Remember it and help Me find it, as this it means to honor it.

Oh, dear and beloved Israel, oh, son, son, what a great gift My word is upon the earth! And I made you a distributor of the heavenly gift, My dear people among the peoples. You are little but no other people is greater than you among the peoples, as the greatest people is the Lord's people. My speaking is not man's speaking. I speak like God, My people. My gentleness is the truth of God, and man's gentleness is man's truth, but the truth is only one, and there is no other truth beside God.

I have never wanted the man to stay with Me forced by Me. I want to have friends, who love Me with their heart, with My truth in them. When all deserted Me and I left only with those little of Mine who loved Me, My speaking was not so gentle as the man would have expected to be. I even told them this: «Are you not leaving?». I wanted them to stay by their own accord, not by My will. This kind of disciples I want to have, to suffer together with Me, working the work of salvation of the human kind, as I worked and still work. There is no greater love than this, but the man does not know what kindness is; he does not know what gentleness of the heart is, as to be gentle and humble in your heart, you need someone to be with this way; not with everyone you may found, not with everyone, son, but only with the one who wants to be with Me.

I have never justified the man, but I loved the man, who had faith and hope in God, and I helped him for the work of love into My vineyard. But from whom shall I make disciples today anymore? Behold, the harvest is great and the disciples are few, very few. From whom shall I still make disciples so that I may announce My kingdom through them and to come with it on the earth? My people, do you know what has to be the work of a disciple of Mine? He needs to have a work for the salvation of the human kind, a work like its Teacher, as it is written: «Any worthy disciple is like his teacher». It is one thing for the man to work at his salvation, and another thing to work as a disciple of Jesus Christ, to the work of the salvation of the human kind from Adam to the last sound of the trumpet.

My people, you are My house, and in big house there are not only golden vessels, but also vessels of clay, wood and iron, and if anyone purges himself from these, he will be a vessel for honor and suitable for the master's use, a golden vessel into the work of the master, a working disciple for the salvation of the human kind, a disciple who does not entangle himself in the affairs of life. He is busy with the words that bring life, and purges himself of all the vessels from the house, to be suitable to the master, not to the vessels from the house. Oh, the work of a disciple is great, as My apostles left everything they had and remained only with Me and with My word that they took and sown over the human kind for eternal life and into the will of the man, for I do not want the one who does not want Me. But behold, the seed needs to be sowed, so that the man may know about the seed and to choose over his life.

The man speaks earthly; I speak spiritually, and when I speak to the man about those from the earth, I go to those that are spiritual, to reveal them to the man, who does not know anything but only those from the earth. This is what I said to Martha at her speaking: «Martha, Martha, you are anxious and troubled about many things, but one thing is needed, and Mary chosen that one, and which will not be taken away from her». I could not take from Mary the thing needed to replace it with the one not needed, as My speaking has My kindness and My gentleness in it, which is not like the man's. Martha loved Me as a man, but Mary loved Me as a disciple. Simon, who rebuked Me because I received the sinful woman, loved Me as a man, but the one who was crying at My feet to forgive and release her, loved Me as a disciple who was suffering together with Me for her sins and for the sins of the human kind, as she was suffering and crying with her heart, and I gave her the peace, sons, as she asked for it with tears.

Oh, My people, you should know, son, as he, who has mercy on God, gets up to love God, and the Lord gives him talents, and he brings income to the Lord, as this is the work of a disciple. Oh, do you know what the work of the one who buried his talent into the earth is; the one that received only one talent? Did you ask yourselves, sons, why he was called lazy servant? Oh, My people, I have come into the world to bring the gift of forgiveness and salvation, and the man takes and buries this gift; he does not put it on him so that this gift may be seen, to shine within the man, so that the man who sees it to take brightness from brightness. The one talent is the gift of salvation that man buries and does not put it over him. And the many talents are over the disciples who work with their talents for the salvation of the human kind. The one with a single and buried talent is the man, who does not work even for his salvation, even if it is given as a gift to the one who wants to receive it. The one with more talents brings many to salvation and is called good and faithful servant to the master, vessel of gold and useful to God in the work for the salvation of the human kind. My people, you should seek to take My word in you, to bring forth fruit in you, and should not bury it.

Children of the path of My word, you, sons, who are a path for Me to Israel, you should work in such a way that the food of My word may arrive in due time into the cities of My people. Anything you may do, nothing is more valuable than the care for the distribution of My word in due time, and I will exhort you how to be able to work in due time. Be precautions, as it can be worked well and in due time, sons. And the strands to the crows, the strands who flow from the river of life, are the scrolls that you multiply to take a course to the multitudes; rivers from the river of life; and you will have all that you need in due time, so that the river of life may run from river into river until it flows into the big sea. Do the work of disciples, as the gift of My word is given to you to be the distributors from Me, and he, who puts his shoulder to the wheel with you, will receive a reward of a distributor. Receive My word, and break it and give to the multitudes, and you will receive the reward of disciples. Receive and water the soil and it will bring forth life from the river of life and fruit from the tree of life over those that are thirsty of life. The harvest is big and the disciples are few, and you are feeble My people, but work as you can with Me, work faithfully near Me, so that I may come to you with My word, and that the multitudes may take from it, and for your faith you will receive the reward of a disciple. Work with your faith, with your spiritual stature, with your prayer, dear son, so that I may be with you in the word, and that the multitudes may have what to take from you, and you will receive the reward of a distributor, the reward of a disciple, as at your faith God becomes word over the earth and prepares His appearance in glory by the glory of His word. My word is God's glory before the visible glory. You should not stay without Me in your mind and heart, My people, as you know that without Me you cannot do it. Learn well so that you may know what it means to be son.

Oh, Israel, you should know, Israel, as if there is someone in you, who does not love, who does not receive over him the one that I put, that one is called rebellious. You should know that such a man needs a new birth to know his purpose in the vineyard, as this is what I said: «The branch cannot bring fruit by itself». The branch has to be in the vine, in the work of the vine, sons.

Israel, Israel, do no longer play, son. Take a good hold of the plough and do no longer seek to forget the words that I come with and I put over you to take image within you, as My word has to become deed in you, My people. Set yourself to learning, My people, and do not leave the gathering together, as it is written by My blessing that it is there where the brothers are together, together into the word and into the teaching of the word, as there I also am, and I let My wisdom of the Holy Spirit to take life, and the word to become deed.

I am with you in celebration, My people, and with John, My godfather. Oh, you should not say anything superficially, son Israel. You should not love wine; you should not love the pagan food; you should not love the superficiality and its vessels. You should love Me, son. John, My godfather, was given over to beheading because of the spirit which comes from superficiality and which blinds the man's wisdom. Seek to know what superficiality means and do not be friend with the spirit and its body, as that is why I come and ask you and sigh asking you to watch over you, son of Israel. Do not let any moment on you without watching. Watch on you, and I will rest in you, son. I miss My day of rest. At least I want to find it with you, My people. I miss to stay and rest, I in you and you in Me, but watch a moment My people, watch well with Me, as a disciple who suffers at the same time with Me in the work of a new age and without pains. John rebuked sin, and the sons of the sin rose with wickedness against him and killed him. Oh, blessed is he that endures rebuke and that does not put the rebuke to death, because the rebuke is a watchman, which came from God to save the one caught in the trap of superficiality.

Stay in the light, My people, in the light of My word. You should not stay, son in the dark, as the dark has its evil deeds. You should stay in the light, son, stay, stay and watch over you and make Me love you after the truth, not out of mercy, son. Make Me happy, My people, as I long after the happiness from you, Israel. I chose you, son, to make you happy, so that I may have happiness from you. I chose you, My people, to have ointment from you in My pains, as I have too many wounds. I have only pains, My people. Have mercy on Me, Israel, and surround Me with the spirit of your comfort, because I long after the comfort, son. I miss you to be My white and holy bride and then to come to you, to come to you to stay in an everlasting feast. It is hard without comfort. Be My comfort son, Israel, as that is why I chose you, son. Be My ointment, as I do no longer have any place without a wound. I am full of wounds; I have wounds upon wounds. I miss the comfort in My pains. Do no longer love only yourself, son. Let us love each other, as I give you only comfort, as it is only I that I know how it is without comfort. Watch over you so that you may be holy, son, and this way you will be for Me the greatest comfort.

The angels want to braid you a crown of flowers of heaven, braided with the lock of your holiness, My people of sons. Your holiness will be taken by the angels and braided with the flowers of the heaven and it will be put on your head. Do you hear what I say? The angels knit you a holy garment, woven of threads from heaven, holy Israel. Do you hear Israel what I say to you? No one on the earth knows how to believe what I say, no one. But I give you the gift of the faith, so that you may know what the deed of the faith is, chosen Israel. Come Israel to a state of holy wedding, as I am a holy Bridegroom. Come as I come. Come, so that the wedding guests may also come. Come to believe, as by your faith I come. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the conception of the saint John, the Baptizer

I come every day of feasting and I refresh you in My love, Israel, My child. I come son; I come, for you are My comfort. I come to teach you to worship in the Spirit of Truth, as the spirit of the world does no longer know what the Spirit of Truth is, but you believe into the Scriptures and become spirit and truth with your worshipping, as you, My people, have a true God.

Oh, Israel, I give you My peace, son, as My peace brings you a spirit of contentment in your true God. Peace to you, My blessed Israel, My Israel! Worship God, Israel. Receive son, Israel, the Spirit of Truth; receive Him and learn from Him to worship God. Amen. When I spoke at the Jacob's well with the Samaritan woman, you know what I told her then. I told her that the hour would come when the true worshippers would neither worship in the mountain of worship, and nor in Jerusalem any longer, but rather they would worship the Father in the Spirit of Truth, in the Spirit of God, in Christ. This Scripture is big, and its mystery is difficult to understand even for God's faithful ones. The hour has come, so that the Father may have true worshippers; the hour has come, so that I may choose a people and put the Spirit of Truth upon it and to worship the Father, as such worshippers Father wants. The hour has come to have you, My people, as I chose you to have you and to believe in Jesus Christ, Who came from heaven from the Father, so that you may worship the Father through Him, Israel. God is Spirit, spirit and truth is God, as the Spirit of God became truth on the earth, as it is written into the Scriptures, as this is written: «The Word became flesh and lived among people».

Oh, how wise was that Samaritan woman! How well we got together each other, as it is great the gift of wisdom, which comes from the faith in God, in the Spirit of God, Who spoke and speaks through the prophets. This is what she told Me: «Lord, our fathers worshipped in this mountain, and you, the Jews, say that the place of worship is in Jerusalem». And I answered her: «Woman, the hour comes for the true worshippers, that neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem will they worship, but they will worship the Father in spirit and truth, as such worshippers Father wants. You worship that which you do not know, but we worship that which we know; for the salvation comes from the Jews, but the hour comes that the true worshippers will worship in truth and in spirit; for God is spirit and those who worship Him must worship in spirit and truth». She was a wise woman and understood what kind of truth of the Spirit I was speaking about with her, and then she said: «We know that Messiah is to come, Who is called Christ, and when He comes He will teach us everything». Oh, and what a great joy she had when I told her: «I am He, the One Who speaks to you».

Oh, Israel, it is great the gift of wisdom which comes from the holy faith in God. Father such worshippers wants, worshippers who believe in truth, in Jesus Christ, Who is the truth, as God is spirit and truth, word and body, as it is written: «The word became flesh and lived among us, and we saw His glory, such glory as of the one and only Son of the Father, full of grace and truth».

Oh, Israel, how beautiful was My speaking with you, as I have been speaking with you for a long time at this well, son, at the well of My word, Israel. I went out with this well before the woman from Samaria; I went out with My word before her, and how beautiful was My speaking with her! And then I gave her water from the well of My word; I gave her spirit and truth, and it became a spring of living water in her, as this is what I told her: «He who drinks from the water that I give him will never go thirsty, and it will become a spring of living water in him», My living water will become spirit and truth in him. How beautifully I spoke with that wise woman, that I liked her wisdom, her knowledge, her faith in Jesus Christ, Who was written about into the Scriptures that would come. I met with her at the well, and speaking about the well, I managed to make her know what the well is and what water is and what spirit and truth is, Israel; and I want to teach you too, Israel, the same way, to get used son, to know what it means worshipping the Father in spirit and truth.

Give Me, Israel, give Me, son, to drink and to be able to understand with you like with the Samaritan woman, son Israel. I told her: «Give Me to drink of your little wooden pale». And she said: «You are a Jew and I am a Samaritan, and the Jews are not friends with Samaritans; how comes that You say: „Give Me to drink?“ And I answered her: «If you knew the gift of God, and who it is Who says to you, ‘Give Me a drink’, you would have asked Him, and He would have given you living water». I was working upon her to open her wisdom and knowledge, for she was wise, and she replied to Me: «Lord, You have nothing to draw with and the well is deep. From where then have You that living water? Are You really greater than our father, Jacob, who gave us the well and drank of it himself, as did his children and his cattle?». Then I said to her this: «Everyone who drinks of this water will thirst again and drinks again when he thirsts, but whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will become in him a well of water springing up to eternal life». I was working upon her with the spring of My word, so that she may understand who I am, as she had power of faith and wisdom, and she understood My speaking and then she said: «Lord, give me to drink of this water, so that I do not get thirsty, neither come all the way here to draw». And then I cleaned her of her sins that I spoke to her about, and she saw in Me a prophet and asked Me about the worship, as she wanted to worship God and to belong to God. This is what she said: «Our fathers worshipped in this mountain and you Jews say that in Jerusalem is the place where people ought to worship». She wanted to understand who comes to worship the Father, and I revealed it to her the true worshipping and I told her: «Woman, believe Me that the hour comes, when neither in this mountain, nor in Jerusalem, will you worship the Father; for you worship that which you do not know, and we worship that Whom we know, as salvation is from the Jews. But the hour comes when the true worshippers will worship the Father in spirit and truth, for the Father seeks such to be His worshippers». And when the woman was careful to the words of life, she remembered of the prophets and said: «We know that Messiah is to come, Who is called Christ, and when He comes, He will declare all things to us». And when I heard that she spoke about Me, I said: «I am He, the One Who speaks to you». I revealed Myself to her, so that she might know that I came and I taught her. And then the disciples came with food and saw Me speaking with her and marveled that I was speaking with the woman, but they did not tempt Me about what I was doing, and she left her little wooden pail there and went into the city and told to many to come to the well in Sihar (Sihem, r.n.) to see Christ. And then the Samaritans came to the well at Me, and I did not want to eat any more, as the disciples said to Me: “Lord, eat.” But then My food was to do My Father’s will, Who sent Me from heaven to do His will, and I told them about the work of the harvest and about the reward of those who reap, who receive a reward and gather fruit for eternal life; however, they rejoice together with the one who reaps, as the sower is one and the reaper is another one. He who reaps is not like the one who sows. He who sows works much, and he who reaps comes in the work of the one who sows and labors over the sowed crop field, and they rejoice together, as with God there is love; there is the reward for the reapers, for they finish their work and gather the fruit for eternal life; and the reaper rejoices with the one who sows, the sower with the reaper.

This is how the Samaritans received Christ, Israel. This is how My coming to them was; the same as to you, Israel, as I worked the word of life; I sown it upon that woman who came at the well in Sychar, and those from Samaria came there; they came because of the faith testified by the woman and took Me into their home, and they believed because of My word and not only because that faithful woman told them to do it. My word is a well of living water, and whoever drinks of it, it turns into a spring of living water in him, which flows into an eternal life. Oh, how beautiful was the faith of the Samaritans, as they believed by My word, not by seeing My godly power, not by seeing the signs and miracles, but through the word and through their faith in the prophets and in the fathers.

Oh, you should not get upset, My people. I know that you know the Scripture, but I come to clarify it to you so that you may know its word from Me, My word, Israel, as by this Scripture I was speaking then about of My word of today, which is upon you, about My well of today, as this is what I said: «Whoever drinks of the water that I will give him will never thirst again; but the water that I will give him will become in him a well of water springing up to eternal life». I am the well of water, as the word is the well, as the woman said when she said: «We know that Messiah will come and teach us all things. Lord, give me this water so that I may never get thirsty»

Israel, Israel, God is spirit and truth. I am the Spirit and the Truth; I am He, who came from the Father, from the Holy Spirit and from the Virgin, and the true worshippers will worship Me, Who I am spirit and truth. I was speaking to My disciple then: «Whatever you ask from the Father into My name you will receive, as until now you did not ask into My name. Now ask, and you will receive into My name and I do not say that My Father will give you into My name as the Father Himself loves you, because you believed in Me, Who I came from the Father». This is what I told to the Samaritan woman: God is Spirit and he who worships the Father, must worship in spirit and truth, not in the mountain of worship or in Jerusalem, but in Christ, the Son of the Father, Who became spirit and truth among the people, as it is written: «The word became flesh and dwelt among us, and we saw His glory, such glory as of the one and only Son of the Father, full of grace and truth». The word became flesh, the Spirit became truth, and the true worshippers worship the Father in spirit and truth, and anything you ask from the Father into My name and from Me, Israel, you will receive, son. That is why I have always told you: I long for Me in you. That is why I tell you that I have always come and embody you into My holy body, as I am the Son of God's wisdom, and I came to become God in man, so that the man may have wisdom.

The world goes to Jerusalem to worship. Let it go wherever it wants, and you, Israel, worship in spirit and truth, into My name, worship the Father, as I put the name of God upon your name and I dedicated you in the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit; I dedicated you to God, when I gave you birth of My word and I had mercy on you as on a firstborn, as it is written: «The Lord has mercy on the people which is called with His name, Israel, which He likened to the firstborn». Worship, Israel, in the spirit and truth, in Christ, dear son, as I called you Jerusalem; I called you the citadel of My rest.

Oh, sons of Jerusalem, be, sons, true worshippers, in spirit and truth, as no one understands this Scripture, which is not empty speaking, as many do, of those who say that belong to the Lord, as this Scripture is Christ proclaimed by He, Himself, Spirit and truth, word and body, as the Word became flesh, and behold a great wonder at the end of the mystery in Christ, as the body became word, and becomes word and He gives Himself to the people; He gives Himself and does not separate; He is broken and divided and is still not separated; He is eaten and does not grow less, and sanctifies those that receive the Lamb of God to eternal life, and the one who believes in Me has eternal life. Amen.

Oh, My loved people, oh, Jerusalem, I told you son, to go on the way of the Holy Scriptures, to see and to believe and to understand the work of My word, which comes from heaven and feeds you today, My people born of the word which came to you, Israel, on the clouds. I told those who shepherd you today in Me to explain you the work of My word, which comes from the Scriptures, son. But I also come; I come to explain to you the Scripture about the true worshippers in the spirit and truth, as Father this kind of worshippers wants. The Father wants you in Me, My loved people. My Father wants Me in you, dear Jerusalem, as I called you Jerusalem, My people; I called you New Jerusalem, and I will place upon you a great and beautiful mystery, Jerusalem, a beautiful day among the days of the heaven on the earth, and that day will be called „the citadel of glory”, as it is written that «In the last days, the mount of the Lord's temple, the citadel of the Lord's rest, shall be established on the top of the mountains, and many nations shall flow to it. Many peoples shall go and say: „Come, come, peoples, to worship the house of the Lord, so that the Lord may teach us His ways and to walk on them!”, for out of Zion the law will go forth and out of Jerusalem the word of God will go forth, the citadel of the Lord's rest, as the Lord will give His laws to countless peoples, and all will say: „Come to walk in the light of the Lord!” The eyes of the haughty will be humbled and only the Lord will be glorified on that day, as the Lord, Sabaoth will have His day», His day of glory, and that day will be called the «citadel of glory», as it is written about the citadel of the Lord's rest. I miss My day of glory, Jerusalem, My people, as the Father will be glorified in Me, and that is why I say: I long for Me in you, and I have always come to embody you in My Holy body, and no one knows this mystery.

Sons anointed in the garden of My word, I will give you wisdom, dear sons, so that you may give to Israel the skillfulness and the faith which comes from the Scriptures, sons, as I am with you in the spirit and truth, word and body, body and word I am in you and through you, as this mystery is the word which carries you into its bosom, into the bosoms of the heaven.

Israel, child Israel, worship the Father in spirit and truth, as Father such worshippers wants. I do not speak with you as I did with the Samaritan woman. I speak with you in a high and clean language, as the hour of the true worshippers has come in spirit and in truth, in Christ, little son, born of My word of today. You shall not forget, My people, that I miss. You shall not forget, son, that I long for Me in you. You shall not forget that I always miss; you shall not forget this. I long for the spirit and truth in you, and there shall come nations thirsty after God, as the world goes to Jerusalem to worship. But the world worships which it does not know, and you and Me worship that Whom we know, as you know from Me what the Scripture is, which says about the true worshippers, who worship the Father in spirit and truth, in Me, Israel, as the Father is in Me. I am the Word of the Father, as the Father speaks in Me, as I came to do My Father's will, of the One Who sent Me. The same is with you, My people; you should do My will, as I am in the Father, and from the Father I am spirit and truth before you and in you, son.

Oh, sons anointed in the garden, I bless your wisdom, for I spoke with you at the well of My word, and My word will turn in you into a spring of running water, out of which many will drink and will worship the Father in spirit and in truth, as Father such worshippers wants. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Protection<sup>98</sup> of the Lord's Mother

I am the good Shepherd. I am, Israel. I am, son, He Who comes to you and becomes word in you, as I want to strengthen you on your foundation, as I came from heaven from the Father to build the new age that I promised through the Scriptures. I am the Good Shepherd. The good Shepherd comes by the door into the fold of the sheep, and the gatekeeper opens to him, and the sheep listen to his voice, and he calls his sheep on the name, and he pastures them, and the sheep go after him, as they know his voice. I am the door of the sheep, and I have some other sheep, which are not from this fold, and I also have to bring them to hear My voice and to be one flock and one shepherd, as for that My Father sent Me. Israel, Israel, the good shepherd comes in, and the gatekeeper opens to him, and the sheep listens to the voice of the shepherd, as the good shepherd does not climb up some other way.

I am in the gates. Lift up, you gates, so that the Good Shepherd may come in and to shepherd His flock. I did not come alone, Israel. I came with the saints, son. I came with My mother Virgin, and with the saints. Israel, son, I came with Verginica<sup>99</sup>, son, Israel, as I turned her into a door that I entered to shepherd you like a good Shepherd. I came with the door; I came with Verginica, in which I dwelt to be a door for the sheep, as it is written: «If someone will enter through Me, will save himself and will go in and out, and will find pasture».

I stand with My peace before you and upon you, people of My word. I came with pasture, sons; I came with a heavenly meal to you, as I want to see you eating of Me, as I am body and word on your table, Israel. I feed you from Me, My people. I am the Good Shepherd, son, and I feed you on Me. I lay down My body and spirit before you for you to eat My people, as I am body and word on your table. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep, not like the one that is paid, who when seeing the wolf flees and leaves the sheep like a thief; for he who does not go in on the door, that one is a thief and a robber for the sheep.

I come with Verginica, Israel, as I became a door in her for you, My people, and I come in on the door to you and I shepherd you, and now she comes in through Me to you, to shepherd you with Me; to shepherd you with the word, My people, as Verginica is My word, as I am the Word of the Father. Verginica is My trumpet, and I am her trumpet. She is My word, and I am her word.

<sup>98</sup> The feast day celebrates the appearance of the Mother of God at Blachernae (Vlaherna) in the tenth century. At the end of St. Andrei (Andrew of Constantinople) Yurodivyi's life, he, with his disciple St. Epiphanius, and a group of people, saw the Mother of God, St. John the Baptist, and several other saints and angels during a vigil in the Church of Blachernae, nearby the city gates. The Blachernae Palace church was where several of her relics were kept. The relics were her robe, veil, and part of her belt that had been transferred from Palestine during the fifth century.

The Theotokos approached the center of the church, knelt down and remained in prayer for a long time. Her face was drowned in tears. Then she took her veil (cerement) off and spread it over the people as a sign of protection. During the time, the people in the city were threatened by a barbarian invasion. After the appearance of the Mother of God, the danger was averted and the city was spared from bloodshed and suffering, r.n.

Oh, Verginica, We do not climb up the gates, for the good shepherd does not jump over them. We are in the gates, Verginica, and the gatekeepers hear Us and open to Us, and We come in. We get in with the saints, as this is how I come, as it is the time to come, to come with the saints, as it writes that «The Lord comes with His tens of thousands of saints». We come in, Verginica, with a synod of saints, and you are My trumpet, the trumpet before the appearance of My glory, as when the seventh angels sounds his trumpet, the mystery of God will be seen complete, and We work at this appearance, Verginica, but the man of this age, the wise of this age does not know; he does not know the God's mysteries. He knows other mysteries; he knows to look at those that I made and to tell it to the world that he made them, that he found them, and he grazes his sheep with those that he did not make, for he does not go in through the door, because One is the good Shepherd, Who comes in through the door and does not climb up over it. Oh, Verginica, My trumpet, I make you be known to the world that you are My trumpet, for I had spoken through you in the beginning, and I said that you would feed many multitudes with My heavenly pasture, and behold, I make you a word upon the multitudes to fulfill My promises, so that the multitudes may know what the Scriptures and their fulfillment mean. You are in Me, and this is your place, the place from where you speak over Israel, the well from where your words spring over Israel.

– I, Lord, am carried by Your bosom, by Your Spirit, as You are the door that I come in through to take care of my people and for You to have it as Your people, for neither shepherd that You have, wants to give You the flock and the work; he says that it is his flock, his work; this is what he says. But I say like You, because You also say that You give Your work and Your flock to the Father, and You submit Yourself to the Father with all Your earning, Lord. I say like You, Lord, as for You I have labored, to give birth to this people in pains and that You may have, Lord, a people, for behold, You need a people, so that You may have where to come on the earth to perfect Your heavenly mystery that is written in the Scriptures about, the mystery hidden from age and not known; but now it is known, Lord. You are the mystery, You, Lord, the One Who came from the Father and of the Virgin, a Man among people, Spirit and truth, word and body, body and word, Lord, for today you are body and word upon this people that I gave birth for You in pains, Lord. Oh, You should not forget of my pains; You should not forget that I laid down my life for the sheep of this people, Lord, as the good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep.

You helped me, Lord, to love Your people, and I loved it both on the earth and I also love it from heaven, as even now You help me to love it and to shepherd it, so that You may have a well-bred people at Your great coming, the visible one, Lord. Your coming is great even now, as behold how You come, and I see, Lord, for I am in Your coming with the saints, but the eyes of those that are prevented from seeing do not see until the eyes of those who see will no longer be closed, as Your coming with the saints of Your glory is great and honored. Your coming is great, Lord; there has passed two thousand years over it. Your coming has two thousand years, and the man does not see Your glory that You came with and which You have come with, and which You will let it to be seen; however, the man does not understand what God means. Oh, come Lord with a great miracle on the earth, so that the man may understand what God means! Come, come and become visible and make Your coming visible, so that the man may understand what God between heaven and earth means, from beginning to end, as it is written: «In the beginning God made the heavens and the earth», and in the end it is written about a new heaven and a new heart, Lord, made by You, as You are the beginning and the end; You are the Alpha and the Omega; You are the One Who is and Who was and Who comes, Lord. I am Your witness from heaven, as I also was on the earth in the time of my body with You. I testify about You to My people, and I testify about You to the world, Lord. I testify about Your Mystery, Lord, for there is no more time; it was, but it is no longer, as it is written that «There shall no longer be time, but in the days when the seventh angel speaks, when he is to sound his trumpet, then the mystery of God will be finished, as it was spoken by the prophets».

I was the trumpet before You, Lord. I prepared Your way, the way of Your word over all the earth. Until now You have been the One Who has been speaking to Your people that You gave birth from Your Spirit and from me, from Your word in me, Lord, but now You speak to the multitudes on the earth, as Your word and Your voice go over to the nations of the earth, and Your mystery is preached for its completion, for Your coming, Lord, as the completion of Your mystery is Your coming on the earth. Oh, You are the Word of God; You are the Word of the Father. You are the One Who came from the Father to the people; You came from the Holy Spirit and from the Virgin and became spirit and truth, word and body, and behold, You become word from body, and You are body and word, as Your name at the second coming is: the Word of God. (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.). You are the Christ, the Word of God, Who come and shepherd, so that You may bring the sheep together in the fold, as You have also had other sheep that are not of this fold, and You want to bring them together, so that they may be one flock and one shepherd. And I will keep my people awake, so that You may become word in it, Lord, word over all the nations on the earth, and that it may be heard to all the margins that You shepherd and bring the sheep together in the fold to be one flock and one shepherd. Amen.

Oh, people of the Lord and mine, do you hear what I speak with the Lord? I bring you ointment for eyes to see God in His coming, as you have written on your head the name of God and the name of the citadel of God, the name of the New Jerusalem, which comes down from heaven, from God, and the new name of the Lord. The new name is the Word of God; this is your new name, my people, and you should do this work, Israel. You should be faithful, so that you may be a manger of the word of God, son Israel. You are the manger, which the Word of God is born into, the Word of the Father, Who is the Son of God, my people. I come with the Lord, and I testify from heaven upon you, and you should testify on the earth about the mystery hidden from ages, which not even the angels knew of it, Israel.

Oh, Israel, my people, my child people, let the work of the protecting angels be strengthened upon you, and also you should support the work of the good little angels, so that the protecting little angels may see God's face, son from Israel. Give them work to do, Israel. Give, Israel, work to do to your protecting little angel, for him to have something to go from you to God with, as he always goes and sees God's face, as it is written into the Scriptures about those of whose protecting angels see God's face forever. Oh, I told you, son: „Woe to the weak-spirited one!” What does it really mean what I told you? Oh, you should not be poor of the spiritual life, son Israel. You should always be a child, who always keeps and does God's deeds on the earth, so that your protecting little angel, the Lord's good angel, may be strengthened in you and near you, son. Nothing remains without arriving at the Lord, but you should not give the occasion to the evil angel to see God's face going with those wicked of yours, as he looks day and night to accuse you before the Lord, as it is written, but the Lord will cast him away from His face, as you will serve God day and night, dear son, and your protecting angel will see the Lord's face and will bring you power and love from God upon you, and you will stand before the Lord strong-spirited and not weak-spirited.

Let the word of the saints be strengthened over you, my people, as their prayers have multiplied God's mercy for you, Israel. If you pray to a saint doing God's will, you make him bold before the Lord for your requests, Israel. Pray also to me to intercede for you before God, as the saints, Israel, have me before them and they are after me for you, my people, so that you may be helped and strengthened by saints and angels, son. I help you after your stature son. I comfort or I rebuke you after your stature and I ask you, son, to stay well established in a godly stature, and to be strong-spirited, so that your angel may see God's face day and night; to see it forever, as it is you that he brings before God. Stay before God, son from Israel, stay well and with fear of the Lord, and with attentiveness to the Lord, son. You should not avoid my teachings, so that my teachings may not avoid you. You should go through them and let them go through you and you should bring them into being upon you, so that you may be strong-spirited, dear son, as the angels, Israel, stay around you to hear the word of God from God's mouth and from your mouth, my people, as at the hearing of God's word, the heaven comes together to listen. Son, take the good and put it on you and work it out, as the heaven comes around you to see God, as where the Lord is, there the heaven also is, my people; for wherever the carcass is, there will the vultures be gathered together to eat.

The apostles were going on the way and talking the word of God, and the Lord came near them and interpreted the Scriptures about Him, and then He went with them and broke the bread and became word and Body on their table, and then He went to the Father, to be in the Father with them, with the apostles, son.

Oh, you should get used to the word of God, son; you should receive and chew it. You should receive the Scriptures that have been by now and those from now on and speak from them, as the Lord comes near to interpret them for you, son. The Lord comes to interpret the Scriptures that have been by now and those from now on, as the Scriptures are made by the word of God preached to the people who were moved by the Holy Spirit, by the word of God, sons.

My people, Israel, be strong-spirited to be the Lord's will on the earth, so that the Lord may come closer with the saints and angels, and that the heaven may come down on the earth, and that the heaven may be seen with you on a heavenly day, and the day of Lord may come, Israel. The day of the Lord is with you. The feasts of the saints celebrate with you, Israel. The Lord is coming, son; He comes to celebrate in you the mother Virgin; He comes with a synod of saints and with the mother Virgin.

Let it be attention in the gates! Let it be watchfulness before the word of God, which comes to be born in its manger, in its garden. The Lord becomes word; the saints become the word of God.

Oh, sons of the Lord's little garden, be careful in the gates; strengthen the watch in the gates; watch over the Lord's coming to Israel. Your life is God. Watch over your life, as the angels also watch, and the saints also watch, and the Lord also watches, sons. You should also watch; watch over the Lord's coming to you. Let all the people of Israel watch over the Lord's coming to His people, as from the Lord's coming to you the nations receive to learn of the Lord's coming on the earth.

And to You, Lord, I give glory for Your coming; I give You glory from the middle of the saints, as You are the One that is glorified by heaven and earth for Your coming. Come with the saints; come with the angels; come Lord to Israel, and make Israel strong-spirited, as great is Your mercy and power and goodness, good Shepherd.

– I am the Good Shepherd, Verginica. The good shepherd lays down his life for the sheep. The thief and the robber is the shepherd who runs away to save his life when he sees the wolf coming. I am the Good one, Who lays down His life for the sheep, Who gives His Body and Spirit as food of the sheep, as this means that He gives His life for the sheep. The Good Shepherd becomes food for the sheep; He becomes manna from heaven for the sheep, and the sheep have pastures and know the taste and the voice of the Shepherd, and go after the Shepherd. I am the Shepherd of Israel, Verginica. I am the Good Shepherd, and the sheep listen to the voice of My word. Amen.

***

I am the way, the truth and the life. I am the Good Shepherd, Who laid down My life for the sheep. The Good Shepherd does not jump over to enter into the fold of his sheep. I am the Shepherd of Israel, and the gates are lifted up and I come in, so that Israel may have pasture. I am your peace, Israel, My people; I am your comfort, and you are My comfort, Israel. We come together; I with you and you with Me, to celebrate the day of the heaven on the earth. I am your day of celebration; I, with My heaven of saints and angels. The heaven is comforted with you, My people. You are the comfort of the heaven, and the heaven is full of comfort for you. Receive the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, Whom I gave to you from the Father, and be comforted with Him, as I promised to those of Mine, even since I went into the Father after I was raised by resurrection. The Holy Spirit, the Comforter, the Spirit of Truth, is the One Who speaks upon you from Me; it is He, Who takes from what is Mine and proclaims comfort for you, My people. I gave you birth and I brought you up from the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, Israel, like a good Shepherd, and I nourished you with My life, as the good shepherd lays his life down for the sheep; he becomes food for the sheep; he becomes pasture for His sheep; he becomes comfort for the good shepherd. I also have some other sheep that are not of this fold, and I want to call them too, to gather together into My flock, to have the Good Shepherd as a shepherd, Who grazes His sheep with His life, to have eternal life, as the Good Shepherd has. Oh, no other shepherd on the earth lays down his life for the sheep. He does not lay it down even for God, let alone that he does not lay his life for My sheep.

Israel, Israel, I tell you, My people, to hear the flocks on the earth. Let any kind of flock hear the voice of the Good Shepherd. He who enters the door is the shepherd of the sheep, and he who does not enter the door into the fold, but climbs up some other way, that one is a thief and a robber. The good shepherd enters through the door and the sheep listen to his voice and follow him, and they will never go after a stranger, but rather they will flee from him, because they do not know the voice of the strangers. I am the door, and the thief only comes to steal, kill and destroy, for the paid one and he who is not a shepherd and whose sheep are not his, flees when he sees the wolf coming to the sheep, and the wolf comes and scatters the sheep. He who is paid does not take care of the sheep and I want to gather the scattered sheep, and there will be one flock and one Shepherd, and they will never perish, and no one will take them away from My hand, as Father gives them to Me, and no one can take them away from the hand of My Father, as I and the Father are one. I am the Good Shepherd, and One is the Good Shepherd, Who gathers His sheep in one flock.

It is the voice of the Good Shepherd over you, people of My word, so that the scattered sheep may know the voice of the Good Shepherd and to gather themselves for the pasture; to come together for the pasture at the voice of the Shepherd and to become one flock and one Shepherd, as the Scriptures says. Amen.

I came to you on a day of celebration, Israel. My mother Virgin covers you with her protection, to be protected by her, and that My mother may be your mother too, and for you to be her son, Israel, My people, as I also am her Son.

Oh, mother, cover Israel, protect him, help him and give him comfort. Share with Israel, so that the sons of the today's Israel may have mother. The one from yesterday did neither receive Me and nor you, but the one of today is house, door and meal for us; he is also comfort for us. Mother, comfort Israel of today, the Romanian Israel, as it is a great work for Israel to be Romanian! It is a great thing for the one, who believes in God, into God's voice and into God's word, to be Romanian. Divide yourself and give to Israel your comfort; share your comfort upon him, as Your son is in you when your break yourself down.

– Oh, loved son of the Father and mine, as this is what the Father wanted, seeking to the humility of His servant. Oh, dear Son, it is a great wonder for Israel to be Romanian, as the Romanian people started with You and he is born of You, of water, Spirit and blood, of Your holy Body, and he received body and spirit out of Your Spirit, and became relative with You and with me, Son, and was dedicated in the name of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and behold, now the Romanian land is the kingdom of Your word, which is like the dough of one woman, who took and hid it in three measures of wheat until everything was leavened. (Romania is made out of three little Romanian countries: Moldavia, Transylvania and the Romanian country. See also „History of Romania part 1 to part 16” <https://www.youtube.com/watch?v=Xjj0j-7ZvkM>, r.n.). Glory to You, loved Son, because You put me in front of the people, as You are my word.

I am the word of my Son, Romanian Israel, as my Son commanded me to share upon you the spirit of comfort, loved people of my Son. I cover you with my grace, which is my Son. I cover you with the heavenly mantle and I protect you as my Son also does, dear Israel. You son, Israel, should not forget that the Romanian people is an example about the kingdom of heaven, that God wants to show it in its being over Romania, as this country was made one of the three countries, and the seed of the Son was put to grow like the dough of a woman, that the woman hid into three measures of wheat until all yeasted and became one.

Oh, people of my Son, my Son prepared for me a day of joy, a day of celebration into your midst, and he gave me the full joy to become word over you into His name, to comfort you, so that I also may be comforted with you. I put the Spirit of the Comfort of my Son upon you and you should also put the spirit of comforting over those in heaven, people of the heaven on the earth, as you bear the burden of the time, and the Lord knows that you bear the burden of the time, and the heaven comes with the spirit of comfort to you; it comes with the word of the comfort; the heaven comes to you and comforts you on the earth, people of the Word of God that is my Son. You should not be afraid; do not be afraid, loved people by God. You should not forget that the Father gave all the power in heaven and on earth to my Son, and He also gave to those that are His power to tread on serpents and vipers, which bite on earth, but they will do no harm to those who have power from God to tread on them and to crush them. You should stay in the spirit of the earth; you should feed on the spirit of the heavenly comfort, as the time presses on the earth, and you should be as strong as the time that keeps pressing on, as strong as my Son, Who always embody you into His holy body, of which He takes the Spirit and truth and feeds you on them on the earth, so that you may be from heaven on the earth, so that you may be of my Son, Who is from heaven and Who is a shelter for you. This is the shelter that I release from the air upon the apostles. My Son is this symbol; my Son is your shelter where you stay and take cover, loved people. I'll cover you with my Son. Take this symbol-word and be faithful in the mysterious word, as my power is my Son, as He is your power, which He invested you with, so that you may have power of His power, people of my Son.

Ask and you will receive; ask for a spirit of faith, Israel. Ask for eternal life and let this wealth of yours not grow less. Take the spirit of comfort, which is given to you as a gift. Receive, and set yourself in a spiritual and heavenly stature. Receive, Israel, to have boldness with God. Seek always to look well bred; seek, son and daughter of Israel. Let your spiritual stature reveal Christ on the earth, Israel, so that He may be seen on the earth and the people to understand the coming of my Son on the earth.

Oh, daughters of Israel, take the heavenly garment on you; take the garment of my Son; take my garment and be heavenly on the earth, so that the heaven may be in you on the earth, so that you may make peace between man and God, as I did. How happy I was on the earth with God! Receive my happiness in you and take care of my Son on the earth, as I also did. I lived and I live for Him. You should do the same. My Son is the most beautiful among the people, and He is the Son of the Father; He is God and Man. My Son went to the Father and remained with the people among His loved ones until this end of the man's time.

Oh, daughters of Israel, take care of your step on the earth. Make the heaven and the earth joyful so that you may have joy and spirit of comfort from the Lord. Drink of the spring of life and love the heavenly life on the earth and let the Lord's life and mine spring out of you, so that the earth may have life as in heaven and that a new heaven and new earth may appear before the visible coming of the glory of my Son. I said that I will come and teach you life. The life is my Son, and I will come and teach you.

Oh, Son of the Father and mine, I come back into You, as I comforted Your people and I will also comfort it, according to Your will, Son.

– Mother, may you be honored by Israel. May you be praised by Israel's life, as We give it life, so that it may have life on the earth, as it is hard on the earth, and Israel bears the burden, mother, but I increase its faith and comfort upon it, so that My people may have power. May you be praised by Israel, mother, to help him with everything that you have from Me, as I also help it to have it. It is your feast, mother, and I celebrate you with Israel, so that I may make you happy. Rejoice, as the joy will be the great reward that we will put over the people of those that are faithful of Ours. Rejoice mother Virgin, as you also made Me happy, rejoicing My people with the spirit of the comfort.

And you, Israel, you should stand before Me, as I nourish you from Me, son Israel, and I help you to know My unfathomable mysteries, so that you may be comforted with them, My people; to be comforted with those that did not enter into the mind of man, for My mysteries are hidden in them, Israel, in Me and in you, as I am in you with My mysteries and with their work and with the comfort, which comes on you from them, so that you may be My mystery among My heavenly mysteries on the earth, Israel, My mystery.

I am with the saints and with My mother Virgin, and with Verginica in you, Israel, and I celebrate with you a feast of new heaven and new earth, which will endure before Me.

Oh, My people, you should get used to stand well before Me, and to seek to know your mystery, as you are mystery in Me, My people. I bear you in Me, as it is hard on the earth for you, and I bear you in Me for you to be able to be, My people. I blow upon you from Me and I have you as an dear mystery, but be humble and bowed down before Me, as I am your Shepherd and you are My servant. Be humble in Me, as I also stay the same in the Father, and you will be like Me in your love. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God at the Ascension of the Holy Cross on the Church of the New Jerusalem

I am. I am He Who is, and I come to you, Israel, and if I made a dwelling of My word of you, you also are. I am, and you also are if I come to you. I come for you to be, My people, for you also to be, as I am. I am and you also are, as you are My people. Amen.

Oh, you should not look at the man who gives himself a name. You should not look at the man with a coat and with greatness of man, My loved child. You should not look at the wise man who says that he is, and rather you should look at the One Who is, dear son. I am. I am He, Who is, as the man is how the time requires, not as God requires. Have mercy on Me, son. Have mercy on your neighbor, as on His coming, the Lord will pay you everything you might have been spent for My love. I will pay you, merciful child. You are My house, a house of heavenly guests, and I come to you to warm Me up into your house, as the time is cold, and I have nowhere to bow down My head to get warm. Neither I, nor the saints, have any place to get in and to let down Our burdens.

I am with Verginica, Israel, and you should open for the heaven, so that it may come in and do its work upon you, as the Lord and His saints come to interpret the Scriptures for you, My people, and that you may have a real interpreter, as behold, people who misinterpret God get up on the earth, so that they may make a name and have greatness among the people for themselves, and that the people may make garments of people. But you should not look at the man with the garment, at the man with a name, as woe to the garment and to his name, son! You should love the One fallen among the thieves and to take Him into your house, into your heart and to take care of Him with love, and God will pay you with a high reward and will work for you to have eternal life as God has.

Oh, Israel, you should always wait for Me, as Verginica comes with Me to you, as My trumpet has great work, as I work by My tools; I work by those that are alive. I am the God of the living; I am the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob. I am the God of the saints, Israel. I am the Lord of Verginica. I am your God. Amen.

— Oh, You should be received and praised by Israel, Lord, as You are He, Who is; and he who is, in You is and not otherwise. I am Your trumpet, Your tool with which You work Your field, Lord. You are the gardener, and I am Your tool, Lord, Lord of the living, Lord of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob, My Lord and the Lord of little Israel, as the smallest one is loved by all big ones, by all the living who were before the little ones, and who are alive, as You blessed a word of life.

Oh, my people, here is why I am, why I come to you when I come with the Lord. I come because I am, and because I am, I come. I come to you, son, and rejoice because you give me work to do with the Lord upon you. This is what the word said to you: „Speak Israel, of the Lord on the way, so that you may be heard speaking, and that the Lord may come to have a blessed Supper with you, as happy is the heaven when it comes down to sit at the table of word with you, Israel”.

I meet you with the wisdom from above, my people, for if you do not give an everlasting meaning to it, is of no use to you. You should work your eternal life with it and have eternal life worked by it; you should make a house with it, my people. Open the book of the time of the Lord with me, and see that it is written this into it: „Israel, let your body not go down into the grave, as it is written into the Scriptures to meet the Lord on His coming”. This word is from above, the wisdom, which comes from above to the redemption of the bodies, not only of the souls, as the soul was given to the body by God. The wisdom ends its way and its work by the redemption of the bodies, and the man who does not work to redeem his body, who does not take his body out from the dead bodies, out of the people, son, the man who does not get out with his body from the sea, that one remains a swimmer, not a wise man, as the wisdom which does not have eternal life in it, the wisdom without its flower, without the redemption of the body of his soul, it not the wisdom of life. Be careful Israel, to the wisdom of life, as the wise man on the earth does not have the wisdom of life, and he is a babler to catch many into the snare of his wisdom. The way of the Scriptures comes to an end with the lesson of the redemption of the bodies, which will bring the Lord on the earth in an image, as the Lord did not make the man to have him on the earth; he did not make him to turn him into garbage and dust.

Be very careful Israel, as the man's wisdom is born of his sins; the man is born of the evil not of the good. The man with a sound mind does not need judgment for his deeds to speak wisdom against them. There is no greater wisdom under the heaven than the holy mind. The man with a holy mind walks among the dead and does not bury them, as he is with the living not with the dead; he is with the Lord in the work of the everlasting life upon the man who has eternal life. He takes his cross and follows the Lord, as it is written: «Let the man sell his wisdom and its fruits, and take his cross and follow God».

Israel, son, I teach you the wisdom from heaven. You need to have eternal life. You should have it, not to receive it, not to get it. She does not teach you. She is lived in itself, when it is. But I taught you about it; I taught you to have it, as, son, you read the man, you read newspapers and human books; you read in the man, in the common man among the sons of the people, and the wisdom from above did not come into you, as it cannot be put among the things of the wise man on the earth. No man among the sons of the people can resemble God, as if it was not so, God would not have people any more, for the people have God, no matter how much they would want not to have God upon them, but only One is God with power upon the people and He submits anything He wants to His word. The day is coming when only God's wisdom is to remain; and also those that are sound in their mind, those that are pure in their mind. The Lord is coming with richness of wisdom upon you, Israel, and you, sons of the garden of the word, open to the heaven, open to the Lord when he knocks. Come together before the word and open to it. The sinful man needs the man's wisdom, not the one that is sound in his mind, not the intelligent man, for he who has a clean and sound mind does not need man's wisdom. Not those that are healthy need wisdom. Only the sick need a doctor; only the sinful, sons, as all the gifts will perish when the healthy man will be on the earth, and God's love in the man.

Oh, sons from the garden, that is why I said that your life is God, and I said that you should be likewise, as the Lord needs you to enter into Jerusalem. Stand by me; stand around the hen, as this is what I told you. Be the hen with the golden chickens<sup>100</sup>, be golden vessels and stay around the hen, stay only with God, with God within you, as the Lord needs you to come into Jerusalem, to be He Who is; to be with Israel. Amen.

---

<sup>100</sup> Reference to the Treasury from Pietroasele „The Hen with the Golden chickens”, a symbol of the Romanians, not understood by now, as how „the hen gathers her chickens” (Matthew: 23/37; Luke: 13/34), the same way the Lord gathers His chickens, as pure as gold in the fire of God's love. See about the treasury on: http://en.wikipedia.org/wiki/Pietroasele\_Treasure, r.n.

You, Lord, are He, Who is, and You are with Israel, as Israel is Your people, and I am the hen which calls her chickens to gather them under Your wing, Lord, and that the sons of Israel may stay gathered like the vultures around the carcass and to stay and eat Your word at a brotherly table. I taught the sons, Lord, to know what is Your wisdom upon them, as You speak to them in the parables of Your wisdom and to make them understand the everlasting life, and to have it; to have You, Lord, You, Who are. You spoke to Israel not to look at the man who gives himself a name, to the man with a coat, and rather to look to the One Who is, to You, Lord, so that Israel may have Your wisdom and not that of the man. Amen.

— Oh, Verginica, daughter of the heaven in heaven and on earth! I am the Man Who fell among the thieves, for the wise people of the earth separated the people from God and they made themselves gods for the people, and I remained a mere man, a certain man, a man of old and that is all, just a man and not a special Man. And when I told the one who asked Me about his neighbor, I answered him this way: «A certain man was going down from Jerusalem to Jericho», from heaven down to earth, Verginica. A Man from heaven, but no one knew by that time who was That Man I was speaking About. I was the One Who fell among robbers, and neither the Levites, nor the priests helped Me, but only the Samaritans took Me into their home, and My Father will reward them for their faith, as they also were a people thrown away from their land, but when they became a people again, they learned the faith in the true God, while there were only false gods on the earth. I am the Man Who fell among robbers, a certain Man as it is written about Me in the Scriptures, about the Man of suffering, the Man despised by all the people, the last One among the people, a Man full of sufferance, used to suffering, a Man to turn your face away from, considered a nobody by all people, a certain Man, but He took upon Him all the man's weaknesses and iniquities, in order to save them and to heal the people by His wounds, for the true Shepherd lays down His life for the sheep, so that the sheep may have eternal life, as the true Shepherd has.

Oh, I have mercy on the one with a man's mind; I have mercy, sons. That one does not know what life is, or what Father is; that one does not know what prayer to the Father is, as I was praying in David saying: «When My strength fails me, Lord, do not forsake me». Oh, I have compassion on the mindless man, of the man wise in his own mind. The wise man in his own mind, quick with his own mind and wise with his heart, such a man shuns evil, because he knows them by way of his mind. But the calm and gentle man, who has a peaceful, good, clean and quiet heart, the evil things avoid him. It is not him that keeps away from the evil, but the evil keeps away from him. Such a man has My peace in him; he has My wisdom upon him, and the evil flees God.

Oh, My people, My loved child, I know that you do not deserve, but I do deserve to have a people given by Father. The archangels will come in the sky to you, as you are the Samaritan who took into your house the Man fallen among robbers, both then and now. When I come to you, let Me find your sons, Israel, to have someone to speak with, who to rejoice with, as I suffer from My longing for you, My people. I come and interpret the Scriptures for you, son Israel, and you should open for Me. Archangels will come in the clouds to you with the feast of today, as today the heaven celebrates above the manger of My word and the choir of the little angels sing the hymn of the sign of the Holy Cross, which appeared on the sky from the midst of this holy establishment on the earth. Today it begins the feast of the cross, sons, and the feast of the archangels will complete the feast of today. It is the day when the cross of the Holy of Holies was raised above it, on its height, and at dawn the cross was seen on the sky, and it got out above the spring of My word, which was running into My mystery with you, My little Israel, as I became a river of life which flows from God's throne. Behold, neither the Levites, nor the priests received Me, but you received Me and took care of Me for My coming, and My Father has His reward for you, the one who took care of the Man fallen among robbers, among the unbelievers, the Man Who took the healing of the people upon Him, the Man Who comes down from Jerusalem to Jericho, from heaven to earth, the new Man on the earth, Israel. You should be My neighbor, loved Israel. Son, you should be for Me the house for the guests that receives Me in it, the house with oil and wine for My healing and for My strengthening in you, Israel, My warm house, the house of My mercy, Israel, son of a Samaritan.

And you, Verginica, you should gather the chickens for Me, so that I may give them new seed; to pour out the seeds into their little fists and to turn them into sowers after My image and My likeness, as I declare the blessing for the multiplying of My word upon the multitudes. Keep your fists, sons, that I may pour Myself into them with the seed of My word as food for the multitudes, as so that bread for the nations hungry of God, so that the man may know what bread is, bread from heaven on the earth as food. Keep your little bags wide open, sons and sowers, to fill them up, and you should take into your little fists and throw on the earth, and he that hears will be sown and will bring forth fruit above his nature, a new man, far above his nature.

The sower sows the word, and I will come to you, sons, with the seed of the wisdom from above to call into being those that are still not, as God created the soul for the body. Come to drink, Israel, and become a spring of living water, so that I may drink of your water and never go thirsty after you, son. Child, Israel, set yourself after My image and My likeness and have a stature, son, as the time comes, so that seven times seven people with superficial wisdom may keep after you, and they will sell their possessions to buy your name and to wear and to have a name, but then you will not be able to testify that someone is Mine, but only the one you know that he does My will; to testify him after his name that it is My will and My name, and My name will be worn only by the one who takes My new image before My coming with the visible glory. Amen, amen, amen.

The Synod of the Saints Archangels Michael and Gabriel

The Word of God comes on the clouds of archangels. The Lord comes carried by the wings of His glory. I come to you, Israel, so that you may be, as I am He Who is. Amen. I come to you, as you are for Me, house and board and comfort, My people. I come with the wisdom from above, so that you may have from above and to be known that you are from God; so that the world may know that I have a people of disciples that I scatter from place to place the seed of the kingdom<sup>101</sup> of heavens.

I come to you with a feast, Israel; I come with light. Let there be light! Amen, amen, amen. Let there be light and let this day remain. In the beginning God made the light and in the end the Lord came as light, so that the man may have light from the Light, word from the Word, as the Word is light. Let there be word; let there be light as in the beginning. In the beginning was the Word, and in the end the Word is the One Which was in the beginning. The light is in the beginning and in the end, as the beginning is in the end.

You should know My people, Israel, that the Lord, your God, made light upon you, so that you may be seen as light. I stay with you into My hand and I carry you among the people, so that it may be light upon the people. As the man stays with the candle in his hand to see what he is looking for, the same way I stay with you in My hand, and I announce you as wisdom from God, as I worked you before Me with wisdom, to find what I lost in the beginning. In the beginning I created the light, and I worked with it for the good of the man, and after that, I created the man to have him in the good, as it is not good for God to be alone, and that is why I created the man to match God, after the image and likeness of God. I made light out of you, My people, as after I created the man to have him and for the man not be alone, the man left Me alone, and I since then I have been looking for him; I look for him to find him and to place him in the good, to place him in Me. I come with the wisdom from above to put it in you, Israel, and to have you as light in the time of darkness, as the man fell and became darkness. The man became darkness and hid into it, and the man gets up and says that he is wise. But I made you light, My people, and I have always advised you to flee from the wisdom, which comes from the man, as the man became darkness before Me. The man fell from heaven on earth, as the darkness is the devil that takes the stars of the sky and throws them down onto the earth, and I have been looking through the dead and took you out and gave you life, Israel; and I gave you face, son, and I made light upon you as in the beginning, and I stay with the light into My hand and look for the man as the woman who lost her drachma was looking for her lost drachma. I am the wise Man, Who casts His net into the sea; Who casts the kingdom of heavens on the earth to catch the lost one into it. The kingdom of heavens is a net cast into the sea, which gathers all kinds of fish, and the fishermen draw it to the shore and choose those that are good, and they throw the evil ones into back into the sea.

My Father sent Me on the earth to make you, Israel from the end, to go with you as light into the world, son, and to call into being those that are still not; and I called you a chosen vessel, as I put a birth from above upon you, to be from heaven on the earth, and so that the earth may have light and to be seen into the darkness.

Oh, what does the man want to say, My people? The man has been saying for seven ages, but what really does he want to say? Who understands what he says? The wisdom of the man quarrels with God, but He, Who is, comes and turns the light into the darkness, for the man made the darkness and hid into it. I made of you light into My hand, Israel, as I am the Lord, Who can do it. As the man stands with the candle into his hand to seek the lost drachma into the darkness, the same way I stand with you into My hand and seek what I lost. I look with the light into My hand to find what I lost, and I will rejoice with the entire heaven when I find what I lost.

Oh, it is not good for the Lord to be alone; but it is good to be with the man. It is not good for the man to be alone, but it is good for him to be with the Lord, My people. That is why I gave you birth from above in a time of great pressure, of great darkness, (The spiritual darkness from under Ceaușescu's communist dictatorship, r.n.), and I called you light from the Light, so that its sons may have light, as the darkness stays on the earth and the earth is full of its sons; that the Light may also have sons. The wisdom from above is light from the Light, light over its sons. It is not good for the man to work alone into the darkness. Let the man receive light and work with it, so that he may not be alone. I become word on the earth, so that the man may receive word, as the word is God's mystery, as everything that is made to be, is made by the word, not by man; by God not by man, but let the man receive light, as it is not good for the man to be alone in the darkness. The people can hardly see the Light, Which comes from heaven over the darkness; the people can hardly see God, as the languages are confused on the earth, and the heaven is not seen on the earth.

Solomon asked for wisdom, but he had remained committing the sin of the man who fell from the eternal life and did not follow the wisdom. It was not Solomon's wisdom that should have remained, for if it had remained, Solomon would have been wise. But the wisdom is not Solomon's, rather it is God's, Who came to speak to Solomon the word of wisdom against his sins. However, wisdom was of no use to Solomon, because he did not put it on his life. He, who confesses his sins as sins, is discharged of the payment of his sins, and he, who does so, loves eternal life. The eternal life means cleansing of sins; it means the man above the fleshly nature. When the Lord has to proclaim a word for the man, then He washes out His hands; however, the Lord sees the haughtiness and the fall of the man ahead of time, the lack of eternal life in the man.

Oh, how good it is, Israel, son, how good it is for the Lord to speak upon your healthy mind, to the glory of His word! How bad it is under the heaven for the Lord to speak upon your sick stature, son, to the sufferance of God's word, Who struggles with a word of life over the death from the man. Oh, I have mercy on the one who plays with death; I have mercy on the one with a human mind, Israel, and that is why I made you light from Me, to heal the hypocrisy in the man. What is hypocrisy, son? The worldly man does evil openly and is clean in his heart, but the Pharisee, who calls himself God's man, does evil on the sly, for if he does it openly, he will lose his garment that he covers with, and that is why I told you, Israel: „Beware, son, of hypocrisy, of the yeast of the Pharisees”. God cannot be sold but by Judas. The hypocrite cannot be but the one, who stays under the name of the Christian, of the teacher of the heaven on the earth. The worldly man does evil openly. The Christian man hides with the evil that he does, as he is Christian, and it is no need to be seen that he does evil things.

But to you, Israel, I give you wisdom from above as an example of the kingdom of heavens, which calls out on the earth. The true wisdom in the man is this: the man has to deny himself and no longer be himself, but Christ should be instead. Hear Israel, what your Shepherd speaks! He, who wants to be with Me, should deny himself; he should deny himself even during the time of his prayer, as this is what I said: «I do not do My will, but My Father's will, the will of the One, Who sent Me». Oh, let the man deny himself and then take up his cross and follow Me, as if he does not deny himself, he cannot follow Me. What does it mean, son, that the man should deny himself to have his way with Christ? Behold, I took up My cross and I follow My Father, after My Father's will, not after My will. This is what it means for the man to deny himself. This is what I said: «I do not do My will, but the will of the One Who sent Me». He, who wants to follow Me, let him deny himself, and if he does not deny himself, he does not want to follow Me; he cannot be My will if he does not deny himself. Solomon spoke the word of the wisdom but he did not deny himself. He did not listen to God. He listened to himself, and he did not take up his cross to follow Me. This is with every man who worships himself, the idol, his carved image<sup>102</sup>, his own self, sons. If Solomon had loved Me, He would have followed Me, he would have taken up his cross and would have loved Me if he followed Me, but he loved himself; he listened to his own self, and prayed to God to give him wisdom to judge his people.

Israel, dear son, how beautiful is the man who denies himself, how beautiful! There is no greater wisdom than this wisdom. He, who does not deny himself, does not have any cross, and the cross is the man's denial of himself. Woe to the man without cross! That one is not, and he has no one to be through. He, who is, is through the cross, through the denial of himself, son. I have come to you with the wisdom from above, as Verginica prays to Me to build a house of wisdom in you, so that you may be. I have spoiled you with the light of My word, so that I may ask for your obedience, My people, and that I may help you to deny yourself and to stay through Me; to stay in obedience and to have a cross as I had. I did not do My will. Not I, but My Father wanted to come as Man on the earth, to be crucified and to do His will; My Father's will, not Mine. Behold, Israel, this is the wisdom and it is one: the man to deny himself. Who is he that denies himself? It is the one who takes up his cross and goes on the way with God. The one, whom you do not see under his cross, is not denied himself. I, the Son of God, denied of My own self and I did the man's will, as the man's will was to be crucified on the cross. This is what the man asked; to be put on the cross, and I submitted as the one who denies himself. I promised that I come to you with a lesson of wisdom from above, and I came, My people. I stay on the clouds of archangels; I stay on the sky of angels and speak My wisdom upon you. I was the One, Who denied Himself taking up His cross and following in obedience, and he, who wants to be like Me, let him come to Me, deny himself and to come taking up his cross, taking up with him his self denial. The self-denial is the cross, for the cross is nothing else. There is no greater wisdom to call out among the sons of the people than this wisdom.

The man's will is called sin; it is called the sinful man. He, who sins, is an ugly man, a man with a gloomy face, a hidden man, a defeated man, an inward man, who knows that is guilty. What is a hypocrite man? A hypocrite man is the Christian who sins, as that one hides himself with his sin, and his face becomes gloomy. The Christian with a clean heart is beautiful in his face and in his heart; he is calm in his voice and has brotherly love; he is calm in his behavior and clean in his heart.

You should beware, Christian, of the Pharisee's yeast; you should beware of hiding into yourself, of hiding your sins committed in the darkness, that is into hiding, not into the open like the world, which sins shamelessly. Keep away of hiding into yourself, son, as this kind of hiding is called hypocrisy; only for the Pharisees, only for Christians, sons. The world sins openly and the Christian does it secretly. Not so, My people. The Pharisee's yeast is not good; it is no good for a Christian to be a Pharisee, but rather he should deny himself.

---

Sons from Israel, you should not get sick, sons, as hypocrisy is a heavy sickness; it is sickness, sons. I told you to take care of your health, of your self-denial, to take care not to lose it, as it is eternal life in man. You, sons of Israel, should be healthy children, as God's sons are the wisdom from heaven on the earth; they are new people, born from above, born of God's word at the voice of the heart's faith, for Abraham was considered faithful when he was not yet circumcised, and his circumcision was a sign from God, because Abraham listened to God. At the voice of your heart's belief you are born from the word above, from God's word, Israel, people chosen to be, so that I may have a people. I placed upon you watchmen and workers taken out of your midst. I placed some for the gift of the wisdom that they have from above; others, for their love for God; others for their obedience, so that you may have an example and to become like the wisdom from heaven, My people; and some of you, I put as workers to become used to the work of the Lord, to get used to the work of the Lord doing the Lord's work, as any disciple learns from his teacher.

My people, you should value My coming to you; you should value My word, Israel, as he who values it, receives life in it. I can hardly come as the evil spirit is hostile to Me and to you, but I come, as I am He, Who can do it. I come to you, so that I may be light in the darkness from you, My people, as I created the light in the beginning and with it I created the man's good, and after that I created the man to have him in the good, as it is not good for the Lord to be alone. I made light out of you over the earth, Israel, as it is not good for the man to be alone, alone without God; it is not good for the man to leave Me alone, and behold, I seek the man to be with him, for the man fell and became darkness. The man created the darkness and hid into it. The darkness is a devil that throws on the earth the stars of the sky. I gave you light, Israel; I took you out of the dead and I created you a new man and I put you into the candlestick, to give light with Me over the earth, My people. The love of My word spoils you, son Israel, as a mother comforts her sons, as it is written into the Scriptures: «As a mother comforts her sons, so will I comfort you too; and you shall be comforted in Jerusalem, and your heart shall rejoice and you shall flourish like the tender grass».

Those, who stay into My name over the people, do not do My will before Me, as the people love themselves. He, who does not receive Me, does not deny himself and that is why he cannot receive Me.

Sons anointed in the garden of the word, you should be careful sons, as My word is a great wisdom over Israel, and he, who does not deny himself in Israel, is dead among the living. Be careful on the living; be careful of the life of the living ones, to know what the wisdom from above is. Blessed is the son who gives Me work with the word from above, at the will of his heart. Work the word from the Word, God from God, and no other kind of word. Work as I work, as I work fulfillment of word. Let Israel learn well; let him learn God's work and let Israel work out God and witness God.

What is calumny, Israel? What is calumny? What is discontent, son Israel? See, son, what these are and let them not be into the Lord's people. What is self-denial, child Israel? This is wisdom from above over you, over your body and spirit, Israel, My relative, My people who meet God in His coming. What is My coming, My people? Oh, you should learn this work, and let Me always find you in it, so that I may come, for I make of you heaven and place of My rest, and I come with those that are Mine; I come there where My kingdom is.

Oh, how beautiful the angel celebration is! How beautiful you are, little garden of My word! It is a beauty of angels upon you today. A retinue of angels and archangels goes today in Israel, as I also go into the middle of Israel, with the sons of the garden. I go and give Israel fresh love, warm food, living water, so that Israel may have eternal life, and to have it abundantly.

Sons from the garden, stand into My name; stand before Israel and breathe word upon it. Breathe Holy Spirit over My people, as I placed you before My people and before Me on behalf of My people, so that Israel may come to Me; to come to Me through the gates. Let Israel come to Me; let him come to Me, as I also come towards him, and may My coming to Israel be blessed, and let him who hears say: „Come, Lord, come!” Amen. And I say: Come Israel to make light! Come to go and to work out light! I made light out of you, as I said to be light, and it is light. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Saint Martyr Mina<sup>103</sup>

I am the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Let the sons of the garden of the Word hear. Let the gatekeepers hear and open to the Lord, as the Word comes to Israel; the Word God comes to speak over the earth. The Lord comes from heaven on the earth to be with the man, as it is not good for the man to be alone, but it is good for him to be with the Lord. Amen.

Peace to you, little garden of the word, which comes from heaven, which comes with the clouds, as it is written! Peace to you, anointed sons from the garden! Stand awake before Me, for I come and work a fresh word over the earth, a word of new age. I have been pouring out the grace of My word over Romania for seven years, to start with it a new age on the earth, but Gog and Magog have opposed Me. Be awake, anointed sons, so that you may stand before the word. I become fresh word over all Romania and I tell to My trumpet to prepare you so that you may stand before My word.

Oh, Verginica, here I am with you in your book. We come in to prepare the sons of My garden beautifully, as they are the messengers of heaven on the earth; they are placed on the earth during the time of today to testify about God's voice, the word of God, the Son of God, Who comes, Verginica. Here I come; here is how I come, but is there someone on the earth to understand My coming? I am the Word; I am He, Who is; I am He, Who comes. Amen.

– Oh, You are the One Who comes with the saints, Lord, with the tens of thousands of saints, as it is written into the Scriptures, Lord. I am Your trumpet and I am in Your coming; I am in You, Lord, and You announced Me to the multitudes that I am Your trumpet, but do the multitudes know to understand Your coming with the saints? It is written that he, who believes in You, will be alive even he dies. And You believed in me, Lord, and You came to life in me, and You had been speaking from within me for twenty five years on the earth, and You called a people to You, the people that Your Father gave it to You, to have it for Your coming in the word. And You became word from me, Lord, and the sons of the word testify about Your coming in the word. I was Your tabernacle among the people, the tabernacle of Your word, and if You took me into heaven, You also came back with Me to Your people, to my people, and You speak with it and command me to become word from You as well, so that the earth may know that You have me as Your trumpet, Lord; to know that in the time of my body the heaven joined to the new age, to the new age and the new earth that are, Lord. Your sons wait for Your promise, the new heaven and the new earth, the heaven and the earth of peace and righteousness, Your peace on the earth; Your peace, not the peace of the people.

I gather the chickens under my wings; I gather them under Your wing, to be protected by Your peace, as the people's peace it not peace. The people do not have You within their peace; the people are full of the spirit of wisdom on the earth; the people are full of spirits; they are not poor in their spirit for the kingdom of God to have room in them, so that You may have where to bow down Your head in the man's body, in the spirit and the soul of the man, Lord, and You are the One Who has been wondering away for seven thousand years. The people have their gods; they have their spirits; they have their own spirits, but I cleansed a people and I made him poor in the spirit, so that You may have room with Your kingdom in them, and to be, Lord, to be with the man on the earth, as it is not good for the man to be alone, alone without God, without God's word, as

You have always been speaking with the man, always, with the man who has been hearing Your voice, Lord, and You have reached to me, to Your people, who is Your son, and You speak from above him, and he listens to You, Lord, and he does Your will, the will of Your word. I gather my chickens under the wings as a hen, good Lord; I teach them to eat from Your fist; I teach them to share You, Lord, so that the nations may have light on the earth, as You are light; light and word. Amen.

Sons from the garden, stay under the hen; be the hen with the golden chickens<sup>104</sup>; be of gold; be golden vessels, useful to the Master; be trumpets from trumpets, as God, the Word, is being poured out, sons. The sower sows the word. Keep your little fists open to receive seed and to sow upon the earth, sons, sowers. Seed the word of God over Romania. Be awake, as the Lord is coming and is speaking in the garden for Romania. Take the Lord's book and stay with it open before Him as the Lord becomes word into His book; He becomes word in Romania, and you will go as peace messengers in the midst of the multitudes and will sow God and God's voice, and you also will seed the grace from above in the people.

You, Lord, have come with Your grace into the sons of the garden and made them sowers and gave them Your power, to tread on serpents and vipers, and that they may not be harmed. Oh, give Your grace to the people, Lord. Sow Yourself in the people with Your grace, as it is not good for the man to be alone, alone without God. It is not good for the Lord to be alone, alone without man. The people are idol worshippers, Lord. The people are idols for themselves, and they make a carved image for themselves and bow down to themselves, Lord. Give the people Your grace. Make the man again; make man out of man, Lord, as You came from heaven to be with the man, to be word, as all are made by the word, by You, Words of the Father. I pray to the Father in You, Lord, as he who worships the Son, worships the Father, for the Father is in His Son. Amen.

Oh, Father of the Son, receive me from Your Son, Father, as I pray for the man, Father, Who are in the Son. I pray from the son before You, as You are in the Son, and I am in the mystery of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and I testify about it on the earth, so that the man may know about the heaven of the saints of God, as the Son of the Father became flesh, and the Father is in His Son, and the saints of the heaven worship Him. Amen.

Sons from the garden, be in the Son of the Father, as Father is in His son, sons. Worship the Father in His Son, sons of the garden of the word. Amen, amen, amen.

*

The Lord is coming from heaven on the earth to be with the man, as it is not good for the man to be alone; it is good to be with the Lord. The Lord comes from heaven on earth. Amen, amen, amen.

Peace to you, sons anointed in the garden of My word! Peace to you, little garden of the word! Anointed sons, welcome My word, so that I may come and work fresh word upon the earth, word of new age, manna from heaven, honey and milk from heaven on earth, bread, sons, bread from heaven as food to the multitudes, which do no longer know what bread is. I have been pouring out the grace of My word over all Romania for seven years to start with it a new age on the earth, but God and Magog have been opposing Me.

I am Who I am; I am the One Who comes. I come with a new heaven and a new earth which are. I come with the peace and justice in the work of a new heaven and a new earth, for the men's peace is not peace. The people are full of the spirit of earthly wisdom; the people are full of spirits; they are not poor in their spirit so that the kingdom of heaven may have room in them, for behold, I, the Lord, have been wondering since seven thousand years and I have nowhere to bow down My head, but I have cleansed a people and make it poor in his spirit, to have room with My kingdom in him and to be with the heaven on earth, for it is no good for the man to be alone, alone without God, without the word of God. I have always spoken upon the man who heard My word from heaven and I have reached this day, and I have My people, who is My son, and I have been speaking above him, and he has listened to Me and done My will, the will of My word, and I have taught him to share Me, so that the nations from the earth may have light, for I am the word and the light. Amen. I have chosen golden vessels from the sons of the church that do not mess up with the worldly affairs, vessels for God's service, so that the Lord may enter the Jerusalem and to make Jerusalem from man, to make a church<sup>105</sup> from man, a living sacrifice before God, a burning sacrifice, living, living burning in man.

The sower seeds the word. Sons from the garden keep your little fists open for Me to pour out and to seed over the earth, sons, sowers. Sow over Romania the word of God. Go as peace messengers into the midst of the multitudes and sow God among into the people. The people have their grace. Sow My grace in the people, so that they may understand the work of My word and that the people may eat bread from heaven, to eat My word so that I may be sown in the people with My grace, as it is not good for the man to be alone, alone without God. The people worship idols. The people are idols for themselves. The people make from themselves a carved image and worship themselves; they worship their own wills, their own conscience, as they do not love God with their mind and with their heart and with their virtue. Give them My grace to the people, sons, sowers. Give them My word, to make the man again, as I came to be with the man, to be word, as all are made by the word, by Me, the Word of the Father. I want to take the spirit of the world from the earth and to replace it with My Spirit; to put God's Spirit on the earth, as behold, the world does not know to love you, My messengers into the world. Oh, if you were from the world, the world would love you, as everyone loves what belongs to him, but I love you because you are Mine, for everyone loves what belongs to him, and you love Me, as I am your love. The time comes for the people with human and earthly wisdom to follow you seven times seven, and they will sell out their possessions to buy My name from you and to bear it, so that they may have a name, as it is written in the Scripture which says: «Fall on us mountains and hide us from the Lord's wrath!». But then you will not be able to witness that someone is Mine, but only the one that you will know that does My will into My name.

My people, why does the man do not believe this word? He does not believe because he is not good, and if he is not good, he hides under disbelief, for the man to clear oneself of his stature, as it is written: «The fool says into his heart; there is no God». It is not the good one who says so, but rather the fool speaks against God.

Oh, God calls you, man! Do you hear My voice? Your creator calls you, your Shepherd, your Teacher. Oh, you wonder away because you do not have any shepherd, but the word from heaven comes and speaks upon you, and the word becomes deed upon you, as that is why it speaks: to fulfill itself.

I have knocked at your gates, Romania. You are My country; you are My coming back from the Father to the people. Do you really know your mystery? Do you really believe what I say to you? Can I really find faith on My coming back to the people? I have called out at your gates, My country; I have cried over your rulers to make peace with Me, and they, hearing, did not hear Me, and seeing, they did not see Me that I came with a calling over them. I told them to take home the chrism of Romania and they did not do this, and I took them their service, and their share is with the unfaithful that, hearing Me did not hear Me; however, Romania will not be resurrected before Me without her chrism.

Romania, those who ruled over you are sorry; they are sorry because they did not fulfill My word to bring your chrism home and to put it on your head. They would have made a name for themselves before Me, if they had listened to Me, but the man is not good, and he says into his heart that there is no God. Romania, you are the fishing net thrown into the sea and in which all kinds of fish are caught, small and big, so that the good fish may be selected, and the bad one to be thrown into the sea; however, if you do not make peace with God, you will not please God. If you do not take My word on you as garment, as clothing with God to help the Lord over the nations, you will not be pleased before Me; on the contrary, I will reprimand you like a daughter to your resurrection in Me. Let the man make peace with God, as there will be left no lawlessness in you, and the holy laws of the Lord will no longer be crushed within you.

Oh, daughter Romania, do no longer trample under your feet the feasts of the heaven on the earth, as the saints are above you with God's heaven on the wings of the Holy Spirit, on the wind of Holy Spirit. Search into your laws from before the storm (Before the Second World War, and then of the instauration of the dictatorship of the communist red beast, r.n.), and come back with your face to the parents, so that your parents may also turn with their faces to you, as the prayers of My anointed sons, who I come to you with, will be fulfilled in front of My eyes. My word will be fulfilled as the preached word has power in it. First, it is the word, and then its face comes, as this is how it has been worked through the word.

I have preached the word upon the shepherds of your church, Romania, and hearing, they did not hear Me and did not believe Me, and if they do not repent of their wicked deeds without God, their service will be taken away and they will be with the unbelievers. The shepherds of the church extol those that know to speak beautifully in the way of the man, those that know to sing beautifully; they praise those that are skilful in their science, with their gifts, but do not praise those who know to live beautifully, beautifully in Christ. Christ is lived by My people, and I made him light on the earth; I put him in the candlestick and I give light with him before the people, as I am spirit and truth; God is body and word.

Let the man make peace with God and let him be the Lord's church! The man seeks the church, but this is written for you, people, who seek: «The kingdom of God is in you». You will not find a church nowhere but in you if you build it in you. The church is nothing else but the Christian's body, the clean body in which the Lord comes in a clean way. If the Christian does not come clean to the wall church in order to take the Lord as a body and word; that of walls is not a church.

Oh, people, you build churches of walls in vain if the Christians do not come in with their clean bodies and hearts. Let the man make peace with God! Let the man kneel down and make a real cross upon his body, utter a prayer of repentance, cleanse himself by remorse, put upon him the promise of the resurrection from the dead, and let him take God in him only this way, for reconciliation to God, to the everlasting unity with God. Let the man forgive one another, for many things which are forgiven on earth shall be forgiven by God. Let Christ be lived by man and the man live in Christ, for the wisdom from heaven is one, and this is: «Let the man deny himself, take up his cross and follow Me» on the earth and in heaven, through the world and in the church. Amen.

But you, Romania, are a country without shepherd, and I came to shepherd you. I am the Word of God. I call out the shepherds who stay over you, to call them into account of your life, of your blood, of your church, as having you do not have; you do not have shepherds. Your shepherds live lawlessness before Me and before you, and you do not have, you do not have shepherds to bind your wound and Mine. They graze themselves not you, My love. Oh, My day will come as in the time of Noah, and I will find you drinking and eating and going to weddings and you will be taken by surprise if you do not want to hear the voice of My word as in the time of Noah<sup>106</sup>. Noah saw his salvation but the world did not see Noah's salvation. Noah saw the Lord on His coming, but the world did not see God, and rather it saw the day of disbelief coming on them. The man who saves his life will see the One Who is and Who comes. The man who does not save his life will not see God on His coming, for I will come as in the time of Noah, and I want to have you at the wedding, as I took My bride out of you, and I call you to the wedding. Come to the wedding, country of My wedding! Change your garment and take on a wedding garment; take on you a garment of pure linen and let your priests shepherd you to the light.

Oh, your priests deceive both you and Me, and the Lord's altars became heavy because of their transgressions. Let them wake up with repentance and cleanse themselves of their iniquities; let them give up drunkenness and tobacco and let them bring before Me holy chrism and incense, as the church is the house of prayer, and not a house of robbers. The church is the house of God, the house of God's sons, but will the Lord find a church of His at His coming? Behold, I come and call out only the scattered sheep. Let the scattered sheep hear Me and let them gather together at the voice of the Good Shepherd, as the Lord comes from heaven on earth to be with the man, as it is not good for the man to be alone, but rather it is good for him to be with the Lord. It is good for the man to be with God; it is not good for the man to be alone, alone without man. Let the man make peace with God! Amen.

I have been pouring out My grace for seven years, Romania, to begin a new age with you on the earth, but God and Magog have stood against Me in you. Let no enemy be hostile to you and Me. Let My peace be with you, for the peace of the people is not peace. The men are full of spirits; they are not poor in their spirit so that the kingdom of heaven may find room in them, for behold, I wonder and have no room in man and I have no church where to bow down my head and find My day of rest. Oh, daughter of Romania, come so that I may woo you to be a resting day, as My people chosen from you is for Me, a resting day and a bride for My coming, for I am the word, and all are done by word again; and there will be a new heaven and a new earth from you, Romania, for this is how I am well pleased, and the Father is well pleased with Me. Amen.

I am the good Shepherd Who is laying His life for His sheep, Who gives His body as food for His sheep, for this is what My life given to the sheep means, so that My sheep may have life and have it abundantly, but you should learn to be a church; you, man, should learn what Jesus Christ's church means; you should learn from Me, for I am the body and word in the church, the spirit and truth, as it is written in the Scriptures.

I became flesh in the Virgin two thousand years ago and I have dwelt among the people as a body that came through the Virgin, and now, after two thousand years, My Father made Me the word in you, daughter of Romania. Do you hear the Word? I am the Son of My Father, the One Who is. I am the One Who is, as My Father is. Come to be, daughter of Romania, for the one who is, is in Me, and the one who is, is no otherwise. Come to be in Me; come to make you a body into My holy body, for I am the body and word in the church; I am the church of My Father, for My Father is in Me. Come to be My church, for I am in you and I speak from your midst upon you. The Lord is coming from heaven to you to be with you, for it is not good to be alone, My love, alone without the Lord. Receive Me, for the one who does not believe in Me and in My coming, that one has part with the unbelievers.

Come daughter Romania, at the feast of the heaven on the earth, as I have been spreading the table in you for forty years, and you have been hiding so that you may not know. Oh, do no longer hide under your guilt, but rather give it away from you by being sorry and make peace with the Father, with the Son and with the Holy Spirit, because you are My daughter, and you have in your root a foundation of waivodes and you are noble. Be a church to Me and sing before Me a song of memorial of your waivodes, who cry for you before Me. You are anointed with chrism, daughter Romania. Where is your chrism from Me on your head? Where is your anointed, daughter, Romania? (The King Michael, r.n.). I have called him and his far, as you are far from him. I have called you from near so that you may hear Me and to pray so that I may lift up your curse from your land and to replace it with a peace covenant with Me, for the people's peace is not peace. My peace is peace, daughter Romania, and I chose you to be a garden of My coming back, to be My glory seen before the nations on the earth. Do you hear My voice? Do you hear My word? I am the Word of God. I come from heaven on the earth to be with you, to sow Myself in you with the word of life, as I have come so that you may have life and to have it abundantly. I have a field with a treasure in it. This is My news upon you. Stay before Me as a field to be sown, as you are the Father's plan in My hand. I am body and word. I came to embody you into My holy body and to give you birth by the word, as I came from the Father. I came to give you birth at My word, a word of a new age, as it is written into the prophets: «A voice, a noise from the citadel: the voice of the Lord!» and you will give birth to sons of My word, as it is written: «No sooner had she travailed than she already gave birth to sons». You are My new tidings over the peoples and I announced you as Mine. Let your watchmen hear, and let your gates be lifted up so that I may enter them to you! Let your gates be renewed and strengthened before Me! Amen.

Oh, people from the gates of Romania, (The rulers of Romania, r.n.), let yourself be woken up at My voice and wake up Romania, as she is My glory for My coming, and all the girls and all the sons of the people will greatly love her. Lift up you, gates of Romania, so that the word of God may come in, as the Lord comes from heaven on the earth!

I am the way, the truth and the life. I am your peace and your life, daughter Romania. Let him, who has ears to hear, hear the word of God, which comes from heaven and is heard on the earth to your blessing, daughter Romania! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Church Entrance of the Lord's Mother

I come to you, Israel, with a day of feast. I come into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. I come and make an entrance to Verginica. She will work into her book and she will place you before Me, sons anointed in the garden. She is My trumpet, by which I became word for My second coming, and I come and I shepherd.

I shepherd you, My people Israel of today, and behold, I shepherd the nations of the earth as a good shepherd, as it is written into the Scriptures that I come and I shepherd the nations with an iron staff, with the word of God. Whether they want it or not, I shepherd them like a good shepherd, as it is written into the Scriptures that I come and shepherd the nations with an iron staff. I am He, Who fulfills the Scriptures, Israel, and you are My faithful tool, and I become word at your faith; I become a shepherding staff. Amen.

Prepare your sons, Verginica. It is a feast; My mother is celebrated in heaven and in Israel on the earth. I made of you an entrance, as we have house and board; we have throne and footstool in Israel; we have a people, Verginica.

– Lord, You have sons as Your goodness has gathered from the world the sons that the Father gave them to You from the world; to have faithful sons on the earth, and to make out Your coming, Lord; and You gave joy to Your saints so that they may have house and board with You and from You to work out Your testimony and Your coming into Your saints. Your saints are alive, and those that are faithful pray to the saints so that they may be interceders before You for salvation, Lord, but Your people does Your will and the saints find their pleasure and power to fulfill the prayers of those who pray in Your people.

I pray for Your people, Lord, to give it the power to believe in You; to fill it up with the gift of the faith, Lord, so that it may be pleased to You through faith, as everything is possible for the one who believes, and You will be able to do it by the faith of this people, Lord, as behold, You become word upon word at Israel's faith; You come as word on the earth, as it is written in the Scriptures about the Word of God, Which comes on a white horse.

Oh, faithful people, if you did not believe, it would have been hard for the man, but the man on the earth does not know the Scriptures; he does not know to read into them, as it is read heavenly in them and not humanly, not earthly, and that is why the Scripture says: «When the Son of man comes, will He find faith on the earth?» Behold Israel, today it has been about the man's faith, about the man's faith in the Word of God, Who comes today to you by your faith, loved people by God. That is why, you are loved by heaven and by saints and angels, faithful Israel, as God gave you the gift of faith and made you to do His will on the earth, His will before Him, to be

His way for His second coming on the earth, the second time, for the redemption of the body and soul, well Israel well, as God made the man to have him forever. Amen.

The people are fallen by their wisdom, and you have the Lord as wisdom in your mind day and night, and you are happy in the Lord, and the Lord in you, as it is written: «Blessed is the man who does not sit in the counsel of the unfaithful, nor stands on the seat of the blasphemers, but his will is into God's law, and He meditates on His law day and night, like a tree planted by the stream of water, with fruit in its season and with leaves not withered, and the unfaithful are like the dust blown by the wind, as they will not stand up in the counsel of the righteous to judge».

Sons, sons, open the Lord's book, as the Lord passes with His saints into His book. The Lord came with me and with the saints; He came into my book and we will pass into the Lord's book. The Lord comes with His little Mother on a day of feast over Israel. Open the gates, open the books, open to the Lord, sons! The Lord comes with His saints, and you, anointed sons, should be beautiful, beautiful children like the tree planted by the spring of life, sons; trees with fruit in its season and with leaves that do not fall down. He who falls is a haughty man. He, who begins in Israel not to believe into the Word of God, fell into the sin of haughtiness, and he falls, falls down sinning; he falls down from heaven; he falls down from God as Lucifer fell through haughtiness. The haughty man has no mind; he stops having mind anymore and is like the one who wants to be like God, and he falls like the leaf which falls down, but you, anointed sons, and you, sons from Israel, be beautiful children like the trees planted by the spring of the river of life, with fruit in its season and with leaves that do not fall down, as the rivers will clap their hands at a time and the mountains will rejoice over the Lord's face, Who comes to judge the earth, to shepherd the nations of the earth with an iron staff. Do you hear what the prophet says? «The rivers will clap their hands and the mountains will rejoice over the face of the Lord». Sons, sons, sing to the Lord with harps and a voice of psaltery, as you are the rivers of living waters and it is written: «the rivers will clap their hands at a time».

Oh, loved children, my little trees, you are planted on both sides of the river with the living water, as it is written: «On both sides of the river was the tree of life, bearing twelve kinds of fruit, yielding its fruit every month; and the leaves of the tree were for the healing of the nations». (See the selection topic: „This word is the river of life”, r.n.) Grow and bear fruit, fruitful sons. Bring forth rivers of living waters, bring forth the word of God, which comes as a gift from you to the healing of the people. Bring forth faith from God's gift, as the Lord comes on the way of your faith. Your faith, Israel, is the way, which the Lord comes on, and He shepherds with an iron staff. May your faith be blessed, Israel of the word! The Lord comes into His book; He comes on a white horse and comes into the book and becomes word, as His name is the Word of God. Amen.

*

*Blessed be the kingdom of God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen. Peace to you son, son, Israel, My loved people, My white horse, the faithful son! Oh, with whom shall I speak such a word on this earth any more, well, well, Israel, My white horse, the white horse on which the Lord sits to come, as it is written in the Scriptures? Open the Scripture, Israel, so that I may come and speak to you from the Scripture: «The voice of a thunder who says: "Hallelujah! The Almighty Lord is King! Glory to Him and to His wedding, for the bride has prepared Herself; a bride with a clean and white garment, a garment of fine linen, a sanctified life. Blessed are those called to the wedding of the Lamb, for these are the words of God! And the heaven stands open and here, the Faithful and Truthful One, Who judges with justice, sits on the white horse. His eyes are as a flame of fire; His head full of crowns, and His written name no one understands but Him, The Lord, clothed in a garment sprinkled with blood, and His name is called the Word of God, and He has hosts from heaven, riding on white horses. Out of His mouth a sharp sword comes out and He strikes with it the pagans and the unfaithful ones and He shepherds them with an iron staff, and He presses on the wine press of His wrath. His name is written on His garment and His thighs: the King of kings and the Lord of lords! And an angel in the sun cries out: "Let the birds of the highest sky come to the Lord's supper!" And the beast with the kings of the earth who are waging war against the One Who sits on a white horse and with His host, was slain with all those who carried its marks worshiping its image and they are thrown into the fire and brimstone which is burning.»

Israel, Israel, today these Scriptures are fulfilled under your own eyes, you faithful sons, as My written name no one understands it. This Scripture is true for all those written in it have been fulfilled. Amen. My name is the Word of God, (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) as it is written in these Scriptures; and the beast and false prophet, who were lying against the truth of these Scripture, were thrown into the fire and into the burning brimstone. The Word of God is a fire which is burning, son, Israel, but with whom shall I speak such a word on earth anymore? The word of the Scripture is being fulfilled, Israel. That is why I needed you, son, Israel, for look, the Scriptures, fulfilled and proclaimed from old times, a long while ago, are speaking once again, Israel. They are written since then when the antichrist was born on earth to kill the Child Who Was being born. The Child, hidden into the manger of the faithful hearts, Was being born again in the faithful ones. The antichrist<sup>107</sup> was born at the same time with Me, for it is against Me that he always has something, and he discovered himself, as he has put his name next to Mine, against My name.

Oh, you have been waited for, Israel. You are little but your mystery is too big, and that is why you have been waited for; and look, the man understands neither Me, the Word of God, nor you, the fruit of My word, the road of My coming back to the people. If I did not put the gift of faith in you to believe My coming in the word, could I have come as it is written? But I made you; I gave you birth of the word from above; I put a gift into you to believe in the One Who comes, and I have come. I have come riding on a white horse and the man of this age does not understand, the wise man of this age. The people have names of wise men, philosophers, scientists, theologians, they have names and do not understand My name. My people, the people do not understand your mystery with Me and My mystery with you. No one on the earth understands the Scripture, because it is from heaven, and the people are without mind; they are without God. The people of the church say about you that you are a dangerous man, son from Israel. Why do the theologians say so? They say this because of fear; they are afraid and that is why they say so, but the one who is with God has no fear. The Word God is theologian, this means theologian. They are afraid and hid under the name of God and do not do God's will, and they are afraid. They receive My name and put it upon them, but they do not do My will. How will they not be afraid of you when they know from Me that you are My people? I told them that you are My people; I told them to know, as if they did not know, they would not have sin.

Oh, bishops of the time, priests of the time, why do you say that My people is dangerous? How do they harm you? What do they take from you? They do not take anything what is not theirs, as My commandment writes. I hear from you, rumors come up to heavens from you that the people of My word is not good. But are you any better? Do you obey God any better? What harm did My people do? Tell Me and I will search out its deed. Pray to Me in the spirit and truth as you call yourselves theologians and you have knowledge. Pray to God if you have His name on you. Tell Me what do you not like; do not tell it to the people, as the people are false gods and nothing good comes out of lying. Why do you not want to search the life and the book of My people? Why do you not want to see as truth My book about it? Who are you afraid of? Are you afraid of the truth? My book is the truth. And what is the truth? I am the truth. I want to give you the gift of faith; for it is one thing the faith that comes out from the natural, which does not bring any fruit, and it is another thing the gift of faith which joins the man to God's will in the man. I save the one that I want and I harden the heart of the one that I want.

I come in the counsel of My people and I become the word upon you, the bishops and priests of the time. My word cannot be bound. What shall you do if I am taken for a „liar” as two thousand years ago? No one believed that I am sent from heaven by My Father, and the man of the church took Me as a liar, and when they saw that I was not a liar, they hid under their lie, and have been staying under its cover before the truth which rose for eternity. What will you do if you do not want to take from Me the gift of faith to believe in the Word of God? Romania is an example of the kingdom of heaven; and the nations of the earth will be gathered together towards her and will love her and will take the light of My word from her, for I put a light in the candle, and many nations will eat bread from heaven and will know what bread is, for it is written: «Where the carcass is, there the vultures will gather together to eat». Do not hate My people. It let itself to be a sacrifice of faith and love; it let itself to be My will on earth for the human kind's salvation. This teaching is Mine, as My people are not a people of wise men. It is poor in its spirit, and with the eyes of the heart and mind, it looks at Me and at My kingdom and sees My glory in this word. My word is God's glory. Believe in Me and you shall see God's glory in this word. Believe in My kingdom which is on earth, and you do not understand it.

Oh, the priests do not know what a Holy Mass means, for if they knew, they would understand what I mean when I say: blessed is the kingdom of God, the Father, the Son, and the Holy Spirit. The priests do not have Me in their living; the priests have no mind; they do not have Me, but this does not lie in the power of man. This is a gift from God not through man; not taken by man, but by My grace which is let into those that do My holy will in their body, that is, God witnessed in man's body, in man's living. This is not taught from man or by man. Who taught Abraham the faith in God, the love for God? For faith is love. Who taught Melchizedek the faith in God? I gave him the gift of faith, My gift believing in man, for the Lord hardens and has mercy on whom he wants to have mercy, and it does not lie in man's power, as the gift of faith in man is from God.

I am the Lord. I am this word. However lying this word is before you, oh, you, people of the church should know that I am this word. I am and you shall see the Son of man in the glory of this word, for Romania is the kingdom of the Father, of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen. And it shall be the Orthodoxy lived by the faithful sons and it shall be My church, as it is, for I am the body and word for My remembrance. I am not only the body in it, but I am also the word, for I am always today.

Oh, bishops and priests do not put Me under a bushel. Take Me as the light for you and for the people. I did not come to break your laws, but rather I came to fulfill My holy law for the salvation of the human kind, for Romania is the country of My Father's choice, as it is written in My book from yesterday and today. I ask you nothing, I take nothing from what is yours. But give Me your sins so that I may forgive them. I am the son of the Father, the word of the Father, Who has the power to forgive the man's sins. I do not take your glory either, for I do not want men's glory. Put it away from you; put your glory out of you and of the people who glorify you, and take My glory in you, which is My will in man. Give life to the people, take and give. This is the word of the everlasting life. Do not take stones in your fists anymore to throw in Me, for My people is good; it is a son of peace, the son of My people, and I call Israel the one who believes in Me and in My will upon the man. My people are a fallow land with a treasure in it. Sell your possessions and buy this fallow soil and be rich in God. My people has the word of life in its midst; it has Me as the word and body, and the saints and angels serve the small one who believes, and he can with Me, for everything is possible for the one who believes. If I am into its midst, you should no longer doubt of his life, of his anointment. I have worked subjecting Myself to you. I took from your midst a bishop, a witness of My new work upon the old man, to make a new man, born by the word from above and you did not believe Me that I came as a word upon the earth and as a fulfillment of the word for a new beginning of a new age upon Romania, the country of My coming back to the people. Oh, you did not believe! Rather you put into your prison the one who testified My word's growing, the one who made a church for Christ on earth. Behold, this is how you judged Me; this is how you knew Me, not knowing Me. But I still knock. I knock and knock again at the gates of your church, bishops and priests of today's church from Romania. I also knock at the gates of Romania and I knock at your gates too. I knock and knock again. I knock to be opened for Me, and I will not jump over the gates, for the good shepherd enters the gate, not over the sheepfold. Romania is the sheepfold of My sheep, the sheep given to Me by My father, and I come to shepherd them with an iron staff, with the word of God which is shepherding the ones who want and the ones who do not want, for the river flows, and the river of life runs dry. The river of the everlasting word flows and overruns, and the one who believes has an everlasting and not a judged life. Amen.

Oh, the Liturgy is supposed to be holy, for it is written: «Do this for My remembrance, for My remembrance in you». It does not have to be worked by those without brains, for the man who has brains is the one who knows nothing but God in his living. It is only this way that a man has brains, for the man should know nothing but this: God resting in him; image and likeness in man.

Whether you wanted or not, whether you believe it or not, listen to the word of God Who enters the gates. I do not humble before you, bishops and priests of today's church, and at My humility which cries out at the gates, the gates will fall down, and I will come in to the sheep and shepherd them, for look, I am already shepherding them, and they hear My voice and open to Me and I have a fresh supper with My sheep and they with Me, bread from heaven, the word of God. Amen.

Israel, dear son, who receives Me to come, I spoke to the shepherds that hate you. I have spoken to them again and again that you are good, and if you do not have any guilt before them, it is because I took your guilt away. I told them to open for Me too, so that I may come in with the light of My word, and to you as well; to give life to everybody, son, as they say, when say: „Peace to everyone!” I said otherwise. I said «Peace to you!» and they say „Peace to everyone!” But, if My peace is what they give, then My peace does not give itself but only to those that love My peace. I said: «Peace to you!». This is what I said when I said it. But I also said otherwise. I also said: «Woe to you!» and I did not say „Woe to everyone!” but I also said «Woe to you!» when I said so. I was speaking this way to those that were haughty, who did not receive My peace, My word in them.

The people who pretend that know about God ask one another and say: „Why did we allow the man to take from the fruit of the knowledge if he did not have to take?”

Oh, sons, you too, sons of the people, I did not create the man to become slave, but to have freedom instead, as I want the man to love Me, and by his love to submit to God and not be forced by God. I want the man to be for Me like one of his gifts. I want that My gift from man to be the man himself. The gift is not out of obligation, and rather it is out of love. Giving is obligation, not the gift. I gave gifts to the man so that he may be able to see Me in him with them and that the man may love Me in him glorifying Me in him by My gifts in him. Oh, and the man took pride in it and reached out his hand and said that it is him. Look, sons, to the sons of the people and believe this truth: the man took pride in it and reached out his hand and said that it is him. He reached out his hand and took of the fruit of the knowledge and said that it is him, but I am the science, and the man threw Me down from My throne; he overthrew Me and sat himself on it; he sat on it through the sin of haughtiness. I made the man to be free, to give himself to Me as a gift and to have him; to have the work of My hands; to have My word and to rejoice over it and to rest in it. I told the man to love Me as his God, and he reached out his hand and took what is Mine and stole himself from Me; he pulled himself out of Me; he pulled himself out of his root. I was the root of the man, and the man became root for himself, and I came from the Father as root in the Virgin, to take the man back into the root, so that God may be the root of the man. The Father of mercy sent Me; He sent Me because of His compassion for man, to become root and to spring up into a new man and to take the man into My body, so that the man may grow up out of Me, into a new body and a new spirit. My Father sent Me as root in the Virgin.

Oh, mother Virgin, the root of your Son, I took root in you from the Father, so that I may have a root in man, to be the man's root, a heavenly root from the Father, as I came as a root from the Father in you, mother Virgin, loved mother, My love, My mother, My loved Virgin, Virgin bride! Oh, how shall I sing you to put to shame those who did not listen to your word which said: «All the nations will bless me!»? You are celebrated in Israel. You are the man, who I took root in, to spring up from man; and this way I made man anew, and the man has no brains and does not know. You are the kingdom of God in man, and the man does not know what My kingdom in him and with him means. Neither the man of the church, who says that he knows God, knows anything, for the man became conceited and fell down reaching his hand to take what he was not supposed to take. He stole and fell while he was stealing and he remained within himself; he has remained master over himself and stays so until this day. And I came and told: the one who wants to come after Me and with Me should deny himself, take up his cross following Me; he should take up his denial of himself on his shoulders and be in Me following Me. Oh, the man does not know My kingdom in man. And neither the man of the church knows it, mother; he does not know it either.

– Oh, he does not know, dear Son; the man does not know. Neither the man of the church knows what Your kingdom in man and upon man is. Oh, praise to You in me, for I was Your church which You came in when You came from the Father to the people. The man does not know what the church and kingdom of God in the church means. The priest who says while keeping the bread into his hand: „Blessed is the Lord in remembrance of the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who as a guiltless Lamb brought Himself as a sacrifice”, does not know either, and take You out, a body from the bread and put You on the plate saying: „The Lamb of the Lord is sacrificed for the life of the world”, and thrusting on Your right side, takes then wine and water and pours out into the glass saying: „water and blood came out from the side of the Lord.” (During the Divine Liturgy, r.n.) Oh, something else means the priest to know what he says. I say something else, Son, when I say this. I am always in the Mass of Your children from the garden. I am the bread which You are taken from, bread from bread, God from the Virgin Who the Son of God was born of, and You are put on the plate as in the manger which You were put it at Your birth, and the cross put upon Your body reminds of the star which announced You among the people, of the archangel who led the wise Magi in faith to proclaim into the world that You were born Man from the Father by a Virgin; and You are covered on the plate as I covered You with the swaddles; and You are censed the same way the Magi brought You incense and myrrh. And all these memories, which the hand and mouth of the one who brings You, makes and speaks, are the remembrance of Your crucifixion on the cross on Golgotha; Your side thrust, the shrouds on Your face and on Your body, the stone on the grave, Son. I am always with You when You share to Your sons from the garden; I am with the saints when You are sharing Yourself not separating or growing less when giving Yourself as food to the sons. All the heaven enters when they say „May it be, Lord, that together with our entering to be the entering of Your saints angels who serve with us, glorifying You, the good One.”

The celebration of Your kingdom with Your sons, the body and word with Your sons that you chose from the world to be their king from heaven, is great, and they take me from the bread and place me beside You saying: „The Empress is sitting on your right. Amen.”

Dear Son, bless Your word in my word upon the sons.

– Oh, empress, Virgin, your name means empress. Oh, sweet mother, may the food of word be food on the sons and may the blessing be over them! Amen.

– People of my Son, my celebration with you is beautiful, as you are beautiful, child from Israel. May the beauties of the heaven embellish you and may you be the Lord's heaven, your rest with God and the Lord's with you, beautiful child. Your mystery is beautiful, as my mystery on the earth was beautiful. Mystery means what is not seen, what cannot be understood, what cannot enter the man's mind. Oh, the mysteries of God are beautiful in man, in the man's mind, sons of my Son! Receive learning of kingdom of my Son in the man; receive and give to Israel, so that every son of the Lord's people may know well; to know well what is God's kingdom with the people and among the people, the memorial and remembrance of my Son, Who always wants to be with sons, every day with sons, forever with its sons. Amen. I want to sit in counsel with you, to teach you exhortation of everlasting life, and I will come with my Son in Verginica's book and I will also become word near her word, so that you may understand my mystery in her mystery.

You, dear Son, you pass from book to book and make out your books written in the Scriptures about. Israel is in my feast with You. Israel is beautiful, a beautiful child Son. Give to Israel everlasting love; give to the one who loves You, give him forgiveness of his sins, give him joy, give eternity to the one who proclaims You, the everlasting One. Give also to the sons of people; give them also to drink and to thirst for everlasting life, and let us make perfect the feast of Your coming and of the country of Your choice, as I pray in You for Romania.

Oh, daughter Romania, I am protection over you from the Father and from the Son and from the Holy Spirit, and I want you to be a pure virgin in your spirit, body and faith. Let you be born of my Son's body, of my Son's word, daughter Romania, as I let my help over you for the fulfilling of my Son's kingdom in you, daughter Romania! You have a heavenly supper in you; you have heavenly bread in you, warm bread. My Son becomes bread in you. His word is bread, daughter Romania. Receive and be born and be a newborn church at the word of my Son, warm and pure manger for the One Who comes from heaven to be with you.

And You, Son, Emmanuel, You should be with her, to be with Romania, to fulfill upon her Your kingdom, which You come with! Amen.

— I am with Romania, mother. I have been glorified within her for forty years. I have been preparing for seventy years My mystery that is in her. My people is My mystery in her. I wanted to give birth to it in her. I gave it birth during bad weather; I gave it birth during the time of her birth, to have it as the people of My coming. May your love be blessed mother, as My people blesses you, and from it everybody that did not bless you yet will bless you.

Israel, My little people, you are My mystery; you are My feast on the earth; you are the white horse that My word sits on, as I also sit on cherubim. Oh, with whom shall I speak on the earth such a word, well Israel? And behold, the man does not understand. The people have names of wise men, philosophers, poets, scientists, theologians. The people have names, and they do not understand My name. Those who gave themselves a name do not understand your mystery with Me, My mystery with you. The people are without mind; they are without God in their living and in their mind. Give My grace to the people; give My word to the people. Whether they want it or not, whether they believe it or not, this is God's word on the earth. The sower seeds Himself to take root in the people, so that the man may have root in God. Amen.

I give My peace to the people who want My peace. And you, peace to you, sons of Israel! Peace to you!

You should know, Israel, that I am your peace. Amen, amen, amen.

*

Oh, children and little children of My Spirit and body! I would stay with you forever. I would turn the night into day; I would make the weather stand still; I would always stay with you as I love you, and I would love you until you become like Me in everything, until you fall in love with Me as much as I am in love with you.

Oh, children and little children, I come again into Verginica's book; I come with her. I come with My mother, through whom I came from the Father. I come with cherubim, as they are My will, and they are My coming from the Father to you and from you to the Father. Oh, children, and little children, get used to stay in the body, in one body, in My body and spirit, as you, who are, are one body and one bread. Get used to be, sons. And let the strong one also be from his strong place; and let the weak also be from his weak place, but let them be, as I came into the world as light to you, so that anyone who believes in Me may not remain in the darkness, as I do not speak from Me, but the One Who sends Me, the Father, He Himself commands Me what to say and what to speak, because the Father loves you, and He is in Me, and He is in love with you, and the lovers would never separate from each other. They feel how the eternity embraces them; they feel the joy embracing them. This is how the Father is in love with you, and I am the eternity and the joy of the Father; I am He Who embraces you making the Father rejoice in Me. From book to book I pass to you and after you; from cradle to cradle I swing with you between heaven and earth, and I tell you heavenly parables of saints and angels, as I tell fairy tales with Princes Charming and fairies to the little children. Behold, I am in love with you, and Father is in Me to keep you and to teach you in one single body with its members. Look how the members stay in the bodies and how they listen to their ruler, the soul, dear little sons. I am your soul, children of My body and My Spirit, and you are My body, My last church, My coming back house, My house of heavenly guests on the earth. No one among the people knows to sing the love to Me, to increase My love, as the people do not live My love; they live another love; they have other growth in them; they are of another dough and they have been looking for the good and love for seven thousand years and have not found it yet and have not known that it is, and they have not known what it is; the people do not know its root and fruit.

Oh, I want to make Prince Charming and fairies of you and to show you to the people as a true story, and I to be in your power, love and not a fairy story, but to be real in you, for I am as you believe. I am with you from cradle to cradle and I write Myself with you from book to book, so that the times may look at these times, and the last times to look and see, and the prophets, who proclaimed this time of Mine with you, to rejoice with you, for you are My small bouquet of flowers, what the prophets proclaimed about, that you will be and spring forth. And we will be loved by the countless multitudes if we know to love one another, loving sons, loved sons. You should have the Scripture which says: «Love one another as I loved you». I say again and again: one another not one with another or each with others, but each other as I loved all of you, who were at that time and are now with Me, loving each other. Love one another as I loved you, and if you do not know how, ask My love, My love which loves you all, and it will answer you loving you with its answer, and you will be carried at its bosom as a mother caresses her babies comforting them. This way you will be comforted in Jerusalem, in Me your Jerusalem, your place of joy. You in Me and I in you, a New Jerusalem, the Jerusalem from above on earth, a holy citadel, and countless multitudes will understand what the Scriptures which says: «And I saw the holy citadel, New Jerusalem coming down out from heaven, from God», for I said so: «I will prepare a place for you, as where I am you may be there also». And I went so that I may come back again from the Father a dwelling for you and for those of that time that I was spoken these words upon; to come as a holy citadel, to come and be as a New Jerusalem, so that where I am you may also be. That is why I have always said that I come to embody you in My holy body, in the dwelling which came down from the Father, as I said: «I go to My Father to prepare a place for you and to come back as a place from the Father for you». I said that in My Father's house are many places, but I prepared a place for you to be together with Me. What kind of places has My Father among the many which I spoke about? Oh, there are many places of My Father's house, of God's making, dear sons, who stay under My wisdom. There are dwellings for thrones, principalities, rulers, beginners, powers, dwellings of the archangels, of angels, of seraphim, of cherubim; dwelling of ghosts who serve the word of God: rain, wind, blizzard, hail, dew, ice, snow, clouds, haze, fog, heat; wrath with its instruments, lightning, fire, brimstone; the dwellings of blessing: sun, moon, and light; the places of My Father's house, which are many and countless, for He said and they came into being; He commanded and they were built and are being built at His command, and He set and is setting the forever and ever, and He gave and is giving them a law and they will not overlook it, and they will praise Him on earth and heaven. Oh, there are many places of My Father's house, but I came from My Father and went to Him, so that I may come again, to come as a place for you, who are given to Me by My Father to be for you a dwelling into My Father's house; you in Me and I in you; I with My saints and you with joy, as it is written: «Rejoice, you heavens and you who dwell in them!» for the heaven is My throne and the earth is My footstool, and this way the man was made. Amen. I prepared a place for you in Me, that where I am you shall also be, and everyone who is Mine to be with Me, and I with Mine, and all those of My Father's places to serve God, to the word of God.

Here is what I do Verginica. I would make the time stand still; I would always stay with My people and yours, and I would love it and comfort it, as I am so much in love with it, and Father is in Me; My Father is in His dwelling, Verginica, My Verginica, for I made tools of My word out of you and out of your people, My last church, as it is written into the Scriptures. I want to teach My love in it, your people, so that it may be love from Me, as I also am; for Me to be also love from it, as I also am, not otherwise, not as the man without mind, without God, understands, for this is what I told those of Mine: «Love one another as I also loved you», becoming everlasting love for you, the loved ones. Amen.

– But who else, Lord, knows what love is, Your love in the man, Lord, the love of Your saints, who sacrificed themselves for You to be with You, Lord, with You, the One Who is their everlastingness? Make Your people of today also know to be, loving You, as the saints before them also loved You, making many multitudes believe in You by their faith, by their love for You, by their testimony, Lord, the same as You also testify about Yourself upon the people with the sons of Your people of today, oh, Lord! Now it is otherwise, for it is You that testify about them, and not they testify about You, as Your time has come, the time of Your feast, the time of the love, Lord, Your time, and Your greatness is high, Your word is great, the time of Your love, Your time, Lord, as I would no longer want to tell you anything before my people when you are the sweet word, so sweet upon it. First, the man has to love and then to listen, as he cannot listen to You otherwise, for You become love in Your sons, to make them listen to you and to love You as the saints loved You testifying about You. But You become testimony in Your sons, and no one knows as well as You know the love that You give them and which will be on the earth a root from You, as You also were a root of love from mother Virgin.

– Oh, Verginica, I told my Son and I told your sons, mine and His, that I will come into your book with my Son and with you and I will also become word beside your word, so that my mystery and yours may be understood; the root of the sons then and now, yesterday and today, Verginica, my little sister, wooded by my Son, Who became love from you, word from you, as He became flesh from me, embodied love, Verginica, love from heaven embodied in man, as my Son came down from heaven and became flesh from the Holy Spirit in the Virgin and He became Man, the Man of the heavenly love on the earth for the man. I gave birth to my Son in the Bethlehem of Judea, so that the salvation may come from the Jews, and you gave Him birth as word in Romania, so that the Redeemer of the Jew may come from Romania; the Jew who did not accept the salvation coming out from his root, from his people, Verginica, and I took my Son and went into the world to hide him in Egypt, in the world, Verginica, to save the life of the world's Savior. Behold, neither then, nor later and nor today, do the Jew and the Greek and the pagan see what salvation is, at the word of my Son, as the man has no mind, Verginica, and my Son has also hidden today in the world to call the world to Him. I could not hide in Israel with Him, as Israel wanted to take the life of the little Child that was written into the prophets about that He would be born on the earth. The priests and herods did not want the life of my little Child and rather they wanted His death. Behold, you also could not hide into the church with the little child that was being born giving birth and speaking over those who are born of the word.

The church liturgies remind and speak of everything the people did to my little Child, my Son, and the priests, who deliver the liturgy, persecute the little Child as then; they persecute my Son from the church, and they persecute the Word as then, Verginica. And as those in the that time of the church did not know what they were doing, the same is today as the priests do not know what they do; they do not know that they speak of my Child persecuting Him, Verginica. Oh, you lived the same, persecuted because of my Son, Who was being born as word in you to give birth to the man of the word, and behold, you gave birth to a son, a people, from His word, Verginica, and God gives him to eat of His throne, and the Lord shepherds the nations with an iron staff, with the word of my Son, and no one knows to understand God, and no one serves Him, and no one warms Him up, and only the poor man loves my Son, the Word, Verginica. The happy man does not love God, and behold, the happy man is the poor man; behold, that one is happy. Oh, blessed is the poor, Verginica, as that one loves God. It is not the one who says: „I can no longer go on, Lord, under troubles!” It is not about that wretched man that I speak, but about the blessed man, who has nothing but God as wealth, happiness and peace. Oh, it is shameful for the Christian to say:

„I can no longer go on, Lord!” It is shameful for the Israel’s son of today to say: „I can no longer go on, Lord; help me as I can no longer go on under my burdens!” It is shameful after so much comforting, after the Lord’s so long abiding with Israel. And it is better to say: „Help me, Lord, to do Your will, so that I may not suffer anything and to be blessed in everything that you send me to do and to bear”. Oh, Verginica, your people is blessed; it is poor in spirit and possessions and it is happy, as the poor man is happy, but not the wretched man who makes troubles to himself of his own sins, but the poor man who is poor to the world and to the spirit of the world and to the gold and silver and to the earthly name, as blessed are those who have their names written into the Book of Life, Verginica.

The priest who delivers the liturgy does no longer live the pain of my Son, the pain from His birth and until His ascension into the Father. Oh, it hurts me what I see in the churches; the pain of my Son hurts me within myself, as I had carried the pain of my Son in me all my life. No one cries over the death of my Son any longer; no one knows to live the Liturgy any longer, the remembrance of my Son, and the world does not know what a holy Liturgy is, as there is no one to tell it to the word.

I have come into your book as a guest, Verginica, to speak the love and the pain of my Son with you, the One Who suffers from the lack of love. He, who loves, is not loved, and he suffers loving, as the love is a sufferance and blessed are those who cry and suffer loving, as they will be soon comforted, soon, Verginica. Oh, they will be comforted soon, soon. Amen.

– Oh, mother Virgin, loved Virgin among the virgins! Who taught me to love your Son, my Lord? Did the priests really teach me? Not at all! For when they heard that I have your Son, they persecuted me; they oppressed me and put me into prison <sup>108</sup>with your Son. I was wretched, and your Son found me crying and made me happy; he made me a happy poor, as I had Him as my happiness. It happened to me as in your time with the little Child, when I had no room with your Son in the church, and I hid myself into the world with Him to protect the life of your Son and His word and His people, to which He gave life by His word, for the priests and herods did not cease to look for the Lord’s life, the life of the little Child, Who was being born of me to shepherd; however, no one needed life, and the Lord hid Himself with me into the world, loving and waiting for His time, to come as a word and to give freedom to the people. The people are slaves to the sins and are not free, and the Truth came to the people to make them free, to take away the slavery from them, and the people do not understand this. The comfort came on the earth to comfort those that are oppressed by sin, and many multitudes will soon be comforted, soon. Amen.

Oh, Israel, I had guests, son, and I liked to welcome the guests into my book and I gave them honor to stay speaking upon you, and I was comforted that you are so much helped, so much loved, my people, so much comforted in Jerusalem, in the Lord, son Israel. And I will come on my day of celebration as word upon you, as I gave all honor to the guests and to the feast with the Lord and with His saints, and I do not leave you to get cold. I will warm you up again and again with the Lord and His saints, so that you may not have time to get cold. Sons and daughters from Israel learn from Christ’s mother; learn from her teaching, as it was given power to you to love and to listen believing into the word of love, as everything is possible to the one who believes. Amen.

Lord, I let Your word and the mother Virgin’s word to comfort Israel from my book. I let Your and Your mother’s comfort over Israel, and my book was the host of Israel’s comforts. Amen.

– Verginica, this is what I said to My people today: oh, children and little children of the Spirit and of My body, I would stay with you forever. I would make day from night, I would stop the time; I would always stayed with you and love you, and I would love you and would make love to you until I make you love Me as much as I am in love with you, as My Father loves you and He is in love with you in Me, and the lovers would never separate again, for they feel how the eternity seizes them and feel the joy seizing them. This is how the Father is in love with you, and

I am the eternity and the joy of My Father. I am the One Who embraces you making My Father to rejoice in Me. From cradle to cradle I swing with you between heaven and earth and I want to make from you Prince Charming and fairies and to show you the true story, and to be with you, power and love not fairy story, but rather to be the truth in you. I have been taking care of you from cradle to cradle; I have written Myself with you from book to book, so that the times may look to this time, at My time with you. You are My last church, My house of guests on the earth. You are those comforted in Jerusalem, in Me, your Jerusalem, your place of comforting; you in Me, and I in you, New Jerusalem from heaven on earth, for there where I am you also may be, for the place of the man made by God is in God, the One Who made man according to His image and likeness, a dwelling of the Lord in man, and of the man in God. Amen.

— Oh, Lord, Bridegroom of Your bride, stay a little while longer; let us stay a little while longer to teach the children to work with the spirit of foreseeing in their work with us, in their good work with us. I want to speak to the children that are full of worries in Your work with them, to have me in them, as I want to teach one of the children of Israel to look back well, to secure under a good guard those before them and to stay well into this heavenly word, loving and listening, as in order to listen they must first love him for listening, and the children from the garden of Your word must be obeyed. Let Israel listen to them, Lord. I am the watch of Israel and of the garden of Your word, and I have always taught the children of the garden for a good watch, and I come to tell them how to work. I also work in them without the word written into the book, as there are many things to be worked, and they are word from word, and let him, who has ears to hear, hear with them.

I have a little child with a big heart, and I want to get him used to be gentle and humble with his heart when he loves, as he loves our children, Lord, and I want that his love to have a good answer; to have a state pleased to heaven, as now he learns, he studies and learns and gives himself over, to be a gift to You, Lord.

Oh, little children anointed in the garden, I will turn you into my speaking upon the one that I sent you as word, to make you word upon him, and I am in you when you speak upon him the word of foreseeing, seeing ahead of time, and he will be used to think heavenly, obeying with love, and loving with obedience.

Take care of the speaking from Israel, and let it be salt; to be with truth, to be from heaven and to match with the word of God, and only this way you should do the work of Israel. Give the health of the word from you; give it also to those who love my speaking. Let Israel's speaking be like mine, like the Lord's speaking, sons. Let the work of Israel be like the Lord's work. Let Israel's obedience be like your obedience, and let Israel help you by listening to God.

May my word be blessed with you upon the one who hears my word from you as exhortation! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feat of the Saint Martyr Catherine<sup>109</sup>

I am the Son of God, the Son of Man, standing on the right side of the Almighty and coming on the clouds of the heaven. Amen.

Oh, son Israel, faithful child, who shall separate Me from the love of you? The unbelief on the earth and its chosen ones? Oh, faithful son, your faith in My word will work and will gather in one fold all those from the earth, all those that will still be, as all those that will be will remain to be. The unbelief from the earth and its chosen ones cannot overcome you, as I am with you, and I keep you warm and I make your faith hot for you to melt out with it the philosophy of the unbelief of this age. You are the one who believes, and I am the One Who fulfills. Amen. Peace to you, as the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit loves you. Peace to you, Israel, as no one has peace as you have, as you have Me, for this is what I do: I make out feasts with the saints into your midst and the heaven witnesses before you, and we give to the unfaithful the word of God's power, for I am the One that is.

---

I come with the saint martyrs into My coming; I come and I come again with the saints and with the angels in a sound of trumpet to gather by the word those that are My elected from the four winds, from the margins of the heavens to the other margins, and I will work as in the time of Noah. And behold, I find the people eating and drinking and going to weddings, for they do not know the coming of the Son of Man. I come and I will sound My trumpet to bring together those that are elected; and I will take one of you and I will leave another one of you, and the people do not believe to watch for My coming which comes over them without they knowing it. Oh, you are blessed My people, a good and faithful servant, as on Your Lord's coming you will be found watching, and you will be put over those that are Mine, and as for those that say that I am long in coming and stay eating and drinking and going to weddings, I will come unexpectedly to them and I will split them in two, as it is written into My word, into My coming. My word is My coming, and no one understands My word, My coming. Israel, the way of My coming to the people; My coming to you and your standing before Me into My coming, are blessed. And behold, dear son, the people eat and drink and go to weddings as in the time of Noah, and My word will come to them unexpectedly. The word of God is coming on the clouds of the heaven, and the saints from heaven see that they are into My coming. I also told the bishops who gave Me over to be crucified: «I am the Son of the Father, and you will see Me coming on the clouds of the sky with power and great glory», and My word is true.

I come and I come again, as I have where to come to call out and to bring together those that are chosen, who will remain, and all will be one body; all will be one bread and blessed are those that have ears to hear, as they will remain. I come with the saints and with the angels and call out so that those, who are chosen from the four winds from one margin of the heavens to another, may hear, as it is written into the Scriptures that the angels will sound the trumpet and will bring together those that are chosen.

I have a feast of word in you, Romania, and I want to make you an oasis of escape for those elected who will remain to be, as «where the carcass is, there the vultures will gather together», as it is written into the Scriptures. Receive wisdom from Me, Romanian country, for the wisdom of this age is not good. It does not give life to the man. It takes Me out of the man and the man says that it is him; the wise man says that it is him, and I, the One Who is, am no longer in man.

Oh, My people, I have a feast in you. I am with My bride, with the wise Catherine, martyred by the man of this age, martyred for My name, as I engaged her to Me, and I gave her a betrothal ring and made her My bride, and My mother Virgin loved her and taught her to love Me in the humbleness and gentleness of her heart; the wise Catherine, sons of Israel. Oh, the intelligent man is beautiful on the earth of the people; the noble man, the man with a name and with wealth; that one is beautiful; that one is loved and caressed on the earth. My martyr was not only of a noble kind on the earth, not only with a great and royal name, not only rich in earthly possessions, but she was also beautiful among the daughters of the people, a chosen beauty among the creatures.

Oh, sons, because the man has always sinned, the man who came out of the man has no longer been beautiful; he has no longer kept the beauty of the stature of the first man, who was made by God's hand, godly beauty in man and in the man's creature with godly image. So many people are ugly in their image, because the fruit of their sin is ugly and the beautiful image of God in man has been hardly preserved; the image of the first man made by God, by the hand and the Spirit of God. Oh, dear sons, My martyr was beautiful in her countenance, very beautiful among the faces of the people, beautiful and wise in the man's likeness, as she was of noble birth and with a good name, a royal name, ornate with finery and riches; however, My light has slipped in her and she started to see God, the true Lord, One God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Oh, and this virgin loved Me, as My mother Virgin came to her and told her about Me, the beautiful and holy Bridegroom, the most beautiful on the earth and in heaven. And she was very beautiful. She learned all the human wisdom, and she was wise in her nature and had a mind by nature, and she had learned everything to know everything. She was so intelligent that she wanted to have the most beautiful bridegroom on the earth, and My mother was the one who brought into the world the Most beautiful man among the people, and she went to her and told her about Me, the Beautiful, and she loved Me and witnessed Me as her Bridegroom and fiancé forever to everybody, for she saw Me and she loved My with great love, with eternal love. I revealed Myself to her and I gave her a betrothal ring and I engaged her to Me, the one who loved Me, and I made her an everlasting bride for Me. The bride is the clean one; this is what bride means. She met with Me on the earth; I revealed Myself to her, and she hid in Me, her Bridegroom, and she had no longer left Me, for she had loved Me much, and for My love she has suffered persecution testifying about Me, Her everlasting Bridegroom, true God, One God. She prays for all the virgins on the earth to find the love as she found it. She prays for My bride, for you, My people, My little bride, My bride comforted by the heaven on the earth. My martyr prays; she prays with love in Me; she prays for you, Israel, My little bride:

– Oh, Bridegroom, eternal and beautiful Bridegroom among the sons of the people! You became the Son of Man; You became Man so that the people may see You and to be like You, loving You as You loved them coming from the Father on the earth in the Virgin; so that the Father may take You, born of the Virgin, and to give You to the people, so that the people may see the One Who loves from heaven on earth, the most beautiful One among the people.

Oh, Bridegroom, sweet Bridegroom, My Bridegroom, my way to You was painful, Bridegroom of My wedding on the earth for an eternal wedding in heaven. But You were in me when I was suffering, and You were taking my sufferance away and were protecting me to have me, to be forever Your bride, the bride of the most beautiful Bridegroom, as my heart wanted to have, as the eternal Virgin, who gave birth to You among the people, came into my way at my wish and told me about You, the most beautiful Bridegroom; and I had wisdom and together with her I chose You as wisdom in me, and then I loved You as no one can love on the earth, and I took You in me to have You and to tell everybody about You, how beautiful You are, and how eternal You are; and I cleaned the house of my heart and I gave from it all the embellishments of the human wisdom, all the human knowledge that I was gathering in me, richness of human wisdom, and I pulled myself out of me and from around me and I got out of all that had me, and I entered into You, giving myself to You as a gift, and You made of me Your house and my house, in You and in me, in heaven and on earth, and You appeared with Me to the sons of the people, testifying Yourself from me, and testifying about me as Your bride and Your wisdom among the people, as it is written: «The man will leave his father and his mother and will join with God, Bridegroom and bride, and they will be one flesh and not two». This is how I left mother and father and everything that I had on the earth, and I joined with You, Bridegroom and bride, one flesh, Lord, as this mystery is Yours and no man can understand it. And out of Your joining with me sons were born, and no one on the earth understands the mystery of giving birth to sons for heaven, as You told Abraham that his tribe will be like the stars of the sky.

Oh, dear Bridegroom, the man does not know that the wise people in this age are the stars of the earth; however, they, with Your wisdom in them, are the stars of the sky, Lord. I was with You in me shining on the earth; I was a heavenly star on the earth and I enlightened the wise people of the earth, who did not want to let me perish from the wisdom of the earth, who wanted me to belong to the people and not to You, Lord. I enlightened them with You too, the One Who were in me, the light which came from heaven to make me, a heavenly star shining on the earth. I also gave them light from the Light, and they knew You as One wisdom, and they also forsook the people, the idols, Lord. The wise people are people's idols, and the people worship their idols, and I forsook the idols and became a worshipper to You in spirit and truth, as the Father wants, and I help Your people of today to witness You to the virgin boys and girls as the Bridegroom from heaven, the most beautiful One among the people.

I pray in You and I fall with love at Your throne and I ask You for the heavenly light upon the wisdom of this age, which keeps Your elected ones under guilt, as it happened to me in the time of my knowledge in me. Take the slavery from over the people; take the knowledge from over the sons of the men, for the science accuses them of theft, Lord; come and establish Yourself in man, the kingdom of heavens in man, as You made the man, as You made me, a new creation in the man, a man in the man, a new man in the man, Your bride on the earth. I pray in You for Israel, Your people of today, for the one waited for by the prayers of the saints, who stay as a full cup before You. Israel of today is small. Help the small one and forgive his weaknesses, as Your saints have the cup full of prayers before Your throne. Make of the little Israel, of the Romanian Israel, the light upon the Israel, which crucified You, as its remnant from heaven, the one from among Your saints, pray for Israel according to the flesh; the saints pray from Romania, Lord. All the saints of Your heaven from Romania pray from the place of Your glory, the glory of Your word which is glorified from Romania over the earth, over the wise people of the nations of the earth, Lord, and the nations will take light from the light, from Romania, Your bride country.

Oh, Romania country, the saints of the heaven stay, the stars of the sky stay over you, over the manger of the Word, Which is born among the people to shepherd them like a good Shepherd, Who gave His life for His sheep. Wake up and clothe yourself as I clothed myself with Christ's garment, the most beautiful garment, a garment from light and glory, o Romania country! The saints of the heaven sing about you; you are lighted by the stars of the sky, which gathered together over you to lead you to the spring of the word which is being born into your manger, in the Israel taken out of Romanians, Romania country, the country of the Lord's coming to the people.

I pray in You, Lord, for Romania, the one chosen by You, and for Your bride out of it, for Your little people, to give it what You also give to me, and to have it as light and candlestick of light in Romania for all the nations of the earth, Lord. Give comfort to Israel; give it all the love; give them all the saints as help, as a gift, for we, Your saints, give ourselves to them with love; we give ourselves with all the longing, as we long to see Your mystery of the new age fulfilled in the sons of Israel of today, Your beginning of the new age, of the new man in the man, Lord. Give them Your love, to love You with it, as You gave it to me when I was looking for the most beautiful one among the people. Come always, as great is Your coming and the joy of Your saints who are into Your coming, oh, Bridegroom of Your saints in heaven and on earth; for the little ones are blessed by the great ones, to be great, and so that the little ones may be Your kingdom on the earth, Yours and Your saints. Amen.

Oh, little sons, little bride of the most beautiful Bridegroom, love one another as I also loved Christ. This is what love is and the One that is loved by you. Love the Lord as He loves you. Love each other with the Lord, and love one another loving the Lord. The Lord is coming and He will come. The Lord is coming to you, little Israel, so that you may have His garment on you. The Lord is coming to you; He has always come, for you to have a garment on Christ.

Let Your bride have You, Lord; Let her have You as garment, as I had You after my birth from You, the root of the new man, born in You, clothed in You, a new man, Christ in man, Bridegroom and bride, one body, as it is written into the Scriptures. Amen. I become in You prayer for Israel, oh, my Bridegroom. I become holy prayer, incense in You, and a fragrance of good aroma before You for those little of Yours. And come into Your visible glory; come Lord, as the spirit and the bride say: «Come!». Amen.

– I come, Jerusalem; Jerusalem from heaven and from earth. I come, and here is how I come. The heaven and the earth are joined into My coming, for I come. My coming is blessed; My kingdom in My saints in heaven and on the earth, My wedding with My bride. My Word is My coming. Israel, My coming to you and your standing before Me for My coming, are blessed. And behold, the people drink and eat and go to weddings, and My word calls out over the earth to bring together those that are chosen, to be the ones that are.

I am the Son of God, sitting on the right side of the Almighty One and coming with the clouds of the sky. Who will separate Me of My love for you, loved Israel? The unbelief from the earth and its chosen ones? Oh, Israel, Israel, your faith in My word will work and will bring together into one fold, into one body all those from the earth who will be, as all those who will be will remain, so that they may be. Those who will be found watching for My coming will remain, so that they may be, and they will be comforted from everlasting to everlasting, and they will be the comfort of comforting and they will be. Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God at five years after the consecration of the Holy of Holies of the New Jerusalem

I have My word come down to you with grace and peace and with a celebration of saints and angels upon you and with you, children of the manger of My word, as My heaven celebrates a day of remembrance of the marking with grace and gift of the manger of the word.

Grace and peace to you, and eternal life and comfort, sons! I am. I set down as word into My book of today and I write Myself down with a feast over Israel, as I have a people in this time too, and I have a manger of the birth of My word. I have always come in it and I am being born as the word of eternal life in it, and blessed are those who believe into the Word of God, Who comes with the clouds from heaven on the earth, as it is the time of His coming, as it is written into the Scriptures.

Oh, anointed sons, how comes that those who say that know the Scriptures do not know, for it is written in the law and in the prophets and in the Scriptures about this time of Mine, about My word of today, about this heavenly work, in which you are also included by Me. And you, get often together, get together, sons, with the sons of Israel; get together in My Spirit to see the Scriptures, sons, as you need to have a well-founded faith on its rock. You have to understand God; you have to be the Word of God on the whole earth, sons. That is why I make out this manger of the coming down of My word visibly, and I came with it at the time established by the Scriptures and prophets, and the Holy Spirit will clarify these Scriptures in your counsel with Me, sons.

Israel, Israel, it is a celebration in you, son Israel. We celebrate the day when the manger of the word and My sons sanctified in it were consecrated by My word. I am with you in those that are seen and in those that are not seen on you. I am with the manger of My word, the visible and invisible one, as those that are not seen are comprised by those that are seen, spirit and body, as I am seen and not seen in those that are My visible and invisible, Spirit and Truth, as it is written into the Scriptures.

Sons, sons, always stay in the spirit of the holiness of spirit and body, as the Holy Spirit has His dwelling in the holy mind and in its body sanctified by it, kept by it in its holiness. You should always get used to have a holy mind in which Christ may be born, the Life Giver Who has come from the Father, as I have come from the Father as word; I Myself have come. I come as word from the Father, and behold, I come to you, and the multitudes take Me as food from you, for the multitudes are hungry, sons, and they follow you to take Me as food, and blessed are those who understand this miracle of the multiplying of the bread of life, as I am the bread of life, the word of life. Behold, the man feeds on word, not only on bread alone. This is what I said: «I am the bread of life», and behold, I am, as I said, and I multiply Myself, and this miracle is hardly understood. I was doing miracles by the word of My prayer to My Father, Who I was asking from. I did miracles and said: «He, who believes in Me, will do greater works after I go to My Father», but the greatest miracle is faith, sons, as it can make everything possible; everything that is its. Behold, with you it is the miracle of the multiplying of the eternal life, the bread as food to the hungry multitudes, sons. That is why I brought into being the manger from you. I become word among you, children of the manger of My word. I Myself come as word from the Father, and I come to you and multiply Myself, and you multiply Me and gave Me as food to many.

Sons, sons, the angels of the heaven have come with Me every time I come down as word to you. The Hymn of the little angels always speaks about the heaven and the earth when I give birth to My word in your manger. The angels sing glory to Me and say: «Glory to God in the highest, on earth peace, good will toward men!». All the angels listen to My fresh word, whenever I come to you as word. This is the mystery of the manger from you. It is the place where the angels sing on the earth to God, Who comes from heaven to become word into His manger.

Love My will in you, sons from Israel, as the angels also love it. The angels are My will in heaven and on earth, in those that are seen and not seen of Mine. Love obedience, as the angels love it. Love God by obeying Him, as your obedience is your love of God. Only those who listen to God, only they love the Lord. You should give yourselves and one another and your life to Christ, listening to Him, sons. I listen to My Father, and I am. You listen to Me and you are, as he who is, is in Me, he is in obedience, as I am an example of obedience; I am an example for you, and he who does not listen, is not.

Sons, sons, work together; be all one bread, one word, one mind and one work with all, all the faithful, all those who are obedient, all, sons, be all one bread. Give one another to Christ. Be an example of obedience, giving one another to Me, sons. Work nothing without counsel, without watching, without being one body, one will, one single word all, one bread, sons, giving one another to Me. Stay in a spirit of celebration; be one spirit with Me, and be always in the Holy Spirit, as the Holy Spirit has His dwelling in the holy mind and in its body sanctified by it. Always learn, always stay in the lesson of obedience; stay in the spirit of obedience, so that you may be. Teach one another to stay always embraced in the Holy Spirit, as the time became painful over the people, and the people call the sweet bitter, and the bitter they call sweet, but you always stay embraced in the Holy Spirit; be a house of the Holy Spirit; be the mind of the Holy Spirit, sons.

Oh, Israel, My son! Oh, son, you cannot be both world and Christian; you have to know that you cannot be even if you can. You cannot be if you can do something like that. Oh, you cannot put Me off with fine words; you just cannot do it. I meant you to be able to be My child, My will, My joy, My wealth on the earth and in heaven, an example of obedience and love, as I was. Let the people of the world hear; let them hear what kind of learning I give you, and let them take from it and know the heavenly knowledge, the heavenly life on the earth; let them come and take Me and let them feed on My word, as I have a manger in you, My people, and I become bread in you as food to those hungry of life.

I have always proclaimed holiness over the manger of My word, as I proclaimed it in the day of its sealing with the law of the holiness on the earth; for I made a sign among the people of this little patch of the land, so that everyone may know that he cannot be both with Me and with the spirit of the world. I showed this sign to the people to see that I can only with Me in the man, and that the man can succeed only with God. He, who wants to come after Me, can do it, sons; he can if he wants.

I am with you, Israel, an example in the way of the man, so that the man may see that he can make it if he wants, but you should stay as My will, an example of My will in the man; this is how you are to stay before the people, as I am the One, Who can do everything in all who want to be. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of the saint apostle Andrew

Jerusalem, My people, Jerusalem, the people of the grace, I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. I rest in the bosom of my Father, and the Father in my bosom, the beginning and the end, for I am the beginning and the end. The beginning was made, and God rested in it, and the end is the same, and God will rest then. «In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was God, and the Word was with God and all things were made through Him and the life was in Him», as it is written.

Jerusalem, My place of rest, you should know, son, that all were made by the word. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the Word of God. In the beginning I was the word, and My Father made all things through Me, and in the end I am the same; I am the word, as the end will also be made through the word, and he, who does not understand the beginning and the end, does not believe the work of My word. In the beginning was the Word, and in the end it is also the Word. I am the Word, but the haughty ones do not understand it and do not take care so that that day, which was spoken about by the prophets, may not come upon them, for it is written: «See, you proud, be careful and frightened; it is fulfilled a thing in your days that you will not believe if someone tells you». In the beginning was the Word and I was the Word of God in the beginning, and all things were made through Me, and nothing was made without Me. In the end is the Word again, and I am the Word of God in the end, and all are made through Me, and nothing is made without Me. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the first and the last, the beginning and the end. In the beginning was the Word, and in the end is also the Word, and that is why the Scripture says: «I am the Alpha and the Omega».

Jerusalem, My people, I am the One Who was in the beginning, for it is written: «In the beginning was the Word, and the Word was with God, and the Word was God, and all things that were made were made through Him». That is why I came and said: „I am the Alpha and the Omega, the One Who is, the One Who was, and the One Who comes”. Behold, you son that believe, I am the word in the end as I was in the beginning, and he, who believes in the Scriptures, believes My word that I work with in the end as in the beginning. In the beginning I was working, I was working those that were not seen, for there was no one to see when I was working. And after I made all things that are, I made then the man and I made him to believe, and he saw those that were not visible, and to which he gave a name. And behold an invisible mystery, as in the end I work those that are not visible, for there is no one to see when I work, and that is why I make the man to see those that are not visible. That is why I spoke to you Israel, in My book with you and said: „Do not get lost Israel, for it is coming something that you have not seen since you were born; the making of the earth and of the heaven and of the New Jerusalem, which are not on the earth yet, are coming.” This is what I was speaking in the beginning of My work with you, Jerusalem of today, and I was speaking to you about the scribes and the Pharisees standing in the corner of the street to prevent you from coming to Me, and behold, I did not lie to you and I told you everything beforehand, and My word is truth.

The word from the end like in the beginning is the making of the earth, of the heaven and of the New Jerusalem that were in the beginning. Again, it is a making in the end: «a new heaven and a new earth in which peace and justice will reign», as the promises of the Scriptures write: «I will make new heavens and a new earth, and no one will remember those of the past, and the new heaven and the new earth will remain before Me, and your tribe and your name will endure forever». And if so it is written in the Scriptures, behold, the heaven and the earth pass away and My words have been fulfilled with the new heaven and the new earth and with My people that will endure forever, according to My promises, according to the Scriptures, Israel. And if I was born as the Son of man two thousand years ago, and if My Father gave birth to Romania once with Me, and if I was to have a people in the end to come to it as the word, behold, I spread My manger into Romania and I become the word of new making in it, as the making from the beginning. In the beginning everything started at My word and it was not possible to be worked out otherwise in the end; it was not possible not to be worked out in the end for I said: «I am the Alpha and the Omega». I am the Word of God in the beginning and in the end, for all are made by the word and nothing is made without the word. You should know My people that nothing is made without the word. The man thought that God is something else then His making, the making that was in Him, as it was in the man. But the man being disobedient did no longer know, and he began not to know and that is why I said to the man: «Man, you will find God nowhere but in you, if you put Him in you».

Oh, Jerusalem, the land of Romania bears on it the mystery from the beginning, My working word. Why does he hold this mystery on it? Because Romania is the land of My choice and My nation elected again. And why did I choose this land? Oh, I did not choose. It was a chosen land and I established a chosen people, born at the same time with Me, beginning at My word, for I sent My anointed one to put My sign on this earth, the chosen earth with a mark on it and a man born of Me, My people, born of My word, born of a Christian, spirit and body, a man christened by the Christian, by My anointed, by My apostle first called.

It is a feast of a saint Andrew in your midst, Jerusalem, people of the feasting of the heaven on the earth, for I am with the saints in My coming to you. Andrew, My apostle blesses upon Romania. My apostle blesses from Me:

– From You, Lord, Jerusalem from above, for in You all Your saints rest, Lord. And if You are with the kingdom of Your word in Romania, Your saints are with You, and they come together at Your feast, at Your word, Lord, and the saints speak from You and testify about You from Romania, a chosen people on a chosen earth, chosen from the beginning, Lord, sealed from the beginning to be chosen to the making out of the fullness of the times, so that all may be in You again, those from the heavens and those on the earth, all in You.

May You, Lord, be blessed, You Who are, Who was and Who come, for You chosen Romanian people before the creation of the world, arranging it in Your love, to be Your Son, according to the counsel of Your will, to the praise of Your greatness, Lord, so that all may be in You, those from heavens with those from the earth, all in You, for in Your queen country You brought together those from the heavens with those from the earth, the heaven held together in Romania, Your queen country, Your bride country, a country with a King, oh, a King with a Queen! No one knows sufficiently the mystery of the chosen land in which You came as a word in the end, You Who are the Alpha and the Omega. The man does not understand the work of Your word in Romania, Your new creation, Your work of creation, Your word, Lord. I was Your messenger to put Your name and Your life upon the Romanian people, and I did not know then what this land was, but now, I bow down to You in it and kiss it, for then I did not know; I did not know its mystery from the beginning. It was Your mystery, Your coming, Your word, Your manger in which You become the word in the end as You were in the beginning. I bow down and kiss this land as You have always been kissing it with the sweetest word, for when You worked the word for creation of the heaven and of the earth, You said this: «Let there be an expanse in the midst of the waters, and let it divide the waters from the waters», and it was so, according to Your word. And the expanse of the heaven was made and it divided the waters which were under the expanse and above the expanse and he called the expanse sky. And You said that the waters from under the sky gather together to one place and the dry land appear, and it was so, and You called it earth. And when the earth appeared from the water, the first dry land was the Romanian land, the first to appear from the water, and you took clay from it when You created the man. And You built for him a garden facing the east and put him into it, and you called that garden happiness; You called it the happiness of the man, the garden of happiness, the same way as the man has a house and a garden. When Noah sent forth a dove from him to bring the sign of the reconciliation, the olive branch, it was the same way. This land was the first dry land which appeared out of the water, after the flood of water passed, the first green oasis, and the dove broke the green branch from it and flew to Noah with it.

And you said to gather together the waters from under the sky to one place and the land to appear, and it appeared and you called it earth. And when the land appeared from the water, the first dry land was Romanian land, the first to get out from the water, and you took clay from it when you made the man. And you built for him a garden facing the east and put him into it, and you called that garden happiness; you called it the happiness of the man, the garden of happiness, the same way as the man has a house and a garden. When Noah sent forth a dove from him to bring the sign of the reconciliation, the olive branch, it was the same way. This land was the first dry land which appeared out of the water, after the flood of water passed, the first green oasis, and the dove broke the green branch from it and flew to Noah with it.

Oh, Lord, You became the word on the land of the reconciliation, and You reconciled the man to You. Your word worked out the reconciliation, for it is working and You have to make the new man, born of Your word, for You are the Word. Romania is the land in which the new man is born, the man from the heaven, for You are being born from You as the word into Romania, and from Your word a new man is being born, a man born from above, for You are from above. Oh, Lord, when this land received on it all the nation which is today on it, the Father blessed his nation from the beginning and said to be His son, Your Son to be, the son of Your Word, in the beginning and in the end of Your work with him. The Father sent Melchizedek and blessed him in You, Lord, the Son of the Father. The father blessed this earth according to the order of Melchizedek, and then I came as Your messenger, Your witness, and I gave You to the Romanian people, and I made it Your kindred by bread and vine, by Your Body and Blood, which You left to Your children, and Israel's remnant became relative to every Romanian people, and we all are one people. Your people is that one which believes in You, a man kneaded in the end, for You are the beginning and the end.

I pray in You to the Father, I pray for the Romanian people:

Good Father, the Romanian people is Your Son's people, Your people, good Father, for when You made the heaven and the earth, You made them by Your Son. I pray to You in Your Son in Whom You rest with Your work. Forgive all that You have to forgive to the Romanian people; forgive the smallest one, and redeem through him the human kind and make it anew; make it a Christian people to live forever, good Father, a people of a new and green vine, and raise a holy and clean priesthood out of it, a people earned by Your work, by Your toil in Your Son. Let Your Son rest into the man, and make from it the Romanian Christian people, the true worshipper in spirit and in truth. Let Your Son be spirit and truth in the Romanian man; let it be the word and the body into the Romanian people, on the Romanian people, on the Romanian land, the chosen land, the land of brightness of Your word, as it is written in the prophets about the country of the brightness on the earth.

And You, Son of the Father, Bridegroom sent from heaven on earth, You should be a good Shepherd; You should be a sweet word and to shepherd the nations of the earth from the throne of Your glory; You should shepherd them with an iron staff, with Your everlasting word, Lord, as Romania is the throne of Your word, and the river of life runs from Your throne, which is the word of God on earth. Oh, You become a book on the earth, Lord, and this miracle is a great mystery, this book, the book from heaven on earth, a book lowered from heaven over those without a book, over the mindless man, Lord, a book from heaven on the earth, so that the man may take it into him, so that he may have mind; for the man to have book, Lord, to have You, as You become book and You share Yourself on the earth. Your saints are in Your coming. Your saints are with You into Your book.

Oh, daughter Romania, you should be as pure a virgin as I was. You should always be born a virgin; you should always be born of the word, as the Lord's grace rose over you, country queen, country bride, the first on the earth! The Lord was born in the flesh into the people of Israel, the one that crucified the Lord, and out of the crucifying people a chosen remnant arose, chosen by grace as the interceder for the crucifying people. But in you, Romanian people, the Lord was born as word to make you into a nation, which gives light to the world, testifying about light, as John was testifying the light about Christ. You are the land, which shines, as look the Lord is brightness in you, as the word of God, which shines in you, is your brightness, Romania country. Oh, it is sun in you; the Lord is word in you, the Lord, the shining sun, seven times brighter. That is why you are the country of the brightness; the Lord shines from you as word, and you are, and he, who loves you, loves you after the justice. Come my love, for the creation of the new age over the earth! Come, as I came then and I was your godfather on the day of your engagement, and behold, I am with you from the Lord, the Jerusalem from above, to be the godfather on your wedding day, together with Verginica, the trumpet which announces the wedding of the new age. Come to the everlasting wedding, bride country, queen country among the countries, as this is how You were pleased Lord, and great is Your mystery in this people on the Romanian land.

Oh, glory to You, the One Who made the heaven and the earth in the beginning and on the end, as You are the Alpha and the Omega, and You work in the end as in the beginning. Glory to You, the One, Who made the Romanian heaven and earth, to the glory of Your word on the earth, Lord, as Your saints give You glory from Romania, the land of Your brightness, and its tribe will be like the stars of the sky before You, a new man before You, Lord, Amen.

– Oh, you are blessed, My apostle, who has seen and loved Me and has followed Me since then and until now! But happier are those who do not see Me and love Me and believe in Me and follow Me believing into My word. Blessed are you, who saw Me and believed Me, but more blessed are those who believe in My word, in the Shepherd enshrouded by His mystery, as the Romanian land had the anointment of the Holy Spirit over it, and the Holy Spirit preached the parables of the kingdom of the heavens, who will be the truth in it, as this is what I said: „I want to make a real story out of you, sons of Israel, Romanian sons from Romanians, to be sons, to be real, and to be truly”, and let the strong one be from his own strong place, and let the weak one be from his own weak place, but let them be, as happy are those who believe and those who will believe by the testimony of the faithful ones, and they will be and will believe, the same as in Israel, those that are weak believe by the word of those that are faithful in Israel; the weak believe, and they believe in the God of the faithful ones. Amen. The weak ones believe; they believe and give themselves over as a love sacrifice, as the faithful teach them, as My word becomes food for everlasting life, for the fulfillment of the holiness in the faithful man.

Israel, Israel, the weak one in you becomes a fulfilled love by the word of the faithful from you, My people. The faithful is strong and works the word from word, and the word is strong in a strong place, and the weak one fulfills the teaching by the faithful one who works; the weak one fulfills it by the love and the obedience to the faithful one, as the faithful one listens to God, and the Lord entrusts him with the chambers of His mysteries, to work them out on the earth, and the Lord to be on the earth with those that are His; to be with His friends.

I become a feast in you, Jerusalem, a feast of saints and angels. I become comforting upon you. I become wisdom of mystery over you, as My saints testify about their Lord; they testify about the mysteries of the heaven, they testify the One Who is. That is why I have always told you: „Grow up, child, grow up!” I have always told you to grow up, as behold, God’s mysteries are great, and you are a great mystery, My loved people. Oh, your mystery is great, and you do not grow at the same time with it. Grow up, child, grow up! Listen to Me, and grow up obeying Me, as the obedience grows you up and fills you with the wisdom of the mysteries, as it is written that the dumb will speak, the blind will see, the lame will walk, and the deaf will hear. Grow up child; grow up, for God tells you to grow up! Grow up, for at My word all are made out and grow, and they are! Grow up, Romanian son, grow up, son, grow up! Grow up through the word of those that are faithful; grow up as you have rain over the crop! Grow up for you have sun! Grow up, Romanian son, and come to the spring and become My people, as I come with the spring to you and give you to drink of My water.

The kingdom of the heavens was likened to the Son of Man, Who built His word on the first rock, which comes undamaged out of water and fire, which the man chooses to make on it the ascending and descending of the angels between heaven and earth, to the proclaiming of the times for the establishment of the new age, imperishable between heaven and earth. The kingdom of the heavens was likened to you, My people, as you are on the Romanian land, a kingdom of My word which reigns and shepherds, proclaiming Me as the King of the creature, the true Lord in heaven and on earth. Amen, amen, amen.

I, sons, have no peace in heaven and on earth without you. You are My peace and I comfort Myself with you; I rejoice with you in the longing of My coming, for I miss the work of your hands, I miss the man, My sons. I long to the man to come to Me, for there is no greater joy in heaven as when a man without God comes to Me to find Me and follow Me. I established you as a path on the earth leading to God. I chose you as a support, sons. I, sons, have no peace in heaven and on earth without you. And why do I have no peace? I have no peace until I come visibly, for behold, I have always called the man. I have always made My way to the people with you.

You are My hands and feet; I walk with you; I spend time with you; I write Myself with you in heaven and on earth, and I have no peace until I find My rest. My rest is the man, and I miss the work of My hands, I miss the man to come and follow Me as you followed Me, the little children of the garden of My word. Oh, how could I have peace without you anymore? No one wants to deny himself and follow Me. People want to be with Me, but they do not know what it means for man to be with God. No man knows how to be with God anymore? My longing is full, My spirit longs crying for the man made after the image and likeness of God. My crying is hurt, My longing is crying for the man, but I find comfort with you and I find comfort comforting you and rising you in My longing. Oh, who has mercy on Me any longer to give Me to the people, so that I may find My lost comfort in them, My first rest? I miss all human kind, but I lose Myself in you, I hide in you with My longing, as I do not have where to bow down my head; I have not. The man is no longer My house. The man sold the house and garden, his body and happiness. The man was My house, and I did not need a house made by the people. What kind of a house the people who spoiled My house and My rest should build Me? The man was to be My house and My glory after My image and My rest.

Oh, sons, how can I have peace without you any longer? Where should I find My comfort, where? Who shall hear Me? Who shall know Me? Who should I complain Myself on earth to? The man's life had to My life; his body, My house; his work, My work. Oh, sons take My word, take My comfort and give it to the people so that they may also feel My comforting and know My voice.

Oh, My people, I speak to you son, so that the people may hear My voice and My speaking with you on the earth. What would you do if you did not believe in Me, in My word? You would become like the people who do no longer know what it means the man to be with God. You would become like those who teach you how to be, as the people of the world have teachers; they have priests, they have prophets, and the spirit of the word separates them from Me, for the Scripture says: «Friendship with the world is enmity to God». You would become an enemy to Me, if you separated from the word of life, son of My people. Oh, you should not play the staying with God; you should not play with coming and going, you, who stay with Me by your faith, by your love. The one who plays with the going can no longer play the coming back to Me and to you, My people, My loved people. Oh, it is hard for the one who came and went away, for a bad time and a burdensome pain will come upon the one who did not know to stay with God, and it has never been a greater pain like that one and it will never be; pain without comforting.

Oh, son Israel, you should not play with God; you should not deceive Him; you should not lie to Him and not forsake the One, Who is. You cannot find Me, son, to those foreign to Me, to those who are not a house to Me. I am with those that I have them as My house and My rest in it, My will in the man, My people. Only such a man is Christian; he is My house.

My word builds a house to Me in you, faithful son in Israel. Let My word in you give an account to anyone who may call you to account for your faith and for your wisdom, My child Israel. No one has wisdom except you, son, as I became wisdom in you, so that you may not leave Me and so that you may not perish, dear child. It is written into the Scripture: «He, who perishes, perishes for lack of wisdom, for lack of God in him he perishes». My peace in you is My life in you, son. He, who has peace has God, as I become peace in the one who has Me; I become faith in him; I become love; I become holy smile; I become light; I become My light in him and I call him son of God, as this is what I said: «Blessed are the peacemakers, as they shall be called God's sons».

Israel, Israel, you should not lose your happiness, son; you should not play the staying with God. I yearn after you, and My Spirit is consumed after you to keep you in love, My people. I have no peace in heaven and on earth without you, son Israel. You should not let yourself be estranged; you should not let yourself into the hand of those without God, as those with God are those who live God. It is written into the Scripture and into the prophets about the voice of My word, who is today with you, Israel people of today. Read son, and believe while giving light upon the people. You should give light from the light, for you have it, My people. You should give to those of Mine from what is Mine. Oh, I have always come, Israel; I come and I do not let you perish, as it is a bad time and if you saw it, you would get frightened.

It is a bad time, well Israel well, and it is full of its prophets, and you are small. Stay hand in hand with Me, for you are small, you are very small in the time of the people. I am small on the earth, for you are tiny and little, but My greatness has you great, and you are great before Me. You, the very little one, are great and are comprised by My greatness, by My word, which shepherds you to have sons and not to perish swallowed by the bad time. Stay into your house, son; stay with Me, not in the world with you and with the world. Stay, as great is the one who stay so that he may stand and not fall, and he, who falls down, he does not stay and that is why he falls down.

My people, you should do good to the people with Me; do not do the people any good with you. This is how the people are learned to do them good, and they say that it is well, but you should not say like that, and you should do them good with Me, son.

I am with the comfort of saints above you, Israel, and I come with the sons of My garden towards you, and I come with the comfort of the saints. The saints are staying crowns-crowns. The apostles stay in groups and bands; the prophets, the bishops and the evangelists, the male and female martyrs, the prudes and the virgins stay the same. The saints and the angels stay crowns-crowns above the manger of My word. The saints long after you, My people, My smallest son. The saints comfort you, My child: Nicholas, My bishop, the virgin Filoteea in the group of the virgins, as you are the loved one from the end, and you are loved with a great love, and the spirits of the saints rest in My Spirit, in My word in the end as in the beginning of the man. The saints comfort you, little and tiny Israel, and who understands this mystery, this mystery of the heaven coming down on the earth?

– Oh, Lord, Lord, Your saints and with You on the earth, oh, Lord of the saints! It is the time to come with the saints, to come with the tens of thousands, and the saints to come with You! I did good to the people on the earth and I helped them not to work lawlessness, Lord. I helped the people into Your name to be Yours and not to the people, and I preached You with zeal and love, and now I come from heaven with You, and out of You I speak like this over the people: people renounce the lawlessness and give each other to God! Receive from the spring of life. This is the spring. Do nothing without Him on the earth. The Word is the spring. The Lord is the Word. Nothing without God, oh, people! Become sons of God, you, sons of the people! Comfort the Lord with His love in you, as the saints of the heaven did on the earth!

And, Lord, give bread to the people; give them bread, oh You, bread of the people! Make the man know that You are the bread, Lord, and that You came, so that they may have bread and to have it abundantly. You came so that they may have love, and to have it abundantly, and so that the man may give Your love from them to You if they receive it in them. But You should have great mercy on Your Romanian Israel, Lord, and let Your anointment be great on its head, as You are great in the Romanian Israel and You breathe over the Romanian people, so that they may receive the Holy Spirit and to share You as spirit and truth, as Father such worshippers wants.

– Oh, my spirit prays to You, Lord, from the group of the virgin girls. Sow Yourself in the children and in the virgins as You sown Yourself in me to come towards You, for You are the One Who said: «Let the children come to Me to give them My kingdom». Oh, the time of today is hard, Lord, and it prevents the children from coming to You. Help Your children; help the little ones; help Your little Israel, as the time is hard, Lord. Help the Romanian Israel to know how to be Christian, as Your saints can hardly stand the people who come near to their relics, and coming, they do not come, Lord; those, who come to us to receive from You, do not come to You. The people do not come, as they do not want to be on the way; they do not want to come through the door, Lord. Give the people a staff; give them word; give them bread Lord, as the people do no longer know what bread is.

Little and tiny Israel, you should do merciful deeds of heavenly bread; you should do it, as you have what to give, and you should pray for the man, so that he may come coming when he comes to the Lord. Oh, you should work out miracles, little and tiny people; to be as little and tiny as I was, as wonderful in love as I was, and as dedicated to God as I was.

The saints stay crowns-crowns in Your coming, Lord, and they pray in You, so that they may fulfill the cup of their pray, Lord. Give us comfort in Israel; give us, Your saints, Lord, as no one on the earth comforts Your saints any longer. The saints mourn among the people on the earth, as the people do not come to You through Your saints, Lord. Comfort the little and tiny Israel and grow big in it, so that the people may come to You through it, Lord, as the people do not see until they believe, and the people do not know what faith is. Receive the longing of Your saints, who wait for the redemption, as Your news reached into the heaven of Your saints, and they cry out to You: «Until when, Lord; until when? Oh, until when?»

– Oh, behold, the time was shortened. Behold the time, oh you saints of My heaven! Do not cry any more, sons! Do no longer cry in heaven, as behold, it is heard that you cry on the earth, for you are into My coming. Behold the time; comfort one another! In a little while My comfort will comprise the whole heaven, and I will include the earth into one place, for I will be your everlasting comfort. Amen.

Let the saints find comfort in you, Israel, for they miss them, dear son. The saints come with Me to you. Be careful to what I say, for I tell you those that are prophesied in the Scriptures. I come with My saints to you. Your Lord comes with thousands of saints to you, and all this glory will soon be seen. His glory will be seen soon, soon, as the lightning which rises from the east and shines up to the sunset; soon, soon it will show, it will show soon, soon. Amen.

The kingdom of heaven is like you, dear Israel, faithful servant, for the Master will come and find you watching and will tell you: «Come into the joy of your Lord!». Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God for the art exhibition: „News and story”

(In Romanian – „veste și poveste”)

The word becomes news and story on the earth. The Sower sows His seed; He sows the word, and the word becomes God on earth. The Lord comes down from heaven on the earth and He becomes word. The word comes on the clouds; it comes on the clouds of glory. The Lord comes from heaven on the earth to be with the man, as it is not good for the man to be alone, but it is good for him to be with the Lord. The Sower sows the word. Let the sons of the garden hear My word. Amen.

Oh, sower sons, behold, I come. Remain to meet Me, as I come to feed the multitudes with bread. My word is bread; it is manna from heaven, but the man does no longer know what bread is, to take and eat and to be alive as I am alive. I am He, Who is. Amen, amen, amen. «I am the Alpha and the Omega, Who is Who was and Who is to come. Blessed is he, who listens to My word, as the time is at hand. To the one who is thirsty I will give to drink from the spring of the water of life as gift, and I will be his God and he will be My son. I am the Alpha and the Omega, the First and the Last, the beginning and the end», as it is written into the Scriptures.

In the beginning was the word and in the end the word is again. I was the Word in the beginning, and I said: «Let there be light», and it was light, and I divided the light from the darkness, as darkness was on the surface of the deep, and My Spirit was hovering over the surface of the waters. I am the Alpha and the Omega. As I worked in the beginning, so I work in the end. I was the Word in the beginning; in the end I am also the Word and I say again: „Let there be light!” Amen, amen, amen. Let the light be divided from the darkness, and the darkness from the light! Let there be a new heaven and a new earth! Amen. Let there be a new man and let God be with the man, as it is not good for the man to be alone; it is good for the man to be with the Lord. It is not good for the Lord to be alone; it is good for the Lord to be with the man. I come to feed the multitudes on bread. I become word on the earth; bread from heaven on the earth.

Oh, sons of the people, receive and eat and be born of the word. This is My word, which comes to you, which is broken for you as food and resurrection from the dead. I become word as food. Receive and eat and rise in Me. Receive eternal life. This is the word of the eternal life. I am the eternal life. I am. Come near. I am the Word of God, the white horse and its rider; the Lord with the people of His word. I was born a baby in Bethlehem and word in Romania. I am the body and the word on the earth, oh, Romania country. I come with the sons of My word and I stay into your midst, I and My people, the white horse and its rider, the Lord with the people of His word.

Peace to you, those who obey! I become news from one margin of the heavens to the other, news and true story, the white horse and its rider, the Lord Word and His people. Amen.

I am the Faithful One and the True One. I am word in you, Romania country. The news and the story of My mystery in you have been spread. I am in love with you, and My Father is in Me and He is in love with you and He writes you His love story with you, Romania daughter. Oh, I want to make a true story of you, and I want to be love and not story in you; I want to be real. Call Me to come; receive Me when I come, as behold, I come to you as word and I write Myself with you in heaven and on earth, as I become a book in you, and I become news and story from one margin of the heavens to another, Romania country, the country of the news and story over the earth. My word is being born in you. I am being born into your midst, in the midst of My word, and I walk with the sons of the word and I proclaim Myself with them, the white horse and its rider, an example of the kingdom of the heavens in you, country of the news and story over the earth. It is birth giving in you. The days of the birth are with you. My word gives you birth out of it, and I am the word. My Spirit speaks from your midst, and no one in you knows to sing My love with you. My love is in you. I become love in you; I become spring in you; I become a river of life in you, country of news and story. But you have enemies in you, who follow the life of the little Child, Who gives birth to the word in you. (Apoc: 12, r.n.)

You have Herods in you, who try to hide the life of My word from you, when it is being born into its manger, as the manger of My word dwells into your midst, country of news and story. My word is news and story in you, as I am in love with you, Romania country, My love from the end, the country of brightness. You are prophesied by the prophets of the Scriptures, country of longing, and country of brightness. Behold, My word is brightness in you, and you shine and proclaim yourself. Oh, he, who loves you, loves Me as well, the Word, Which is being born in you from Me, as I come with the clouds to you and I become word in the manger of My word into your midst. He, who is in you and does not love you, the Romanian in you, who does not love you, that one does not love Me as well, the Word born in you, and that one becomes a Herod, who is after the life of the Child, Who becomes word and comfort in you. He, who does not love Me, the word in you, that one is not Romanian; he is not Christian, but rather he is a pagan and his share is with the unfaithful ones.

Oh, I long for your life, for your Christian life, the queen country among the nations. Have you really forgotten what it means to be Christian?

Oh, you have forgotten and I have come to remind you that you are made Christian from your very beginning. Who broke your little garment of baptism? How did you come that you got used no to serve God any longer? You are prophesied to be the New Israel, Israel of the promise; to be a Christian people, as this is what Israel means. Israel is not an earthly name; rather it is a heavenly name, a name given by God to His people. You are My people, Romania country. Oh, but you have forgotten your God and have committed sexual immoralities with the nations of the earth, which do not have Me as God. Remember your infancy, your birth and your first garment, Romania country, as I became Romanian; I was engaged to you and I became Romanian; I have become the Romanian word, and I speak into your language from heaven on earth, Romanian Israel. Oh, do not forget to be Christian, Romanian Israel. The Christian garment is white. Reject the lawlessness and be Christian, Romanian people, as I became Romanian; I have become the Romanian word, Bridegroom and bride, and I have become a wedding of new age in you. I took a bride for Myself out of you, Romanian people, and I celebrate a wedding of new age into your midst, Bridegroom from heaven and bride from the earth, word and body, as My bride is My body, My church, My tabernacle, My members; the bride born from above on the earth. The bride is from earth, and the Bridegroom is from heaven, as this is the true wedding, and the two will be one flesh, Bridegroom and bride forever. To be bride, it means to be clean, the body of the heavenly Bridegroom on the earth; a wedding of new and heavenly age on the earth, life without death on the earth.

Oh, for forty years I have been born as word in you, loved daughter. The days of the birth are with you. I am with you and with the days of your birth out of Me, the birth out of My word. Oh, who is to be found on the earth to sing My love with you? There is no wisdom on the earth that knows to sing the psalm of My love with you, and here, I have come. I have come to sing you and to sing My love of you. I have come in you as the true news and story, heavenly story, an example of the kingdom of the heavens, a in you, My bride, My empress bride, bride, My loved bride!

Wake up your best men, oh, My coming, My love, and My Father is in the you, Romania country, as the Father took this is how Father was pleased at My birth to My bride, My fiancée and My bride. you, that one also loves Me, the Word, Which is being born in you; that one loves your glory with Me, your love with Me. Who is in you and does not love you, country of My love, that one becomes a Herod, Who hates the life of the Child, Who is being born into My manger from you.

I become word from heaven on the earth. I come to you, as I am in love with you, and the lovers would never separate each other. I walk with the sons of My manger and I proclaim Myself and recount about Myself with you and in you, the news and true story. God as word on the earth, Truth from the Truth, Light from the Light, the One of one being with the Father, by Whom everything was done in the beginning. And behold, the Father works again through the Son, through the Word, and all are made again into a new heaven and a new earth and a new paradise for the new man, so that the man may come back in Me, the Creator of the man from the beginning. Amen.

It is birth giving in you, country of My love. The Lord is being born of word in you. The days of your birth are proclaimed and told about, and I write the book of My love with you, My bride, taken out of the Romanians, and of you, country of My wedding. The kingdom of the heavens was likened to king who made a marriage feast for his son, who sent his servants to call those who were invited to the marriage feast, to tell them: «Come!». But they who were invited did not take into consideration those who called: «Come, you, who are invited», and the servants went to those who were not called My people and said to them: «Come you and fill up your places, as the wedding table is ready!».

Come, Romania daughter, to be My wedding guest! Come and leave your wedding and come to My wedding, as those, who are invited, do not come. Come, as look, I have always come with My bride before you to give you birth out of Me, of My wedding with My bride taken out of you, to give you birth out of My word and to make a wedding of new age in you, a people born again at My word, a new birth, as those that are old pass away, and I again make everything new, which is made out at My word that is being born in you, Romania country.

The kingdom of the heavens was likened to you, My country, Israel of My coming back to the people, newborn Jerusalem; born of the word from above, born from heaven on earth at My word, by which everything is being made in the end as in the beginning.

Oh, with what will the kingdom of the heavens be likened? Who will be like you, country of My kingdom on the earth? Can any people be born all of a sudden? Oh, in your hard labor there were born sons in you, country with a manger of the birth of My word. I am the Word of God, Who is being born as word in you, and I speak into the Romanian language, and I write Myself with you down on the earth, and all the nations will worship and give glory to the God of the Romanian Israel, the God of Romania, the true Lord in heaven and on the earth. I am He, Who is. I am the Alpha and the Omega, Who is Who was and Who is to come, the Almighty; however, a double-edge sword comes out of My mouth, the Word of God, news and true story. Amen.

Sons from the manger, go and tell that I am with the kingdom of the heavens in you and with you. Go and spread the word of God, which reigns in you, into the middle of Romania, and blessed are those who wash away their garments to be able to come in to God. Blessed are those, who keep God's word, as the time is at hand, and behold, I come; I come as body and word; I come soon, soon. Now I come as word and feed the multitudes and give them the river of life, and I come soon as body, as I ascended to My Father, for it is written: «As He ascended, so will He descend». I will come soon, soon, and the body of My glory will reveal the new heaven and the new earth, as I become news and story from one end of the heavens to another, so that I may not come all of a sudden; so that I may not come by surprise.

I am the word in you, Romania country. The news and the story have been spread from you, about My mystery in you, about My word and My people, the white horse and its rider. I become love in you, so that you may never fall. I become the spring of living water and I am in love with you, country of My longings. You are My mystery of the new age; You are the New Jerusalem; you are the news and My love story, and you are, for He, who is, is in you. I am the One, Who is. I come soon. I come soon, My love, but call Me! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Nativity (the Lord's Birth)

Oh, Jerusalem, loved child, people of the heaven on the earth! Son, your song is heard into heaven, your carol singing for Me and for you; and the song of the little angels is also heard, son. The little angels sing groups-groups above the manger, which My word is being born into. You celebrate the day of My birth, oh, little garden of the birth of My word, but every day My birth and your birth are being celebrated in you, sweet little garden.

Oh, little children, anointed and sweet, who day by day have been celebrating My birth and My life, the one from My birth to My ascension to My Father and until today, well children anointed to be a celebration before Me! Oh, My little children, My anointed ones, I bless you with a spirit of heavenly knowledge; I fill you with wisdom from Me to give wisdom to My people, so that it may know what remembering Me means, My every day remembrance with those that are Mine, from My birth of the Virgin, and from long ago, until My ascension to My Father, and until today, and from everlasting to everlasting with you, sons of My eternity in you and with you, and yours in Me and with Me.

Oh, My little children, oh, My comfort, oh, My warm manger! I am the One Who was born in the flesh of the Virgin, and as word from Virginia, My daughter from the end of My mystery on the earth, a hidden mystery in ages, which not even the angels had known about, and which if someone hears about, he can hardly believe and understand it. With how much mystery I and My Father worked when I was born in the flesh of the Virgin! With how much mystery, until the mystery was heard of all the earth! Oh, with how much mystery I have also worked today, as it was written on My second coming, when I was born as word from Virginia! Oh, with how much mystery I have worked until this mystery was heard of by the whole earth, little children of My today's mystery on the earth! Oh, My people of today, which I hid Myself in, so that I may come into its midst and to become word; it is a mystery, My people of today, as I was and I am a mystery into its midst. Oh, no one on the earth can have your brightness, My little child people, as you are a great mystery, and I am being born in you as the word in the end, as it is written to be in the end.

I am with the day of birth; I come with the feast of birth into your book, Verginica, virgin daughter, in which My word was born in the end time of My mystery among the people. I was born in the flesh of My mother Virgin, and as word of you, and I remained as work in the midst of your people which you gave birth of My word in you; for if I was born as word, behold, the One, Who is being born, is, and the One Who gives birth is being born; He is being born and gives birth; He is being born, so that He Word may give birth to sons, and My tribe will be like the stars forever, Verginica, daughter who gives birth to sons.

– Oh, You Who were born of the Virgin in a body of a child and of me, spirit of word, You are the seed, Lord, You are the seed of the body and of Your word, for You have sown Yourself, so that You may be born in the flesh and so that You may be born as word, and so that You may be the Son of Man, flesh and word, the Son of the Father and of the mother Virgin and mine, Oh, my Lord, Who was born word of me; You Who sown Yourself in my bosom as spirit and word, Son of man! Oh, who among the people would have been able to humble as You did? Oh, You humbled so much, that You came from heaven and entered my bosom and my mouth was giving birth to You as word, as You were the One Who was being born, the One Who was becoming word before Your people, oh, mysterious God, mysterious Shepherd! The days of Your birth are with You as word into the midst of Israel of today, born of You, mysterious Shepherd. Oh, who else can take the life of this little child, Who is being born as word into His manger, into the people born of His word in me? Oh, how mysterious You are, Who are always being born! Your mystery is mysterious, Lord Word. Like the lightning, which comes from the East and appears in the west, is Your mystery, and no one can crush it, as this is Your coming, and who can prevail against Your coming, Lord Word, Who comes like the lightning? The lightning appears and hides, and its rumble comes after it and it is heard, but the lightning, which gives birth to its rumble, is not seen anymore; it hides and its voice remains and is heard. The lightning and its voice. The Lord and His word. The light and its whisper and then its voice, as the Lord is the light which appears for a little while and His voice is being born of it, its voice, for the Lord is the light which is seen and which is not seen.

The Light is the light before the light, the light from the time of the light and the light after the light, the Lord, the Father's mystery on the earth. And when the fullness of the time came, the Father God sent His Son, born of the woman, born under the law, to redeem those under the law and to achieve the adoption, and to those who become sons, God sends them the Spirit of His Son into their hearts, Who cries: «Father!». He cries out the Father; the Son cries out from the sons, the Spirit of the Son of God cries out of the sons: «Father!».

Oh, Your mystery is great, mysterious God! Give wisdom to the people, good Lord, for if You become wisdom in Israel, the people come and receive, for the sons of the little garden of Your word became sharers of Your kingdom over the people, Lord.

Oh, anointed sons, behold who is your life! Receive and give life to the people. Breathe life on the people, sons, so that the people may rise, as the people's resurrection is the Lord Who is born into the people.

It is a celebration of the birth at the manger of the word. The little angels of the heaven sing glory to the One born two thousand years ago among the people, and the little angels sing a new carol of the new birth, for they see that the days of the new birth of the world have come, a birth from the Word, as the Lord, the Child born two thousand years ago among the people is being born again today in your manger, so that He may give Himself over to the people, a mysterious Shepherd and to shepherd the nations of the earth with an iron staff, with a mysterious word, which is not seen, but the voice of the word is heard the same as the voice of the lightning is heard after its light. Amen.

– Oh, loved daughter, My Verginica, what a mystery is the mystery of your word taken out of Me! How beautiful you share Me; how complete you show Me, what a mysterious birth you give to Me when you make Me word in My inner being! For you are in Me, your new Jerusalem, and you are being born as word of Me, and I am your word. I am being born in you, and I am the fruit. I am the One Who is being born and the One Who gives birth, as it is written: «The two will be one flesh», the One Who gives birth and the One Who is being born. Amen.

Israel, I come down to you, and I come down into My book. I pass from book to book, so that I may be with you in a voice of a birth celebration. Amen.

*

It is My birth on the earth, Romania, and My birth is in you. I am being born as word in you, so that I may be with the people and to dwell among the people as a birth word of the man from God. I was born a child in Bethlehem to dwell among the people coming down from heaven, and in you, Romania, I am being born as word, and I dwell again among the people to give birth to the people from Me, from the word, as I was born of the word of the Father, to be the Word of the Father, and the Father to make everything through Me, as He has already done so.

Romania, you sing My birth, and the heaven sings your birth. We are being born to each other, My love; I for you and you for Me, and we both will be one body. I do not speak only to My people. I speak with you, Romania country, for I have announced that countless multitudes will come and drink of the spring of My word, and My well runs over and becomes a river, and the river grows high and becomes an ocean and it comprises the whole earth, so that I can make it earth again, coming out of the water of My word and born of the heaven, for he, who is not born from above, does not become My kingdom. The little angels of My birth sing to Me My birth above you, for it is a feast of My birth. The angels sing; they sing to the One, Who was born two thousand years ago. The little angels sing a new carol of the new age, for they see that the days of the new birth of the world have come, and the world is being renewed with My word, which gives birth to a new man. I, the One born of the Virgin two thousand years ago among the people, am being born today in the manger of My word into your midst, country Romania. I am being born as word, as a mysterious Shepherd, Who shepherds the nations of the earth with an iron staff, with a mysterious word, which is not seen, but its voice is heard, as the lightning is heard after its light.

Oh, how mysterious is the mystery of My word, which today is being born in you, Romania country! Like the lighting, which comes from the East and appears in the West, (Published also on the Internet, r.n.) is My mystery, and no one can crush it, as this is My coming, and who can prevail against My coming? I am being born and come like the lightning. The lightning appears and hides, and its rumble comes after it and then its voice is heard, but the lightning, which gives birth to its rumble, is no longer seen; it hides and it remains its voice which is heard; the lightning and its voice; the Lord and His word; and then the light and its voice. Amen.

I am the Light of the world, Which appeared two thousand years ago, and its word is being born out of its voice. I am the light before the light; I am the light from the time of the light and I am the light after the light. I am the mystery of the Father on the earth with the people, as when the fullness of time came, My Father sent Me as Light into the world, born of the Virgin to redeem the people from under the law and so that the people may receive the adoption, and to those who become sons, the Father sends them the Spirit of His Son, Who cries: «Father!». The Son of the Father cries to the Father from the sons. The Spirit of the Son of God cries from the sons: «Father!». The Spirit intercedes for the sons with groanings, which cannot be uttered.

Oh, sons from the manger, breathe over the people to rise, as the people are dry bones, as it is written into the prophets. Breathe, so that the people may be brought to life. Breathe My word over the people, so that they may come to life, for the resurrection is the Lord, the One born into the people, the mysterious word, which comes from above and gives birth to the man from above, birth from the Word, which gives eternal life for the man.

Oh, it is a heavenly celebration of the new birth! The little angels of the heaven sing glory to the One born two thousand years ago among the people, and they sing a new carol of new age, of new birth, for they see that the days of the new birth of the world have come; a birth of the Word, the Child born two thousand years ago among the people. The One Who appeared as light two thousand years ago is being born today as word, the voice of the light which appeared then, like the lightning which appears and hides and its voice, which is heard, remains; mysterious Shepherd, mysterious word, which is not seen but its voice is heard, as the voice of the lightning is heard after the lightning is heard.

I am the One Who is being born and the One Who gives birth, as it is written: «The two will be one flesh», the One Who is being born and the One Who gives birth, as Father made Me the Son of man. I came down from heaven and I became flesh from the Holy Spirit in the Virgin and I became Man, as it is written: «The man will leave his father and his mother and will join with his wife, with his bride, and they will be one flesh». I came from the Father and from the Virgin mother and I joined with My bride, with My church, where I let My body to be one flesh with her, (Lord's body and blood of Holy Communion at Mass, r.n.) and that she may be My members, and she is My body, and both of us to be one flesh, as it is written. But I cannot speak this great mystery with the man as in heaven, for the man joined with debauchery and became one flesh with it, and he says that he fulfills the Scripture of My word, but the mystery of this Scripture is in God, and the man has to understand the mystery of this word; and the man has to be born again; to be born from above, as I came as word from above; I came from the Father as word to give birth to the man from heaven and to become one flesh with the one who receives the adoption. Amen. («The one who eats My flesh and drinks My blood dwells ("abide(s)") in Me, and I in him», John: 6/56, r.n.)

Oh, the days of the birth are in you, Romania country. The mystery of the birth of the new man, the days of the new birth of the world are in you, country of the birth of My word. It is My birth on the earth, Romania, and I am being born in you. I am being born of Me as word in you, to be with the people, to dwell among the people as the word of the birth of the man from God. You sing My birth, and the heaven sings your new birth. We are being born to each other, My love; I for you, and you for Me, and we both will be one flesh, Bridegroom from heaven, and bride from earth, a pure wedding, Bridegroom and bride, and the noise of our wedding will comprise the whole earth, and the Father's sons will be born out of My wedding with you, and they will receive the adoption, for it is written: «Those who believe in Me, I will give them the power to become God's children, who are being born not of blood, nor of the fleshly lust, nor of the will of man, but of God», of Me, the Son of the Father, the Son Who becomes one flesh with the one who believes in Him, so that the two will be one flesh.

The days of the new birth of the world are in you, Romania country, and carols are sung at birth, loved daughter, as the little angels sang in the night of My birth.

I come into your midst with My people, with My bride taken out of you, Romania daughter, and I sing you a carol of new birth to fulfill through you the Scripture of the new birth of the world, My love, as I become with you news and story over the earth, and we both will be one flesh, a pure wedding, a wedding of new age between heaven and earth, the Son of the Father with His bride in you, country bride, country Romania, the country of My Father in you, My love! Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Saint Martyr and Archdeacon Stephen

Oh, Jerusalem, My loved people, I would never separate from you, son, as this is what I told you: „I would turn the night into day and I would have the time stand still when I see and I feel that you are in love with Me and with My feast into your midst”.

Peace to you, Jerusalem, son! I have come with you into the middle of the multitudes, as I want to become news and story with you, a wedding of new age on the earth, and I would never like the wedding day to come to an end, son. I would have the time of the wedding stand still; I would turn the night into day, and I would even turn the day into night when the night is day with Me into your midst, as I am the day during the time of the night, dear son, son of the king, Jerusalem of My kingdom on the earth. I have come out with you, Jerusalem. I have come out with My manger as Israel was carrying the ark of the testimony from place to place, and My wedding with you spreads over the earth. I have always told you to be great, to be worthy, to be beautiful, son, to be good and smart. I have told you son, to be faithful and to work. I have told you that the day of the wedding is coming and we will have wedding guests at our wedding. I have always told you that the day of My wedding with you is coming on the earth, and the multitudes will come together to see you with Me, Jerusalem, son of My wedding, people of My coming, as I am coming and having the wedding in you, and when I have the days of wedding with you, I, the Bridegroom and you, the bride, oh, the saints are coming together with Me on your day with the Lord, as I, the Lord, am Your Bridegroom. I have always, always been telling you that the day of the wedding is coming. I have always been telling you to be bride, Jerusalem.

You should know, My people, that your days are coming. Your days of wedding with Me are coming with Me, and all who did not know that you truly were My real bride people, will grieve and rejoice. You should know, Jerusalem, that out of your marriage with Me and with My word, which grows within your midst, the number of the wedding guests will be multiplied, the number of the disciples of My word, Jerusalem. But even a great many of priests will submit to the faith of My word, as no one, son, will be able to stand against the wisdom of the Holy Spirit, who becomes word from Me, son Jerusalem, as I have always come as new word to you; I have always come as new King, a King from heaven, Who rises over you and gives you light and guides and announces you, the one born of Me, a new people, new Jerusalem on the earth, word from the Word, son born of the Son of God. The days of the new birth of the world are with you. The days of the new age are proclaimed from you, and those who did not believe will shake, those who did not want to know who you are, My bride people, My chamber, My wedding chamber with you, as I am coming in you and dress you to be My chamber, to be My bride and so that I may come out of you to the multitudes, like a Bridegroom, Who comes out of His chamber, little people, My little chamber, My little bedroom of Your Bridegroom. I am coming in and out of you with you, My bride, as it is not right for you to forsake the word of God and do something else, and that is why I will look for strong men and I will make them disciples and I will fill them with the Holy Spirit and wisdom and obedience and I will order them to serve your work with Me, to serve My word with Me, and you will persevere in praying and in the ministering of the word, but you should be good, son; you should be beautiful; you should be intelligent, as I have always told you to be faithful and to work out My word and its everlasting life upon you and upon the multitudes which eat of the golden apple of My word. My word is the golden apple that the King of the heaven has. I am the golden apple of My Father, the King, and you are the little one, as the story of the Little Prâslea<sup>110</sup>, the brave, says.

Oh, you should be brave, well little son, as you have the golden apple on your table; you have golden word, sons; you have wedding food. You should be brave, little son, as I will command you by My word to pray for the ones, who will minister to My word and to you, and you should lay your hands on them, so that they may know that they have a calling and a work for Me and for you, and to grow My word always and to multiply the multitude of the number of the disciples in Jerusalem, in Romania, son, for no one will be able to stand against the wisdom of My word which is full of comfort, full of love and full of the spirit of new wedding over the earth.

My word is king over the earth, as this is what I commanded you, and I told you that „a little bird is coming from heaven to be king on the earth”. Behold, My word reigns, and I have told you long ago, but even you did not understand what I said then, for I said that «I, the Lord, Jesus Christ, have taken from the earth the thrones of all the kings of the earth». But I was not speaking about the throne, rather about the king gift that the Holy Trinity took, for a little bird is coming from the heaven to be king on the earth, and behold, it comes; it has always come; it comes and reigns. And who is the little kingbird? My word is a little bird of the Holy Spirit, the word which chirps above you, o dear little nest in which My word has got its chicks; the word which gives birth to sons and which gives birth to disciples from the sons.

Do not be afraid, My little nest from the middle of Romania, for you will be carried on the palms, dear son, My little nest with sons in it. I will raise people for you, seven worthy men, but even seven more, and out of them there will be raised seventy times seven and they will carry you, and you will persevere in praying and in your ministering of the word, little child, who sit at the table of the golden apple and take care of it to be of gold and not to be robbed without being ripen, and so that Father, the King, may have it on the table. (I highly recommend you read those three pages of the story „Prâslea the Brave and the Golden Apples”, r.n.) I will work as in the time of My apostles of then, My little remnant from Israel, as seven men from the disciples of that time were also chosen to serve at the tables, and so that the work of My word, which chose My twelve apostles on the earth, might not be deterred. And Stephen was chosen to be among the seven men, but then the herods were without law over them.

Stephen was doing miracles and great signs into the people, as he was full of grace and power, and those from the Synagogue of Cyrene, the libertine and those from Cilicia, got up to argue with him. And because they did not have any word to stand against Stephen, they paid some men, false witnesses against Stephen, but even so they could not prevail over Stephen who was full of the Holy Spirit, but looking at him, all the people from the Synedrium saw his face like the face of an angel, for he got up and testified to them the God of Israel, who prophesied by the prophets the arrival of the Righteous One, and Whose sellers and killers they became; however, gnashing their teeth they were hearing Stephen saying: «Behold, I see the heavens opened, and the Son of Man standing at the right hand of God!». But they cried out with a loud voice and stopped their ears and rushed at him with one accord, and they threw him out of the city stoning him, and Stephen was praying: «Lord, receive my spirit! Lord, do not hold this sin against them!».

— Oh, Lord, the same way I pray in You today, too. Do not hold this sin against them, against those who still stone You, Lord Word; those from the church; those who still throw stones into Your glory on the earth, into the people of Your word, Lord! Your people is Your glory on the earth, for You are the glory of Your people, of the least one from many brothers, Lord. What guilt

does Your people have, Your little child, Your Jerusalem born of You on the earth, holy citadel, New Jerusalem coming down from heaven with You upon it, upon Your people? However, oh Lord, I also call out today as then. Your Spirit in me cries, for I am in You with Your Spirit. I am in Your Holy Spirit and cry: the Most High does not dwell into the temples made with hands, as the prophet says: «The heaven is My throne, and the earth is My footstool. What kind of a house are you to build to Me, or what is the place of My rest? Is it not really My hand which made all these? The heaven and the earth, the throne and My footstool, were not made by My hand?»

Oh, you stiff-necked and uncircumcised in heart and ears! You always resist the Holy Spirit, as your fathers did, and who killed the prophets, so that they might not be prophets, so that God might not be word on the earth and so that the coming of the Righteous One might not be proclaimed. But behold, the Righteous One, the One Who was sold out and killed, is alive and comes as word, and the word cannot kill; it cannot bind.

Oh, you stiff-necked, who know the Lord's holy law, ordained by the angels and which you do not keep! Look to see the heavens open above you and the Son of Man on God's right side, coming with the clouds to you, but you still cry and stop your ears so that you may not hear God. I pray for you, those stiff-necked and say: do not hold this sin against them; against those who still stone You, Lord Word; against those from the church; against those who still throw with stones into Your glory from the earth, into the people of Your word, Lord! What guilt does Your people have before them, of those who do not believe in You yet, Lord Word? Oh, they accuse You; those who still throw with stones into the glory of Your word, into the people of Your word.

You, who are stiff-necked, get up and be born of God, of His word, which comes with the clouds! Get up and rise, for the man perishes because of the lack of knowledge. Receive from the river of life, as there will no longer be death, and the queen Romanian country will have the word of life in it, the little bird which chirps the word over the earth, like the bird which gathers her chickens to feed and grow them.

And you, waivode people on the earth, you should be beautiful; you should be the wedding of the new age; you should be the bride and you should celebrate the wedding with your Bridegroom, the Lord, Jesus Christ, the New King of the heavenly love on the earth, as the heavens stay open above you, and the Son of the Father, the True King, comes to you like in stories and becomes with you news and true story on the earth, and I am with the saints of the heaven with you into your wedding with our Lord, the King of the heavenly mountains, the Prince of the heavenly heights, Who comes down on the earth as New Jerusalem.

When I was killed by the rulers of the Jews, I saw the Lord Bridegroom in heaven on the right side of the Father, and I gave myself over to Him as a clean sacrifice, as a pure bride, and since then I have been with Him. The second day I was about to have a wedding with a bride virgin, but I have no longer reached to the wedding day, as the Bridegroom received Me in His chamber; He took me in it to be in heaven for those faithful on the earth and to help them as one of the Lord's elected, for the apostles from Jerusalem chose me to serve the church and since then I have been serving it, and I serve you today, oh, white church of Jesus Christ, the cornerstone, the little white stone, which is still thrown with stones into; it is still thrown into, and it is written on it: «The Word of God», as it is written. (Rev: 19/13, r.n.) A mysterious name is written on it, and no one understands this secret name; no one except the one who receives it; no one but you, bride people.

Lord, may You be blessed by the saints; by Your saints, Your bride in heaven, Lord, Son of the Father, as I have come with Your coming, for You come with Your saints.

Oh, bride Jerusalem, oh, queen Romania! The Lord is coming with the tens of thousands of His saints! Open the Scriptures and see that it is written in them that the Lord comes; He comes with the tens of thousands of saints. The Lord comes; He comes and the saints are with Him! Amen.

– Oh, young child, Stephen, bride disciple, you are the witness and I am the One Who is witnessed by you then and now, and you have the reward of a witness, and the little ones, My bride people, will divide the crowns, as this is what the least one has to work. Amen.

I have always come to you, Jerusalem. Peace to you, son, as I come and stay in the wedding with you, bride Jerusalem, the king's daughter, asked into marriage by the King of the heavenly heights, a wedding of the new age, a love story on the earth, news and love story between Bridegroom and bride, as it is written in the stories with kings and queens, with princes and princesses, with Prince Charming and fairies, and I will make of you news and true story with Me on the earth, with Me, the King of the heavenly heights, the King of the heavenly mountains, Who comes down on the earth.

Oh, no one knows to write Me and to sing Me the psalm of My love with you. No one except Me, My bride people. Amen, amen, amen.

The feast of Saint Hierarch Basil the Great

I come to you, Jerusalem, My citadel of sons. I come, My people as you are My rest and I rest from all My work in you, newborn son, born from heaven, born from above; of Me, son, of My word, which comes down from above with the clouds.

When I was born in the flesh of the Virgin, there was also Jerusalem, but it was built of hard stones; stone upon stone, a city of stone built by the people, and the people of the city of Jerusalem were also of stone and did not know the Righteous One, Who was born among the people, because I had Jerusalem of stone. But now I have a Jerusalem of sons, of living stones, and I, the Lord, am the cornerstone, and My name is written on it: The Word of God, (Rev: 19/13, r.n.) which is being written to get out of Jerusalem, of My citadel of living sons, and where I come in and out as the word of eternal life over the nations.

I have come to you, Jerusalem, and I have always come in you, son, My house of guests where I come in and out like the Bridegroom, who comes out of His chamber, and I want that My mystery to be understood by countless multitudes; the mystery that dwell in you with and which I speak to the multitudes with, Jerusalem, My people taken out of the Romanians, as I became sun with you in Romania, and I give light and warm up every man who is looking for the sun. I made a sun out of you and I made My dwelling in you, and I come out and give light and warm up; I come out like the Bridegroom Who comes out of His chamber, and I want to make sun of you to shine seven times brighter than the sun, so that many nations may walk in My light from you, Jerusalem, the dwelling of My light from heaven on the earth. Oh, but the world does not know who you are. The man of today's world does not know that you are born from above, at My word, which says, and it does it and a new man is being born, born from above. The man of the world looks astonishingly at you, because I show up the wicked deeds of the world from your midst, and I speak in the Spirit of the Truth, Whom the world cannot receive, because it does not see Him and it does not know Him, but you, My people, you know Him, for He remains with you and He will be with you.

Oh, the world does not see Me. But you see Me, sons, because I am in you and I am alive in you, and you are alive as I promised over those that are Mine. I come with you in the middle of the multitudes and I announced Myself as word coming with the clouds, and if someone loves Me, will keep My word, and My Father will love him, and We will come to him and will make a dwelling at him, as We made Jerusalem at you, living son. The ruler of this world has nothing in Me, and he, who will keep My word and will love Me, will be taken out from under the ruler of the world and he will be translated into the kingdom of My Father, which is with you, sons who are My living Jerusalem, build by Me of the living sons.

Oh, what kind of house is the man going to build Me? Was it not I who created the heaven and the earth as My house, My throne and My footstool? I am He, who builds. My hands laid your foundation, Jerusalem of My glory, and also My hands are to finish it, until the glorifying in it of the One Who comes visibly, as I come with the clouds, Jerusalem, and I will let Myself be seen on My coming to you, and every nation will walk into My brightness and yours, My citadel of sons, the citadel of My love, My living temple from Romania. I come with the saints in you and I celebrate a feast of saints, and I comfort you, Jerusalem, My comfort. We comfort each other, son. The spirit of comfort is the spirit, which enshrouds us in one flesh, the Bridegroom from heaven and the bride from earth, as it is written: «The two will be one flesh».

When I was born a Child from the Holy Spirit and of the Virgin, I was circumcised at the age of eight days, to have the sign of Israel on My body and to be able to work over Israel as one who rose from the middle of Israel. Israel was circumcised in its body but it was not circumcised in its heart and ears because it did not receive the coming of the Righteous One. I became Man from the man, and I was circumcised at eight days old to redeem those that were not circumcised in heart and ears, and who has always stood and stay against the Holy Spirit, and behold the circumcision is nothing; it has no other power than to crucify God. I was circumcised, as then when I had to show Myself as true God of the true God, to be known that I came from heaven and I became Man, and My circumcision proved My human nature together with the spiritual nature. But no truth prevails over the unfaithful one, the stiff-necked one, and the deed of law enshrouds him into blindness, and there is no faith on the earth.

May your faith be blessed Romanian Israel, for at your faith I become word and I come with the clouds, and you make Me book on the earth, and you feed the nations with bread from heaven, sharer son.

I come with the saints, Jerusalem; I have always come with the saints, and I celebrate a synod of saints in you with the bishop Basil, a pillar of fire and a wing of cherubim, on which I sat on the earth, as I came to him on the earth with My twelve apostles and I appeared to him and I taught him the praise of My offering without blood, (The Sacrament of Holy Mass, r.n.) as I am the One Who makes everything, even the offering of praise that the faithful one brings to Me. I proved to be great in the work of My bishop and I let My work with him to the church, the praise offering for Me and for My remembrance in those that are faithful, My kingdom with them. My bishop Basil blesses you, Israel; he blesses you through the sons of My garden. Amen.

Portraits of Christians

– Oh, little garden of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, Who becomes word into your midst, God Word! Peace to you, little garden blessed by the Holy One and the One of one being and of life creating and inseparable Trinity! Peace to you and Holy Spirit to you, to have and to give and to baptize countless multitudes in the water of the word of the Holy Spirit, a river of living water, which flows from God, the Word. I let a blessing of a bishop over your sons, little garden of great mystery, the mystery waited by all the saints, by all the angels of the heavenly host. I am a bishop from the bishop, and on your anointment the Lord took me with Him in heaven and brought me in you for your anointment from Him and from His bishops. The Lord came down with His mystery in you, little garden with mystery in it, with the Lord, the mysterious One in you, flesh and word. I give you the Holy Spirit, for I have from the Lord. Amen.

I was a learned scholar on the earth. I learned all the earthly science, but the Holy Spirit wanted to give me birth from heaven and through baptism, and I let myself be comprised into His riverbed and I joined with Christ, the Teacher of those taught by Him, and I went to Jordan and I came into its water, as Christ did for His baptism from John, and a lightning from heaven came down above me, and out of the lightning the Holy Spirit came out in the image of a dove and entered into the water of Jordan and troubled it, and I was baptized and clothed in Christ becoming one flesh with Him into the water baptized by the Holy Spirit.

I give you Holy Spirit, Jerusalem people, as I have from the Lord. I give you from the Lord; I give you by the sons anointed with a bishop anointment from heaven, a great mystery between heaven and earth. But those who are stiff-necked remain strong and do not let themselves be baptized into the river of the living water, which flows as word from God. You should sing, Jerusalem, a praise offering to the One Who is and Who comes, to the One Who comes to you with the saints and Who is the First among the tens of thousands of saints, as it is written into the Scriptures, a song of praise to the Holy and Righteous One, the Bridegroom from heaven, Who comes on the earth to you, His bride, bride Jerusalem. I declare a blessing of a bishop with all the bishops of the heaven upon you, little garden of the mysterious One, and no one can curse you; no one is able to do something against your anointment, as you are blessed and you are. Amen.

– Oh, Jerusalem child, I, the Lord, rejoice with the saints in you. Jerusalem, sing your wedding song of the new age. Sing! O, vine with good wine, sing!

I have in you a wedding chamber, Romania country, the wedding guest of My wedding with My bride, taken out of you, queen country, and bride country! Oh, vine with good wine, sing! The Gift of the Holy Spirit is on the wedding table of the new age into your midst, My bride country. I am the Word, Which gives you birth, Which gave birth to the bride in you; you will be born out of My wedding with My bride, and you will be Mine, My country, My coming, My love! Amen, amen, amen.

The Word of God at the Feast of the Lord's Baptism (Epiphany)

I am who I am. Amen. I am always today. Amen. I am coming by Word on earth. My word is coming with clouds. Here He comes with the clouds and He turns into a river of life in which all who believe in Him may be baptized, into My Word. I am the Word. If someone is thirsty let him come to Me and drink, let him come to drink the water of life, and the rivers of waters will run from his belly, for he will receive Holy Spirit. Amen. He who believes let him come to drink, for I did not come to judge the world but to breathe over it the Holy Spirit instead and to give it new birth and to make it anew. The Scriptures of the new birth of the world come to fulfill, and I come to fulfill. Amen. I did not come to judge the world, but to make it new, but he who did not believe in Me, the Word coming with the clouds, that one was already judged. The one who does not believe is judged by unbelief, for My Word, which comes from Me with the clouds, is the Word of truth which is born of Me.

I am the Word of the Father, the Word of Truth, which the world does not know, but you know it, the sons of Israel taken from Romanians. I come to you as the Word and I go from place to place to proclaim that I come, as Gabriel well preached My coming from the Father, born of the Virgin, My Mother.

O, My country, My coming back to the people, Romania country, I have taken out of your midst a good announcer, a forerunner, but the world in you did not know him, and your rulers who judge the earth, blew into My light, which I was proclaiming Myself with by My forerunner, and he was crushed by the unbelief and its sons, as John was also crushed by the Jews. But I, like a God, made a manger in you for Me, and I am being born as word in it, and I circumcise with it the hearts and ears of those who come to drink of the water of My word, the river of life, which flows from the throne of My glory. I made a day of My welcome in you and I come to meet with those who do not believe until they hear and see. I entered the house of My father, the praying house on the earth, as I entered then, a twelve years old child, and I was speaking to the wise people and to the rulers over the multitudes of that time. I did and I do everything that is written to be done, as it is written: «Behold, I make them all new», and I make them again and again.

I made a baptismal font of you, My country given to Me by Father to come in you, as it is written into the Scriptures that I come for the second time on the earth. I have become the good news in you; I have become a day of birth in you, and I wanted to make the circumcision in heart and ears over you, the day of My welcome, to release you from the pressure of disbelief, My loved country. I have become a word of new preaching in you, and I made a baptismal font of you, so that all who will take the way of life without death may be baptized.

Oh, Romania daughter, I made a king's daughter of you, for you have the name of a daughter and I called you queen, daughter. Seek to be into My Spirit when you hear Me speaking upon you. Seek to be careful and to understand that the Father is in Me when I speak the word from above you on you. You are Mine, and I have become Jordan in you, and the multitudes will come to you to be baptized into the river of life, into the Jordan of life, as the multitudes came at that time to Jordan to be baptized by the baptism, which came from John. I have become a day of feast in you. It is a great day today; it is a royal feast today, and the feast of the day of today comes from the fathers; it comes from the forefathers, and I celebrate the day of Epiphany in you, in a Romanian manner; I celebrate with you in a forefather manner, My country, the country of brightness, as you were proclaimed by the prophets, who announced you to be from the Holy Spirit. You are the country of the brightness, which Daniel the prophet spoke about, My prophet, as My country Israel did not receive Me when I came from the Father; it was afraid that I come to reign over it and it did not receive Me, and its reward was with the unfaithful ones. But I will also redeem Israel through you, My country chosen from the nations of the earth, to be the New Jerusalem, New Israel, for Israel is My chosen people, and the things that are promised, are not taken away from on My chosen one. I gave you birth out of your faith in Me, and your forefathers rejoice that you are alive among many dead people, and you are. And how comes that you may not be, and how comes that you may not rise, you who are, if the Father chose you to be the country of brightness? My Father turned the deserted one into the bright one, as look who is your brightness! I am the day, which gives light on you. I am the sun in you that shines seven times and you shine with Me and you are.

I have come with the living ones to you, My country. I am with an ancestral feast in you, as today is a holy feast of baptism, and I come to proclaim through My word the word of the holy water into the manger of My word, as I am Bishop forever, after the order of My Father, after the order of Melchizedek, the mysterious priest of My Father, who made Me bread and wine and gave Me to Abraham, to become Abraham's bosom, where the living ones should rest, those who are alive forever. The forefathers are alive and are with Me, as I am Abraham's bosom, where the righteous ones rest and are alive, as I am the God of the living, not of the dead.

The forefathers come with Me on the earth to you, My today's people. The living heaven celebrates in you. The heaven comes down to you and celebrates a feast of Epiphany, as it is a day of Epiphany, and I celebrate into the midst of the multitudes and I make Jordan of you, My love, and My country. And many multitudes will be baptized in you and will believe into My word, which comes with the clouds to you to become a river of Jordan, a water of baptism and the Holy Spirit over the multitudes. Behold I and My little children; the white horse and its rider, the Mysterious Shepherd with a secret name. My name is the Word of God, a secret name, and no one can understand My secret name. (Rev: 19/13, r.n.).

I breathe the Holy Spirit on you, My country, and My love. Receive the Holy Spirit, as the Father is in Me when I become word upon you.

Receive the Holy Spirit, sons of Romania! Receive and give and you will have a reward of apostles of the Holy Spirit. Amen.

I made of you your day of birth, a day of resurrection, and I love you, My love, My country. But above the day of resurrection, I love you. I become word upon you, for you to be healed at My word. Get up and walk! Go and proclaim the kingdom of My word in you, as you are My kingdom, which I come to you with, and I call you queen, My country.

I made Tabor of you, the mountain of Tabor, where I glorify Myself with the glory of My word, to make you transfigure and to be My image and My likeness, a new man, born of heaven; to be a new nation, Romanian people. Learn the Gospel son, to know it. Leave off the human science and receive from Me the heavenly knowledge as a gift, and do no longer do as the man from the beginning did, who stole knowledge by violating the commandment, for he stole the science and therefore he has been a thief.

I have come to forgive you, man. To make you loose from sin have I come, for the sin is born of your disobedience of Me. Sin was born from the man made by Me, the one with the spirit of life from Me. The sin calls man father and mother, but I have come as Word from the Father, for it was written in the Scriptures, and to make Myself a spring over the earth to give birth to the man from heaven, from My word to give birth to the one who believes in Me, and the one that does not believe is already judged. Amen.

I have spread a supper of word in you, Romania. Come to dinner, Romanian sons, as the invited ones do not come. Come and take and eat the word. This is My word, the word of the truth, the Spirit of the Truth. He, who does not believe in Me, Who comes as word, the one who does not believe that I am the word, let him believe into this word, as the word has eternal life in it, as I taught My Gospel to those who believed in it.

Wake up your shepherds, My country, to hear My voice and to put it over you. May you receive a golden Gospel from Me and may your shepherds shepherd you! The shepherd has to be a golden vessel, to be useful to his master. A true servant does not entangle himself in the worldly and fleshly affairs, but rather in the heavenly ones, and he is a golden vessel, useful to his master. This is what I tell those that shepherd you, flock of My Father, Romania, My last church, in which I become body and word, spirit and truth, as you need to have Me wholly, Romania, My church where I came back to be body and word with you and for you to proclaim Me to the multitudes, as a true God, your God, Romania's God, as Israel called its God, the true One. Take the spirit of faith, Romanian, as he, who does not believe into My word, which comes with the clouds to you, that one does not believe in God, and that is why he does not believe in this word. Do not ask from Me signs to believe, as I will give you none but this word. The one, who does not believe in the One Who becomes word from heaven over the earth, that one does not believe in God.

Oh, your forefathers pray in Me; they pray to the Father, so that the Holy Spirit may come down over you, so that you may know to understand the word of life, the Gospel of My word, which is proclaimed to every nations of the earth before the appearance of the body of My glory, My country. The forefathers pray for you, so that you may not forget the ancestral holy days, and to establish yourself in them, and to put them back to their place, My Christian country, as this is how the measure of creation was working when I set the signs of the times. I had worked with a measure when I made them all, and I was declaring when I was working the creation in the beginning; I was working and saying: «I have done it», and there was an evening and there was a morning for each work of those that were created. This was the measure: an evening and a morning, and it is not the way the man measures the time to change the times from the place of their creation. (When part of the world churches have moved from old style - Julian calendar - to new style - Gregorian calendar, r.n.)

The man changed the boundary of the creation and the feasts, which come from the forefathers. I am the One Who made the times and the signs of the times, and the man changed the signs of the times from their place, and when he changed them, he forgot that the measure was the day, an evening and a morning, and the measure was called day. I am the One, Who made the moon for the times, and the sun, which knows its setting. I am the One, Who put the darkness, which became night for the beasts to come out and bellow and ask for food from Me. I am the One, Who makes the sun to rise and bring together the beasts into their couches, and the man gets out to his work and to his duty until evening. Oh, how much I have grown into My works, and the man forgot it and got up and changed the times and said that it was him. The man became God and he said that it was him, but My measure is the day, an evening and a morning, and these have not been changed from their place and they know their boundary. Only the man does not know My creation and the signs of the time, as I made the moon and the sun to set the times, so that the man may know the measure and not to move it from its place, and to celebrate My feasts at their place. (According to the Julian calendar – the old confession, r.n.). And then I made another sign of the time, for I rose on the first day of the week, and this day remained to its place, and I will mark down the signs of the moon on it, as I put the moon to set the times, and the son, which knows its setting. (Reference to the way of calculation of the Feast of the Lord's Resurrection – The Passover, r.n.).

Today is a day of feast, a day of Epiphany, a day, which have come down to us from the forefathers, the celebration, which knows its boundary. It is a day of Epiphany in you, Romania church, My last church, My house of guests, My house of My coming back. Father, the King comes with the wedding of His Son in you, as the Father is in Me when I come to you. Come to dinner, come! I have a little garden of sons into your midst, and I am flesh and word in it, as I am in My second coming. I have My body come down and the word into My little garden with sons, and I have always told them: „Take, eat; this is My Body and My Blood. Take and eat; this is My word, the Spirit of the Truth. Eat and grow up, as I am the One, Who grow in you. I am the One, Who is, and there are no other gods. I am with you and in you, to be and to give Me to the people for a day of birth and of baptism; a day of resurrection and of ascension and of everlasting supper with Me in heaven and on earth”. This is what I have told the sons of the garden of My word, who hear My voice, which comes with the clouds above the little garden of My word.

Oh, you, who believe, believe and come to the life without death, as My word has eternal life in it, as it is written into the Scriptures. And you, who are stiff-necked, who naturally stand against the Holy Spirit, Who becomes word of everlasting life over the nations, you, stiff-necked, deny of your own self, and receive God in you, faithful and truthful. Let the one, who believes in Me, deny of himself and take up his cross and follow Me, and let him take My life in him and follow Me. Amen. And the one, who does not believe in Me, the word that came with the clouds, let him get out from under judgment and believe, for I have power to make him believe; the one who does not believe. It is written: «Test Me and you will see that I am», the One, Who becomes word and comes with the clouds, as it is written into the Scriptures: «Behold, He comes with the clouds». Amen.

Peace to you, My country, peace to you, and birth and baptism to you, and a day of resurrection to you, the first on the earth! I am the One Who is. I am the One Who comes to you, My love, My country, as I love you, My love. It is a day of Epiphany. I am with you with a day of holy feast of Epiphany, My love, My country, My Romanian people, My chosen people, the first on the earth, My holy mountain, My country, My love. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Entrance into Jerusalem

The absolution of the curse of St. Nifon, in the city of Târgoviște. The prophet Daniel sees the fulfillment of his prophecy about the seventy weeks of years (490 years: 1507-1997; chapter 9/24). The Patriarch Nifon declares from heaven the absolution of the curse pronounced by him in 1507 over the city of Târgoviște, as a result of the iniquities committed in the city with the will of the lord of the country, the voivode Radu.

I am, and I am called the Word of God, as it is written: «He comes with the clouds and with the tens of thousands of saints, and His name is called the Word of God». (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) Amen.

I am the One Who is. I come from heaven on earth and I become word and Bridegroom, as the Lamb's wedding came, and His bride is ready. Blessed are those who are called to the Lamb's wedding supper.

I am the Great Bishop, Who passed through the heavens and suffered among the people and with the people, being tempted in every way possible like the people, yet without sin. I did not take this honor alone, but My Father gave it to Me, as it is written: «You are My Son; Today I have begotten You. You are Priest forever in the order of Melchizedek».

I am the One Who is, but the people, which I came through from My Father, did not receive Me as My Father's messenger, and as a result, I went to the gentiles of the earth, and My Father gave Romania to Me since My birth, to be the country of My coming back with the clouds, the country of the glory of the last days, for as I ascended to My Father, the same way I will come; I come with the clouds and with the tens of thousands of saints, and I come, coming. Amen.

I come to you, the country of My wedding, as I have you from My Father to be the country for My coming back among the people. Receive Me! I come as word to you, as I have the people of My word into your midst, a warm manger in which the Word of God is being born from above, and Which comes with the clouds, like the bird which makes its nest at the eaves of a house, where it lays down its chickens to breed and to feed them, crossing the air and coming, flying up and down, flying down and up and then coming down again to feed her chickens, to grow and teach them to fly up into the sky. I am the One Who is. I come with the clouds to you, My country of wedding: «I come with the saints on the white horse, and hosts from heaven come after Me riding on white horses, and the word comes out of My mouth, and on My thighs; and on My coat I have a written name: „The king of Kings and the Lord of the Lords”», as it is written into the Scriptures that I come.

When I had to lift up Jerusalem again, which was ruined because of its sins, I heard a calling from the earth, to come and save Israel oppressed by the reward of its iniquities. I heard Daniel, who reminded Me of My promises for Israel, confessing before Me the sins of his people, and humiliating himself for Israel, and I came down to him and declared: «Seventy weeks are decreed on Jerusalem until the lawlessness will overcome its limitations, until the Holy One of the Saints comes to suffer for the man, and He will throw the city down and it will be hard until the end. But I will come in the end and I will make a covenant with many in one week, and many of those, who sleep in the dust of the earth, will rise and the wise people will give light». And Daniel was praying, saying: «Master, when?». But I answered him: «Daniel, all these words are sealed until the end, and in the end many will be cleansed, whitened and cleared, and no one among those without law will understand My words, but only the wise people will understand, for the wise people keep aside from the way of the lawlessness and they stay only with the Holy Spirit, the Counselor of the wise people. And you, Daniel, you will get up and you will receive your inheritance in the time of the end. Amen».

I had the sons of My word intercede for you, for your resurrection, oh, Romania country, My wedding country, the country of the brightness prophesied by the prophet Daniel. I come to you as the word of the Holy Spirit, and I come to make a reconciliation agreement with you. I come from the Father and I have a manger in you, and I am being born as word and I feed you with My hidden mysteries, as you were the one under the cross, but I have loved you since your birth and I have lifted you up and I chose you as My country, and I gave you birth of Me and I gave you My name and I called you Christian, after My name, by the one sent to you (The St. apostle Andrew, r.n.) with a little garment of baptism, with water and with the Holy Spirit, and I called you Romanian, the people of My country. And I have watched over you in joy and sorrow and I have protected you to be and to have you, as Father gave you to Me at the same time with My birth, giving you birth of Me. Your story is beautiful in heaven, and here is what I do: I come as word on your land and I write your mystery to you, and I become book in you and I write with you My story and I announce you as Mine, so that every nation on the earth may hear that you are the fulfillment for My coming.

But you have a knot in you, oh My country, and I have come to removed it from you. I enter on a white horse as in Jerusalem and I become word upon you, and I work by My word and I break your binding that is on you. You have been brought under the law because of your iniquities, for the one who sins, is punished by the law. Seventy weeks of years are over you, since I have put the bond over you, for it is written: «If one of the citadel sins, the whole citadel suffers from this iniquity». And after four hundred and ninety years, as this is what it means about those written into the book of Daniel, about those seventy weeks, I have come to you and I declared upon you to untie the knot put over you for such a long time, and hearing you did not hear, but I have worked and I untied your knot. And now I come and I tell you what I have done for you, My country, My loved one under the cross. I have built a new stone, a new vine, a new branch. I gave you a little white stone, and I wrote on it with My own hand: «The Word of God», and no one understands what is written on it, «no one but the receiver», as it is written into the Scriptures; no one but the people of My word, into whose midst I have become a book for you, My country, to bless you and to lift you up from the dust little by little, as it is written that «I will rise many from the dust of the earth: some to everlasting life and some to everlasting judgment».

I gave birth from My word to a people in you, and I have chosen My bride from you, My country. I made a clean church in you, a church after My will, and not after the man's will, as the lawlessness from the church has been pressing hard on Me, and I needed a church with holy and complete members, with a clean body, which is called My church. I raised a clean people in you for Me, a living church, so that I may have with what to work absolution on you. And now I have come into the midst of the multitudes from you and I announce you into the middle of the people of My word, and I announce you that I have come to lift you up. Get up, I say to you! Amen, amen, amen.

I am the One Who is and I stay into your midst with the sons of My word, sons anointed by Me, the Bishop of the Father Sabaoth, standing on the right side of the throne of the greatness in heavens, as I brought Myself as a sacrifice before My Father, as any bishop brings offering for his sins and for those of his people. And behold, I am with the sons of My word into your midst, My country, and here is what I speak with them:

Sons anointed, the four hundred and ninety years have passed; seventy weeks of years have passed since the bond was put over Romanian and over its church, as here I had a bishop in My image and after My likeness, who anathematized the lawlessness which he saw that it was made, and then he came to Me after he was banished from the seat of the church. It is written: «The one, who does not love God, let him be accursed». Oh, the lawlessness overran its margins, and the bishop Nifon<sup>111</sup> declared a word against it, and this bond has remained. And now I come to declare an awakening over My country to get it out from under this guilt.

Anointed sons, I want to work through you, as I am well pleased in you and I love you, as you also love Me by fulfilling My commandments, as it is written: «He, who keeps My commandments, that one loves Me». Lift up your hand into My name to the Father and say at the same time with Me, the Bishop of the heaven:

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, those that are bound over Romania are broken and loosened, and let them be loosened both in heaven and on earth. Amen.

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, the Romanian country is blessed with the blessings of the heaven, with the blessings of the air, with the blessing of the earth chosen by God, with the blessings of the everlasting heights, with the blessings of the bosoms of the heaven. Amen. I am the One Who is, and I bless by the word coming with the clouds:

The Romanian country is blessed, with the gift of the holy faith, and by faith let her be filled with My everlasting gifts, as I come with the new age, the endless one; I come with the heaven and with the new earth over the old ones, and let the lawlessness be thrown into the fire, and let the man rise to the blessed ones of the heavenly gifts. I am the One, Who reconciles the people to the Father. I am the One, Who reconciles the faithful man to the Father. I am the One Who is. Amen.

When Moses asked Me what he was to tell Israel when he went to take the Israelites out of Egypt by My strong hand, and when he asked Me: «Lord, who should I tell them that You are?», this is what I told him to tell them about Me: «I am He Who is». This is what I also tell you, sons of My word: I am the One Who is, I am the One Who send you, and you are My messengers, you are My gift over the people, who will believe in Me through you. Amen.

<sup>111</sup> Nephon II of Constantinople, also Nifon II, was the Patriarch of Constantinople for two periods, from 1486 to 1488 and then from 1497 to 1498. He was called again, a third time in 1502, but refused the invitation, choosing instead to return to Dionysiou Monastery where he reposed September 3 in 1508. He was also metropolitan bishop of Wallachia approximately between 1502-1507, r.n.

I have come with the clouds and with the saints and I have My bishop with Me, the patriarch Nifon, for everybody. I am in him and he is in Me, and he declares from Me, the word from the word upon you, oh My country:

– Oh, Lord, the God of the living, the God of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob! Oh, Lord, the God of the living of the Romanian people! I am written down in heaven as Romanian, as here I had the last calling, and You called me to become Romanian and to be named holy by the Romanian people and by the whole faithful world.

Oh, Lord, Bishop, Who stands on the right side of the throne of the greatness in heavens! There have passed over Romanian seventy weeks of years until the number of the years was fulfilled, and to the end of these years You had made a people pleased to You in Romania, and You became word upon it.

You came with the feast of the Palm Sunday in the ruling city of Romania, (Târgoviște<sup>112</sup>, r.n.), Lord, and I am also with you among the tens of thousands of saints that You come with. Bless Romania and fulfill with it a new heaven and a new earth and a new word and a new Passover, as you have a people in it. The sons of Your word have prayed to You as the prophet Daniel also prayed for Jerusalem. I also bless the sons of Your word into Your name, so that the Romanian people may know that they are Your messengers for Romania. Help Romania and give her the gift of the holy faith, to be able to do Your will by faith and to fulfill Your last Scriptures, Lord, as You are fulfilled in her with Your coming, as You come coming, and You become word over her and you shine by the word, and she shines under the light of Your word, and those prophesied for her have come upon her.

Oh, country of the Lord, get up and receive the glory of God! I say to you: get up and rise, as I have come with the Lord to you and I touch your head and declare a blessing for you and I remove those that are bound on you to be loosened in heaven as well. The prayer of the sons from the garden of the Lord's was heard, and I come with the Lord and fulfill the blessing over you.

And You, Lord, glorify Yourself into Your loved people, which You have been pleased with. Amen.

– Oh, bishop, what you bound into My name was bound, and what you absolve into My name, I also absolve and put the blessing and holiness over those that are cleansed by the word. Amen.

And you, sons anointed over this time, lift up your hands once again and say once with Me: „Father, I thank you that you have listened to us”. Amen.

Do not be sad that no one blesses you on the earth, sons, as you are My blessed ones and belong to My Father Sabaoth. No one blessed Me on the earth either. All cursed Me and gave Me over to suffer. You should not wait for the blessing from the people, Romanian Israel, for you should be like Me, little son. I also want to have someone on the earth to be like Me, as the people of the empty glory are too many on the earth; too many lords are on the earth, and I, the Lord, am brought down by the man's glory.

Romanian Israel, My little vine, My new vine, My sweet vine, you let yourself be grafted and You knew Me as your Master when I came to see My fruit and to reap it. Yield fruit, Israel, through the gift of the faith. Give blessing from your blessing. I give you the things of Mine from what is Mine, so that Romania may have God. Amen.

It is a day of the entrance feast in Jerusalem. I come in with the heavenly Jerusalem in you, My wedding country, and I celebrate a wedding of new age in you with My bride people, and you are My wedding guest, My country. It is a feast of the Palm Sunday, and My people sing in you with branches of flowers in their hands. My country, embrace My bride and receive Me through My messengers. I am in them and they are in Me. Peace to you! Peace to you! Peace to you! Bless is He, Who comes to you into the name of the Lord.

Peace to you, city of Târgoviște! Peace to you, and may you be glad and become the New Jerusalem before Me! I tell you: get up and rise and become love before Me!

In the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, I write Myself with you into the Book of the Truth, My country, My loved Romania, My wedding country, and you will be and will shine with My glory, as I am the One Who is, and I am well pleased with you. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Resurrection

It is a feast in you, Jerusalem. It is a feast of resurrection, My people. My resurrection from the dead has left a day of everlasting feast for the Christians. Oh, Christian people, I am the Lord of the resurrection and I come to you with the greeting of the day: Christ is risen! Christ is risen! Christ is risen! I am the Resurrected Lord, and I rejoice with you, Jerusalem, on the earth. I am and I tell you too, sons: rejoice! Amen. Rejoice as you know how to rejoice with a heavenly feast over you, with repentance over you and with a holy joy among you.

I, the Lord of the resurrection, have spoken to the prudes and to My disciples after I resurrected. I, the resurrected Lord, also speak with you in a celebration of resurrection, My Christian people, My faithful people. Oh, who I spoke with after My resurrection? To whom I appeared after I was resurrected? I appeared to those who believed in Me, to those who walked with Me until the time of My passions and in the time of My passions. I did not appear to the world. Loved Jerusalem, be careful what I speak with you today: I did not appear resurrected to the world. I appeared to those who had the power to believe and to those who had the courage to testify about Me to the world, so that the testimony of My resurrection from the dead may be established over the ages.

The unbelief is death, and I did not say: «The one who believes in Me will never taste death», and he, who does not believe in Me remains in unbelief. The man is never satisfied with unbelief, but blessed it is the faithful one, for he is in Me, the Living One, and I am in him.

Oh, My Christian people, the man on the earth is no longer satisfied with unbelief, and I am with those who believe in Me and I appear and speak to them, as I did two thousand years ago on the day of My resurrection, and as I have always done over the faithful ones. The man believes into My resurrection, and for it he makes a feast for him, not for Me, the resurrected One. The people gather together to celebrate My resurrection and clink glasses with intoxicating drinks and kill birds and animals during the week of My passions and they cook many kinds of food and pagan relishes and they say that they are Christian traditions and, eating and drinking and enjoying with their bodies, they celebrate themselves, not Me. Only the Christians know how to celebrate Me.

Oh, My people, these customs are not Christian customs, which are celebrated by the people in memory of My resurrection. But what are these customs? They are pagan customs that the pagans have been celebrating against the remembrance of My day of resurrection. The Christians were not celebrating with eating and drinking and enjoyments. They were celebrating with days of holy humility, of holy and true joy, of holy comfort upon them and they were not preparing dishes and all kinds of desires for themselves. They were preparing their soul and body for Me, and they were rejoicing heavenly on the earth. The pagans were not taking into consideration the remembrance of My resurrection day, celebrating My resurrection in lusts, in pagan eating and fleshly customs like today, My people, as the pagans are those who do not live in a Christian way before Me. And those who live as I taught them, they are called Christians after My name from heaven. I did not tell My disciples to sit down to eating and drinking on the day of My resurrection, but I told them this: «All authority has been given to Me in heaven and on earth, and I also give you power to go, and going, to teach every nation, baptizing them into the name of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, teaching them to observe all things that I commanded you to keep; and behold, I am with you in all the days, even to the end of the age. The one who will believe and baptize will be saved, and the one who will not believe will be condemned. Those who will believe, will drive the demons out of the people, and will speak into new languages; they will take snakes into their hands and they will not harm them; they will get the sick people out of their bed, laying their hands on them to make them healthy into My name». This is what I told them after the resurrection of the faithful ones, and they are the Christians; however, those who eat and drink and take delight on the day of My resurrection, they are those who serve to their own body, to the lusts of the body and to the pagan customs.

I told My disciples of then: «Observe all things that I commanded you to keep, and behold, I am with you all the days, and to the end of the age». Oh, My Christian people, My people Israel, I reached with you to the end of the man's age, and you are My today's disciple, My people of disciples, and I speak to you as I spoke to those of then saying: «I am with you to the end». After forty days I ascended to My Father to stand on His right side, but I said I was with Mine until the end of time.

The celebration of My resurrection does not match; it does not match to the world, as the world celebrates itself, not Me. The world celebrates its going into passion and its passionate joy of those of the flesh, as what comes out of the flesh is flesh and serves to the flesh, but what is out of Me, is Spirit and serves to the Holy Spirit, of Whom it is born.

I have looked into every place of worship on the earth, as I am everywhere. I have looked into the week of My passions. Mothers were going with their children to commune, and it is written: «You shall not pray to God with your head uncovered if you are female». But little and older girls go to commune with their heads uncovered, with manlike clothing, without a day of fasting, without the garment of the soul, without Christian garments; they go laughing; they go thinking at lifeless things, as there is no one to teach them what life is, so that the child may be like Me when I was a little child, and then when I was a little older, and then at the age of My passions for the lifeless world. It is only weeping for the world, only weeping. It is only weeping even for the world, which has its custom to go to church, it is only weeping for it, only weeping. The world laughs on the day of My resurrection; it laughs and enjoys and it does not humble for those that I suffered for it. The man should not laugh. The man should come back to My life instead, to know what he has to do.

Man, I become word over the earth. I have come as word from heaven and I call you, man. I am the One Who made the first man, and I made him to have everlasting life, and he has been taking after his lust and he has lost the holy wisdom and received the wisdom which comes from the flesh, and the man has remained only flesh until today, and the fleshly wisdom has made the man come down from the glory that I gave at his creation, and thus the man has reached lower than the other living creatures. But I come to call out the man.

Man, I stay with the heaven full of angels and saints above you, and I look on to the earth. Man, do you not miss the heaven? Do you not miss the life? Do you not miss the resurrection, man? When can I greet those from heaven as you, man, greet the man on the earth and say: „Chris is risen!?” When can I also greet those from heaven and to tell them: The man is risen! The man is risen! The man is risen!, and those from heaven to be able to answer Me: It is true, the man is risen!?

Man, I have always taught the people of My word, and out of My word I have also taught you, for I have given the power to the sons of My word to multiply this bread and to feed you with bread from heaven, man, hungry of the living and everlasting things. Come and receive bread from heaven; come and receive word and look into it and learn what is your everlasting life, man fallen of God. Come and receive resurrection! Amen.

Man, come back home! Come back to the house of your soul; come back to Me, as I breathed spirit of My Spirit, when I created the man in the beginning, and I made him after My likeness and into My image, as everything that the Father created, He created through Me. He created the man through Me, and it was through Me that He gave him birth, as I was born of the Father through the Virgin and I became Man on the earth, a Man from heaven among the people, and I told the people: «He, who is not born of the heaven, cannot inherit the everlasting life of God». And how can a man be born of the heaven, Jerusalem of My word from heaven? How can someone be born of the heaven? Oh, when I created the man into My image, I breathed over him My Spirit of life and I gave him the soul as a gift, to be a living creature, and then the created man fell by disobedience; he fell down by haughtiness, but I, like a Creator, left his soul as a gift, so that this gift may go to the end of the time through the man, and in the end to call the man into account for My gift left into the man born of the man; to call him into account for his soul. And after five thousand years since the creation of the man, I came down from the Father, and during the sixth thousand years I was born a Man from heaven, a Man from the Father, through the Virgin, to repair the mystery of the birth which I would have liked to put it from the beginning over the man created by Me and to whom I told after I created him: «Be fruitful, multiply and fill the earth». I came down from the Father two thousand years ago and I declared upon the people: «He, who is not born of above, of the heaven, cannot inherit the everlasting life».

How can a man be born of above, of the heaven? Oh, My people, what a pain on Me, as the man on the earth said that he fulfills this Scripture. I said: «He, who is not born of water and of Spirit, cannot inherit the kingdom of heavens». Oh, what authority this true Scripture had in My beginning of two thousand years, and what little truth it has today for those who say that they fulfill it! My people, My Christian people, he, who is born of water and Spirit, is alive and makes the deeds of the eternal life, and it is known that he is born of heaven, from above. What is the birth from water and Spirit? Who can be born of water and Spirit? Behold, I speak to you, Jerusalem of My word, so that the man may hear what I speak on the earth, as you are the one who makes Me come down from the Father to be among the people, faithful son. Who can be born of water and Spirit? What comes before this birth? My preaching, the preaching about Me, the crucified One and the One raised for the salvation of the man, and then the faith and the deeds of the faith; these come first, and then the water of baptism comes after them over the faithful man, the baptism into My name, and then the Holy Spirit, Who seals My work in the man who is born from above. He, who is born of water and Spirit, that one has My work in him, and he is My disciple, and he has the work of a disciple, who gives birth to disciples out of Me to the faith of those who come near to believe and to fulfill the life of the faith in the man, who is deified among the people. Who can be born of water and Spirit? The one who seeks God with a holy faith, with a holy hope and with a holy love; that one is the one, who receives the birth from above, of water and Spirit, through My disciples, in whom I am to the end of the age as I said.

Oh, what a pain on Me, for the man on the earth, who sits over the people into My name, says that he fulfills this Scripture and that he gives the man a heavenly birth, a birth from above, from water and Spirit. When I look at the world, baptized by the man into My name with water and Holy Spirit, when I see it, the creeps on the cross and the mourning seize Me; the creeps of My crucifixion seize Me. And as those who called themselves brothers, cast Me away and killed Me from among the people to fulfill, they were saying, God's law, the same way and afterwards, those who say that they are God's servants upon the people, do not put Me into the people, for it is a great wonder before Me to see the man that is born from above, from water and Spirit.

I look upon the people to see those that are born of the water and Spirit at the word proclaimed by the priests from the world. Oh, the church from the world does not resemble the church of Jesus Christ. My church is something else than what the man of this age understands. You are My church, My Christian people, you are, son, you are. You live as a Christian; you fulfill those that I commanded upon the church. You are a faithful child, My people, and you bowed down to My announcement worked by the word coming from above on the clouds, and you were baptized by the baptismal of the faith and you were full of the Holy Spirit, Whom I have always been sending you, making Him coming down upon you. You take after Me, Jerusalem, for I have raised you up and made after My own image and likeness, so that I may have relatives on the earth and to have where to go when I come to the people to call them out; to have a house of guests, for I come as a guest from heaven on earth, to bring resurrection through the word upon the people, and to give birth to people from above.

I come to you, My people of sons; My people of disciples. I come to you to kiss your sons. My mouth kisses your heart and forehead, son, Jerusalem. My word is My mouth, for I am alive; I am body and soul, and I am alive in My coming to you, for I am the God of the living ones; I am the God of those that belong to the living One forevermore.

Man, I am the One Who I am, and I am alive. I was crucified by God's servants and I rose from crucifixion and I am alive. And if I am alive, My Father gave Me all the power in heaven and on earth, and I can give you birth from above, from heaven, you man without the life from above. I come towards you and tell you to be born again from above, man.

Oh, servant people, who set yourselves into My name over the people! Where are those that you baptized into My name with water and sealed with the seal of the Holy Spirit? I come and I call you into account for your fruit. Where are your disciples? Can you give them to Me as I give My work to the Father? Behold, I come and I call you into account for the people's souls, and each shepherd of souls will be called into account before Me.

Oh, who shall I help Myself with in My work for the salvation of the fallen man? I come to shepherd My flock; I come to shepherd the people, for the people's shepherds do not take after Me. The one who shepherds the flock has to be alive and awake over the flock. The one who shepherds My sheep has to be born from above and to know his birth from above. The one who does not believe in Me and in My word, which comes with the clouds, that one is not a shepherd, even if he sits on the seat of a shepherd, having the staff of a shepherd into his hand.

Oh, My pain for the man is too big, but to whom shall I tell it?

Oh, people, you should not ask yourselves why I have always cried to your shepherds. I cry because of My mercy on you. I cry because My Father sent Me to call out the people to rise and to tell the Father: The man has been risen, Father!, and Father to tell Me: It is true, Son, that the man has been risen! Amen.

The celebration of My resurrection is something else than what you do in My day of resurrection, you, fleshly man. I could not make any resurrection over Sodom and Gomorrah, for the people were intoxicated by the lusts of their body; they were intoxicated by the smoke of their sins, and I left traces of evidence that I cried. I left My trace in that city then and now, and My trace has been testifying about the belief or unbelief of the man.

I come from heaven and I cry out, Man. I speak from the air, as you have taken over the earth, and I have no longer any way to come down to you. I stay in the air and call out to the man, and those, who have the Holy Spirit, see Him, and on seeing the Holy Spirit, they stand before Me and meet Me, when I become the word from heaven over the people to give resurrection to the people.

Jerusalem, be illuminated by the light of My word, which rises over you from Me! Rejoice with Me, as I long for the joy, Christian son, My son. I cannot have joy with the worldly man, for I do not like the man's joy. Rejoice, Jerusalem, and walk! Go and teach all the nations over the earth the holy joy of My resurrection! Go, Jerusalem, and teach the people to really say it: Christ is risen! Go, son Jerusalem, and out of your going with you into the middle of the multitude, let the multitudes receive teaching of My resurrection in the man, in the heart and in the mouth of the man. I was not helped by those who called themselves My servants and saints, but on the contrary, they crucified Me, so that I may not teach the people. The thieves, the fornicators, the tax collectors and the poor people helped Me, and I made them My disciples by their faith in Me, for they knew how to love God. The Pharisees and the Scribes did not know how to love Me, as only the one who humbles himself is lifted up to the love of God. The same is in your time with Me, My people of disciples; no one loves Me according to the truth, no one but you, and I have made you a bride and I put you for My welcome, and those who pierced Me and still pierce Me and you today, will see My glory over the faithful, who crucified and gave themselves as a sacrifice to Me and as a path for Me to the people.

Go, Jerusalem, and preach Christ, the One Who was resurrected two thousand years ago! Go with days of resurrection into the middle of the multitudes! Go, for I make you a way to go! The sun, the moon, the cool of the day, the gentle wind, the flower, the waters and the air and all the heaven serve you, to the one sent by God into the middle of the people.

Receive the Holy Spirit! Sons from Jerusalem receive the Holy Spirit and put Him over the multitudes, so that they may rise as you did!

Go, Jerusalem, and give the people the true One, Who was resurrected!

Christ is risen, My loved people! It is My day with you. Rejoice, loved Jerusalem! Amen, amen, amen.

The second Sunday after the Resurrection, of the Saint apostle Thomas

Peace to you, My people! Peace to you, Jerusalem! Peace to you, sons who are sent! As the Father sent Me, the same way I send you. Receive the Holy Spirit and preach Me, as I come as a word from heaven on the earth and I announce Myself to all the margins with you, who welcome Me on the earth.

I am the Christ of the Father, and I come as it is written into the Scriptures for this time. Two thousand years have passed since I said that I would come soon, and behold, I come to fulfill this Scripture through which I said: «I come soon!».

Oh, no one is waiting for Me to come, no one. Oh, no one wants Me to come, as the unbelief has comprised everything, beginning with the great ones, which sit on the seat of the holiness to the lowest one; for the people spoiled My law, and it is the time for Me to work, as no one works on the earth the fulfillment of My Scriptures.

Jerusalem, child, who listens to My word, no one wants to be even like Thomas; no one wants to look at Me, into My word, which comes to you and to see Me in it and to feel Me, the word coming from heaven, and to say as Thomas said: «My Lord an My God!». Oh, no one bows any longer to believe in Me too. The man believes in the man; the man makes an idol of the man; the man makes an idol of the man into My name, and says that he is with God. The man honors the man into My name, but not even the man of the church honors Me; not even the common man. No one honors Me any longer, the One, Who comes on the earth, as it is written. The people, who sit on the seat of the holiness, have put Me into silence, so that they may speak. They speak about Me, the One of two thousand years ago, but I am also today, as it is written: «Today, if you hear Me, do not harden your hearing and your heart.».

Oh, there is no more faith on the earth, and I cannot fulfill My Scriptures without the faith of the man. Be faithful, My people, as I have taken you from among the people and I breathed upon you a gift of the holy faith and I put you before Me, so that I may come by your faith to fulfill those that are written into the book for My second coming among the people, as this is what I said: «I come soon!». Amen.

He, who does not want to come, that one does not believe into My coming, into My word of nowadays. And he, who wants to come, that one waits for Me and meets Me and stays awake, clean, and faithful before Me. Blessed is the one who knew Me and believed in Me, but more blessed are those who did not know Me and believed in Me, when I came as word from heaven on the earth, as I came and spoke with Abraham, with Moses and with My prophets.

Oh, man, who does not believe in My coming! Why do you not believe? What are you afraid of in order to believe? But is it not written into the Scriptures that I will come? Why do you not want Me to come? Do you not really know that I said this: «The heaven and the earth will pass, but My words will not pass away, and iota by iota they will come true»? Oh, if I had looked at the faith of the man of today, I would have not fulfilled the Scripture, but the Scripture is My word, and My word is truth, and the truth is shown against the faith of the man of this age.

I look at the people who are over the church. There is no way of believing for them that I come; no way for them to prepare. They take Me for a dumb, blind, lame and deaf, and they pose as My servants, as then, when they did not want to hear and to see Me. Oh, if I am God, what kind of God am I? Why did I come on the earth and I took the body like the man? Oh, I have come in the flesh among the people to be with the people, but the people do not want to be this way, and they want Me to hide and to be invisible, and the people want to be sightless. Behold, that it is also I that I said into the Scripture: «The Spirit which testifies the Christ, Who came in the flesh, that spirit is the Spirit of God».

Oh, My people, it is only you that I could get along with on My second coming, only with you, Jerusalem, and that is why I called you, Jerusalem. I have entered in you as word, as I entered in the flesh into Jerusalem. I entered with you into the world, son, and I called you white horse, which the Word of God sits on, but the people do not understand the Scripture. Not even the man of the church, not even he understands it. He understands it only to eat meat, „as the apostle Peter ate”, as he says.

Man of the church, I will send you a book by the sons of My word and I will interpret the languages of the Holy Spirit, which are written into the Scriptures, for you look only for meat into the Scriptures; you do not look for the Holy Spirit. Why do you not look for the Holy Spirit? Why do you not look for the holiness into the Scriptures? Do as Thomas did; receive and touch and feel My word, for I have power of a living God and I will become word from heaven over the earth.

I come out with those that are faithful before you, world without faith. I am with those who believe in God and into God's works over the earth. Oh, people without a way, I am the way. Seek Me with a humble heart. Come to My supper. Come to My word, as My word is bread from heaven. It is written that the man cannot live on bread alone, but on any word which comes from God.

The people of the church say that I am a demon, and behold, I tell them: The One that you called demon, is the Lord, Jesus Christ, Who you persecute as Saul persecuted Him, calling Him demon. Why do you persecute Me? I am the Christ, the Word of the Father. Ask Me who I am, and I will answer you. I will make the signs come down on you, for the weak ones will have part of My signs and will be touched by My signs, as Thomas touched the signs of the people that were put on My crucified body. I will no longer sit at the table with you, for it is written: «I will not have supper with the unfaithful». He, who does not let My word to be fulfilled and who does not want the Scripture to be fulfilled, that one is hiding under unbelief. But I am gentle and humble in My heart, and I will not be the One Who asks for His justice; it is not I, but the word of the Father, which is in Me, that one will ask for an answer for your unbelief. Amen.

Oh, I love the Romanian country and I cannot leave her because of the unbelief of the man of the church, who puts Me into the darkness, so that I may not be preached as a word of resurrection over the people. I am the Word of God over Romania, as it is My country; it is My New Jerusalem, the one chosen by Me. Amen.

Oh, My country, the people from you, who call themselves My church, do not receive Me as the Jerusalem of two thousand years ago did not receive Me as well. I chose you to be the Jerusalem of My coming back, and so that the man may understand what Jerusalem means. I have also in heaven Jerusalem. All the saints from heaven are called the heavenly Jerusalem, the one taken out of every nation on the earth, as all over the earth there have lived holy people with their life, and I made them Jerusalem in heaven, in those that are not seen. Oh, My country, I breathe upon you the gift of the holy faith and of the resurrected life. I want to give you life without death, Romanian people. I want to become in you a wedding of new age and to fulfill in you the parable of the wedding of the king's son, the Father with His Son with a wedding<sup>113</sup> in you, My country Behold, I let before you an open door that no one can close. My word is the door, and the sons of My word keep the door when I come, and I come in to become word for you, My country, as you have a great name in heaven, and the name of the Romanian, shines among the saints of My heaven. I will make all the nations on the earth to worship you, so that all the earth may know that I love you and that I have chosen you, Romania country, My wedding country. Amen, amen, amen.

The fourth Sunday after Passover, of the paralytic

I come to water My little garden with the heavenly water. I come with a rain of the Holy Spirit over My sown field, which yields fruit. I come like the gardener, who comes out to search his field and to work upon it, so that it may give forth to good and heavenly fruit, as I am the gardener from heaven. Amen.

Peace to you, My people! Peace to you, My field, and peace through you over My country of wedding, as this is how I have Romania. It is My wedding country, as I go to the wedding in it. I go to wedding with you again and again, My bride people. We work over Romania, for it is chosen again, as I did not come to any fruition with My first vine. If I did not come from heaven to Israel, to My Father's vine, Israel would not have got any fruit; it was no longer My Father's vine, of which to come out ripe grapes, as that vine yielded only sour grapes, as it was written that «she was broken and brought to the ground, and she was planted into the wilderness, into a dry land without water, and a fire came out of her and it consumed her fruit and there were no longer left strong and choice branches for royal scepters in her. She was a lioness and couched among lions and she nursed her cubs, but her cubs devoured people, and she was taken away into slavery by her foreigners» And My Father sent Me from heaven, to become fruit from heaven in Israel, and so that the vine of My Father may not be left without fruit and without wine. Israel was My Father's planting, but that people did not want to yield fruit for My Father, Who planted it. And I came to you, sent by My Father, My people, and I made My wedding country of your country, as this is what My Father wanted, and My Father made a lioness of My wedding country, and she gave birth to lions and lioness. She gave birth to a people of sons of God, and she gave birth to them of My word, for I came as word from heaven over My wedding country, as Father gave it to be Mine; however, on her birth on the earth I also was born of My Father on the earth, and I was a new vine from heaven planted on the earth, and My branches spread all over the earth and they reached into Romania, which was just recently born. She was given to Me by My Father even from her infancy, and she was the mystery of My Father, the new vine of My Father, and a people of kings and waivodes were born of her, and My Father has protected her, so that she might give you birth of her, My bride people; you of Me, the Word of God, of Me, the Lion of Judah, the root of David, as it was written about Me, the Reconciler, Who had to come.

It has been written since the time of Abraham, Isaac and Jacob; then it was written that «I will come and I will bind My foul to the vine, and the donkey's colt to the choice vine; and I will wash My garment in wine, and My robes in the blood of grapes, and My eyes will be red with wine, and My teeth will be white with milk». And, when this was prophesied in Israel, My Spirit spoke then about the beginning and the end. I spoke for the Israel, the one from the beginning, that I would come to him and I would bind My foul to the vine and I would wash My garment in wine, and My eyes will be red with wine; and I also spoke for the Israel among the gentiles, the one from the end, that I will bind the donkey's colt to the choice vine and I would wash My garment in the blood of grapes, and My teeth would be white with milk.

No one knows how to interpret My Scriptures. No one knows to interpret the languages of the Holy Spirit and how to build God in man through them, as then I spoke about the time of My wrath and about the time of My mercy, as I was angry with Israel because of his unbelief and his iniquities, and for his carelessness towards God, as instead of serving God, he was serving idols. The one chosen by God to be the choice vine was serving the devils made by him, and I had mercy on the Israel among the nations of the earth; I had great mercy on him and I called him with a new name; I called Romanian, the one chosen by My Father for Me to be a people of new vine for Me, a vine from heaven, and to bind the donkey's colt to its choice vine and to wash My garment in the blood of grapes. I am the vine, and he is the branches, as I told to those from Israel, the remnant who has sided with Me: «I am the vine; you are the branches».

I chose those of today and I have gone with them to the gentiles, for Israel did not want to be with God, and he was uprooted and planted in a desolate and thirsty land, and he was mingled with the nations of the earth. But I want to make him wise and to bring him back to the first love, when his fathers, Abraham, Isaac and Jacob loved Me and proclaimed Me that I had to come as the Reconciler in the end of the time. Amen.

I came two thousand years ago, and I bound My foul to the vine and I washed My garment in wine and My eyes were red with wine. But the vine of My Father did not recognize Me as her Master that came from the Father, and cut Me down put Me together with the lawless ones, and I washed My garment in wine, as Israel, My vine, did not receive Me, and My eyes were red with wine, as I was angry with Israel like a drunken man; I was angry with My vine and she was thrown to the ground, and the passers-by passed over it and trampled it. And I came again, for two thousand years had passed since those from Judea fled into the mountains, as I declared by the word. Two thousand years had passed, and even at that time I spoke about this time that, «The sun will be darkened, the moon will not give its light, the stars will fall from the sky and the powers of the heaven will be shaken; and then the Son of the Man will appear in the sky. Then all the tribes of the earth will mourn while seeing My glory. And I will send My elected ones for harvesting with a great sound of a trumpet, so that I may gather together My chosen ones from all the gentiles». And behold, as in the days of Noah, the people are drinking, eating and going to weddings and one will be taken and the other will be left, as it is written, because it is very little watch for My coming on the earth, and no one is expecting Me to come and to bind the donkey's colt to the choice vine and to wash My garment into the blood of grapes.

It is written for this time that I would come and I will be called the Word of God. (Rev: 19/13, r.n.). It is written into the Scriptures, but who is to tell the people about My second coming? There are no more teachers on the earth to tell the people about My second coming. Oh, there is no one to tell them that I come, and even two thousand years ago I said: «I come soon!», and I have told to the bride of My Spirit to say: «Come, Lord, come!».

The priests of the church do no longer speak about the book of John, who I appeared to, so that I might announce the times of My coming. I showed John My coming in the word, and he wrote this: «I saw the heaven opened, and the Faithful and True One coming on a white horse to make war for Him, for truth, for He is the truth; and His eyes are a flame of fire; and on His head are many crowns; and He has a name written, which no one knows but He Himself; and on Him a garment sprinkled with blood; and armies from heaven, following Him on white horses; and out of His mouth proceeds a sharp sword with which He strikes, and He rules with a rod of iron and He treads the winepress of the fierceness of the wrath of God, and His name is called the Word of God, a name written on His garment and on His thighs: „King of Kings and Lord of Lords”». This is what I proclaimed through John, My servant, so that the teachers may receive knowledge from heaven and to teach the people about My coming and My word by which I said: «I come soon!». And I chose you, My bride people, and I gave you from My Spirit and I told you: «I come soon!». And you, bride of My Spirit, should always say: „Come Lord!”. You should say it, My love; you should say to come, as no one says it any more in My Spirit: „Come, Lord!”. You are My choice new vine, and I am the vine, and I bound the donkey's colt to the choice of My vine and I engaged you to Me, the Word of God, and I told you to give Me to the people for everlasting life and I come out with you to go picking, My bride people. I go with you from place to place, from time to time among the people, as it is written into the Scripture, which says: «These are those who follow the Lamb wherever He goes; these were redeemed from among the people, the first fruits to God and to the Lamb». And I walk into the middle of the heaven and call out: be afraid of God and worship the One Who made the heaven and the earth, as I come soon to judge the nations with justice, and the Spirit and the bride say: „Come!”

Oh, I come to water My garden of living flowers. I come with heavenly water. I come with rain of the Holy Spirit upon you, My bride people. I come to interpret the Scriptures for those who do not know what I said through the Scriptures. I spoke in you with the man of the church and I told him: Man of the church, I will send you a book by the sons of My word, and I will interpret the languages of the Holy Spirit, which are written into the Scriptures, that you are looking into the Scriptures only for meat, only for flesh, and you are not looking for the Holy Spirit. (See, The Word of God on 04-05-1997, r.n.). I come to ask you: Why are you not looking for the Holy Spirit? Why are you not looking for the holiness into the Scriptures? Why are you not doing as Thomas did, to come out and to touch My word, which has My power in it? Oh, that what was, it is again, and I come to interpret the Scriptures, as first I let it be known and then I fulfill.

I stay into the midst of My faithful people, and I become word from heaven and I interpret My Scriptures, so that no one may be able to say that he did not know what I have spoken, then and now. I am ready to let Myself be discovered in all My glory, but those, who took the keys of the kingdom of heavens, put the Scriptures of My second coming under a bushel; they do as the workers in the vineyard did, who did not receive the master of the vineyard; however, the Master of the vineyard comes, for the time of the picking has come, and all the good fruit will be gathered, and the lack of fruition will be set aside with its sons. My Word is its fruit gatherer, and he, who is from God, will listen to My word and will believe, and he will be gathered. Amen.

Oh, man of the church, behold, My word is the truth. I have said that I will send you a book by the sons of My word, and I will interpret the Scriptures, the languages of the Holy Spirit, which wrote the Scriptures through the holy people. I come to ask you why you are not looking for the Holy Spirit into the Scriptures. The one who does not want to be holy in his spirit and body, that one tramples My commandments under his feet; that one interprets the Scriptures according to his consideration, and one like that finds into the Scriptures a reason to eat meat; however, I said this: «Blessed is the one for whom I and My word are not a stumbling block». I said in the time of My body: «There is nothing from outside the man that going into him can defile him. But the things that proceed out of the man are those that defile the man». Behold, you, people of the church misinterpret; these and others things like this. This is how the man finds a stumbling block in you, and that is why the Scripture says that you are blind guides. What are you going to teach the people about Me, when even you do not believe in Me? Come to the gate of My word as no one is more unfaithful than you are. You talk the ugliest things; you pose as the strongest, the strongest, but you do not seek after the Holy Spirit. You say that I am a demon, that I am the angel of the darkness. Oh, if I were the angel of the darkness, I would teach you what darkness is by this word, but I teach you the light of My Father. But here, you are those, who teach the people what darkness is, and you tell them that what enters the mouth does not defile the man and that every food is clean. Behold, I write a book for you and I tell you that the food is not meat. The food is food and the meat is meat. The food is that what I told the man to eat from the beginning, (Gen: 1/29<sup>114</sup>, r.n.) and what man eats, he takes it himself; I do no longer give him, for I gave him and the man did not like and ate meat, and when I saw this, what more could I do to the man? I could not do anything, as I can do nothing with you either, you who say that are God's servants. I cannot do it with you, and I cannot be holy in you either. You flee from the word which comes from Me, from the Father, and which gives light to the people. My word is the truth. Why do you not take it <sup>114</sup> «And God said, Behold, I have given you every herb bearing seed, which is upon the face of all the earth, and every tree, in the which is the fruit of a tree yielding seed; to you it shall be for (your) meat.» Or «These will be your food.» Gen: 1/29, r.n.

to put it over the people and to give them life from My life? But you give them life from your life, and you are sinners. Oh, why do you not want the salvation of the people as I wanted it? I did not do what you do. You hide from people, and when you come out to them, you pose as My servants and as masters over the people. I was also withdrawing from the people and from My disciples and I was hiding to pray to My Father for My people, and then I was coming again into the middle of the people with the word of the everlasting life. But when you stay hidden from the people, you go and enjoy yourselves and eat and drink, and do not do what I did; I was crying to My Father for the man.

Why do you not receive My word? Is it really because the sons of My word are small and without any rank? But do you not know the Scripture, which says that «God is in the counsel of the righteous?». Is it there that you are afraid of fear? There, where there is no fear? There, where I am in the counsel of the righteous? It is written into the Scriptures: «The Lord looks down from heaven on the children of men, to see if there are any who understands, who seeks after God, but every one of them has gone back and they have become filthy together. There is no one who does good, no, not one. But all the workers of iniquity will know, all who eat up My people as they eat bread, that I am the hope of the poor, but you have put to shame the counsel of the poor, and you were in great fear, where no fear was». Oh, you are not afraid of the evil and sinful man, but rather you are afraid of the man who lives in My wills; of that one you are afraid. Oh, you are fearful and you set yourselves as a shield on some priests of whom you say that they are good and heavenly on the earth, and then, you say that you are with Me, but you also forced them to strike into the word of the truth, which comes with Me in this time; the word comes to judge the iniquity on the earth, as this is what I said: «It is not I, but the word that will judge you».

I write you a book and I tell you not to misinterpret My Scriptures. They are Mine and of those who love them doing My will, which is written into the Scriptures. I said that: «Nothing from outside the man that going into him can defile him». And what is this Scripture about? Behold I come as an interpreter in the house of My Father and I read once again and again, from the Scriptures and I interpret it: those from outside the man, which enter him, are not the man, and they are from his outside, not from his inside. These come from outside and go back outside on the way of the belly. The way of the belly is for those outside the man that come out of the man through the belly, the food being clean, but what comes out of the man, it comes from his heart and that defiles the man. A defiled heart by sin gives out of it those that are wicked; it gives out of it all the evil thoughts: fornication, killing, theft, greed, craft, lying, envy, arrogance and frivolity, and all these defile the man; they defile the man's spirit and body, as all come out of the man and do not come from his outside, as the food comes on the way of the belly and come out of him on the same way. And why did I say so on that day when I spoke about this? I spoke for those who posed as saints into the house of My Father, for those who thought of themselves that they were clean by washing their hands, but they were thinking in themselves to kill Me and to put the word of God into the darkness, which revealed their iniquity. I said so, for the Pharisee that was washing his outside part and was leaving his inside one full of greed. He was not washing his heart, but only his hands, for fear that something unclean may come into him. For such a man, an unwashed hand is an unclean hand, after the custom of the old people; that is, human commandments that have put aside the godly ones, abolishing them with human observances given by the people.

The priests and bishops come to the gate of My word; they come to show their wisdom from the Scriptures and say that I told Peter that nothing is unclean of what God blessed. But I said to Peter that all which God cleanses, he may not call filthy. Peter was a Jew and had not eaten something unclean and impure, and did not understand why My voice urged him three times to eat from those that were not supposed to be eaten. And while he did not understand what his vision from the Lord could mean, the men sent by the Cornelius, the centurion, came to seek him, and the Spirit of the Lord said: «Behold, three men are seeking you, and you getting up, go with them and do not doubt, for I sent them». And Peter went to Cornelius and told those from his house: «You know that it is not right for a Jew to unite with the one from another nation. But the Lord showed me not to call any man unclean or filthy, and I truly perceive that the Lord does not show favoritism, but in every nation he who fears Him and works righteousness is acceptable to Him»

Behold what are you doing, man of the church! You make so bold as to mix the food with the creatures. My apostles were taken by surprised by the Jews that they eat with unclean and unwashed hands; they did not have meat at their table; rather they had Christian not pagan food. That is why I spoke these two words: “Christian” and “pagan,” but you mix them, not taking into account as Peter did when said: «God showed me the way to perceive that He does not show favoritism, but in every nation, the one who fears Him and works righteousness, is received by Him». Behold, the Lord does not receive the one who does not fear him, because one like that does not even follow the Lord, but rather only that comes who is afraid and works righteousness, and the one to whom the Lord gets into His way to give Him according to His deeds. This is how you should understand the Scripture, and not as you want, you people of the church. I write you a letter, for I see that you do not have wisdom even if you sit on the table with the Scripture and accuse with it the sons of righteousness and say that they forbid marriages commanding to abstain from foods, which the Lord created to be received with thanksgiving. I come with this Scriptures into your way as well and interpret it for you I, and not the sons of My word which you persecute among you; you persecute them with your wicked deeds that you make, for you made out of the dwellings sanctified by your parents, your dwellings, in which you commit transgression, greed and blasphemy, and My righteous people fled from you, for it is written: «Flee, My people, flee from the one who works the lawlessness before Me». They fled from you My children, but why do you not say that they went astray. You are those who wondered away from the paths of righteousness, from the Orthodoxy and from the faith, and I say from heaven, from beside My Father, and I came as a word on earth to judge the lawlessness on the earth. I came and I put aside a people for Me and I work the Orthodoxy thorough the people who do no longer have shepherds; I work so that they may not lose their right faith, and not lose the Orthodoxy among the people. You say that the sons of My word are astray and that they do not listen to Me and do not submit to you. But do you listen to God? Do you submit to the wills of God? What did I use when I came and told your rulers on the earth, who were ruling into the name of God upon the people? What use it was for them if I submitted to them? And if I did not submit to them and their wills, they made Me heretic; they called Me wonderer and strayed and cursed Me to death on the cross like those cursed by them. When My apostles were asked by their rulers not to talk into My name, they answered that it was better to listen to God, rather than to the people.

Oh, men of the church, you will not be able to overcome My word and the sons of My word. They are My messengers towards you and towards the people, and those who believe in Me at My teaching among them, will be saved from evil deeds and from wondering, from lying and lawlessness, and will take My word and put it upon them, for I am the Great Angel, Who have the cutlass into My hand and clean and take care of My vineyard; also I clean the trees and grow them, for it is written: «I am the Shepherd of the sheep». Behold, you are not the shepherds of My sheep. I am their Shepherd, and it is written in the Scriptures and in the prophets: «I will take the sheep from the hands of the shepherds who pasture them, and I will pasture them and prevent they who pasture them from pasturing them anymore. I, Myself, will take care of My sheep and search them, for the shepherds of the sheep are unfaithful and have not taken care of the flock.»

Oh, man of the church, you say that the sons of My word are liars, they who it was written about in the Scriptures that will be and forbid marriages and using the foods which God made to be taken with thankfulness. Why do you say such a thing? Why do you not look well to see who are they who take after this Scripture? Who is the one who forbids marriages? What does this marriage mean? Are you really the one who fulfills the law of marriage that you make the man to get married and then to make him a ministering priest for the holy ones of Mine and to make him a shepherd upon the people? What does marriage mean? Is the marriage really for the man to submit to the lust of the body as is today the marriage, which came to be the law of the immorality and fornication on the earth? Is it really by the law of marriage that you can deceive God, who said: «Be holy as I am holy!»? Are really all the saints, who left their families and women and gave themselves to the law of holiness, that forbade marriages and child bearing? And, if they did not forbid them, why do you say that the sons of My word forbid marriages? Behold, I tell you what this Scripture means? It was delivered for the people of Israel, which was not allowed according to the law of the Jews, to unite with other nations on the earth. But I come from the Father and told that I show no favoritism and no man who serves to the righteousness is unclean and filthy, but rather is received by God and is a Christian who fears the Lord and do justice before God. If I sanctified the two spouses from Cana of Galilee, did I really forbid marriages and child bearing? Rather, the two spouses from Cana gave birth to many sons for God.

But what does the marriage mean for the man? But does the marriage mean for God? Marriage is one thing for man, and marriage for God is another thing. For man marriage is people's child bearing, and for God it is God's child bearing. The use of food for man is one thing and for God is another thing, for it is written: «He who eats, eats for the Lord, he who does not eat, to the Lord he does not eat, but let all this be done for God, not for the man», and when I said so, I was speaking about the Christians, not about the pagans, who do not do God's will. The Scriptures are proclaimed to the believers, not to the unbelievers when it comes to such a Scripture of marriage and eating. But I tell you even more: he who forbids marriage today is the one who tramples on its law. And who does not trample upon this law? No man is clean in his marriage anymore. Not even the priests wanted not to trample on the law of their marriage. But even more, by their marriage they trample on God's law, the law of holiness of a servant of the heaven. And behold that your church, you, man of the church, is not My church, but yours; it is not My flock, but yours, for if it were Mine, it would do My will, not yours. I did not separate the married ones, but I united them both with Me; I made them both a body with Me, and I told them not to be separated from My Body and Blood, for it is written: «Who does not eat and drink My Body and Blood, has no life in him».

Oh, how much do you give to say, you man of the church that got up to stand against the slaughter, which is My word and which became the word before you! You say that the sons born of My word, which is coming today with me on earth, are false prophets<sup>115</sup>. But what is the false prophet? I tell you again and again what I have told you, men of the church. The false prophet is the one who speaks into the name of God and does not do the deeds of the Lord's justice, but rather helps the hands of evil doers, so that no one may come back from their disbelief. Ask the Scriptures and see from them what the false prophet, who relates his heart's imaginations and nothing of the Lord's, and thus lying to My people. And here is what I still tell you: the false prophet is the one who does not want Me to come as written into the Scriptures that I would come; it is that one who lies and hides the truth of the Scriptures about the Son of the man Who is coming again, for this is what I said: «I come soon, be ready, I come soon! Watch out for My coming!».

Oh, people of the church, you, who do not believe or pretend that you do not believe that I am this word; you do not believe that I am not ready to come. You do not believe because you do not like to fulfill My word which says: «Watch!». You do not prepare for My coming, and that is why it is better for you to say that you do not believe that I come as a word on earth, as the lightning which travels from east to west, (Published on the internet - like lightning, and can be seen from east to west, r.n.) not as the false prophets say: „Behold, He is in the wilderness; behold, He is into the rooms!” Not this way, but rather I cross the air like the lightning and proclaim the eternal Gospel to all the creature as it is written and cry: «Fear God and worship the One Who made the heaven and the earth!», for I come soon.

You, people of the church, who read the books of the holy fathers, look into them and see that they wrote what is today in your churches, and they also wrote about the one who stands for Me. The fathers wrote about the dark angels who pretend to be the angels of light. And who are these dark angels? They are those who live in debaucheries and iniquities, hidden under the adornment of the holiness, (Under the garment of a priest or of a shepherd, r.n.), standing against the truth, which is clean and which shows up the hidden iniquity. But My word came to judge those made in the darkness, and the angels of the light are those, who do My will among the people, and with whom I go from place to place to wake up and to harvest those that are Mine, and whose names are written from the foundation of the world into the Book of Life. Amen.

---

You who teach the people after your likeness and not after My likeness; you, who put aside God's commandments and take those of the people; you, who buy thrones and ranks in the church on dirty money, stop doing what is evil before Me and against Me! Wash yourselves! My Word cries into the wilderness to prepare My coming, as I come to search out My flock and to put it on My right side, as My flock knows My voice; it knows My word; it knows Me as the Shepherd coming from heaven. Do no longer shout against My people chosen from the Romanians. Do no longer wonder that My people does not submit to you, since you do not testify God in spirit and word by your own deeds. Do no longer stay into My name over the church, if you do not like to do My will in your body and spirit. Stop deceiving God, o people of the church. Do no longer love sexual immorality, drunkenness, and the idols of the world of today! Do no longer claim for the sons of My word, who listen to Me, to submit to you. Rejoice because I have an obedient people on the earth. Do no longer call proud the one who obeys God. The one who obeys God is not proud. The proud is the one who does not obey God and relies on himself.

Oh, man of the church, do no longer call „sect” the one who lives on My holy word. What does a sect mean? But what does a sect not mean to you, man of the church, who makes a sect of the sons of My church? Is it really not a sect, the woman with her hand uncovered and with make-up and nakedness of her body and with adornments, who comes to the church only to be a stumbling block for you and for those in your church? Does she really not mean a sect for you? But what does sect not mean, if the righteous one, who does My will, is sect?

Oh, there is not a single law left, not even a canon, which stands watch and not to be trampled by the man of the church; moreover, the man of the church has no longer anything to cover with, so that the shame of his deeds may not be seen. Not even with unbelief towards My word; not even with this can he make a covering; on the contrary, it reveals him as unfaithful and fearful as well.

I said, and fulfilled and sent you a letter, man of the church, and tell you that the Holy Scripture is not eating and drinking; it is not marriage and given in marriage and lawlessness. The Scripture is the kingdom of heaven for they who take it in them. The Scripture is the word of life for they who seek the everlasting life in it. The Scripture is not flesh and meat as you want to say. The Scripture is the Spirit of the Truth, as My today's book, which I am writing Myself in with the believers, but even with you as well, the unbeliever, My today's book is Spirit and Truth. The Scripture means My word, the word of My Holy Spirit, Which is writing Himself in heaven and on earth.

Oh, you man of the church that make the man of the world sharpen his weapons and strike into My word and in the sons of My word! It is written in the Scriptures that I will turn the weapons of the wicked into plough shares and do My work and you will not be able to fight against God, who speaks and fulfills. Behold, I sent you a letter. I know your deeds, that you are neither cold nor hot, but lukewarm and say: „I am rich and I lack nothing”, but you are blind, naked and pitiful and I come to give you a golden word to be rich and dress in white garment, so that the shame of your nakedness may not be seen. I come and give you word. My word is salve for eyes, for everybody that I love, I rebuke for repentance. I stand at the door and knock, so that you may hear and I may have dinner of word with you. He who has ears let him hear what the Spirit says to the churches. After that repent; if not I will soon come to you and move your lamp stand out of its place and put Mine instead. Amen.

I am the Light of the world. Amen, amen, amen. The one, who walks after Me, will not walk into the darkness. My word is the way, the truth and the life. Ask the law and the prophets.

If they do not speak of this word, only then you are justified not to believe. And I will come with the tens of thousands of saints to you, people of the church, as it is written: «Behold, He comes with the clouds and with His tens of thousands of saints, and His name is called the Word of God», (Apoc: 19/13, r.n.) and the saints will testify that this word is My word. Amen.

Oh, I came to water My garden with heavenly water as the gardener comes out to search his field and work over it. I came to search My flock and to pasture it. I came to take the fruit of My vineyard, and the vinedressers want to disinherit Me and to be the masters of My vineyard.

I am the One Who made the heaven and earth and the man as well, and I am the One Who founded My church. I and not you man of the worldly church. If you do not know the One Whom you say that you serve, then who are you, man of the today's church? I am God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Amen. Say who you are too, the same as I come too and say who I am, and help the faithful one to know Me and to do My will. I am the way, the truth and the life. Say who you are, man of today, who sit on the seat of Christ's church. I am Who I am, but who are you? I am. Open for Me, so that I may know who you are and so that I may help you to be. Amen.

I am Who I am. Amen, amen, amen.

The Feast of the Lord's Ascension

The holy heaven is celebrating. It is My feast with you on the earth, Jerusalem, and I come with the holy heaven to you, to celebrate you near Me, My people, as Father lifted Me up to be near Him, and you make Me come down from My Father; and you also make My Father come down with Me to you, as Father is in Me and I am in My Father, as I was in the beginning, when I created the heaven and the earth, those that are seen and those that are not seen, My people.

After I was resurrected in My body, I appeared to My disciples and I proved that I was alive by many signs and miracles, and I spoke to them about the kingdom of God on the earth, and they were asking Me: «Lord, when are You going to restore the kingdom of Israel?» I was telling them about the kingdom of God and they were asking Me about the kingdom of Israel, but I did not answer them, but rather I told them that the Holy Spirit would come on them and He would teach them, and that it would be to take the words of the Holy Spirit with them to all the margins. I told them to take the news of the kingdom of God on the earth, as for two thousand years, I have wanted to work from near My Father, a kingdom of the heavens on the earth. I have been working for two thousand years, My people, and no one has been able to help Me to establish the kingdom of the heavens on the earth, the kingdom of the Father and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit. Amen, amen, amen.

It is My peace in celebration with you, Jerusalem. It is My kingdom with you and in you, Israel, little child, for you are the tiny Israel, who I put My kingdom in. In the Israel from the beginning I could not come with My kingdom for it had its kingdom even if it said that it was My people. It was My people because I said so, not because it said it, but the kingdom of God did not work in it and upon it. My word was coming to it and it did not understand it, for he, who does not fulfill God's word, does not understand what God's kingdom means. That is why I taught the disciples how to pray and I told them to pray to the Father, saying: „Our Father in heaven may Your holy name be hallowed in us so that we may be Yours. Let Your kingdom be alive in us, as in You, as in heaven, Father.”

Oh, little Israel, the kingdom of God is dead in the people on the earth; it is not alive and I told My apostles: «Go everywhere and say that the kingdom of the heavens has come near to the earth». I was the kingdom of the heavens, coming down from the heaven as a King on the earth, but Israel, the people to whom I gave the heavenly promises, did not understand how the kingdom of the heavens on the earth comes, as he does not understand it today either; but even today he says that he is waiting for Me, but I come now with the word and proclaim so that I may fulfill it afterwards, for this way I have always worked, always My people. I came to be on the earth and to put God in man, and to be a living kingdom on in man, and the man does not know and he does not want to perceive and know, but there are many who know and do not want that God to be in them alive. That is why I made you My messenger, My people, and I go with you as a word in the midst of the people and I help you to be able to give My word to the people, and I speak from the heaven down to the people on the earth and I wait for the man to come to Me as you came to be My disciple of My second coming on the earth. I have not had until now a people to prepare My coming, but I have you now, Jerusalem, love people by God. The one that is loved by God is clean, and that is why I put you to be clean, son, Jerusalem, and to have Me with My kingdom in you, for there is no one on the earth to be able to teach the man My kingdom on the earth. It is said in vain the prayer „Our Father” in churches, for if it said not in vain, My kingdom on the earth would be seen on the earth as in heaven.

There are people on the earth that hear the speech on the earth which says: „I have God in my heart and I believe and love Him”. Oh, you man who were taught to speak that you have Me in your heart! Why do you not have Me in your body, if you have Me in your heart? But what is your heart and what is your body? Do you really believe that the heart can be God’s dwelling and that the body, which holds the heart in it, is not a dwelling of the Lord? But to whom do you speak so, and who do you want to make him believe what you say?

Oh, man, oh, man, oh, man, you make Me only pains, only untruth is in your heart and on your tongue and body, for your heart is the voice of your mind which becomes a deed in your body. Oh, if you believe with your heart in Me, the deed of faith will come down visible in your body, for My apostle Paul said this in My Spirit: «Show me your faith in your deeds, man!».

The man cannot perceive what the kingdom of God means. The man honors the days and holy days, the tradition and faith in God, but he does not honor God, for in order to honor Me, you have to make Me a house in your, to make Me a kingdom in you, man, but you do not like to have God as a king. You like the free will, for this is what the man has been wanting even since I made him. Adam did the same. He was in heaven, as I made him and had him work and keep the heaven; I had him work a heaven into a heaven, and to keep the heaven so that it may be the heaven; I had him work the kingdom of God and to protect it to be and not to get spoiled, and he did his own will; he did not do God’s will. I gave him a helper, so that Adam might have a helper, and he called that helper woman and said: «This is now bone of my bones, and flesh of my flesh». But Adam spoke out of the spirit of the flesh not out of God’s Spirit; he spoke and said that the man would leave God and join with his wife, and it was fulfilled what he said. Adam had God as father and mother and he left God and joined to his wife to be one flesh. But they were one flesh, for I made two bodies of one. I made Adam first, and I took from him and made Eve too. I made two from one and then the man made one from the two, for the man is feeble and cannot do what God does.

The man could spoil the man, but he was not able to create him, and that is why I ascended to My father after My resurrection from the dead. I arose and ascended near My Father so that I might come as God from the Father, God and man, so that I may make from two men one, as I did in the beginning, as My Father did, God and man, taken out of the man.

I came the second time from the Father. Man, I came to you as it is written into the Scriptures that I will come. I become the word upon you to work through the word, as in the beginning I also worked by the word. In the beginning I made the man from the word, clay, water and Spirit, and now I want to make him from the word and human flesh, from the flesh born of the man. I want to make a godly man from the man. I want to make a heaven from the man. I want to make a resting day from the man, for Me to rest in him. My day of rest at the beginning was in man. I rested only a day and I have not been able to rest since then as the man fell from the heaven, and I remained alone. I have been alone since seven thousand years, for the man fell from the heaven, and I want to make from the earth heaven, and from the man God’s kingdom on the earth. I want to be with the man. I want to be in the man. The lost man, I want to find the one lost from the heaven. The heaven is full of eternity and the heaven is in Me, and I am in the Father. I went to prepare a place so that they may be where I am, and I want to draw all of them to the Father.

That is why I come as a word on the earth, and the people of the church put Me away from their churches and do not let Me draw the man to the everlasting life; they do not let Me come with the kingdom of the heavens on the earth; they do not let Me.

I am the Word of the Father, and of the Son and of the Holy Spirit, and I come on the earth as I ascended into the heaven. I come on the clouds of glory and the man does not see Me. The one, who believes in Me, is the one who sees Me, and the one that does not believe Me, has nothing to see. Oh, am I really only a God from nearby. And am I not from far away any more? Does the man believe only in those that are visible? Does he not believe in those that are invisible? Oh, he does not believe. The man does not believe in God, seen by those that are faithful to God, and the kingdom of the man has covered the whole earth. The earth was made by God and the man became a thief, and the man goes to trial with another man, and he fights for the land. However, I am the One, Who made the heaven and the earth by the word, and I will have them again by the word, for «the earth and everything that is on it belongs to the Lord», as it is written in the Scriptures. Amen. Soon, soon, I will come with the great day when I will deliver the word and will say: „The earth is Mine.” Amen, amen, amen.

My disciples asked Me on the day I ascended: «Is it now the time, Lord, for you to restore the kingdom of Israel?» But I ascended into heaven and I did not answer to their question, and I gave them the promise of the coming of the Holy Spirit, to have him and to teach people of the Holy Spirit about the kingdom of the heavens, not about the kingdom of Israel, which was proud that it has a kingdom on the earth and upon the earth. The kingdom of God should have been in Israel, but the man's will, the Israel's will was made without God. Behold My word which I should have answered then and I did not: Now it is the time to put back My kingdom, which was overthrown by the man seven thousand years ago. Now is the time to come. Amen. I come with the word on the earth to prepare My coming with My resurrected body and with thousands of thousands of saints and angels and with clouds of glory upon the earth. Amen. I come to you, Jerusalem of My word, as you receive Me and bring Me from the Father to be with you, and you give Me rest in you, and you are My day of rest on the earth, as this is what I said: «Man, remember the Lord's Day and sanctify it!».

Oh, Jerusalem, I will come as a word upon you and I will speak to you about the mystery of My day of rest, which the man does no longer remember. The man does not know what the day of the Lord means, as not even Israel have known it since I told him and until today.

Oh, Jerusalem, it is a day of ascension. It is a feast, My people. We go into the midst of the multitudes, sons. Let all the ghosts serve the word of God. May it go well with you, My people! May the sun and the sky blue and the sweet time be with you! May all things that are be with you! However, you should proclaim Me, as the One that I ascended to My Father and came again, as I promised that I come and behold, I come word on earth. Amen, amen, amen. I am coming soon saw the earth, and the glory of My word goes before Me.

I am the One, Who ascended to My Father two thousand years ago, so that I may come again from the Father and with the Father and with the Holy Spirit, Which comes with the clouds of the glory, with the clouds of the cherubim and seraphim. I am the One Who is. Amen, amen, amen.

The Sunday of the holy fathers from the council of Nicaea

The heaven is with you, people with the name of Jerusalem. The Lord is with you as word on the earth. I want to make with you and upon you everything that will remain forever. I want you, My people, to be forever. Amen, amen, amen.

I come to My people on the thread of your book, Verginica. I speak with the people and with you. I speak with the man on the earth. My word speaks from heaven on earth, that the Lord is holiness over the earth. Amen.

In the beginning I created the light first, and then I created everything that I made; I created them in the light, at the light, and I could do nothing in the darkness, because I am the Lord of the day, and I divided everything that I created; I divided them in seven days, as I made the seventh day My rest. Each work of the seven days was created in one day. I looked on everything that I created and I made them by the word, and I said: «All are very good», and I made the seventh day My rest.

Oh, Verginica, I speak with you the same way I was speaking when you were in your body on the earth among the people. I was speaking with you as I spoke with Moses in the beginning and I was dictating the Scriptures of creation, Verginica. I want the man from the earth to understand the word of My Scriptures, as I dictated to the man of God from the earth, and the man of God accomplished the word of God on the earth; however, the man of this age has been unfaithful to My work through the man of God among the people. The man of this age believes in those that are worked and spoken by him. He does not believe in those that are worked and spoken by Me, because he does not see and does not hear those that are made and declared by Me. I told Moses this: «I am Who I am. I will open up your mouth and I will teach you what to speak». I have been working with you, Verginica, the same way. I am working more wonderfully with My sons of today; the sons, who bring Me on the earth as the word from the Father. Why do I work more wonderfully? Because I went to My Father; because you went the same way from them to Me and to the Father, and they work even more wonderfully. I was working the miracles of My Father before My disciples, and I was speaking to them that they would do even greater miracles after I would go to My Father and that I would be with them from the Father and with the Father.

Oh, the man does not know what My day of rest is. If I cannot rest in the man, the man does not know to understand those from the Lord. I worked during the six days of creation, and I made them all well, and looking upon them I rested with thankfulness on the seventh day. My days are Mine, and the day of rest is Mine. The days of the man are man's, and his seventh day is his. The man works his things on six days, those for him, and on the seventh day he rests from those of his, saying that on the seventh day he honors Me. In the seventh day I enjoyed of all the good things that I created, which I made for the man in six days, but can the man make everything that I had made during the six days until the seventh day? The man works six days for himself, not for Me, and the seventh day he says that he gives it to Me and that he sanctifies it. Not even the people of Israel understood My days and their honoring, and the honoring of the seventh day, for he had done only what was evil on his way. And I was speaking to Moses: «Go and take the people into Canaan, but I will not go up in the midst of you, lest I consume you in the way, for you are a stiff-necked people. If I were to go up into your midst, I would consume you in one moment», and the Lord was coming to the tent of meeting, outside of the camp of the Israel's tents, and there He would spoke with Moses face to face, as someone speaks with his friend, and Moses wrote down all the words of the Lord, because the Lord told him so: «Write these for a memorial in a book».

Israel did not understand what the Lord's rest was, because he was a stiff-necked people, and the Lord could not rest in him. But God made of Moses His rest, and He taught him what to speak over Israel and He opened Moses' mouth. When Moses went up the second time on the Mount of Sinai, so that the Lord may give him ordinances over Israel, for Israel to observe them and so that the Lord may rest in Israel from His work upon him, when Moses reached up in the mountain, the cloud of the Lord's glory came down, covering the mountain for six days, and on the seventh day, the Lord called Moses out of the midst of the cloud, and Moses had been standing in the midst of the cloud for forty days and forty nights, and the Lord gave him ordinances over Israel. The seventh day was lengthened to forty days and the Lord had rested over Moses forty days and forty nights, and the man does not know what the day of the Lord's rest means. I was resting over Moses with those good of Mine that I wanted to do and to put over Israel, and I was looking over them and all were very good; however, when Moses was coming to put them over Israel, so that I may rest from those of Mine upon him, Israel remained a stiff-necked people, and I was not able to rest upon him. Israel did not receive Me to rest upon him, and he kept saying to Moses: «Go and speak with the Lord, and speak with us yourself what the Lord is speaking upon us». And I said this: «Israel, remember the day of the Lord to keep it holy», for I worked six days for you to make your happiness, and rested on the seventh day. I made the heaven and earth and everything that I made for the man, and then I rested the seventh day and I blessed it, as the man blesses a church and sanctifies it after he makes it.

The man should make a church of him within six days, and make the seventh day holy and bless it, as I did. The church means the heaven and earth of God among the people, the word and the Lord's body, the new man's creation. I made the heaven and earth in six days, but what has the man made in six days? I said among My commandments: «Man, remember the day of the Lord to make it holy». But I also said this in My commandments: «Man, you shall not murder; you shall not commit adultery; you shall not steal; you shall not give false testimony against your neighbor; you shall not be greedy». Oh, he, who violates these, also violates the day of the Lord by these.

I hear the words of those who talk tall that they keep the seventh day; I hear them when they say that if a commandment is violated you become guilty of all, and you violate them all by the one violated. Oh, if you, who say that you are afraid not to break this commandment of the day of the Lord, so that you may not become guilty of all the other commandments, why are you really not afraid of breaking the other commandments which say: «You shall not murder; you shall not commit adultery; you shall not steal; you shall lie; you shall not be greedy, and to love God by not doing these and not taking in vain His word and His name, and by honoring Him as your Father and mother?» No man can boast that he keeps all My commandments, and how comes that you can boast that you keep them? You, who boast about My commandments, why do you break them by dishonoring them? But did My Holy Spirit not tell you by Paul's Scriptures; did he not tell that you, who boast about the law and the commandments, you also break and dishonor them? My commandments come one by one as a chain, and each one of them comes from the one before it, and all come from the first one, not from the forth one, and the fourth one, which you keep as your foundation, is broken off from the first one, and not the first one is broken off from the fourth one.

I speak with you Verginica, and I speak with you, My people, so that the one, who has to hear, may hear. But he does not hear, as neither Israel heard My ordinances upon him; he did not hear, and he broke My commandments one by one, and he called himself „the Lord's people”, the same as those of today, who keep the seventh day and call themselves „the Lord's people” and say that they are „Adventists”. This name means „came the second time”, and for these it means that Christ came for the second time; it means His second coming. But how He, Who did not come first, can come the second time?

Oh, you, who hear not hearing! You should know that the people of Israel, which did not recognize that Christ came of the Virgin then, and Who will come, as they say, will be happier; they are happier than you, who say that Christ came then, and that He also came the second time, or that he is coming. I came then and I have come now, and I have been since then and until now, and I am, but I am not for you. I am not for you; I do not want to be for you, those who do not know to understand God, as He tells you to understand. You understand the Lord in vain the way you want to understand. The Lord has to be understood, as He wants, not how it comes to the man to understand Him. Behold, I open My mouth against you, and say: when Israel was sinning and venomous snakes were coming against him and killing his sons by deathly bites, I said to Moses to make a bronze snake. I wanted to stop Israel's condemnation and not die any more, and I wanted to make Israel wise, and once with that trial over his power for his sins, I was preparing his salvation from death, and in My compassion I told Moses: «I saw Israel's repentance, and the one, who is bitten by a serpent and will look at the bronze snake, will no longer die and will live». I was the One, Who spoke that a bronze serpent to be made; a serpent, which does not bite, and My word became a sign; it became a serpent, which does not bite against the serpent that bites, and My wrath, through the biting serpents with deadly venom, stopped in Israel, and Israel lived before Me. I was the One, Who saw how the sinful condemned were dying on the cross, and I set myself on the cross to make forgiveness of it, and to give salvation through it, and a way of everlasting life by this sign, which many were dying through. You do not understand the Scriptures and its parables spoken and fulfilled beforehand, as My word, which becomes a good deed so that I may help the man to come to Me and to the repentance by rebuking and forgiveness, My word is not an idol as you say. The cross is not embraced by Me for you to dishonor it, as Israel dishonored it, making of it a means of condemnation, dishonor and humiliation. I made of it a sign of salvation, so that the one, who will look at it and will embrace it as I did, may no longer die, may no longer sin, as the robber on the cross did no longer sin after he was placed on it, and he went into heaven by the cross. I told the robber: «Today you will be with Me in Paradise», and you say that it is nothing of the man who dies before I come the second time. But who told you to misinterpret the Scriptures, which say: «The one who dies will be alive, if he is with Me.»?

When I came first, I came by a Virgin, and you put a bad name on My mother, the Virgin. Oh, if you did not say so, you would not have any chance to make room near Me with your debauchery from the human nature of the fallen man. If My mother, the Virgin, were not been the door, which only I came in and out through, as the Scriptures says, then why do you still say that I am your Christ, Who came at that time for you? How can I still lift your sins, so that you may not do them anymore, if I, as the Son of God, the Father, could not make My mother, the Virgin then, not to sin in her body any more, if you say that she sinned after I was born of her? Could I not really have a mother to be only My mother; I, God, Who came from the Father by the Virgin? If you call God „Almighty”, can God really not do anything? You, who make your image on paper, on canvas or on wood, to be for your offspring, so that they may know their origin, if you are allowed to make it, so that it may speak about you, (Photographs and pictures, r.n.), can I really not have a voice on the earth through those that have been made for My name and are seen? (Pictures, r.n.) Was the bronze serpent, which the man was looking at, so that he might not die, a carved image? Was it an idol? Oh, the bronze serpent was My word fulfilled by Moses and put before Israel as a sign, so that the venomous serpent might submit to it and to go back to its shelter. Did I really come for you in one way and for others in another way? I came by Virgin and by cross, by Virgin forever virgin, and by cross forever a sign for the man’s salvation. For those who believe so, for those I came at that time and I have been with them, and for you I did not come then. And he, who did not come first, how can he come the second time?

Oh, you who listen, not listening, I did not come for you, neither then, and nor now. And if I was not born of a mother forever virgin; if I was not resurrected through the cross, by the sign of the cross, by the wood which became salvation and blessing over those who are faithful; if I did not come that way, of a mother forever virgin; if My cross is not loved by you as a sign of salvation; if you do not want to see My image in the icon and if you say that it is a carved image; if you say so, you will die in your sins, and I wash Myself of your blood, as behold, I open My mouth to you, who call yourself the Adventist people. I do not come the second time if I did not come on My first coming the way I came. Do you really say that all that die into their sins are more sinful than all people? Yes, I say to you, if you do not repent of your sins, which you do against My commandments, you all will perish likewise. The one, who repents, stops committing sins, and the one, who does not stop, does not repent, and behold, I did not come for you then.

I was born on the first day of the week. I was resurrected on the first day of the week. I had the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, come on the first day of the week, as My seventh day has been crushed by the man even since the man was in Paradise, and it has been crushed by Israel, and I have no longer got rest for seven thousand years. My Father works and I also work and We do no longer have rest and work to create the man again. I want to start with the light. I want to start with every man on the first day. I want to make light in the man. I want light and rest now, as I am always today. Amen.

The Lord is word over the earth. Let it be light on the earth! Amen, amen, amen. Let it be light! Let it be light! And let all be in the light and let all be made of the light and in the light! Amen.

I spoke with you, Verginica; with you and with the people, which stays under the light of My word. Let the man receive light from the Light on the earth. Let the people of My word be light on the earth.

My people, you should be light from the Light, as I make them all again, as in the beginning, and they will be all seen, soon, soon.

My word became word into your book, Verginica, as I was writing Myself into Moses' book. Amen.

– Oh, You are a river of word, Lord, and the books of Your word have no room on this earth, for great are Your words, Lord. Your word is comfort for the sons, and it is wrath for those who hear it, not hearing it, Lord of the comfort and of the justice of Your words.

Oh, Jerusalem, oh, sons, sons, it is written into the Scriptures: «Be angry, and don't sin». Seek to understand spiritually the Lord's Scriptures upon you and among you. Be angry and do not hate. Be angry and do not misjudge by being angry. Be angry and make the Lord's ways straight upon the people and to the people. Work as the Lord does. Show the wicked steps of the people; maybe their steps will be healed of their wickedness.

Oh, anointed sons, the Lord opens up your mouth and will teach you what to speak. Go to Israel and work with Israel, and I will work with you, and then I will work a word into my book for Israel. Amen, amen, amen.

And I will also work a word, and I will work even two, and I will send you with it there where it goes. Amen.

The feast of the Descending of the Holy Spirit

I am with you, Jerusalem. I am the Lord God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit. Let there be light and Holy Spirit over Romania! Amen.

I go with you into the middle of the multitudes, My people. It is the feast of the Holy Spirit's descending. We go to proclaim Romania to Romania, My wedding country. We go to tell the people about Romania. We go, Jerusalem; I go with you, My people. I give you power to go. I give you the Holy Spirit over you. I give you My peace. I give you all My blessing. Amen. All and everything listen to My feasts with you. All and everything works to My glory and yours. All and everything bow to My word. I am with you over the earth with days of wedding, Bridegroom and bride, and with a wedding of new age over Romania. Let the Holy Spirit be over the earth! Amen. Let the spirit of revelations come down over the wise people of the earth, so that they may know that I am the Lord, your God, and that you are My people, and to be known that Romania is My bride country, My wedding country and My wedding table and My way to the nations of the earth, as I come and I announce Myself over the earth.

Get up, Jerusalem, for I gave you a name from heaven, and I gave you the Holy Spirit, My people, My messenger people, My cluster of sons that I walk with and I make My way over the earth. I speak and I go; I go and I speak, and My word is before Me. Let there be light and Holy Spirit and let there be a way from heaven over the earth. Let there be Bridegroom and bride and a wedding of new age.

Peace to you, Jerusalem! Peace to you, sent sons, as I go before you and behind you, and I go on sideways, above and under you. I am in you. Amen. The Holy Spirit, the Comforter, is with a feast over you and over the earth. It is a day of the Holy Spirit. It is a heavenly feast. I come from heaven on the earth with a feast of the Holy Spirit. May the One, Who comes to you with the Father and with the Holy Spirit, be blessed! I am the One, Who spoke the word for the Holy Spirit to come from the Father, and to be with those of Mine on the earth, with those of then and with those of today, of then and until today, as I am always today.

Peace between Me and you, little Jerusalem, which goes from place to place, from time to time with Me! Peace between me and you! Peace to you! Peace to you! Peace to you! My word goes before you. My word always comes and enshrouds you. Be sons of obedience, My loved ones. Be sons of My peace in you. Be in the Holy Spirit. Amen. You in Me, and I in you. Amen. I in you and you in Me, sons of the Father. Be sons of obedience. Be in the Holy Spirit.

Go, Jerusalem, go into the midst of the multitudes, go and go again! Let the clouds of My glory cast a shadow on you; may the sun serve you from among the clouds of My glory; may the gentle and smooth wind refresh your body and may the Holy Spirit comfort you! Go, Jerusalem, go with the light of the Holy Spirit on the earth! Go, My people, go, as the Holy Spirit is your Comforter! Amen, amen, amen.

Let the clouds gather together in the sky, and let the sky blue and the sun appear; and let My people make room, and let the multitudes gather together at the feast of the Holy Spirit on the earth, for it is a feast of the Holy Spirit in heaven and on earth. Amen.

Jerusalem, My work! Jerusalem, My people, worked out of My word! I stand into the midst of the multitudes with you. You are My glory over the earth, as the Holy Spirit, the Comforter, comes to you and becomes word as I promised about Him two thousand years ago. Jerusalem is your name, My people. But, does the man on the earth really know what Jerusalem means? Jerusalem means Whit Sunday; it means the Holy Spirit; it means the building of the Holy Spirit on the earth. Peace to you! Peace to you, Jerusalem, My work! Peace to you, My building! My building means Jerusalem; it means Whit Sunday. In the time of Jerusalem from the beginning, I said that I will choose Jerusalem again. In the beginning I made Jerusalem of the people that I gave a godly nature; out of people not out of stones, not out of bricks; I built it out of people, as the name of Jerusalem cannot be put on the walls of stone; it cannot be put on any building; it cannot be put on buildings made by people. Jerusalem is built only by people, of God's people, which are chosen of the people and become sons of God, a heavenly building on the earth.

After I built Jerusalem, people have made their own building of many walls, and gave this building the name of Jerusalem, and since then, the people have started to honor more the work of their hands, the work called by them Jerusalem, and they have honored it more than the wall built by God out of the people, who were made of a godly nature by God, and who are called altogether Jerusalem.

It is a feast of Jerusalem over the earth, and it is a celebration in Romania, My country of wedding. It is a celebration of the Holy Spirit; it is a feast of Whit Sunday. Two thousand years ago, I had a little bunch of people chosen by Me from Israel, and built by Me as a foundation for My kingdom, which I came on the earth with. I had twelve loved disciples, and I came with the Holy Spirit upon them, and they gave the Holy Spirit to the multitudes, as this is how I have worked on the building of Jerusalem. Oh, I have been waiting for two thousand years for the feast of the Whit Sunday over the earth. I have been waiting for My coming; I have been waiting to fulfill the word of the Holy Spirit that I declared when I said by the Spirit: «I come soon!».

Oh, My people, I go with you into the midst of the multitudes, as the people learned to hear My word. I go with you from place to place, from time to time, as the stone submits to be built by the man and to the man, who builds with it. The stone is built by Me; it is My building, and My building lets itself to be built by the man and to the man to make a building out of it. But the man does not let himself be built by God. The man built by man does not let Me take him and make him My building, as the stone built by Me lets itself be taken by the hand of the man, and it lets itself be laid on one another. I cannot build the man. I build the man of the man, a godly man, and only after that, I build the wall of Jerusalem, as Jerusalem is built by the man that is made godly by the Holy Spirit, and not out of the stones built by God. Jerusalem is built out of people, not out of stones. The church is built out of people; out of people, not out of stones. I have been waiting for two thousand years to build Jerusalem again, as the one from the beginning was demolished, because it was out of stones. Israel was out of a stone heart with Me, and I left him and I went to My Father, to have the Holy Spirit come down from heaven on the earth, and to make godly people, living stones, out of people, for the wall of the New Jerusalem, which will be established to meet Me on My second coming.

Oh, Jerusalem, My people born of My word! Jerusalem, My work! Jerusalem, My building! Behold, I laid you as a new foundation and I build on this foundation. The one, who wants to be a heavenly building, should let oneself be built by God and placed on the building of the New Jerusalem, which will stay before Me on My coming. Amen.

The man on the earth got used to My word, which comes on the clouds down to you, people, My building. I go with you as word into the midst of the multitudes, so that the man may take and build and to let himself be built into the building which will remain before Me.

Oh, sons of the people, receive teaching from heaven. Receive heavenly knowledge in you and put away the human wisdom from you. Oh, sons of the people, the man who is built from heaven, of My word that comes from heaven on the clouds of My glory, is called Jerusalem. Receive Holy Spirit as My disciples received Him two thousand years ago. Receive the Holy Spirit as My disciples of today have also received Him. These are My disciples of today. My disciples are those, who do My will among the people. Receive from My Spirit; receive the Holy Spirit by My disciples of today as those of that time also received the Holy Spirit by My disciples of that time. Receive the Holy Spirit and let yourselves be built by the word of God, which comes to you as the river, which comes out from the rock and flows over the earth. Let yourselves be built by My love, by My word which becomes love over the earth, so that people may be born of My love, of My word which comes to give birth to the man of the heaven, as My word is from heaven.

I am the heaven of My word. Amen. I am, and My Father is in Me to be with the people, as I am. I am the Word of God, which came down to the people on the earth, and you, Jerusalem, will go with Me on the earth, so that we may make sons of heaven out of stones, and living stones of the sons of the heaven to the building of the New Jerusalem, worked out by people, out of living stones, and your tribe will be like the stars of the sky forever and ever, as you are My building and you have the Holy Spirit as word upon you.

It is a feast of Whit Sunday. It is the Holy Spirit in a celebration with Me over the living sons on the earth. It is the whisper of the Holy Spirit in the sweet breeze of the wind. My word comes on the wind; it comes on the breeze of the wind. My word becomes Holy Spirit over the earth. Amen. Let there be light over the earth! Let there be Holy Spirit over the people! Let there be Jerusalem over the creature, which lets itself to be made of a godly nature, to be good for the building of the New Jerusalem.

Go, Jerusalem, and share the Holy Spirit over the earth, over the people, My people. Go, son, as you are My annunciation before My coming in a visible glory. Blessed is the one, who believes into My coming, into My word, which establishes My way over the people, so that I may come. Amen, amen, amen.

The Sunday of all saints

Oh, My country of wedding, oh, My love, I become a feast of word in you. I am the Word of the Father, and Father is in Me, when I speak over you. Amen.

Peace to you! Peace to you, My love! I give you My peace! I become word over you. I come to disturb your peace and to give you Mine, as this is what I told to those of Mine: «I give you My peace. I do not give it as the world gives».

Oh, My wedding country, I give you My peace. Amen, amen, amen. I have a tiny people in you, chosen out of your midst, and I have a little and clean garden into your midst, and I come down as a word over it, and I give you My peace. I give you word from heaven, as I come with the clouds of the glory and I speak from above and I comfort you with the word of My comfort; I comfort you with the Spirit of the Truth, as I said: «I will not leave you orphans. I go, and I will come to you. I leave you My peace; My peace I give to you. I do not give it as the world gives. I go and I will come to you. The world will not see Me; but you will see Me because I live, and you will live and will know that I am in My Father, and you in Me, and I in you. And if someone loves Me as you do, he will keep My word, and My Father will love him and We will come to him and make a dwelling at him and We will show Ourselves to him».

Oh, My wedding country, oh, My loved one, the master of this world has nothing in Me and he could not take My life. No one took it from Me, but I laid it down by My own will. I had power to lay it down and I had power to take it back, as I received this commandment from My Father. And I remember now, when My Father told Me that I will be a little child, and that I will be born on the earth, and I will be a seed sown in the fields; and also that I will be a little and tiny Lamb, and I will be slaughtered by a rascal, and I did not tell anything to My Father, nothing but this: «Father, Your will be done».

And I also remember now, when My Father told Me, that He will choose Jerusalem again. I remember when He told Me about you, My country of wedding. When My Father forsook Israel that crucified Me, Father chose you on that very day and gave you to Me, to be the country of My wedding, and My Father promised Me a bride out of you, a country with Bridegroom and bride. I am in the Father, and Father is in Me, and no one knows the mysteries of the Father, no one but the one to whom Father wants to reveal this, and I am in the Father and you are in Me, and I am in you, My loved disciples, elected out of the Romanians. Get up and let us go to preach the people the news of the kingdom of My word over the earth. Let there be sun; let there be sweet time; let there be heavenly light on the earth! Let the waters be divided from the waters and let there be a new heaven and a new earth! Let the earth bring fourth everlasting life over the creatures, and let the tree of life be put into the midst to yield fruits! Let the two lighters shine seven times more! Let there be a new man worked at My word, of his body, of My Spirit and everlasting life, worked at your faith, man come out of the man! I want to form you again, man, and I want to renew the world and to give it birth by My word. It is written into the Scriptures about the new birth of the world; it is written about a new heaven and a new earth into the Scriptures. Let there be a new heaven and a new earth where justice shall dwell; however, I am the justice. Let there be a new man, who God may live in, as My saints lived in God, as those who have believed in Me on the earth, have everlasting life in heaven. Amen.

It is a heavenly feast on the earth. It is the feast of the Sunday of all saints. There have passed seven weeks since the feast of My resurrection and until the descending of My Holy Spirit in a heavenly celebration on the earth, and today I am being celebrated by all holy heaven with a celebration of saints, as I celebrate all of My saints, from Abraham, the father of the saints, to Verginica, and to you, little son Israel, little Israel, the child of holy and faithful Abraham, as My disciples are sanctified on the earth.

Oh, Verginica, it is the feast of all the saints, My love. You are in the middle of My heaven of saints, as the saints have been waiting for a long time to be born and to grow and to carry the work of My word from the end, as it was written into the Scriptures that I will become word over the earth. It is written in the book of the prophet Isaiah, about My mother Virgin: «Before she travailed, she brought forth; before the pain came she was delivered of a man-child», and it is written about you, Verginica: «As soon as she travailed and the daughter of Zion brought forth her children. Shall a land be born in one day? Shall a nation be brought forth at once? Who has heard or who has seen such things?». Verginica, Verginica, it is written about you into the Scriptures that you will give birth to sons of My word. It is written of My word, of My voice through, that you were My temple on the earth, and I spoke from you and I made a people for Me. Who has heard or who has seen such things? It is written by the prophet Isaiah about My word with you, about My voice through you: «A voice, a tumult from the citadel, a voice from the temple! It is the voice of the Lord to reward each one according to his own deed. Before she travailed the daughter of Zion brought forth sons». Oh, this is how it is written in the prophets about My mother Virgin, who gave Me birth as a child on the earth, and about you, who gave Me birth as word on the earth; a comforting Spirit, the Spirit Who had to come before My visible coming, as I come after you. Amen. You are the sixth trumpet, and I, the Lord, am the seventh trumpet, as it is written into the Scriptures about the angel who says: «Everything has been done!».

Verginica, you are in Me, as the saints are in Me, as I am in the dwelling of the saints. I went to My Father to become a dwelling for My saints, so that where I am they should also be; they in Me, and I in them. Speak, Verginica, over the people; speak from Me, as I am in you, and you are in Me. Amen, amen, amen.

– Oh, Lord, oh, Son of the Father and of the mother Virgin, who gave You birth as a child; and of mine, who gave You birth as word to be with the people until the end, as You have said! Oh, my Lord and my God, I am Your trumpet, the sixth trumpet, and no one knows to interpret Your Scriptures, that You have always, always, fulfilled Your Scriptures through the people prepared by You, people taken from among the people, as You took Your mother Virgin, as You took me, Lord. I speak from You, good Teacher, so that You may teach the people to understand Your mysteries written in the Scriptures, Lord. On the earth, the man speaks with the man; the people speak with each other, and in heaven the saint speaks with another saint, and the saints speak with You, the One that is desired, the One loved by the saints on the earth and in heaven. And behold a great mystery is worked out by You, as You speak with the man on the earth, and Your saints work like You, as any perfect disciple will be like his teacher.

The man born of a man does not know what wisdom is, as the sin separated the man from You, Lord, as it separated Adam and Eve from each other, and from You. They were one flesh, and by sin they were separated in two bodies, as the two were one body. The man on the earth does no longer have wisdom, as the man is born of the man, and You said that he, who will not be born of the heaven, from above, will no longer have and will not be a son of the kingdom of the heavens. The man on the earth knows otherwise; he knows that the sin of the man's union with the woman joins the two, so that they may be one body. The man did not understand the heavenly mystery of this word that says: «The two will be both one flesh». Adam did not understand it either, when he spoke this word, for if he understood it like God, the two, who were one flesh, would have not been separated by the sin.

Oh, Lord, the man finds these words in the Scriptures and he does not understand Your mystery in Your church, as the apostle Paul understood it, for he said so: «The husband should love his wife even as Christ also loved His church and gave Himself up for it, and He gave Himself up to it that He might sanctify it, having cleansed it by the washing of water with the word, and that He might present it to Himself as a married church, not having any spot or wrinkle or any such thing, but holy and without blemish. Even so ought husbands also to love their own wives as their own bodies, as he who loves his own wife loves himself, for no man ever hated his own flesh; but nourishes and cherishes it, even as the Lord also does the church, because we are members of His body, of His flesh and bones. For this cause a man will leave his father and mother, and will be joined to his wife. The two will become one flesh». And Paul also said: «This mystery is great in Christ and in the church».

Oh, Lord, I speak with You from the Scriptures to make the people understand the mysteries of the Scriptures, Christ and His church, male and female, and Paul said that the sons of the church are of Your flesh and of Your bones, Lord, Your wife, Your bride, Lord. The sons of the church are those who are born of Your Body and Blood and are alive and without sin as You are, Lord, as any perfect disciple will be like his teacher, one flesh with him, the same flesh, Lord. The man born of the man does no longer know what God in man means, as the sin separated the people from You, as the sin separated Adam from Eve, who were both one flesh. If the union of the man with his wife had been from You, as it is on the people, why would You have expelled the man that You created in the beginning from Paradise and from heaven? Oh, there are no longer teachers from heaven on the earth; there are no longer prophets from You on the earth, as all are one flesh and belly and sin, and no one is truly flesh of Your flesh and bone of Your bone and to be alive. But we have come out into the middle of the people with a feast of word, to teach the people the way of the kingdom of heavens to them. I have come on the earth with a feast and I have come with all the saints.

When I came from earth into heaven to You, Lord, then I understood Your mystery with me, as You wanted me to be born among the people on a Sunday, and then it was the Sunday of all saints and all the saints left their gifts upon me, so that the saints may be word in me with You and so that the angels may sound the sixth trumpet in me, Lord. Oh, the people ask about the other trumpets, of those until me.

Oh, people, I give you the peace of the Lord! I do not give it to you as the world gives. I give it to you from heaven, not from the world. The world gives you lies. There is only lying in the world, for the ruler of this world has nothing in the Lord, as he had nothing in me as well. No one could take my life, but I gave it up as I received this commandment from the Lord.

Oh, people, this country is a great mystery, and it is written about it in the Scriptures and it is called the country of the brightness; it is called so because the word of the Lord, which is being born into it, for the work of the Lord, which was in it even since 1921, when the first apocalyptic trumpet came down from heaven and called on the earth, and it was given to a holy man, who was chosen and prepared by God to be a waking trumpet on the earth for him. The Lord took a man with the name of Joseph (Joseph Trifa – 03.03.1888-12.02.1938, r.n.) from the priests of the church, and had him speak a heavenly word among the people, and he gathered many disciples and made a heavenly work in them, but the men from the church murdered him giving him over to Caesar, (Communist dictatorship, r.n.) as they did not believe that he was chosen by God. And another angel came down from heaven and called on the earth, and he gave the trumpet to a shepherd to sound it on the earth the words of God on the people (Petrache Lupu – 14.10.1907-14.12.1994, r.n.). And there came down other three angels in a row and called on the earth, and they gave their trumpets to a priest, (Arsenie Boca – 29.09.1910 – 28.11.1989, r.n.), and to another priest, (Ioan, from the monastery Vladimirești – 26.06.1922-17.05.2008, r.n.), and they gave another one to a little child from the church, (Nun Veronica, from Vladimirești – 26.08.1922–14.09.2005, r.n.); and they also sounded their trumpet to prepare the coming of the sound of the sixth trumpet, the coming of the Lord to prepare it. And before the sixth trumpet, another angel came down from heaven and called on the earth and gave me the trumpet and I sound it, and I was God's trumpet, the sixth trumpet<sup>116</sup>, which the Scriptures write about: «And the sixth angel sounded, and then a voice was heard from the four horns of the golden altar, which is before God; a voice from the heavenly tent, a voice from the temple of the heaven, to call the people to repentance, as the Lord comes to sound the sixth trumpet, for the Lord comes to sound the sixth trumpet, as there is no more time. And in the days when the seventh angel speaks, when the seventh angel sounds his trumpet, then the mystery of God is accomplished and there is no more time». Amen, amen, amen.

Oh, Lord, I speak from You on the earth, and I speak with You from the Scriptures, Lord, so that the people from the earth may understand Your Scriptures, and to make the people understand and to believe Your word and to be born from above, as Your word is from above, Lord. Amen.

– Oh, Verginica, oh, Verginica, oh, Verginica, people wonder where My trumpets were. I took them all from the church and I put them to call upon the churches. And why over the church? Oh, Verginica, antichrist is not in the world, but he is in the church; he is near Me to fight against Me. Behold, Caesar, also called Herod, (The communist dictatorship, r.n.), used the church servants; he used those, who sold their sheep, (The collaborators of the secret service of the dictatorship of the communist red beast, r.n.); they sold them to Caesar to be imprisoned and that the antichrist<sup>117</sup> to get rid of My good sheep, so that he may rule in My church. And that is why I chose you from an ignoble birth, so that I may let down My richness for the sheep, for if I had gone to the people of the church again, they would have closed My word up, as they closed some of those that I choose from among them to sound the trumpet, as they also closed you, giving you over to Caesar to imprison you. Caesar did not understand what I was doing with you, but the people of the church knew the word of My judgment and they hid, as they were naked before Me. The people of the church were and are antichrists, who stand against My word, and they call Me a false prophet within this work of trumpeting. Caesars had their own mission and the people of the church, who wanted to get rid of the strong and healthy sheep, so that they might not believe and to take their place, went to Caesars and told them other things than those from Me by My vessels, as it was with you, Verginica. Now, Caesar became a believer (After the anticomunist revolution in 1989, when on December 25, the dictator Ceaușescu was condemned and executed by shooting, r.n.), and he set himself in fear of God, and the people of the church have no longer got a prison for My sheep, and they try to hide from the sheep, for they are naked and are not shepherds; rather they are Pharisees and not shepherds of people, and My sheep are without shepherds. But look, I Myself take care of My sheep, and the people of the church laugh at My sheep, and call My sheep „sect”, and „wondered away”.

The people of the church are against Me, Verginica. I speak with the saints in heaven. I sit in counsel in the midst of the church and I tell them: the people of the church are from the earth and they took hold on the keys of the kingdom of heavens, and they are against Me, so that I may no longer come to gather My sheep together and to make them all one flock. But I am the key of the kingdom of heavens. I am the Son of the heavenly Father, and he, who will come in and out through Me, will come in and out and will find pasture. Amen.

I am God, the Father, the Son and the Holy Spirit, but who are the people of the church on the earth? To whom do they belong? Which is their kingdom and where is it?

I am the kingdom of heavens, and the saints are with Me within My coming, as I come to put My kingdom back to its place. Amen, amen, amen.

The council of the twelve holy apostles

I am carried by the clouds of My glory and I come down for you, holy people, as you have to be holy. Amen. I am carried in a pavilion made of My apostles, and I, the Lord, and with My trumpet Verginica, are celebrated in the council of My apostles and we all work together with you, the heaven and the earth in a work of disciples with the Teacher among them.

I did not work without My apostles upon anyone and anywhere, but only then when I cried for many to My Father. For whom did I cry to My Father? I cried for Me and I cried for those, who the Father gave to Me; I cried for those who My Father gave to Me to persecute Me and to crucify Me, and I was saying: «Father do not punish them for Me, for they do not know what they do; they do not know that I am Your Son». But after I was resurrected, their sin became a visible sin, as by resurrection I proved that I was the Son of the Father, the Son that came from heaven on the earth. It was changed the sin of many who prepared My resurrection and the deed of the crucifixion beforehand, because few of them became faithful Christians, and the other remained strong, first by their rank, and then by their pride, as they did not want to humble for Me, as I, the Lord humbled for them to the lowest shame, death by cross, the death of the worst condemned sinners. Behold, the man does not know, and does not want to embrace the shame of the man. The man is greater and stronger than God, Who did not want anything else, but to humble for the salvation of many, sons.

I protected My disciples and I defended their life, and I gave Mine up, as when the people of the temple came with swords and clubs, if they had not taken hold of the pray they were looking for, to take to the chief priests of the church, they would have condemned My disciples. But I, as a Son of the Father's love, came in front of My disciples, and like their Teacher, I spoke before them and I told those who sought after Me: «Who are you looking for? If therefore, I am the One you seek Me, let these go their way».

No one took My life. I gave it up by Myself, as for this I came down from heaven from My Father. I came down after the man, to take him in Me, to die with Me and to rise with Me, as the one who saves his life from My hands, will lose it, and the one, who loses his life in My death for him, will gain it by his death in Me, and by My resurrection in him, by faith in the Son of God, Who came from heaven to die for the man, and to rise with the man, and to go back to the Father with the redeemed man into His arms. But he, who knew the sweetness of this grace and tasted of this offering, and went back again into the sin of the nature, who shall die for a man like that, if My death was of no use to him for an everlasting life? That is why I tell you, My people, to have love for Me, and I told you that the one without love keeps silent like the one who is guilty, and the one with love would no longer keep silent. The one without love dies to Christ and joins with the devil again, with the enemy of the man. Do you really know, My loved people, what the devil is? It is bad for the man who serves a master without knowing his master in the face. It is bad for the man, who serves God without knowing His holy and heavenly face. It is bad for the man, who serves the devil without knowing the master whom he serves. I tell you a great word today, sons. I put a great work of word on you today. I work on My right, and I work on My left, and I work the thing wholly; I work with My disciples. Amen, amen, amen. I work on My right and I work on My left; I work as a teacher with the heavenly disciples and with the disciples on the earth, as this is the work of the heaven.

You, sons, on My right, be with a heavenly attention, sons, as I speak with each one of you. I do not speak with the other one, as each mind uses this thought as though I would speak with the other one. You, sons on My right, be with a heavenly attention then when I speak to you for those on the left, which would like to be with Me, but without any love in them; however, they are more within their flesh and with the carelessness that comes from the flesh. You, sons on My right side, stand on My right side until only the sons of the love will remain before Me, as those who have mother and father, brothers and sisters, children, relatives, ranks, money and possessions, fallow land, flesh and body of the flesh, do not come after Me, as they have connections and are bound and have not known how to get rid of them at the right time. But I also looked at the heart of the man, who was wretched because of the reward of his sins, as I looked at the heart of My crucifiers, who repented and knew Me as the Son of God, and they became Christians forever, and they broke off with the old ones and were renewed. However, some of them renewed all their kindred by their great and whole renewal. Let no one judge Me by the way I look at the heart of the wretched man and with power of repentance and with holy and living desire. I went after the man into the hell, into the water, into the fire and among the dead, when that man was useful to Me, so that I may make of him salvation for the unbelievers, or judgment for these.

My speaking of today is with a depth of wisdom, holy sons. Behold, I tell you a mystery: it is bad of the man, who serves God without knowing His holy and heavenly face. How comes something like that, holy sons? The man, who does not know the blessings and the promises of the Lord, and also the curses and the Lord's reward, that one does not touch the face of the salvation. That one serves God, as he says, and does not know the reward of his life. It is written: «The man cannot see God's face, and still stay alive». The man has to die within himself after he sees and perceives God's face, and after that, the Lord must come to life in him, as Moses did, sons, for when he asked to see Me, I told him that he would no longer stay alive after seeing Me. And it was so, for after he saw and heard Me, he died, and I rose in him and I shone in him, and when he went down from Me to Israel, no one was able to look at his face, and Moses had to put a veil, lest the sons of Israel might be afraid of the light of My face into the new man.

Oh, sons, I cover many of you with My secret veil, so that the man may speak with you and so that I may give My word to the man, but it is bad of the man, who serves God without knowing God's heavenly and holy face. Not only that the man cannot look at the face of the godly man, and that is why I put My veil over My man, but also he cannot even understand God's heavenly and holy face. He does not even understand what it means to be Christian after the truth; not even this does the Christian understand, and the one who does not understand, finds everywhere a conduct after his own conduct, love after his love, stature in everyone after his stature, as the man reaps what he sows. The sinful man cannot see that the holy the one is holy, the one, who lets himself to be seen by holy eyes, sons, and not by evil eyes and with a sick and dark look.

The Christian man is that one, who understands his reward and who works holiness with it, as the reward of the true Christian is the holiness of the mind, of the heart and of the life and of his deed, and where all these are, there the spring of God is, the word of God, which becomes a river and rivers of living waters, as it is written into the Scriptures about the one who believes in Me, as this is the Christian's reward and the fruit of his holiness. The holiness does not die in the man, if the man does not become conceited in his own self because of it, and in parts with it, and if it is caught by haughtiness, then it becomes a judge over the one who wore it, and killed its holy gift by haughtiness, as Adam did in the old time.

Do you really know, My loved people, what the devil is? Behold, I tell you a mystery, holy sons: it is bad of the man, who serves another master without knowing his master in his face. It is bad of the man, who serves the devil without knowing the master he serves. How comes such a thing, holy sons? The man, who does not know God's blessings, the promises and the Lord's rewards, that one does not serve God, on the contrary, he serves the devil and does not know his master in his face, and many of this kind of people recognize God as God, but they do not recognize the devil that they serve.

Do you really know, My loved people, who the devil is? Get down learning and growing up, My people, as I gave no one such a growth, as I gave you. When the man was created by God's hand and by God's Spirit, he was made to have the sense of good and evil, so that I might not make him a slave, and rather to make him a free man, sons. If I had built in him only the sense of good, he would have been forever a slave, a man without any merits, a man without any work. But I also put in him the sense of evil, so that the man might be free, as this is the freedom from Me, and not other. Then I told the man to gather only obedience, only what is good, and to nourish his sense of good, and to overcome with it and to condemn the sense of evil. If I had built in him only the sense of good, it would have not been necessary to warn him against eating of the tree of disobedience. But what did the man have to do, so that he might not fall from the life? He had to condemn the sin from his body, as I did when I became flesh of the Virgin as the Son of the heavenly Father. What did I do? What is written into the Scriptures? «He condemned the sin in His own body, nailing it to the cross». Sons, disobedience wakes up the evil in the man, and the evil is no longer condemned in the man, and obedience to God makes the man condemn the evil in him and not to allow it to work, as I did. I condemned the sin in My body, and then I nailed it to the cross, by My death on the cross. I made the man after God's image and likeness, and not otherwise, but the man did no longer condemn the evil in his body, and the evil woke up in him by disobedience to God, by not recognizing his Master and the face of his Master. Behold, the man should have not forgotten his Master. The man should have got God as his Master instead, but he came out from under His dominion and used his freedom to sin.

Sons, sons, I have taught you what the devil is. The devil should not have been free in the man. God should have been free in the man. When one is free, the other is no longer master. When the evil is woken up by the man in his inside, then the good is crucified in the man. When the good is always awake, always master in the man, then the evil is crucified in the man. The little child knows neither the good, nor the evil, and that is why is carried in the arms by the big brother, and the child is calm and in peace and in comforting arms. Oh, what pain on Me, when I see the children growing up and that there is no one to teach them what good and what evil is, what God and what the devil is! The man is a house for good and for evil, and these two are not without man. When the man was not, these were not at work, for God works together with the man, and He created everything for the man, as he created the obedience only after the man was created.

Oh, My people, oh My people, oh, My loved people! The apostles wonder at My teaching of today, that they neither knew, nor lived it in the time of My body and their body. In the time of My body, and then in their time, My church was taken by storm, and everybody wanted to be My Christians and their Christians, and it was hard for the man to understand well the face of Christ in man. Oh, My people, it was hard and it still is hard. It has been hard in all ages to receive the full face of a man, extremely hard, My people. From now on, My apostles see My time with you, as I am with My entire heaven of saints with you, faithful Israel of today, My few people, My little and tiny cluster of sons. But I prepare you and make you grow up, so that you may be My face before My face, so that the people may get used to My face, to My life, to My holiness among them and in them, for many take My word that I gave you, and many become new people, with a holy and heavenly living in them as I, the Lord, was on the earth.

I work upon you in a work of disciples, My people. My apostles, Israel's remnant, become relative with the Romanian through you, My Romanian people. The entire holy heaven eats My word and My body from the dish with you. All My heaven is on earth with you. You are tiny and little but the number of those from heaven is great, son, and it is with you, and you are great by the number of those from heaven. The whole Jerusalem from above, the whole Israel from above is with you on earth. The heaven came down on earth to you, as the time of My coming with the saints in tens of thousands has arrived, and I am the First among them, as I am the firstborn Son of the Father, the firstborn of many brothers.

Oh, My disciples, rejoice in the word with those of this time! Be My witnesses from heaven on the earth, as you are My witnesses. Amen.

– Lord, bless the entrance of Your saints. Bless us to come in. Amen, amen, amen.

– Amen, I say to you: always and now and forever and from everlasting to everlasting, My loved disciples. Amen.

– Oh, Lord, man of desires, Son of Your Father and ours, the Lord of our desires, we have sown much confession on the earth for You. But today You have testified Yourself even more wonderfully, even more fully, even more perfectly, as that what we, Your disciples, could not do and speak, You do, the One Who can and do everything, as this is what You said: «those who believe in Me will do greater things than these». This is what You, Lord Word, said then.

We come with You, as disciples and Teacher; we come to those who prepare Your and our way, the way of Your saints and angels, as the time has come to fulfill everything, Lord, for we have always asked you: «Until when, Lord?»

Oh, holy people on the earth, we are the disciples of Christ, our Lord and yours. We are the twelve apostles, and we become one single word upon you, people of the desires of those from heaven, people of God's promises, made to His saints.

Open the gates for the King of glory to enter into them accompanied by His saints, by His holy disciples! Open to the glory of the Lord, as you are the tabernacle of the Lord, Who dwells among the people, and the people do not know to understand what the Lord made out of you, the last sons, the fruit of the Lord's preaching and of ours. The time has come to abolish those that are in part before those that are made perfect, which came and come to us and to you, as the saints wait and have always waited asking: «Until when, Lord?» Oh, you who are loved in Christ, the man of all desires! Oh, little children and made holy by thousands of times by the word, which becomes flesh, and by the flesh, which becomes word! Oh, loved and little ones, you should be like the little children, and to be a kingdom of heavens on the earth, so that the heaven may have a kingdom in you, for you and for us, as we and you wait according to the promises, for a new heaven and a new earth of the righteousness, that is the kingdom of heavens, last sons.

We left you the books of our apostleship, but be holy and do not look in them for anything else than the kingdom of heavens, as we have spoken much with our bodies, and the bodies lusted too much against the spirit, and there was a great mixture and a great force was over the church of Christ and we could not separate those that were good from the evil ones, since the knowledge was so little then, and the people were greater in their flesh and in the lusts of the flesh. But now, the Lord increased the knowledge and gave it to you, as He, Himself, came as a Shepherd as He promised, that He went to the Father and came as word in the end, and His Holy Spirit becomes word; He becomes Comforter, after the prophesy of the most loved of the twelve disciples, John, the Lord's loved one and ours. There were many things to be given then, but they could not be carried along, as no one could eat solid food, but only milk. And behold, the Word, the Comforter, came; He came before His whole glory; He came to prepare His glory and to prepare you, holy people, so that there might be someone to meet the new heaven and the new earth, the Lord, word and body, spirit and body. Our preaching was hardly worked out, but today Christ is being proclaimed like the lightning, which comes from east and goes west, as this is written about the coming of the Lord, as word and body, spirit and body, and we will also receive the reward of joy that we have been asking for such a long time: «Until when, Lord?». We are forever with you and with all who receive from the mountain of teaching, and we ask for the help of heaven for the Lord's mysteries and for their being. Cry to us to help you, as your crying clothes us with victory for you, and the Lord makes us rich to come to you with the richness of the Holy Spirit and of the works of the Holy Spirit. Be as we were who left all our things and took those of the Lord to carry them, to work as His messengers, as the apostles of the Holy Spirit, Who led us through the world of the people. Be healthy; be holy with your mind, with your heart, with your deed and with your life and this is how you are to come, as the church hardly becomes church. It is a great and holy thing for the man to be a dwelling for Christ, as those holy are the dwelling of the Lord and of His guests.

Oh, sons from the end, put the Lord's teaching over the church, and clean the Christ's church of idols and of spirits foreign to the Holy Spirit. Be Christ's church, little loved ones, and let the church be one and holy and to work apostleship by sending, sons of the Lord. The teaching of the Lord is great upon you, as those that are perfect came, and those that were worked out and clarified only in part, were put aside. The word and the Lord is great upon you, and we work with the Lord in a working of disciples; we from heaven, and you from the earth with Lord, the Teacher. Amen.
